Intended for elementary, secondary, and college level teachers of Asian studies, this directory describes resources on Asia. The directory has two major sections. The first section describes "National Resources." Included are professional organizations, resource guides and bibliographies, periodicals, and film guides and sources. Resources dealing with Asia in general and with specific Asian countries are provided. The second section of the directory describes Utah resources. These include professional groups, university courses and faculty, Asian churches, and groups concerned with martial arts, Asian food supplies, and Asian imports and art. (RM)
TEACHERS' GUIDE TO RESOURCES ON ASIA
ASIAN OUTREACH, B.Y.U. combines faculty and student expertise with university resources to improve understanding and education about China, Japan and Korea. Services provided for the community include:
- curriculum development
- guest lectures
- teacher workshops
- resource center

Curriculum Development

ASIAN OUTREACH is actively involved in the development of a wide variety of written and audio-visual curriculum materials for teachers. Each teaching unit includes teacher lesson plans and reference material as well as visual aids and suggestions for classroom activities. Topics range from history and geography to art and customs. For example, young students can be introduced to Japanese art and sports through origami and sumo wrestling; older students can examine their perceptions about China through an audio-visual presentation on images of China, followed by classroom discussion. All teaching units are available for purchase from ASIAN OUTREACH.

Guest Lectures

Members of ASIAN OUTREACH are available for classroom and community presentations. Lectures, activities, movies or team-teaching experiences will be designed to meet specific needs.

Teacher Workshops

ASIAN OUTREACH offers workshops for training teachers to teach about Asia. Specific methods are demonstrated, accompanied by resource materials and information packets prepared for immediate classroom use. Lectures, films, exhibits and active participation supplement the workshop experience. In addition, teachers may receive university credit for participation. Contact ASIAN OUTREACH for specific dates and program details.

ASIAN OUTREACH B.Y.U. combines faculty and student expertise with university resources to improve understanding and education about China, Japan and Korea. Services provided for the community include:
- curriculum development
- guest lectures
- teacher workshops
- resource center

Curriculum Development

ASIAN OUTREACH is actively involved in the development of a wide variety of written and audio-visual curriculum materials for teachers. Each teaching unit includes teacher lesson plans and reference material as well as visual aids and suggestions for classroom activities. Topics range from history and geography to art and customs. For example, young students can be introduced to Japanese art and sports through origami and sumo wrestling; older students can examine their perceptions about China through an audio-visual presentation on images of China, followed by classroom discussion. All teaching units are available for purchase from ASIAN OUTREACH.

Guest Lectures

Members of ASIAN OUTREACH are available for classroom and community presentations. Lectures, activities, movies or team-teaching experiences will be designed to meet specific needs.

Teacher Workshops

ASIAN OUTREACH offers workshops for training teachers to teach about Asia. Specific methods are demonstrated, accompanied by resource materials and information packets prepared for immediate classroom use. Lectures, films, exhibits and active participation supplement the workshop experience.

In addition, teachers may receive university credit for participation. Contact ASIAN OUTREACH for specific dates and program details.
Resource Center

The Asian Outreach Resource Center contains a collection of teaching units, resource books, visual aids, posters and audio-visual materials compiled from throughout the United States. Artifacts representative of traditional as well as contemporary lifestyles have been assembled into travel kits. All resources are available on loan for use in the classroom. A catalog of books and other materials may be obtained by writing to Asian Outreach.
The Center for International and Area Studies was organized in 1978 as an academic unit embracing faculty, students, courses and activities throughout the university. The major goals of the Center are:

1) to provide an interdisciplinary education to prepare students for international and domestic careers in politics, foreign service, education, the arts, and other professions.
2) to provide international services to BYU programs and the community they support.
3) to provide a greater awareness and understanding of the world to the university and its supporting communities.

Support services in the Center include:

-Research and Resource Services
-Publications Services

Research and Resources Services

V. Lynn Tyler, Coordinator

In addition to the structured academic curricula in international and area studies, students may draw upon the vast and expanding supplemental services available at the Center. A Materials Resource Center houses over twelve hundred books, two thousand articles, 100 periodicals, and an extensive country-specific Christian Science Monitor clip file, all for student and faculty research use.

Expanded information and potential contacts on vital texts, people, organizations, and systems within and beyond the university are available on an individual advising basis.

Research resources appropriate to specific topics and projects can be made available on an individual basis.
Publication Services

Deborah L. Coon, Manager
Box 61 FOB
(801) 378-6528

A variety of the Center's publications are used by educational institutions, international business organizations, libraries, and individuals. They are used extensively in research and training, both by students and skilled professionals.

All of the publications have a basic theme of better understanding the world and its people.

Resource Materials

The following publications were developed by the BYU Language Research Center and are now distributed through the Center:

Culturgrams: four page pamphlets that teach about the customs, manners, and lifestyles found within 75 cultures including:

Organizations
* ASIAN ASSOCIATION OF UTAH

40 E. 13th S.
Salt Lake City, UT 84115
(801) 484-5402

This non-profit organization was started in 1977 to serve the needs of Asians living in Utah. The Asian Association has three working objectives: 1) Helping families who have just arrived in the Utah area to gain independence through adequate employment, 2) Helping state organizations and school districts work with Asian students, and 3) Introducing the Utah community to Asian culture through activities such as the annual Asian Festival at the Salt Palace. (The Asian Festival is comprised of performances, art displays, movies, and other entertainment.)

* CHINESE FOR COMMUNITY ACTION

C/o W.W. Louie
540 E. 200 S.
Salt Lake City, UT 84102
(801) 363-7775

CCA publishes a monthly newsletter that indicates cultural programs and lectures that educators may find useful. They lack funding and have no formal community education program, but they have indicated that they have individuals who would be glad to help teachers with curriculum or visit as guest lecturers. Contact Mr. W.W. Louie for assistance.

* JAPANESE AMERICAN CITIZENS LEAGUE

Salt Lake Chapter
P.O. Box 217
Salt Lake City, UT 84101
(801) 395-2902

The JACL presently entails nine organizations including the Asian Organization which functions to assist Asians in general, and refugees in particular, in their new environment. Speakers on such topics as the Refugees, Japanese History, Korea, and Asians in Utah may be arranged for in advance for only the cost of transportation.
Japanese Services is a business offering translation, interpreting, and languages services for business and others involved in correspondence or personal contact with Japanese organizations or individuals.
