Developed to assist parents and students in finding sources of postsecondary financial aid, this annotated listing provides a brief summary of the basic information about a selected list of financial aid sources designed primarily for minority groups and women, or available to all students. The listings provide names and addresses, background information, and information on qualifications and requirements, award amounts, and applications. Listings are grouped into the following sections: (1) sources of general information for all levels (various publications, including addresses and prices); (2) general, multiple, and non-specified undergraduate opportunities; (3) undergraduate opportunities by academic area (architecture, arts, business/management, education, engineering, graphic arts/printing, health/medical, journalism, military, and science); (4) sources of general, multiple, and non-specified graduate opportunities; (5) graduate opportunities by academic areas (arts/humanities, business/management, education, engineering/sciences, health/medical/dental/nursing, international, law, political science/public administration, religion/theology, and social/behavioral science/social work); and (6) postdoctoral opportunities.

Higher Education Opportunities for Minorities and Women Annotated Selections (formerly, Selected List of Postsecondary Education Opportunities for Minorities and Women) was developed to assist parents and students in their search for sources of postsecondary financial aid opportunities. This 1988 edition updates information and includes additional listings. This publication is not a definitive compilation of all special opportunities available for minorities and women. Rather it contains a selected list of opportunities available to those minorities and women who diligently wish to pursue higher education and career goals.

Although designed primarily for minorities and women, many of the listed opportunities are for all students. In some instances, information is provided on loans, scholarships, and fellowships. Also, included is general information on how and where to seek assistance to prepare oneself to pursue education and career goals. The publication is divided into six major sections. The sources of information are arranged alphabetically under each major heading and/or subject area.

After selections are made, materials may be ordered from the address listed with each entry. Unless otherwise indicated, all orders must be prepaid. The cost cited may or may not include shipping and handling charges. Items are identified which have quantity discounts. Prices are subject to change without notice.

Listed below are general rules to follow when seeking financial aid:

1. Allow at least a year before anticipated attendance at a school of higher learning to seek financial aid.

2. Explore all the possibilities—Federal, State, private sources.

3. Don't expect special exceptions to be made if you don't adhere to the rules and regulations in filing for various types of aid, such as honoring deadlines and filling out forms legibly and correctly.

Special appreciation is extended to those public and nonpublic agencies which furnished much of the information presented in this publication. Appreciation is also extended to Mrs. Linda Byrd-Johnson who compiled prior editions of this publication under the supervision of Mrs. Carol Joy Smith, to Dr. Reginald Pearman who initiated the compilation of the 1984 edition, prior to the assumption of this responsibility by Dr. William C. Young. Special appreciation is also extended to Collie Booker, Sherrita Gary, Sandra Hunter, and Joyce Thomas who typed drafts of this document.

We hope that the information herein will encourage and enable more minorities and women to achieve the limits of their abilities, aspirations and goals.

HOW TO USE THIS PUBLICATION

This publication presents information regarding higher education opportunities for minorities and women and is organized to go essentially from general to specific information. Further, all information and opportunities are sequenced in alphabetical order of the title or description of the listing, of course, after disregarding the articles a, an, and the.

Section I contains general information about books, brochures, lists, and various kinds of publications describing a variety of higher education opportunities many of which solicit, give preference to, and/or advertise that they are open to and welcome women and minority applicants. These listings are being made available to applicants along with available prices and addresses where interested individuals may obtain further information. It should be pointed out, however, that many of these publications can possibly be found and used in public, college or high school libraries or obtained from guidance counselors or other student personnel and financial aid workers.

Section II lists general undergraduate opportunities that do not specify an academic area or that are open to more than one (multiple) academic area. These two sections are followed by undergraduate opportunities listed by academic area and is styled Section III.

Graduate opportunities begin with Section IV which includes general graduate opportunities that either do not specify academic areas or apply to multiple academic areas. Section V includes graduate opportunities listed by academic areas. The publication closes with Section VI which, because of the limited number of entries, lists all postdoctoral opportunities in alphabetical order without regard to separation by academic areas.

In a few cases throughout the publication the opportunities are specifically applicable to more than one level of study and to more than one academic area. In these few cases the information about them is listed more than once; i.e., duplicated under each appropriate heading to facilitate easy location by users of this document.

Finally, presumably all opportunities are open to minority individuals and women, but some providers highlight their search for, their welcome to and/or their preference for representatives of one or more of these various groups. This publication, again to simply facilitate easy location, uses the following symbols to identify the aid provider's emphasis on women or on a particular minority group.

Below are the symbols which identify the different groups.

Minority *
Women **
Black Americans #
Hispanic Americans ##
Asian and Pacific Americans ###
Native Americans, Indians, Aleuts, Eskimos, Alaska Natives ####

DEDICATION

Consistent with this enactment and the dream of Dr. King, "...that a full measure of freedom be bestowed upon minorities and women in this country and oppressed people everywhere," this 1989 edition of "Higher Education Opportunities for Minorities and Women" is hereby dedicated to his honor.

So, in honor of Martin L. King, Jr.'s life and work, let us pledge to do everything that we can to make America and the world a place where equality and justice, freedom and peace will grow and flourish. Let us commit ourselves to living the dream by:

Loving, not hating,
Showing understanding, not anger,
Making peace, not war.

Putting aside differences,
Of race, religion, class or station, and
Joining in a spirit of togetherness.

Ridding our communities of the Barriers which separate us,
And coming together as one.

Ceasing all violent actions
By Nations, if only for one day.
Seeking nonviolent solutions and Demonstrating that
Peace is not just a dream,
But a real possibility.

By doing these things, each of us becomes "A Drum Major for Justice and Peace."

Adapted by Dr. William C. Young from "Living the Dream," Martin Luther King, Jr. Federal Holiday Commission, 1984, Washington, D.C.

It has information on over $2 billion in scholarships, fellowships, loans, and part-time jobs, as well as on state laws offering educational benefits.

This "encyclopedia of careers" is published every 2 years. The latest edition covers job outlook to 1995; earnings, training, and other data have been extensively revised. A new section presents a statistical summary for approximately 200 occupations not covered elsewhere in the Handbook.

Paper - $22.00 029-001-02942-0

This publication is designed to help adult learners obtain financial aid for which they may be eligible. Containing complete and up-to-date national information, Paying for Your Education shows how to discover possible sources of aid, organize a successful campaign to obtain it, and compare the several ways to help cut the cost and time required to complete a program. It answers seven most frequently asked questions about financial aid and discusses five Federal student aid programs (as well as other State, institutional, and local funding sources).

It also describes specialized programs designed for 14 types of adult learners; e.g., women returning to college, students who are unemployed or with low incomes, and those seeking to enter the nursing or health professions. In addition, it includes a financial aid checklist, calendar of important deadlines, listing of other sources of information and glossary of terms.

SCHOLARSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS AND LOANS, NEWS SERVICE AND COUNSELORS INFORMATION SERVICES. Bellman Publishing Company, P.O. Box 34937, Bethesda, Maryland 20817. Annual subscription $35.

This quarterly report has information on new funds and foundations, scholarships, fellowships, loans, work-study opportunities, grants, and research. Editorials with practical suggestions on topics related to educational problems of the day appear in most issues. Annotated references for recommended student aid publications appear in most issues. Readers' Resources by S. Norman Feingold is a new section. Published in January/February, March/April, May/June, November/December.

SCHOLARSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS, AND LOANS, VOLUMES VII AND VIII, S. Norman Feingold and Marie Feingold, Bellman Publishing Co., P.O. Box 34937, Bethesda, Maryland 20817. Volume VII, $75 per copy; Volume VIII, $80.

Scholarships, Fellowships, and Loans, Volume VIII is a revision of Volume VI plus new information that has become available since Volume VII was published.

Both Volumes VII and VIII should be used together. The information in Volume VIII does not duplicate that in Volume VII.

SCHOLASTIC WRITING AWARDS. Scholastic Writing Awards, Scholastic, Inc., 730 Broadway, New York, New York 10003.

Scholarships are offered to U.S. high school seniors under 20 years of age who have a demonstrated ability to write short stories, poetry, essays, humor, script for radio, T.V., film, or one-act plays not exceeding 30 minutes.

Awards range from $10 to $1,000 and the deadline for receipt of application is January of each year.
Speech-language pathologists and audiologists have long been a successful part of the health, education and rehabilitation efforts for people with communication disorders; i.e., impairments of speech, language, voice and hearing. These professionals work in schools, hospitals, health centers, university clinics, community centers and private practice. Most provide direct clinical services; others work in teaching, clinical supervision, administration and research positions.

The booklet, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology: Career Information for Minority Students describes the communicative disorders profession and is a valuable resource for identifying university programs that have active minority recruitment efforts and financial aid.

The U.S. Department of Education offers five major student financial aid programs.

- Pell Grants
- Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG)
- College Work-Study (CWS)
- Perkins Loan, formerly National Direct Student Loans (NDSL)
- Guaranteed Student Loans (GSL)/PLUS Loans/Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS)

Grants are awards that you do not have to pay back.

Work-Study gives you the chance to work and earn the money you need.

Loans are borrowed money that you must repay with interest.

Undergraduates may receive aid from all three types of programs. Graduate students may apply for loans or Work-Study, but not for grants.

Not all schools take part in all the programs. To find out which ones are available at a school, contact the school's financial aid office.

The deadlines for the 1989-1990 school year is May 1, 1989. Your Federal student aid application, your information from any of the non-Federal forms, your Special Condition Application must be received at the Federal processing center by this date. But don't wait for this deadline--the earlier you apply, the better.

June 30, 1989—or your last day of enrollment in 1988-1989, whichever comes first, is the deadline for submitting your Student Aid Report (SAR) to your school's financial aid office. However, you should turn in your SAR as soon as possible.
Pell Grants

What is a Pell Grant?

Pell Grants are awards to help undergraduates pay for their education after high school. For many students, these grants provide a “foundation” of financial aid to which aid from other Federal and non-Federal sources may be added. Unlike loans, grants do not have to be paid back.

How do I qualify?

The Department of Education uses a standard formula, passed into law by Congress, to evaluate the information you report when you apply for a Pell Grant. The formula produces a Student Aid Index number. Your Student Aid Report contains this number and will tell you whether you are eligible for a Pell Grant. The formula used to determine your Student Aid Index is too long to be included here. However, you can get a booklet that describes the formula in detail by writing to Formula Book, Department K-9, Pueblo, Colorado 81009-0015.

How much can I get?

Awards will depend on program funding. However, how much you actually receive will depend on your Student Aid Index number, the cost of education at your school, whether you are a full-time or part-time student.

Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants (SEOG)

What is an SEOG?

A Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG) is an award to help you pay for your education after high school. It is for undergraduate students with exceptional financial need, and it does not have to be paid back.

When should I apply?

Different schools set different deadlines. They are usually early in each calendar year, so apply as soon as possible. Find out what the deadlines are by checking with the financial aid administrator at your school.

College Work-Study

What is College Work-Study?

The College Work-Study (CWS) Program provides jobs for undergraduate and graduate students who need financial aid. CWS gives you a chance to earn money to help pay your educational expenses.
How much can I make?

Your pay will be at least the current Federal minimum wage, but it may also be related to the type of work you do and its difficulty. Your total CWS award depends on your need, the amount of money your school has for this program, and the amount of aid you get from other programs.

When do I apply?

Each school has its own deadlines. However, they are usually early in each calendar year, so apply as soon as possible. Find out what the deadlines are by checking with the financial aid administrator at your school.

Perkins Loans (formerly National Direct Student Loans)

What is a Perkins Loan?

A Perkins Loan is a low-interest loan to help you pay for your education after high school. These loans are for both undergraduate and graduate students and are made through a school's financial aid office. Check with your financial aid administrator to find out if your school takes part in the Perkins Loan program.

How much can I get?

Depending on your need, the availability of Perkins Loan funds at your school, and the amount of other aid you are receiving, determines the amount you will receive.

When do I apply?

Each school sets its own deadlines. They are usually early in each calendar year, so apply as soon as possible. Find out what the deadlines are by checking with the financial aid administrator at your school.

Guaranteed Student Loans

What is a GSL?

A Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL) is a low-interest loan made to you by a lender such as a bank, credit union, or savings and loan association to help you pay for your education after high school. These loans are insured by the guarantee agency in your State and reinsured by the Federal Government.

How much can I borrow?

You can't borrow more than the cost of education at your school, minus any other financial aid you receive.
How do I apply?

You can get a GSL application from a lender, a school, or from your State guarantee agency. After you fill out your part of the application, the school you plan to attend must complete its part, certifying your enrollment, your cost of education, your academic standing, any other financial aid you will receive, and your financial need.

When should I apply?

You should begin looking for a lender as soon as you are accepted by your school. After you submit your application to a lender and the lender agrees to make the loan, it usually takes 4 to 6 weeks to get your loan approved by the guarantee agency.

PLUS Loans/Supplemental Loans

What are PLUS and SLS loans?

Plus loans are for parent borrowers; SLS's are for students. Both loans provide additional funds for educational expenses and, like GSL's, are made by a lender such as a bank, credit union, or savings and loan association.

How do I apply?

The same way that you apply for a GSL. Unlike GSL borrowers, however, PLUS and SLS borrowers do not have to show need, although they may have to undergo a credit analysis.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Each year 32 American students are selected as Rhodes Scholars to attend the University of Oxford. Candidates must be U.S. citizens, unmarried, and between the ages of 18 and 23, inclusive, by October 1 of the year of application. Candidates are also required to have sufficiently advanced academic standing to complete a bachelor's degree before the end of the academic year in which an application is filed. Candidates are evaluated on merit, without regard to race or gender. Selection is based on four criteria: scholarship, character, leadership, and physical vigor. A Rhodes Scholarship entitles the recipient to a minimum of two years' study in the University of Oxford. The stipend of a Rhodes Scholarship consists of a direct payment to the Scholar's College of approved fees, plus a maintenance allowance. These combined payments in 1987 amounted to approximately 10,000 pounds. A candidate applies in the state of legal residence or in the state in which he or she has received at least two years of college training. Information is available from institutional representatives at colleges and universities across the country or from the Office of the American Secretary, Rhodes Scholarship Trust, Pomona College, Claremont, California 91711.

ROTARY FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS FOR INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING. Candidate must be sponsored by a Rotary Club in the district of his/her permanent residence or study; there are Rotary Clubs in more than 150 countries. Awards are made to promote understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations through study abroad by outstanding students, technicians, teachers, and journalists; tenable in all countries which have Rotary Clubs. Candidates must have a working knowledge in the language of the country of study.

Application is made through a Rotary Club where the candidate legally resides, or is working or studying. For further information, write to Rotary Foundation of Rotary International, 1600 Ridge Avenue, Evanston, Illinois 60201.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR CATHOLIC COLLEGES OTHER THAN THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF AMERICA.

Five scholarships will be awarded for study at the Catholic college or university of the student's choice in the United States. Students are to be entering the freshman year in a program leading to a bachelor's degree. The scholarships are competitive and selection made after a review of the secondary school record, class rank, and the results of aptitude test scores. The student also writes an autobiography which is submitted with the application. The amount of each scholarship is $1,000. It's granted for one year, is renewable each year of undergraduate study to a total of four years upon evidence of satisfactory academic performance, and is subject to the discretion of the Committee on Scholarships.

An eligible candidate shall be a member in good standing of the Knights of Columbus, or the son or daughter of such a member, or the son or daughter of a deceased member who was in good standing at the time of his death. Applications for these scholarships are obtained from the Director of Scholarship Aid, Knights of Columbus, P.O. Drawer 1670, New Haven, Connecticut 06507. The final date for filing the application for the scholarship is March 1.

Write to SEG Education Foundation, P.O. Box 702740, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74101.

SOROPTIMIST INTERNATIONAL OF THE AMERICAS, INC.: YOUTH CITIZENSHIP AWARDS.

The Youth Citizenship Awards are cash awards of $1,250 each given annually to 43 outstanding young men and women in graduating classes in both public and private high schools, or their equivalent, within the territorial limits of Soroptimist International of the Americas. One finalist is chosen from among these 43 regional/area recipients to win an additional $2,000 award. The purposes are two fold: to recognize school and community efforts and achievement and to encourage continuing high concepts of patriotism and effective cooperation in home, community, national and international affairs. The awards are given to students in their senior year of high school. The Youth Citizenship Awards are "awards of merit," rather than scholarships, and may be used at the discretion of the recipients in a manner which will best help them to meet their lifetime goals. Applicants fill out a 4-page application available from the local participating club of Soroptimist International of the Americas. To qualify, a student must have demonstrated the following during the high school years: service in home, school and community, dependability, leadership, and clear sense of purpose.

The Youth Citizenship Awards begin on the club level, with applications being distributed by participating Soroptimist clubs in 20 countries/territories. Their listing can be found in the telephone directory, Chamber of Commerce Directory, Status of Women Office, City Hall, League of Women Voters, and many other agencies. Clubs choose their own recipients, giving awards at their own discretion. Club recipients then become eligible for the regional/area award of $1,250, and out of those winners, the finalist, receiving an additional $2,000.

The official program ends on December 15 of each year. However, clubs may have their own deadlines, so it is essential that you check the application you have received from the local Soroptimist club and adhere to their deadline.
SOROPTIMIST INTERNATIONAL OF THE AMERICAS: TRAINING AWARDS.

The Training Awards are cash awards of $1,500 each given annually to 43 women within the territorial limits of Soroptimist International of the Americas. The awards are designed to aid the mature woman who, as head of a household, must enter or return to the job market or further her skills and training in order to upgrade her employment status. The official program ends on December 15 of each year. However, clubs may have their own deadlines, so it is essential that you check the application you have received from the local Soroptimist club and adhere to their deadline. Recipients are chosen on the basis of financial need as well as their statement of clear career goals, with primary consideration given to women entering vocational or technical training, or completing an undergraduate degree.

The Training Awards begin on the club level, with applications being distributed by participating Soroptimist clubs. Their listing can be found in the telephone directory, Chamber of Commerce Directory, Status of Women Office, City Hall, League of Women Voters, and many other agencies. Clubs choose their own recipients, giving awards at their own discretion. Club recipients then become eligible for the regional/area award of $1,500.

SQUIRE SCHOLARSHIPS

Two similar scholarships are available to members of the Columbian Squires. The Squire is to be entering the freshman year in a program leading to a bachelor's degree. The scholarships are competitive, and awards will be made on the basis of academic excellence. The amount of each scholarship is $1,000 and is granted for one year. The scholarship is renewable each year of undergraduate study to a total of four years upon evidence of satisfactory academic performance and subject to the discretion of the Committee on Scholarships. Recipients must be in good standing in the Columbian Squires.

One of these scholarships must be used at the Catholic University of America by a Squire who has been accepted as an entering freshman. An application form is obtained from the Director of Financial Aid, Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. 20064. The final date for filing the application for this scholarship is February 1.

The other scholarship may be used at any Catholic college or university selected by the student. An application form for this scholarship is obtained from the Director of Scholarship Aid, Knights of Columbus, P.O. Drawer 1670, New Haven, Connecticut 06507. The final date for filing the application for this scholarship is March 1.
SECTION III

UNDERGRADUATE OPPORTUNITIES BY ACADEMIC AREAS

ARCHITECTURE

Scholarships are available for students from minority and/or disadvantaged backgrounds who would not otherwise have the opportunity to enroll in professional architectural studies.

Only those students who have completed high school (or its equivalent), or those in junior college or technical school transferring to a professional program, or students who during the year of application are enrolled in their freshman year of undergraduate professional studies are eligible. Initially, candidates must be nominated by specific persons or organizations. The deadline for nominations is December 1 annually.

ARTS

Arts Recognition and Talent Search (ARTS) is an activity of the National Science Foundation for Advancement in the Arts (NFAA) to identify, recognize, and encourage young people who have demonstrated excellence in dance, music, theater, visual arts, and writing. All who enter will be eligible for scholarships. Finalists, semifinalists, and merit award recipients will also be eligible for apprenticeships and cash awards ranging from $500 to $3,000.

An important feature of ARTS is its Affirmative Action Program which is designed to encourage widespread participation by all who are eligible, regardless of race, creed, color, geographical location, economic status, physical disability, language, or sex. Through information networks, telephone consultations, and minority artists advocacy, minority and disabled youth will be assisted in participating in the ARTS program.

The program is open to high school seniors and to those who have left high school without finishing.

Those interested in applying may obtain information and registration forms from high school principals, guidance counselors, art teachers, and arts organizations in their communities or from the address in this entry.

EMILIO PUCCI SCHOLARSHIP. The American College for the Applied Arts, 5801 Peachtree Dunwoody Road, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30342. $1,000 towards tuition. To be eligible for the scholarship, applicants must be attending their senior year of high school; apply and be accepted for admission to the fashion design, interior design, or commercial art programs at the American College, London, or the American College for the Applied Arts, Atlanta and Los Angeles; and show interest in areas of creativity and potential in leadership responsibility and character.
Students are encouraged to apply during their senior year in high school through their high school guidance department.

BUSINESS/MANAGEMENT

COLLEGE OF INSURANCE has a cooperative program called the Corporate Sponsors Program, in business administration, insurance, and in actuarial mathematics. Both run on a 5-year plan of alternating trimesters (4-month terms) of work and study, the first leading to B.B.A. degree, the latter to a B.S. Each undergraduate, upon being accepted by a sponsoring organization, will return to that organization every other trimester for paid work experience. While in school, the sponsor subsidizes two-thirds of the tuition and often returns the other third in the form of two annual bonuses if the student elects to stay with the sponsoring firm upon graduation. Corporate sponsors include over 50 major life and property-liability insurance companies, brokerages, agencies, and service organizations. The co-op starts in the freshmen year, with students typically rotating through major departments of the sponsoring firm in progressive work period; total earnings over the 5 years average at least $20,000. The College is accredited by the New York State Board of Regents and the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. For further information, write to: Director of Corporate Sponsors Program, the College of Insurance, 101 Murray Street, New York, New York 10007.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BANK WOMEN. Nancy Ring, Projects Manager, NABW Educational Foundation, Suite 1400, 500 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

The Association, in conjunction with Mundelein College in Chicago, offers a Bachelor's Degree Program in Management. This unique program meets the banking industry's need for developing managerial talent and enables women bankers to get the management education they often lack. In a course specifically tailored to the needs of those committed to a full-time banking career, it is possible to get a bachelor's degree from Mundelein within a three to five year period, while spending only four weeks per year away from the bank. Classroom-gained knowledge can be supplemented by regular evening and/or weekend courses. Academic credit for prior learning experience can be gained through each of these college programs.

EDUCATION

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA SCHOLARSHIPS. Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbus, Ohio 43216.

This fraternity annually offers scholarships to women students who are juniors or seniors in college or graduate students working toward a degree in rehabilitation. Applicants must have completed 2 years of study on a campus where there is a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma or be a graduate student on a campus where there is a chapter. These scholarships for both members and non-members are for preparation for work with the mentally retarded, physically handicapped, the socially deprived, the emotionally disturbed, learning disabled, and the aged. All applicants must be citizens of the United States or Canada. Undergraduate awards are for $300 to $500. Graduate awards are for $300 to $1,000. Graduate fellowships are also offered to members and non-members with high academic standing in fields other than rehabilitation. The same qualifications are required as for the rehabilitation scholarships.

This Fraternity annually offers scholarships to members and non-members. Eligibility criteria vary depending on the particular scholarship, grant, or fellowship. To obtain an application, contact the above address.
1. Founder's Memorial Scholarship. To commemorate the founding of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., scholarships are awarded to a fraternity brother in each district who has attained sophomore or junior standing in undergraduate school. The award is $300.

2. George E. Meares Memorial Scholarship. Established in memory of George E. Meares who served as Grand Basileus of Omega Psi Phi from 1964-67. Scholarships are granted for the support of graduate study in social work, social sciences, and criminal justice. Scholarships range up to $1000.

3. Creative and Research Fellowships. To help those scholars and creative artists who need financial assistance to complete a work that is already in progress or to publish a manuscript of study which has been completed. Fellows receive up to $1000.

Other scholarships are provided by local chapters of the Fraternity in each district, or by the respective districts, to high school seniors who are planning to enter postsecondary education. Interested persons should contact the local affiliate for further information.

PHI DELTA KAPPA, INC. SCHOLARSHIPS. Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., International Headquarters, P.O. Box 789, Bloomington, Indiana 47402-0789.

This professional educators organization and its Educational Foundation annually offers scholarships to outstanding high school seniors planning to pursue a career in education. Awards are based on scholarship, school/community activities and leadership, references, and writing ability. Applications are available from any chapter of Phi Delta Kappa in October of each year. The deadline for submitting applications is February 1. Thirty-two non-renewable scholarships grants in the amount of $750 and one in the amount of $1500 are awarded annually. In addition, over 100 chapters of Phi Delta Kappa utilize the applications submitted for the national scholarship grants to award chapter scholarships. These range from $100 to $1500.

Student financial assistance is granted to prepare students and regular and special educational personnel to deal with the special education needs of the handicapped. The purpose is to train teachers, supervisors, administrators, researchers, teacher-educators, speech pathologists, and other special service personnel such as specialists in physical education and recreation. Training for paraprofessionals and volunteers is also included.

Funds are allocated to colleges, universities, and State and local education and non-profit agencies which select those to receive awards or training. In the preservice training program, those working at the undergraduate, master's, doctoral, or postdoctoral level may receive stipends or tuition.
ENGINEERING

The Loan Fund is designed to assist women in their final 2 years of any accredited engineering program, including undergraduate, refresher, and conversion programs, as well as in graduate studies.

Special encouragement is offered to women with work experience in engineering or related technical fields, and to those who have not recently worked in engineering but are qualified through past study for training in engineering or engineering technology.

Written acceptance for undergraduate or graduate level study in a program accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and acceptance for an approved course of study, not to include doctoral programs, are required. Applicants must have academic and/or work experience records showing career motivation and ability to complete courses of study. U.S. citizenship and need for financial aid are also required.

For applications and information, send a stamped self-addressed, business-size envelope with two stamps to the above address.

The deadline for receipt of completed applications, statements of student acceptance, transcripts and references is May 1. Applicants will be notified of the Loan Committee's decision on July 15.

The National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering, Inc. (NACME), is a non-profit coalition of corporations, universities, local programs, and others committed to increasing the number of minority engineers.

To accomplish this goal, NACME obtains financial support from corporations, foundations, and others who endorse the national minority engineering effort. The funding supports NACME's activities with pre-college program and engineering colleges, in providing the impetus to significantly raise the number of minorities entering and graduating from engineering schools.

NACME, as the central organization and catalyst for the national minority engineering effort, performs those tasks that are best done nationally while assisting regional and local programs to do what may best be carried out at the local level.

The major portion of NACME's budget is directed to minority students through incentive grant scholarships which are administered by selected engineering colleges. For the 1984-85 academic year, more than $3 million was distributed to 144 schools in support of approximately 4,200 students.

NACME also provides technical assistance to local organizations that motivate minority students to study science and mathematics. The goal is to ensure that students are academically prepared and adequately motivated to pursue engineering careers.

Scholarships are offered to over 150 students pursuing a career in the field of engineering. Some awards are reserved for minorities and women. Requirements include SAT scores of 600 in the math category, and 500 in the verbal category. Students are also required to be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident and rank in the top 25 percent of their high school standings.

The Society awards over 150 $1,000 scholarships, which are renewable. Application deadline is September 1.

GRAPHIC ARTS/PRINTING

EDUCATION COUNCIL OF THE GRAPHIC ARTS INDUSTRY, INC., 4615 Forbes Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213 offers, upon request, an excellent description of the career opportunities in this field. Inquiries should be directed to the address indicated above. The Council's National Scholarship Trust Fund has awarded scholarships during the past 24 years for studies in printing management, printing technology, and graphic arts education. Applications must be filed by January 15.

HEALTH/MEDICAL

AMERICAN MEDICAL TECHNOLOGISTS' SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM offers five scholarships of $250 each to high school graduates interested in pursuing medical technology or medical assisting studies. Awards are based primarily on need, with consideration given to goals, school grades, activities, experience, and personal reference. Applicants must be enrolled or contemplating enrolling in a school accredited by the Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (list available by contacting the ABHES, 29089 U.S. 20 West, Elkhart, Indiana 46514), or enrolled or contemplating enrolling in a college, university, or junior college medical technology or medical assisting program. April 1 is the filing deadline for applications and supporting documents. For additional information, contact AMT, 710 Higgins Road, Park Ridge, Illinois 60068.

INDIAN HEALTH SCHOLARSHIP. This program, which gives priority for selection to American Indians, Alaskan Natives, and Aleuts, pays all tuition and fees at schools of many health disciplines not included in National Health Service Corps Scholarships. Benefits are identical to those of the NHSC Scholarship. To receive this competitive award you must agree to serve 1 year for each year of support, with a minimum of 2 years, in the Indian Health Service of the Health Services Administration and urban Indian organization or in private practice in a health manpower shortage area that provides health care to a substantial number of Indians.

Information on these scholarships is available from the Indian Health Service, Room 6-12, Parklawn Building, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20857, or from your nearest IHS Area or Program Office.

INTERNATIONAL CHIROPRACTORS ASSOCIATION (ICA) provides information about scholarships and educational assistance to students desiring to pursue careers in chiropractic. Upon request, ICA will send a list of chiropractic colleges. Information may be obtained by contacting the International Chiropractors Association, 1901 L Street, N.W., Suite 800, Washington, D.C. 20036.
NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE CORPS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMS. A competitive, support-for-service program for students of medicine, osteopathy, or dentistry (MD, DO, DDS, or DMD); limited numbers of awards for students in other health-related disciplines may be included as needed each year. For each year of support, recipients are obligated to serve one year in full-time clinical practice of their profession, or employed by the National Health Service Corps, a component of the U.S. Public Health Service. Assignments will be in eligible health manpower shortage areas in the United States serving populations which seriously lack access to quality health care. Write to National Health Service Corps Scholarship Program, Room 17A31, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20857.

JOURNALISM

ACADEMY OF TELEVISION ARTS & SCIENCES. Academy of Television Arts & Sciences, 3500 Olive Avenue, Suite 700, Burbank, California 91505-4628.

The Television Academy currently offers two national programs for the benefit of college and university students of television. The first is a summer internship program which places a selected number of students with Los Angeles based television stations, production companies and other television related venues for an eight week work period. Interns receive a stipend of $1,200 from the Academy and a $300 travel allowance if they reside outside of Los Angeles County. Applications for the program are available in college and university Radio/TV/Cinema and Career Placement departments in January each year.

The Academy also offers the College Television Awards. In this competition thirty-six winners are awarded from $400 to $2,000 for outstanding video productions completed for college course credit at the undergraduate or graduate level. Entry forms for this competition are also available in college and university Radio/TV/Cinema departments and Career Placement departments in early fall.

MINORITY EDITING INTERN PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE SENIORS. The Dow Jones Newspaper Fund, Inc., P.O. Box 300, Princeton, New Jersey 08543-0300.

This newspaper intern program offers minority college seniors a paid summer copyediting internship on daily newspapers and a $1,000 scholarship to use for graduate studies in the fall following the internship or a $1,000 grant to pay outstanding school loans. No specific major is emphasized, but an interest in newspaper journalism is an asset. Applications available in September. Deadline for entry is November 15.

SCRIPPS HOWARD FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS. The Scripps Howard Foundation, 1100 Central Trust Tower, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202.

Scholarships are offered to needy students pursuing a career in print and broadcast media. Qualifications include outside recommendations, along with a good scholastic record.

Awards are made in amounts up to $3,000 per year. Deadline for request for applications is December 20 each year.
MILITARY

AIR FORCE ROTC is conducted at colleges and universities located throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Students may earn a commission by successfully completing either the Air Force ROTC Four-Year Program or the Air Force ROTC Two-Year Program. Air Force ROTC offers Four-, Three-, and Two-Year Scholarships on a competitive basis to both men and women students. The scholarships cover full tuition, certain fees and expenses associated with required courses, cost of curriculum-required text books, and a $100 nontaxable allowance each month during the school year. Scholarships are available in several categories to qualified applicants. However, as the needs of the Air Force change, scholarship offerings will be changed accordingly. Applications (DD Form 1893) for the Four-Year Scholarships are contained in the brochure Scholarship Applicant Booklet. Send directly to Air Force ROTC, Selections Division, Maxwell AFB, Alabama 36112. Deadline date for submitting applications for the Four-Year Scholarships is December 1 preceding the fall term of the school year in which the student plans to enter college. Applicants for Four-Year Scholarships must take either the SAT or the ACT Tests. Deadline date can be no later than the December test cycle.

Applications for the Three- and Two-Year Scholarships should be made to the Professor of Aerospace Studies at the hosting institution during the students' freshman or sophomore year of college, respectively. Application forms will be furnished by the professor of Aerospace Studies at the Air Force ROTC detachment. Information can be obtained by contacting the Air Force ROTC detachment on campus or by writing to Air Force ROTC, Recruiting Division, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama 36112.

ARMY CONTINUING EDUCATION. The Army seeks to offer all soldiers an opportunity for continuing education equal to that available if they had not entered the Army. Through the Air Continuing Education System (ACES), a variety of academic and non-academic educational opportunities are available. ACES has three objectives: to enhance individual professionalism and skills; to increase the Army's ability to attract and retain the best available, highly motivated individuals; and to fulfill personal educational aspirations (within funding restraints).

All Army installations with a troop strength of 750 or more must have an education center or subcenter. Services and programs offered include:

Basic Skills Education Program (BSEP): BSEP refers to functionally oriented, job-related skills for soldier development. Reading, writing, arithmetic, and oral communication instruction are provided at the initial entry training station and later at the permanent duty station. Those needing BSEP, with the approval of the commanding officer, are taught on duty. Soldiers who are non-high school graduates are encouraged to enroll in local, adult, off-duty high school programs, free of charge, or they may take the General Education Development test.

High School Completion Programs: Courses taken off-duty to attain a high school diploma or equivalency certificate. Current regulations authorize 100 percent funding.
English-as-a-Second Language (ESL) Program: During basic training, soldiers whose primary language is other than English are tested. Those scoring below 70 are identified to commanders by education counselors as needing ESL. Their commanders decide whether to enroll any particular soldier in a course lasting up to 6 weeks (self-paced). Arriving at permanent duty stations, soldiers found deficient in English comprehension may take a sustaining ESL course. Principal consideration in commander selection is willingness to learn and to use skills productively.

Foreign Language Courses: Self-or group-study materials (other than in a course for credit) are available to help soldiers develop basic level language skills and some understanding of the culture and people where they are to be stationed. Other Army related language courses also are available.

Advanced Skills Education Program (ASEP): This program is designed to enhance career growth and to improve military duty performance for selected noncommissioned officers. Its purpose is to reinforce managerial, supervisory, and communications skills (directly related to Army requirements) inherent in the soldier's career field or occupational specialty. Compatible with other programs, college-level credit may be awarded upon course completion.

Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges: The Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges (SOC) is a network of institutions agreeing to take part in a program serving the special needs of the military. They do this by offering classes at nontraditional or off-duty hours, establishing a flexible credit transfer policy, having residency requirements accommodating mobility, recognizing military and nontraditional learning, and providing academic assistance to soldiers.

Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges Associate Degree (SO CAD) Program: This program was developed by SOC in cooperation with ACE and consists of 49 institutions offering associate degrees in 16 areas worldwide. It includes: residency limited to a program maximum of 25 percent completed at any time, guaranteed automatic transfer of courses within a curriculum area acceptance of ACE Guide and other nontraditional credit sources, and the completion of an official evaluation on a standard form. Soldiers receive and agreement from a home institution, take courses there to complete the residency, then finish coursework with other colleges to transfer to the home college for the degree.

Educational Counseling: Army education centers are staffed with professionally qualified counselors who assist soldiers in vocational and educational decisions. Initial counseling begins in basic training and continues within 30 days after arrival at each permanent duty station, with periodic follow-ups throughout his/her military career.

Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support (DANTES): This program offers correspondence courses through more than 50 accredited colleges and universities, nationally recognized examinations, and certification programs. The correspondence courses range from high school to postgraduate level and may be financed through the Veterans Administration or Army tuition assistance.
Army Apprenticeship Program: This program allows soldiers in specified apprenticeable occupational specialties to document their Army training and experience and receive Journey Worker Certificates from the Department of Labor. Each Apprenticeship is patterned after an existing civilian program registered with the Department of Labor's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, and may be transferred to post-service employment.

Skill Development: Non-credit courses are offered in technical aspects of military skills to support occupational specialty improvement and for vocational/technical courses from accredited institutions to achieve personal educational goals.

MOS/SQT Reference Library: Each education center has a library for soldiers to obtain and study technical materials for individual occupational specialties and skill-level training. Study materials may be supplemented by learning center equipment (audiovisual instruction devices), tapes, and video cassettes.

Degree Program: Associate degrees (other than Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges Associate Degree), baccalaureate degrees, and graduate degrees are available from accredited civilian institutions.

Tuition Assistance: "Funds are available to defray tuition costs and other related instructional expenses for approved off-duty courses at accredited institutions."

Learning Centers: These centers provide commanders with a full range of support to train and educate soldiers. Equipment, materials, language laboratories, military occupations, specialty libraries, and the people to assist in their use are available. Soldiers may use these for self-improvement, skill and occupational specialty improvement, or any other education and training.

Testing: Each education center has testing facilities and a qualified test administrator. Three general categories of tests are usually given: achievement tests to gain recognition for nontraditional learning, tests for placement in academic programs and interest inventories for counseling. Tests may include: College Level Examination Program (CLEP), Subject Standardized Tests (SST), Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), and American College Test (ACT). With the exception of SAT and ACT, tests are free.

Veterans Education Assistance Program (VEAP): VEAP is essentially a replacement for the educational provision of the GI Bill (not available to those enlisting after January 1, 1977). It is a contributory program. The soldier agrees to give to an educational saving fund where the government matches $2 for every $1 given--to a maximum of $7,200 for 2 years; $8,100 thereafter. Monthly payroll deductions may range from $25 to $100. DOD is authorized to place additional monies to the VEAP account, up to $20,100 for selected soldiers.

U.S. COAST GUARD ACADEMY educates young men and women for careers as commissioned officers in the U.S. Coast Guard. Appointments are made on the basis of an annual nationwide competition. The competitive test consists of the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT). There are no Congressional appointments and no geographical limitations. Graduates receive a commission as Ensign, U.S. Coast Guard and a Bachelor of Science degree. For detailed information, interested students should write to Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320. Applications should be submitted prior to 15 December of the candidate's senior year in high school.

U.S. COAST GUARD. The U.S. Coast Guard offers a number of educational opportunities which are discussed in the booklets listed below and which may be obtained from the local Coast Guard recruiter.

U.S. COAST GUARD ACADEMY: BULLETIN OF INFORMATION

The Coast Guard Academy offers high school graduates the opportunity to obtain a college education and a commission as an officer in the Coast Guard. Appointments are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition. All applicants participate in the competition on an equal basis. The Bulletin provides information on admission requirements, courses of instruction, and cadet life.

HELP YOURSELF: A GUIDE TO ENLISTED CAREERS IN THE COAST GUARD

This booklet lists Coast Guard benefits which are available to all who enlist. In addition to general education benefits, it provides information on special programs, a detailed discussion about careers, and ways to advance oneself.

OPPORTUNITIES AFTER COLLEGE

Offers a detailed discussion of Coast Guard opportunities that are available to college graduates. Requirements and qualifications for the Coast Guard's Officer Candidate School and education opportunities after OCS are also provided.

U.S. MARINE CORPS. A variety of education programs have been established to assist Marines in developing their full potential. Education officers and career planners assigned to Marine Corps activities provide counseling and guidance to personnel interested in furthering themselves academically or the attainment of both professional and personal goals.

The Marine Corps provides on-duty vocational training for Marine military occupational specialties, many of which have counterparts in the civilian employment sector. The American Council on Education has evaluated Marine Corps training programs and provided recommendations for college credit in its publication, Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Credit toward a vocational certificate or college degree may be accrued through successful completion of Marine Corps schools.

Enlisted and officer education programs are outlined in the pamphlet, "Education Programs in the Marine Corps," which is available through local Marine recruiters.
Postsecondary education programs available to Marines include:

Broadened Opportunity for Officer Selection and Training (BOOST): Provides an opportunity for selected Marines of all ethnic groups from educationally deprived or culturally differentiated backgrounds to compete more equitably for selection in the Marine Corps Enlisted Commissioning Educational Program (MECEP), the U.S. Naval Academy, or the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC). The program provides a 12-month education program for selected Marines to prepare them for entrance into these programs.

Marine Corps Enlisted Commissioning Education Program (MECEP): Provides selected enlisted Marines with the opportunity to earn a baccalaureate degree by attending a college or university as full-time students. Those individuals who successfully obtain a baccalaureate degree and complete officer candidate training are commissioned second lieutenants in the Regular Marine Corps.

Degree Completion Program for Staff Noncommissioned Officers: Provides selected Marine staff noncommissioned officers with the opportunity to obtain a baccalaureate degree which directly relates to a Marine Corps job requirement and, concurrently, satisfy a personal educational goal by attending a college or university as full-time students for up to the equivalent of 2 academic years.

College Degree Program (CDP): Provides selected Marine officers with the opportunity to complete a baccalaureate program by attending a college or university as a full-time student for up to the equivalent of 2 academic years.

Marine Corps Tuition Assistance Program: Provides Marines with financial assistance for college courses taken for academic credit, during off-duty time, at regionally accredited colleges and universities. Additionally, tuition assistance payments may be made to qualifying educational institutions conducting the Marine Corps Off-Duty High School Completion Program. The Marine Corps may pay up to 75 percent of the cost of tuition for approved college courses (and up to 90 percent for enlisted personnel, sergeant and above, with less than 14 years service) and 100 percent for high school completion. The remaining tuition and/or fees, as well as the cost of books, materials, and similar fees and expenses, are borne by the student.

The Marine recruiter or career planner has up-to-date facts on all educational and career opportunities. Call the Marine recruiter nearest you.

NAVAL ROTC is conducted at 65 colleges and universities located throughout the United States. Students may earn a commission as ensign, U.S. Navy or second lieutenant, U.S. Marine Corps, by successfully completing the NROTC Navy-Marine Corps Scholarship Program. Naval ROTC offers Four-Year and Two-Year scholarships to both men and women candidates. Scholarships cover full tuition, educational fees, books, uniforms and a $100 non-taxable subsistence allowance per month (maximum 40 months). Applicants for the Four-Year Scholarship Program must make application during the period March 1 to December 1 of the year prior to desired enrollment and take either the SAT or the ACT Tests and arrange with the appropriated testing agency to forward test results to NROTC Scholarship Program (release code 0556) to be received by December 31. Information and applications are available from Navy or Marine Corps recruiting stations, from high school/college counselors, NROTC units and the Commander, Navy Recruiting Command (Code 314), 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia 22203. Two-Year NROTC Scholarship Program applicants must enter one of the 65 NROTC host institutions with junior status at the time of enrollment in the program. Application period is June 1 to April 1 of the year of anticipated enrollment. Information concerning the Two-Year NROTC Scholarship Program may be obtained from Navy recruiting district officers, NROTC units, or address above.

NEW MEXICO MILITARY INSTITUTE REGENT SCHOLARSHIP. North Hill, Roswell, New Mexico 88201. Operates the New Mexico Military Institute Foundation Advanced Army ROTC Scholarship program through its Office of Admissions and Financial Aid. The awards are $300, $500, and $1,000 conditional scholarships.

These scholarships are conditional on attending NMMI and entering the Advanced Course of Senior Army ROTC leading to a commission as a second lieutenant in the two years at the Institute. Scholarships are renewable if satisfactory progress is being made towards graduation at New Mexico Military Institute.

The Committee on Scholarly Communication with the People's Republic of China announces its 1989-90 National Program of Scholarly Exchanges with China. The program includes the following:

1. The Visiting Scholar Exchange Program supports one-to-three months visits for American and Chinese scholars in all disciplines. Priority will be given to projects in disciplines to which research in China can make a unique contribution. Priority is also given where there is mutual benefit to American and Chinese scientists.

2. Graduate programs support individuals enrolled in the social sciences or the humanities to do coursework or dissertation research at a Chinese university.

3. Research programs support individuals in the social sciences and humanities, who hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree at the time of application, to do indepth research on China, the Chinese portion of a comparative study, or an exploratory survey of an aspect of contemporary China.

Applications can be obtained by contacting the Committee on Scholarly Communication with the People's Republic of China at the above mentioned address.
HUBERT H. HUMPHREY DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS IN ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT.

The U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) conducts a program of Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowships in Arms Control and Disarmament. Nine rounds of competition have been held since the program's inception in 1979, and 50 awards have been made, named in honor of the Agency's Congressional "founding father," the Fellowships are intended to stimulate interest in the study of arms control by supporting unclassified doctoral dissertation research in the field. Candidates for the J.D. (law) are also eligible for Fellowships. This program is part of the Agency's legislatively mandated responsibilities for the "conduct, support, and coordination of research for arms control and disarmament policy formulation."

Students in a wide range of academic disciplines--including, but not limited to, political science, economics, law, sociology, psychology, physics, chemistry, biology, engineering, philosophy, public policy, operations research, and area studies--may apply.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens or nationals at the time of application and recipients must have completed academic requirements at a U.S. college or university for the doctorate (excluding dissertation) by the date the Fellowship begins. J.D. candidates are also eligible if they will receive 20 percent of the required third-year academic credits for the writing of a research paper.

The basic Fellowships are awarded for Ph.D. dissertation research and are normally for a period of 12 months commencing in either September or January. Each Fellow will receive a stipend of $5,000. In addition, ACDA will pay any applicable tuition and fees for 1 year up to a maximum of $3,400 to the institution in which the Fellow is enrolled. For J.D. candidates, who unlike Ph.D. candidates do not devote a full year to research, the Fellowship stipend of $5,000 and the tuition grant of up to $3,400 will be prorated by dividing the number of credits assigned to the writing of the J.D. paper by the total number of credits required by the Fellow's law school; in no case, however, shall the stipend be smaller than $1,000, nor shall the tuition be less than 20 percent of the tuition charged by the law school.

No dependency allowances will be paid. No applicant will be eligible for more than one Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship, although in exceptional cases extensions for Ph.D. candidates of up to 3 additional months may be granted (prorated at $420 per month).

Authorized by the Indian Education Act, the program provides fellowships to Indian students for:

Undergraduate and graduate degree programs in business administration, engineering, natural resources, and related fields.

Graduate degree programs in education, law, medicine, and related fields.

Fellowships are available to Indian students who demonstrate financial aid need and are based on the following definition:

The term "Indian" means any individual who (1) is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians, including those tribes, bands or groups terminated since 1940 and those recognized by the State in which they reside, or who is a descendant in the first or second degree of any such member, or (2) is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose, or (3) is an Eskimo, or Aleut, or other Alaska Native.

The deadline date for postmark or delivery of applications for new starts is set in early September each year.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES (IBM) FELLOWSHIPS are for graduate and post-doctoral programs described below; preference is given to U.S. citizens or permanent residents of the U.S.; Minority Fellowships and Fellowships for Women are open only to U.S. citizens. Fields: physics, chemistry, electrical engineering, mathematics, computer or information science, mechanical engineering, and materials science. Fellowships are granted to selected universities; applicant should direct all inquiries to the graduate school of the institution he/she is attending, or expects to attend. University officials having questions concerning the administration of IBM fellowship programs should direct them to Manager, University Relations, Thomas J. Watson Research Center, P.O. Box 218, Yorktown Heights, New York 10598.

1. Graduate Fellowships. Awarded for 1 academic year, they are intended for students working full-time toward the doctoral degree, and include a stipend for the academic year, all tuition and fees, and an unrestricted grant to the university department.

2. Minority Fellowships. Awarded to entering graduate students only for a period of 2 years. Financial arrangements are similar to those for IBM Graduate Fellowships, but include an option for study or IBM employment during the summer.

3. Fellowships for Women. Administered under the same guidelines as the IBM Minority Fellowships.

Deadline: February 1 of each year for the following semester.

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT INTERN PROGRAM. Intern Recruitment, Recruitment Staff, United States Agency for International Development, Room 1480, State Annex 1, Washington, D.C. 20523.

The International Development Intern Program is a 2-year individually tailored career training program which leads to positions of increasing responsibility in the developing countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Near East, and the Caribbean.
Selection is on a competitive basis. Minimum requirements: graduate degree in agriculture, agricultural economics, business administration, rural sociology, nutrition or public health, and urban development. An interdisciplinary background including social/applied anthropology, human geography, or non-Western area studies is also desirable.

Candidates with undergraduate degrees in agriculture will be considered based on exceptional academic performance. Maturity, good character, potential for professional growth and leadership, U.S. citizenship, and good health are required.

Candidates are evaluated in terms of academic records, overseas and domestic experiences, quality of references, and other relevant factors. They must also receive a medical and security clearance before entering on duty.

To apply, send a Standard Form 171 (Application for Federal Employment) or a resume to the above address.

ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES (OAS) supports citizens and permanent residents of OAS member countries. Candidates must be sponsored by an appropriate governmental agency in the home country.

1. Fellowships are awarded for study or research in a member country other than that of permanent residence of the applicant. Applicant must provide evidence of advanced training in a field of preference indicated by the respective governments; health sciences excluded.

2. Special Training Program in non-member countries are supported in fields of interest and importance to the economic and social development programs of member states. OAS pays travel costs; host country pays remaining costs.

Write to Chief, Trainee Selection, OAS, Washington D.C. 20006.

The purpose of the program is to award fellowships for study leading to an advanced degree in a graduate or professional study program approved by the Secretary of Education to members of groups, particularly minorities and women, that have traditionally been underrepresented among graduate and professional degree program recipients. The Secretary allocates fellowships to the institutions of higher education which have programs in career and professional fields approved by the Secretary. An institution, in assessing student applications for fellowships, must apply a measurement of financial need approved by the Secretary. Institutions receiving the fellowships award them to eligible students. Interested students should contact the U.S. Department of Education for a directory listing approved institutions and programs.
The maximum stipend to any fellow is $10,000 for a 12-month period, or the fellow's financial need, whichever is less, dispensed on a monthly basis.

Institutions receive an institutional allowance in the amount of $6,000 for a 12-month period for each fellow enrolled in the program. Tuition and non-refundable fees are waived for the fellow.

POPULATION COUNCIL FELLOWSHIPS IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES are administered by the Council's Center for Policy Studies, which carries out research aimed at achieving a greater understanding of the relationship between demographic change and social and economic development. Strong preference will be given to applicants from developing countries who have a firm commitment to return to their home country upon completion of their training programs. Applications are accepted for the three types of study programs listed below.

1. Graduate Study. Awards are open to persons who have made considerable progress toward the Ph.D. (or an equivalent) degree in one of the social sciences. Students at the dissertation-writing stage will be given preference.

2. Postdoctoral Study. Awards are open to persons having a Ph.D. or equivalent degree who wish to undertake postdoctoral training and research with population specialization.

3. Mid-career Study. Awards are open to persons with professional experience in the population field wishing to undertake a specific plan of training and study to update and strengthen their professional skills.

For application materials write to: The Fellowship Secretary, The Population Council, Center for Policy Studies, One Dag Hammarskjold Plaza, New York, New York 10017.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Each year 32 American students are selected as Rhodes Scholars to attend the University of Oxford. Candidates must be U.S. citizens, unmarried, and between the ages of 18 and 23, inclusive, by October 1 of the year of application. Candidates are also required to have sufficiently advanced academic standing to complete a bachelor's degree before the end of the academic year in which an application is filed. Candidates are evaluated on merit, without regard to race or gender. Selection is based on four criteria: scholarship, character, leadership, and physical vigor. A Rhodes Scholarship entitles the recipient to a minimum of two year's study in the University of Oxford. The stipend of a Rhodes Scholarship consists of a direct payment to the Scholar's College of approved fees, plus a maintenance allowance. These combined payments in 1987 amounted to approximately 10,000 pounds. A candidate applies in the state of legal residence or in the state in which he or she has received at least two years of college training.

Information is available from institutional representatives at colleges and universities across the country or from the Office of the American Secretary, Rhodes Scholarship Trust, Pomona College, Claremont, California 91711.
ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION HUMANITIES FELLOWSHIPS. The program welcomes applications from writers and scholars in the traditional humanistic disciplines (such as literature, history, and philosophy) whose projects contribute to the analysis and evaluation of contemporary issues or values. Similar proposals in fields not usually defined as humanistic (such as political science, law, and anthropology) are encouraged if their humanistic implications are clear and substantial. Applicants need not have an academic or institutional affiliation. Awards cannot be made for completing graduate or professional studies, editing an anthology, developing curricula, or writing or translating poetry or fiction. For information on deadlines and procedures for applications, write to Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowships, The Rockefeller Foundation, 1133 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10336.

SEQUOYAH GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP. The Association on American Indian Affairs has a Sequoyah Graduate Fellowship Program. A one-year, $1,500 fellowship will be awarded in two equal installments, one at the beginning of each semester. The Association does not place restrictions on the student's use of the funds.

The Association is aware that private and governmental funding for education of American Indian professionals is decreasing. Therefore, the Association created the Sequoyah Graduate Fellowship to encourage and enable American Indians and Alaska Natives to study and complete graduate programs so they may pursue professional career goals.

The Association on American Indian Affairs also has an Emergency Aid program from which scholarships are granted. The amount of the award is usually between $50 and $300. The program is based on financial need and is limited by the availability of the Association's scholarship funds.

For more information contact Arlene Hirschfelder, Association on American Indian Affairs, Inc., 95 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016-7877, (212) 689-8720.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES--FACULTY GRADUATE STUDY PROGRAM FOR HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. Division of Fellowships and Seminars, National Endowment for the Humanities, Room 316, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506, (202) 786-0466.

HBCU fellowships are offered by the Endowment in response to Executive Order 12320 regarding historically black colleges and universities. These fellowships are intended to strengthen the teaching of the humanities at these colleges and universities by providing one year of support for teachers to work toward the completion of a doctoral degree in a discipline of the humanities. The maximum stipend is $27,500 for a tenure period of nine to twelve months. For 1989-90 awards, the application deadline is March 15.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES--FELLOWSHIPS AT CENTERS FOR ADVANCED STUDY. Division of Research Programs, National Endowment for the Humanities, Room 318, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506.

This program provides fellowships for study and research in the humanities to centers for advanced study in order to increase the opportunities for the extended interchange of ideas among scholars from different fields. These fellowships allow humanities scholars to pursue their research at the centers and to broaden their perspectives through participation in the centers' programs. At the same time, they enable NEH fellows to contribute their insights to the communities of scholars at the centers.

Individuals apply directly to the centers, which award and administer the fellowships. Tenure may run from 6 to 12 consecutive months, and stipends are set by the different centers. Eligibility for NEH-Center Fellowships varies from center to center, but neither candidates for degrees nor persons seeking support for work toward degrees are eligible to apply. Application deadlines also vary. A brief description of each center's program, with information regarding its application procedures, is available from the Division of Research Programs upon request.

The purpose of the program is to award fellowships for study leading to an advanced degree in a graduate or professional study program approved by the Secretary of Education to members of groups, particularly minorities and women, that have traditionally been underrepresented among graduate and professional degree program recipients. SALLY BUTLER MEMORIAL FUND FOR LATINA RESEARCH. Business and Professional Women's Foundation, 2012 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Awards funds to support research by women of Latin American descent or citizenship, including the Caribbean, North, South and Central American regions, on issues concerning women. Applicants should be doctoral or postdoctoral scholars or individuals able to demonstrate that the proposed research will be conducted under standards of scholarship recognized at the doctoral level.

Awards range between $500 and $3,000. Two or three awards are made annually. Applications are available after September 1; completed applications must be postmarked by January 1.

Predoctoral and postdoctoral fellowships of 6 months to 1 year duration and senior postdoctoral fellowships of 3 months to 1 year duration are available. Graduate student fellowships are available for 10 weeks. Deadline for applications to the predoctoral, postdoctoral, senior postdoctoral, and graduate student fellowship program is January 15 annually.

One must also be a citizen of the United States or have permanent resident visa status. The application must be signed by the responsible college or university financial aid officer, and current transcripts for all completed college work, undergraduate and graduate, must be received by the due date.

Applications must be received by July 1 of any year for the full academic year or fall semester and December 1 for spring semester.

The maximum scholarship granted under this program is $1,500 per academic year. Individuals who qualify may continue to receive scholarship aid if they are making satisfactory progress toward completion of their degree requirements, but reapplication forms with current transcripts must be submitted to be considered for renewal.

ALFRED P. SLOAN FELLOWS PROGRAM. Associate Dean for Executive Education Programs, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Alfred P. Sloan School of Management, Room E52-126, 50 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139.

This program is designed to broaden and develop outstanding but typically specialized mid-career executives who are nominated by their employer because they show marked promise for filling positions with more general and senior management responsibilities.

CONSORTIUM FOR GRADUATE STUDY IN MANAGEMENT--FELLOWSHIPS FOR MINORITIES. Dr. Wallace L. Jones, Executive Director, Consortium for Graduate Study in Management, One Brookings Drive, Box 1132, St. Louis, Missouri 63130.

The Consortium was established to increase the number of minorities in MBA programs and management positions in American businesses. Fellowships are available to minority U.S. citizens to enable enrollment in MBA programs at the following Consortium institutions: Indiana University, University of Michigan, New York University, University of North Carolina, University of Rochester, University of Southern California, The University of Texas at Austin, Washington University-St. Louis, and the University of Wisconsin.

Blacks, Cubans, Mexican-Americans, Puerto Ricans, Dominicans, and Native Americans with baccalaureate degrees are eligible to apply. A degree in economics or business administration is not required. The fellowships pay full tuition for two years of MBA study, plus a $3,000 stipend for the first year and $2,000 stipend the second year to help with living expenses.

COUNCIL FOR OPPORTUNITY IN GRADUATE MANAGEMENT EDUCATION--COGME. COGME, 675 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139.

COGME Fellowships are for Afro-Americans, American Indians, Asian Americans, and Hispanic Americans to enable them to engage in graduate study leading to master's degrees in management.

Applicants must be accepted as master's degree candidates by one of the following institutions: University of California-Berkeley, Carnegie-Mellon University, University of Chicago, Columbia University, Cornell University, The Tuck School-Dartmouth College, Harvard University, University of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Stanford University. The COGME award represents 80 percent of a fellow's total financial need for the first year of full-time enrollment. Support for the second year will be provided through the financial aid programs of the member schools in the form of fellowships and/or loans.
JOHNSON & JOHNSON "LEADERSHIP AWARDS FOR MINORITY STUDENTS." Lea E. Williams, Ed.D., Assistant Director, Educational Services, United Negro College Fund, 500 East 62nd Street, New York, New York 10021.

Outstanding minority men and women seeking ultimate business management careers are encouraged to apply. The value of each award is more than $30,000. It is a 2 year, full support fellowship at a selected graduate school of management.

Need is not a prerequisite, nor is prior study in business necessary. However, demonstrated leadership ability as an undergraduate will be the major criterion.

To apply, one must be a U.S. citizen with an undergraduate degree in any field. Students interested in a rewarding career in marketing, sales, finance, or operations management are especially encouraged to apply.

Johnson & Johnson will also provide training positions for the fellowship recipients during the summers before the first and second graduate years. Completed applications are due in January. All applicants will be notified of the Selection Committee's final decision by mid-May.

A loan-fund program jointly established by the Business and Professional Women's Foundation and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. It assists women with years of work experience and those now completing undergraduate studies in acquiring graduate-level business and management training. A program goal is to encourage women to enroll in graduate business programs so that the pool of women trained for management and executive positions is increased.

Women are eligible who have been accepted into a graduate degree program at a school accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. Doctoral programs are excluded. Applicants must be U.S. citizens with financial need; they may be full-time or part-time (carrying at least 6 semester hours or the equivalent during each semester). For applications and information, please send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope with two stamps to the above address. The deadline for receipt of completed applications is May 1 annually.

NATIONAL DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM IN BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT. American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, 605 Old Ballas Road, Suite 220, St. Louis, Missouri 63141.

Fellowships are offered to first year doctoral students electing to earn a doctorate in business and interested in pursuing a business faculty career. First year fellowships are valued at $10,000 and consist of a tuition waiver. Members of ethnic minorities and women are encouraged to apply. Eligibility is restricted to United States and Canadian citizens. Applications deadline is January 1.
EDUCATION

The Program invites nominations and applications for the 1988-89 class. Now in its twenty-third year, the American Council on Education Fellows Program includes 110 presidents and nearly 450 vice presidents and deans among its alumni. Fellows are selected through a national competition and serve a year-long internship with a college president and senior administrators. Internships may be on home or host campuses.

Candidates must be nominated by their presidents, and must have five years' faculty and/or administrative experience in higher education. Approximately seven grants of $5000-$7000 are available only to ACE member institutions to help offset the salary replacement costs of Fellows going to host institutions. Small stipends will be awarded to those Fellows to purchase books, and to offset relocation and travel costs.

Deadline for receipt of completed application papers is November 16.

The Education Policy Fellowship Program of the Institute for Educational Leadership, Inc., offers an opportunity for mid-career individuals to learn about the processes through which public policies are designed and implemented. EPFP operates programs in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, and Washington, D.C.

Fellows are identified and endorsed by their employing agencies. Program costs of $1,800 per fellow plus travel to two national conferences are paid by the employing agency and Fellow.

Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent, demonstrated leadership in the field of education and related areas, a strong interest in learning about public policy, and diverse professional experiences.

Authorized by the Indian Education Act, the program provides fellowships to Indian students for:

Undergraduate and graduate degree programs in business administration, engineering, natural resources, and related fields.
Fellowships are available to Indian students who demonstrate financial aid need and are based on the following definition:

The term "Indian" means any individual who (1) is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians, including those tribes, bands or groups terminated since 1940 and those recognized by the State in which they reside, or who is a descendant in the first or second degree of any such member, or (2) is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose, or (3) is an Eskimo, or Aleut, or other Alaska Native.

The deadline date for postmark or delivery of applications for new starts is set in early September each year.

The Julius A. Thomas Fellowship Program was created by the Council for Career Development for Minorities, Inc. (CCDM) (formerly College Placement Services, Inc.) to offer persons from ethnic minority groups an opportunity for graduate education focused on career counseling and the placement needs of minority students. Many 4-year and 2-year colleges with growing or predominantly minority-student populations are seeking to employ career counselors and job-placement officers from minority groups.

Nine institutions--California State University - Long Beach, California, Florida A & M University in Tallahassee, Howard University in Washington, D.C., New Mexico State University - Las Cruces, New Mexico, North Carolina Central University in Durham, Pan America University in Edinbury, Texas, Texas Southern University in Houston, Texas, Tuskegee University in Alabama, and Virginia State University in Peterburg--are participating in this fellowship program.

A selection committee selects one of two persons annually for the fellowship award. Criteria for selection include: demonstrated interest or experience in career counseling and placement work at the collegiate level and academic and extracurricular achievement in college. The number of awards depends on the funds available each year. Each award can be used to pay tuition fees, and living expenses for 2 years of full-time study at the master's degree level. The maximum total grant is $2,500. In addition, an allowance of up to $150 for approved books and materials is available. There is also a summer internship available which pays $2,500.

Persons interested in applying for the Julius A. Thomas Fellowship Program should seek admission to the program at one of the participating institutions.

The deadline for receipt of applications at the CCDM office is May 1 annually.

MENDENHALL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR MINORITY SCHOLARS. Carolyn Jacobs, Ph.D., Chair, Mendenhall Advisory Committee, Lily Hall 207, Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts 01063, (413) 584-2700, ext. 7983.
The Mendenhall Fellowship Program for Minority Scholars has been established to bring to Smith College minority graduate students who have completed all of the requirements for the Ph.D. except for the dissertation. The purposes of the program are to stimulate interest in teaching in a liberal arts college and to provide a supportive environment within which the Fellow could complete the dissertation and become acquainted with the College and with a particular department or program. A stipend, housing and office space, computer support and library privileges will be provided during the fellowship year. While the primary goal for the year is completion of the dissertation, each Fellow will negotiate a series of commitments to include the following: an experience of teaching at Smith; dialogues with minority students regarding graduate education in the Fellow's discipline; participation in the sponsoring department or program, and work in progress report. There will be many opportunities for the Fellow to experience living and working in the Smith College community.

SPENCER DISSERTATION YEAR FELLOWSHIPS FOR RESEARCH RELATED TO EDUCATION.

Spencer Fellowships, Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, P.O. Box 410, Princeton, New Jersey 08542.

The Spencer Dissertation Year Fellowships in Research Related to Education are designed to stimulate and support basic research that is relevant to education. Applicant must be a candidate for a Ph.D. or Ed.D. degree in a doctoral program at a graduate school in the United States. Graduate study may be in any academic discipline, including psychology, sociology, history, philosophy, economics, or anthropology, as well as in departments or schools of education.

Fellows will receive $12,500 for 12 months of full-time dissertation research and writing. Twenty-five non-renewable fellowships will be awarded. Completed applications must be postmarked by December 1.

Student financial assistance is granted to prepare students and regular special educational personnel to deal with the special educational needs of the handicapped. The purpose is to train teachers, supervisors, administrators, researchers, teacher-educators, speech pathologists, and other special service personnel such as specialists in physical education and recreation. Training for paraprofessionals and volunteers is also included.

Funds are allocated to colleges, universities, and State and local education and non-profit agencies which select those to receive awards or training. In the preservice training program, those working at the undergraduate, master's, doctoral, or postdoctoral level may receive stipends or tuition.

WOODROW WILSON NATIONAL FELLOWSHIP FOUNDATION: ADMINISTRATIVE FELLOWS PROGRAM. Director, Administrative Fellows Program, Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, P.O. Box 642, Princeton, New Jersey 08542.

Administrative Fellows help meet the need for well-trained administrative management at the historically Black colleges, Appalachian mountain schools, and Native American and certain other "developing colleges." The program affords outstanding graduates an opportunity for services and experiences in unique and challenging settings. Fellows serve as assistants to college presidents, and business managers; and as directors of research, planning and development. They have also been active in budgeting, investment analysis, operations analysis and research, student personnel administration, public relations, community projects, classroom teaching, and at hospitals associated with these colleges.

Application deadline: February 1.

WOODROW WILSON WOMEN'S STUDIES RESEARCH GRANTS FOR DOCTORAL CANDIDATES.
Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, Department WS, P.O. Box 642, Princeton, New Jersey 08542.

Designed to encourage original and significant research about women on such topics as the evolution of women's role in society and particularly contemporary America, women in history, the psychology of women, and women as seen in literature. Applicants in doctoral programs who have completed all predissertation requirements in a field of study at graduate schools in the United States are eligible to apply.

Applications must be endorsed by the candidate's dissertation director and graduate dean. Supporting documents consist of graduate school transcripts, letters of reference, a dissertation prospectus, a statement of career plans, and a timetable for completion of the dissertation.

Grants averaging $1000 to be used for research expenses connected with the dissertation will be awarded. These may include travel, books, microfilming, taping, and computer services. Special awards will be offered for research on topics relating to the economy, business, public policy, the law and mental health.

ENGINEERING/SCIENCES

Fellowships are offered for advanced study and research in aerospace-related sciences and engineering for study and research by young women scientists and to improve the academic status of women. Each award totals $6,000.

Candidates must have earned a bachelor's degree in a discipline basic to any of the many aerospace-related sciences, must show promise of original research potential, and must gain acceptance at a qualified graduate school.

AMOCO FOUNDATION Ph.D. FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM. To motivate more and better qualified BS and MS students to obtain a Ph.D. Designed to alleviate shortage of Ph.D. trained engineers. Awards 3-year fellowships at selected colleges and universities. One-year Ph.D. fellowships in earth and other physical sciences are also sponsored. For a list of participating institutions, write to Ph.D. Fellowship Program, AMOCO Foundation, Inc., 200 East Randolph Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601.

FANNIE AND JOHN HERTZ FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIPS are offered to outstanding students in the applied physical sciences for the support of (personal and institutional expenses) during graduate education directed toward the Ph.D. degree. Awarded on the basis of undergraduate and, in some cases, early graduate academic and research performance, personal and institutional recommendations, and results of an interview with an applied physical scientist representing the Hertz Foundation. Fellowship renewal is made annually on the basis of satisfactory progress toward the Ph.D. for a total of 3 years, with the fourth year extension under unusual circumstances.

Applications and information may be obtained from the Hertz Foundation, P.O. Box 2230, Livermore, California 94550-0130.

GRADUATE ENGINEERING FOR MINORITIES (GEM). Howard Adams, Executive Director, National Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering, P.O. Box 537, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The National Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering, Inc., presently consists of 52 engineering colleges and 53 industrial and governmental laboratories. Formed in 1976 to encourage minority students to consider advance study in engineering, the Consortium offers financial support and practical laboratory work experience to American Indians, Black Americans, Mexican Americans, and Puerto Ricans.

The minimum requirement for applying is enrollment in the junior year of undergraduate study in one of the engineering disciplines at an accredited engineering college. Those presently in their senior year or recently graduated are also encouraged to apply. An applicant's record must indicate the ability to pursue graduate studies in engineering. All applications must be received by December 1, annually.

Each student participant receives a stipend of $5,000 plus tuition and fees for the academic year—as well as summer employment at an industrial or government laboratory. An average of three semesters of graduate study will be required to complete the degree.

HUGHES AIRCRAFT COMPANY FELLOWSHIPS are awarded on a nationwide competitive basis in the fields mentioned below to highly qualified individuals with at least a B average for study at selected universities. Two fellowship plans are available: (1) the work-study plan allows fellows to acquire work experience at a Hughes Aircraft facility along with a half-time academic program, and to earn income during the school year; (2) the full-study plan allows fellows to devote full time to academic work during the school year. Both plans include 10 to 12 weeks of full-time employment at a Hughes Aircraft facility prior to beginning fellowship tenure and during summer vacations. Write to the Corporate Fellowship Office, Hughes Aircraft Company, P.O. Box 45066, Los Angeles, California 90045-0066 or call collect (213) 568-6172.

The Loan Fund is designed to assist women in their final 2 years of any accredited engineering program, including undergraduate, refresher, and conversion programs, as well as in graduate studies.

Special encouragement is offered to women with work experience in engineering or related technical fields, and to those who have not recently worked in engineering but are qualified through past study for training in either engineering or engineering technology.
Written acceptance for undergraduate or graduate level study in a program accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and acceptance for an approved course of study, not to include doctoral programs, are required. Applicants must have academic and/or work experience records showing career motivation and ability to complete courses of study. U.S. citizenship and a need for financial aid are also required.

For application and information, please send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope with two stamps to the above address.

The deadline for receipt of completed applications, statements of student acceptance, transcripts and references is May 1. Applicants will be notified of the Loan Committee's decision in July.

The National Science Foundation awards 3-year Graduate Fellowships to individuals who have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in science or engineering. The Fellowships are for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science.

The program is open only to applicants who are citizens or nationals of the United States. Eligibility is further limited to those who are beginning graduate students, as defined in the program announcement, in science or engineering, including social science and mathematics.

Each applicant must submit a signed application form by mid-November. Other supplementary forms including grade reports, transcripts of college and university records, a proposed plan for graduate study or research, and reference reports must be submitted by mid-December. Awards are expected to be announced by mid-March.

OFFICE OF NAVAL RESEARCH (U.S. NAVY) GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS are 36-month awards offered as one means of increasing the supply of U.S. civilians trained in disciplines of science and engineering critical to the U.S. Navy including electrical engineering, computer science, naval architecture and ocean engineering, materials science, applied physics, aerospace/mechanical engineering, physical oceanography, mathematics, cognitive and neutral sciences, biological and biomedical sciences. These fellowships are tenable at U.S. institutions of higher education offering doctoral degrees in the designated science and engineering disciplines. ONR Fellows are encouraged to continue their studies and research at a Navy laboratory during summer sessions. Write to ONR Graduate Fellowships, American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), Suite 200, 11 Dupont Circle, Washington, D.C. 20036.

HEALTH/MEDICAL/DENTAL/NURSING

AMERICAN FUND FOR DENTAL HEALTH. Dental scholarships for members of disadvantaged minority groups, particularly Blacks, Hispanics, American Indians, and Puerto Ricans, who need financial aid to prepare for studies in dentistry. High school and college transcripts are required along with three letters of reference to receive awards of $2,000 a year. The scholarships are available to first and second year dental school students. For information and application contact American Fund for Dental Education, 211 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

AMERICAN LUNG ASSOCIATION. Offers education awards in the field of the prevention and control of lung disease. Write to Director of Medical Affairs, American Lung Association, 1740 Broadway, New York, New York 10019. The Association offers: Edward Livingston Trudeau Scholar Awards, and Training Fellowships, Research Training Fellowships, Pediatric Pulmonary Research Fellowships, and Career Investigator Awards.

Scholarships are available to registered nurses pursuing a baccalaureate in nursing as well as members of State nursing associations.

Awards are made in the amount of $2,000 a year and are renewable in the second year. Application deadline is January 15.

Authorized by the Indian Education Act, the program provides fellowships to Indian students for:

Undergraduate and graduate degree programs in business administration, engineering, natural resources, and related fields.
Graduate degree programs in education, law, medicine, and related fields.

Fellowships are available to Indian students who demonstrate financial aid need and are based on the following definition:

The term "Indian" means any individual who (1) is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians, including those tribes, bands or groups terminated since 1940 and those recognized by the State in which they reside, or who is a descendant in the first or second degree of any such member, or (2) is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose, or (3) is an Eskimo, or Aleut, or other Alaska Native.

The deadline date for postmark or delivery of applications for new starts is set in early September each year.

INTERNATIONAL CHIROPRACTORS ASSOCIATION (ICA) provides information about scholarships to students desiring to pursue careers in chiropractic. Upon request, ICA will send a list of chiropractic colleges. Information may be obtained by contacting International Chiropractors Association, 1901 L Street, N.W., Suite 800, Washington, D.C. 20036.

KANSAS CITY SPEECH PATHOLOGY AWARD ($1,000). For Kappa members and nonmembers for an 8-week period of clinical training in the Speech Pathology Service of the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, New York University Medical Center, New York 10016.

Send self-addressed, stamped envelope to address cited at beginning of entry for details and application. Deadline date, February 15.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA SCHOLARSHIPS. Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbia, Ohio 43216.

This Fraternity annually offers scholarships to women students who are juniors or seniors in college or graduate students working toward a degree in rehabilitation. Applicants must have completed 2 years of study on a campus where there is a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma or be a graduate student on a campus where there is a chapter. These scholarships for both members and nonmembers are for preparation for work with the mentally retarded, physically handicapped, the socially deprived, the emotionally disturbed, learning disabled, and the aged. All applicants must be citizens of the United States or Canada. Undergraduate awards are for $300 to $500. Graduate awards are for $300 to $1,000.

NATIONAL MEDICAL FELLOWSHIPS, INC. Financial support is available for U.S. citizens who are members of groups currently underrepresented in the medical profession—Black Americans, American Indians, Mexican Americans, and mainland Puerto Ricans. An applicant must have been admitted as a first-year student or expect to be a second-year student at a medical school which is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges. Awards are based primarily on financial need. Incoming students should apply as soon as they are accepted by a medical school. Application blanks may be obtained from National Medical Fellowship, 254 West 31st Street, New York, New York 10001-2813, after January 1 of the year in which the student expects to enter medical school.
Under authority of Section 472 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended, the National Institutes of Health supports National Research Service Awards through institutional training grants and individual postdoctoral fellowships. Individuals appointed as trainees on the grant must be citizens or non-citizen nationals of the United States, or must have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and have an Alien Registration Receipt Card (I-151 or I-155) at the time of appointment.

Institutional Training Grants: Grants are awarded to domestic, non-profit, private or public institutions to develop or enhance pre-doctoral and postdoctoral research training opportunities for selected individuals who are interested in careers in biomedical and behavioral research.

Individual Postdoctoral Fellowships: Awards are made at the postdoctoral level to individuals interested in receiving training experience in biomedical and behavioral research.

POPULATION COUNCIL BIO-MEDICAL FELLOWSHIPS. To further research and training in the physiology of reproduction, biochemistry, endocrinology, immunology, and steroid chemistry, previous participation in some aspect of medical or biological research in the field of reproductive physiology is generally required; however, work in related areas may be substituted in some cases. Write to Fellowship Secretary, The Population Council, 1230 York Avenue, New York, New York 10021.

PROFESSIONAL NURSE TRAINEESHIP PROGRAM. Department of Health and Human Services, Public Health Service, Health Resources and Services Administration, Bureau of Health Professions, Division of Nursing, Rockville, Maryland 20857.

To prepare registered nurses to: a) teach in the various fields of nurse training (including practical nurse training), b) serve in administrative or supervisory capacities, c) serve as nurse practitioners, or d) serve in other professional nursing specialties determined by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to require advanced training. Traineeships are awarded to currently licensed professional nurses through grants to public or nonprofit private institutions providing master's and doctoral nursing programs to prepare nurses as teachers, researchers, administrators, nurse practitioners, or other nursing specialists. Programs must meet guidelines and regulations prescribed by the Secretary. Trainees are selected by participating training institutions in accordance with the institution's admission policies and the purpose of the traineeship program.

Tuition and fees as established by the institution; stipends not to exceed $6,552 per annum; and a maximum of 36 months of study. A candidate for a traineeship shall be a citizen of the United States or have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence; a graduate of a State-approved school of nursing and currently licensed as a professional nurse in a State or Territory of the United States; and able to enroll full-time in a course of study. Applications are mailed annually to eligible institutions. Students should request application forms and further information from the dean of the nursing program at the institution of their choice.

Graduate fellowships are also offered to members and nonmembers with high academic standing in fields other than rehabilitation. The same qualifications are required as for the rehabilitation scholarships.

INTERNATIONAL

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INDIAN STUDIES (AIIS). American Institute of Indian Studies, University of Chicago, 1130 East 59th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60637.

The AIIS offers research fellowships in Indian in the following categories:

Senior Research (post-Ph.D. research), Junior Research (graduate student research for Ph.D.), Scholarly Development (for professionals affiliated with educational or artistic institutions wanting to further their careers with in-depth study in India), and Translation (to support translations of Indian texts into English).

Applications may be requested from the AIIS, 1130 East 59th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60637.

The Social Science Research Council and the American Council of Learned Societies provide fellowships for international doctoral dissertation research and grants to scholars holding the Ph.D. degree for international research. Applicants for the dissertation fellowships must have completed all work toward the doctorate except the dissertation by the time they take the fellowship. The fellowship provides 9-18 months in the field and an additional 6 months write-up period at the home university after satisfactory completion of the field work. The areas of study include Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean, the Near and Middle East, Western Europe, and International Peace and Security Studies.

Postdoctoral grants are available for research in or on Africa, China, Eastern Europe, Japan, Korea, Latin America and the Caribbean, the Near and Middle East, South Asia, Southeast Asia, Western Europe, the Comparative Study of Muslim Societies, and International Peace and Security Studies.

Applicants for some programs must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States. Fellowships and grants range between $3,000 and $25,000, depending upon the program. In requesting an application, each applicant must provide the Social Science Research Council with adequate information about educational background and citizenship. The deadline for applications for dissertation fellowships is November 1, and December 1 for the postdoctoral grants. Awards for both programs are announced by April 1 of the following year.
INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT INTERN PROGRAM. The International Development Intern (IDI) Program trains qualified persons to become career Foreign Service Officers who will assume positions of increasing responsibility for planning, implementing, and managing A.I.D.'s foreign economic assistance programs. Interns develop the specialized talents A.I.D.'s programs require, and are immersed in the professional international development network to which they will belong.

Starting salaries for IDIs are based upon academic and professional qualifications. Foreign Service pay scales are set by Congress and reviewed annually for cost-of-living adjustments.

Interns are reimbursed for their own and their dependent's travel to Washington, D.C., and shipment of household goods.

At overseas posts, Interns receive nontaxable quarters allowance or fees, nontaxable government housing, as well as nontaxable cost-of-living allowance where the cost of living is higher than in Washington, D.C. They also receive an education allowance for dependent children at post or away. A differential (taxable) of 10-25 percent of basic salary may be paid for service at designated overseas hardship posts with difficult living conditions.

- Education: For most target positions, a graduate degree in one of the following is required: agriculture, agricultural economics, economics education, housing/urban development, international relations, population, planning, public health/nutrition, public or business administration, or other closely related disciplines.

- Experience: Two or more years of pertinent professional experience is required for most target positions.

- Foreign Language: Foreign language proficiency is required for tenure in the Foreign Service. IDIs must have foreign language proficiency or they will receive training prior to employment. Preferred languages are French, Spanish, and Arabic, spoken in the developing countries.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH (ITT) FELLOWSHIPS. Established to encourage the exchange of ideas and skills between the United States and foreign countries in the interest of improved understanding and communication; administered by the Institute of International Education. Candidates must have earned the bachelor's degree or its equivalent prior to the beginning date of the award. U.S. applicants currently enrolled should obtain information from the Fulbright Program Advisor on their campuses; others should write to Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, New York 10017. Attn: U.S. Student Programs.

This training program makes grants available to Black students entering law school in the fall.

Request for application must be submitted in writing. Deadline for filing application is March 15. Decisions are made in June and July.

GRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM: NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF JUSTICE. Send to Announcement, Graduate Research Fellowship Program, National Criminal Justice Reference Service, Box 6000, Rockville, Maryland 20850.

The Graduate Research Fellowship Program provides a limited number of Fellowships which will be awarded to doctoral candidates through sponsoring universities, to support students engaged in the research and writing of a doctoral dissertation in the areas of crime, crime prevention, criminal behavior or criminal justice. Applicants must have completed all degree requirements except for the research, writing and defense of the dissertation and, if required, an internship, prior to awarding of the grant.

The Graduate Research Fellowship Program is competitive. Only a limited number of fellowship grants can be awarded each year. Proposals that address significant issues presently confronting criminal justice in the United States are especially encouraged.

Graduate students from eligible institutions interested in competing for a fellowship must submit a brief (approximately 10 type written pages), double-spaced concept paper describing the proposed research and methodology. The concept paper should include the following: title page, background statements, sponsor's statement, concept paper narrative, and budget.

The U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) conducts a program of Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowships in Arms Control and Disarmament. Seven rounds of competition have been held since the program's inception in 1978, and 41 awards have been made. Named in honor of the Agency's Congressional "founding father," the Fellowships are intended to stimulate interest in the study of arms control by supporting unclassified doctoral dissertation research in the field. Candidates for the J.D. (law) are also eligible for Fellowships. This program is part of the Agency's legislatively mandated responsibilities for the "conduct, support, and coordination of research for arms control and disarmament policy formulation." Students in a wide range of academic disciplines—including, but not limited to, political science, economics, law, sociology, psychology, physics, chemistry, biology, engineering, philosophy, public policy, operations research, and area studies—may apply.
Applicants must be U.S. citizens or nationals at the time of application and recipients must have completed academic requirements at a U.S. college or university for the doctorate (excluding dissertation) by the date the Fellowship begins. J.D. candidates are also eligible if they will receive 20 percent of the required third-year academic credits for the writing of a research paper.

The basic Fellowships are awarded for Ph.D. dissertation research and are normally for a period of 12 months commencing in either September or January. Each Fellow will receive a stipend of $5,000. In addition, ACDA will pay any applicable tuition and fees for 1 year up to a maximum of $3,400 to the institution in which the Fellow is enrolled. For J.D. candidates, who unlike Ph.D. candidates do not devote a full year to research, the Fellowship stipend of $5,000 and the tuition grant of up to $3,400 will be prorated dividing the number of credits assigned to the writing of the J.D. paper by the total number of credits required by the Fellow's law school; in no case, however, shall the stipend be smaller than $1,000, nor shall the tuition be less than 20 percent of the tuition charged by the law school.

No applicant will be eligible for more than one Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship, although in exception cases extension for Ph.D. candidates of up to 3 additional months may be granted (prorated at $420 per month).

Provides fellowships to Indian students for:

- Undergraduate and graduate degree programs in business administration, engineering, natural resources, and related fields.
- Graduate degree programs in education, law, medicine, psychology, related fields.

Fellowships are available to Indian students who demonstrate financial need and are based on the following definition:

The term "Indian" means any individual who (1) is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians, including those tribes, bands, or groups terminated since 1940 and those recognized by the State in which they reside, or who is a descendant in the first or second degree of any such member, or (2) is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose, or (3) is an Eskimo, Aleut, or other Alaska Native.

The deadline date for postmark or delivery of applications is September each year.

POLITICAL SCIENCE/PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

The American Political Science Association (APSA) provides fellowships to prospective Black political science graduate students. Awards are made in the amount of $6,000, and the APSA attempts to have the college or university cover tuition.

The application deadline is December 1.

The American Political Science Association (APSA) provides fellowships to prospective Chicano and Latino political science graduate students. Awards are made in the amount of $6,000, and the APSA attempts to have the college or university cover tuition.

The application deadline is December 1.

This program provides a limited number of appointments for Fellows to work directly with Members of Congress on their committee or personal staffs. Fellows will, as a priority assignment, be placed with Congressional committees that are relevant to their academic training and/or field or expertise.

Categories and duration of Fellowship appointments:

Senior Congressional Fellows (SCF). Individuals who have completed graduate degree requirements. University or college faculty members on sabbatical may also qualify under this category. SCF will serve for 9 months from October 1 through July 1.

Congressional Fellows (CF). Individuals who are in the process of completing graduate degree requirements. Duration of appointments are the same as for SCF.

SCF will be compensated at the annual rate of $15,000 and CF at $12,000. Fringe benefits to be included only for SCF and CF will consist of annual and sick leave accumulation to be forfeited if not used by completion of the appointment.

Application and supporting materials must be received by April 30.

CONGRESSIONAL FELLOWSHIPS. Dr. Catherine E. Rudder, Director, Congressional Fellowship Program, American Political Science Association, 1527 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036

The American Political Science Association plans to award Congressional Fellowships to four political scientists and four journalists. Recipients receive a stipend of $20,000 and an additional travel allowance to work on Capitol Hill from December to August. A month's orientation period in November will be followed by numerous conferences with Members of the Congress during the remainder of the year. Each Fellow spends 9 months working as a full-time aide to Members of the House and Senate, or on the staff of a Congressional committee.

Applicants who are political scientists must have completed a Ph.D. in political science within the last 15 years or be near completion. Journalists must have a bachelor's degree and between 2 and 10 years of professional experience in newspaper, magazine, radio, or television reporting.

Applications must be submitted prior to December 1 annually; awards are announced by March 15.

FELLOWSHIPS ON WOMEN AND PUBLIC POLICY. January-July yearly, Maud Easter, Coordinator, Fellowship on Women and Public Policy, Center for Women in Government, Room 302, Draper Hall, State University of New York at Albany, 1400 Washington Avenue, Albany, New York 12222, (518) 442-3900.

The program, funded by the Revson Foundation and others, is designed to develop specialists in policy issues of concern to women, while increasing the capacity of the New York State government to address such issues. The program is administered by the Center for Women in Government, Graduate School of Public Affairs, State University of New York at Albany.

Fellowships combine academic work and placement with a New York State Legislator or agency. Fellows will work 30 hours a week as staff members on issues such as health, economic development, child welfare, insurance, and on other areas of concern to women. The Fellowship is a full-time commitment. Fellows participate in three seminars (12 credits) designed to complement their placements while providing a comprehensive perspective on policy making and its impact on women and families.

The Fellowship Program carries a stipend of $9,250. A maximum of 10 Fellowships are awarded each year. To be eligible, applicants must be graduate students in colleges and universities within New York State.

Additional information on eligibility, program requirements and application deadlines can be obtained from the address listed with the entry.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS FELLOWSHIPS, JOHN F. KENNEDY SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT. Institute of Politics, John Fitzgerald Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University, 79 John F. Kennedy Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

The program for Fellows is central to the Institute's dual commitment to encouraging student interest and competence in public life and to developing more effective ways in which the academic and political communities may share their resources. Criteria governing selection include: significant political or governmental experience; ability to relate well to students, faculty, and colleagues; and promise of future contribution in public affairs. Fellows are drawn from among elected politicians, private group and interest leaders, movement leaders and community organizers, political consultants, program administrators, and policy analysts. Six Fellows are selected each academic semester.

Through grants of fellowships to institutions of higher education, this program assists in making available the benefits of post-baccalaureate education to graduate and professional students who demonstrate financial need and who plan to pursue a career in public service, especially at the State and local levels. Public service fellowships are intended to provide opportunities for qualified students, particularly minorities and women who have traditionally been underrepresented in these areas.

The maximum stipend to any fellow is $10,000 for a 12-month period, or the fellow's financial need, whichever is less, dispensed on a monthly basis. Institutions receive an institutional allowance in the amount of $6,000 for a 12-month period for each fellow enrolled in the program. Tuition and non-refundable fees are waived for the fellow.

RELIGION/THEOLOGY

This program offers financial assistance to outstanding Black North American men and women who are committed vocationally to one of the ordained ministries of the Christian Church. Funds assist with expenses for study toward the Master of Divinity Degree. The Fellowship may be renewed for a maximum of 2 years beyond the initial grant, if awarded at the commencement of study for the Master of Divinity Degree.

Candidates must be Black citizens of the United States or Canada and at least graduating seniors from a college or university at the time of nomination. Candidates already attending a fully accredited seminary are also eligible for consideration. In addition, the candidates should demonstrate evidence of academic competence and clear vocational promise for effectiveness in ministrial ordination within their communion.

Fellows must attend or be attending a theological school that is fully accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

Direct applications are not accepted. Each candidate must be nominated by a member of the clergy, a member of a faculty or administration, or a former Fellow of programs administered by the Fund. The nomination need only give the name and current address of the nominees. Application forms will be sent by the Fund office directly to the nominee.

The deadline for nominations is November 10. Awards are announced by mid-March of each year.

CHARLOTTE W. NEWCOMBE DOCTORAL DISSERTATION FELLOWSHIPS is supported by the Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation and administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation. Applicants must be enrolled in a graduate school in the United States, and must have completed all requirements of the doctorate except the dissertation. Dissertation topics must concern ethical or religious values in the humanities and social sciences and encourage original and significant study of ethical or religious values in all fields. Write to Newcombe Fellowships, Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, Box 642, Princeton, New Jersey 08542.

This Fellowship enables Black North American graduate students in the field of religion to complete their graduate program. In addition, the Fellowship Program intends to aid these persons to move into religious scholarship and teaching as soon as possible. Fellows of this program are expected to complete their dissertation during the year of the fellowship award.

Candidates must be Black, citizens of the United States or Canada, and members of a Christian Church. Nominations will be accepted only for candidates who have: (1) all field examinations completed and (2) have a prospectus or dissertation proposal approved by the appropriate faculty committee by the time the candidates are interviewed by the Final Selection Committee of the Funds. The candidates do not have to have been "Former Fellows" of the Fund to be eligible.

The awards are based upon actual need. Stipends may be supplemented with other fellowships or financial assistance from family, school, foundations, etc. However, the purpose of this particular stipend is to "buy time" for the candidate to complete the writing of the dissertation.

Direct applications are not accepted. Each candidate must be nominated by a vote of the faculty with whom the candidate is currently studying, with additional assurance that the candidate will, in fact, complete dissertation during the upcoming academic year. There is no limit to the number of candidates any one faculty can nominate, if each candidate meets the criteria.

Nominations are due in the New York office no later than February 20. Forms will be sent directly to the nominees. The nominees are responsible for all supporting data being received by the New York office no later than March 15. Interviews will be held in the early days of April. Awards will be announced in mid-April.

DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS FOR THE STUDY OF RELIGION FOR HISPANIC AMERICANS. The

This program financially aids Hispanic-Americans who seek the doctoral degree in a field of religious studies and who evidence high promise for scholarship and teaching effectiveness. It intends to encourage graduate departments of religion and theological schools to admit and support Hispanic doctoral candidates; to provide adequate financial and vocational support for such candidates; to publicize the dramatic need for and contributions of Hispanic teachers of religion, both at the university/college level and at the seminary level; and to support a growing number of highly trained Hispanic-American scholars in the field of religion.
Candidates must be Hispanic, citizens of the United States or Canada, and members of a Christian Church. Nominations will be accepted for candidates who are: (1) at least graduating seniors in an accrediting college or university, intending to go directly into a Ph.D. program; (2) currently graduating from a first-degree theological program at a seminary; (3) currently in other degree programs, but now intend to commence study for a Ph.D. or Th.D. in a field of religious studies; (4) have completed no more than 1 year of course work toward the Ph.D. or Th.D. degree. (Applicants in this category, if designated as a fellowship recipient, will not be eligible for a renewal fellowship.)

All new applicants MUST BE ENROLLED OR HAVE BEEN ACCEPTED in a degree program by the time of the interviews. Interviews will be conducted in mid-April of each year.

Direct applications are not accepted. Each candidate must be nominated by a vote of the faculty with whom the candidate is currently studying or by a vote of the Committee for Advanced Degrees of the school admitting the candidate to a Ph.D. or Th.D. program. There is no limit to the number of candidates any one faculty may nominate, provided they meet the criteria outlined above.

Nominations are due in the New York office not later than February 20 of each year. After receipt of nominations, application forms will then be sent to nominees. The nominee is responsible for forwarding the application and supporting data to the New York office no later than March 15. Interviews will be held in early April. Awards will be announced around May 1.

The Program provides financial assistance to outstanding Hispanic Americans who are committed vocationally to one of the ordained ministries of the Christian Church. Funds assist with expenses for the final year of college/university study as well as for the years of study toward the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent. The fellowship may be renewed for a maximum of 3 years beyond the initial award. No mid-year fellowships are awarded.

Candidates must be Hispanic, citizens of the United States or Canada, and at least juniors in an accredited college or university. In addition, candidates must demonstrate evidence of academic competency and clear vocational promise for effectiveness in ministry. Candidates already attending a fully accredited seminary are also eligible for consideration.

Fellows may attend or be attending a theological school that is fully accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States or Canada.

Direct applications are not accepted. Each candidate must be nominated by someone of the clergy, of a faculty, or an administration, or by a former Fellow of programs administered by the Fund for Theological Education. The name and current address of the nominee should be sent to the address above. Application forms will be sent directly to the nominee.
The deadline for nominations is November 10. Awards are announced by mid-March of each year.

NATIVE AMERICAN SEMINARY SCHOLARSHIPS. Native American Seminary Scholarships Vocation Agency - PC (U.S.A.), Room 430, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, New York 10015.

Seminary scholarships are available to Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos who are U.S. citizens, or permanent resident members of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), and who qualify under one of the following categories:

A seminary student preparing for a professional church occupation and enrolled in a seminary fully accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada. Applicant must be a candidate under care of Presbytery.

A person who is an official Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) occupation candidate and who is in a college program or Track I of the Native American Theological Association (NATA) Program.

A Presbyterian person who is enrolled in a program of Theological Education by Extension, such as the NATA Track III Program, which is approved by a seminary fully accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

A Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) occupation candidate, minister, or person in another church occupation pursuing an approved program of continuing education.

Contact the financial aid officer at the seminary or other institution of study who makes recommendations to the Vocation Agency.

The program financially assists outstanding men and women who are willing to give serious vocational consideration to the ordained ministeries of the Christian Church, and outstanding men and women who are already candidates for Ministry. It involves persons throughout Canada and the United States.

Men and women who are at least graduating seniors from college/universities or who have a bachelor's degree and who are citizens of the United States or Canada are eligible for nomination. All candidates must be prepared to enroll in a theological school the autumn following receipt of their award. No mid-year grants are made. The fellowships are not renewable. Persons already attending a theological school are not eligible to be nominated for consideration.

Candidates may apply to any seminary fully accredited with the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

Direct applications are not accepted. Each candidate must be nominated by a minister, faculty member, or former Fellow of programs administered by the Fund for Theological Education. The letter of nomination, giving only the name and current address of the nominee, must be received in New York no later than November 10 of each year. Application forms are sent directly to the nominee. Applicants are expected to have begun the application process with the seminary of their choice as early as possible. The award announcements will be made by mid-March of each year.

SOCIAL/BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES/SOCIAL WORK

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION MINORITY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM. Dr. James M. Jones, Director, APA Minority Fellowship Program, 1200 - 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

This Program, funded by the National Institute for Mental Health and American Psychological Association, provides support to students who have demonstrated commitment to research and involvement in minority issues, mental health and behavioral sciences. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or permanent visa residents but are not limited to those who are Black, Spanish-speaking, Native American, Japanese, Chinese, Korean, Filipino, Samoan, Hawaiian, and Guamanian. Individuals applying to the program must demonstrate potential for success in graduate studies, financial need, and qualify for or be enrolled in a Ph.D. program.

A stipend of $6,552 will be granted per academic year to cover tuition and book allowances. Individual fellowships are awarded for 1 year and are renewable for 2 additional years.

Approximately 10 fellowships are provided each year for minority students seeking the Ph.D. in sociology. A maximum of up to $6,552 is provided. Arrangements for the payment of tuition will be made with the university or department.

Applicants must be American citizens or have permanent residence status, including but not limited to persons who are Black, Hispanic (e.g., Chicano, Cuban, Puerto Rican), American Indian, and Asian American (e.g., Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Filipino, Samoan, Hawaiian, Guamanian).

BOURSES CHATEAUBRIAND. Ambassade de France - Services Culturels, 972 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10021.

The French Government will be offering some research fellowships--"Bourses Chateaubriand"--for doctoral candidates who specialize in the social sciences and whose dissertation will be on contemporary France. These candidates have to be American citizens and registered in an American university.

Literary and art history subjects are excluded from this program. Sufficient proficiency in written and spoken French is required. Applications must be filed by January 1. Final selection will be announced in April.
The Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) has established a fellowship program designed to increase the representation of various minority groups among Ph.D. degree recipients in the following social science fields: anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, psychology, and sociology.

Fellowships may be used at any one of the 11 CIC universities (University of Chicago, University of Illinois, Indiana University, University of Iowa, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Ohio State University, Purdue University, and University of Wisconsin).

Funded by a grant from the Lilly Endowment, Inc., each award provides full tuition and an annual stipend of $8,000 for each of two academic years. Two additional years of support are provided by the universities as long as Fellows make normal progress toward the Ph.D.

All applicants must be U.S. citizens and recipients must pursue programs of study leading to Ph.D. degrees and must be accepted as graduate students by at least one of the CIC universities. The fellowships can be used only at the CIC universities.

A single application form can be used to apply for both the fellowship and admission to up to three of the CIC universities listed.
SECTION VI

POSTDOCTORAL OPPORTUNITIES

ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIPS. Offers opportunities to pursue specific research projects at universities or research institutes in the Federal Republic of Germany including West Berlin. Awarded for periods of 6 to 12 months with extension up to 24 months possible. Candidate must present evidence of academic qualification equivalent to the doctorate (Ph.D.); have sufficient knowledge of German (German language stipends available); be no older than 40 years of age; present evidence of employment in independent research work at the university level; and have scientific publications to his/her credit. Research Fellowships range between 2,700 and 3,500 DM monthly net according to qualification.

Special Program: Senior U.S. Scientist Awards are granted to outstanding U.S. scientists in recognition of past accomplishments in research and teaching, thereby promoting scientific cooperation between institutions in the Federal Republic of Germany and in the United States of America. The Award consists of a cash amount ranging from 25,000 to 120,000 DM and the right to stay for an extended period at research institutes in the Federal Republic of Germany. Nominations only by German scientists. For information on the programs described above, write to Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, Jean-Paul Strasse 12, D-5300 Bonn 2, Federal Republic of Germany.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIPS. For information on programs listed below, write to Educational Foundation Programs Office, AAUW, 2401 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037.

1. American Fellowships.
   b. Postdoctoral Fellowships. For women who hold the doctorate at the time of application.
   c. Fellowships to American Women in Selected Professions.
2. International Fellowships.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY. Write to Research Department, American Cancer Society, 90 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

1. Postdoctoral Fellowships. Designed to enable a young investigator to qualify for an independent career in cancer research.
2. Physician's Research Training Fellowships. Awarded to physicians to help train them in research.
The American Cancer Society also sponsors Junior Faculty Research Awards, Faculty Research Awards, Scholars in Cancer Research, Research Professorships, and Clinical Research Professorships. Write to the above address for details.

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF LEARNED SOCIETIES. Postdoctoral or equivalent; also grants for dissertation research on China. Write to American Council of Learned Societies, 228 East 45th Street, New York, New York 10017.

1. Fellowships and grants-in-aid for research in the humanities broadly defined.

2. Grants in the humanities and social sciences for research on China and East European areas.

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION. Postdoctoral field of cardio-vascular function and disease and allied fundamental problems. Write to Division of Research Administration, American Heart Association, 7320 Greenville Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75231.

1. British-American Research Fellowship. This award is considered an additional training experience open to individuals who are perhaps not yet clearly qualified to conduct independent research. These Fellowships are open to U.S. citizens who seek research training in British institutions.

2. Clinician-Scientist Awards. This award is to encourage promising clinically trained physicians to undertake careers in investigative science. Awardees will be supported during an initial 3 year period of rigorous, full-time research training under a preceptor, and during a subsequent period in which they will be expected to initiate an independent investigative program in a clinical department in the sponsoring institution.

3. Established Investigatorships. This award is to assist promising physicians and scientists to develop independent research careers in academic medicine.

Other awards are available from the American Heart Association. Application guidelines can be obtained from the address listed above.

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY. Write to the American Museum of Natural History, Central Park West at 79th Street, New York, New York 10024.

1. Lerner-Gray Fund for Marine Research. Provides modest financial assistance, normally unavailable from large foundations and granting agencies, to scientists starting careers in marine biology. The awards can be used for marine biological research anywhere in the world.

2. Frank M. Chapman Fund.

3. Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Fund.
AMERICAN/SCANDINAVIAN FOUNDATION. The Foundation administers a number of fellowships and grants offering awards to outstanding American men and women for advanced study in their fields of specialization in the Scandinavian countries (Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden).

Deadline for receipt of application is November 2.

ARTHITIS FOUNDATION. For information on programs listed below, write to Research Department, The Arthritis Foundation, 1314 Spring Street, N.W., Atlanta, Georgia 30309.

1. Postdoctoral Fellowships.
2. Arthritis Investigator Award.
3. Arthritis Fellowships for Allied Health Professionals for nurses and other health professionals in arthritis research, teaching, and implementation of creative patient care services.

CANADIAN HEART FOUNDATION RESEARCH AWARDS. Write to Canadian Heart Foundation, Suite 1200, One Nicholas Street, Ottawa, Ontario KIN 7B7, Canada.

1. Research Fellowships. To provide funds for research development and training in the cardiovascular field. Graduate and postdoctoral. Applicant must arrange for admission to an approved institution and must submit a statement of acceptance from the department or other head.

2. Research Scholarships. To support individuals who have demonstrated ability for research and desire to undertake independent research in the cardiovascular field. Applicant must have the MD or Ph.D. degree or the equivalent. Applicant must be proposed by a university or affiliated institution which is expected to guarantee the applicant an appropriate rank if he/she is awarded a scholarship.

CENTER FOR ADVANCED STUDY IN THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES--POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS. Includes the behavioral and biomedical sciences, humanities, certain specialties in statistics and computer science. The Center provides scholars of exceptional achievement or promise free time (with financial support in most cases equal to one-half the Fellows salary for the preceding academic year) to devote to their own study and to associate with colleagues in the same or related disciplines. The fellowship year must be spent at the Center. The Center welcomes nominations at any time from academic officers and leading scholars. Write to Director, Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, 202 Junipero Serra Boulevard, Stanford, California 94305.

1. Fulbright Awards for University Teaching and Advanced Research.
   a. American Scholars. Announcement of openings in March and April, 12-18 months in advance.
b. Scholars-in-Residence. Approximately 150 awards annually to foreign scholars who are invited by U.S. institutions to lecture for an academic year or term. Preference given to humanities and social sciences. U.S. institutions submit applications to CIES.

2. Indo- Fellowships Program. Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the doctorate or equivalent professional level.

3. Spain Postdoctoral Research Fellowships.

The objective of the CAAS Fellowship Program is to identify and support scholars of high ability engaged in postdoctoral work in the social sciences and humanities on the Afro American, African, and Caribbean experiences of men and women of color. Applications are accordingly invited for 2 one-year fellowships, and a stipend of up to $30,000 (including benefits) from candidates who should be not more than seven years beyond completion of their doctoral degrees. Each candidate must describe a plan of research, and make clear how this plan will be accomplished. Fellows will also be expected to conduct a CAAS work-in-progress seminar during one of their semesters in residence.

EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION FOR FOREIGN MEDICAL GRADUATES. Graduates of medical schools outside the United States and Canada may be eligible for residencies and fellowships in accredited training programs in United States hospitals. Write to Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104.

EUROPEAN ORGANIZATION FOR NUCLEAR RESEARCH (CERN). Candidates for fellowships must be nationals of Member States (14 European countries); individuals of any nationality may apply for Scientific Associate appointments. All candidates must have postgraduate research experience in particle physics. Fields are fundamental, theoretical and experimental studies of sub-nuclear physics phenomena and related development, and research in the applied sciences, engineering, and computer technology. Write to Fellows and Associates Service, European Organization for Nuclear Research (CERN), 1211 Geneva 23, Switzerland.

The Social Science Research Council and the American Council of Learned Societies provide fellowships for international doctoral dissertation research and grants to scholars holding the Ph.D. degree for international research. Applicants for the dissertation fellowships must have completed all work toward the doctorate except the dissertation by the time they take the fellowship. The fellowship provides 9 to 18 months in the field and an additional 6 months write-up-period at the home university after satisfactory completion of the field work. The areas of study include Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean, the Near and Middle East, Western Europe, and International Peace and Security Studies.
Postdoctoral grants are available for research in or on China, Africa, Eastern Europe, Japan, Korea, Latin America and the Caribbean, the Near and Middle East, South Asia, Southeast Asia, Western Europe, the Comparative Study of Muslim Societies, and International Peace and Security Studies.

Applicants for some programs must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States. Fellowships and grants range between $3,000 and $25,000, depending upon the program. In requesting an application each applicant must provide the Social Science Research Council with adequate information about educational background and citizenship. The deadline for applications for the dissertation fellowship is November 1, and December 1 for the postdoctoral grants. Awards for both programs are announced by April 1 of the following year.

FIELD RESEARCH GRANTS. The Center for Field Research, 680 Mount Auburn Street, * Box 403, Watertown, Massachusetts 02172.

Private grants for field research are offered for field research anywhere in the world in humanitie and sciences that need volunteers and funds. Grants range from $5,000 to $50,000, with the average being $18,000.

Volunteers have been used to excavate, map, photograph, observe animal behavior, gather ethnographic data, assist during operations, and share all field chores of expedition research.

Full proposals must be submitted not later than 12 months before project date. Peer review decisions are made in 8 weeks.

Postdoctoral (or the equivalent) scholars of any nationality, women, and minority applicants are encouraged to apply. Research teams must include qualified volunteers from EARTHWATCH.

Submit a preliminary proposal to Dr. Turig Johnson, Director, Center for Field Research.

FCRD FOUNDATION DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS FOR MINORITIES.

Predoctoral Fellowships: Approximately 40 Predoctoral Fellowships will be awarded. Each fellowship provides up to a maximum of 3 years of support, with the first year of tenure to begin no later than September 1. Each Predoctoral Fellowship includes an annual stipend of $10,350 paid in 9 or 12 equal monthly installments, and an annual institutional grant of $6,000 paid to the fellowship institution in lieu of tuition and fees.

Dissertation Fellowships: Approximately 10 Dissertation Fellowships will be awarded. Tenures for Dissertation Fellowships will be 12 months, with tenure to begin no later than September 1; Dissertation awards are not renewable. Each Dissertation Fellow receives a stipend of $18,000 paid in equal monthly installments. There will be no institutional grant or dependency or travel allowance.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR PROGRAM. The Council for International Exchange of Scholars has announced the opening of competition for the 1988-89 Fulbright grants in research and university lecturing abroad.

The awards for 1988-89 include 300 grants in research and 700 grants in university lecturing for periods ranging from 3 months to a full academic year. There are openings in over 100 countries and, in some instances, the opportunity for multi-country research is available. Fulbright Awards are granted in virtually all disciplines, and scholars in all academic ranks are eligible to apply. Applications are also encouraged from retired faculty and independent scholars.

Benefits include round-trip travel for the grantee and, for most full academic year awards, one dependent; maintenance allowance to cover living costs of grantee and family; tuition allowance in many countries for school-age children, and book and baggage allowances.

The basic eligibility requirements for a Fulbright Award are U.S. citizenship; Ph.D. or comparable professional qualifications; university or college teaching experience; and, for selected assignments, proficiency in a foreign language. It should be noted that a new policy removes the limit of two Fulbright grants to a single scholar.

Application deadlines for the awards are: June 15 (for Australasia, India, and Latin America, except lecturing awards to Mexico, Venezuela, and the Caribbean); September 15 (for Africa, Asia, Europe, the Middle East, and lecturing awards to Mexico, Venezuela, and the Caribbean); November 1 (for institutional proposals for the Scholar-in-Residence Program); January 1 (for Administrators' Awards in Germany, Japan, and the United Kingdom; the Seminar in German Civilization; the NATO Research Fellowships, and the Spain Research Fellowships); and February 1 (for the France, Italy, and Germany Travel-Only Awards).

For more information and applications, call or write the Council for International Exchange of Scholars, Eleven Dupont Circle, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036-1257, telephone (202) 939-5401.

HELEN HAY WHITNEY FOUNDATION POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS offer 3-year fellowships to young men and women under 35 years of age who hold the M.D., Ph.D., or equivalent degree, and are seeking beginning postdoctoral training in basic biomedical research. Applications from established scientists or advanced fellows will not be considered. Write to the Helen Hay Whitney Foundation, 450 East 63rd Street, New York, New York 10021.

JOHN SIMON GUGGENHEIM MEMORIAL FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIPS has two annual competitions—one open to citizens and permanent residents of the United States and Canada; the other, to citizens and permanent residents of all the other American states, of the Caribbean, of the Philippines, and of the French.
Dutch, and British possessions in the Western Hemisphere. Fields: unrestricted. The purpose is to improve the quality of education and the practice of the arts and professions, to foster research, and to provide for the cause of better international understanding. Awarded to men and women of high intellectual and personal qualifications who have already demonstrated unusual capacity for productive scholarship, or unusual creative ability in the fine arts. The Fellowships are all on advanced professional level; the Foundation does not make training grants. Write to the President, John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, 90 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

MARY INGRAHAM BUNTING INSTITUTE OF RADCLIFFE COLLEGE. The Institute is one of the largest centers in the country awarding postdoctoral fellowships. Residence in the Boston area required during the term of appointment.

Write to the Mary Ingraham Bunting Institute of Radcliffe College, 34 Concord Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138, (617) 745-8212.

1. Bunting Fellowship Program.
2. Science Scholars Fellowship Program.
3. Peace Fellowship.
4. Affiliation (non-stipend).
5. Berkshire Summer Fellowship in History.

MARY INGRAHAM BUNTING INSTITUTE OF RADCLIFFE COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS IN SCIENCE. The Science Scholars Fellowship Program, 1988-89 is for women scientists at any level in their careers in the following science fields: physical and mathematical, environmental, engineering, biological, and psychological. Receipt of doctorate at least 2 years prior to appointment is required. Terms are $20,000 plus research expenses with 2-year appointment for recipients affiliated with laboratory and 1-year for recipients who do not require a laboratory affiliation.

Deadline: October 15. For information and application: Fellowship Program, The Bunting Institute of Radcliffe College, 34 Concord Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138, (617) 495-8212.

MARY INGRAHAM BUNTING INSTITUTE OF RADCLIFFE COLLEGE POSTDOCTORAL PROGRAM. Fellowship programs are designed to support women who wish to pursue independent study in academic and professional fields, in creative writing, in the visual and performing arts and in music and thereby advance their careers. Office or studio space, auditing privileges, and access to libraries and other resources of Radcliffe College and Harvard University are provided. Residence in the Boston area is required during the fellowship appointment.

The program is for women scholars, professionals, creative writers, poets, visual and performing artists, and musicians at various levels of career development.

Receipt of doctorate at least 2 years prior to appointment or the equivalent professional experience for non-academic applicants is required. The stipend is for $17,600 for a 1 year appointment.
Deadline: October 15. For information and application: Fellowship Program, The Bunting Institute of Radcliffe College, 34 Concord Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138, (617) 495-8212.

NRC RESEARCH ASSOCIATESHIPS AND RESIDENT RESEARCH ASSOCIATESHIPS (POSTDOCTORAL AND SENIOR POSTDOCTORAL). Offered in basic and applied physical, biological, and medical sciences, and in some aspects of engineering sciences. Except where it is noted in the laboratory's program description, appointments are available at the senior postdoctoral level to individuals at least 5 years beyond the doctorate whose research experience has resulted in publication and recognition as established contributors in their fields. All programs have a January 15 deadline for receipt of applications; the NASA program and some others have additional deadlines during the year. Please state laboratory (or laboratories) of interest when requesting information. Write to Associateship Programs, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

The National Academy of Sciences sponsors exchange programs of individual scientists with the Academies of Sciences of the USSR, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, the German Democratic Republic (GDR), Hungary, Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia. The disciplines include physics, chemistry, mathematics and computer sciences, earth, atmospheric, and oceanographic sciences, agricultural, forestry, fishery, and plant sciences, biological sciences, environmental sciences, engineering, archeology and anthropology, geography, and psychology. Also included are science and technology policy and those aspects of the economic and social sciences that involve quantitative analysis as a primary consideration. Other scientific disciplines not explicitly mentioned will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

The programs are intended to facilitate exchanges that will lead to significant scientific publications jointly authored by U.S. and foreign colleagues in areas of high scientific interest. Also, the programs are intended to provide American and foreign scientists access to colleagues, specialized facilities, unique data bases, and geographical areas that can significantly enrich research and publications of interest to the U.S. scientific community.

Applications from individuals who possess U.S. citizenship and the doctoral degree, or research training and experience equivalent to a doctoral degree will be considered.

NATIONAL CENTER FOR ATMOSPHERIC RESEARCH (NCAR)--POSTDOCTORAL APPOINTMENTS. Betty Wilson, Administrator, Advanced Study Program, National Center for Atmospheric Research, P.O. Box 3000, Boulder, Colorado. 80307.

NCAR is an independent research institution in Boulder, Colorado. It is operated by the nonprofit University Corporation for Atmospheric Research (UCAR), under sponsorship or the National Science Foundation. Through its Advanced Study Program (ASP), NCAR offers a continuing program of postdoctoral study in the atmospheric sciences.
The postdoctoral program has several related goals. One is to provide an opportunity for talented atmospheric scientists who have recently received their Ph.D.'s to continue their research interests and develop expertise in new areas. The program also seeks to enrich the research talent in the atmospheric sciences by offering an opportunity for highly qualified Ph.D. physicists, chemists, applied mathematicians, engineers, and specialists from other natural scientific disciplines such as biology and geology to apply their training to research in the atmospheric sciences. The NCAR program also includes studies of the interaction of the atmosphere and society.

Interested scientists just receiving the Ph.D. and scientists with no more than 4 years' applicable experience past the Ph.D. are eligible. (Scientists with more experience should apply to the Director of the division in which they would like to work as a Visiting Scientist.)

NATIONAL RESEARCH SERVICE AWARDS. Grants Inquiries Office, Division of Research Grants, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland 20205.

Under authority of Section 472 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended, the National Institute of Health supports National Research Service Awards through institutional training grants and individual postdoctoral fellowships. Individuals appointed as trainees on the grant must be citizens or non-citizen nationals of the United States, or must have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and have an Alien Registration Receipt Card (I-151 or I-155) at time of appointment.

Institutional Training Grants: Grants are awarded to domestic non-profit private or public institutions to develop or enhance predoctoral and postdoctoral research training opportunities for selected individuals who are interested in careers in biomedical and behavioral research.

Individual Postdoctoral Fellowships: Awards are made at the postdoctoral level to individuals interested in receiving training experience in biomedical and behavioral research.

NATO POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS IN SCIENCE. National Science Foundation, Division of Research Career Development, NATO Fellowship Program Office, Room 414, 1800 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20550.

These fellowships, normally awarded for tenure of either 9 or 12 months, are for persons planning to enter or continue postdoctoral study in the sciences at a non-profit institution in NATO-member countries or in those which cooperate closely with NATO. Fields covered are the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and the history and/or philosophy of science as well as interdisciplinary fields comprised of two or more of these sciences. A list of the specific fields supported in this program is included in the application materials.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens or nationals, have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in the sciences, and have, or will have earned doctoral degrees in any of the qualifying fields of science within the past 5 years, or have had research training and experience equivalent to the doctoral degree. Applications are due early in November 1987. Awards will be announced February 1988.
POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS FOR MINORITIES. Supported by the Ford Foundation and administered by the National Research Council. Applicant must: (1) be a citizen or national of the United States by the application deadline date; (2) be a member of one or more of the following ethnic minority groups: American Indian, Alaskan Native (Eskimo or Aleut), Black American, Mexican American/Chicano, Native Pacific Islander (Micronesian or Polynesian), or Puerto Rican; (3) have earned the Ph.D. degree or an equivalent research doctorate or terminal degree in a field for which a Ph.D. is not offered, such as the MFA degree, by the application deadline date. Fields are behavioral and social sciences, humanities, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, biological sciences, and interdisciplinary programs comprised of two or more eligible disciplines. Awards will not be made in professions such as medicine, law, social work, library science, and such areas as business administration and management, educational administration, curriculum development and supervision, teacher training, and personnel and guidance. The purposes are to identify individuals of high ability who are members of minority groups that have been traditionally underrepresented among the Nation's behavioral and social scientists, humanists, engineers, mathematicians, physical scientists, and life scientists, and to enable them to engage in postdoctoral research and scholarship in an environment free from interference from their normal professional duties, to help young teacher-scholars either preparing for or already engaged in college or university teaching and research to achieve greater peer recognition in their respective fields and to develop the professional associations that will make them more effective and productive in academic employment; to identify and support a smaller number of outstanding senior teacher-scholars, providing them with an opportunity for professional enrichment and research. Awarded for research at appropriate nonprofit institutions of higher education or research primarily in the United States, such as research universities, government laboratories, national laboratories, privately sponsored nonprofit institutes, and centers for advanced study. Write to Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

ROCHE INSTITUTE OF MOLECULAR BIOLOGY POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS. Awarded to recent recipients of the MD, Ph.D., or equivalent degree in the biological or biochemical sciences such as biochemistry, genetics, virology, neurobiology, pharmacology, and other areas of molecular biology. Offers basic research training opportunities for approximately 90 postdoctoral Fellows with a choice of over 30 staff members at the Institute. Write to Roche Institute of Molecular Biology, Nutley, New Jersey 07110.

ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION HUMANITIES FELLOWSHIPS. Humanities Fellowships, The Rockefeller Foundation, Division of Arts and Humanities, 1133 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036.

Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowships are offered as year-long or half-year residencies at host institutions selected for their potential to promote scholarship in the humanities. These fellowships support postdoctoral scholars in the humanities and cannot be used for the completion of graduate studies or advanced training. The residencies are intended to make outstanding resources accessible to individual scholars, to promote exchange within and between disciplines, and to strengthen the newer fields in the humanities.
All inquiries about eligibility, stipends, procedures for application and deadlines should be addressed to the residency sites. A list of current host institutions offering Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowships can be obtained by writing to the above mentioned address.

Awards funds to support research by women of Latin American descent or citizenship, including the Caribbean, North, South, and Central American regions, on issues concerning women. Applicants should be doctoral or postdoctoral scholars or individual able to demonstrate that the proposed research will be conducted under standards of scholarship recognized at the doctoral level.

Awards range between $500 and $3,000. Two or three awards are made annually. Applications are available after September 1; completed applications must be postmarked by January 1.

A preliminary letter stating the proposed research subject, academic level, and Latina descent or citizenship must accompany the request for an application.

The Smithsonian Institution offers fellowships and internships for research and study in fields which are actively pursued by the museums and research organizations of the Institution.

Predoctoral and postdoctoral fellowships of 6 months to 1 year duration and senior postdoctoral fellowships of 3 months to 1 year duration are available. Graduate student fellowships are available for 10 weeks. Deadline for applications to the predoctoral, postdoctoral, senior postdoctoral, and graduate student fellowship program is January 15 annually. Others vary.

The Smithsonian offers faculty fellowships for minority scholars, awarded to provide opportunities for minority faculty members to conduct research in association with members of the Smithsonian professional research staff, using facilities and collections of the Institution. Awards may be made for 2 to 4 months, and stipends are determined by the appointee’s faculty status. Deadline is February 15 of each year.

WOODS HOLE OCEANOGRAPHIC INSTITUTION. Tenable at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution only. The programs are:

2. Postdoctoral Scholar Awards in Ocean Science and Engineering.
3. Summer Student Fellowships. Awards to upperclass undergraduates or beginning graduates studying at colleges or universities in any of the fields of science or engineering with at least a tentative interest in oceanography and/or marine policy.
4. Traineeships in Oceanography for Minority Group Undergraduates.
Awarded to minority undergraduates who are enrolled in U.S. colleges or universities and have completed at least 2 semesters of undergraduate study. These awards provide a training and research experience in Woods Hole for students who have academic interests in physical or natural science, mathematics or engineering. Traineeships may be awarded for a 10-to-12-week period in the summer or for a semester during the academic year and may be renewed the following year. A Trainee is paid the same salary as that paid other employees with similar experience. In addition, the Trainee receives the cost of round-trip travel to Woods Hole.

5. Postdoctoral Investigator Appointments.

Write to Dean of Graduate Studies, Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, Woods Hole, Massachusetts 02543.
