DEDICATION

The Foreign Language Folio is dedicated to the memory of Mary Hosford, Coordinator of Foreign Languages, Alameda County Office of Education, 1960-1975. She worked tirelessly to improve foreign language education in the schools of Alameda County and throughout the San Francisco Bay Area as well as the state of Caliifornia.
The Assistant of Multlingual Language Folio

The purpose of this report is about the assignment of the representatives of the school district, office of education, and administrative personnel for a two-year period is under the direction of one of the representatives, who is closely assisted by another.

PREFACE

The forerunner of the Foreign Language Folio was the French Folio, founded in 1967 by Kenneth J. Ernst of the Alameda County Office of Education. Through the efforts of Mary DuFort, Alameda County Office of Education, and Oreon Kesslar, Santa Clara County Office of Education, resources in Spanish and German were added. Other European and Asian language resources were gradually added. Through the years, current entries have been considerably expanded in the Folio. For example, some resources designed to expand the study of the cultural aspects of the language are now included.

Since 1970, the preparation of the Foreign Language Folio has been a joint project of the County Offices of Education of Alameda, Contra Costa, and Santa Clara. The San Mateo County Office of Education has also joined the project.

Every two years the Folio is revised. Forms requesting updated information are sent to groups and organizations listed in the current issue. In addition, foreign language teachers and organizations are asked to suggest new items. To submit corrections or new items to be considered in the next revision, please use the form which is printed on the last page of this issue. The extent of the information in the Folio is limited to and dependent upon the information forms that are returned.

Individuals, groups, and organizations are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide for the Folio. The county offices reserve the right to edit or exclude any information provided.

PLEASE NOTE: Directory listings of this kind are subject to constant revision since businesses move and phone numbers frequently change. Updated information is appreciated. Please use the form in the back of this book to provide such information.
SUGGESTIONS TO TEACHERS
FOR USING THE FOLIO

Your class, club, or you yourself might wish to enjoy foreign cultural resources in the Bay Area. Some possibilities are:

- Having dinner at one of the many restaurants which feature foreign cuisine
- Touring one of the several museums or galleries to see art from other cultures
- Arranging to visit the consulate or cultural center of the country whose language you are studying, or inviting the consul to visit your school
- Seeing a movie or play in a foreign language
- Listening to a foreign language radio broadcast or watching a television program

You should determine the appropriateness for your students of each activity considered. For example, the suitability of foreign language films for young people varies so much that you need to preview each film before arranging a group visit to a theater.

The Foreign Language Folio is organized alphabetically by language. Sections of general language resources follow. Current officers of professional organizations are listed with their addresses and/or phone numbers, since most organizations do not have a permanent address.

You will note that information regarding specific artists, exhibitions, film schedules, or theater offerings is lacking. Because of frequent changes in programs, it is not feasible to list such information. Addresses and telephone numbers are given so that you may call or write. (Few phone listings are provided for out-of-state entries.) Please write for information. When contacting a gallery, restaurant, theater, or other resource, please mention that it was listed in the Foreign Language Folio.

Foreign Language Association of Santa Clara County (FLASCC) 935 Riverside Dr.
Los Altos, CA 94022
(415) 941-5387

Resource: Jan Letson, President

Founded in 1957, the Foreign Language Association of Santa Clara County is a professional organization dedicated to the interests of foreign language teachers. Since its inception, this group has been actively engaged in the foreign language field through its many projects and activities. These include three annual teacher-interest meetings in fall, winter, and spring, which are held in conjunction with other professional organizations; workshops, and language camps. Members of FLASCC are teachers and other persons interested in the field of foreign language teaching. Under FLASCC there exist three specific language groups: FTW (French Teachers' Workshop), GTW (German Teachers' Workshop), and STW (Spanish Teachers' Workshop). These special-interest sections hold monthly meetings. FLASCC sponsors the annual Foreign Language Camps planned and staffed by these sectional language teacher groups. Dues for FLASCC are $8 per year. Membership benefits and privileges include attendance at all general and sectional meetings and workshops; teacher-student participation in the Foreign Language Camps; and a subscription to the FLASCC newsletter, the Polyglot, and copies of the FLASCC Directory and Foreign Language Folio. FLASCC is affiliated with the California Foreign Language Teachers Association (CFLTA).

Stanford Program on International and Cross-Cultural Education (SPICE)
Lou Henry Hoover Bldg., Room 200
Stanford University
Stanford, CA 94305 (415) 497-1115

This program was formed in 1977 as an umbrella organization for four cultural projects: Africa, China, Japan, and Latin America. Recently a project on International Security and Arms Control was added. The central purpose of SPICE is the utilization of scholarly resources in international studies in a cooperative endeavor with pre-collegiate educators to enhance the international and cross cultural dimensions of schools. The major activities of the program are curriculum development and in-service education. In order to broaden its staff development activities, SPICE, along with the World Affairs Council of Northern California and Global Perspectives in Education, Inc., formed a consortium called the Bay Area Global Education Program (BAGEP), which provides services to schools, districts, and county offices in Northern California. The program maintains offices on the Stanford campus and welcomes visits by teachers by appointment. Curriculum units are available for purchase or loan (through the World Affairs Council). These include units on Latin America utilizing Spanish. All program activities are advertised in Colloquy, the World Affairs Council free newsletter for teachers.

GENERAL TRAVEL/TOURISM

Amity Institute
P.O. Box 118
Del Mar, CA 92014 (619) 755-3582
Resource: Christopher H. Stowell, Ph.D. Director

Through Amity Institute, schools in the United States may offer scholarships to young people from French-, German-, Italian-, and Spanish-speaking countries to enroll in an intern-teaching course with residence at the host school. For 15 hours per week a scholar assists in foreign language instruction. The host school also provides the Amity scholar with a study program in course offered by that school, arranges for hospitality in the community, and provides the scholar with a small spending allowance. Scholarship administrative and other expenses are covered in part by fees paid by the host schools.
