Connell, Janie B.; Ashley, William L.

Helping the Dislocated Worker: Resources and Materials. Research and Development Series No. 243C.

Ohio State Univ., Columbus. National Center for Research in Vocational Education.

Office of Vocational and Adult Education (ED), Washington, DC.

1984

For related documents, see CE 038 529-530.

National Center Publications, National Center for Research in Vocational Education, 1960 Kenny Road, Columbus, OH 43210 (RD243C--$5.75).

Reference Materials - Bibliographies (131)

Community Based Education

This compilation, one in a series of three publications for vocational program developers and others to use in planning and developing a community-based response to worker dislocation, describes various assessment resources, references, and technical assistance materials. Included in the volume are citations describing the following materials: instructional manuals and guides for service providers; instructional materials suitable for classroom use; catalogs and databases of materials and resources; materials appropriate for use by dislocated workers themselves; information for service providers; and assessment materials in such areas as achievement, aptitude and abilities, interests, screening, work values, work sample evaluation, and career development instruments. Each section supplies the reader with information regarding the title, source, purpose, and annotation of the material or resource. In some cases, price information and names of developers or authors are also given. (MN) (MN)
HELPING THE DISLOCATED WORKER:
RESOURCES AND MATERIALS

Janie B. Connell
William L. Ashley

The National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
1960 Kenny Road
Columbus, Ohio 43210

1984
FUNDING INFORMATION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Project Title:</th>
<th>National Center for Research in Vocational Education, Applied Research and Development</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Contract Number:</td>
<td>300630016</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Project Number:</td>
<td>051MH30001</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Educational Act Under Which the Funds Were Administered:</td>
<td>Education Amendments of 1976, P.L. 94-482</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Source of Contract: | Office of Vocational and Adult Education
U.S. Department of Education
Washington, D.C. 20202 |
| Contractor: | The National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, Ohio 43210 |
| Executive Director: | Robert E. Taylor |
| Disclaimer: | This publication was prepared pursuant to a contract with the Office of Vocational and Adult Education, U.S. Department of Education. Contractors undertaking projects under Government sponsorship are encouraged to express freely their judgment in professional and technical matters. Points of view or opinions do not, therefore, necessarily represent official U.S. Department of Education position or policy. |
| Discrimination Prohibited: | Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 states: "No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Public Law 92-318, states: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." Therefore, the National Center like every program or activity receiving financial assistance from the U.S. Department of Education, must be operated in compliance with these laws. |
TABLE OF CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>FOREWORD</td>
<td>v</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EXECUTIVE SUMMARY</td>
<td>vi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RESOURCES AND MATERIALS</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Instruction Manuals and Guides for Deliverers</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Instructional Materials for Classroom Use</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Catalogs and Databases of Materials and Resources</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Materials Appropriate for Use by Dislocated Workers</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Information for Deliverers</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assessment Materials</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Achievement</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aptitudes</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interests</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Test Orientation/Screening</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Work Values</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interests and Skills Measurement/Work Sample Evaluation</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Career Development/Maturity Instruments</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other Resources and Materials</td>
<td>58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other Information and Material Centers</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>REFERENCES FOR ANNOTATION OF ASSESSMENT MATERIALS</td>
<td>67</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
FOREWORD

Dislocated workers are unemployed because their jobs have been eliminated by economic, technological, or structural changes in American business and industry. Recent estimates place the number of dislocated workers between 1.5 and 2 million individuals.

The profile of the typical dislocated worker is that of a white male with considerable tenure, earning a high wage in a blue-collar job. The dislocated worker generally has been a union member, experienced stable employment, and worked in a manufacturing industry such as steel, automobile, rubber, textiles, or consumer goods. Because of the traditionally high wages and job security afforded by such industries, many of the workers have had little or no employment experience in other jobs and have acquired firm-specific skills that are not readily transferable to other occupations.

Although the typical profile of a dislocated worker is that of an individual who has enjoyed a labor market advantage relative to other groups, those that are most severely affected by dislocation are often females and members of minority populations. Members of these groups have more recently made advances in their occupational positions, but due to their limited tenure, are among the first to be laid off during a reduction. And all dislocated workers, especially older individuals, who have been displaced because of plant closures, business failures, and mass layoffs are unlikely to find jobs or wages similar to their previous employment. These people often need special assistance in coping with and overcoming economic and personal problems related to their unemployment and in finding new jobs. In response to the recent increase in the number of plant closings and layoffs, state and local governments, employers, unions, community agencies, and educational institutions in many localities, have united to meet the challenge of helping thousands of currently unemployed workers prepare for, seek, and secure new jobs.

Some predictions suggest that, by the end of the decade, thousands of jobs may be eliminated or drastically changed by future advances in automation, communication, and computer technology. Such speculations raise serious concern about the future dislocation of significant numbers of currently employed workers.

Questions about the job security of many working adults suggest that the role of vocational educators and other service providers will have an increasing emphasis on assisting dislocated workers to prepare for and transfer into new occupations. The National Center for Research in Vocational Education has prepared three publications to facilitate the efforts of those who are, or will become, involved in planning and developing programs to aid dislocated workers in adjusting to future career changes. The publications are intended for vocational education and training program developers, counselors, job placement specialists, and other service providers. They present a sample of strategies and ideas for organizing and delivering services to dislocated workers. Additionally, information is provided about resources and materials available for use in assessing, counseling, and directing workers in job search and retraining activities.
The National Center wishes to thank the many individuals who served on the focus group that met several times to assist in planning and reviewing the publications. Special appreciation is expressed to Mary Ellen Cooper, former Associate Director, Employment and Education Commission of Franklin County, Ohio; Richard Steinkohl, Prevention and Marketing Specialist, North Central Mental Health Services and Institute, Columbus, Ohio; Richard Sheir, Research Assistant, Ohio Bureau of Employment Services; Ned Katterheinrich, Director of Counseling, Columbus Technical Institute, Columbus, Ohio. and Don Huey, former Human Resources Specialist, R. G. Barry Company, Columbus, Ohio, for their recommendations regarding content and format and their critique of the first draft of the publications. Our thanks are also extended to the many individuals who coordinated project staff site visits including Morton J. Baum, Special Assistant to the Director, and staff of the Mayor's Office of Manpower Resources, Baltimore, Maryland; Bob Finney, Right Associates, Alexandria, Virginia; Michael H. Maquire, Project Director, and staff of the Metropolitan Reemployment Project, St. Louis Community College, Missouri; James Holmberg and Geri Weiss, Program Coordinators, the Dislocated Workers Educational Training Program, Community College of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Tom Smith and Marie Nonnemacher, Program Specialist, State Department of Labor and Industry, Wilmington, Delaware.

In addition, thanks are extended to Thomas E. Backer, Senior Research Scientist, Human Interaction Research Institute, Los Angeles, California; Nolen M. Ellison, President, Cuyahoga Community College, Cleveland, Ohio; Gary B. Hansen, Professor of Economics and Director, Center for Productivity and Quality of Working Life, Utah State University, Logan, Utah; and Robert Kopecky, Director, Center for New Directions, Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn, Michigan, for their assistance in reviewing the publications and suggesting useful revisions. The preparation of the publications also benefited from the ideas and critique of National Center staff members Roy Butler, Kevin Hollenbeck, and Linda Lotto.

Appreciation is also expressed to Connie Faddis and Janet Kiplinger, editors, Judi McMahon, typist, and Beverly Haynes, word processor operator, for assistance in the preparation of the publications.

Special recognition is extended to William L. Ashley, Project Director, Gale L. Zahniser, Program Associate, and Janie B. Connell, Graduate Research Associate, for their roles in developing this product. Dr. Ashley's research background includes an emphasis on career change and occupational adaptability and training and development in vocational education. Ms. Zahniser's background includes applied research in labor market information, and economic development planning and international human resource planning. Dr. Connell has had experience administering and coordinating programs in vocational education for disadvantaged and handicapped individuals and has assisted in research on the effects of career guidance.

Robert E. Taylor
Executive Director
The National Center for Research in Vocational Education

vi
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Future economic conditions and technological changes are likely to increase the numbers of adult workers who will face the problem of job dislocation or skill obsolescence during their work lives.

In response to the current and future problems encountered by dislocated workers, the National Center for Research in Vocational Education prepared three publications to assist vocational program developers and others in providing a range of helpful services. The information, ideas, practices, and strategies presented in the publications were abstracted from many different sources. This material illustrates the diversity and practicality of approaches that have been implemented in various communities to address the particular needs and circumstances of dislocated workers.

Job search, placement, and retraining often are important elements of community sponsored reemployment programs for dislocated workers. Recognizing that such services should be based on a careful assessment of client needs, interests, abilities, and skills, the project had three major foci:

- Information on community responses to worker dislocation was synthesized into a description of a generic approach to planning a community-based program for dislocated workers.

- A sample of locally developed programs that are serving the needs of dislocated workers were identified and described.

- Available materials and resources that can be used in client assessment and job search training were identified and described.

This publication presents a compilation of assessment resources, references, and technical assistance materials to be used by those working directly with dislocated workers. Computerized literature searches, specialized bibliographies, and advice from program practitioners provided the information that was amassed for this publication. Citations and brief annotations are provided for six categories of information: instructional manuals and guides for service providers, and assessment materials. The citations generally relate to helping the dislocated workers become reemployed by developing a firmer awareness of their transferable skills and employment potential. Additionally, materials are included that assist the workers in strengthening their job search abilities, networking capacities, and job interviewing skills. Each citation provides the reader with information regarding the title, source, purpose, and brief description of the content. Also, as available, data about pricing, developers, authors, and publishers were included.
RESOURCES AND MATERIALS

Introduction

This publication provides a listing of selected resources and materials available for serving the needs of dislocated workers. Career/job counseling, employability and job search, and assessment resources and materials are presented. Additionally, other references and sources are cited that do not fall precisely into the three aforementioned categories, but could be useful to the implementers of a dislocated worker assistance program.

Procedures utilized to locate these resources and materials included systematic computer searches, consultation of related bibliographies, and advice from practitioners serving the needs of displaced workers.

Resources and materials were selected on the basis of their relevance to the needs and characteristics of displaced workers. Their primary need is to become reemployed. To assist in this process, assessment of interests, aptitudes, work values, and abilities is beneficial when combined with appropriate counseling services. Review of the literature revealed that a second major need of the dislocated worker was knowledge of job search skills. Finally, dislocated workers often exhibit behaviors detrimental to the accomplishment of successful reemployment. Examples of these behaviors are substance abuse, child abuse, marital problems, depression, alienation, and lack of confidence and motivation. For these problems, specialized professional help is often required and referral to the appropriate agency is considered the best procedure.

The citations are arranged according to the type of user. That is, materials and resources primarily usable by the deliverers of programs to serve dislocated workers are separated from those materials appropriate for use by the dislocated workers themselves. Further breakdown according to the purpose of the materials and resources was also done. The final arrangement is as follows.

1. Instructional manuals and guides for service providers
2. Instructional materials suitable for classroom use
3. Catalogs and databases of materials and resources
4. Materials appropriate for use by dislocated workers themselves
5. Information for service providers
6. Assessment materials
   a. Achievement
   b. Aptitudes and abilities
c. Interests
d. Test orientation/screening
e. Work values
f. Interests and skills measurement/work sample evaluation
g. Career development/maturity instruments

The citations supply the reader with information regarding the title, source, purpose, and annotation of the material or resource. In some cases, price information and developers or authors were also given.

For some citations, price information is given according to ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS) codes listed below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ERIC</th>
<th>DOCUMENT REPRODUCTION SERVICE</th>
<th>P.O. Box 190, Arlington, VA 22210</th>
<th>(703) 841-1212</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>COMPUTER MICROFILM INTERNATIONAL CORP.</td>
<td>UNIT PRICE SCHEDULE</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MICROFICHE (MF)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NUMBER FICHE EACH ED#</th>
<th>PRICE CODE</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 to 5 (up to 480 pages)</td>
<td>MF01</td>
<td>$.97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 (481-576 pages)</td>
<td>MF02</td>
<td>1.17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7 (577-672 pages)</td>
<td>MF03</td>
<td>1.37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8 (673-768 pages)</td>
<td>MF04</td>
<td>1.57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Each additional microfiche (additional 96 pages)</td>
<td></td>
<td>.20</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PAPER COPY (PC)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NUMBER PAGES EACH ED#</th>
<th>PRICE CODE</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 to 25</td>
<td>PC01</td>
<td>$2.15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>26 to 50</td>
<td>PC02</td>
<td>3.90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>51 to 75</td>
<td>PC03</td>
<td>5.65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>76 to 100</td>
<td>PC04</td>
<td>7.40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Each additional 25 pages</td>
<td></td>
<td>1.75</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2
Instructional Manuals and Guides for Deliverers

This group of materials and resources consists of manuals and guides for use by those people who work with dislocated workers. Frequently, these materials and resources offer explanations and advice about how to present information to an individual dislocated worker or to a group of dislocated workers. Some of these resources serve as guides to accompany training programs in areas such as employability skills and include such topics as how to write a resume, how to act during an interview, or how to write cover letters for applications.

Title: A Career Decision-making Handbook for Adult Basic Education Teachers
Authors: Joseph C. Burton and Patsy Wilson
Source: Huntsville City Schools
Huntsville, AL
EDRS Price: MF01/PC03 plus postage
Purpose: To explain in detail the adult career decision-making processes and provide an example of a career decision-making chart. Also included are the following: lists of materials; an annotated bibliography covering occupational information, job search, and study guides for job entry; local community resources; and an annotated list of tests useful in counseling adult learners.
Reference: ERIC: ED 115742

Title: A Curriculum Guide for Pre-employment Skills
Developer: Jonesburg Public School District 13
McHenry, IL
EDRS Price: MF01/PC09 plus postage
Purpose: To provide a program for teaching preemployment job-seeking skills.
Reference: ERIC: ED 208192
Title: A Training Manual to Facilitate the Job-seeking Process
Developer: Edward J. Heck and James M. O'Neil
Source: University of Kansas Counseling Center, Lawrence, KS
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage
Purpose: A manual to train students to prepare for the job interview. Objectives include writing letters of introduction, vitae, and resumes; becoming aware of different interview strategies; preparing for the actual interview; learning to improve one's skills after the interview.
Reference: ERIC: ED 217322

---

Title: Employability Skills Workshop Packet. Special Section 310 Project, July 1, 1980 - June 30, 1981
Developer: Tina M. Tabler
Source: Centre County Vocational-Technical School, Pleasant Gap, PA
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage
Purpose: A teaching guide to assist teachers and counselors of adult basic education and graduate equivalent degree students to conduct practical individualized and small group workshops on looking for a job.
Reference: ERIC: ED 212821

---

Title: Finding Your Best Job: An Instructional Guide for Job-Seeking Skills. S.P.A.C.E. Student Placement and Counseling Effort
Authors: Fred D. Krusemark, Jr., and Gary W. Leske
Source: Minnesota Research Coordinating Unit for Vocational Education, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN
EDRS Price: MF01. Not available in hard copy.
Purpose: To provide an instructional guide to present a comprehensive job-seeking model that uses an open-ended approach to teaching job-seeking skills. The following job-seeking stages are covered:
1. Deciding on the job to seek
2. Preparing and using a personal data sheet
3. Searching for job opportunities
4. Applying for jobs
5. Deciding on a job offer
Reference: ERIC: ED 167819
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>Handbook for Job Search/Vocational Placement</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Authors:</td>
<td>Welcome A. Rumbaugh and others</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Sandy Union High School Sandy Union, OR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDRS Price:</td>
<td>MF01/PC06 plus postage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To provide secondary school and two-year college personnel engaged in placement work, career education, and guidance with a manual for job search and placement concepts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: ED 193454</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>How Women Find Jobs: A Guide for Workshop Leaders</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer:</td>
<td>Vera Norwood</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>New Mexico State Commission on the Status of Women Albuquerque, NM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To provide administration and teaching materials for use in organizing and conducting workshops intended to provide job finding techniques and emotional support for women entering and reentering the work force.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: ED 185319</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>Job Hunter's Guidebook Workshop Program. Instructor's Manual</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer:</td>
<td>Vermont State Department of Education Montpelier, VT</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDRS Price:</td>
<td>MF01/PC03 plus postage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To provide adult education instructors/supervisors with a manual to bring adult education courses into a career focus by providing a group guidance program. Through homework assignments and exercises, the program covers topics including resumes and cover letters, how to find &quot;hidden&quot; jobs, how to conduct a search, and how to handle interviews.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: ED 178681</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>Job Readiness Workshop: A Resource Manual for Instructing Adult Job Seekers in the Job Search Process. Special Paper no. 20</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer:</td>
<td>J. Frank Bobbitt and Jim Booth</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title: Job Search Skills Program Guide
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To explain the concept of job search skills and the importance employers place on these skills.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214024

Title: Job Search Skills Instructor Guide
Developer: Bettina Lankard and others
National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To provide instructor of the Job Search Skills package with the training program. Includes information on its contents, use, instructor role, and ways to supplement the program.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214023

Title: Methods and Materials for Teaching Occupational Survival Skills
Developer: Division of Business Education
Source: Department of Vocational and Technical Education
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Urbana, IL
Purpose: A complete performance-based modularized instructional program designed for a variety of settings such as office occupation classes, experience, and career exploration programs. Materials may be ordered from:
Title: Occupational Assessment Handbook
Author: John P. Grisafe
EDRS Price: MF01/PC03 plus postage
Purpose: A handbook containing suggested guidelines for planning and implementing an occupational assessment program and an overview of fifty-one occupational assessment instruments.
Reference: ERIC: ED 187879

Title: Steps to Success: Student Job Readiness Manual, Revised
Developer: Memphis City School System
Memphis, TN
EDRS Price: MF01/PC06 plus postage
Purpose: To help students gain occupational knowledge to find employment, progress on the job, and manage their resources successfully.
Reference: ERIC: ED 203039

Title: Survival Skills for the Real World
Developer: Marian Smith and others
Oklahoma State Department of Education
Oklahoma City, OK
EDRS Price: MF01/PC08 plus postage
Purpose: To provide teaching suggestions and activity sheets in ten areas of personal and family management including: locating available jobs, job application, job interviews, choosing a job, skills employers look for, investigating job requirements, money management, responsibilities of car ownership, starting out on one's own, and responsibilities as a taxpayer.
Reference: ERIC: ED 204616

Title: Teaching Career/Life Planning: An In-Service Training Module for Teaching Effective Career/Life Planning Skills
Developer: Susan W. Miller
Los Angeles Community College District
Los Angeles, CA
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage

Purpose: A workbook to provide an inservice training module to assist community college educators and counselors in teaching effective planning skills for successful job hunting and employment. It provides a rationale for career/life planning and discusses the terminology and processes involved in establishing life goals and designing strategies to achieve them. Exercises for organizing internal/personal data are given. External sources of career information and methods to help students organize information and achieve their goals are discussed.

Reference: ERIC: ED 183233

Title: "Teaching the Job Search: Yet Another Approach"
Author: Pamela S. Rooney

Purpose: To offer guidelines for class instruction in job search strategies, researching the chosen occupation, interviewing, constructing the resume, and preparing the application package.

Reference: ERIC: ED 261346

Developer: Women's Center of Dallas
Dallas, TX
EDRS Price: MF01/PC16 plus postage. Also available from:
WEEA Publishing Center
Education Development Center
55 Chapel Street
Newton, MA 02160
($13.00).

Title: Workshop Leader's Guide for Finding a New Job with Skills You Already Have Developer: State of California Employment Development Department
Job Service

Purpose: To provide a general guide for workshop leaders conducting skills analysis-skills transference workshops using the Employment Development Department publication Finding a New Job with Skills You Already Have.

Reference: See developer above
Instructional Materials Suitable for Classroom Use

The materials and resources in this category are usable in a classroom setting. This is not to imply that the setting is limited to a formal schoolroom: on the contrary, the setting could be in the boardroom of an industry, in a union hall, in a Sunday school room, a dining hall, or an auditorium.

These citations feature materials that are best presented by a person knowledgeable about their contents and capable of presenting them to a group of learners.

Formal teaching experience is not a prerequisite. Deliverers could be teachers, but other capable professionals such as shop supervisors, union representatives, local ministers, employment counselors, mental health personnel, and other willing volunteers should not be excluded as potential "teachers."

Title: Agencies and Sources for Finding a Job. Cooperative Work Experience Learning Activity Packet: Series One
Author: Dennis R. Herschback and others
Source: University of Maryland
Dept. of Industrial Education
College Park, MD
EDRS Price: MF01 plus postage. Paper copy not available for EDRS.
Purpose: This student booklet focuses on the following sources and agencies that may provide assistance in finding a job: schools, family and friends, newspapers, the Yellow Pages, and employment agencies (public and government, privately supported, and commercial).
Reference: ERIC: ED 154224
Title: Apply for Jobs. Job Search. Competency 3.0
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage
Purpose: To provide instruction on these tasks: filling out applications and presenting applications.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214027

Title: "Assertiveness Training for Job-seeking Skills"
Author: Patricia G. Ball and Mary Ellen McLoughlin
Purpose: To provide skill development in initiating the job search: arranging actual interviews; preparing a resume; articulating strengths, weaknesses, and career objectives; responding assertively in interviews; asking appropriate questions; accepting or rejecting job offers; confronting discrimination; negotiating salary and contracts; and managing anxiety and nervousness.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 162846

Title: Career Improvement and Satisfaction: Initiating a Positive Self-Perspective
Author: Harry G. Miller and John B. Holden
Source: Southern Illinois University
Carbondale, IL
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage
Purpose: To provide a self-instructional program of learning activities designed for classroom use with both employed and job-seeking adult basic and general adult education students. A series of self-analysis checklists and worksheets focus on job satisfaction, job productivity, work attitudes, positive self-attitude, and job objectives/career goals.
Reference: ERIC: ED 114668

Title: A Competency-based Course in Job-seeking and Job Survival Skills
Developer: Fred Heffner and others
Reading Area Community College
Reading, PA
EDRS Price: MF01/PC10 plus postage
Purpose: To provide the trainee with job-seeking and job survival skills.
Reference: ERIC: ED 193519
Title: Finding A Job. Resumes. Pre-apprenticeship Phase I Training
Developer: Lane Community College
Eugene, OR
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To provide a self-paced student training module for writing resumes.
Reference: ERIC: ED 217266

Title: Handle the Job Offer. Job Search. Competency 5.0
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To provide instruction on these tasks: finding out information about the job and company; negotiating for the job.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214029

Title: Interview for the Job. Job Search. Competency 4.0
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC03 plus postage
Purpose: To provide instruction in the following tasks: preparing for the interview, handling the interview, and following up on the interview.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214028

Title: Job Search, Seizure. Survival
Source: McKnight Publishing Co., 1978
Purpose: To provide a practical text-workbook to help students increase their ability to find, obtain, and hold a job. It is considered to be appropriate for all vocationally oriented courses from grades nine through adult education. It can be presented in fifteen to twenty-two instructional hours as outlined in the comprehensive teacher's guide.
Price: Text-Workbook-$1.95;
Teacher's Guide-$3.98.
Title: My Job Application File. Third Edition
Author: Charles Kahn and Others
Source: Available from:
Janus Book Publishers
2501 Industrial Parkway, W.
Hayward, CA 94545
($2.25 ea. $46.85 for the set)
EDRS Price: MF01 plus postage. Paper copy not available from EDRS.
Purpose: To provide exercises to aid students in completing job applications. Sample job applications are included.
Reference: ERIC: ED 183906

Title: Occupational Knowledge. DECIDE
Authors: Ruth E. Huffman and others
EDRS Price: MF01/PC05 plus postage
Purpose: This module provides student activity/task packets on the following topics: employment information, testing, and counseling, occupational categories, employment agencies, job applications and interviews, job behaviors and attitudes, financial and legal information, job satisfaction, services for the unemployed, and planning for retirement.
Reference: ERIC: ED 201726

Title: Prepare for the Job Search. Job Search. Competency 1.0
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC04 plus postage
Purpose: To provide individualized, competency-based instruction on tasks related to job search. Included are the following tasks: choose a job and prepare for employment, compile information for application and/or resume, and prepare resume.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214025

Title: The Professional Job Changing System
Author: R. Janeson
Source: Performance Dynamics, Inc.
Purpose: To provide a systems approach for the person seeking a new position.
Reference: Virginia Vocational Guidance Programs.
Resource Guide: Vocational Counseling for Adults.
Blacksburg, VA: Virginia Tech, 1982
Title: Resume Writing: A Comprehensive How-to-Do-It Guide
Developer: Burdette E. Bostwick
EDRS Price: Not available from EDRS. Available from:
John Wiley & Sons, Publishers
605 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10016
$10.50 cloth
Purpose: To provide a comprehensive, step-by-step approach to writing an effective resume.
Reference: ERIC: ED 139035

Title: Search for Available Jobs: Job-Search. Competency 2.0
Developer: National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH 43210
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage
Purpose: To provide instruction on these tasks: identifying potential employers, deciding which employers to contact first, and following job leads.
Reference: ERIC: ED 214026

Title: Semi-Skilled Kit
Source: Careers. Inc.
Purpose: To provide an alphabetically arranged 6" x 9" x 4" kit of briefs, summaries, and job guides that describe over 150 semiskilled and unskilled occupations that require little or no formal training beyond high school. This material is specifically designed for use by vocational/industrial-arts teachers, guidance counselors, librarians, vocational rehabilitation counselors, and adult education instructors.
Price: $55.00

Title: "Teaching the Job Search: Yet Another Approach"
Author: P. S. Rooney
Purpose: To discuss how to interpret advertisements and job descriptions. To provide a framework to formalize clear, concrete, and realistic career objectives and goals. The packaged unit covers the letter of application, resume, and follow-up letter.
Reference: Management Contents 210084
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>Your Job Search, Revised. Employability Skills Series</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer:</td>
<td>Ora M. Kromhout, and Linda W. Morse</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Career Education Center</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida State University</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tallahassee, FL</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDRS Price:</td>
<td>MF01/PC03 plus postage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To teach secondary students and adults the skills involved in getting and keeping a job.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: ED 212784</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>You're Hired! Your Employment Preparation Guide</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Classroom World Productions, Inc., 1974</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>Included in this career education resource kit are a filmstrip-cassette presentation, ten student workbooks, and an instructor’s brochure. Its purpose is to help students from grade ten and onward to maximize their individual job opportunities. Topics included are as follows: completing personal data sheets and resumes, writing letters of application, completing application forms, reacting properly in an interview. Materials are appropriate for classroom or individual instruction, or as a combination.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Price:</td>
<td>$39.50; Additional student books, $19.50 per dozen</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Catalogs and Databases of Materials and Resources

Three databases were utilized to locate materials related to serving displaced workers. Each of them is discussed in turn.

Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) is a national information system for providing access to the literature of education. It consists of a network of decentralized information centers that specialize in different, multidisciplinary educational areas. Of these ERIC clearinghouses, the four that would be most likely to have information useful to those serving the needs of displaced workers are listed below.

- ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult, Career, and Vocational Education
  The National Center for Research in Vocational Education
  The Ohio State University
  1860 Kenny Road
  Columbus, OH 43210
  Telephone: (614) 486-3655

- ERIC Clearinghouse on Counseling and Personnel Services
  University of Michigan
  2108 School of Education Building
  Ann Arbor, MI 48109
  Telephone: (313) 764-9492

- ERIC Clearinghouse on Junior Colleges
  University of California
  98 Powell Library Building
  Los Angeles, CA 90924
  Telephone: (213) 825-3931

- ERIC Clearinghouse on Tests, Measurement, and Evaluation
  Educational Testing Service
  Rosendale Road
  Princeton, NJ 08540
  Telephone: (609) 921-9000 ext. 2176

The Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE) is published for the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) under a contract with the National Institute of Education. The ERIC clearinghouses provide the input to CIJE, which indexes and annotates 780 educational journals each year, and to Resources in Education (RIE), the monthly index to educational technical reports, speeches, and books.

Two other databases were utilized in this study. These were the SOCIAL SCISEARCH and MANAGEMENT CONTENTS databases. Each of these is briefly described here.

The SOCIAL SCISEARCH database is an international multidisciplinary index to the literature of the social, behavioral, and related sciences. This database is prepared by the Institute for Scien-
SCISEARCH indexes all significant items (articles, reports of meetings, letters, editorials, correction notices, etc.) from the more than fifteen hundred most important worldwide social sciences journals. Additional articles relevant to the social sciences are selected from over twenty-four hundred journals in the natural, physical, and biomedical sciences.

MANAGEMENT CONTENTS is a database that provides current and retrospective information on the variety of business and management-related topics. It features comprehensive coverage of all aspects of management and administration. This database was created to aid decision making and forecasting for individuals in business, consulting firms, educational institutions, government agencies, and libraries. It provides access to approximately five hundred United States and foreign English-language journals, proceedings, transactions, books, and courses.

In addition to these databases, the reader will note that several catalogs are also provided.

---

Title: The Complete Job Search Catalog
Source: JIST Works, Inc.
150 East 14th Street
Indianapolis, IN 46202
Purpose: To provide a catalog of career assessments, exploration, and other materials of relevance to job information and seeking training.
Reference: JIST Works, Inc.
150 East 14th Street
Indianapolis, IN 46202

---

Title: 1980-81 Catalog of Occupational Courses
Source: Aerospace Education Foundation
1750 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20006
Purpose: To describe fifty-eight complete training systems in the following fields: air conditioning, automotive mechanics, communication arts, computer science, construction control, metal trades, meteorology, paramedicine and health care, food service, firefighting, fabric repair, and refrigeration.
Reference: Aerospace Education Foundation
1750 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20006

---

Title: Resources for Business and Industry
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: A catalog to describe tests, related materials, and services offered by The Psychological Corporation for the use of business and industry.
Reference: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017

Title: Vocational Education Curriculum Materials (VECM) Database

Source: The National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
1960 Kenny Road
Columbus, OH 43210
Attention: Shirley A. Chase, Ph.D.

Purpose: To provide a comprehensive, centralized, computerized database of information on curriculum materials related to vocational and technical education.

Reference: Shirley A. Chase, Ph.D.
The National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University
1960 Kenny Road
Columbus, OH 43210
Materials Appropriate for Use by Dislocated Workers

The materials and resources in this section are considered self-help and supportive works designed to be read on one's own, in contrast to those designed for use in a classroom situation. Deliverers of services for dislocated workers could acquire these or similar publications for their career development resource libraries. Then, as dislocated workers demonstrated a need for a particular topic, the deliverer could recommend the appropriate publication. Later, the dislocated worker and the deliverer of services could discuss the material.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Source</th>
<th>Purpose</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Careers Today</td>
<td>G. R. Howes, R. Hawes, and C. Fleming</td>
<td>Taplinger Publishing Company New York, NY</td>
<td>To acquaint the reader with career opportunity areas, career entry, career change at mid-life, and career alternatives during retirement years. The book also highlights different career areas in terms of job prospects, basic features, training, and where to obtain information.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conflict in Job-Seeking Behavior</td>
<td>Nancy D. Stevens</td>
<td>Journal of College Placement 37, no. 4 (Summer 1977): pp. 28-32.</td>
<td>This article points out that for some students their own behavior in the job hunt is the major obstacle that prevents them from being placed.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Purpose: To point out that employers prefer short, error-free, grammatically correct cover letters. They view the "hard sell" approach in a negative way.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 2356307

Title: Employment and Training Highlights
U.S. Department of Labor, Employment, and Training Administration, Consumer Information Leaflets
Purpose: To provide a compilation of twenty-two fact sheets on employment and training programs of the U.S. Department of Labor. Descriptions are given regarding how the programs work, who are served, how to apply, and where to find additional information.

Title: Finding a New Job with Skills You Already Have Developer: State of California Employment Development Department Job Service
Purpose: To provide a do-it-yourself guide to analyzing your skills and using them to find a new job or start a new career.
Reference: See Developer above

Title: Getting a Job
Author: M. Granovetter
Source: Harvard University Press
Cambridge, MA
1974

Title: Guerilla Tactics in the Job Market
Author: Tom Jackson
Source: Bantam Books
New York
Purpose: To provide an overview of the job research/job search process. The book presents a balance of research data, practical examples, and sources of additional information. Specific things to be done are outlined. Some tasks are designed to increase self-knowledge. Next, the reader probes the economy for a job that best matches skills, needs, and temperament. Regarding the actual job hunt, Jackson suggests that the job hunter determine who has the power to hire, communicate one's skills to that person, and stress the problems that one can solve. Finally, Jackson discusses factors which make an interview either a success or a failure.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Go Hire Yourself an Employer</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author</td>
<td>R. K. Irish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source</td>
<td>Anchor Books Garden City, NY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose</td>
<td>To stress what the individual can do for the employer rather than what the employer can do for the prospective employee. Methods of interviewing for information are outlined.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Help Wanted—A Job Hunter's Guide</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Source</td>
<td>U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Institute on Drug Abuse. 1975 GPO Stock No. 014-010-00022-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose</td>
<td>To provide step-by-step instructions on looking for a job.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>The Hidden Job Market</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author</td>
<td>T. Jackson and D. Mayles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source</td>
<td>Quadrangle/The New York Times Book Company New York, NY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose</td>
<td>To provide an innovative proven system to show the reader how to determine career objectives, how to get to see the right people, how to prepare a hard-hitting resume, and how to control the interview. To assist the reader to select an appropriate job, the system assists the readers to assess themselves thoroughly and realistically.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>How About a Check-up on Your Job Search Campaign: Are You in Good Shape?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer</td>
<td>Charles Allen Prosser Vocational Center New Albany, IN</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title: How to Beat the Employment Game
Author: David Noer
Source: Chilton Book Company
Radnor, PA

Purpose: To provide an explanation of some of the anomalies and inconsistencies encountered during a job search. Resumes and interviews are discussed. Comments are particularly useful for the job seeker aiming for a job in private industry rather than the public sector.

Title: How to Get a Job. It's Your Move
Developer: Ohio State Bureau of Employment Services
Columbus, OH

Purpose: To provide help to job seekers in identifying possible choices, how and where to look for a job, how to apply for the job, and tips for evaluating a job search plan.

Reference: ERIC: ED 152976

Title: How To Make a Habit of Success
Author: Bernard Haldane
Source: Aeropolis Books
Washington, DC

Purpose: To stress the guiding principle that one will only find the right job by concentrating on his/her successes. The author maintains that by analyzing achievement, one comes to know oneself. Haldane asserts that ability security (possessed, realized, and effectively communicated) rather than job security, is what counts.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>How to Make Your Job Search Successful</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Developer:</td>
<td>Beth Wray</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDRS Price:</td>
<td>MF01/PC01 plus postage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To present information on job search tips, a letter of introduction, the resume, the interview, the follow-up, and accepting a job offer.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: ED 158158</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;The Interview—Final Exam&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>Michael B. Mason</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Clearing House 52, no. 9 (May 1979): 44-46.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To give guidelines to the job seeker on preparation for and proper conduct during a job interview. Suggestions are made to help students prepare for the interview experience.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: EJ 202544</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;Introducing Job Hunting Techniques&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>Bella G. Clinkscale</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Journal of Business Education 53, no. 3 (December 1977): 126-127. Reprint available from University Microfilms International</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To describe independent search techniques and various types of private and public employment agencies that can be used to find jobs or job leads.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: EJ 17148</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>Job Hunting after Forty</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>Lou Albee</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Arco Publishing Company New York</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To provide a book which communicates to the job-hunter over forty the feel of the frustrations, family problems, and employment pitfalls. Albee also provides useful comments on dealing with the loneliness of job hunting. The book contains a detailed, positive discussion of how to get the entire family involved in the job hunt. Other topics discussed include how to &quot;read&quot; an interviewer, the dangers of being offered a position that the employer knows will disappear in a coming merger, and the particular problems of reporting to someone considerably younger than oneself.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title: "Job Search Techniques: Emphasis on Mid-Career Change"
Author: Michele Stirnac
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To provide an autobiographical analysis of a successful job search in midcareer. The paper provides practical suggestions and identifies four ingredients of an effective job search strategy as follows: being organized, identifying personal skills, holding positive self-concepts, and initiating contacts to fit each potential job situation.
Reference: ERIC: ED 136106

Title: Merchandising Your Job Talents (Rev. ed.)
Developer: Employment and Training Administration (DOL) Washington, DC
EDRS Price: MF01/PC02 plus postage. Also available from:
Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, DC 20402
(Stock No. 029-000-00304-D)
Purpose: To serve as a guide for job applicants. It offers suggestions on the following topics: how to perform a self-appraisal and where to find out about job qualifications, how to prepare a resume, how to write a letter of application, where to go for information on job opportunities, and how to present employment qualifications in the job interview.
Reference: ERIC: ED 171961

Title: "The Networker: An Executive Recruiter Talks about the Fine Art of Job Hunting"
Author: Anne Lowrey Bailey
Source: CASE Currents 7. 2 (February 1981), pp. 6-10. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: This article offers suggestions on job hunting in a question/answer format. It emphasizes how to make a present job a catalyst for future qualifications, how to begin the job hunt, what are attractive pluses in the employer's eye, and tips on developing a resume. The article also provides a sample resume.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 239031

Title: Out of Work
Source: New Readers Press, 1975
Purpose: To provide an easy-to-read book with a wealth of information on topics related to unemployment. It offers help for the unemployed person regarding tips on how to survive, get training, and get a job. The book explains how the U.S. Department of Labor figures unemployment; how it feels to be one of those unemployed; it discusses debt counseling; it tells about job training programs, apprenticeship, vocational schools, CETA, veterans' programs, programs for ex-prisoners, and handicapped persons. Job-finding techniques are also discussed.

Price: $1.50

Title: 111 Techniques and Strategies for Getting the Job Interview
Author: B. Bostwick
Source: John Wiley
New York, NY
1981

Title: "Personal Account: The Job Hunter's Guide"
Author: B. Baboulene

Purpose: This article presents a breakdown of the job search into three parts: the resume, the application, and the interview. The advice given is aimed mainly at older executives.

Reference: Management Contents 131278

Title: Recareering: The Art of Change
Developer: Beth P. Summerhays
College Placement Council, Inc.
Bethlehem, PA

EDRS Price: MF01 plus postage. Paper copy not available from EDRS. Available from:
College Placement Council, Inc.
P.O. Box 2263
Bethlehem, PA 18001

Purpose: To help the mature job seeker or career changer establish goals, implement plans, and inspire action.

Reference: ERIC: ED-295870
Title: Self-directed Job Search: An Introduction
Author: B. Kennedy
Source: U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration
        Washington, DC
        1980
Reference: ERIC: ED 198388

Title: Successful Interviewing
Source: Marion Sitzmann and Reioy Garcia
        National Textbook Company
        1977
Purpose: To provide a practical guide for the applicant/interviewer regarding the initial inquiry, preparation for the interview, and the interview itself. It also contains information on and examples of resumes, letters of inquiry, and letters of acceptance and rejection. Also provided is an evaluation instrument to help the applicant assess his/her strengths and weaknesses.

Title: Suit Yourself, Shopping for a Job
Developer: Roberta Kaplan
           Wider Opportunities for Women, Inc.
           Washington, DC
EDRS Price: MF01 plus postage. Paper copy not available from EFRS. Available from:
           Wider Opportunities for Women, Inc.
           1511 K Street, N.W.
           Washington, DC 20005
           (Price $5.00)
Purpose: To help the reader find a job/career suited to individual talents, education, and needs.
Reference: ERIC: ED 203124

Title: Sweaty Palms: The Neglected Art of Being Interviewed
Author: H. Anthony Medley
Source: Lifetime Learning Publications
        Belmont, CA
Purpose: To offer advice on planning for having a successful interview. Preparation prior to the job interview is stressed. Distinction is made between the screening and selection interview procedures. A discussion regarding questions that may or may not be legally asked is included. Appendices provide commonly asked interview questions, evaluation factors used by interviewers, and questions often asked when checking references.

Title: The Three Boxes of Life
Author: R. Bolles
Source: Ten Speed Press
Berkeley, CA
1978

Title: "Tool Up to Sell Yourself"
Author: H. Scott
Purpose: To stress the importance of effective self-marketing in order to successfully change jobs. Tips on resumes, interviews, and job search techniques are provided.
Reference: Management Contents Search 138958

Title: The Truth about You
Author: A. Miller and R. Mattson
Source: Fleming H. Revell
Old Tappan, NY
1977

Title: Up Your Career
Developer: Dean C. Dauw
EDRS Price: Not available from EDRS. Available from:
   Waveland Press, Inc.
P.O. Box 400
   Prospect Heights, IL 60070
   1-10 copies $8.95 ea., 20% discount on larger quantities
Purpose: To assist the reader in making career decisions, getting opinions from significant persons, and acting upon what has been learned.
Reference: ERIC: ED 126334.
Author: R. N. Bolles
Source: Ten Speed Press
Berkeley, CA
Purpose: To give the job hunter a step-by-step guide to finding a new job.

Title: "When You're on the Wrong Side of the Desk"
Author: P. Fewsmith and J. L. Finn
Purpose: This article takes a humorous look at different approaches to job hunting and interviews. It stresses several types of interviews. Each one is made up of possible questions and reactions, and answers are given.
Reference: Management Contents 209511

Title: Where Do I Go from Here With My Life?
Author: J. C. Crystal and R. N. Bolles
Source: Ten Speed Press
Berkeley, CA
Purpose: A manual to help and encourage people to study their capabilities, accomplishments, and interests.

Title: You Can Get There from Here: The Job Hunter's Guidebook
Developer: John H. Taylor
North Country Union High School
Newport, VT
EDRS Price: MF01/PC03 plus postage
Purpose: To aid the job hunter in making career decisions.
Reference: ERIC: ED 159440.
Information for Deliverers

This body of materials and resources includes reports of studies, general information regarding working with dislocated workers, and ideas for conducting a program for dislocated workers. It contains materials that are not specifically geared to classroom teaching but that could enhance the effective serving of the dislocated worker.

Title: "Are You Preparing Your Students for the Job Interview?"
Author: Mona J. Casady
Purpose: To provide suggestions for conduct during the business interview process.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 169623

Title: "The Assertive Job-Hunting Survey"
Author: Heather A. Becker
Purpose: To describe the development of the Assertive Job-Hunting Survey that assesses self-reported job-hunting attitudes.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 220987

Title: Bibliography of Career Information. Revised
Author: Janice Wieckhorst
EDRS Price: MF01/PC04 plus postage
Purpose: To provide a bibliography of career information listing books, periodicals, and pamphlets that describe individual careers, job hunting techniques, and the world of work. A section of U.S. government publications on employment and careers is also included.
Reference: ERIC: ED 147683

Title: Career Tests and Resources
Source: Superintendent of Schools
Department of Education
San Diego County
6401 Linda Vista Road
San Diego, CA 92111
Purpose: To list, organize, and evaluate the many career-oriented tests and career resources available.
Title: Career Transitions: The Demand for Counseling, Volume I
Author: Solomon Arbeiter and others
College Entrance Examination Board
New York, NY
EDRS Price: MF01/0003 plus postage
Purpose: To report the results of a survey of the career guidance and counseling needs of 401 representative in-transition adults in the United States. None were full-time students. All were either undergoing or anticipating job or career changes. They wanted career services of all types, but were not interested in specific information on jobs, careers, or educational opportunities. The least educated expressed the greatest interest in services and were willing to pay for them.
Reference: ERIC: ED 143993

Title: "Coming Alive from Nine to Five: The Career Search Method"
Authors: Betty Neville Michelozzi and Peter J. Michelozzi
EDRS Price: MF01/PC01 plus postage
Purpose: To describe a career search program that sets up a basic foundation of self-assessment: exploring personal values, interests, and skills. It describes four inventories to help individuals develop self-descriptions in terms of work. The inventories focus on personality traits, desired levels of complexity in regard to data, people, and things, work qualities, and skills analysis. Career counseling involves resumes, applications, interviews, and letters.
Reference: ERIC: ED 188094

Title: Dictionary of Occupational Titles, 4th ed.
Source: U.S. Government Printing Office
1977
Purpose: To serve as a reference resource to define and classify nearly all jobs in the U.S. economy.
Price: $12.00

Title: "Easing the Shock of a Bad Break"
Author: M. S. Niehoff and R. E. Zuver
Purpose: This article reviews the history and concept of outplacement. Consideration is given to alternatives to permanent shutdown or slowdown. Suggestions for hiring consultants are given, and an inset explores the growing trend toward outplacement.

Reference: Management Contents 191519

Title: "The Employer Panel in Guidance and Placement"
Authors: Laurence Lipsett and Dorothy Greenwood
Purpose: This article describes how a panel of experts can be used to help place job applicants who require extra help by providing a link between the candidate and the needs of the labor market. The article reports applications of the panel approach to older workers, probationers, and clergy.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 238238

Title: "Employment Interview Literature: A Perspective for the Counselor"
Author: Michael R. Clowers and Robert T. Fraser
Purpose: To provide a review of interview research since 1949, with emphasis on recent data-based literature (1969-1976), and counselor utilization of this material to aid clients who are approaching job interviews.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 165607

Title: "Employment-seeking Preparation and Activity: An Experimental Job-Placement Training Model for Rehabilitation Clients"
Author: Robert D. Keith and others
Source: Rehabilitation Counseling Bulletin 21, no. 2 (December 1977): 159-165. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: To reveal the results of an evaluation of an innovative approach to job placement. Experimental group rehabilitation clients were taught job-seeking behaviors on an individual and self-help basis. The percentage of the experimental group who obtained jobs was much higher than control groups.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 173220

Title: "Getting in the Ole Boys' Club"
Author: Janet Mills Bentz
Source: Vocational Guidance Quarterly 28, no. 2 (December 1979): 129-136. Reprint available from University Microfilms International
To describe a workshop for women preparing to interview in traditionally male-dominated jobs and training programs. The goals of the workshop are to enable women to recognize covert sexism, to respond to this sexism in constructive and self-enhancing ways, and use nonverbal strategies to communicate their confidence and competence.

Reference: ERIC: EJ 217357

Title: "Helping Displaced Workers Help Themselves"
Author: Richard S. Deems and Associates and others
Purpose: To help provide life/career planning skills for displaced workers.

Title: "Job Acquisition Skills: How Effective Are They?"
Author: Anne G. Foster and Holly L. Schrank
Source: Journal of College Placement 40, no. 4 (Summer 1980): 68-72. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: Reports that results of a survey at Oregon State University revealed that a variety of skills are needed for a successful job search. Job acquisition skills training sessions continue to be needed for successful placement.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 223429

Title: "Job Club"
Author: Ruth Parsell and Gretchen Thompson
Source: Journal of College Placement 39, no. 4 (Summer 1979). 63-65. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: This article describes how counselors at the UCLA Placement Center organized the Job Club to develop successful job search techniques with group support, direction, and encouragement. Specific goals were: to provide a forum for sharing, to assist in identifying job-related skills, to provide basic information, to establish guidelines, and to assist in decision making.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 204205

Title: "Job Finding and Career Planning: A Course Outline"
Author: Todd Holder
Source: Occupational Outlook Quarterly 24, no. 3 (Fall 1980): 28-31. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: Describe content areas of a course on preparing for work including employability skills, coping skills, decision-making skills, and career planning.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 238125

Title: "Jobscan"
Author: Not given
Purpose: Jobscan is a Canadian-developed automated worker-job matching system that has applications in the administration of unemployment insurance by assisting clients in their active job search and through the identification of valid alternative employment opportunities.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 245299

Title: "The Job Search"
Author: Marilyn Rolf
Purpose: To describe a college-level job search teaching unit that is a practical method of preparing appropriate resumes, participating in effective job interviews, and getting and keeping the job. The article describes the four phases of the unit: securing job leads, writing resumes and letters of application, the interview, and the postinterview.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 261027

Title: "The Job Search—Common Sense or Critical Skill"
Author: J. E. Hulbert
Reference: Social Science Search 1307315

Title: "Job Search and Vacancy Contacts"
Author: J. J. Seater
Reference: Social Science Search 944069

Title: "Job Search Assistance: A Review"
Author: Robert G. Wegmann
Source: Journal of Employment Counseling 16, no. 4 (December 1979): 197-226. Reprint available from University Microfilms International
The article declares that job finding is a learnable skill. Job search methods and interviewing techniques show a high rate of success in equipping the unemployed with the tools to find work quickly and efficiently.

Title: Job Search: A Review of the Literature
Author: S. Mangum
Source: Olympus Research Centers
San Francisco, CA
1982

Title: "Job Seekers: Instructor and Counselor"
Author: Carol H. Adams
Source: Paper presented at the twenty-eighth Annual Meeting of the Conference on College Composition and Communication, Kansas City, Missouri, 31 March-12 April 1977

Purpose: To describe an instructional unit to prepare students to become job seekers. A team teaching approach is used whereby a technical writing instructor emphasizes format, content, and mechanics, and a counselor stresses decision making, interpersonal communications, and interview techniques. Areas covered include the following: values and goals, application letters and resumes, letters requesting references, mock interviews, follow-up letters, and letters to accept or reject job offers.

Reference: ERIC: ED 147833

Title: Job-seeking Methods Used by American Workers
Authors: C. Rosenfeld, K. Michelitti, and W. Deutermann

Title: Merchandising Your Job Talents
Developer: State of California
Health and Welfare Agency
Employment Development Department
Job Service

Purpose: To offer the job-hunter suggestions on topics such as:

- finding out more about the kinds of jobs for which one is qualified;
- presenting background experiences on a resume in a convincing way to a prospective employer;
- writing letters of application appealingly;
- where to go for information on job opportunities;
- how to present qualifications at job interview;
- how to plan time usage;
- how to take tests; and
- how to profit from job interviews.

Reference: See Developer above

Title: "Most Workers Find Jobs through Word of Mouth"
Authors: M. Corcoran, L. Datcher, and G. J. Duncan
Purpose: This article reports that a survey of American families revealed that most workers find jobs through word of mouth rather than through more formal channels. In table form, data are presented according to type of occupation, amount of education, and race and sex of workers. Results revealed that informal job searching was more common among young, less educated, and blue collar workers. White men were more likely to have received direct help in obtaining jobs than black men. Black men were more likely to have learned of jobs through friends.

Reference: Management Contents 176380

Title: "My Favorite Assignment—The Job Search: Panel Presentations"
Author: D. C. Reep
Purpose: This article asserts that in business writing courses, the unit on the job search interests students more than other units. A description of an assignment using panel presentations about job-hunting is made. Parts of the assignment include research, an oral presentation, and a written memo. Among the topics included are items such as job prospects, selection procedures, job-hunting techniques, and women in business.

Reference: Management Contents 196095

Title: Occupational Outlook Handbook
Source: U.S. Government Printing Office
Purpose: A handbook that presents occupational information on over eight hundred fifty occupations in thirty-five major industries. It is designed for either independent use by students in grades seven-twelve or as a professional counselor's reference tool.
Price: $7.00 (payable to Superintendent of Documents)
Title: Occupational Outlook Quarterly
Purpose: This magazine focuses on jobs. It covers new and emerging occupations, training and educational opportunities, salary trends, and job prospects through the mid-1980s. It contains the most current information available for students, guidance counselors, and others who want to stay abreast of occupational developments. It also contains new perspectives on employment problems and changing technology, bibliographies of inexpensive new Government publications on the labor force and careers, and reports on employment trends by the U.S. Department of Labor’s Bureau of Labor Statistics.
Price: Subscription Order—$4.00 (Payable to the Superintendent of Documents)

Title: “Preparing Individuals for Job Interviews: Suggestions from More Than 60 Years of Research”
Authors: J. Galassi and M. Galassi

Title: “Preparing Students to Relocate”
Author: David L. Goetsch
Source: School Shop 40, no. 5 (January 1981): 17. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: To explain that vocational instructors and placement counselors have the responsibility to teach rural students how to find jobs in other towns and how to deal with relocation problems. Included are use of business and industry directories, want ads, portfolio preparation, tax information, housing, transportation, and other considerations.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 238048

Title: Promoting Job Finding Success for the Unemployed
Authors: H. Sheppard and A.H. Belitsky
Source: W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, 2968 Kalamazoo, MI
ERIC: ED 026541
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;Retrain to Retain: A Prescription for the 1980s&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>J. Raitt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>This article maintains that the retraining of displaced workers would reduce costs associated with recruitment and placement, could maximize use of human resources, and strengthen the economic life of a company. Suggestions are given for broadening the applicability of a retraining program.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>Management Contents 209673</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>The State of the Art in Job Search Training</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>M. Johnson</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>Olympus Research Centers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Salt Lake City, UT 1982</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;Summary of Research on Selection Interview Since 1964&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>D. Wright, Jr.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;A Systems Approach to Job Hunting&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>Helen M. Etherington</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>To describe a systems approach to the job search. It notes how courses in business communications, technical writing, and report writing can help students acquire job search skills.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: EJ 217625</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title:</th>
<th>&quot;Taking Charge of Experience Through Life/Work Planning&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Author:</td>
<td>John W. Munce</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source:</td>
<td>New Directions for Experiential Learning 5 (1979): 19-29. Reprint available from University Microfilms International</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose:</td>
<td>This article describes how life/work planning can be an individualized process for self-analysis, decision. and action. The same approach is used for any experience desired by considering an individual's skills, goals, and values and by combining work, learning, and adventure.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference:</td>
<td>ERIC: EJ 242621</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title: "Teaching Job Search Skills—Nebraska Style"
Author: A. Johnson
Reference: Social Science Search 1374004

Title: Technology for Career Information Delivery: Conference Proceedings, Columbus, Ohio, February 18-20, 1981
Editors: Karen S. Kimmel and Joan C. Blank
Source: The National Academy for Vocational Education National Center for Research in Vocational Education
The Ohio State University Columbus, OH 43210
Purpose: To provide information on currently available career information delivery systems. Presentations were made according to various alternatives as follows: automated, nonautomated, microcomputers, special programs, and combinations of alternatives.

Title: "Technology in Career Planning and Placement"
Author: Robert C. Bruce and others
Source: Journal of College Placement 42, no. 4 (Summer 1982): 35-38. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: To describe the use of the system of interactive guidance and information to help students explore career options.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 262949

Title: "Using Learning Packages to Develop Job Search Readiness"
Authors: James V. Arthur and Larry H. Ebbers
Source: Journal of College Student Personnel 22, no. 2 (March 1981): 125-129. Reprint available from University Microfilms International Purpose: To compare self-instructional learning packages and traditional methods of improving job search readiness.
Reference: ERIC: EJ 245305

Title: "Vocational Services for Older Adults: Or I Want to Work, but . . ."
Authors: Mae S. Smith and Bonnie J. Golden
Purpose: To describe a program designed to meet the needs of adults over fifty-five who are unemployed or underemployed.

Reference: ERIC: EJ 261162

Title: Who's Hiring Who
Author: Richard Latthrop
Source: Ten Speed Press
        Berkeley, CA

Purpose: To provide a detailed explanation of how to prepare a good resume or "qualifications brief."

Title: Wishcraft
Author: B. Sher
Source: Viking
        New York
        1979

Title: The Work Book
Authors: J. M. Farr, R. Gaither, and R. M. Pickrell
Source: McKnight
        Bloomington, IL
        1983

Title: The Worker and the Job: Coping with Change
Author: J. E. Rosow, ed.
Source: Prentice-Hall
        Englewood Cliffs, NJ

Purpose: To provide an exploration by experts of the attitudes and expectations of today's worker and to describe the conflict between a society that is changing rapidly and a workplace that is not.

Assessment Materials

Included in this section are seven types of instruments categorized according to traits measured or inventoried. These include the following areas:

- Achievement
- Aptitudes and abilities
- Interests
- Test orientation/screening
- Work values
- Interests and skills measurement/work sample evaluation
- Career development/maturity instruments

The citations for these materials include the title, source, purpose, and annotation. The annotation provides one or more sources of additional information regarding the particular assessment instrument.

The citations provided here were adapted from more complete descriptions provided in four published manuals. Full bibliographic information for each primary source manual is provided at the conclusion of this subsection. In order to save space, only the author's last name and page number are given in the citations.

Achievement

Title: The Adult Performance Level Program (APL)
Source: The American College Testing Program
Purpose: To measure proficiency of adults in skills necessary for minimal levels of education and economic success. The focus is on functional skills relevant to everyday living.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, p. 9

Title: Adult Basic Learning Examination (ABLE)
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To measure basic learning skills using subject matter drawn from adult life.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 63
Backer, p. 99
Title: Basic Occupational Literacy Test (BOLT)
Source: United States Employment Service Offices
Purpose: To assess basic reading and arithmetic skills; to screen for training needs or placement options.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 63-64
Backer, pp. 99-100

Title: Fundamental Achievement Series
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To assess the verbal and numerical ability of disadvantaged individuals for employment or training programs.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 75-76
Backer, pp. 103-104

Title: Peabody Individual Achievement Test
Source: American Guidance Service, Inc.
Publishers' Building
Circle Pines, MN 55014
Purpose: To screen for the general level of school achievement of children, adolescents, or adults; to suggest the point at which a more comprehensive test may be used.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 45-46

Title: Test of Adult Basic Education (TABE)
Source: CTB/McGraw Hill
Del Monte Research Park
Monterey, CA 93940
Purpose: To measure achievement in reading, mathematics, and language; useful in placing students in appropriate learning groups and selecting educational materials for students to use in overcoming deficiencies.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 97
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 61-62

Title: Wide Range Achievement Test (WRAT)
Source: Jastak Associates, Inc.
1526 Gilpin Avenue
Wilmington, DE 19806
Purpose: To diagnose reading, spelling, and arithmetic disabilities in persons of all ages; the establishment of degrees of literacy and arithmetic proficiency of mentally retarded persons; the checking of school achievement of adults referred for vocational rehabilitation and job placement; and the selection of students for specialized technical and professional schools.

Reference: Bhaerman and others. pp. 98-99
           Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 69-70

Aptitudes

Title: Aptitude Tests for Occupations
Source: Bobbs-Merrill Company, Inc.
        4300 West 62nd Street
        Indianapolis, IN 46268

Purpose: To assess occupationally related aptitudes and potentialities in the following areas: personal-social aptitude, mechanical aptitude, clerical routine aptitude, general sales aptitude, computational aptitude, and scientific aptitude.

Reference: Bhaerman and others. p. 86
           Swirsky and Vandergoot. p. 10

Title: Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (Form 5)
Source: U.S. Military Enlistment Processing Command
        Ft. Sheridan, IL 60037

Purpose: To provide students with information that will give them better understanding of themselves for use in vocational and career guidance and exploration; to provide military service recruiters with test score information on eleventh and twelfth grade students.

Reference: Kapes and Mastie. pp. 32-36

Title: Bennett Mechanical Comprehension Test
Source: The Psychological Corporation
        757 Third Avenue
        New York, NY 10017

Purpose: To measure the ability to perceive and understand the relationship of physical forces and mechanical elements including principles about leverage, force and motion, light, heat, and sound.

Reference: Bhaerman and others. p. 86
           Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 11-12
Title: Crawford Small-Parts Dexterity Test
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To assess persons for jobs involving the use of small tools and rapid, repeated movements.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 77-78

Title: Dailey Vocational Tests
Source: Riverside Bryn Mawr Avenue
Chicago, IL 60631
Purpose: To assess potential aptitude and achievement for training and success in a number of occupations within the trade, technical, and business-secretarial fields.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 88

Title: Differential Aptitude Tests (DAT)
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To serve as a counseling aid regarding strengths and weaknesses of clients in aptitudes of verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 20-22
Bhaerman and others, p. 89
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 37-41

Title: Flanagan Aptitude Classification Tests
Source: Science Research Associates, Inc.
155 North Wacker Drive
Chicago, IL 60606
Purpose: To measure aptitudes important for successful performance of particular occupational tasks.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 23-25

Title: General Aptitude Test Battery (GATB)
Source: United States Employment Service Offices
Purpose: To assess nine occupational aptitudes: general learning ability; verbal, numerical, spatial aptitudes; form and clerical perceptions; motor coordination; finger and manual dexterity.
Title: General Clerical Test (GCT)
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To measure aptitudes of importance in all kinds of clerical work, such as the following: checking, alphabetizing, arithmetic computation, error location, arithmetic reasoning, spelling, reading comprehension, vocabulary, and grammar.
Reference: Bhaerman and Others, pp. 78-79
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 92-93

Title: Hand-Tool Dexterity Test
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To measure proficiency in use of ordinary mechanics' hand-tools. Measures aptitude and achievement based on past experience in handling tools.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 79-80.

Title: Job Site Evaluation
Source: John Hamilton, Director of Job Placement
Opportunity Workshop, Inc.
5500 Opportunity Court
Minnetonka, MN 55343
Purpose: To enable employers and placement counselors to evaluate a client's work potential during on-the-job training or extended work evaluation.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 81-82

Title: Minnesota Clerical Test
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To record speed and accuracy in performing tasks related to clerical work, for example checking numbers and names.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, p. 92

Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 126-127
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 42-46
Title: Nonreading Aptitude Test Battery (NATB)
Source: United States Employment Service Offices
Purpose: To measure aptitudes in the areas of intelligence, verbal, numerical, spatial, form perception, clerical perception, motor coordination, finger dexterity, and manual dexterity. Developed for use with individuals lacking sufficient literacy skills to take the GATB.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 69
Backer, pp. 105-106

Title: Oral Directions Test
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To aid in selecting more able workers among applicants with limited education and/or limited knowledge of English for jobs in maintenance and service work in public institutions, transportation systems, stores, hotels, factories, and shops.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 69-70
Backer, pp. 108-109

Title: Projects with Industry Job Seeking and Job Retention Skills Form
Source: ICO Rehabilitation and Research Center
340 East 24th Street
New York, NY 10010
Purpose: To enable individuals to assess realistically abilities and limitations.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergrout, pp. 52-53

Title: SRA Mechanical Aptitudes
Source: Science Research Associates, Inc.
155 North Wacker Drive
Chicago, IL 60606
Purpose: To measure the following aspects of mechanical ability: (1) mechanical knowledge, (2) space relations, (3) shop arithmetic.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 81-82

Title: Short Employment Tests
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
| Purpose: | To predict satisfactory performance in office work. |
| Reference: | Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 84-85 |

| Title: | Short Tests of Clerical Ability |
| Source: | Science Research Associates, Inc.
          155 North Wacker Drive
          Chicago, IL 60606 |
| Purpose: | To test clerical abilities of arithmetic, business vocabulary, checking, coding, directions (oral and written), filing, and language. |
| Reference: | Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 57-58 |

| Title: | Talent Assessment Program (TAP) |
| Source: | Talent Assessment Programs
          7015 Colby Avenue
          Des Moines, IA 50311 |
| Purpose: | To provide fine details on the perceptual and dexterity functioning of clients in a variety of job settings. |
| Reference: | Backer, pp. 130-131 |

| Title: | USES Clerical Skills Tests |
| Source: | United States Employment Service Offices |
| Purpose: | To measure skills important in a variety of clerical occupations—typing from plain copy, ability to take dictation, general spelling, statistical typing, medical spelling, and legal spelling. |
| Reference: | Bhaerman and others, pp. 127-129 |

| Title: | Wonderlic Personnel Test |
          P.O. Box 7
          Northfield, IL 60093 |
| Purpose: | To examine mental ability levels and to serve as a selection instrument in hiring and placing applicants, and as an indicator of future possibilities. |
| Reference: | Bhaerman and others, pp. 99-100 |
Interests

Title: California Occupational Preference Survey (COPS)
Source: Educational and Industrial Testing Service
        P.O. Box 7234
        San Diego, CA 92107
Purpose: To provide job activity/interest scores relating to occupational clusters: helps provide employee self-awareness in business and industrial settings.
Reference: Bhaerman and others. pp. 86-87
           Kapes and Mastie. pp. 48-52

Title: Career Assessment Inventory
Source: NCS Interpretive Scoring Systems
        P.O. Box 1416
        Minneapolis, MN 55440
Purpose: To promote career awareness of the vocational spectrum of occupations requiring less than a four-year college degree.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 12-14
           Kapes and Mastie. pp. 53-56

Title: The Geist Picture Interest Inventory Revised
Source: Western Psychological Services
Purpose: To provide quantitative assessment of eleven male and twelve female general interest areas. It is useful in providing occupational and career choices for those with limited verbal abilities.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 28-29

Title: Harrington/O'Shea System for Career Decision Making (CDM)
Source: American Guidance Service, Inc.
        Publishers' Building
        Circle Pines, MN 55014
Purpose: To inventory interests. Provides for self-analysis of six areas critical to career decisionmaking: occupational choices, school subjects, future education or training plans, job values clarification, abilities, and interests.
Reference: Kapes and Mastie. pp. 57-60
           Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 31-32
           Bhaerman and others. pp. 90-91
Title: The Jackson Vocational Interest Survey
Source: Research Psychologists Press, Inc.
P.O. Box 984
Port Huron, MI 48060
Purpose: To assist high school and college students and adults with educational and career planning to assess vocational interests.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 35-36
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 64-68

Title: Job Analysis and Interest Measurement (JAIM)
Source: JAIM Research, Inc.
1808 Collingwood Road
Alexandria, VA 22308
Purpose: To measure coping skills important to performance and satisfaction in work roles by determining the degree of match between requirements and potentials of jobs and the individual's self-reported behavior styles, activity preferences, and values.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 92-92
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 36-38

Title: Judgment of Occupational Behavior Orientation (JOB-O)
Source: CFKR Career Materials, Inc.
110 Glenn Way
P.O. Box 5086
Belmont, CA 94002
Purpose: To help students narrow job titles to match personal needs, explore and compare job titles, select those preferred; emphasizes job awareness and exploration.
Reference: Kapes and Mastie, pp. 69-72

Title: Kuder Occupational Interest Survey (KOIS)
Source: Science Research Associates, Inc.
155 North Wacker Drive
Chicago, IL 60606
Purpose: To aid in employment counseling and retraining; provides information on making a vocational choice or selecting a tentative field of study by identifying interests in relation to occupations or occupational fields.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 80
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 38-39
Title: Minnesota Vocational Interest Inventory

Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017

Purpose: To measure interests in nonprofessional occupations for men and boys over fifteen years of age who are not planning to attend college.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 94

---

Title: Self-Directed Search (SDS)

Source: Consulting Psychologists Press, Inc.
577 College Avenue
Palo Alto, CA 94306

Purpose: To serve as a counseling aid to determine a person's resemblance to each of six occupational or personality types: realistic, investigative, artistic, social, enterprising, and conventional.

Reference: Kapes and Mastie, pp. 88-91
Bhaerman and others, pp. 95-96
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 55-56

---

Title: Self-Interview Check List (SICL)

Source: Dr. Samuel Cleff
Center for Human Technology
Princeton, NJ

Purpose: To aid examinees in indicating behavioral units of work they like best and dislike most, and work they have done most and least, yielding activities preference and experience according to sixteen dimensions of work.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 71-72
Backer, pp. 111-112

---

Title: The Strong-Cambell Interest Inventory (SCII)

Source: Stanford University Press
Stanford, CA 94305

Purpose: To give information to persons about themselves and what will help them make decisions about their life plans. The inventory has 7 parts: occupations, school subjects, activities, amusements, types of people, preference between two activities, your characteristics; it yields scores on 6 general occupational themes, twenty-three basic interest scales, and 162 occupational scales.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 96
Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 59-60
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 92-95
Title: Tolerance for Bureaucratic Structure Scale (TBS)
Source: Center for Policy Research
New York, NY
Purpose: To measure extent to which an individual has a preference for jobs typical of large bureaucratic organizations.
Reference: Backer, pp. 112-113

Title: USES Interest Checklist
Source: United States Employment Service Offices
Purpose: To aid interviewing counselors to obtain information on the range of vocational interests.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 129

Title: Wide Range Interest-Opinion Test (WRIOT)
Source: Jastak Associates, Inc.
1526 Gilpin Avenue
Wilmington, DE 19806
Purpose: To provide an inventory of work interests and attitudes by portraying a variety of human activities in pictures.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 99
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 196-198

Test Orientation/Screening

Title: GATB/NATB Screening Device
Source: United States Employment Service Offices
Purpose: To determine whether a particular service applicant should be given the NATB or the GATB.
Reference: Backer, p. 104

Title: Test Orientation Procedure
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To provide practice materials to help applicants learn how to take tests.
Reference: Backer, pp. 142-143
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Uses Pretesting Orientation Exercises</th>
<th>Source: United States Employment Service Offices</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Purpose: To provide pretest orientation to GATB's first eight parts in a nonthreatening atmosphere.</td>
<td>Reference: Backer, p. 143-144</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Work Values

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Employability Evaluation</th>
<th>Source: Rebecca Logsdon, Counselor/Job Placement, Oklahoma Goodwill Industries, Inc.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Purpose: To provide a general guideline for measuring job readiness, covering work skills, transportation, child care, education, health, family, appearance, dependability, attitude toward work, initiative, work habits, relocation, work interests, learning ability, and communication.</td>
<td>Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 22-23</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Hall Occupational Orientation Inventory</th>
<th>Source: Scholastic Testing Service, Inc.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Purpose: To provide a framework for an individual to explore the factors involved in occupational choice in terms of the relationship between psychological needs and value fulfillment, worker traits and job content characteristics.</td>
<td>Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 30-31, Bhaerman and others, p. 90, Kapes and Mastie, pp. 102-105</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Human Service Scale</th>
<th>Source: K. Reagles and G. N. Wright, Human Service Systems, Inc.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Purpose: To measure need satisfaction related to the following needs: physiological, emotional security, economic security, family needs, social needs, economic self-esteem, vocational self-actualization.</td>
<td>Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 33-34</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title: Minnesota Importance Questionnaire
Source: Vocational Psychology Research
University of Minnesota
N620 Elliott Hall
75 East River Road
Minneapolis, MN 55455

Purpose: To measure twenty vocational needs referring to specific conditions found to be important to job satisfaction.

Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 41-43
Kapes and Mastie, pp. 106-109

Title: Minnesota Job Description Questionnaire
Source: University of Minnesota
Vocational Psychology Research

Purpose: To rate the reinforcer (need-satisfier) characteristics of jobs.

Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, p. 94

Title: Temperament and Values Inventory
Source: Interpretive Scoring Systems

Purpose: To aid individuals in selecting a satisfying career, to assess their temperament and values in various situations, to compare themselves with others, to understand why they do or do not enjoy certain activities or situations.

Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 60-61

Title: Vocational Opinion Index
Source: Associates for Research in Behavior, Inc.
34th & Market Streets
Philadelphia, PA 19104

Purpose: To measure an individual's job readiness posture (JRP) i.e., attitudes, perceptions, and motivations, and the effects on the ability to obtain and maintain a job.

Annotation: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 66-67
Backer, pp. 114-115

Title: Vocational Opinion Index Transition System
Source: Associates for Research in Behavior, Inc.
34th & Market Streets
Philadelphia, PA 19104

Purpose: To determine an individual's job readiness posture.

Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 85-87
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Work Values Inventory</th>
<th>Source: The Riverside Publishing Company (A Houghton Mifflin Subsidiary) Three O'Hare Towers 8420 Bryn Mawr Avenue Chicago, IL 60148</th>
<th>Purpose: To measure the satisfactions which people seek in work and the satisfactions which may accompany the outcomes of work.</th>
<th>Reference: Kapes and Mastie, pp. 110-113</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Interests and Skills Measurement/Work Sample Evaluation

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Comprehensive Occupational Assessment and Training System (COATS)</th>
<th>Source: Prep, Inc. 1575 Parkway Avenue Trenton, NJ 08628</th>
<th>Purpose: To provide a comprehensive evaluation regarding job matching, employability attitudes, work samples, and living skills.</th>
<th>Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 103-104 Backer, pp. 119-122</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Jewish Employment and Vocational Service (JEVS) Work Sample System</th>
<th>Source: Vocational Research Institute Jewish Employment and Vocational Service 1700 Sansom Street, 9th Floor Philadelphia, PA 19103</th>
<th>Purpose: To evaluate clients on ten of the DOT Worker Trait Groups.</th>
<th>Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 106-107</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title: Micro-Tower</th>
<th>Source: ICD Rehabilitation and Research Center 340 East 24th Street New York, NY 10010</th>
<th>Purpose: To assess seven of the nine aptitudes used in the Worker Trait Group arrangements of the DOT/GATB using work-sampling techniques.</th>
<th>Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 109-110 Backer, pp. 126-127</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

*Work sample systems are expensive to purchase, complex in their operation, and may require special trained evaluators. Hence a careful evaluation of the utility of a system and its related cost should be conducted before it is purchased.
Title: Singer Vocational Evaluation System (SVES)

Source: Singer Educational Division Career System
80 Commerce Drive
Rochester, NY 14623

Purpose: To provide a measure of interest and skill assessment for jobs mostly in the skilled trades and technical areas through work samples.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 112-113
Backer, pp. 128-130

Title: Valpar Component Work Sample System

Source: Valpar Corporation
3801 East 34th Street
Tuscon, AZ 85713

Purpose: To provide work sample evaluations related to specific occupations and worker trait groups.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 116-118
Backer, pp. 132-133

Title: Vocational Interest-Temperament and Aptitude System (VITAS)

Source: Vocational Research Institute -
Jewish Employment and Vocational Service
1700 Sansom Street, 9th Floor
Philadelphia, PA 19103

Purpose: To provide work sample evaluation.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, pp. 119-120
Backer, pp. 134-135

Career Development/Maturity Instruments

Title: Biographical Information Blank (BIB)

Source: Richardson, Bellows, Henry & Company, Inc.
1140 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

Purpose: To elicit biographical information on home and family situation; high school experiences and perceptions; work history, present job responsibilities and obligations; preferences and needs regarding work, the workplace, and income; life goals and philosophy; self-image; and time organization habits.

Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 64
Backer, pp. 100-102
Title: Career Development Inventory
Source: Consulting Psychologists Press, Inc.
577 College Avenue
Palo Alto, CA 94306
Purpose: To measure attitudes and knowledge regarding the business world and as an indication of vocational maturity.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 15-16
Kapes and Mastle. pp. 118-121

Title: Career Maturity Inventory
Source: CTB/McGraw-Hill
Del Monte Research Park
Monterey, CA 93940
Purpose: To measure the maturity of attitudes and competencies important to career decision making.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. pp. 16-17

Title: Career Development Inventory Adult Form
Source: D. E. Super, R. S. Zelkowitz, and A. S. Thompson
Teachers College
Columbia University
Purpose: To measure the vocational maturity of adults focusing on awareness of and concern with career development tasks. To measure the individual's view of himself and his personal vocational development.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. p. 16

Title: Career Guidance Inventory in Trades, Services, and Technologies
Source: Educational Guidance, Inc.
Purpose: To assist in the guidance of persons interested in trade, service, and technological areas.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot. p. 72

Title: Career Skills Assessment Programs
Source: College Entrance Examination Board
888 Seventh Avenue
New York, NY 10019
Purpose: To provide individuals with guidance and personal insight into career planning. It also gives counselors, teachers, and administrators a means to assess mastery of basic career skills.
Title: Edwards Personnel Preference Schedule (EPPS)
Source: The Psychological Corporation
757 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Purpose: To provide quick and convenient measures of a number of relatively independent, normal personality variables such as the following: achievement, deference, order, exhibition, autonomy, affiliation, introversion, succorance, dominance, abasement, nurturance, change, endurance, heterosexuality, and aggression.
Reference: Bhaerman and others, p. 78

Title: Forer Vocational Survey: Men - Women
Source: Western Psychological Services
Purpose: To study personality as it relates to vocational matters: reactions to specified situations, causes of feelings and actions, and vocational goals.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 74-75

Title: Kuder Career Development Inventory
Source: Science Research Associates, Inc.
155 N. Wacker Drive
Chicago, IL 60606
Purpose: To indicate possible career paths to explore in each of six broad interest areas, at each of three entry levels based on the amount of education generally required.
Reference: Kapes and Mastie, pp. 136-139

Title: Placement Referral Information Form: Work History Grid; Placement Orientation Form
Source: Madeline Scott
Placement Specialist
Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation
One Marion Avenue, Room 215
Mansfield, OH 44903
Purpose: To obtain background information concerning a client's employability, to document specific job history information, to assist in finding proper job placement.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, p. 49
Title: Job Readiness Program Outline
Source: Rebecca Logsdon
Oklahoma Goodwill Industries, Inc.
410 S.W. Third
Oklahoma City, OK 73125
Purpose: To teach clients skills necessary to seek and obtain employment. Outline consists of six parts: orientation, application forms, interviews, problem solving, life outside of work, and finding a job.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, p. 93

Title: Tseng Rating Scales
Source: M. S. Tseng
West Virginia University
Morgantown, WV 26507
Purpose: To measure self-perception, locus of control, need for achievement.
Reference: Backer, pp. 113-114
Bhaerman and others, p. 74

Title: The Vocational Diagnosis and Assessment of Residual Employability Handbook (VDARE)
Source: J. McCrosky, W. Wattenbarger, T. F. Field, and J. M. Sink
University of Georgia
Athens, GA 30601
Purpose: To provide information on a client's work history—worker traits, skills, attributes.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 63-65

Title: Vocational Preference Inventory (VPI)
Source: Consulting Psychologists Press, Inc.
Purpose: To provide information about a subject's interpersonal relations, interests, values, self-concept, and coping behavior.
Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 67-68

Title: World of Work Inventory
Source: World of Work, Inc.
2923 N. 67th Place
Scottsdale, AZ 85251
Purpose: To facilitate the individual's selection of an appropriate career or vocation consistent with interests, aptitudes, and temperaments.

Reference: Kapes and Mastle, pp. 143-146

Title: Position Analysis Questionnaire

Source: E. J. McCormick, and others
University Bookstore
West Lafayette, IN 47906

Purpose: To analyze positions or jobs of many different types to make it possible to relate positions or jobs to one another; helps match a person to a job.

Reference: Swirsky and Vandergoot, pp. 95-96
Other Resources and Materials

This final category includes centers or sites that serve as potential sources of information on materials and resources for serving the needs of dislocated workers.

Included first are members of the Council for Educational Development and Research (CEDaR). CEDaR is composed of seventeen member organizations devoted to research and development in education. These research centers are located throughout the United States. From center to center, the stated goals or mission statements vary in emphases, yet they each share the common goal of improving education for American students.

At the present time, only the National Center for Research in Vocational Education is actively involved in a project for serving the needs of dislocated workers. However, the other sites have the potential to serve as excellent sources of information and expertise. Therefore, all seventeen sites are included in this study in an effort to provide an accessible resource center within geographic proximity of readers nationwide.

A list of these sites is given below along with addresses and telephone numbers.

Appalachia Education Laboratory
P.O. Box 1348
Charleston, WV 25325
304-347-0400

Mission: To improve education and educational opportunity for persons who live in the primarily nonurban areas of the seven-member state region.

Center for Educational Policy and Management
College of Education
University of Oregon
Eugene, OR 97403
503-686-5173

Mission: To improve the use of human resources in schools through research and development activities that bring together scholars, educational practitioners, and community leaders.

Center for Social Organization of Schools
Johns Hopkins University
3505 North Charles Street
Baltimore, MD 21218
301-366-3582

Mission: To produce useful knowledge of how changes in the social organization of schools can influence a broad range of student outcomes.

Center for the Study of Evaluation
UCLA Graduate School of Education
145 Moore Hall
Los Angeles, CA 90024
213-825-4711

Mission: To improve the quality of public education through systematic evaluation practices.
Far West Laboratory for Educational Research and Development
1855 Folsom Street
San Francisco, CA 94103
415-565-3000

Mission: To help children and adults obtain better learning opportunities as a result of research, development, dissemination, evaluation, and technical assistance.

Institute for Research on Educational Finance and Governance
CERAS Building
School of Education
Stanford University
Stanford, CA 94305
415-497-1901

Mission: To play a national role in research related to the origins, implementation, and consequences of different educational finance and governance patterns in education.

Learning Research and Development Center
University of Pittsburgh
3939 O'Hara Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15260
412-624-4800

Mission: To contribute to an increased understanding of how learning occurs and how schooling influences learning.

Mid-Continent Regional Educational Laboratory
4709 Belleview Avenue
Kansas City, Missouri 64112
816-756-2401

Denver Office:
1800 Pontiac Avenue
Denver, CO 80220
303-399-9285

Mission: To increase the use of research-based practices that demonstratively improve student achievement and school efficiency.

National Center for Research in Vocational Education
Ohio State University
1960 Kenny Road
Columbus, OH 43210
614-488-3655
800-848-4815

Mission: To increase the ability of diverse agencies, institutions, and organizations to solve educational problems relating to individual career planning, preparation, and progression.

The NETWORK, Inc.
290 South Main Street
Andover, MA 01810
617-470-1080

Mission: To provide support for school improvement efforts.
Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory
300 S.W. Sixth Avenue
Portland, OR 97204
503-248-6800

Alaska Office:
9342 Glacier Highway, Suite 14
Juneau, AK 99801
907-586-2722

Mission: To assist education, government, community agencies, business, and labor in improving quality and equality in educational programs and processes.

Research and Development Center for Teacher Education
Education Annex 3.203
The University of Texas at Austin
Austin, TX 78712
512-471-1343

Mission: The development of fuller understanding of teacher education and practical materials, programs, and processes designed to effect needed improvements.

Research for Better Schools
444 North Third Street
Philadelphia, PA 19123
215-574-9300

Mission: To help schools, school districts, and state education agencies in Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania use the results of educational research, development, and evaluation to improve their educational programs.

Southwest Educational Development Laboratory
211 East Seventh Street
Austin, TX 78701
512-476-6861

Mission: To promote quality learning in the region by conducting behavioral and social research, by engaging in educational development, and by applying service technologies to region-identified problems and needs.

SWRL Educational Research and Development
4665 Lampson Avenue
Los Alamitos, CA 90720
213-598-7661
714-821-7790

Mission: To develop fundamental, significant improvements in education; to conduct educational research in order to solve the problems; and to serve the needs of the public and private schools, colleges, and universities of Arizona, Southern California, and Southern Nevada.
Mission: To understand and to help educators deal with diversity among students.
Other Information and Material Centers

Next is presented an alphabetical listing of other information and material centers with brief descriptions of services and purpose when available. This listing was obtained from the following source:

The American College Testing Program
P. O. Box 168
Iowa City, IA 52240

Services: Consultation in the field; consultation at office; library collection; ERIC microfiche collection; ERIC index collection.

Purpose: Development and administration of guidance-oriented assessment programs, systems development, and administrative services for education and government agencies. Field staff in thirteen regional offices. Large document collection in education and psychology. Program, professional, and research publications.

Appalachian Adult Education Center
U.P.O. 1353
Morehead State University
Morehead, KY 40351

Services: Consultation in the field; consultation at office; referral; library collection; data collection; ERIC microfiche collection; ERIC index collection.

Purpose: Services for adult educators and administrators. Appalachian data related to adult basic education demonstration and research activities.

B'Nai B'Rith Career and Counseling Service
1640 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W.
Washington DC 20036

Services: Consultation in the field; consultation at office; referral; library collection; data collection.

Purpose: Collection of data on occupations, careers, and guidance. Small collection of books, pamphlets, and journals. Publications on opportunities for minorities and adult career education. Quarterly annotated bibliography on current literature on educational and vocational guidance.
Career Development Center
University of Northern Colorado
Vocational Education Department
Greeley, CO 80631

Services: Consultation in the field: consultation at office: referral: library collection.
Purpose: Research in career education and vocational-teacher education in Colorado: guidance, curriculum development, and information dissemination provided.

Mid-Atlantic Center for Community Education
School of Education
Ruffner Hall
University of Virginia
Charlottesville, VA 22903

National Adult Education Clearinghouse
Department of Adult Continuing Education
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

National Career Information Center
American Personnel and Guidance Association
1607 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20009

Purpose: Purpose is to keep the practicing counselor fully informed about resources, tools, and techniques in career guidance. Newsletter and series of career resource bibliographies published monthly.

National Center for Educational Brokering
1211 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Suite 400
Washington, DC 20036

Purpose: This organization provides information, inservice training, planning, and assistance through free monthly bulletins, bibliographies, and a consulting network. Contacts are maintained with over 200 information and counseling services.

National Multimedia Center for Adult Education
Department of Adult Continuing Education
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043
Purpose: This center acquires and assesses curricular instructional materials designed for adult basic and continuing education. Monthly abstracts are available by subscription.

National Occupational Information Service
Patrick Henry Building
601 D Street, N.W.
Washington, DC 20213

Services: Consultation in the field; consultation at office; referral; library collection; data collection; ERIC microfiche collection; ERIC index collection.

Purpose: A division of the Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration. Refers requests for occupational and labor market information to appropriate government agencies. Grantee programs served.

Occupational Outlook Service
Bureau of Labor Statistics
U.S. Department of Labor
Washington, DC 20212

Services: Data collection.

Purpose: A number of bulletins, handbooks, periodicals, and leaflets on occupational outlook published through eight regional offices.

Office of Manpower Studies
Purdue University
SCC-A
West Lafayette, IN 47907

Services: Consultation in the field; consultation at office.

Purpose: Research, data, and document collection in occupational trends, manpower requirements, training. Data on high school seniors from four classes of 750,000 each. Working on career education closed-circuit TV project for Indiana audiences. Publications.

Project on Equal Education Rights (PEER)
Suite 800
1029 Vermont Avenue. N.W.
Washington, DC 20005

Purpose: PEER monitors and publicizes enforcement progress and problems as federal and local programs and schools implement Title IX.
Purpose: This organization has produced several publications dealing with the elimination of sex discrimination, sex bias, and sex stereotyping in education and publishes a newsletter, RESEARCH/ACTION NOTES, containing information on activities and resources relating to the alleviation of sexism in elementary-secondary education.
REFERENCES FOR ANNOTATION OF ASSESSMENT MATERIALS

