The document presents information on networks, organizations, and resources related to personnel development in vocational special education. The listings were identified in a survey of all 50 states and U.S. territories which provided information on regional resource centers, consortiums, instructional materials centers, business/industry training programs, association/organization information networks, computer networks, research and development centers, personnel preparation training projects, and other networks/organizations. Resources are listed alphabetically by state, with each entry providing the following information: name, address, scope (state, regional or national), and assistance provided. (CL)

Purpose of the Resource Directory

A major objective of the National Network for Professional Development in Vocational Special Education is to disseminate innovative personnel development activities and resources that can be used by a wide array of professionals. In the spring of 1984, the National Network staff of the Office for Career Development for Special Populations at the University of Illinois, mailed a Networking Needs Survey to all 50 states and U.S. Territories. The purpose of the survey was to identify problems, needs, and interests related to enhancing personnel development networking activities with the ultimate goal of expanding and improving personnel development programs. One section of the survey asked respondents to identify the kinds of networks or organizations that they have used and are currently using. The information that was requested included: name, address, scope of network (state, regional, national) and the type of assistance or services that they provide. The kinds of networks that were identified in the survey included:

- Regional Resource Centers (funded by OSERS)
- Consortiums
- Instructional Materials Centers
- Business/Industry Training Programs
- Association/Organization Information Networks
- Computer Networks
- Research and Development Centers (e.g., ERIC Clearinghouses)
- Personnel Preparation Training Projects
- Other Networks/Organizations

This document is a compilation of those networks, organizations, and resources that the survey respondents identified. The National Network staff organized, compiled and edited the responses to eliminate duplication, and provide the reader with a listing of complete information for easy access.

The networks listed are not exhaustive. It is the National Network staff's intent, however, that this directory be viewed as an initial effort to document resources and activities that can be used immediately and updated as personnel development professionals become aware of other networks.

Organization of the Resource Directory

This resource directory is organized alphabetically by state. The resources in each state are identified by major headings: Regional Resource Centers, Consortiums, Instructional Materials Centers, Business/Industry Training Programs, Association/Organization Information Networks, Computer Networks, Research and Development Centers, Personnel Preparation Training Projects and Other Networks/Organizations. Each of the resources are described using the following information: (a) name of the resource or individual, (b) address, (c) scope of the network (state, regional, national).
and (d) assistance or service provided. The available information received was edited to provide the reader with as complete and accurate information as was possible. Readers are encouraged to contact the resources listed to obtain additional information that may pertain to their specific interests or needs.

There are many resources that provide assistance and services on a regional and/or national basis. A separate section by region or national scope is not included in this directory. The regional and national networks are identified within the state in which the organization or business addresses are given. It would be beneficial to the user to examine the various state networks/resources and note the regional and national resources that would be most useful.

Every network, organization, or resource in each state is certainly not identified in this resource directory. For the user's convenience, however, there are blank pages in the appendix that can be used to add new listings and/or update the networks/resources that are included in this directory.
