The guide, developed by the Secondary Transition and Employment Project (STEP) in Idaho, is intended to provide students with moderate handicaps with systematic individual assessment of vocational preferences and instruction in work-related skills. The curriculum stresses parent involvement, vocational training beginning at the 7th or 8th grade levels, a cyclical approach with initial activities later repeated in more advanced or complex forms, hands-on and real life experiences, and remediation of social deficits. The curriculum is organized by broad goals. Goals 1 and 2 involve collecting and summarizing information about students' functional life skills and their vocational interests and experiences. Goals 3 and 4 are designed to help students explore individual vocational preferences by gathering information. Goal 5 gives students experience in observing work, determining skills required, and analyzing their ability to do specific jobs. Students also develop basic skills essential for obtaining employment including using the telephone, scheduling appointments, and participating in an information interview. Sample lesson plans and forms are included in the module. Lessons may be incorporated into an existing life skills special education class or presented as a separate course which might include nonhandicapped students. A description and a listing of responsible persons, materials/forms, products/outcome, and suggested start/completion date are provided for each suggested activity. Appendixes provide forms used in implementing each goal. (DB)

CAREER EXPLORATION FOR STUDENTS WITH MODERATE HANDICAPS

This curriculum was developed for students with moderate handicaps to provide systematic individual assessment of vocational preferences and instruction in work-related skills. Students participating in career exploration activities will learn to analyze their job skills and preferences in relation to work which they observe at school and in the community. To accommodate the learning needs of students with handicaps, the curriculum is based on several considerations. First, parents and students should be integrally involved in planning the curriculum. Second, vocational training should begin early, preferably at the 7th or 8th grade level, and should be cyclical in nature, with students participating in activities and then returning to expanded versions of the same activities or engaging in more complex activities in subsequent grades. In this way students may be introduced to skills in 7th grade and provided opportunities to master these skills in later grades: when skill acquisition is problematical, the teacher can create adaptations to materials or routines. Third, teachers should take advantage of every opportunity to use real-life materials, hands-on experiences, and on-site instruction to facilitate generalization. Fourth, the social skill deficits of students with handicaps should be addressed: assessment of and instruction in appropriate social behaviors should be incorporated into both school and community based career exploration activities.

The following pages contain a chart of suggested goals and activities for Career Exploration. Separate modules are available for students with mild,
The following pages contain a chart of suggested goals and activities for Career Exploration. Separate modules are available for students with mild, moderate, and severe handicaps and sample lesson plans and forms are included in each. A module on assessment and instruction in job-related social skills is also available.

Goals 1 and 2 for students with moderate handicaps involve collecting and summarizing information about students' functional life skills and their vocational interests and experiences. Goals 3-4 are designed to help students explore individual vocational preferences by gathering information from a variety of sources. Students learn to observe work, determine the skills required to perform a job, and analyze their ability to do specific jobs. Students also develop basic skills essential for obtaining employment, including using the telephone, scheduling appointments, and participating in an information interview. Sample lesson plans and forms are included in this module.

Lessons may be incorporated into an existing life skills special education class or, for some students, presented as a separate course which may include students in regular education classes who could benefit from participation in the class. The activities delineated in this unit provide a framework for the teacher. Additional activities should be developed which address the needs of each student, based on vocational IEP goals developed in conjunction with the student, parents, and school personnel.

IMPLEMENTING A CAREER EXPLORATION CURRICULUM

The following activities should be conducted by the special education teacher or the work experience coordinator prior to implementing a Career Exploration curriculum:

1. Present a rationale and supporting data for a community-based vocational program to the director of special education, the school principal, the school board, and parents. Include a tentative outline of the goals and objectives for the program.

2. Obtain a written confirmation of the district administration's knowledge and support of a community-based vocational program.

3. Obtain written permission from parents or guardians for their children to participate in career exploration activities. A sample permission form is included in this section.

4. Ensure liability, medical and accident coverage through school's extended coverage and/or parents' medical insurance or other methods. Examples of how school districts have arranged for coverage of students in the community is included in this section.

5. Develop strategies for supervising students participating in activities in the community. A Staffing Strategies Module which outlines effective use of staff time to provide school and community-based programming is available from STEP.
I understand that my child will be participating in a work exploration program in the community that has been explained to me by school personnel. I also understand that there may be occasions when school personnel will transport my child to job interviews and job-related activities.

I hereby release the school and School District # ______ from any responsibility involved in:

_____ participating in a community work exploration program

_____ transportation by school personnel for job-related activities

Student accident or medical insurance is _____, is not _____ carried on my son or daughter __________________________.

EXAMPLES OF INSURANCE COVERAGE FOR WORK EXPLORATION PROGRAM

Example 1:

For non-paid work exploration, a training agreement is signed by the employer, teacher and parent/guardian. The school district has liability insurance covering school activities not conducted on school grounds. Parents are responsible for medical and accident insurance of community-based, vocational and other school activities. Work exploration is included on the IEP as a vocational goal.

Students who are paid on the job are covered by the employer’s workers compensation insurance.

Example 2:

Students who are placed in non-paid work experience in the community are covered through the Volunteer Bureau in that community. The Volunteer Bureau provides insurance coverage for volunteers working at non-profit organizations such as a hospital or college.

Students who are paid are covered by the employer’s workers compensation insurance.

For all students involved in the work experience program, their parents must sign a form that indicates their insurance carrier and that the student is covered by 24 hour insurance, or agree to purchase school insurance. Work experience is included on the IEP as a vocational goal.

Example 3:

The school pays the students through the employer so all students are covered by workers compensation insurance. For all other community-based activities, the students are covered the same as students involved with field trips and sports. The students can also buy an insurance policy through the school for $8/school year.

Work experience is included on the IEP as a vocational goal.

APPENDIX GOAL 2
STEP MANUAL - CAREER EXPLORATION

Goal 2: Activity 1

INITIAL STUDENT INTERVIEW

DIRECTIONS: The student interview form is used initially to find out how much the student knows about work and what work, if any, the student has performed in the past. The interview format is used in subsequent years to determine the student's job-related interests as she/he learns more about work and has a chance to try different jobs. The information obtained from the student interview is used when developing the IEP goals and objectives. The completed form may need to be evaluated by a person familiar with the student to check for accuracy.

To be completed by student:

This review may be used as an informal way for the teacher to assess how much the students have learned. Again, the important point to keep in mind is that these skills should continually be practiced and applied to real situations. If the teacher finds that a student is unable to learn a skill, adaptations can be used to enable the student to perform the skill.

Objective/Purpose:

1. The student will be able to demonstrate the skills learned in Goals 3 and 4.

2. The student will update his/her vocational notebook.

Input:

1. Materials:

   Cards labeled with words from previous career exploration unit
   Newspapers
   Telephones
   Vocational Notebook

2. Each student chooses a card from the pile

3. Each student is then required to:
   a. Read the word from the card
   b. Provide a description for the word or describe how it can be helpful in finding work
   c. Demonstrate, if appropriate, how to use the object described
Goal 3-4: Review

THE JOB GAME

The Job Game can be used as a fun way to review the Career Exploration Unit. Examples of cards that can be used are included in this section. Each student chooses a card (an individual packet of cards can be made for each student). The student must then answer a question or read and describe a word. If the student is correct, he may move ahead the number of spaces specified on the card. The first person to reach the finish space is the winner.

Goal 5: Activity 1

CAREER EXPLORATION UNIT: Sample Lesson Plans

Goal 5: Develop skills needed to observe people at work and summarize critical skills performed on the job.

Activity 1: Become familiar with jobs and places of employment in the community.

Objective/Purpose:
1. The student will be able to list verbally or in writing the types of jobs available in the community.

Input:
1. Materials:
   Slides of places of work in the community and of people working;
or, use the community’s business district
   Worksheets

2. Teacher and students discuss why it is important to become familiar with places of employment in the community:
   a. to know what jobs are available in the community
   b. to be aware of what jobs to train to prepare for graduation

3. If the group is going out in the community, teacher discusses appropriate behavior

4. Teacher and students discuss what the students should look for while in the community or when observing the slides

5. Teacher and students point out places of employment and people who are working on slides shown in the classroom or in the community business district

Guided Practice:
1. Students are asked to point out various places of employment and to discuss the types of jobs they observe being done

2. After observing, the students are asked to verbally list the employment places and jobs they observed

Check for Understanding:

1. Students are asked to complete a worksheet listing the places of employment and jobs they observed (address and telephone number can be completed as part of Activity 2).

Independent Practice:

1. Students are asked to think of and/or observe one job not listed in class discussion

2. On a large map of the city, have students circle and label places of employment

Adaptations:

1. Students who are nonverbal may point out places of employment or point to pictures in communication book that correspond with the employment site observed

2. Students who cannot write can verbally list places of employment observed and/or ask a friend to write the places on paper for them

3. Pictures or photographs of different jobs may be used with students who have difficulty reading

Goal 5: Develop skills needed to observe people at work and summarize critical skills performed on the job.

Activity 2: Develop list of work sites and jobs in the community. Prioritize jobs according to students' current preferences. Select sites for work observations.

Objective/Purpose:

1. The students will develop a community job reference list that includes a list of jobs and several work sites in the community that hire people to perform those jobs.

2. The students will choose sites/jobs from the list in which they are interested and prioritize their preferences.

3. The students will choose three sites/jobs from their list in which they are interested in observing.

Input:

1. Materials:

   List of work sites and jobs observed in the community from Activity 1 above
   Telephone directories to obtain additional information
   Business directory, if available
   Other sources that can give information about available work sites/jobs in the community

2. Follow-up on independent activities completed for Activity 1. Discuss and list any other work sites/jobs the students are familiar with in the community. For a later activity, the teacher may want to have the students go through the telephone book and newspaper ads to look for any sites/jobs that have not been included in the community job reference listing.

3. The teacher will explain what a community job reference list is and how it can be helpful in learning about community jobs.

4. Using telephone directories or other information and list of work sites completed in Activity 1, the students will find addresses and telephone numbers for each work place listed.

4. The teacher will help the students organize the lists developed for Activity 1 above into a community reference book. The reference book can include a job, the name of employment places where that job is performed, address, telephone, and information gathered from work observations (refer to Activities 4-5 for information about work observations). This information can be placed in a notebook and used as a reference for students in the future. New sites/jobs observed or thought of by the students can be added as information is collected.

5. The teacher will list the sites/jobs on the blackboard or sheet of paper. Each student will choose sites/jobs that they are interested in and write a list containing that information.

6. The teacher will help the students to prioritize their list of preferred sites/jobs.

7. After the teacher explains the purpose of community work observations, the students will choose three sites/jobs from their prioritized list that they would be interested in observing.

Adaptations:

An example of adapted community reference notebook sheets are included in this section.

CAREER EXPLORATION UNIT: Sample Lesson Plans

Goal 5: Develop skills needed to observe people at work and summarize critical skills performed on the job.

Activity 4: Develop skills in observing persons at work and appropriate social skills for observing at work sites in the community.

Work Observation Form:

Objective/Purpose:
1. After viewing a videotape of a person performing a job, the student will be able to:
   a. Verbally describe the skills necessary to complete the job
   b. Complete an observation form giving a written or verbal description of the skills performed

Input:
1. Materials:
   Videotape of several simple jobs
   Blank work observation forms
   Overhead projector or enlarged observation form

2. The teacher introduces the concept of work observations and why they are a useful tool for learning about jobs.

3. The teacher models a simple task for class to observe (i.e., peeling a carrot, folding a letter and placing in envelope, sweeping the floor, etc.).

4. The students state, verbally or in written form, the steps that the teacher did to complete the task.

5. The students read or repeat their steps to the teacher and the teacher attempts to follow the directions given. This will demonstrate to the students the importance of providing a detailed and sequential list of steps.

6. The teacher introduces the work observation form, discussing the various parts and describing new vocabulary words.

7. The students watch a videotape of a simple job. The students discuss the job observed and fill out the observation form as a group with the teacher using an overhead projector or enlarged form as a guide.
Guided Practice:

1. The students observe another scenario of a simple job.

2. The students fill out an observation form while watching the video or after the video is finished; verbally describe the job performed; or, take appropriate pictures from a group of pictures.

3. The teacher runs the video again, stopping at critical points and discussing as a group activities the students should have noted on their observation forms.

Check for Understanding:

1. The students observe a videotape of a more complex job, filling out the observation forms after watching the video.

Independent Practice:

1. Before going into the community for work observations, the teacher may want to practice within the school building by observing a secretary, janitor, library assistant, media aide, etc.

Adaptations:

The teacher will need to evaluate the ability of the students to perform this activity while using the videotapes. Students who have difficulty can be allowed to participate in the activity by using the following adaptations:

1. After completing a work observation, discuss and fill out the observation form as a group. Students can then fill in their form or ask help from students who have already completed their form.

2. Students can use pre-cut pictures to fill in their observation forms.

An example of a completed adapted work observation form is included in this section.
Goal 5: Activity 4

CAREER EXPLORATION UNIT: Sample Lesson Plans

Goal 5: Develop skills needed to observe people at work and summarize critical skills performed on the job.

Activity 4: Develop skills in observing persons at work and appropriate social skills for observing at work sites in the community.

Work Observation Social Skills:

Objective/Purpose:

1. The student will be able to discuss why it is important to have appropriate social skills while watching someone work.

2. The student will be able to distinguish between appropriate and inappropriate social skills.

Input:

1. Materials:

   Videotaped scenarios of:
   - appropriate social skills
   - inappropriate social skills
   - appropriate and inappropriate social skills
   - Pictures of appropriate and inappropriate dress and greetings

2. The teacher will discuss why it is important to use appropriate manners while observing someone work in the community:

   a. The work observation sites are potential work sites and it is important to make a good impression

   b. The community in general will be more accepting of the students if they use good manners

3. The teacher and students will develop a list of social skills that are important while watching someone work. These skills should include:
   - Stating purpose of visit
   - Introducing self
   - Asking appropriate questions
     - What are the work hours
     - What type of clothes are okay to wear
     - How do I apply for a job here
     - Other questions appropriate to each job
Goal 5: Activity 4

Showing interest in person talking by:
   Nodding head
   Body position
   Asking questions
   Smiling
   Eye contact
   Good grooming
   Showing appreciation

4. The teacher and students define and discuss each of the above skills. The teacher can use pictures and modeling to demonstrate appropriate behaviors.

Guided Practice:

1. After observing a video tape of appropriate social skills, the teacher and students list the skills observed on the tape.

2. After observing a video tape of inappropriate social skills, the teacher and students list the skills observed on the tape.

Check for Understanding:

1. After observing a video tape of appropriate and inappropriate social skills, the students discuss which behavior was appropriate and which behavior was inappropriate.

2. Assess the students ability to use appropriate work observation manners when doing practice work observations within the school building before going into the community. Activity 5: Observe at selected work sites.

Objective/Purpose:
1. After observing a person in the community work, the student will be able to list, verbally or in written form, the major activities required to perform the job and the working conditions.

2. The student will demonstrate appropriate social skills during community work observations.

Input:
1. Materials:
   - Work observation form
   - Pens/pencils
   - Clipboards (for easier writing)

2. Based on the students’ prioritized lists of preferred jobs, the teacher contacts employers in the community to arrange on-site work observations. The teacher discusses with the employer the importance for the students to observe someone working at a particular job as well as receiving a general tour of the work site. Observation groups should consist of no more than five students at one time to an observation site.

3. Before leaving for each work observation, the students and teacher review appropriate social skills at work sites and the work observation form. The teacher decides whether students will fill out the form during the observation or will wait until after the observation, based on each student’s abilities.
Goal 5: Activity 5

Note: This informal inventory is an example of the information that can be obtained during the work observations conducted during Career Exploration, through a personal interview with the employer or when conducting business in the community. The questions on this survey can be changed to reflect the type of information you are interested in obtaining.
