The library study guide was designed for business marketing students at the University of Wisconsin, Stout. The guide, and its accompanying exercises, were developed as an alternative to providing library instruction to approximately 150 business marketing students each semester. The guide introduces students to basic business reference sources in five categories: (1) newspaper and magazine indexes; (2) statistical resources; (3) industry specific resources; (4) directories; and (5) financial resources. Descriptive abstracts of each resource are included. Several questions are provided for each resource with accompanying answer keys. Five versions of the questions and five answer keys are provided to accommodate large classes. (THC)
The Library Study Guide for Business was designed for business marketing students at UW-Stout. The guide, with accompanying exercise, was developed as an alternative to providing library instruction for approximately 150 business marketing students each semester. The purpose of the Study Guide exercise is to introduce students to basic business reference sources. The sources included in the exercises are:

1. Newspaper and magazine indexes
   - Business Periodicals Index
   - New York Times Index

2. Statistical resources
   - Survey of Buying Power Data Service
   - American Statistical Index

3. Industry specific resources
   - Annual Statement Studies
   - Standard and Poors Industry Survey

4. Directories
   - Million Dollar Directory
   - Billion Dollar Directory

5. Financial resources
   - Moody's Manuals

Descriptive abstracts of each resource are included in the guide. Several questions are provided for each resource with accompanying answer keys. Five versions of the questions and five answer keys are provided to accommodate large classes. A bibliography, referenced in the guide, is appended.
PURPOSE: To introduce you to types of reference sources available in the business area. (Basic library skills are assumed).

In addition to the sources needed to complete the accompanying worksheet, other useful sources are listed on the guide "Business Information" available from the Library Learning Center.

Through this unit, you will have hands-on experience with the following sources which are important in business research:

NEWSPAPER AND MAGAZINE INDEXES
- Business Periodicals Index (Index tables and shelves)
- New York Times Index (Index tables and shelves)
- Periodicals and Newspaper Holding Record (PNHR) (Microfiche Stations)

STATISTICS
- Survey of Buying Power Data Service (REF HF 5415.2 .S94x)

- Billion Dollar Directory (REF HC 102 .D81x)

FINANCIAL INFORMATION
- Moody's Manuals (REF HG 4961 .M--)

Brief explanations for each source are provided on the following pages. For more detailed information concerning the sources used here, check the explanation notes at the beginning of the volumes.
1. Business Periodicals Index
   A subject index to business periodicals. It is published monthly (except August), with a bound annual cumulation.

2. New York Times Index
   Provides information on business events and trends as well as information about individual companies. A summary is given for each article. Articles are arranged alphabetically by subject. Published semi-monthly with quarterly and annual cumulations.

3. Periodical and Newspaper Holding Record - PNHR
   An alphabetical listing by title of the journals, magazines, and newspapers found in this library. It gives information on the dates, volumes, and format (paper, microfilm or microfiche) of each title. This microfiche list (PNHR) can be found at various fiche stations throughout the library. The first 3 fiche contain the alphabetical list by title and the last fiche is a subject guide to our periodicals. All paper and microfilm periodicals are shelved on the second floor alphabetically by title; those issues on microfiche are in cabinets at the east end of that floor.

4. Survey of Buying Power Data Service
   An annual service which is a spin-off of the July statistical issue of Sales & Marketing Management magazine. It is arranged in 3 sections. The first section covers population characteristics, effective buying income, total retail store sales, and various buying power indexes by county and city. The second section includes retail sales by individual store groups and merchandise line categories for the current year and for the 1977 census. The third section contains TV market data, plus metro and county area projections for population, effective buying income and retail stores.
5. American Statistics Index (ASI)

A guide to statistical publications by the U.S. government. It indexes, abstracts and provides the actual documents. It is published monthly and cumulated annually into an index volume and an abstract volume.

Contains composite financial data on manufacturing, wholesaling, retailing, service and contracting lines of business. Financial statements on each industry are shown and are accompanied by widely used ratios. Explanations of the balance sheet and income data, and definitions of ratios information appear at the front of the Statement Studies.

7. Standard & Poor’s Industry Survey

Provides basic data on 69 important industries with ten-year financial comparisons of the leading companies in each. A "Basic Analysis" section for each industry is revised annually and a “Current Analysis” section is published quarterly. There are subject and company-name indexes to the surveys at the front of the volumes. Published quarterly and annually.

8. Million Dollar Directory

A 3-volume directory of U.S. businesses with an indicated net worth of over $500,000. The volumes are divided by net worth. Besides industrial concerns, the directory lists utilities, transportation companies, bank/trust companies, wholesalers/retailers and domestic subsidiaries of foreign corporations. The listings appear alphabetically, geographically, and by product classification.
9. America's Corporate Families/Billion Dollar Directory

Directory of 500 major U.S. ultimate parent companies with one billion dollars or more in annual sales. Criteria for parent company inclusion:

1) Annual sales of $50 million or more.
2) Conduct business from 10 or more locations.
3) Net worth of at least $500,000.
4) Controlling interest in one or more subsidiary companies.

Listings appear alphabetically, geographically, and by product (SIC) classification with a roster of corporate families.

10. Moody's Manuals

These manuals cover U.S., Canadian and foreign companies listed on U.S. stock exchanges. Information includes a brief history of each company and its operations, subsidiaries, properties, products, officers and directors. It is published annually with semi-weekly supplements. A paperback Index to all volumes is shelved near the volumes. Each volume has its own alphabetical index in front. The six manuals are:

Moody's Industrial Manual
Moody's OTC Industrial Manual
Moody's Public Utility Manual
Moody's Transportation Manual
Moody's Bank and Finance Manual
Moody's Municipal & Government Manual
