California's Education Transition Center has developed a network of exemplary collaborative transition programs which agree to provide site visitors with information about school, community, and private programs that can improve school-to-adult-life transition services for "at risk" students. This document contains guidelines prepared to assist model visitation sites to: identify and evaluate exemplary programs within their school district's boundaries; set up local visitation networks; coordinate the visitation process; and conduct follow-up assessments of their visitors' plans and actions for implementing changes or improvements in their service areas. A flow chart of major activities outlines the steps involved in establishing a model visitation site. Steps in the flow chart include such activities as assembling an advisory board to examine exemplary programs; screening sites; developing materials to disseminate information about the programs; and visitation screening, planning, and recordkeeping. A total of 33 attachments provide instructions, sample letters, sample questionnaires, action plans, and other guidance for each step's implementation. (JDD)

FORWARD

The California State Department of Education's Education Transition Center is setting up a statewide network of visitation sites for demonstration of collaborative transition. The major objective of this program is the improvement of transition services in the State of California.

"Transition" is defined as the purposeful, organized and outcome oriented process designed to help "at risk" students move from school to employment and a quality adult life. "At risk" students are those who experience barriers to successful completion of school, including individuals with exceptional needs.

Within the State of California there are many innovative and exemplary programs with high rates of successfully transitioning "at risk" students. Through the visitation network, interested parties and agencies can acquaint themselves with the facts, issues, problems and techniques involved in effective, comprehensive, interagency collaborative transition.

A model visitation site is a network of exemplary programs located within a school district's boundaries who agree to showcase their program in the local visitation network and to maintain their standards of excellence. In addition to the programs operated by the school district, the local network should include exemplary programs operated by Local Education Agencies (LEA's), Community Based Organizations (CBO's), Institutes, Private Agencies, and any employer organization or party demonstrating successful transition practices.
The model visitation site provides the visitor with insights into transition. The visitor will not only see exemplary programs in operation, but will have an opportunity to learn about how the program was developed, the barriers encountered, the strategies used to overcome those barriers and how to resolve challenges associated with the continued operation and growth of the program.

The visitor will learn about developing a framework for delivery of services K-12; securing administrative support; conducting a needs assessment; quality indicators; transition planning, interagency coordination and communication, follow-up and program evaluation. With the knowledge gained, visitors will be able to strengthen and coordinate education, training and related services to enhance the transition process within their agencies or districts.

To encourage visitors to make changes and improvements in their programs, the Education Transition Center offers partial reimbursement of visitation expenses to visitors who agree to participate in the follow-up process. (Details are presented in Step IX.)

These guidelines have been prepared to assist the model visitation site in setting-up the local visitation network; identifying and evaluating exemplary programs; coordinating the visitation process; and conducting follow-up assessments of their visitors' plans and actions for implementing changes or improvements in their service areas. The guidelines are organized in a step-by-step format with supporting attachments. All of the attachments presented are examples and should be revised as needed. An alphabetical list of the attachments is provided to aid in locating sample forms.

Dear [Name]:

The State of California Department of Education is currently developing a statewide network of model sites for demonstration of collaborative transition. The Richmond Unified School District has been selected to participate in this model sites program.

The District's Advisory Board for Transitional Programs has established the criteria for inclusion in the network. Using this criteria, the RUSD Special Services Division is in the process of selecting exemplary programs within its boundaries for inclusion in this local network of visitation sites. We invite your agency/program to apply to be included in the visitation network. The visitations will be set up so as to minimize the amount and degree of disruption.

If your program is selected, you will need to:

1. Develop written materials on your program;
2. Make your program available for visitations on preselected dates and times;
3. Be flexible with time during the visitation date;
4. Maintain and expand the degree of program excellence that has been the criteria for selecting your program; and
5. Be willing to showcase your program.

Please complete the enclosed forms and return them to me at Special Services by June 30, 1987. If your project meets the criteria for inclusion in the visitation network, I will be in touch with you to arrange a visit to your program. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call me at 724-5940.

Sincerely,

Devi Jameson

Dear [Name],

We regret to inform you that your program/site was not selected to be part of the Network of Visitation Sites Demonstrating Successful Collaborative Transition. Your program can be categorized under "Promising Practices". However, for the following reasons we were unable to select it for this year.

Since your program has only been in existence for one year it does not meet the criteria of a minimum of three years duration. The data you have collected thus far is impressive but insufficient.

We look forward to re-considering your participation in the visitation network in the future. Thank you for your interest.

STEP V: DEVELOP AN AUDIO-VISUAL PRESENTATION ABOUT THE VISITATION NETWORK

A. Locate a person or company with experience to bid on the production of the audiovisual presentation. Ask to see samples of their work.

Note: The production will require the Project Director to provide an overview or a content outline with suggested visuals for the A-V Producer to develop a first draft A-V script.

Caution: Be careful to keep the product as free from "outdating" as possible.

See Attachment V-1.

B. In coordination with the chosen A-V producer, develop a time schedule for production.

See Attachment V-2.

C. Send out and collect waivers from all participants in programs/sites to be photographed, both students and adults. All of the participants may not actually be photographed, but there needs to be a sufficient number of participants with signed consents to take the shot planned in the script.

See Attachments V-3A and V-3B.

D. Arrange a "shooting schedule" with each program/site that is to be photographed. Advise that the photographic session may be somewhat disruptive to the regular activities taking place. Send program operator a copy of the "shooting schedule".

See Attachment V-4.

PROJECT TITLE: "SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION"

CLIENT: RICHMOND UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

A-V Communications Company (AVC) will be retained to produce an audiovisual presentation about the Richmond Unified School District's transition continuum and collaborative transition process. The presentation will be produced in both a videotape format and a sound/slide format and thus be a flexible tool for presentations to both small and large groups. The videotape may also be mailed to potential visitors prior to their visit to aid the visitor in selecting sites for visitation.

The A-V program will be moderately paced and approximately seven minutes in length. A three-projector format designed for video mastering will be employed to maximize the visual appeal of the presentation as well as the amount of visual information presented.

After the videotape mastering, the program will be re-assembled in a single projector format for automatic slide/sound operation. The slides can also be used for speaker support without the soundtrack.

METHODOLOGY:

SCRIPT: Client and AVC will confer on the overall design of the presentation. Client will provide background information and a content outline as needed. Based on this information, AVC will prepare a "first draft" audiovisual script detailing the narrative and accompanying visual sequences.

Client and AVC will review the "First Draft" script and determine needed revisions. AVC will then revise the script to "Production Draft" which will be used to produce the visual sequences.

During the Production of Photography phase the "Production Draft" script may be revised as needed with verbal approval of the Client representative. Near completion of the Photography, AVC will prepare a "Revised Production Draft" script. Client and AVC will review the visuals and script and determine any necessary revisions to the visuals and narrative.

AVC will then prepare the "Recording Draft" script and submit for client review and approval. Once the narration has been recorded, any revisions will incur additional costs not included in this budget.

METHODOLOGY, continued

VISUALS: Upon approval of the "Production Draft" script AVC will proceed with the production of the visual sequences to script specifications.

1. AVC and Client will review existing slides from Client's archives to determine which visuals are appropriate for inclusion in the presentation. AVC will duplicate selected visuals as needed.

2. AVC will prepare a shot list and provide on-location 35mm slide photography as required. The Client representative will make arrangements for shooting locations, dates and times as needed.

3. AVC will provide all technical photographic services to produce copy slides, title slides, split frame slides, computer generated graphic slides and animated sequences as required.

All master slides will be mounted in Wessex glass pin-registered slide mounts to protect against slide damage and maintain critical focus and registration. The visuals will be assembled and sequenced, for client review and approval.

AUDIO: After approval of the "Recording Draft" script, AVC will produce the master soundtrack. All master recordings will be produced at 7 1/2 i.p.s. on 1/4 inch audiotape.

Client and AVC will confer on the selection of a narrator. AVC will manage the recording and editing of the narration as it appears in the approved "Recording Draft" script. AVC will conduct a music search using licenced music libraries. Client will have final approval of the music selections.

After approval of the edited narrative and selected music tracks, AVC will produce a mixed master soundtrack and program the completed soundtrack for synchronized multi-projector operation.

VIDEO: After approval of the completed audiovisual presentation, AVC will manage the mastering of the presentation on to one 3/4 inch U-matic format and one VHS format videotapes. From the master 3/4 inch tape, copies can be made in all desired formats (3/4 inch U-matic and 1/2 inch VHS/BETA).

SINGLE PROJECTOR After completion of the video mastering, the master slides will be assembled for single projector operation. The soundtrack will be dubbed to cassette and programmed for synchronized operation using the standard 1000 Hz advance tone.

The RUSD is part of the statewide WorkAbility 2-year follow-up study, conducted by the State Department of Education of graduated students who were enrolled in WorkAbility since 1984.

The RUSD is presently conducting a study to provide documentation over a 3-year period, of the influence of vocational evaluation on the subsequent career progress of special education students.

The RUSD is presently conducting a study to provide documentation over a 3-year period, of the influence of supported employment on the subsequent retention of special education students on jobs.

These studies and others to come, help to evaluate, refine and develop increasingly effective programs resulting in high rates of successful transition.

STEP VIII: ORGANIZE RELEASE OF PROGRAM/SITE PERSONNEL FOR VISITATION ACTIVITIES

A. Review "Suggested Methods of Release of Site Personnel".
   See Attachment VIII-1.

B. Survey each program/site to determine the best method of releasing personnel for their program.
   See Attachment VIII-2.

C. Send each program/site administrator a copy of "Points For A Site Administrator to Remember When Hosting Visitors".
   See Attachment VIII-3.
NETWORK OF VISITATION SITES
DEMONSTRATING SUCCESSFUL COLLABORATIVE TRANSITION

SUGGESTED METHODS OF RELEASE OF SITE PERSONNEL

The following are suggested methods for release of site personnel.

NO COST METHOD

- Schedule observation session just prior to, or soon after a conference or break period. If scheduled just prior to conference or break, visitors can observe then confer with direct service personnel during the break period. Alternately the visitor can confer with personnel and then observe.

- If planned well, direct service personnel can arrange to have assistants or co-workers take over program in order to accommodate visitors.

- Use trained volunteers within the system to conduct tours.

- When appropriate, train clients/students to give tour and explain program.

COST METHOD

- Hire substitute personnel to take over program for half the day, or for a designated period of time. (Cost of individuals paid hourly.)

- Pay personnel additional time after scheduled working hours or during lunch to engage in visitation activities (interviews, etc.).
September 3, 1987

Dear _______________________

We are in the process of developing a visitation schedule for each program/site in the network. Please discuss with your staff the best method for accommodating visitors at your site.

Your recommendations for the visitation format at your site should include release time for project personnel to conduct tours and discuss the program with visitors. Both direct service personnel and the administrator should be available for interviews.

Enclosed is a sheet with suggestions for methods of releasing personnel for these activities. Also enclosed is a list of points for the site administrator to remember.

We need to know the following:

- Names and phone numbers of personnel who will be assisting in the visitation.
- For each person listed, specify best time of day for visitation activities.

Please respond in writing by September 15, 1987. If you have any questions or if I can be of any assistance, please call me at 724-5948.

Sincerely,

Devi Jameson

Points for a Site Administrator to Remember

When Hosting Visitors

- Set up visitation dates/times suitable for your site.
- Assign certain days/times of week for visitation and do not vary.
- Organize in advance your staff to be available with the least amount of program disruption.
- Send memos to your staff informing them of the pending visitation.
- Remind them again on the visitation day.
- Arrange your schedule, or that of the person responsible for the tour, to accommodate the visit without interruptions or other conflicts.
- Review the visitors' responses to the pre-visititation questionnaire (supplied by Network Coordinator) to determine ahead of time the nature of the tour and the topic/s of interest.
- Stay on task. Stick to the schedule.
- Do not digress from the topic of interest. Make sure the information you are providing is the information the visitor is seeking to gather. Be cautious not to dwell on topics that are of particular interest to you.
- Prepare the packets of handouts ahead of time.
- Allow plenty of time for questions and answers.
- Keep a record on file of all visitors.
- Add the names of these visitors to your mailing list.
- Keep a file on all those to whom you have mailed information about your program.
STEP IX: VISITATION SCREENING, PLANNING AND RECORD KEEPING

A. Maintain a "Screening Log" of all phone calls and requests for visitation. See Attachment IX-1.

B. Send the potential visitors a pre-visitation packet including:
   1. a cover letter;
   2. a copy of State guidelines and requirements for partial reimbursement of visitation expenses - See Attachment IX-2;
   3. a pre-visitation questionnaire - see Attachment IX-3.

C. Review returned questionnaire:
   1. Determine if potential visitors comply with state guidelines and requirements.
   2. Determine nature of visit and site(s) appropriate for visitation.

D. Prepare visitation schedule for visitors. Schedule site visits with appropriate site administrators or designated persons. Send each site administrator or designated person a copy of the visitation schedule. See Attachment IX-4.

E. Send visitors a visitation confirmation packet including:
   1. a confirming cover letter;
   2. a copy of their visitation schedule - see Attachment IX-4;
   3. a copy of "Points for a Visitor to Remember" - see Attachment IX-5.

F. If visitors have not confirmed their visitation within a week before the scheduled visit, call the visitor to confirm the visitation schedule.

G. At the end of the visitation day, have the visitors complete:
   1. the Post-Visitation Questionnaire - see Attachment IX-6;
   2. the Post-Visitation Plan of Action - see Attachment IX-7.
   If possible, make a photocopy of the responses for the visitors to take back with them.

I. Review the follow-up process with the visitors and set a date for the 3 month follow-up. See details in Step X.

Guidelines for Partial Reimbursement of Visitation Expenses

The plan for visitation should employ a "Memo Of Understanding" from the Education Transition Center to the demonstration site. The demonstration site will reimburse visitors. Thus no direct reimbursement of visitors will be handled by the Education Transition Center.

Requirements for reimbursement of 50% of visitation costs as follows:

1. The visiting agency must send at least two persons:
   - a project administrator and
   - a project implementor.

2. The visiting agency must make a commitment to improve, enhance and implement changes in their program.

3. The visiting agency must agree to the follow-up process detailed in Step X.

- Prepare ahead of time a set of questions to ask.
- Take a tape recorder or writing pad with you for the visit. Record on tape or in writing as much information as possible. (Upon return to your own site, it is difficult to recall details of responses.)
- Write down names, telephone numbers and positions of key individuals on the site, in case you need to ask for more information.
- Upon arrival and after introductions, restate your purpose in visiting, your time schedule and clarify the schedule of your host.
- Listen attentively and keep to the point in all discussions. If the conversation should digress, return politely to the topic that is relevant to your situation.
- Be brief when talking about your program.
- Request handouts and descriptions of programs.
- Ask to be put on a mailing list, if there is one.
- Always send a follow-up thank you letter.
