This 677-item bibliography consists of articles, periodicals, and books in English dating from 1930 to the present, on various aspects of documentary film and video. The material is organized alphabetically under each author's surname. (NKA)
Documentary Film and Video:

A Bibliography

Steven P. Phipps, Ph.D., Assistant Professor
Department of Communication
Indiana University-Purdue University at Ft. Wayne
2101 East Coliseum Blvd.
Ft. Wayne, IN 46805 U.S.
(219) 481-6543
Documentary Film and Video:
A Bibliography

Arlen, Michael J. The Camera Age. New York: Farrar Straus
Bateson, G. "An Analysis of the Nazi Film Hitlerjunge Quex." In M. Mead, and R. Metraux, eds. The Study of Culture at a Distance. Chicago, 1953, pp. 302-314.
Beattie, Eleanor. The Handbook of Canadian Film, 2nd ed.
Blue, James. "Direct Cinema." Film Comment, Fall-Winter 1967, pp. 80-86.
Blue, James. "Thoughts on Cinema Verita and a Discussion with the Mayales Brothers." Film Comment, Fall 1964, pp. 22-30.
Bohnenkamp, Dennis. "The Development of the Documentary Film." In Patricia Erens and Marian Henley, eds. College Course

Bouman, Jan C. Bibliography on Filmmology as Related to the Social Sciences, Reports and Papers on Mass Communication, No. 9, UNESCO.

Braun, B. Vivian. "G.P.O. Film Unit." Film Art, Summer 1934, pp. 61-62.

Brett, G. "We Give You What We Saw." China Now, No. 70, March 1977, pp. 3-6.

"British Empire Film Institute." Museums Journal, April 1930, pp. 349-351.

Brownlow, Kevin. "Leni Riefenstahl." Film, Winter 1966, pp. 14-

Canadian Film Weekly (serial).

Carter, J. Margaret. "Canada Comes to the Canadians." See and Hear, October 1945, pp. 21-29.

Cinema Canada, No. 15, Aug.-Sept. 1974, entire issue on the National Film Board.

Cinema Quarterly, various reviews of British documentary films during the EMB and GPO periods, in addition to other important material (serial).

Davy, Charles, ed. Footnotes to the Film. London: Lovat Dickson, 1937.
Del Colle, Paul L. "Television Documentary in the United States." In Patricia Erens and Marian Henley, eds. College Course Files (University Film and Video Association Monograph No. 5). University Film and Video Association, 1986, pp. 55-59.
Documentary News Letter (serial).
"Dust Storm Film." Literary Digest, May 16, 1936, pp. 22.

Educational Film Review (serial).

Ellis, Jack C. "John Grierson's First Years at the National Film Board." Cinema Journal, Fall 1970, pp. 2-14.

Fielding, Raymond. The March of Time, 1935-1951. New York:
Film Art (serial).
Film Culture (serial).
"A Film Policy for Canada." Canadian Forum, July 1944, p. 77.
Graham, John. "There are No Simple Solutions': Frederick Wiseman on Viewing Film." The Film Journal, Spring 1947, pp. 44-47.
Autumn 1934, pp. 101-104.

Grierson, John. "Production Unit Planned: Mass Media to be Used for Peace." UNESCO Courier, February 1948, p. 3.

Gunston, David. "Leni Riefenstahl." Film Quarterly, Fall 1960, pp. 4-19.

Hardy, Forsyth. "The British Documentary Film." In Michael

Hodgkinson, Anthony W. "Humphrey Jennings and Mass-Observation:
A Conversation with Tom Harrisson." University Film Association Journal, Vol. 27, No. 4, 1976, pp. 31-34.

Howe, Hartley. "U.S. Film Service Presents." U.S. Camera, June-July 1940.

"In the Picture: John Grierson." Sight & Sound, Spring 1972, p. 70.

The Independent, published by the Foundation for Independent Video and Film, Inc. (serial).

Ivens, Joris. The Camera and I. New York: International
Ivens, Joris. "The Documentary Film and Morale." Writers' Congress, University of California, Berkeley 1944, pp. 75-79.
Johnson, W. "Shooting at Wars...Three Views." Film Quarterly,

Leacock, Richard. "Ricky Leacock on 'Stravinsky' Film." Film Culture, No. 42, Fall 1966, p. 113.

Legg, Stuart. "Shell Film Unit: Twenty-One Years." Sight & Sound, April-June 1954, pp. 209-211.

Lorentz, Pare. "The Plow that Broke the Plains." McCall's, July 1936.
Lorentz, Pare. "The River." McCall's, May 1937.
McDonald, J. "Film and War Propaganda." Public Opinion Quarterly, September 1940, pp. 519-522; March 1941, pp. 127-129.
McElvoy, J.P. "Young Man with a Camera." Reader's Digest, August 1940, pp. 73-76.

"Maysles Brothers." Film Culture, No. 42, Fall 1966, p. 114.

Memorial University Extension Service. The Extension Service and its Use of Film and Video Tape in Community Development. Bulletin. St. John's, Newfoundland: Memorial University of Newfoundland.

Millar, Daniel. "Fires Were Started." Sight & Sound, Spring 1969, pp. 100-

Morris, Peter, ed. The National Film Board of Canada: The War Years (Canadian Film Archives, Canadian Filmography Series No. 3). Ottawa: Canadian Film Institute, 1965.

National Film Board. Challenge for Change/Societe Nouvelle Access (serial).

National Film Board. Challenge for Change/Societe Nouvelle

"Propaganda Films: About the War in Vietnam." Film Comment, Vol. 4, No. 1, Fall 1966, pp. 4-22.

Radical Software. Periodical.

Read, John. "The Film on Art as Documentary." Film Culture, Vol. 3, No. 3, pp. 6-7

Ruby, Jay. The Image Mirrored: Reflexivity and the Documentary Film. Journal of the University Film Association, Fall 1977, pp. 3-11.
Shepherd, John R. The Regionalization of the National Film Board of Canada. Journal of the University Film Association, Summer 1979, pp. 13-18.
Short, F.R.M., ed. Film and Radio Propaganda in World War II.
Singer, Benjamin D. Communications in Canadian Society. Toronto: Copp Clark, 1972.
Snyder, Robert L. Pare Lorentz and the Documentary Film. Norman, Okla.: University of Oklahoma Press, 1968.
Stallings, Laurence. "Hitler Did Not Dance that Jig." Esquire, October 1959, pp. 280, 284.

"Television's School of Storm and Stress." Broadcasting, March 6, 1961, pp. 82-84.

Vogel, Amos. "Independents." Film Comment, March-April 1979, pp. 75-77.

White, William L. "Pare Lorentz." Scribner's, January 1939.
Wollenberg, H.H. Fifty Years of German Film. London, 1948.
Wright, Basil. The Use of the Film. New York: Arno.

NOTES:

Other useful sources of information include biographical compilations and newspapers (some newspapers, including the New York Times, are of course indexed), and the large body of literature in languages other than English. In addition, government documents concerning the production of government-funded documentaries can be found. In a few cases production of documentaries have resulted in litigation; in these cases legal records are available.

Some of the better known individual film- and videomakers will be featured in biographical dictionaries and biographical encyclopedias, as well as in the biographical index, BioBase. Also consult Sadoul's Dictionary of Films and Dictionary of Film Makers. Especially useful indexes for periodical literature include Art Index as well as Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature. Film catalogues are useful sources of information on particular films and tapes, and sometimes on individual directors.