INTRODUCTION

The Augustus F. Hawkins-Robert T. Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988, Pub. L. 100-297, amended the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA). Part A of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA (Chapter 1), reauthorizes a program previously contained in Chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981 (ECIA). Part A of Chapter 1 provides financial assistance through State educational agencies (SEAs) to local educational agencies (LEAs) to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children in school attendance areas and schools with high concentrations of children from low-income families and the needs of children in local institutions for neglected or delinquent (N or D) children. This assistance is to improve the educational opportunities of educationally deprived children by helping them succeed in the regular program, attain grade-level proficiency, and improve achievement in basic and more advanced skills that all children are expected to master.

On October 21, 1988, the U.S. Department of Education (ED) published a notice of proposed rulemaking for this program in the Federal Register (53 FR 41466-41492). Almost 500 letters, which included several thousand comments, were received from State and local educational agency officials, teachers, organizations, and members of Congress. Final regulations were published in the Federal Register on May 18, 1989 (54 FR 21752-21809).

Section 1436 of Chapter 1 requires the Department to prepare a policy manual, distribute it to SEAs and LEAs, and make it available to parents and other interested individuals, organizations, and agencies. The purposes of the policy manual are as follows:

- Assist LEAs in preparing applications, meeting applicable program requirements, and enhancing the quality, increasing the depth, or broadening the scope of Chapter 1 programs.

- Assist SEAs in achieving proper and efficient administration of Chapter 1 programs.

- Assist parents to become involved in the planning, implementation, and evaluation of Chapter 1 programs and projects.

- Ensure that the officers and employees of ED, including auditors, uniformly interpret, apply, and enforce the Chapter 1 requirements.

The guidance in this document applies to programs under Part A of Chapter 1 (basic programs operated by LEAs). This guidance does not apply to the other Chapter 1 programs even though those programs may, in part, be operated by LEAs. LEAs may rely on this guidance unless it is inconsistent with guidance provided by the SEA. While SEAs may wish to consider the guidance in this document in developing their own guidelines and standards, they are free to develop alternative approaches that are consistent with the Chapter 1 statute and regulations.
but may be more in keeping with particular needs and circumstances. In other words, this policy manual contains acceptable but not exclusive guidance concerning Chapter 1 requirements. However, compliance with the guidance in this document shall be deemed compliance with the statute and regulations by ED officials, including the Inspector General.

BASIC GRANTS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1005 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

The Chapter 1 LEA program includes two types of subgrants for LEAs--basic grants and concentration grants. Under the basic grant formula, LEAs are entitled to grants based on their numbers of formula children multiplied by a cost factor derived from the State per pupil expenditure (SPPE) for elementary and secondary education. National data on numbers of eligible children are readily available only to the county level. Consequently, the Secretary applies the formula to the county level and gives SEAs responsibility for allocating county amounts to LEAs in cases where LEAs are not coterminous with counties. In carrying out this responsibility, SEAs must allocate each county's basic grant amount among LEAs within the county on the basis of the best available data on the number of children from low-income families.

Q1. Does Congress appropriate a specific amount for the Chapter 1 LEA program annually?

A. Yes.

Q2. If the Congress does not specify amounts for basic grants and concentration grants, how does the Secretary determine those amounts?

A. Unless the appropriation bill specifies otherwise, section 1006(c) of Chapter 1 specifies that the first $400 million of the Chapter 1 LEA program appropriation in excess of $3.9 billion is reserved for concentration grants. Whenever the amount appropriated exceeds $4.3 billion, 10 percent of the appropriation is reserved for concentration grants. The remainder is available for basic grants.

Q3. Are all basic grant funds distributed among the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico?

A. No. One percent of the basic grant funds is reserved for the Secretary of the Interior, Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Republic of Palau.

Q4. How does the Secretary determine the amount each SEA in the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico is entitled to receive?

A. Basic grant allocations are determined on a county-by-county basis in accordance with the statutory allocation formula in section 1005 of Chapter 1. Each State's basic grant allocation is the sum of the county...
aggregate allocations in the State. The county allocations are based on the number of formula children multiplied by a cost factor derived from average SPPE.

Q5. What are the factors in the count of eligible formula children?

A. The primary factor is the number of children, ages 5-17, in families with incomes below the poverty level, based on data from the latest decennial census. These data represent approximately 96 percent of the Chapter 1 formula children and remain constant until new data from the decennial census become available every ten years. Census poverty data are one of the few types of nationally uniform data available. In addition to the census data, the formula includes annually updated data on the number of children, ages 5-17, who are in families receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments above the current census poverty level, in institutions for N or D children that are not State operated, and in foster homes supported with public funds.

Q6. What is the source of these data?

A. The Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, furnishes the county decennial census data to the Secretary. The Department of Health and Human Services collects October caseload data for AFDC and foster children annually through State agencies administering child welfare and public assistance programs and furnishes the data to the Secretary. The Secretary conducts an annual survey through the SEAs to collect October caseload data on the number of N or D children who resided in institutions for 30 consecutive days, at least one day of which was in October of the preceding year.

Q7. What is the average SPPE cost factor that is used in the allocation formula?

A. Each SEA is required to report annually the amount of State, local, and Federal funds expended for elementary and secondary education and average daily attendance data. From these data, the Secretary deducts the expenditures for Chapters 1 and 2 and computes the average SPPE. The cost factor in the allocation formula is 40 percent of the State's average per pupil expenditure, except that no State's cost factor may exceed 120 percent of the national average per pupil expenditure nor fall below 80 percent of the national average per pupil expenditure. Additional adjustments are made to Puerto Rico's expenditure data.

Q8. Are the latest school year expenditure data used for the cost factor in the formula?

A. No. The statute requires that per pupil expenditure data for the third preceding fiscal year be used in the allocation formula.
Q9. Why does the Secretary compute allocations on a county basis?

A. The statute provides that the Secretary will make allocations for LEAs if satisfactory data are available. In any case in which such data are not available, allocations are to be made on a county-by-county basis. The data needed for the allocation formula are readily available for the entire Nation only to the county level. Consequently, the Secretary applies the formula to the county level.

Q10. Does each county receive an allocation that equals its number of formula children multiplied by the State cost factor?

A. No. The statute provides that if the amount appropriated is insufficient to pay the county amounts computed by the formula, then the allocations are to be ratably reduced to the amount appropriated.

Q11. Do all counties in the Nation receive a basic grant allocation?

A. No. To receive a basic grant allocation, a county must have at least 10 children who are eligible to be counted for the formula.

Q12. Is there a State minimum basic grant allocation?

A. Yes. The statute provides for a State minimum grant when the appropriation exceeds the fiscal year (FY) 1988 appropriation and the amount available for concentration grants is $400 million or more or when the amount available for basic grants exceeds the 1988 level by $700 million.

Q13. What is the State minimum allocation?

A. Each State is guaranteed a minimum allocation that is equal to the lesser of--

- .25 percent of the total amount available for basic grants;
- 150 percent of the previous year’s basic grant allocation; or
- 150 percent of the national average per pupil payment (NAPPP) multiplied by the previous year’s count of basic grant formula children. The NAPPP is determined by dividing the basic grant appropriation by the number of basic grant formula children.

Q14. When does the Secretary notify SEAs of the county allocations?

A. The target date is March 15.

Q15. Could announcement of the county allocations be made earlier so LEAs would have more planning time prior to the beginning of the school year?

A. The Secretary is dependent on all agencies to submit the required formula data in a timely manner. The statute requires October caseload counts for AFDC, foster, and N or D children and these data are usually not complete until the end of the following January. Additionally, the formula children counts required for the State agency programs in Part D of Chapter I are not available until late January. Once all data are complete, approximately six weeks are required to process the data and calculate the allocations.

Q16. What is the SEA's responsibility for determining LEA basic grant allocations?

A. The statute provides that when the Secretary determines allocations for counties, the SEA shall allocate each county aggregate amount among LEAs in that county.

Q17. Unless the Secretary has approved statewide allocations in accordance with §200.24, what data and procedures must an SEA use to distribute county allocations among eligible LEAs?

A. The SEA must first determine and set aside the amount of the county allocation generated by the formula count of N or D children. The remaining county amount must be distributed on the basis of low-income data. The Chapter 1 regulations provide SEAs flexibility in selecting the low-income data they use to determine basic grant allocations for LEAs. This allows the SEAs to use data more current or accurate than the census counts that are used in the county allocation formula. Although SEAs possess broad discretion over these data, they must further the purposes of Chapter 1 in directing funds to low-income areas. If an SEA decides to use data that are different from those used in the county allocation formula, the SEA must ensure that it is using the best available data on the number of children from low-income families.

Q18. May an SEA use a variety of sources of low-income data within the State to distribute the various county allocations among LEAs?

A. No. In determining the number of children from low-income families in the LEAs in each county, the SEA must use the same measure of low-income throughout the State.

Q19. May an SEA use a combination of low-income factors if these data are consistently used for allocation purposes throughout the State?

A. Yes. For instance, a State might choose to use both decennial census data and current free-lunch data. The SEA must weight the data, however, so that LEA allocations are not determined on the basis of duplicate counts of children.

Q20. Are all LEAs eligible to receive basic grants?

A. No. LEAs in ineligible counties, i.e., counties with fewer than 10 formula children, are not eligible to receive basic grants.

Q21. Must an SEA make allocations to all eligible LEAs?

A. No. The SEA is not required to allocate basic grant funds to an LEA with fewer than 10 children eligible to be counted under the formula.

Q22. Is there a minimum LEA basic grant?

A. Yes. Each LEA's basic grant allocation may be no less than 85 percent of the amount it received in the previous year.

Q23. Does this 85 percent "hold harmless" amount apply to only the portion of funds allocated to an LEA on the basis of low-income data?

A. No. The "hold harmless" amount is computed on the basis of the LEA's total basic grant allocation in the previous year, i.e., the separate amount allocated for N or D children and the portion allocated on the basis of low-income data.

Q24. If an LEA is unable or unwilling to provide services to N or D children, may it retain the funds that were allocated on the basis of these children?

A. No. If an LEA is unwilling or unable to provide services to N or D children, the SEA must reduce the LEA's allocation by the amount generated by the N or D children.

Q25. May the SEA transfer these funds to another LEA?

A. Yes. These funds may be assigned to another State agency or LEA that agrees to assume educational responsibility for the N or D children.

Q26. May the SEA retain these funds?

A. Yes. If the SEA assumes educational responsibility for the N or D children, it is entitled to the funds generated by those children.

Q27. If neither the SEA nor another agency is willing to assume educational responsibility for N or D children, what happens to the funds?

A. The SEA must reduce the LEA's allocation by the amount that was based on N or D children. The funds are not available for reallocation to other LEAs.

Q28. If an institution closes and the children are transferred to an institution in another LEA, must the SEA transfer the funds to the LEA in which the children now reside?

A. Yes. The SEA must adjust the allocations of the two LEAs to reflect the transfer.
Q29. Must the LEA account separately for the funds based on N or D children?

A. The SEA decides whether to require an LEA to make a separate application or budget or to keep a separate account of Chapter 1 funds expended for N or D children. The LEA's application for Chapter 1 funds, however, must contain a description of the services to be provided to N or D children.

Q30. Are there other special circumstances that would allow SEAs to make adjustments when determining final LEA allocations?

A. Yes. Section 200.23(b)(2) of the regulations provides for adjustments to LEA allocations where (1) a school district of an LEA overlaps a county boundary; (2) an LEA serves a substantial number of children from the school district of another LEA; or (3) an LEA's school district is merged or consolidated, or a portion of the district is transferred to another LEA.

Q31. Are there circumstances that would allow an SEA to disregard county allocations when determining basic grant allocations for LEAs?

A. In any State in which a large number of LEAs overlap county boundaries, the SEA may apply to the Secretary for authority to make allocations directly to LEAs without regard to counties. If an SEA allocates directly to LEAs, the SEA must use the same factors as those used by the Secretary in the county allocation formula.

Q32. May basic grant funds that remain unobligated at the end of the fiscal year for which they were appropriated be carried over for use during the succeeding fiscal year?

A. Yes. Section 412(b) of the General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) provides that any basic grant funds that are not obligated by the end of the fiscal year for which the funds were appropriated may be carried over and used during the succeeding fiscal year. However, section 1432(b) of Chapter 1 limits the amount that may be carried over and used in the succeeding year (see the Carryover section).
CONCENTRATION GRANTS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1006 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.2, 200.3, and 200.25

The Chapter 1 LEA program includes two types of subgrants for LEAs--basic grants and concentration grants. The funds for basic grants provide financial assistance for educationally deprived children in nearly every school district in the Nation. Concentration grants are designed to augment basic grants in LEAs with very high concentrations of children from low-income families. Funds provided for concentration grants are used by the LEAs in the same manner as those provided for basic grants and do not require separate accounting or programming.

Q1. If the amount is not specified in the annual appropriation act how does the Secretary determine the amount available for concentration grants?

A. Unless otherwise specified in an appropriation act, the Secretary reserves for concentration grants the amount of the Chapter 1 LEA program appropriation specified in section 1006(c) of Chapter 1.Specifically, the first $400 million in excess of $3.9 billion must be reserved for concentration grants. Whenever the appropriation exceeds $4.3 billion, 10 percent of the appropriation must be reserved for concentration grants.

Q2. How are concentration grant allocations determined for each State?

A. The Secretary determines which counties in each State qualify for concentration grant funds and distributes the concentration funds among the eligible counties in accordance with the statutory allocation formula. Each State's concentration grant is the aggregate of the sums for eligible counties in the State.

Q3. Is there a State minimum allocation for concentration grant funds?

A. Yes. However, the minimum allocation is not a specified amount. The Secretary computes the State minimum allocation by taking the greater of $250,000 (unless a different amount is specified in the appropriation act) or the following:

The lesser of--

- .25 percent of the total appropriation for concentration grants;
o 150 percent of the State's previous year's concentration grant; or o 150 percent of the NAPPP multiplied by the number of concentration grant formula children in the State in the preceding year. The NAPPP is derived by dividing the appropriation for concentration grants by the number of children counted in the concentration grant formula for all eligible counties in the Nation.

Q4. How does a State know when it has received a State minimum allocation for concentration grants?

A. The Secretary notifies States of county allocations for concentration grants. In States where eligible counties do not generate concentration funds based on the allocation formula that exceed the State minimum grant, the States are notified of an additional lump sum amount to bring the State up to its guaranteed minimum allocation.

Q5. Which counties are eligible for concentration grant funds?

A. A county is eligible if the number of children counted in the basic grant formula in the preceding year exceeds 6,500 or 15 percent of the total number of children, ages 5-17, in the county. Approximately 1,900 out of the 3,100 counties in the country, including independent cities, were eligible in FY 1989.

Q6. Are the same factors used in the basic grant formula for county allocations also used to determine county eligibility for concentration grants?

A. Yes. The factors are the number of children, ages 5-17, in: (1) families with incomes below the poverty level based on decennial census data; (2) families receiving AFDC payments above the current poverty level; (3) institutions for N or D children that are not State operated; and (4) foster homes supported with public funds.

Q7. If a county does not qualify for a concentration grant based on the basic grant county allocation formula data required by the statute, may an SEA determine that such a county is eligible because it meets the 6,500 or 15 percent criteria based on the data the SEA uses to determine basic grant allocations for the LEAs?

A. No. County eligibility is determined by the Secretary and may not be redetermined by an SEA.

Q8. How does the Secretary allocate concentration grant funds among eligible counties?

A. Each eligible county in the Nation receives a proportionate share of the concentration grant appropriation based on the product of:
Its number of basic grant formula children for the preceding year in excess of 6,500, or the total number of basic grant formula children, if this number represents more than 15 percent of all children in the county, whichever of these numbers is greater.

An amount that equals the current year basic grant for the county (prior to ratable reduction) divided by the number of basic grant formula children in the preceding year. These county amounts are ratably reduced to the amount appropriated for concentration grants.

Q9. May an SEA adjust the county allocations computed by the Secretary?

A. Adjustments may only be made by the SEA for the following reasons:

   - To ratably increase eligible county amounts to equal the State minimum grant under §200.25(b)(3)(i).
   - To proportionately reduce eligible county amounts to provide the reserved amount under §200.25(b)(1).
   - To address special circumstances under §200.23(b)(2).

Q10. Do all SEAs receive concentration grant funds?

A. SEAs in the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico receive concentration grant funds.

Q11. When are SEAs notified of county amounts for concentration grants?

A. The Secretary has set March 15 as the target date for announcing county allocations for basic grants and concentration grants.

Q12. How does an SEA distribute each county's concentration grant funds among LEAs within the county?

A. Each LEA that is eligible for concentration grant funds receives a proportionate share of the county concentration grant based on its number of basic grant formula children compared to the number for all eligible LEAs in the county.

Q13. Which LEAs are eligible to receive concentration grants?

A. The general rule is an LEA is eligible for a concentration grant if:
   - The LEA is eligible for a basic grant,
   - The LEA is located, in whole or in part, in a county eligible for a concentration grant; and
The number of children counted in the allocation formula for the LEA's basic grant in the preceding year exceeds 6,500 or 15 percent of the total number of children in the LEA.

Q14. What are exceptions to the general rule under which an LEA may be eligible to receive concentration grant funds?

A. An LEA would be eligible under any of the following conditions:
   - An LEA has a number of basic grant formula children in the preceding year that exceeds 6,500 or 15 percent of the total number of children, but it is otherwise ineligible because it is located in an ineligible county. The SEA may determine such LEAs to be eligible and reserve up to 2 percent of its concentration allocation to fund them.
   - An LEA is located in an eligible county in which no LEA had basic grant formula children in the preceding year in excess of 6,500 or 15 percent. Such an LEA is eligible if its number or percentage of basic grant formula children for the preceding year exceeds the average number or percentage for the county.
   - An LEA is located in a State that receives a minimum concentration grant and the SEA allocates concentration grant funds without regard to eligible counties. The LEA is eligible if its number or percentage of basic grant formula children exceeds the average number or percentage for the State.

Q15. Are SEAs required to use the same formula data to determine LEA eligibility and allocate funds for concentration grants as they use to allocate basic grant funds?

A. Yes. To determine LEA eligibility, SEAs are required to use the counts of basic grant formula children that they used to determine LEA basic grants for the preceding year. To allocate concentration grant funds among eligible LEAs, the SEAs are required to use the counts of formula children that are used to compute the current year's LEA basic grant allocations.

Q16. If an LEA overlaps county boundaries and one of the counties is eligible, how does the SEA determine the LEA's eligibility to receive concentration grant funds and the amount of such funds for the LEA?

A. The LEA's eligibility should be determined on the basis of its total number of formula children, including those in all counties in which the LEA is located. The LEA is eligible if the number exceeds 6,500 or 15 percent of all children in the LEA. If the eligible LEA is located in part in an eligible county, the LEA is entitled to a proportionate amount of the eligible county's allocation based only on the number of formula children in that county compared to the total number of formula children in all eligible LEAs in the county.
Q17. Is an SEA required to reserve 2 percent of its concentration allocation for eligible LEAs that are located in ineligible counties?

A. No. This is an SEA option. The SEA may choose to reserve 2 percent, an amount less than 2 percent, or no funds at all.

Q18. If an SEA reserves concentration funds, must it distribute the reserved amount among all eligible LEAs in the State that are located in ineligible counties?

A. No. The SEA may rank order these LEAs according to the number or percentage of basic grant formula children for the preceding year and distribute the reserved funds among the selected LEAs in proportion to their current year counts of basic grant formula children.

Q19. In a State that receives a minimum concentration grant, how does the SEA allocate concentration grant funds among LEAs in the State?

A. The SEA may choose either of the following options:

- The lump sum it receives to bring the State up to its minimum guaranteed allocation may be proportionately allocated among all eligible counties. Under this option, each eligible LEA in an eligible county would receive a proportionate amount of the total county concentration allocation based on its current year’s count of basic grant formula children compared to other eligible LEAs in the county.

- The SEA may disregard the allocations for eligible counties in the State and allocate concentration grant funds to each LEA in which either the number or percentage of children counted for basic grants in the preceding year exceeds the average number or percentage of those children in LEAs in the State. Under this option, each such LEA would receive a proportionate amount of the State concentration grant based on its current year’s count of basic grant formula children compared to the number in such other LEAs in the State.

Q20. Is there an LEA "hold harmless" allocation for concentration grant funds?

A. No. Neither the statute nor the regulations provide guaranteed minimum allocations for LEAs for concentration grant funds.

Q21. Since an SEA is required to include N or D children in the counts of formula children used to allocate basic grant funds and these same counts are used to allocate concentration grant funds, must an SEA allocate separately the proportionate share of an LEA’s concentration grant funds for N or D children as is required for basic grants?

A. Yes. If an LEA is unwilling or unable to provide services to N or D children, the SEA is required to deduct the amount of funds allocated on behalf of N or D children from both basic grants and concentration grants.

Q22. Are concentration grants a separate program?
A. No. An LEA that receives concentration grant funds shall use those funds to carry out the same activities as those funded with basic grants and described in its approved Chapter 1 project application.

Q23. Must these funds be accounted for separately?
A. No. The LEA is not required to account for concentration grant funds separately from basic grant funds.

Q24. May an LEA carry over unobligated concentration grant funds for use in the succeeding year?
A. Yes. However, basic grant funds and concentration grant funds do not require separate identity at the LEA level. Thus, it is unlikely that Chapter 1 LEA program carryover funds would be identified as basic grant funds or concentration grant funds.

Q25. Is there a limitation on the amount of concentration grant funds that may be carried over?
A. The limitations on carryover funds in §200.46 apply to an LEA's total Chapter 1 LEA program allocation, i.e., basic grant funds and concentration grant funds.

Q26. Must an SEA reallocate concentration grant funds only to LEAs that are eligible to receive concentration grant funds?
A. No. It would not be possible for an SEA to separately identify the excess funds in an LEA that are available for reallocation as basic grant funds or concentration grant funds since separate accounting of these funds is not required. All excess Chapter 1 LEA program funds must be reallocated in accordance with §200.26.
CARRYOVER

Statutory Requirements

Section 1432(b) of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA and Section 412(b) of GEPA

Regulatory Requirements

Section 200.46 of Chapter 1 LEA Program Regulations and Sections 76.705 and 76.706 of the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR)

Section 1432(a) of Chapter 1 provides a 15-month period during which Chapter 1 funds are available for obligation. Based on this language, Chapter 1 funds become available on July 1 preceding the beginning of the Federal fiscal year for which they are appropriated and remain available until September 30 of the subsequent year. If an LEA does not obligate all its allocation by the end of the fiscal year for which Congress appropriated the funds, it has authority under section 412(b) of GEPA to obligate the remaining funds, subject to the limitations in section 1432(b), during a carryover period of one additional year. Following is an example of the 27-month availability period for Chapter 1 funds.

Federal Fiscal Year 1989 Appropriation

| Year for which the funds were appropriated | July 1, 1989-September 30, 1990 | 15 |
| Carryover period provided under section 412(b) of GEPA | October 1, 1990-September 30, 1991 | 12 |
| Total | | 27 |

Q1. What are carryover funds?
A. Funds that are used during the final 12 months of their availability—the carryover period provided under section 412(b) of GEPA.

Q2. Under what program requirements must carryover funds be used?
A. Carryover funds must be used in accordance with the statute and regulations that are in effect for the carryover period—not the legislation that was in effect during the year for which the funds were appropriated.

Q3. Are there restrictions on the amount of Chapter 1 LEA program funds an LEA may carry over?
Yes. Carryover amounts are limited to-- o No more than 25 percent of the total amount allocated to the LEA, i.e., basic grant funds and concentration grant funds, from the Federal FY 1989 appropriation (allocated to the LEA for the period July 1, 1989-September 30, 1990); and o No more than 15 percent of the funds allocated to the LEA, i.e., basic grant funds and concentration grant funds, from the Federal FY 1990 appropriation (allocated to the LEA for the period July 1, 1990-September 30, 1991) and each subsequent year's appropriation.

Q4. Is the maximum amount an LEA may carry over to the subsequent year determined by applying the percentage limitation to the total amount of Chapter 1 LEA program funds available to the LEA for the current year?

A. No. The percentage limitations must be applied to only the amount allocated to the LEA for the current year for basic grant funds and concentration grant funds, not including carryover funds from the preceding year, excess funds that were reallocated to the LEA by the SEA in accordance with §200.26, capital expense funds under §200.57, or program improvement funds under §200.37(b)(2).

Q5. If a State's fiscal year is not the same as the Federal fiscal year and ends June 30 rather than September 30, may the SEA apply the percentage limitations on carryover funds as of June 30?

A. No. An SEA may establish a project year that is the same as its fiscal year. For example, the SEA may establish a project year that begins on July 1 and ends on June 30 of the following year. However, LEAs are entitled to access to the Chapter 1 funds for the full 15-month period (until September 30) before the limitations on carryover funds may be applied. That is, the SEA may not apply the limitations on carryover amounts until after September 30 even if the SEA approves projects for a period from July 1 through June 30. The SEA should establish controls to ensure that, after September 30 of each year, LEAs are not allowed to use any prior year's funds that exceed the carryover limitations in §200.46. If an LEA's project includes both prior year and current year funds, charges should be made against prior year funds first to reduce any amounts that will be in excess of the limitations on carryover funds. The SEA or LEA must continue to account for funds by grant year.

Q6. May the SEA make an exception to the percentage limitations on carryover funds?

A. Yes. Section 1432(b) of Chapter 1 provides that an SEA may grant an LEA a one-time waiver of the percentage limitations on carryover funds if the SEA determines that the request is reasonable and necessary. In addition, the SEA may grant a waiver in any fiscal year if a supplemental appropriation for Chapter 1 becomes available.
Q7. Does the one-time waiver apply to the three-year application period or the entire period of time for which the program is authorized?

A. A waiver may be granted by the SEA to an LEA only once during the current authorization of the program.

Q8. Do the percentage limitations on carryover funds apply to all LEAs?

A. No. They do not apply to an LEA that receives an allocation less than $50,000 for the Chapter 1 LEA program, i.e., basic grant funds and concentration grant funds.

Q9. May State program improvement funds under section 1405 and the capital expenses funds under section 1017(d) be carried over?

A. Yes.

Q10. Is there a percentage limitation on the amount of State program improvement and capital expenses funds an LEA may carry over?

A. No.

Q11. May the funds allocated to the Chapter 1 State agency programs for migratory, handicapped, and homeless children be carried over?

A. Yes. The State agencies receiving these funds may carry over unexpended funds for use during the subsequent year and the percentage limitations on carryover funds in §200.46 are not applicable to these programs.

Q12. May State administration funds be carried over?

A. Yes. SEAs may carry these funds over and the percentage limitations in §200.46 are not applicable.
REALLOCATION

Statutory Requirement
Section 1403 of Chapter 1 of Title 1, ESEA

Regulatory Requirement
Section 200.26

In order to permit the most effective use of the appropriation for the Chapter 1 LEA program, SEAs are required to identify annually those LEAs in the State with excess Chapter 1 allocations and to reallocate the excess funds to other eligible LEAs. The SEAs must use reallocation as a remedy to redress inequities in Chapter 1 funding caused by the statutory allocation formula.

Q1. What steps must the SEA follow to reallocate Chapter 1 funds?
A. The SEA must develop procedures to:
   o Identify excess funds;
   o Determine which LEAs are eligible to receive reallocated funds; and o Select from the eligible LEAs those that have the greatest need.

Q2. What are excess funds?
A. Excess Chapter 1 funds are funds:
   o From an LEA that is not participating in the Chapter 1 LEA program;
   o That were recovered by the SEA from an LEA that had its allocation reduced because it failed to meet the maintenance of effort requirements in §200.41;
   o From an LEA that has carryover funds that exceed the percentage limitations in §200.46 or has excess funds for other reasons; or o That were recovered by the SEA after determining that the LEA had failed to spend the funds in accordance with Chapter 1 requirements.

Q3. If an LEA does not submit an application for Chapter 1 funds, may an SEA reallocate the LEA's entire Chapter 1 allocation, or must the LEA be allowed to retain the maximum allowed carryover for the succeeding school year?

A. The SEA may reallocate the LEA's entire Chapter 1 allocation. The LEA, however, should be given every opportunity to submit an application and should be aware of the consequences if the application is not submitted to the SEA by the required due date.

Q4. May an SEA reallocate the portion of a participating LEA's allocation for which it did not apply by the date specified by the SEA?

A. The SEA may reallocate any portion of these funds that would exceed the amount allowed in §200.46 for carryover to the succeeding year.

Q5. There are no limitations on carryover funds for LEAs with allocations of $50,000 or less. If these LEAs have excess funds for the current school year, may the SEA reallocate those funds or must it give these LEAs an opportunity to use the funds in the carryover year?

A. If these LEAs do not submit applications to participate in the program by the date specified by the SEA, the SEA may reallocate the funds allocated to these LEAs for the current school year. The SEA also has authority to determine that a participating LEA has excess funds and the SEA may reallocate such funds during the current year.

Q6. May an SEA reallocate the funds allocated to an LEA on behalf of N or D children if neither that LEA nor any other agency is able or willing to provide services to those children?

A. No. These funds are not available for reallocation.

Q7. Which LEAs are eligible to receive reallocated funds?

A. An SEA may reallocate excess Chapter 1 funds only to LEAs with the greatest need for those funds because of inequities in, or mitigating hardships caused by, application of the statutory allocation formula.

Q8. What are factors that may cause inequities in an LEA's allocation?

A. These factors include--

- An increase since the most recent decennial census, caused by population shifts or changing economic conditions, in the number of children from low-income families. For example, in LEAs where there have been population shifts or changing economic circumstances that resulted in increased numbers of poverty families since the 1980 census, inequities occur in funding because the LEAs' allocations are based on the statutory formula primarily comprised of poverty data from the 1980 census;
Data used in the allocation formula that are not representative of the current number of N or D children in local institutions. The N or D formula is based on data from the previous year's October caseload, and if there has been an increase in the number of N or D children since that time, there is an inequity in funding; or

- Other circumstances in which the statutory formula fails to reflect accurately the number of low-income children.

Q9. How may an SEA determine if there is an inequity in an LEA's funding?

A. Evidence of increases or redistribution of the poverty population may be obtained by comparing 1979 or 1980 data to comparable data for the present based on (1) the number of children receiving free and reduced-price school lunches; (2) the number of children in families receiving AFDC payments; or (3) any other available data on numbers of children from low-income families.

Q10. May the SEA consider as eligible for reallocation funds all LEAs that can document increases in numbers of children from low-income families since 1979 or 1980?

A. Yes. It may, however, reallocate those funds only to those LEAs with the greatest need.

Q11. May the SEA require LEAs to furnish the information necessary to document the increase in the number of children from poor families?

A. Yes. This may be included as a requirement in the LEA's application for reallocation funds.

Q12. In some States, LEAs are required to retain free lunch and AFDC records for only five years. If 1980 data are not available, may the SEA reallocate funds to an LEA that is able to document an increase only during the past five years in children from poor families?

A. Reallocation funds must be used to redress inequities in funding caused by the allocation formula. Unless the data for 1979 or 1980 have been retained, a determination that there has been an increase in poverty that results in an inequity in funding cannot be made.

Q13. If free lunch or AFDC records for 1979 or 1980 are not available in the LEA, what should the LEA do?

A. If the records are no longer available in the government agencies administering the free lunch and AFDC programs, the LEA should request the information from archives.
Q14. What criteria should the SEA use to select LEAs with the greatest need?

A. LEAs meeting all the following criteria may be considered those in the greatest need:
   - LEAs having the highest increase in numbers or percentages of children from poor families. For example, an SEA may restrict reallocation funds to only those LEAs with an increase of more than 100 children.
   - LEAs with less than the maximum allowed carryover funds from the previous school year.
   - LEAs that are able to justify the extent of their needs for additional funds to provide Chapter 1 services to address unmet needs of eligible Chapter 1 children, such as the number of unserved eligible children in participating schools, the number of eligible schools not being served, and the additional needs of participating children that cannot be met because of insufficient funds.

Q15. After the SEA selects the LEAs with the greatest need, how are the reallocation funds distributed among these LEAs? May this distribution be done on a formula basis?

A. The SEA must treat these funds as discretionary funds and fund each LEA's request taking into consideration the amount of funds available and the LEA's justification of cost for activities and the budgets proposed by the LEA to address the unmet needs of Chapter 1 children.

Q16. May an SEA reallocate funds to LEAs for any reason other than to address inequities caused by the formula?

A. No. The SEA may not reallocate Chapter 1 funds to any LEA for any reason unless the LEA meets the eligibility criteria to receive reallocation funds. The SEA may not reallocate funds to: LEAs experiencing reduced allocations because of fewer formula children; reduce LEAs' general revenue budgets; fund special programs the SEA holds as a high priority; or ratably increase all LEAs' allocations.

Q17. May SEAs require LEAs to use reallocation funds for special programs the SEA holds as a high priority?

A. No. LEAs must be allowed to use these funds to meet educational needs identified in accordance with §200.31.

Q18. What would be appropriate timelines for reallocation?

A. The SEA is required to reallocate on a timely basis so that excess funds are made available to other LEAs for use during the year for which the funds were appropriated. Following is an example of a timeline that could be established:
Timeline | Funds to be Reallocated
October 30 | All carryover funds from the preceding year that exceeded the percentage limitations in §200.46 as of October 1. All current year funds for which LEAs have not submitted applications to participate in the Chapter 1 program. Current year funds the SEA has withheld from LEAs because of their failure to meet maintenance of effort requirements in §200.41. Any other excess funds identified by the SEA.

January 30 | All unbudgeted current year funds that exceed the amounts allowed in §200.46 for carryover into the succeeding fiscal year.

Funds that have been budgeted by LEAs but the SEA has knowledge that they will not be used. (All these funds that exceed the amounts allowed for carryover into the succeeding fiscal year should be reallocated unless LEAs revise their applications to include new activities.)

In order to reallocate excess funds according to these timelines, it would be necessary to establish additional timelines for interim and final obligation and expenditure reports, submission of applications for reallocation funds, etc.
USES OF FUNDS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1011 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.4 and 200.40-200.45

Section 1011(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.4(a) and (c) of the regulations provide that an LEA may use Chapter 1 funds for projects designed to provide supplemental services to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children at the preschool, elementary, and secondary school levels. LEAs are encouraged to consider year-round services and activities, including intensive summer school programs. Chapter 1 funds may be used only to pay for authorized activities to meet the special needs of educationally deprived children. The authorized activities include the following:

- Acquisition of equipment and instructional materials.
- Acquisition of books and school library resources.
- Employment of special instructional personnel, school counselors, and other pupil services personnel.
- Employment and training of education aides.
- Bonus payments to teachers for services in schools serving project areas.
- Training of teachers, librarians, other instructional and pupil services personnel, and, as appropriate, early childhood education professionals.
- Construction, if necessary, of school facilities.
- Parental involvement activities.
- Planning for and evaluation of Chapter 1 projects.
- Other allowable activities.

Section 200.40 of the regulations prohibits the use of Chapter 1 funds as general aid to benefit an entire school district or, except in schoolwide projects, all children in a school, grade, or class. An LEA may use Chapter 1 funds only for projects that are designed and implemented to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children who are properly identified and selected for participation in the program, and that are included in the LEA’s application that has been approved by the SEA.

Q1. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay for employee benefits such as pension plans, unemployment insurance coverage, health insurance, severance pay, and life insurance?
A. Yes. Employers' contributions for employee benefits such as these are an allowable use of Chapter 1 funds provided the benefits are granted under approved plans and the costs are distributed equitably to the Chapter 1 grant and to other activities. Additional information on approaches for equitably distributing costs for employee benefits are available from ED.

Q2. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay the salary costs for employees during periods of authorized absences such as annual leave, sick leave, and sabbatical leave?

A. Yes. Employee benefits in the form of compensation paid during reasonable authorized absences from the job are an allowable use of Chapter 1 funds if the benefits are provided under an established leave system and the costs are equitably allocated to all related activities, including the Chapter 1 program.

Q3. What records are necessary to support the salary costs charged to Chapter 1 funds for an employee who works on Chapter 1 duties but also has other program responsibilities?

A. If the State applies Part 80 of EDGAR, which references the cost principles in Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-87, the grantee must maintain appropriate time distribution records. Actual costs charged to each program must be based on the employee's time distribution records. If the State applies its own procedures rather than the procedures in 34 CFR Part 80, the records must meet the requirements in §200.5(a)(4) of the Chapter 1 regulations. The method used must produce an equitable distribution of time and effort. Records must be retained for five years. For instructional staff, including teachers and instructional aides, class schedules that specify the time that such staff members devote to Chapter 1 activities meet the requirement for time distribution records as long as there is corroborating evidence that the staff members actually carried out the schedules.

Q4. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay the cost of renting or leasing privately owned facilities for instructional purposes or office space?

A. The cost to rent or lease space in privately owned buildings is allowable if the space is necessary for the success of the project and space in publicly owned buildings is not available to the grantee.

Q5. Are maintenance and operation costs such as janitorial services and utilities costs allowable charges?

A. Maintenance and operation costs are allowable charges to Chapter 1 to the extent that the costs are not otherwise included in rent or other charges for space, are reasonable and necessary for the success of the project, and the costs are distributed on an equitable basis.

Q6. May Chapter 1 funds be used to construct school facilities?

A. Yes, when necessary to the success of the Chapter 1 program. Section 1011(a)(2) of Chapter 1 and §200.4(c) of the regulations specifically authorize the use of Chapter 1 funds, where necessary, to construct school facilities. The LEA must demonstrate in its application that the proposed construction is essential to the success of the Chapter 1 project, that it has made every effort to consider other funds to pay for the construction, and that there is no alternative space that meets the needs of the project.

Q7. May Chapter 1 funds be used to provide training for instructional and pupil services personnel not paid with Chapter 1 funds?

A. The cost of training personnel not paid with Chapter 1 funds is an allowable charge if the training is specifically related to the Chapter 1 program and designed to meet the specific educational needs of participating educationally deprived children; is not designed to meet the general needs of the LEA, an entire school, or all children in a school or class; and supplements, not supplants, State and local training.

Q8. May Chapter 1 funds be used to train personnel in preparation for implementing a program in a subsequent school year?

A. Yes. For example, in preparation for implementing a Chapter 1 project that addresses more advanced skills in reading during the next school year, an LEA may use current Chapter 1 funds to implement a training program for Chapter 1 paid staff as well as regular classroom teachers to be served by the new project during the next school year.

Q9. May equipment be purchased with Chapter 1 funds?

A. Section 200.4(c) of the regulations and section 1011(a)(2) of Chapter 1 permit the use of Chapter 1 funds to acquire equipment. An LEA must determine that (1) the equipment is reasonable and necessary to effectively operate its Chapter 1 program; (2) existing equipment it already has will not be sufficient; and (3) the costs are reasonable.

Q10. What procedures govern disposition of equipment purchased with Chapter 1 funds?

A. A State’s procedures concerning disposition of equipment govern the disposition of Chapter 1 equipment, regardless of whether the State is following Part 80 of EDGAR or applying its own procedures for fiscal control and fund accountability under §200.5(a)(4). Section 80.32(b) of EDGAR requires that a State will dispose of equipment "in accordance with State laws and procedures." However, the State may follow, as its State procedures, the disposition provisions in §80.32(e) of EDGAR.

Q11. When an LEA recovers funds from the sale of equipment or real property purchased with Chapter 1 funds, may these funds be retained by the LEA?

A. As stated in the answer to Q10., a State’s procedures govern the disposition of Chapter 1 equipment and real property. If a State has decided to apply the provision in §80.32(e) of EDGAR as its State procedures, an LEA may retain, sell, or otherwise dispose of equipment with a current per unit fair-market value of less than $5,000 with no further obligation to the Federal Government. If the equipment has a per unit value of more than $5,000, §80.32(e)(2) requires the LEA to compensate the Federal Government. Similarly, §80.31(c) requires an LEA to compensate the Federal Government if it disposes of real property purchased in whole or in part with Chapter 1 funds.

A State may also adopt other procedures for disposing of Chapter 1 equipment and property. For example, a State may establish a threshold lower than the $5,000 amount established in §80.32(e). In addition, instead of returning the proceeds to the Federal Government under §§80.31(c) and 80.32(e)(2), a State may permit LEAs to expend those proceeds in the Chapter 1 program.

Q12. What happens to equipment purchased with Chapter 1 funds when it is no longer needed for Chapter 1 activities?

A. If a State applies Part 80 of EDGAR, 34 CFR 80.32(c)(1) provides that when equipment is no longer needed for its original purpose, it may be used for activities currently or previously funded by other Federal programs. If there are no such current activities, the LEA should apply the State's disposition procedures.

Q13. What options does an LEA have to make maximum use of equipment purchased, in whole or in part, with Chapter 1 funds?

A. An LEA has several options to increase flexibility in using Chapter 1 equipment. When an LEA purchases equipment with Chapter 1 funds, for example, it may share the cost with other Federal, State, or local programs that will also make use of the equipment on a proportional basis. Likewise, an LEA that wishes to use Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities may pay a reasonable user fee to the Chapter 1 program for the portion of time the equipment is used in non-Chapter 1 activities. Further, an LEA may use Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities without paying a user fee or sharing costs in accordance with the standards described in Question 14 below. Additionally, an LEA may take into consideration when it decides its equipment needs under Chapter 1 whether other equipment—e.g., LEA-funded adult education equipment used at night—would be available for Chapter 1 use during the day.

Q14. Are there circumstances under which Chapter 1 equipment may be used in non-Chapter 1 activities without paying a user fee or sharing costs?

A. Yes, subject to the standards described below. Under section 1011(a) of Chapter 1, an LEA may use Chapter 1 funds only for programs and projects designed to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children. Any equipment purchased with Chapter 1 funds must be reasonable and necessary to implement a properly designed project for those children. The Department recognizes, however, that under some circumstances, equipment purchased as part of a properly designed Chapter 1 project may, without constituting an improper expenditure, be used on a less than full-time basis. If that equipment could be made available for other educational uses without interfering with its use in the Chapter 1 project or significantly shortening its useful life, the Department would have no objection to the non-Chapter 1 use, given the fact that it would otherwise be idle.
This guidance is consistent with 34 CFR 80.32(c), which allows equipment to be made available for use on other projects or programs currently or previously supported by the Federal Government, "providing such use will not interfere with the work on the projects or program for which it was originally acquired." The guidance is also consistent with parallel flexibility afforded to institutions of higher education, hospitals, and nonprofit organizations in 34 CFR 74.137, which permits shared use of equipment purchased with Federal funds in non-federally funded, as well as federally funded, projects. Because a State may adopt its own procedures for use of Chapter 1 equipment (see §§200.5(a)(4), 80.32(b)), it could adopt the flexibility in §§80.32(c) or 74.137, even though those provisions do not otherwise apply to the Chapter 1 program. The guidance set forth below assists in ensuring that limited use of Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities does not interfere with the Chapter 1 program and is consistent with the Chapter 1 statute and regulations.

An LEA that decides to use Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities on a part-time basis must do so in a manner that protects the integrity of the equipment as a Chapter 1 expenditure. Accordingly, the LEA must ensure and document that the Chapter 1 equipment is part of a Chapter 1 project that has been properly designed to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children; that the equipment purchased with Chapter 1 funds is reasonable and necessary to operate the LEA's Chapter 1 project, without regard to any use in non-Chapter 1 activities; that the project has been designed to make maximum appropriate use of the equipment for Chapter 1 purposes; and that the use of the equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities does not decrease the quality or effectiveness of the Chapter 1 services provided to Chapter 1 children with the equipment, increase the cost of using the equipment for providing those services, or result in the exclusion of Chapter 1 children who otherwise would have been able to use the equipment.

LEAs should be judicious in applying these standards. The Secretary will presume, absent actual evidence to the contrary, that the standards have been met and that use of Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities is proper if that use does not exceed 10 percent of the time the equipment is used in Chapter 1 activities. However, use above that amount in non-Chapter 1 activities is not necessarily improper if the standards are met on a case-by-case basis.

The following examples illustrate some situations in which Chapter 1 equipment may be used in non-Chapter 1 activities:

1. Computers purchased with Chapter 1 funds are used full-time during the school day but are idle during evening hours and would be beneficial to adult education classes that meet twice a week. The use in the adult education classes would not be extensive and therefore would not significantly shorten the useful life of the equipment. Under these circumstances, the Chapter 1 computers may be used for the adult education classes.

2. Chapter 1 computers that are part of a properly designed Chapter 1 project are being used full-time except for one period each school day. The proper amount of computer equipment was purchased for the Chapter 1 project and the Chapter 1 project cannot be redesigned effectively to use the computers in every period. Under these circumstances, the Chapter 1 computers may be used, for example, for State or locally funded compensatory education activities during the period they are idle.

3. Ten listening centers were purchased with Chapter 1 funds and are used regularly but not continuously in the Chapter 1 project. The Chapter 1 project cannot be designed effectively to use the centers more frequently. The listening centers are used in an extracurricular foreign language program for periods of time averaging 10 percent or less of the time devoted to Chapter 1. If the useful life of the centers is not significantly reduced, the centers may be used in this matter.

The above examples are predicated on the assumption that the equipment was a reasonable and necessary part of a properly designed Chapter 1 project. An LEA's project would be improperly designed if, for example, excess Chapter 1 equipment was purchased so that it could be available for non-Chapter 1 use, or if non-Chapter 1 use was considered in the decision to purchase Chapter 1 equipment. Essentially, purchase of Chapter 1 equipment must be made solely on the basis of the needs of the Chapter 1 program, and non-Chapter 1 use of that equipment may in no way harm the LEA's Chapter 1 program. To ensure proper use of Chapter 1 equipment, the SEA should review, approve, and monitor LEA use of Chapter 1 equipment in non-Chapter 1 activities.

Q15. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay for travel and conference costs?

A. The costs for staff travel and conferences are allowable if the travel and conferences are specifically related to the Chapter 1 program and not to the general needs of the LEA and are reasonable and necessary.

Innovation Projects

The Chapter 1 statute authorizes an LEA, with the approval of the SEA, to use up to and including 5 percent of the funds it receives under §200.22 through §200.26 for conducting innovation projects. The purpose of innovation projects is to promote quality in the Chapter 1 LEA program.

Q16. What is an innovation project?

A. Innovation projects may include only the following:

- Continuation of services to children who received Chapter 1 services in any preceding year for a period sufficient to maintain progress made during their participation in the program (notwithstanding §200.31(a) of the regulations).

- Provision of continued services, for a period not to exceed two additional years, to children participating in a Chapter 1 project who are transferred to ineligible areas or schools as part of a desegregation plan (notwithstanding §200.31(c)(1) of the regulations).

- Incentive payments to schools that have demonstrated significant progress and success in attaining the goals of Chapter 1.
- Training of Chapter 1 and non-Chapter 1 paid teachers and librarians with respect to the special educational needs of eligible children and integration of activities under Chapter 1 into regular classroom programs.
- Programs to encourage innovative approaches to parental involvement or rewards to or expansion of exemplary parental involvement programs.
- Encouraging the involvement of community and private sector resources (including fiscal resources) in meeting the needs of eligible children.
- Assistance to schools identified under section 1021(b) of Chapter 1 (school program improvement).

Q17. Must the LEA seek approval from the SEA to use Chapter 1 funds for innovation projects?

A. Yes. The LEA must include in its application for Chapter 1 funds a description of any innovation projects it proposes to conduct.

Q18. Does the 5 percent limitation on innovation projects apply only to funds expended on innovation project activities?

A. The 5 percent limit applies only to activities an LEA conducts as innovation projects. The limitation does not apply to similar activities that may otherwise be authorized by Chapter 1. For example, an LEA may use 5 percent of its Chapter 1 funds for parental involvement activities as an innovation project in addition to other parental involvement activities it conducts with Chapter 1 funds that are not included as an innovation project.

Q19. Do all Chapter 1 requirements apply to innovation projects?

A. Yes. Except as provided in §200.4(b)(4)(i)-(ii), all Chapter 1 program requirements apply to innovation projects that LEAs conduct.

Q20. May an LEA use funds under an innovation project to reward a school that, because of the success of the Chapter 1 program, the school no longer has children participating in the program?

A. No. As an authorized innovation project, an LEA may make incentive payments to schools that have demonstrated significant progress and success in attaining the goals of Chapter 1. However, those schools must still have children participating in the Chapter 1 program.
ASSURANCES AND APPLICATIONS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1012 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.10 and 200.20-200.21

State Educational Agency Assurances

An SEA must submit the assurances in section 1012(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.10 of the regulations to the Secretary once during the current authorization.

State assurances cover the SEA's responsibilities for-

- Fiscal control and fund accounting procedures;
- Evaluation and school program improvement;
- State program improvement activities; and
- LEA compliance with statutory and regulatory provisions.

Q1. What documentation should an SEA have available to demonstrate that it has carried out activities to support its assurances?

A. SEA documentation should include, but need not be limited to, the following:

- Fiscal records that--
  a. Are up-to-date and reflect sound accounting principles;
  b. Indicate disbursements of Chapter 1 funds on a separate basis from other funds; and
  c. Meet the recordkeeping requirements in section 437(a) of GEPA.

- The State's written administrative and fiscal procedures, if Part 80 of EDGAR is not adopted.

- Records to show the members and activities of the committee of practitioners;

- Time distribution records to support the distribution of costs for staff whose salaries come from more than one source.

- Maintenance of effort data for each LEA.
Evaluation reports for LEAs, which must be submitted once every three years.

Documentation that the SEA has made public the results of its State evaluation.

A State program improvement plan, which incorporates requirements in section 1020 of Chapter 1 and §200.37 of the regulations; school program improvement plans submitted by LEAs; and joint plans, when required.

An approved application for each LEA that is implementing a Chapter 1 program, including approved annual updates for multi-year applications and amendments that cover changes in LEA programs.

Information that promotes and/or documents compliance such as monitoring standards, procedures, activities, and results; policy guidance; State regulations; standards, procedures, and guidelines for approving local applications; and audit reports.

Local Applications

An LEA may apply for a Chapter 1 subgrant if it is located, in whole or in part, in a county where at least 10 children counted under section 1005(c) of Chapter 1 reside.

Q2. May two or more LEAs enter into a cooperative arrangement to apply for a Chapter 1 subgrant?

A. Yes. LEAs may join in a cooperative agreement to apply for a subgrant. The LEAs may designate one of the joining agencies to administer the program, or if there are regional consortia authorized under State law that meet the definition of an LEA, the regional agency may administer the program.

Q3. Who designs the LEA application form? What is the maximum project period that an application may cover?

A. Each SEA designs an application form that the LEAs in that State use to apply for a subgrant. An SEA may choose to develop a multi-year application form that covers a maximum of three years. In this case, LEAs must submit annual updates. An SEA has the option, subject to State rulemaking requirements, of developing an annual or two-year application form, which includes in full the requirements in section 1012(b) and (c) of Chapter 1 and §200.20(a)-(c) of the regulations.

Q4. What must be included in an LEA application before it can be approved by the SEA?
A. An application must include, but is not limited to, the following:

- A description (meaning a concise explanation, not an extended narrative) of the procedures for conducting an annual needs assessment.
- A rank-ordered list of eligible school attendance areas that identifies project areas, the type of low-income data by which they were selected, the districtwide percentage or average number of children from low-income families, and explanatory information on schools or school attendance areas selected or not selected under special rules.
- A description of the project that provides enough information about the proposed activities for the SEA to determine if the plan for the program is in compliance.
- A budget that separates proposed expenditures for services for public and private school children.
- A description of desired outcomes for children in the project, in terms of basic and more advanced skills that all children are expected to master, and how the LEA will measure substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes.
- A description of services to be provided to private school children.
- A description of services to be provided to local N or D children.
- A description of innovation projects, if any are planned.
- Maintenance of effort data (if not available to the SEA through another means).
- If appropriate, the assurance concerning comparability of services in §200.43(c)(1)(i). An LEA has the option of implementing other measures for determining compliance according to §200.43(c)(1)(ii)(A) and (B) instead of filing a written assurance with the SEA.
- The assurances required under section 436(b)(2) and (3) of GEPA relating to fiscal control and fund accounting procedures.
- Local assurances required in §200.20(a)(8)-(10) of the regulations.

Q5. What are the desired outcomes that must be included in the application?

A. An LEA's application must include desired outcomes for eligible children, in terms of basic and more advanced skills that all children are expected to master in each instructional area included in the Chapter 1 program, which will be used as the basis for evaluating the program. The desired outcomes are the goals an LEA sets to help children succeed in the regular school program, attain grade level proficiency, and improve achievement in basic and more advanced skills. At a minimum, the desired outcomes must include aggregate performance. LEAs are strongly encouraged to include other desired outcomes in basic and more advanced skills that are more directly related to their Chapter I program. LEAs may choose to measure progress toward these goals using a variety of indicators such as improved performance in the regular program, fewer retentions in grade, or lower dropout rates. Desired outcomes must be stated in measurable terms. (For a more extensive discussion, see the Program Improvement section of this manual.)

Q6. What must be included in annual updates for LEAs that submit multi-year applications?

A. Annual updates must include, but are not limited to, the following:

- A rank-ordered list of eligible school attendance areas that identifies project areas, the type of low-income data by which they were selected, the districtwide percentage or average number of children from low-income families, and explanatory information on schools or school attendance areas selected or not selected under special rules.

- Maintenance of effort data (if not otherwise available to the SEA).

- A budget that separates proposed expenditures for public and private school children.

- If there are substantial changes in the number or needs of the children to be served or the services to be provided, a description of the changes.

Q7. How much of a change in the number or needs of children being served constitutes a change substantial enough to require an amendment to the application?

A. Programmatic changes resulting from a change in the number or needs of participating children or both must be reported to the SEA in the form of an amendment. There is no quantitative figure, however, that determines the point at which this action must be taken. It is the LEA's responsibility to recognize the need for an amendment when the program approved in the application undergoes modifications. The amendment must be developed in consultation with parents and teachers as in the development of the original application.

Q8. May an SEA give conditional approval to an LEA's application that does not meet all of the requirements of the statute and regulations?

A. No.

Q9. Who must be involved in the development of an application?

A. An LEA's application must be developed in consultation with parents and teachers of participating children. The LEA may also consult with principals, regular teachers of Chapter 1 students, early childhood specialists, librarians, and pupil services personnel.

Local Assurances

Q10. What assurances must be provided by an LEA in the application?

A. Section 200.20(a)(10) of the regulations requires an LEA's application to include assurances that the LEA's projects—

- Are of sufficient size, scope, and quality to give reasonable promise of substantial progress toward meeting the special educational needs of the children being served;
- Are designed and implemented in consultation with teachers (including early childhood professionals, pupil services personnel, and librarians, if appropriate);
- Provide for parental involvement as required by §200.34 of the regulations;
- Provide for the allocation of time and resources for frequent and regular coordination between Chapter 1 staff and the regular program staff; and
- Provide maximum coordination between Chapter 1 and programs to address children's handicapping conditions or limited English proficiency (LEP).

Under §200.20(a)(10)(ii), an SEA may request additional information to ensure compliance with the required assurances. For example, an SEA may ask an LEA to describe how parents were involved in the development of the program that is proposed in the application in support of the parental involvement assurance.

Q11. Are assurances necessary if the activity is described elsewhere in the application?

A. Yes. The regulations state that the required assurances must be included in the application. Further description of activities may be desirable but should not be used in place of the list of assurances required by the regulations.

Q12. When should consultation occur?

A. Consultation should occur during all aspects of the Chapter 1 program, including selecting the procedures for needs assessment, establishing desired outcomes, designing program activities, and evaluating effectiveness. The consultation process should be ongoing, timely, and systematic so that the project has the benefit of multiple perspectives and reflects coordination among the various interests.

Q12a. When would it be appropriate to include early childhood professionals, pupil services personnel, and librarians in designing and implementing the Chapter 1 program?
A. Personnel who will participate in a program component or who will serve in an advisory capacity should be included in designing the program. For example, most Chapter 1 projects have reading as an instructional area; therefore, librarians who have expertise on books and materials appropriate for various reading levels can provide helpful advice in planning and implementing the reading component. For Chapter 1 projects that include a preschool program, early childhood professionals can contribute essential information on the development and needs of preschool children. Projects that include activities to raise self-esteem or counsel students should involve pupil services personnel in planning as well as implementing those activities.

Q13. What are some examples of ways an LEA may allocate time and resources for effective coordination between Chapter 1 staff and the regular program staff?

A. Section 200.20(a)(10)(D) of the Chapter 1 regulations requires that an LEA include in its application an assurance that it will allocate time and resources for frequent and regular coordination between Chapter 1 staff and regular staff to ensure that both Chapter 1 and regular instructional programs meet the special educational needs of Chapter 1 children. This coordination should be a two-way street. That is, while the Chapter 1 program should be structured in a way that does not detract from and in fact fits smoothly into the regular program, the LEA should also examine which aspects of the regular program may be facilitating or frustrating the success of Chapter 1 children. Examples of time and resources that an LEA can provide are as follows:

- Substitutes for Chapter 1 personnel and regular program personnel to free them to meet to coordinate objectives and lesson plans.
- Parent conferences that include Chapter 1 personnel in addition to regular staff.
- Participation by Chapter 1 teachers in district curriculum committees or textbook selection committees.
- Involvement of regular teachers in the design of the Chapter 1 program.

Q14. What are some examples of coordination between Chapter 1 and programs that address children’s handicapping conditions or LEP?

A. This type of coordination can be accomplished through the following types of activities:

- Team meetings between personnel from Chapter 1, special education, and LEP programs can be arranged to compare objectives and plan activities.
- Needs assessment information can be shared among Chapter 1, special education, and LEP programs, which will enable an LEA to better meet the needs of all children with special learning needs.
Schoolwide projects offer the opportunity to develop enhanced capacity in teacher training, program offerings, and curriculum development.

Special teachers can be utilized in a variety of capacities. For example, there is no prohibition against special education and LEP teachers working with Chapter 1 students, so long as salaries are appropriately prorated among the funding sources. When school districts prorate personnel costs among funding sources, however, it is important for personnel to keep time distribution records.

Special education and LEP teachers working with eligible Chapter 1 children may participate in Chapter 1 inservice training programs that are designed for Chapter 1 purposes. Likewise, special education and LEP personnel may have expertise in teaching educationally disadvantaged children that could be shared with Chapter 1 personnel in training programs.
The General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) is a law that contains general requirements that apply to most programs administered by ED. Section 1438 of Chapter 1 makes the provisions of GEPA apply to Chapter 1 with the exception of the following sections that are superseded by specific sections of Chapter 1:

- Section 408(a)(1) of GEPA superseded by section 1431 (Federal Regulations).
- Section 426(a) of GEPA superseded by section 1437 (Appropriations for Evaluation and Technical Assistance).
- Section 427 of GEPA superseded by section 1016 (Parental Involvement).
- Section 430 of GEPA superseded by section 1012 (Basic Programs -- Assurances and Applications).
- Section 435 of GEPA superseded by section 1433 (Withholding of Payments).
- Section 458 of GEPA superseded by section 1434 (Judicial Review) with respect to judicial review of withholding of payments.

In addition, under the exclusion rule, sections 434, 435, and 436 of GEPA also do not apply to Chapter 1 except for the following sections that relate to fiscal control and fund accounting procedures:

- Section 434(a)(2).
- Section 435(b)(2) and (5).
- Section 436(b)(2) and (3).

Q1. What is the difference between GEPA and EDGAR?

A. GEPA is a law; EDGAR is a set of administrative regulations.
GRANTBACKS

Statutory Requirement

Section 459 of GEPA (NOTE: With respect to final audit determinations received by States prior to October 25, 1988, grantbacks are governed by section 456 of GEPA as in effect prior to the Hawkins-Stafford Act).

In cases where ED has recovered funds from an SEA or LEA that misspent Chapter 1 funds or failed to account properly for those funds, the SEA may request a "grantback." A grantback may not exceed 75 percent of the recovered funds.

Q1. What requirements must be met for the Secretary to award a grantback?

A. If an SEA wishes to request a grantback of Chapter 1 funds, the Chief State School Officer should submit the following to the Assistant Secretary for Elementary and Secondary Education:

- A letter that--
  a. Requests the repayment of funds;
  b. Provides assurances that--
     (1) The practices in the SEA or LEA that resulted in the violation of law have been corrected; and
     (2) The Chapter 1 program in the SEA or LEA has been reviewed during the current school year, and the SEA has determined that it is in compliance with all applicable Chapter 1 requirements.
  c. A detailed explanation, including documentation, if available, of actions taken to correct the specific violations.
- A plan for the use of grantback funds that--
  a. Meets the requirements of Chapter 1;
  b. To the extent possible, benefits the Chapter 1 children who were affected by the failure to comply or by the misuse of funds that resulted in the recovery. (If a time lapse makes it impossible to serve the same children, the plan must justify use of funds for the benefit of current participating Chapter 1 children.);
  c. Shows that the use of the funds would achieve the purposes of Chapter 1; and
  d. Includes the following:
     (1) An identification of the recipient(s) of the grantback funds.
(2) A brief description of the current Chapter 1 program.

(3) A detailed description of the activities to be provided with grantback funds and how these activities would supplement the regular Chapter 1 program.

(4) An itemized budget that shows how the recipient(s) would spend the funds on the proposed activities.

(5) The beginning and ending dates of the project period.

(6) Evidence that parents or representatives of the children who would benefit from the grantback funds were consulted in planning the program.

(7) A description of how equitable services would be provided to eligible private school children.

- Evidence that the SEA has fully satisfied its financial liability or has entered into a repayment agreement with ED. It is important for the SEA to address any other outstanding debts with ED by making payment or by entering into a repayment agreement with ED before requesting a grantback of Chapter 1 funds.

- If funds were repaid to ED as the result of LEA audit findings under the Single Audit Act, audit materials that provide the basis for a step-by-step description of how the audit determinations were resolved by the SEA.

Q2. How long does it take to get a grantback?

A. From the time ED receives an approvable plan (one that incorporates the above requirements), it usually takes three to four months to complete the process. Thus, when a decision is made to request a grantback, the necessary actions should be initiated as soon as possible in order to avoid a possible delay in beginning the activities.

Q3. What is the period of availability for the use of grantback funds?

A. The period of availability is based on the Federal fiscal year, which ends on September 30. Grantback funds may remain available for expenditure for no more than three fiscal years following the fiscal year in which final agency action occurs. For example, if a final action occurred on November 25, 1989 (FY 1990), the period of availability would last until September 30, 1993.

Q4. What constitutes "final agency action" in determining the period of availability?

A. 1. For final audit determinations received by a State prior to October 25, 1988, the period of availability is determined from the last applicable event of the following:

- The issuance of the final determination letter by the appropriate official in ED. (If no final determination letter was issued, then the date that repayment was made.)
A decision by the Education Appeal Board (EAB) upholding the audit determination.

Sixty days after receipt of the EAB's decision; or 60 days after the Secretary's action modifying or setting aside the EAB's decision.

A negotiated settlement and/or repayment agreement between ED and the SEA while a case is under administrative or judicial review pursuant to section 455 of GEPA.

A final decision by the United States Court of Appeals for the circuit in which the SEA or LEA is located, or by the United States Supreme Court, upholding the audit determination.

2. Final agency action for a program determination received by a State on or after October 25, 1988 is the last applicable event of the following:

The issuance of written notice of a disallowance decision issued by an authorized Departmental official. (If no disallowance decision was issued, then the date that repayment was made.)

A decision by the Office of Administrative Law Judges (OALJ) upholding the disallowance decision.

Sixty days after receipt of the OALJ's decision; or the Secretary's decision modifying or setting aside the OALJ's decision.

A negotiated settlement and/or repayment agreement between ED and the SEA while a case is under administrative review.

NOTE: For program determinations received by a State on or after October 25, 1988, which are appealed to court, "final agency action" is the last applicable administrative action listed above, not any subsequent court decision or other action taken during judicial review.

Q5. What are the terms and conditions to which a grantback payment is subject during and after the project period?

A. Section 459(b) of GEPA provides that any payments made under a grantback arrangement shall be subject to the terms and conditions that the Secretary deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of the program. These include, but are not limited to, the following:

The funds awarded under the grantback must be spent in accordance with--

a. All applicable statutory and regulatory requirements;
b. The plan submitted by the SEA or LEA for the use of the funds and any amendments to that plan that are approved by the Secretary; and

c. The budget included in the plan and any amendments to the budget approved by the Secretary.

- All the funds awarded under the grantback must be obligated within the project period included in the plan.
- Separate accounting records must be maintained documenting the expenditure of the repaid funds.
- A report must be submitted to the Secretary no later than 90 days after the completion of the project that indicates that the funds were spent in accordance with the plan and the budget included in the plan.

Q6. What public notification is made that the Secretary intends to award a grantback?

A. The Secretary must publish a notice in the Federal Register 30 days prior to making a grantback payment. The notice explains the terms and conditions under which payment will be made and describes the plan for the use of funds. During the 30-day period, interested persons may submit comments regarding the proposed arrangement.
Section 200.5 of the Chapter 1 regulations makes applicable the following parts of EDGAR:

- A limited number of provisions in Part 76 (State Administered Programs).
- Part 77 (Definitions).
- Part 78 (Education Appeal Board).
- Part 80 (Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Cooperative Agreements to State and Local Governments), unless the State chooses to use its own written fiscal and administrative requirements.
- Part 81 (General Education Provisions Act—Enforcement).
- Part 85 (Governmentwide Debarment and Suspension (Non-Procurement) and Governmentwide Requirements for Drug-Free Workplace (Grants)).

Q1. What provisions in Part 76 apply to Chapter 1?

A. The following provisions in Part 76 apply to Chapter 1:

- 76.1 - Programs to which Part 76 applies.
- 76.2 - Exceptions in program regulations to Part 76.
- 76.50 - Statutes determine eligibility and whether subgrants are made.
- 76.51 - A State distributes funds by formula or competition.

76.600 - Where to find construction regulations.
76.670-76.677 - Procedures for bypass.
76.681 - Protection of human research subjects.
76.682 - Treatment of animals.
76.683 - Health or safety standards for facilities.
76.700 - Compliance with statutes, regulations, State plan, and applications.
76.701 - The State or subgrantee administers or supervises each project.
76.702 - Fiscal control and fund accounting procedures.
76.703 - When a State may begin to obligate funds.
76.704 - When certain subgrantees may begin to obligate funds.
76.705 - Funds may be obligated during a "carryover period."
76.706 - Obligations made during a carryover period are subject to current statutes, regulations, and applications.
76.707 - When obligations are made.
76.720 - Financial and performance reports by a State.
76.722 - A subgrantee makes reports required by the State.
76.730 - Records related to grant funds.
76.731 - Records related to compliance.
76.734 - Record retention period.
76.740 - Protection of and accessibility to student records.
Q2. May a State apply its own written fiscal and administrative procedures rather than Part 80, which implements OMB Circulars A-102 and A-87?

A. Yes. If a State wishes to apply its own written fiscal and administrative requirements rather than Part 80 of EDGAR, those requirements must meet the following criteria:

- Provide guidance that is sufficiently specific to ensure compliance with all applicable statutory and regulatory requirements.
- Ensure that funds are spent for reasonable and necessary costs of operating Chapter 1 programs.
- Ensure that funds are not used for general expenses required to carry out other responsibilities of State or local governments.

Q3. If a State decides to adopt its own fiscal and administrative requirements rather than Part 80 of EDGAR, must the committee of practitioners review the decision?

A. Yes. Section 1451 of Chapter 1 and §200.70 of the regulations state that the committee of practitioners must be convened to review any major proposal or final rule or regulation before publication. Therefore, a State's decision to apply its own procedures should be reviewed by this committee.

Q4. May an SEA apply portions of Part 80 and use its own written procedures for other items covered by Part 80?

A. Yes.

Q5. How long must SEAs and LEAs retain fiscal and compliance records?

A. Under section 437(a) of GEPA and 34 CFR 76.734 of EDGAR, SEAs and LEAs must retain records for five years after completion of a grant activity.
Q6. What does the Single Audit Act of 1984 require?

A. According to the Appendix to Part 80, the Single Audit Act of 1984 requires that an independent auditor annually audit SEAs or LEAs receiving $100,000 or more a year in Federal assistance for internal control and compliance. Those receiving between $25,000 and $100,000 a year have the option of participating in the single audit or an audit in accordance with the requirements of the programs in which they participate. State or local governments receiving less than $25,000 a year are governed by audit requirements prescribed by State or local law or regulation. Under a single audit, each major Federal assistance program is tested for representative charges based on the auditor’s judgment.

Q7. For what portion of the cost of a single audit may Chapter I pay?

A. Chapter I may pay a prorated share of the cost of the audit according to the percentage Chapter I contributes toward the total amount of Federal assistance received by the LEA or SEA. The percentage may be exceeded, however, if appropriate documentation indicates higher actual costs were incurred to audit the Chapter I program.

Q8. To whom should audit reports be submitted?

A. Auditors submit the audit report to the organization audited following the audit. (When an LEA is audited, a copy of the report also goes to the SEA.) The recipient submits copies of the report to each Federal agency providing program funds. Recipients of more than $100,000 in Federal funds must submit a copy to the following clearinghouse designated by OMB: Data Preparation Division, U.S. Bureau of the Census, 1202 East 10th Street, Jeffersonville, Indiana 47132.

Q9. How can recipients of Federal education funds prepare for successful audits?

A. Ongoing activities that can develop audit readiness include the following:

- Establishing internal controls.
- Complying with Federal requirements.
- Maintaining records.
- Requesting internal audits.

Internal controls should be examined according to the following questions:

- Do payroll records support charges to Federal funds?
- Are procedures in place to verify that charges are allowable under grant or contract provisions?
Are procedures adequate to verify that program participants are eligible?

Do corrective actions result from monitoring activities?

Examples of types of compliance requirements applicable to ED programs include the following:

- Charges for direct labor to Federal grants.
- Treatment of grant-related income.
- Reporting of financial status.
- Eligibility of participants.
- Monitoring of activities.
- Allowability of services.

Records related to federally funded activities involving any portion of an audit process initiated prior to the end of the record retention period must be retained until the audit, audit resolution, or audit appeal has been completed. Recordkeeping should establish an audit trail beginning with the preparation of the application and should include records to support the application. Internal audits can also help determine whether adequate administrative and accounting controls are in place.

NOTE: The above information was taken from a brochure prepared by the Office of Inspector General entitled "Audit Readiness for Recipients of Federal Education Funds." This brochure contains other helpful advice and may be obtained by writing to the Office of Inspector General, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-1500.

Q10. What enforcement procedures apply to the Chapter 1 LEA program?

A. Section 3501 of the Hawkins-Stafford Act amended Part E of GEPA to provide for new enforcement procedures. The amended Part E requires the Secretary to establish an OALJ to replace the existing EAB and sets out new hearing procedures. 20 U.S.C. 1234-1234i. With the exception of provisions regarding withholding actions and judicial review of those actions, which are superseded by sections 1433 and 1434 of Chapter 1, Part E applies to the Chapter 1 LEA program. As a result, appeals from cost disallowance decisions, received by an SEA on or after October 25, 1988, as well as most other enforcement proceedings under the Chapter 1 LEA Program, will be heard by the OALJ. The regulations in 34 CFR Part 81 contain general procedural rules for proceedings before the OALJ and specific rules for OALJ hearings for the recovery of funds. Future proposed regulations implementing Part E will address whether withholding actions under the Chapter 1 LEA program will also be heard by the OALJ. The EAB will continue to hear appeals from determinations under the Chapter 1 LEA program received by an SEA before October 25.
Q11. Do government wide debarment and suspension (nonprocurement) requirements and government wide requirements for a drug-free workplace apply to Chapter 1?

The regular debarment and suspension regulations provide that statutory entitlements and mandatory awards (but not sub-tier awards thereunder which are not themselves mandatory) are not covered by the debarment and suspension regulations (34 CFR 85.110(a)(2)(i)). The Secretary has concluded that this exception from coverage precludes the Secretary from denying funding under Chapter 1 or any other State-administered program based on a regular debarment or suspension. The exception also would prevent ED from denying assistance to a subgrantee under Chapter 1 or any other program in which subgrantees are entitled to funds if they meet certain requirements.

While ED could not cut off funds to a State or mandatory subgrantee, the Secretary has determined that all lower-tier covered transactions, such as the employment of an administrator (a covered transaction under 34 CFR 85.110(a)(1)(ii)(A)), would be subject to the debarment and suspension regulations. Such a debarment would not prohibit the receipt of funds by the State or mandatory subgrantee. However, the debarment would prohibit the subject individual from acting as a principal for the State or subgrantee or from participating in any other covered transaction under nonprocurement programs of the Federal Government.

As a result, if ED discovered any activity by an administrator of Chapter 1 that would constitute grounds for debarment, the debarring official for ED would take action to debar the individual. Further, if a State continued to do business with the individual and paid for the individual's services with Chapter 1 funds, ED would consider issuing a program determination letter to the State to recover the Chapter 1 funds. Accordingly, each State must submit to ED a primary-tier certification that its principals have not been debarred or suspended.

Under the drug-free workplace requirements in Subpart F, all grantees receiving a grant from any Federal agency must certify that they will maintain a drug-free workplace. The regulations do not apply to subgrantees. The Department has authority to deny funds under entitlement programs such as Chapter 1 to grantees that fail to meet the drug-free workplace requirements. Because the regulations do not apply to subgrantees, there is no need for States to take any other action to fully implement the requirements.
ELIGIBLE SCHOOLS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1013 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.30 and 200.33

Section 1013 of Chapter 1 and §200.30 of the regulations require an LEA to conduct its projects in attendance areas selected on the basis of an annual ranking of all eligible attendance areas. Eligible Chapter 1 attendance areas are those with high concentrations of children from low-income families. An attendance area has a high concentration of children from low-income families if (1) the percentage of low-income children in the attendance area is at least as high as the percentage of low-income children in the entire LEA, or (2) the number of low-income children in the attendance area is at least equal to the average number of low-income children per attendance area in the entire LEA. An LEA may rank its attendance areas by grade span groupings or for the entire LEA. In addition, an LEA has the flexibility in identifying and ranking its eligible attendance areas to apply several special rules. These special rules may be applied to either grade span groupings or the district as a whole. LEAs with a total enrollment of fewer than 1,000 children or no more than one attendance area or one school at each grade span do not have to comply with the requirements for identifying eligible schools.

Eligible Attendance Areas

In identifying eligible attendance areas, an LEA must use the best available measure for identifying children from low-income families. An LEA may use data on children from families receiving AFDC, data on families whose children are eligible under the National School Lunch Program, or other appropriate data. If an LEA uses a composite of several data sources, the sources must be weighted.

Q1. How does an LEA identify school attendance areas with high concentrations of low-income children?

A. An LEA must annually determine eligible attendance areas by using the percentage or numerical methods or a combination of the two methods within grade span groupings or the LEA as a whole.

In using the percentage method, an LEA designates attendance areas as eligible if the percentage of children from low-income families in an attendance area is at least equal to the percentage of children from low-income families in the entire LEA. The following is an example of an LEA that ranked all its attendance areas from the highest to lowest percentage of low-income children.

The numerical method designates an attendance area as eligible if the number of children from low-income families is at least equal to the average number of children from low-income families per attendance area in the entire LEA. The following example shows the ranking of all attendance areas in the same LEA as above by using the number of low-income children found in each attendance area.
Total Number of Low-income Children ÷ Number of Attendance Areas = Average Number of Low-income Children Per Attendance Area

\[ \frac{1,490}{9} = 165.6 \]

Attendance areas above the district average, or 165.6, are eligible for Chapter 1 service.

The combination method allows an LEA to designate attendance areas as eligible by using a combination of the percentage and numerical methods. The total number of eligible school attendance areas identified may not exceed the number the LEA would have identified as eligible when using either the percentage or numerical method for ranking attendance areas. The following is an example of the same LEA using the combination method.

Combination Method

Attendance Area A 35.8%
Attendance Area B 35.8%
Attendance Area D 28.1% or Attendance Area G 180

In determining the eligible areas using the combination method, the LEA in this example may not identify more than five attendance areas because that is the most that could be identified using either the percentage or numerical method. Although the LEA uses both lists to identify schools, each list is used in rank order. In this example, the combination method allows the LEA an option of either identifying Attendance Area D or G as eligible. That is, the LEA may identify as eligible an attendance area with 28.1 percent low-income children or an area with 180 low-income children.

Special Rules

After ranking attendance areas by the percentage, numerical, or combination method, an LEA has the discretion to exercise several special rules to identify eligible attendance areas. Each of the special rules may be applied to grade span groupings or to the LEA as a whole.
No-Wide Variance

An LEA may designate all attendance areas as eligible within a grade span grouping or in the entire LEA if all attendance areas fall within a range that is no more than 5 percentage points above and 5 percentage points below the grade span or LEA average. If an LEA elects to use this option, it must serve all the attendance areas within a grade span grouping or in the entire LEA, as appropriate.

The following are examples of the no-wide variance rule applied to an entire LEA. The first example shows an LEA that has "no-wide variance." The second example is an LEA that may not use this provision.

Example One (acceptable):

An LEA has ranked all attendance areas within the entire LEA from the highest to lowest percentage of children from low-income families and has determined the districtwide average to be 18 percent. The percentage of children from low-income families in all attendance areas range from a high concentration of 23 percent to a low of 13 percent. All attendance areas in this example fall within the required 5 percentage point range above and below the district average and qualify for the no-wide variance option. If the LEA elects to apply this option, all attendance areas are eligible and must be served.

Example Two (unacceptable):

An LEA has ranked all attendance areas from the highest to lowest percentage of children from low-income families and has a districtwide average of 12 percent. The concentration of low-income children in all attendance areas ranges from a high of 21 percent to a low of 10 percent. Although the attendance areas that fall below the districtwide average are within the allowable 5 percentage point range, the attendance areas above the districtwide average exceed the allowable 5 percentage point range. Therefore, this LEA would not qualify for the no-wide variance option.

25 Percent Rule

Notwithstanding a higher districtwide average, an LEA may designate as eligible any attendance area in which at least 25 percent of the children are from low-income families if it meets the expenditure requirements in section 1013(b)(2) of Chapter 1. To determine attendance area eligibility, an LEA must rank attendance areas by using the percentage of children from low-income families either within grade spans or the LEA as a whole. If an LEA does not select all eligible areas for participation, it must make the selection in rank order.

In order for an LEA to use the 25 percent rule, it must meet the expenditure requirements in section 1013(b)(2) of Chapter 1. Specifically, the LEA must spend in the current year in each school attendance area that received services in the preceding year, an aggregate per student amount of Chapter 1 funds and special State compensatory education funds that is at least equal to the amount spent per student in the preceding year. In other words, the LEA may not reduce Chapter 1 compensatory education services and State compensatory education services in order to serve additional schools under the 25 percent rule. However, the requirement does allow a reduction in the compensatory education expenditures if schools served in the preceding year are determined to need fewer resources. For example, if the number or needs of children to be served decreases, the funds required to meet those needs could also decrease.

Schools Serving Ineligible Attendance Areas

An LEA may identify as eligible a school that serves an ineligible attendance area or a school that serves more than one attendance area if the proportion of low-income children in average daily attendance in the school is substantially equal to the proportion of low-income children in an eligible attendance area. An LEA must then follow the ranking requirements and may apply any special rules for identifying and ranking school attendance areas to the school.

For example, in the response to Q1, the percentage method illustration shows that Attendance Area F was an ineligible area with 24.7 percent low-income children residing in the area. However, if the actual number of children in the school serving Attendance Area F was 800 and all 210 low-income children were in the school, the school's low-income percentage would be 26.3 percent. Therefore, the school could be identified as eligible as its percentage of low-income children is above the districtwide average of 25.4 percent.

Serving Lower Ranked School Attendance Areas

With SEA approval, an LEA may designate as eligible and serve school attendance areas or schools with substantially higher numbers or percentages of educationally deprived children before areas or schools with higher concentrations of children from low-income families. Prior to approval, the SEA must determine that the LEA meets the following criteria:

- The LEA may not serve more attendance areas than could otherwise be served.
- The implementation of this provision will not substantially impair the delivery of services to educationally deprived children from low-income families in project areas served by the LEA.

Continuation of Services Provision

A school attendance area or school that was designated in accordance with the percentage, numerical, or combination method and served in the immediately preceding fiscal year may continue to be served for one year even though the school attendance area is not eligible or is eligible but not selected. The school attendance area that continues to be served, or "grandfathered," may take the place of the lowest ranked, eligible school attendance area, or it may be an additional area or school served.

Skipping Eligible Attendance Areas

With SEA approval, an LEA may skip eligible attendance areas with a higher percentage or number of low-income children if the children in those attendance areas are receiving, from non-Federal sources, services of the same nature and scope as would be provided under Chapter 1. The SEA must ensure that the services are the same nature and scope and that the LEA is providing
In implementing this provision, the LEA must determine the number of private school children to receive services without regard to the non-Federal compensatory education funds used to serve eligible children in public schools. To determine the total number of private school children to be served, the LEA must determine the number that would have been served if only Chapter 1 funds were available and no attendance areas were skipped. For example, if the LEA determines that, absent services of the same nature and scope provided from non-Chapter 1 funds, the LEA would serve three attendance areas, the LEA must determine the number of private school children who would be served in those three areas. Assume that for all three areas a total of 36 private school children would be served. If non-Chapter 1 funds are used to serve one of the three areas, enabling the LEA to use Chapter 1 funds to serve a fourth area, private school children in all four areas must be considered for Chapter 1 services. The LEA must select 36 private school children who are most in need from the four attendance areas.

Q2. May a school attendance area that was served in the prior year under the 25 percent rule but drops below 25 percent in the current year continue to be served under the "grandfather clause" in §200.30(b)(5) of the regulations?

A. No. Section 1013(b)(5) of Chapter 1 requires that, in order for an LEA to continue to serve a school attendance area or school that becomes ineligible, the area or school must have been "designated and served in accordance with subsection (a) in the immediately preceding fiscal year." Subsection (a) of section 1013 of Chapter 1 sets forth the general rule for designating eligible school attendance areas—that is, school attendance areas having high concentrations of children from low-income families. Such areas are defined in §200.30(a)(2) of the regulations as areas in which the number or percentage of children from low-income families is at least equal to the districtwide average. The exceptions to the general rule, including the 25 percent rule, are contained in subsection (b) of section 1013 of Chapter 1. Therefore, the "grandfather clause" in §200.30(b)(5) of the regulations may be applied only to a school attendance area or school identified as eligible and served in the previous year because it was at or above the districtwide average.

Q3. Under the "no-wide variance" provision in §200.30(b)(1) of the regulations, must all school attendance areas be served?

A. Yes. Section 1013(b)(1) of Chapter 1, which §200.30(b)(1) of the regulations implements, states that an LEA may "designate as eligible and serve all of its attendance areas...if the percentage of children from low-income families in each attendance area of the agency is within 5 percentage points of the average percentage of such children..." (emphasis added).

In effect, this provision recognizes that there may be LEAs in which there is a uniform distribution of children from low-income families across the entire school district, thereby making selection of only those areas above the districtwide average a less meaningful distinction.
than in other LEAs. Depending on sufficient funds to serve all attendance areas required by the "no-wide variance" provision, the LEA has the ultimate choice of whether this provision would be the most beneficial to the Chapter 1 program. Therefore, if the LEA does not have sufficient funds to serve all of its areas, it may select another target option.

Q4. May an LEA use the "grandfather clause" to continue services for attendance areas served under any of the special rules?

A. No. As indicated in the answer to Q2, section 1013(b)(5) of Chapter 1 requires that, in order to continue service to an attendance area that becomes ineligible, the attendance area must have been eligible and selected for participation because it had a high concentration of children from low-income families selected under section 1013(a), i.e., those at or above the districtwide average number or percentage of children from low-income families.

Q5. When applying the 25 percent rule, must all attendance areas with at least 25 percent low-income children be served?

A. No. However, attendance areas to be served must be selected in rank order.

Q6. In determining eligible attendance areas by grade span groupings, may an LEA include all the low-income children who reside within the attendance area?

A. No. When an LEA ranks school attendance areas by grade spans, the number of children to be included in the ranking process may include only the students in that grade span.

Q7. May an LEA use different measures of low-income for different grade spans?

A. Yes, so long as the measures are consistent for each grade span.

Allocation of Resources

Q8. What does an LEA take into consideration when allocating resources?

A. An LEA must allocate resources to project schools, including resources for children in local N or D institutions and children enrolled in private schools, on the basis of the following criteria:

- The number of project areas to be selected in order to concentrate funds on children in greatest need. Questions to be asked:
  - Have any attendance areas been identified as needing program improvement?
  - Is the student population highly mobile?
- Is there a greater concentration of highly skilled staff in some attendance areas?

- Is student attendance low or the dropout level high in some attendance areas?

The number and needs of the children selected to participate. Questions to be asked:

- How many students per eligible site will be served?

- What are the needs of these students?

- What are the desired outcomes for eligible children?

- Do they all need reading? Math? Language Arts?

- What grade levels and instructional areas will be served at each site?

The degree of educational deprivation of the children to be served. Questions to be asked:

- Do most students have similar levels of deprivation?

- Do any project schools require additional resources because of low performance?

- Do all students need instruction on a daily basis?

The nature of services to be provided per site. Questions to be asked:

- What type and length of services will be provided?

- Will some sites require additional resources?

- Will instructional time vary according to the needs of the students?
ELIGIBLE CHILDREN

Statutory Requirement

Section 1014 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirement

Section 200.31

Section 1014 of Chapter 1 and §200.31 of the regulations require an LEA to conduct an annual assessment of educational needs that identifies educationally deprived children in all eligible attendance areas. Using data from the needs assessment, the LEA determines the instructional areas and grade levels to be served and establishes criteria for selecting children having the greatest need for special assistance for participation in the program.

Student Eligibility

Q1. What is meant by "educationally deprived children"?

A. "Educationally deprived children" means children whose educational attainment is below the level that is appropriate for children of their age.

Q2. What objective criteria may be used to identify educationally deprived children?

A. An LEA is required to establish educationally related objective criteria, which include written or oral testing instruments, for each grade level and instructional area and apply the criteria uniformly to particular grade levels throughout the LEA. Suggested objective criteria could include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Standardized tests.
- Regular classroom teachers' assessment of performance in the Chapter 1 instructional area.
- Criterion-referenced tests.
- Reading or mathematics placement assessments.
- Other assessment instruments related to educational performance.

An LEA may use a combination of objective criteria.

Q3. May an LEA continue services to a Chapter 1 participant who changes residence to an ineligible attendance area?

A. An LEA may continue to serve for the remainder of the current school year Chapter 1 students who begin participation in a Chapter 1 eligible attendance area and move to an ineligible attendance area.
Q4. May an LEA serve students who reside in an eligible attendance area within the LEA even though these students attend school in an ineligible attendance area within the LEA under a voluntary de-aggregation or open enrollment plan?

A. Yes. Students who reside in an eligible attendance area within the LEA but attend school in an ineligible attendance area within the LEA may be served under Chapter 1 if these students meet the LEA's definition of educational deprivation.

The following are some ways in which these students may be served. This list is not all inclusive.

- Students may receive service directly in the ineligible school building they attend during their regular day just as students do in eligible attendance areas so long as the program is of sufficient size, scope, and quality.

- Students may receive services in a neutral location. This may be done during the regular school day, before or after school, or on weekends. In this manner, several students who have volunteered to attend various schools serving ineligible attendance areas can be brought together in one group and served.

- Students may be served during the summer.

- Students may be served in their homes by tutors.

- Students could be given assignments and resources to take home. Some of these may include take-home computers and software, workbooks, books, and other instructional materials.

Q5. May an educationally deprived child who was served in the previous year but is no longer in greatest need of assistance continue to receive services?

A. Section 200.31(c)(3) allows an LEA to continue to serve for a maximum of two additional years a child who is no longer determined in greatest need but who continues to be educationally deprived. In addition, under an approved innovation project, an LEA may continue to serve children who were served in any previous year, even if they are no longer educationally deprived, for a period sufficient to maintain progress made during the period of their participation in Chapter 1.

Q6. May an LEA use Chapter 1 funds to identify educationally deprived children?

A. No. It is the responsibility of the LEA to identify educationally deprived students from State or local sources. If the LEA's district-wide testing program only includes certain grade levels, the LEA must use alternative educationally related information for the remaining grade levels. Once eligible educationally deprived children are identified, Chapter 1 funds may be used to identify those most in need or to identify their specific educational needs.
Q7. May students be selected solely because they have been retained in grade?

A. No. Retention in grade may not result in the selection of children in greatest need under the LEA's uniform selection criteria. An LEA must select participants on the basis of objective criteria established for each grade level and instructional area. The criteria must be uniformly applied to all eligible educationally deprived students in project areas.

Q8. If an LEA uses testing instruments as part of its selection process, must the LEA use the same student selection test instrument in all schools?

A. In determining student eligibility for Chapter 1, §200.31(b)(4) and (5) requires that an LEA must establish educational criteria and apply the criteria uniformly within grade levels. Therefore, an LEA must use either the same testing instrument or instruments that are comparable within particular grade levels.

Needs Assessment

An LEA that receives Chapter 1 funds is required to assess annually the educational needs of educationally deprived children in all eligible attendance areas, including educationally deprived children in private schools and in local N or D institutions. Through this needs assessment process, the LEA determines the instructional areas and grade level to be included in the Chapter 1 program and the educationally deprived children who will participate.

Q9. Who determines grade levels and instructional areas in which the program will focus?

A. The LEA.

Q10. What steps might an LEA take in meeting the annual needs assessment requirement?

A. The following is an example of a step-by-step process for assessing educational needs:

Step One: IDENTIFICATION OF EDUCATIONALLY DEPRIVED CHILDREN

The LEA collects student academic performance information from all eligible attendance areas, including children attending private schools and in local N or D institutions.

Sources of academic performance data could include the following:

- District standardized test scores.
- Results of districtwide informal assessments.
- Student records.
o District surveys of professional staff.
  o State or locally mandated tests.

The LEA establishes the standard for identifying educationally deprived children.

The LEA identifies as educationally deprived all students from eligible attendance areas whose academic performance falls below the standard.

The LEA maintains records to document that educationally deprived children in all eligible attendance areas have been identified.

Step Two: IDENTIFICATION OF INSTRUCTIONAL AREAS AND GRADE LEVELS

On the basis of the information collected in Step One and considering services already provided from other sources, the LEA identifies the instructional areas and grade levels that will be the focus of the program. Instructional areas and grade levels may vary among and within school attendance areas if the needs assessment data support those variations.

On the basis of the ranking of school attendance areas required by §200.30(a)(3) and the needs assessment information, the LEA also determines which eligible attendance areas and schools will be selected for participation in the program.

Step Three: SELECTION OF STUDENTS TO BE SERVED

The LEA establishes educationally related objective criteria, which may include written or oral testing instruments, for each grade level and instructional area to select educationally deprived children for participation.

The LEA uniformly applies the student selection criteria to particular grade levels throughout the LEA and selects those children with the greatest need for special assistance.

Step Four: DETERMINATION OF EDUCATIONAL NEEDS TO BE ADDRESSED

The LEA determines the specific educational needs of the selected students. In making this determination, the LEA may use Chapter 1 funds to further assess or diagnose the selected students' educational needs with sufficient specificity to ensure concentration on those needs.

The LEA designs project activities that focus on the selected students' special educational needs. Because selected students may have different needs, services may differ from student to student. The LEA considers the following items when designing activities and allocating resources:
Q11. May an LEA predetermine grade levels and instructional areas to be served before conducting the annual needs assessment?

A. No. The LEA must first identify the educationally deprived children in all eligible attendance areas. On the basis of information gathered during this first step concerning the numbers and needs of the educationally deprived children, the LEA then identifies the general instructional areas and grade levels on which the program will focus.

Q12. Is it necessary to provide services in the same instructional areas in all eligible attendance areas?

A. No. Section 200.31(b)(2) of the regulations provides that instructional areas and grade levels may vary among and within school attendance areas so long as the needs assessment data support those variations. In addition, the needs assessment data may support program design variations such as frequency of service, instructional group size, and length of the instructional period.

Q13. How can selection criteria be applied uniformly to grade levels throughout the LEA and still have variations in the instructional areas and grade levels to be served? What documentation is required to justify the variations in instructional areas and services?

A. The following is an example of an LEA that uniformly applied student selection criteria and varied the grade levels and instructional areas served on the basis of the needs assessment data.

Based on the needs assessment, the LEA provides Chapter 1 services in four eligible elementary attendance areas and for eligible children enrolled in one private school. To determine those students in greatest need, the LEA uniformly applies a cut-off score at the 36th percentile in both reading and mathematics on a nationally normed standardized test, and also considers the results of a uniformly applied teacher assessment instrument.

An analysis of the numbers and needs of children selected shows that three schools demonstrate equal needs for both reading and mathematics in the first through sixth grades. The fourth school shows only a need for reading services in the first through third grades. The children enrolled in the private school have a need for mathematics services in the first through sixth grades. The LEA implements a program that varies instructional areas and grades across schools.
Q14. When conducting an LEA needs assessment, how should library resource needs be determined?

A. After the needs of eligible Chapter 1 children have been determined, an LEA must review the available resources for addressing these needs, including library resources. An LEA should include library resources when considering the various instructional materials needed to serve Chapter 1 students. Library resources are not limited to books, but include supplemental materials directly related to the Chapter 1 program. For example, audio/visual cassettes or other materials that coordinate with the Chapter 1 instruction could be library resources.

Q15. May handicapped children be served in the Chapter 1 program?

A. Yes. Under §200.31(c)(5), children receiving services to overcome a handicapping condition may also be eligible to receive Chapter 1 services, if they have needs stemming from educational deprivation and not solely related to the handicapping condition and they are selected on the same basis as other children selected to receive Chapter 1 services. However, Chapter 1 funds may not be used to provide the special education and related services that are required by Federal, State, or local law. In addition, the LEA must provide maximum coordination between Chapter 1 services and services provided to address children's handicapping conditions.

Children with Limited English Proficiency

Q16. May LEP children receive Chapter 1 services?

A. Yes. LEAs are required by law to provide special educational services for LEP children. Chapter 1 funds may not be used to provide these services. However, if LEP children have needs stemming from educational deprivation and not solely from their lack of proficiency in English, the children must be identified as eligible and selected for Chapter 1 services on the same basis as other Chapter 1 children. The LEA must coordinate the Chapter 1 services with the services required by law.

Q17. How does an LEA identify LEP children as eligible educationally deprived children?

A. An LEP child can be determined to be eligible for Chapter 1 services by either of the following two selection processes:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Students with sufficient English proficiency</th>
<th>Students without sufficient English proficiency</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Use the same selection criteria as English-speaking students to determine eligibility, with or without bilingual assistance.</td>
<td>Uniformly apply any one or a combination of measures, such as the following:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>o Classroom teacher assessment of student performance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>o Language dominance test with other measures.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
Q18. May a Chapter 1 program be altered to meet the special language needs of LEP children?

A. The purpose of a Chapter 1 program is to remediate children's educational deprivation and not the children's lack of English language proficiency. An LEA, however, may adjust the instruction to accommodate LEP children, for example, by providing bilingual staff and materials for these children.

Preschool

Section 1014(a) of Chapter 1 includes preschool children among the children eligible for Chapter 1 services. Section 200.6(c) of the regulations defines "preschool children" as children below the age or grade level at which an LEA provides free public education, and of an age or grade level to benefit from an organized instructional program provided in a school or other educational setting.

Q19. Does the Chapter 1 definition of "preschool children" include five-year-old children who reside in an LEA that does not include kindergarten as part of its free public education?

A. Yes.

Q20. Must the preschool student selection criteria include a standardized test?

A. No. However, the information used to identify Chapter 1 preschool children must be educational and uniformly applied to all preschool children who reside in eligible attendance areas and whose parents agree to their children's participation.

Q21. What types of educationally related selection criteria may be used to select children for Chapter 1 preschool services?

A. Criteria used for preschool student selection must be educational and may include the results from sources such as:

- Readiness tests.
- Diagnostic developmental assessments.
- Teacher observations.

Q22. May factors such as family stability, family income, gender, level of parents' education, siblings' school performance, or sibling eligibility for Chapter 1 be used as selection criteria for preschool participants?

A. No. Criteria for selecting preschool participants must be educational.
Q23. May children other than those determined to be educationally deprived participate in preschool programs?

A. No. The eligibility requirements for preschool children are identical to eligibility requirements for school age children:
   - The participants must reside in eligible attendance areas.
   - The participants must be identified as educationally deprived.
   - The children selected for participation must be those in greatest need.

Q24. For LEAs that have no preschool programs and, therefore, no existing needs assessment data for this group, may Chapter 1 bear the cost of gathering these data?

A. Yes. In an LEA that does not have existing data to identify educationally deprived preschool children, the cost of identifying these children in eligible attendance areas is an allowable Chapter 1 expenditure.

Homeless Children

Q25. How should homeless children, eligible for inclusion under the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, attending Chapter 1 schools be considered when selecting children for participation for Chapter 1?

A. Under section 722(e)(5) of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, a State receiving funds under that Act is required to submit a State plan that includes a provision to ensure that "[e]ach homeless child shall be provided services comparable to services offered other students in the school...including educational services for which the child meets the eligibility criteria, such as compensatory educational programs for the disadvantaged...." Therefore, because homeless children, by definition, do not have a fixed, regular, and adequate night-time residence, educationally deprived homeless children attending schools that have Chapter 1 projects are eligible for participation provided they meet the same educational criteria as other children in the school.

Q26. May homeless children (those identifiable under the McKinney Act) attending non-Chapter 1 schools, including shelter schools, be served under Chapter 1?

A. Homeless children, by definition, do not have a fixed, regular, and adequate night-time residence. Those children, therefore, cannot meet the eligibility requirement that they reside in a project area and would, in effect, be precluded from receiving Chapter 1 services. To ensure that these children, who may be among the most needy, are not denied services because of an eligibility requirement they cannot meet, LEAs may serve educationally deprived homeless children without regard to the residency requirement.
SCHOOLWIDE PROJECTS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1015 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirement

Section 200.36

The schoolwide project provision in section 1015 of Chapter 1 authorizes an LEA to use Chapter 1 funds to carry out a project to upgrade the entire educational program in a school that meets the schoolwide project requirements. Congress included this authority because once the percentage of poverty children in a Chapter 1 school reaches a very high level, Congress believed it made little sense to enforce requirements that Chapter 1 serve only Chapter 1 children or that Chapter 1 services be supplemental in character. Rather, Congress believed it was a sounder educational practice to plan a curriculum focusing on the entire educational program. Thus, Congress devised an alternative approach to improving the educational opportunities of educationally deprived children in high poverty schools by authorizing schoolwide projects.

The LEA may carry out a schoolwide project in any school serving an attendance area that is eligible to receive Chapter 1 services and in which, for the first year of a three-year project period, not less than 75 percent of the children are from low-income families or in any eligible school in which not less than 75 percent of the children enrolled in the school are from low-income families. Unlike most Chapter 1 projects, a schoolwide project includes activities designed to improve the overall instructional program in the school, and not merely activities that supplement activities that would otherwise be provided with non-Federal funds. The LEA, therefore, designs the schoolwide project to address the educational needs of all students in the school. In doing so, however, the LEA must pay particular attention to the needs of educationally deprived children. The LEA must carefully determine the resources necessary to ensure that the schoolwide project is of sufficient size, scope, and quality to meet the educational needs of all children in the school, especially the educationally deprived children.

Eligibility for a Schoolwide Project

Q1. Who makes the decision to operate a schoolwide project?

A. The LEA has the responsibility of deciding in which schools, if any, to operate schoolwide projects. However, in its decisionmaking process, the LEA should consult with the parents and staff of each school to be assured that the staff and parents understand and support the concept of a schoolwide project. Moreover, an LEA may not operate a schoolwide project unless its plan has been approved by the SEA.

Q2. May LEAs continue to conduct a schoolwide project in a school eligible at the time of application if in the succeeding years the school does not meet the criterion of 75 percent poverty?
A. Yes. The 75 percent poverty criterion must be met only in the first year of a three-year schoolwide project.

Q3. May an LEA continue the schoolwide project for a second three-year period if the school does not meet the 75 percent poverty criterion?
A. No. For the first year of each three-year schoolwide project period, the 75 percent poverty criterion must be met.

Q4. If an LEA has several schools that qualify for schoolwide projects, may it use its entire Chapter 1 allocation to implement schoolwide projects in these schools?
A. Yes, assuming the needs assessment data support that decision. However, the schoolwide project schools must be the highest ranked schools.

Q5. Must an LEA conduct a schoolwide project in each school that meets the 75 percent poverty criterion?
A. No. In addition, an LEA need not select schools for schoolwide projects in rank order. However, the LEA must still provide regular Chapter 1 services in attendance areas not selected for schoolwide projects if those areas rank higher than the schoolwide project schools.

Required Plan

Q6. May the year during which the schoolwide project plan is written be considered the first year of the plan?
A. No. A plan submitted by the LEA to the SEA for approval must cover a three-year span. Therefore, the plan must be completed before implementation. Moreover, achievement must be measured for a three-year period before a schoolwide project may be continued for another three-year period. If planning were to constitute the first year, the students' progress would be based on two years of performance rather than the required three years.

Q7. What must be included in a plan for a schoolwide project?
A. A plan for a schoolwide project must contain the elements listed in section 1015(b) of Chapter 1 and §200.36(b) of the regulations. The plan must be approved by the SEA before the LEA may operate the schoolwide project.

Q8. Must an LEA submit a separate application to the SEA for a schoolwide project?
A. Not necessarily. Depending on the nature of the application and approval process, the LEA might submit the schoolwide project plan as a component of its application or as a separate application.

Q9. Who must be involved in the development of a schoolwide project plan?
A. Individuals from the following groups—parents, teachers, librarians, educational aides, pupil services personnel, administrators, students (if the plan relates to a secondary school)--who will be engaged in carrying out the plan must be involved in the development of the entire schoolwide project plan.

Q10. In a schoolwide project, is it permissible to spend less time with noneducationally deprived students on particular topics than with educationally deprived students?

A. Yes. As in a regular Chapter 1 project school or even a nonproject school, the time spent with a student should be in relation to the student's degree of educational deprivation, need, and learning style.

Q11. What is an example of a schoolwide project?

A. An elementary school serves grades K-6, is eligible to receive Chapter 1 services, and 87 percent of the children enrolled in the school are from low-income families. The comprehensive needs assessment of all the school's students indicates that the greatest weakness is in reading comprehension in grades 4-6. The other most significant weaknesses in the school are in logical reasoning and analysis in grades 2-6 and reading comprehension in grades 1-3. The LEA discussed these results with the students' parents, teachers, librarian, educational aides, pupil services personnel, and school administrators and subsequently developed an educational plan for the school.

The plan's emphasis is on higher order thinking skills and the incorporation of educational activities that teach such skills. The plan includes the following:

- Training for all school staff that provides specific approaches and activities to be used for teaching higher order thinking and analytical skills.

- Training for parents in how advanced skills can be taught at home and incorporated into home activities.

- A new reading program and related supplemental materials for students in grades 4-6 to reinforce basic skills already learned and teach advanced skills.

- An additional hour beyond the regular school day for all students to be spent on reading literature, either aloud by the teacher to the class or independently by the students.

- The adoption of an approach for teaching higher order thinking skills in all subjects taught in the school.

- Lessons for students in grades K-3 that incorporate appropriate advanced skills that are essential for grades 4-6 and that will prevent a decline in performance in future grades.

- The use of materials for reading and writing lessons that covers issues being taught in other subjects.
Continual progress updates with individuals involved in the students' education.

Also included in the plan are procedures for measuring progress both for the regular Chapter 1 program improvement requirements and for the schoolwide project accountability requirements.

The LEA’s definition of educational deprivation, 30th percentile and below on a standardized reading test, is used to identify educationally deprived students at the school for funding and accountability purposes. The per pupil expenditure of Chapter 1 funds for each educationally deprived student at the school exceeds the Chapter 1 per pupil expenditure at other Chapter 1 project schools in the LEA so that all planned activities can be sufficiently conducted.

Fiscal Requirements

Q12. How is the number of educationally deprived students in a schoolwide project determined?

A. The LEA may identify--

- All children meeting the definition of educationally deprived children provided in §200.6(c) of the regulations which is "children whose educational attainment is below the level that is appropriate for children of their age" (generally interpreted as below the 50th percentile); or
- The number of children in the schoolwide project below the highest ranked child served in other project schools in the LEA (the district percentile cut-off).

Q13. If the Chapter 1 percentile score cut-offs in a district are different for different instructional areas—e.g., reading 30th percentile, mathematics 40th percentile—how may calculations be made for the distribution of Chapter 1 funds to a schoolwide project?

A. If an LEA elects to determine the number of educationally deprived children in a schoolwide project on the basis of its cut-off scores in other schools, it may apply the highest score (in this case, the 40th percentile), to both instructional areas, or the district cut-offs (in this case, reading 30th percentile, math 40th percentile).

Q14. When an LEA is counting the number of educationally deprived children in a schoolwide project school for the purposes of distributing Chapter 1 funds, measuring progress, and demonstrating accountability, how are handicapped and LEP children counted?

A. Handicapped and LEP children are counted as educationally deprived if they were identified as such in the LEA’s annual needs assessment.

Q15. When determining the amount of Chapter 1 funds to be distributed to a schoolwide project school, on what count, duplicated or unduplicated, is the per pupil amount based?
A. The LEA may use a duplicated or unduplicated count for children who meet the criteria in more than one instructional area for determining the amount of Chapter 1 funds to be distributed to a schoolwide project. However, the LEA should use the same count, either duplicated or unduplicated, in the schoolwide project as in other project areas.

Q16. What should an LEA consider when determining the amount of funds to distribute to a schoolwide project school?

A. The LEA should consider the needs of the school's students (as determined by the comprehensive needs assessment), the goals and objectives of the schoolwide project, the approach by which such goals and objectives will be accomplished, and the cost of the resources necessary to effectively implement the approach. The LEA must ensure that it distributes sufficient Chapter 1 funds to a schoolwide project to achieve improved performance of educationally deprived children in the project.

Q17. May an LEA choose to allocate additional funds to schoolwide projects from sources other than Chapter 1?

A. Yes. An LEA may wish, for example, to allocate additional funds (other than Chapter 1) to schoolwide projects in order to meet the size, scope, and quality requirement. The LEA may also have determined that the amount of Chapter 1 funds calculated for the schoolwide project would not be sufficient to carry out the planned activities successfully.

Q18. How is the amount of Chapter 1 funds for a schoolwide project calculated?

A. The LEA must provide an amount of Chapter 1 funds to a schoolwide project that, per educationally deprived child, equals or exceeds the amount of Chapter 1 funds made available per educationally deprived child served in other Chapter 1 project schools. The LEA should bear in mind, however, that Chapter 1 funds in a schoolwide project, by definition, benefit the entire student population, not just educationally deprived children. Yet, the LEA must measure the success of its schoolwide project in terms of whether the educationally deprived children made the requisite progress. As a result, the LEA must ensure that the resources it devotes to its schoolwide project are sufficient to achieve the necessary results.

Below are three ways (not all inclusive) in which schoolwide project Chapter 1 funds can be calculated. For all three examples, assume:

The districtwide cut-off for determining educational deprivation is the 30th percentile. In a regular Chapter 1 project school, there are 400 educationally deprived students served under Chapter 1 and the average Chapter 1 per pupil expenditure is $500. An average school would receive a total of $200,000 of Chapter 1 funds.

Example 1: The schoolwide project uses the districtwide cut-off, 30th percentile, to identify educationally deprived students. The school's total population is 1,000 and 400 students are identified as educationally deprived. In regular project schools, the LEA distributes, per educationally deprived student, $500. The schoolwide project, therefore, must receive at least $200,000 in Chapter 1 funds ($500 x 400 educationally deprived = $200,000).

Example 2: The schoolwide project uses the definition in §200.6(c) of the regulations to identify educationally deprived students (educational attainment is below level appropriate for age—often equated to below the 50th percentile). This school's total population is 1,000 and 700 students are identified as educationally deprived. In regular project schools, the LEA distributes, per educationally deprived student, $500. The schoolwide project, therefore, must receive at least $350,000 in Chapter 1 funds ($500 x 700 educationally deprived = $350,000).

Example 3: The schoolwide project uses the districtwide cut-off, 30th percentile, to identify educationally deprived students. The school’s total population is 1,000 and 400 students are identified as educationally deprived. Rather than use the district average of $500, the LEA distributes, per educationally deprived student in the schoolwide project, $600. The schoolwide project, therefore, receives $240,000 in Chapter 1 funds ($600 x 400 educationally deprived = $240,000).

Q19. May an LEA allocate to a schoolwide project more Chapter 1 funds the first year than the next two years and look at the total allocation for the three-year period as an average?

A. No. The LEA must meet the requirement set forth in section 1015(b)(6)(A) of Chapter 1 and §200.6(c)(1)(i) of the regulations each year. Because the Chapter 1 funding for a schoolwide project is based on the number of educationally deprived children in the school and the amount of Chapter 1 funds provided for each educationally deprived child in other project schools—both of which are annual determinations—the funding requirements for schoolwide projects must also be met annually.

Q20. Must the fiscal requirement regarding the amount of State and local funds expended per child in a schoolwide project be reviewed annually?

A. Yes. For each fiscal year during which a schoolwide project is conducted, the amount of local and State funds expended per child must be at least equal to what the LEA expended per child in that school in the preceding fiscal year.

Q21. Is a schoolwide project school required to demonstrate comparability?

A. Yes. The LEA is required by section 1015(c)(2)(C) of Chapter 1 and §200.36(c)(4) of the regulations to comply with the Chapter 1 comparability requirements.

Q22. Is a schoolwide project school required to demonstrate compliance with the supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. Yes. An LEA must be able to demonstrate that Chapter 1 funds are being used in each schoolwide project to increase the level of funds that would have been made available from non-Federal sources, in the absence of Chapter 1 funds, for educating the school’s students. However, the LEA is not required to demonstrate that the services paid for with Chapter 1 funds supplement the services regularly provided in the schoolwide project school.

Q23. What records must the LEA keep regarding Chapter 1 funds expended in a schoolwide project?

A. The LEA must keep records to document expenditures of Chapter 1 funds in a schoolwide project in order to ensure that Chapter 1 funds are expended within their period of availability. The LEA is not required to (a) comply with Chapter 1 requirements prohibiting commingling of Chapter 1 with regular program funds in order to show that Chapter 1 funds benefit only educationally deprived children; (b) identify particular children as eligible to participate in the schoolwide project (however, educationally deprived children must be identified for planning purposes, fiscal requirements, and accountability); or (c) demonstrate that the particular services paid for with Chapter 1 funds supplement the services regularly provided in that school.

Effect of Selection for a Schoolwide Project

Q24. How are special education and LEP students to be counted and served by Chapter 1 under a schoolwide project?

A. A schoolwide project is to upgrade the entire educational program in a school as a way of improving the performance of educationally deprived children in the school. For the purposes of calculating appropriate funding for the schoolwide project, evaluating the project's effectiveness, and determining if the schoolwide project accountability requirements are met, special education and LEP students must be included if they meet the definition of educationally deprived children the LEA is using in the schoolwide project. In addition, special education and LEP students must receive services they are otherwise required by law to receive to meet their needs.

Uses of Funds

Q25. What activities may be supported by Chapter 1 funds in a schoolwide project?

A. In addition to the activities for regular Chapter 1 projects listed in §200.4 of the regulations, an LEA may use Chapter 1 funds in schoolwide projects to plan and implement effective schools programs and other activities to improve the instructional program and pupil services in the school such as reducing class size, training staff and parents, and implementing extended-day programs.

Program Improvement and Accountability Requirements

Q26. How is student progress aggregated in a schoolwide project for determining the need for program improvement?

A. The program improvement requirements in §§200.37 and 200.38 of the regulations that apply to regular Chapter 1 programs are also applicable to schoolwide projects. Therefore, if the educationally deprived children, in the aggregate, in a schoolwide project do not show substantial progress toward meeting the LEA's desired outcomes or show no improvement or a decline in aggregate performance, the LEA must identify that school as needing program improvement. To determine whether substantial progress has been made or whether improvement of aggregate performance has occurred, the LEA is required to annually collect achievement data for each school participating in a schoolwide project. Aggregate performance and progress toward meeting desired outcomes of educationally deprived students in schoolwide projects shall be reviewed in the basic and more advanced skills addressed by the regular Chapter 1 program. The progress of those students who were identified as being educationally deprived for the purpose of distributing Chapter 1 funds to the schoolwide project is measured when determining whether the school is in need of improvement.

Q27. If two goals of a schoolwide project relate to students' achievement in mathematics and reading and the gains in mathematics exceed the mathematics gains of other Chapter 1 project schools but the reading gains are lower than the gains in the LEA's other Chapter 1 project schools, and the gains in reading of educationally deprived children do not exceed the average gains of such children in the school for the three prior years, may that schoolwide project be allowed to continue for an additional three-year period?

A. No. The SEA may not allow a schoolwide project to continue for an additional three-year period when the achievement gains of educationally deprived children, as measured by the means specified in the schoolwide project plan, do not exceed the average gains of participating children districtwide or of such children in that school for the three prior years. Comparisons of gains must be made for each instructional area addressed by the Chapter 1 program for the comparison group. That is, if reading and mathematics were the instructional areas addressed by Chapter 1 in the school for the three prior years, gains in reading and mathematics must be compared. Alternatively, if the LEA's program in other Chapter 1 project schools include reading and mathematics, comparisons must be made of gains in reading and mathematics.

Q28. How may an LEA demonstrate accountability after three years of a schoolwide project in a secondary school?

A. The LEA may demonstrate that achievement gains of educationally deprived students exceed the average gains of comparable students in the school in the three years prior to the schoolwide project or that the gains exceed the average gain of participating Chapter 1 children in the LEA as a whole. Alternatively, if achievement levels do not decline over the three-year schoolwide project period as compared with the immediate prior three-year period, the LEA may demonstrate accountability through lower dropout rates, increased retention rates, or increased graduation rates. However, satisfying the requirements for continuation of a schoolwide project does not satisfy the school improvement requirements.

Q29. If an LEA compares achievement gains, for accountability purposes, in a schoolwide project school with the gains in other project schools, are the gains of other schoolwide project schools included in the gains for other project schools?
Q30. May an LEA include nationally normed test results for preschool, kindergarten, and first grade children in determining the achievement gains required under the accountability requirements in §200.36(f) for school-wide projects?

A. No. Nationally normed achievement tests may not meet the technical standards for reliability and validity when used at the preschool, kindergarten, and first grade levels.

Schoolwide Projects and Private School Students

Q31. What private school students who reside in an area served by a school-wide project are eligible for Chapter 1?

A. The same definition of educational deprivation used to identify educationally deprived students in the schoolwide project must be used to identify educationally deprived private school students who reside in the schoolwide project attendance area. After being identified as educationally deprived, private school students must be provided Chapter 1 services in the same grade levels as are in the schoolwide project school. For example, if the LEA serves only grades 2-3 in regular Chapter 1 schools but the schoolwide project serve kindergarten through grade 6, private school children from the schoolwide project attendance area in kindergarten through grade 6 are eligible to be served.

Q32. How does an LEA calculate how much Chapter 1 funding must be provided for services to private school students who reside in attendance area?

A. The LEA must provide for each eligible, educationally deprived private school student who resides in the schoolwide project attendance area the same amount of Chapter 1 funds that is being distributed for each educationally deprived student in the schoolwide project.

Q33. How are equitable services for private school children determined?

A. The LEA must provide Chapter 1 services to private school students based on the identified needs of those eligible students.
Introduction

Section 1016 of Chapter 1 implements Congress’ findings that activities by schools to increase parental involvement are a vital, integral part of Chapter 1 programs. Toward this end, an LEA may receive Chapter 1 funds only if it implements program-, activities, and procedures for the involvement of parents of participating public and private school children in its Chapter 1 program. This involvement must include, but is not limited to, parental input into the planning, design, and implementation of the LEA’s Chapter 1 program.

The activities and procedures for parental involvement must be planned and implemented with the meaningful consultation of parents of participating children. The consultation must be organized, ongoing, systematic, informed, and timely in relation to decisions about the program. Procedures for how this will be done throughout the life of the Chapter 1 program must be documented in written policy that the LEA makes available to the parents of participating children. To be meaningful, parental involvement must be based on adequate information that should include, on a continuing and timely basis, proposed and final applications, needs assessment documents, budgetary information, evaluation data, copies of local, State, and Federal laws, regulations, and guidelines, and any other information needed for effective involvement.

Involvement of this type requires that LEAs--

- Make Chapter 1 LEA education personnel, including pupil services personnel, available to parents;
- Convene a districtwide or building-level annual meeting of the parents of participating children as well as providing opportunities for regular meetings;
- Provide timely information about the program to parents;
- Make parents aware of parental involvement requirements and other relevant provisions of the program; and
- Provide information, to the extent practicable, in a language and form that parents can understand.

An LEA’s parental involvement program must include such activities as training parents to work with their children in the home and to understand program requirements; training parents, teachers, and principals to build partnerships between home and school; and training teachers, principals, and other staff members involved in the program to work effectively with the parents of participating children.

An LEA is also required, through consultation with parents, to assess the effectiveness of parental involvement efforts and to determine if modifications are needed to increase parental participation. This assessment must be done annually.

The regulations clarify that allowable Chapter 1 costs include those to support parent conferences; resource centers; training programs, including expenditures associated with attending the training sessions; reporting to parents on children's progress; hiring, training, and utilization of parental involvement liaison workers; training of personnel, including pupil services personnel; use of parents as classroom volunteers, tutors, and aides; school-to-home complementary curricula; assistance in implementing home-based educational activities; the provision of information on the Chapter 1 program as well as the provision of responses to parental recommendations; and the solicitation of parents' suggestions in the planning, development, and operation of the program.

Q1. How should an LEA document parental input into the planning, design, and implementation of the Chapter 1 program?

A. To receive Chapter 1 funds, an LEA must implement programs, activities, and written procedures for the involvement of parents of participating public and private school children. Some of the ways that this requirement can be documented are as follows:

- A description in the project application of the consultation with parents in the development and approval of the project.
- Agenda and minutes for activities such as the annual meeting of parents of participating children and for regular meetings of parents to obtain input into the program.
- Schedules of training sessions designed for parents.
- Financial records that reflect a budget and expenditures for parental involvement activities.
- Sign-in sheets from meetings and training sessions.

Q2. Must an LEA address its goals for parental involvement in the desired outcomes of its project application?

A. An LEA is not required to address its goals for parental involvement in its desired outcomes. The LEA may do so, however.

Goals of Parental Involvement

Q3. What goals must parental involvement programs and activities be designed to achieve?

A. In coordination with parents of participating children, an LEA must develop programs and activities designed to achieve the goals listed in §200.34(b)(1)-(7) of the regulations. These goals include keeping parents informed about the services their children receive, supporting and training parents to understand program requirements and to work with their children at home, training school personnel to work with parents, and ensuring the full participation of parents who are non-English speaking or who lack literacy skills.

Q4. Who is responsible for determining that progress toward meeting these goals is being met?

A. In consultation with parents, the LEA is required to assess annually the effectiveness of its parental involvement program and to develop plans for increased parental participation when the assessment results indicate a need. The SEA is responsible for ensuring that an LEA meets the goals of parental involvement.

Specific Requirements

Q5. What should an LEA’s written policies for parental involvement include?

A. An LEA’s written policies should define--

- The procedures and types of activities for involving parents in the planning, design, and implementation of the Chapter 1 program;
- The specific goals of the LEA for its parental involvement programs and activities;
- The procedures for assessing the LEA’s parental involvement program; and
- The procedures and types of activities for parental involvement in program aspects other than in the planning, design, and implementation of the Chapter 1 program, such as involving parents directly in the education of their children.

Q6. Must written policies be signed by the superintendent, the Board, and parents?

A. No. There is no Federal requirement that the policies be signed.

Q7. Is an official parent handbook required to document these written policies?

A. No.

Q8. How should the written policies be shared with staff and parents of participating children?

A. While the LEA is not required to distribute copies of the written policies to all staff and parents, it must make them available to parents of participating children and should make them available to all staff. An LEA should develop, with the involvement of parents, a method for ensuring that the policies are understood by parents.
Q9. Should an LEA provide each parent with copies of the law and regulations?

A. Not necessarily. However, an LEA is required to make parents aware of parental involvement requirements and other relevant provisions of the program. At a minimum, copies should be made available to parents for view.

Q10. Must LEAs discuss the criteria for student selection and specific instructional objectives for each child with parents?

A. Yes. An LEA must ensure that the parents of participating children are informed about the reasons why their children are participating in Chapter 1, and about the specific instructional objectives of the program as well as the methods used to achieve those objectives. In addition, the LEA must also provide the parents of participating children with reports on their children’s progress and, to the extent practical, conduct a parent-teacher conference with the parents of each participating child to discuss the child’s progress, placement, and methods the parents can use to complement the child’s instruction.

Q11. What "other staff" may be involved in training designed to prepare them to work effectively with the parents of participating children?

A. Both Chapter 1 and non-Chapter 1-funded staff members who are involved in the Chapter 1 program such as counselors, nurses, speech therapists, librarians, and social workers may receive training to assist them to work effectively with the parents of participating children.

Assessment of the Parental Involvement Program

Q12. How might an LEA assess the effectiveness of the parental involvement program, as required by section 1021(a)(b)?

A. The Senate report accompanying Chapter 1 states that the intent of this provision "is the attempt to identify barriers to greater participation and determine possible steps to overcome those barriers, among other things, the extent to which the goals for parental involvement are being achieved." S. Rep. No. 222, 100th Cong., 1st Sess. 16 (1987). The assessment, therefore, is the extent of parental participation and how well that participation has achieved the goals the LEA set for it. These goals may be expressed in terms of student behaviors or learning, such as increased attendance rates, or may be related to the parental involvement program itself, such as increased time parents spend with their children on school-related matters or evidence of skills parents gain from the project in helping their children succeed in school.

Q12a. What role, if any, does the annual review of parental involvement play in the determination of whether a school is in need of program improvement?

A. That depends on what the LEA has included in its desired outcomes. LEAs may establish a desired outcome that links anticipated increases in performance to parental involvement activities. If so, failure to achieve substantial progress toward meeting a parental involvement objective could identify that school as in need of program improvement. If an LEA does not have desired outcomes related to parental involvement, the view of parental involvement might identify needed improvements, but would not place the school in program improvement.

Allowable Activities and Costs

Q13. May Chapter 1 funds be used to purchase insurance for vehicles used to transport school personnel for home visits or parents for school visits?

A. Yes. However, the allowable portion of the cost should be calculated on the basis of the percentage of time the vehicle is used for Chapter 1 home and school visits.

Q14. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay for parents to attend training conferences on the local, State, or national level?

A. An LEA may use funds for costs that are reasonable and necessary to support the attendance of Chapter 1 parents to conferences specifically for Chapter 1 parents or to conferences providing training to enable them to participate more effectively in the local program or to conduct home-based educational activities. The LEA should develop criteria, in consultation with parents, to determine the number of parents from an LEA who may attend national meetings.

Q15. May parents be paid to attend meetings?

A. No. The statute does not authorize an LEA to pay a parent to attend a meeting or training session or to reimburse a parent for salary, lost due to attendance at Chapter 1 parental involvement activities. Parental involvement expenditures are limited to costs that a parent may incur to participate.

Q16. May Chapter 1 funds be spent for food and refreshments provided during parent meetings or training?

A. Reasonable expenditures for refreshments or food, particularly when such sessions extend through mealtime, are allowable.

Q17. May Chapter 1 funds be used for members of parent advisory councils if these members are not currently the parents of participating children?

A. Yes. Funds may be used to support the activities of all members of parent advisory councils, including other interested people such as former Chapter 1 parents who have been chosen by parents of participating children.

Q18. May parents be paid as classroom aides?

A. Yes.
Q19. What kind of coordination is intended with programs funded under the Adult Education Act?

A. The Adult Education Act authorizes programs to improve the literacy skills of adults. It is possible that LEA funds available under the Adult Education Act could be used to assist parents of Chapter 1 children to increase their proficiency in basic skills and that this would enable them to participate more meaningfully in their children's education. Chapter 1 parents should be made aware of and referred to appropriate services provided through the Adult Education Act.
SERVICES FOR PRIVATE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Statutory Requirement

Section 1017 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.50-200.58, 200.60; §§76.670-76.677 of EDGAR

Introduction

Section 1017 of Chapter 1 requires that an LEA provide to eligible private school children Chapter 1 services that are equitable to the services being provided similar children attending public schools. Chapter 1 services for these children must be developed in consultation with private school officials.

Under section 1017(b)(3), the Secretary has developed written procedures to investigate and resolve complaints alleging violations of the requirement that LEAs equitably serve children attending private schools. If an LEA is unable or unwilling to provide equitable services to private school children, the Secretary institutes a bypass, arranging for delivery of services by another provider and deducting the cost of these services and arrangements from the LEA's allocation.

In the case of children attending religiously affiliated private schools, several court cases, most notably Aguilar v. Felton, have dealt with the manner in which these children may be served in light of constitutional requirements contained in the First Amendment. Most significant is the prohibition in Aguilar v. Felton against Chapter 1 personnel providing instructional services in religiously affiliated schools. The Department issued guidance on the Felton decision in August 1985, June 1986, and April 1987. That guidance is incorporated in the appropriate sections of this chapter of the Policy Manual.

Consultation

Q1. What are the requirements for consultation with private school officials?

A. Section 1017(a) of Chapter 1 requires "timely and meaningful consultation with appropriate private school officials." To meet this requirement, §200.51(a) requires an LEA to consult with private school officials before the LEA makes any decision that affects the opportunities of eligible private school children to participate in the LEA's Chapter 1 project. In other words, consultation must occur during all phases of the design and development of the LEA's Chapter 1 project, including consideration of which children will receive services, how the children's needs will be identified, what services will be offered, how and where the services will be provided, and how the project will be evaluated.

A unilateral offer of services by the LEA with no opportunity for discussion is not adequate consultation. To ensure that proper consultation and offers of equitable services are documented, the use of a form detailing the consultation and offers, with a place for the signature of private school officials, may be useful. The LEA, however, has the final responsibility for deciding how and where services will be provided.

Q2. At what level is consultation with private school officials appropriate?

A. Consultation with representatives of both the private school and its central administration is desirable. Private school officials should make clear to the LEA which specific officials should be included in the consultation process, and what the roles of various persons will be.

Q3. May Chapter 1 instructional personnel consult with private school personnel?

A. Yes. Chapter 1 teachers and other instructional personnel may consult with instructional staff from the private school in order to coordinate the Chapter 1 program with the regular classroom instructor and to facilitate the success of the services provided. Such consultation should not occur at the site of the Chapter 1 services while the services are being provided. To the extent practicable, the LEA may wish to have this consultation occur at a public school site, other neutral site, or by telephone.

Eligibility and Participation

Q4. Which children attending private schools are eligible to receive Chapter 1 services?

A. To be eligible to receive Chapter 1 services, a private school child must reside in a Chapter 1 project area and must meet the standard of educational deprivation the LEA uses to select students to participate in its Chapter 1 program. In conducting its needs assessment under §200.31(b), the LEA must identify educationally deprived children in all eligible attendance areas, including educationally deprived children in private schools, and must design its program on the basis of that information, including the information on educationally deprived children in private schools.

Q5. May Chapter 1 pay for costs of selecting private school students for participation in Chapter 1?

A. As with children attending public schools, Chapter 1 funds may not be used to identify eligible private school children. Chapter 1 funds may, however, be used to select participants from those who are eligible and determine the specific educational needs of those children.

Q6. If providing services to private school children requires additional costs, such as those for transportation, space, or administration, do they come from the LEA's whole Chapter 1 allocation or from that part of the LEA's Chapter 1 allocation that would normally go to serve private school students?
A. Section 200.52(a)(2) makes clear that these additional costs come from the LEA's whole allocation, so that Chapter 1 instructional services may be provided on an equitable basis to both public and private school children. (Two Federal District Courts have held that taking administrative costs "off-the-top" of the LEA's allocation is unconstitutional (Pulido v. Cavazos; Barnes v. Cavazos); however, that issue is presently on appeal. In the meantime, the regulations and guidance issued by the Department on the "off-the-top" issue remain in effect for Chapter 1 programs in all LEAs that are not the subject of the Pulido or Barnes litigation. With respect to Pulido, that District Court has stayed its ruling on the "off-the-top" issue pending appeal.)

Q7. When a child residing in a Chapter 1 attendance area in one LEA attends a private school in another LEA, which LEA, if any, is responsible to serve the child?

A. The LEA in which the child resides is responsible to provide services for the child. The LEA may, however, arrange to have services provided by another LEA, reimbursing that LEA for costs.

Q8. May an LEA establish a minimum number of private school children selected for the program in order to establish a Chapter 1 program near the private school? If so, what is the LEA's responsibility to serve children attending private schools with fewer than that minimum number?

A. Section 1017(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.50(a)(1) of the regulations require that LEAs provide for the participation, on an equitable basis, of eligible children enrolled in private schools. The requirement applies regardless of the number of children attending a private school. However, when the number of eligible children at one location is very small--generally less than 10--the cost of establishing certain types of programs to serve them may be prohibitive, especially when these children may be from several grades or have different educational needs. In this case, other options should be considered. For instance, if it is feasible and equitable, LEAs may adopt methods, such as take-home computer programs or individual tutoring programs that are cost effective to serve small numbers.

In providing services under these alternative methods, an LEA must meet the requirement in section 1017(a) of Chapter 1 that "[e]xpenditures for educational services...for educationally deprived children in private schools shall be equal (taking into account the number of children to be served and the special educational needs of such children) to expenditures for children enrolled in the public schools of the [LEA]." For instance, assume an individual home-tutoring program is going to be provided to three students attending a private school. The LEA may compute the per pupil expenditure for Chapter 1 services being provided to public school students having similar educational needs, and provide for the private school children the amount of tutoring those dollars would support.

Q9. What is meant by "equitable services"?

A. Section 200.52(b)(2) contains a description of criteria to be used to determine if services offered to private school children are equitable.
to those being provided children attending public schools. Essentially, services are equitable if the LEA (1) assesses, addresses, and evaluates the needs and progress of both groups of children in the same manner; (2) provides, in the aggregate, approximately the same amount of instructional time and materials for children with similar needs; (3) spends an equal amount of funds to serve similar public and private school children; and (4) provides private school children an opportunity to participate in the program equitable to the opportunity provided public school children.

Q10. What if, after making an equitable offer to serve children attending private schools, participation by these children is low?

A. If, in spite of an offer by the LEA to provide equitable services, participation remains low, LEAs are encouraged to determine why that is so and, if appropriate, modify the project in a manner that will maximize participation by private school students. For instance, the LEA may be providing Chapter 1 services to private school children at a neutral site very near the private school and escorting the children to and from the neutral site. While the offer may provide equitable services, many eligible private school children are not participating. In an effort to increase participation, the LEA could decide, for example, to provide computer assisted instruction (CAI) for children whose parents prefer not to have them leave the private school.

Q11. May an LEA revise its services for public school students so that they are equitable with those for private school students?

A. Yes. In some cases it may be necessary to adjust the manner in which services are provided to public school students.

Q12. May an LEA provide services to private school children that are not equitable to those provided to public school children, if, after receiving an offer of equitable services, private school children choose to participate in only some of the services?

A. Both the statute and the regulations require that an LEA provide equitable services for private school children; they do not require that private school children accept or participate in all those services. The LEA must design and offer to provide services for private school children which are equitable to those being provided children attending public schools. If private school children choose to participate in only some of those services, and decline to participate in others, the LEA will have met its responsibility by providing those services in which private school children wish to participate. LEAs should continue to offer equitable services in future years, however, rather than offering only those services in which children participated in the past.

Q13. How can equitable services for private school students be determined when the public school that children would attend is operating a schoolwide project?

A. In this case, equitable services should be determined by comparing expenditures, since private school children must be served in a traditional Chapter 1 manner. In determining equal expenditures, both the amount of Chapter 1 dollars per child and the definition of educationally deprived child used by the LEA in the schoolwide project must be used in allocating funds to serve private school children. For instance, if the LEA allocates to the schoolwide project from Chapter 1 funds $1,000 per educationally deprived child below the 50th percentile, the same dollar allocation and definition of educational deprivation must be applied to private school children who reside in the attendance area of the schoolwide project. This is true even if, for other schools, lower cut-off scores or lower amounts per child are used.

Q14. If an LEA implements a schoolwide project in a school that formerly served children only in grades K-3, must it now serve eligible private school children in all grades included in the schoolwide project school?

A. Yes.

Q15. If an LEA's application does not provide for equitable services to private school children, may an SEA approve it?

A. No. Furthermore, the LEA has no authority to expend funds until the SEA approves the application.

Q16. How are services to private school children to be monitored by the LEA or SEA?

A. The LEA and the SEA must monitor services for private school students in the same way they monitor services to public school children. In addition, the SEA must ensure that LEAs provide equitable services to private school students.

Special Considerations following Aguilar v. Felton

Q17. May Chapter 1 personnel go on the premises of religiously affiliated private schools to provide Chapter 1 instructional services?

A. No. In Aguilar v. Felton, the Supreme Court held that Chapter 1 personnel may not provide instructional services on the premises of religiously affiliated private schools. Instructional services for those children must be provided at sites that are neither "physically nor educationally identified with the functions of the private school." See Wolman v. Walter, 433 U.S. 229, 246-247 (1977).

Q18. May Chapter 1 personnel enter a religiously affiliated private school in order to escort private school children from their rooms to services held outside the private school and to return them to their rooms?

A. Yes. The provision of escort services where needed is permissible as long as no instruction is occurring as the children are being escorted. Under these circumstances, the duties are noninstructional and are designed merely to protect the health and safety of the children. As noted above, the Supreme Court in Felton only prohibited Chapter 1 instructional services on the premises of religiously affiliated private schools. The Court in Wolman and previously in Eversen v. Board of Education, 330 U.S. 1, 17-18 (1947), recognized that services related to the health and safety of children are permissible even if provided at religiously affiliated private schools. Therefore, the use of escorts does not raise the entanglement problems at issue in the Felton case.

Q19. Are Chapter 1 programs on nonreligious private school premises affected by the Aguilar v. Felton decision?
A. No.

Q20. Does the term "teacher" as used in Aguilar v. Felton include other public school personnel?
A. The second circuit opinion affirmed by the Supreme Court in Aguilar v. Felton forbade "the use of federal funds to send public school teachers and other professionals into religious schools to carry on instruction, remedial or otherwise, or to provide clinical and guidance services." However, the Supreme Court in an earlier case, Wolman v. Walter, distinguished the role of the diagnostician from that of the teacher or counselor with regard to services in the private school. We view testing to select children as part of diagnosis; hence, on-premises testing for student selection is not prohibited under Aguilar.

Q21. May private school students be provided services in public schools or at neutral sites during regular school hours, before or after school, or on weekends?
A. Yes. These options are all available, but the services must be equitable to services provided public school children.

Q22. May private school children receive Chapter 1 services in the private school before or after regular school hours or on weekends?
A. No.

Q23. May private school children receive services with public school children in a summer school program?
A. Yes, but services must be equitable to those provided public school children. To provide only summer activity for private school children, while serving public school children during both the regular term and summer, would not be equitable.

Q24. Where may summer school services be provided?
A. At any site allowable during the regular school year.

Q25. Has the LEA and SEA responsibility for providing services on an equitable basis to eligible private school children changed?
A. No, it was not changed by the Court's decision.

Q26. If an LEA provides Chapter 1 services to private school children in the public schools, may the LEA charge Chapter 1 a reasonable amount for the space used? How are such costs allocated?
A. Yes. Reasonable and necessary costs for public school space used for the instruction of private school students are allowable. Reasonable and necessary costs are those in excess of what the LEA would incur in the absence of Chapter 1. For example, the cost of a classroom in a building already in use would not be an excess cost. Special costs incurred in preparing and maintaining it for occupancy by Chapter 1 would be allowable.

Any such costs would be considered administrative and would come from the LEA's whole Chapter 1 allocation or from capital expense funds—not from funds used to provide instructional services to private school children.

Q27. May a private school child take onto private school premises Chapter 1 instructional materials for his or her use as part of the child’s Chapter 1 program?

A. Yes.

Q28. May a neutral, third-party contractor provide Chapter 1 instructional services on the premises of a religiously affiliated private school?

A. No.

Q29. May LEAs use mobile vans or other portable units to provide Chapter 1 services to children enrolled in religiously affiliated private schools?
If yes, where may an LEA place a mobile or portable unit?

A. Yes. The use of mobile or portable units for the provision of Chapter 1 services to private school children is allowable. In deciding where to place a unit, LEAs should be aware that the Supreme Court has previously held that the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment is not violated when units are located on public property near the private locations, as well as other locations not owned by the private school or a religious organization, are plainly acceptable sites for mobile or portable units.

The Supreme Court has not ruled on the constitutionality of placing a mobile or portable unit on property belonging to a religiously affiliated private school, and there may be differing views on this subject. (One Federal District Court has held that the placement of portable or mobile units on the property of a religiously affiliated school is unconstitutional [Pulido v. Cavazos]; however, that ruling is presently on appeal.) Given existing case law, it is the view of the Department that, under certain circumstances, mobile or portable units may constitutionally be placed on such private school property.

The Department believes that the courts would approve delivery of services in locations on private school property that fit the Supreme Court’s characterization of the site that it found acceptable in Wolman
v. Walter, i.e., a site "neither physically nor educationally identified with the functions of the nonpublic school." While the Court has not held that other locations are constitutionally impermissible, we believe that services at locations fitting this characterization are most likely to withstand judicial scrutiny. The Department believes that one way in which the use of a mobile or portable unit at a given location on the property of a religiously affiliated private school will comport with this standard is if the following conditions are met:

1. The property is at a sufficient distance from the private school building(s) so that the mobile or portable unit is clearly distinguishable from the private school facilities used for regular (non-Chapter 1) instruction.

2. The mobile or portable unit is clearly and separately identified as property of the LEA and is free of religious symbols.

3. The unit and the property upon which it is located are not used for religious purposes or for the private school's educational program.

4. The unit is not used by private school personnel.

In addition to the conditions stated above, an LEA may find that the following two further guidelines may bolster its decision to locate units on the property of a religiously affiliated private school:

1. Before placing a unit on private school property, the LEA can determine that other locations for the services are unsafe, impracticable, or substantially less convenient for the children to be served.

2. The public school district could enter into a lease arrangement with the private school for the use of the land owned by the private school upon which the unit is to be sited.

Q30. What are some examples of property owned by a religiously affiliated private school that would meet the above criteria?

A. Such property might include:

1. Land near the school that is separated from the school by an undeveloped plot of land or other terrain features and that is used neither for religious purposes nor the school's educational program.

2. A portion of a private school playground that is fenced in and has direct access to a public street.

3. Those portions of a parking lot that are not immediately adjacent to the private school.

Q31. May a religiously affiliated private school building be used as a power source for a unit?

A. Yes. There is nothing to prohibit public schools from arranging for power from any source. However, care must be exercised in the placement of the unit to make certain that the unit is separate from the private school building. If the use of the power source results in the need for repair, remodeling, or construction of private school facilities, Chapter 1 funds may not be used for such repair, remodeling, or construction. (See 34 CFR §200.55.)

Q32. May the LEA pay the private school with Chapter 1 funds for the power or for leasing property?
A. Yes. The private school, however, may not charge more than a reasonable amount as determined under local conditions.

Q33. Who is responsible and liable for the safety of private school children during the time they walk or ride to a neutral site to be served by the Chapter 1 program?
A. Generally, the LEA is responsible for providing for the transporting of these children to a neutral site. The question of liability, however, would be determined in accordance with State and local laws and would depend on the specific facts of the situation. Any increased cost to the LEA for having liability insurance coverage may be charged as an administrative cost to the Chapter 1 program, or to the capital expense grant.

Q34. What can a small rural LEA with a small Chapter 1 allocation do to provide equitable services consistent with the Felton decision?
A. Rural LEAs may have special problems because of small allocations and large distances between the private schools and available locations for providing Chapter 1 services. The LEAs may wish to consider leasing rather than purchasing equipment, renting a neutral site, or using home tutoring components to provide equitable services. They may also wish to set up a joint project with neighboring LEAs, and submit a combined application.

Q35. Did Aguilar v. Felton specifically forbid instructional services provided to children in N or D institutions operated by religious groups?
A. No. The Court did not address the unique circumstances involved in serving children in N or D institutions.

Computer Assisted Instruction

Q36. May Chapter 1 funds be used to install necessary electrical wiring in order to operate Chapter 1 CAI programs at a private school?
A. Yes. Reasonable installation costs are allowable under certain circumstances. In approving such costs, SEAs must be aware that §200.55 of the Chapter 1 regulations states that "[n]o funds under this part may be used for repairs, minor remodeling, or construction of private school facilities." Nevertheless, one way in which the installation would be permissible is if:
The installation is necessary in order for the Chapter 1 program to operate;

- The cost is related solely to the CAI program and does not otherwise correct a deficiency in the facility;

- The installation does not result in any improvement to the private school facilities other than the electrical wiring related to the Chapter 1 computer(s); and

- The representatives of the private school agree either to reimburse the Chapter 1 program for the residual value of the wiring (the installation cost minus depreciation), or to have the LEA remove the wiring if the CAI program is terminated at the site.

Q37. May Chapter 1 funds be used to provide a technician in a religiously affiliated private school to operate and maintain CAI equipment and keep order as needed in the CAI Chapter 1 classroom?

A. Yes. A technician may be paid from Chapter 1 funds to operate and maintain the CAI equipment and keep order, but cannot provide instructional services in the religiously affiliated private school. The Supreme Court in the Felton case prohibited the provision of Chapter 1 instructional services in religiously affiliated private schools, but did not rule on the provision of technical, noninstructional services in those schools. In Wolman v. Walter, the Supreme Court upheld the provision of technical services, such as those of a diagnostician, on the premises of a religiously affiliated private school. The Court found that the nature of that relationship "does not provide the same opportunity for the transmission of sectarian views as attends the relationship between teacher and student or that between counselor and student." 433 U.S. 229, 224 (1977). Thus, the placement of a technician in a CAI Chapter 1 classroom does not raise the entanglement problems at issue in the Felton case.

Q38. May equipment be placed on the premises of a religiously affiliated private school to provide CAI under Chapter 1 to eligible children enrolled in the school?

A. Yes. CAI equipment may be placed on the premises of a religiously affiliated private school under certain circumstances. We believe that such a placement will withstand judicial scrutiny if the following criteria are met:

1. As with all Chapter 1 programs serving private school children, the CAI program must be under the LEA's direction and control. On-site review by public school officials must be limited, however, to such things as the installation, repair, inventory, and maintenance of equipment.

2. Private school personnel may be present in CAI rooms to perform limited noninstructional functions such as maintaining order, assisting children with equipment operations (such as turning the equipment on and off, demonstrating the use of the computers, and accessing Chapter 1 programs), and assisting with the installation, repair, inventory, and maintenance of the equipment.

3. Neither public nor private school personnel may assist the students with instruction in the CAI room. Public school personnel may, however, assist by providing instruction through computer messages, by telephone, or by television.

4. Access to the computer equipment and the rest of the program must be limited to Chapter 1 eligible children.

5. Equipment purchased with Chapter 1 funds may not be used for other than Chapter 1 purposes. Only software directly related to the Chapter 1 program may be used with the CAI.

Q39. Does CAI by itself meet the equitability requirements of Chapter 1?

A. Eligible private school children must receive services that are equitable in comparison to the Chapter 1 services provided to public school children in terms of both the quality and the costs of the services. When both public and private school children are receiving the same CAI service, the equitable services requirement of Chapter 1 is met. When CAI is being provided to private school children while public school children are receiving direct instruction from a teacher, the question of equitability is more difficult. This may be especially true in a year after the computers were purchased since, after the initial purchase of equipment, CAI normally provides services at a cost less than the typical Chapter 1 program. (This problem may not exist, however, if the cost of the equipment is spread out over a number of years. (See the next question.)) If CAI alone does not provide services equitable to those being provided public school children, the LEA should offer additional services, such as after school tutorial sessions or appropriate summer school programs, to make the offer equitable.

Whether the services provided by an LEA to private school students are equitable to those provided to children in public school is measured by factors discussed in §200.52(b) of the regulations.

Q40. May the cost of purchasing a computer be spread out over a period of years for the purpose of meeting the equitable costs requirement?

A. The cost of a computer may be spread over a period of years by such means as leasing the equipment, arranging for a lease-purchase agreement, or by paying for the equipment in installments. The LEA may also buy the equipment with local funds, and at the time of purchase agree to have the Chapter 1 program proportionately reimburse the local funds each year.
Capital Expenses

Q41. What are capital expenses?

A. Capital expenses are expenditures for noninstructional goods and services that are incurred as a result of implementing alternative delivery systems to comply with the requirement of Aguilar v. Felton. These include the rental and renovation of space; purchase or lease of mobile vans or temporary buildings; maintenance costs; transportation; insurance; costs to escort children to and from instructional areas; and, in the case of CAI, costs to install equipment. Costs of computer equipment, like costs for other instructional tools, are instructional, not administrative costs and may not be paid for from capital expense funds.

Q42. How may an LEA use capital expense funds?

A. Funds may be used for three purposes discussed below. Specific uses in a State depend on the criteria that the State establishes to make awards to LEAs for capital expense grants.

1. To pay administrative costs the LEA will incur to increase the numbers of private school children it will serve. For instance, an LEA has been serving private school children at a nearby public school. However, valuable instructional time is lost in transporting the children by bus and, as a result, many eligible children do not participate. The LEA applies for capital expense funds to lease a portable building to place on vacant land next to the private school in order to increase the number of children who will participate in the project.

2. To reimburse the LEA for administrative costs incurred since July 1, 1985 to provide services to private school children. These funds must be used to provide services to children who were adversely affected by the LEA's expenditures for capital expenses. Thus, LEAs that took these costs "off the top" of their grants must use capital expense funds to provide Chapter services to both public and private school children. If an LEA used funds set aside to serve private school students, however, then the capital expense funds may be used only to provide services to children attending private schools.

3. To pay current administrative expenses, such as transportation or lease costs, to serve private school children.

Q43. May a State, in establishing criteria for awarding capital expense funds, give priority to one purpose?

A. Yes. For instance, an SEA may decide to award capital expense funds only to increase the participation of private school children. As with other similar actions by the SEA, this decision would need to be reviewed by the committee of practitioners.
Q44. Under §200.57(c)(1), an LEA may receive capital expense funds to be used to increase the number or percentage of eligible private school children participating in the program. What happens if, after receiving these capital expense funds, the increase the LEA expected does not take place? Must the funds be returned?

A. Section 200.57(b)(5) requires that, in its application for capital expense funds to be used to increase participation of private school children, the LEA provide information sufficient to support the anticipated increases. If increased participation does not occur, the LEA is not required to return the funds.

Q45. How must LEAs account for capital expense funds?

A. Section 200.57(b)(5) requires that, in its application for capital expense funds to be used to increase participation of private school children, the LEA provide information sufficient to support the anticipated increases. If increased participation does not occur, the LEA is not required to return the funds.

Q46. How must LEAs account for capital expense funds?

A. Since capital expense funds are appropriate and awarded separately from basic grant funds, they must be accounted for separately. LEAs should treat capital expense funds as a separate project, and account for them in the same manner they account for any other Federal grant fund.

Q47. Suppose an LEA incurred capital expenses in school year 1985-86 but had none in 1985-86. May it still apply for reimbursement?

A. Yes. An LEA may apply to be reimbursed for capital expenses incurred in any year since July 1, 1985. The LEA need not have expenses in every year in order to be eligible.

Q48. May capital expense funds be used to reimburse an LEA for local or State-funded capital expenses?

A. Section 1017(d) only authorizes the use of capital expense funds for "capital expenses paid from funds under chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act or this section...." Therefore, capital expense funds may not be used to reimburse expenditures made from State and local funds.

Complaints and Bypass

Q49. If private school officials consider the Chapter 1 program offered by the LEA to be inequitable, what can they do?

A. Private school officials may complain to the LEA, the State, or to the Department.

Q50. When a private school representative files a complaint with the Department, the Department has 120 days to "investigate and resolve it. When does the 120-day period begin and what constitutes resolution?

A. Section 1017(b)(3)(A) states that the resolution must occur within 120 days of "receipt" of the complaint by the Secretary. Receipt occurs when the complaint arrives at the Department. Section 200.50(b)(2) of the regulations contains a description of what constitutes a complaint; i.e., a written and signed statement, including documentary evidence, alleging that an LEA has failed to provide equitable services to children attending private schools. If a document does not contain the required documentary evidence, the 120-day period does not begin.
Department will inform the complainant of what is needed and, when the additional information is received, the complaint resolution period will begin. Generally, the Department will first seek information and assistance from the appropriate SEA. If the SEA is unable to satisfactorily resolve the issue, or more information is needed, the Department may conduct an on-site review. Resolution occurs when the Department issues a letter of finding--either that the LEA has or has not provided equitable services--or the matter is otherwise resolved. If the Department finds the LEA has not provided equitable services, the letter of finding will include a notice that the Department is instituting a bypass under section 1017(b) of Chapter 1.

Q50. What procedures does the Department employ in investigating complaints received under section 1017(b)(3)(A) of Chapter 1?

A. The Department uses the following procedures in investigating complaints:

1. Notifies the SEA of the complaint, furnishing the SEA with copies of materials supplied by the complainant.

2A. Requests the SEA to conduct an investigation and provide the Department with a report responding to the complaint.

2B. May hold a preliminary meeting with the SEA, the LEA, and the complainant to attempt to settle the issue.

3. Furnishes the complainant with a copy of the SEA’s report, and requests the complainant to comment on it.

4. If the SEA’s report adequately responds to the complaint or, as a result of the SEA’s investigation, the LEA takes action to resolve the complaint, the Department issues a letter of resolution.

5. If the SEA’s investigation reveals that the LEA is not providing equitable services to private school children, the Department issues a letter of finding to the LEA and the SEA, including notice instituting a bypass.

6. If the evidence presented by the SEA, the LEA, and the complainant is insufficient on which to make a determination, the Department conducts an additional investigation to gather more information.

7. On the basis of all information available to it, the Department issues a letter of finding.

Q51. On what basis may a bypass be requested?

A. Section 1017(b) of Chapter 1 and §200.60 of the regulations state that if an LEA is prohibited by law from providing, or the Secretary determines that the LEA has substantially failed to provide, equitable Chapter 1 services to private school children, the Secretary waives the requirement of the LEA and, instead, arranges for the provision of such services. A representative of a private school child may register a complaint with the Department that an LEA has substantially failed to provide Chapter 1 services; an LEA or SEA may voluntarily notify the Department that the LEA is prohibited from or unable to provide such services; or the Department through its monitoring function may determine that an LEA has substantially failed to provide equitable services. In the case of a complaint filed by a representative of a private school child, the Department has 120 days to complete its investigation and resolve the complaint.

Q52. What are the steps leading to a Chapter 1 bypass?

A. After a complaint is received by the Secretary and an investigation finds that an LEA has substantially failed to provide services on an equitable basis to private school children, the Secretary informs the LEA and SEA that a bypass will be invoked. The number of subsequent steps and amount of time necessary to provide services through a bypass vary depending on whether the LEA or SEA wishes to appeal. The specific steps are found in section 1017(b) of Chapter 1 and §§76.670-76.677 of EDGAR.

Q53. Where do funds for a bypass come from?

A. Funds are deducted from the LEA's allocation. In computing the amount to be deducted, administrative costs for both the public and private school program are calculated and deducted from the allocation. Remaining funds are allocated for public and private school children to ensure that educational services are equitable. Any increased administrative costs attributable to the bypass, therefore, are shared by both the public and private school children. The Department ensures that services are provided in a cost-effective manner.
FISCAL REQUIREMENTS

Statutory Requirement

Section 1018 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.40-200.45

To ensure that Chapter 1 funds are used to provide services that are in addition to the regular services normally provided by an LEA for children, three fiscal requirements related to the expenditure of regular State and local funds must be met by the LEA. The Act and regulations require that the LEA: (1) maintain effort; (2) provide services in project areas with State and local funds that are at least comparable to services provided in areas not receiving Chapter 1 services; and (3) use Chapter 1 funds to supplement, not supplant regular non-Federal funds.

Maintenance of Effort

An LEA may receive its full allocation of Chapter 1 funds if the SEA determines that either the LEA’s per pupil expenditures or aggregate expenditures of State and local funds for free public education in the preceding year were not less than 90 percent of the expenditures for the second preceding year. If the LEA fails to meet the 90 percent level, the SEA must reduce the LEA’s allocation by the exact percentage that the LEA failed to meet the 90 percent level. The SEA has the authority to waive this requirement for one year if the SEA determines that the waiver would be equitable because the failure to comply was caused by exceptional or uncontrollable circumstances, such as a natural disaster or a precipitous and unforeseen decline in the financial resources of the LEA.

Q1. What expenditures are included in determinations of maintenance of effort? What expenditures are excluded from the determinations?

A. In determining whether an LEA has maintained fiscal effort, the SEA must consider the LEA’s expenditures from State and local funds for free public education. Those expenditures include expenditures for administration, instruction, attendance, health services, pupil transportation, plant operation and maintenance, fixed charges, and net expenditures to cover deficits for food services and student body activities. Expenditures for community services, capital outlay, and debt service are not to be included in the determination. In addition, expenditures from funds provided under Chapters 1 and 2, ECIA, and Chapters 1 and 2 of Title I of ESEA are excluded from the determination.

Q2. When determining whether an LEA has maintained fiscal effort, what years does an SEA compare?

A. Expenditures in the "preceding year" are compared with expenditures in the "second preceding year." The following chart shows the years to be compared (years in parentheses are school years):
Q3. What happens if an LEA does not maintain fiscal effort?

A. If in the preceding year an LEA failed to spend at least 90 percent of what it spent in the second preceding year, the SEA must reduce the LEA's Chapter 1 allocation proportionate to the LEA's failure to maintain effort. For example, if during the preceding year the LEA needed to spend $900,000 to meet the 90 percent level but only spent $850,000, the LEA failed to meet the 90 percent level by $50,000. Therefore, unless the SEA grants a waiver, the SEA must reduce the LEA's allocation by 5.6 percent ($50,000 \div 900,000 = 5.6\%$).

Q4. What is the effect of the failure to maintain effort on determinations in subsequent years?

A. Section 200.41(b)(2) of the regulations specifies that in determining maintenance of effort for the fiscal year immediately following the fiscal year in which the LEA failed to maintain effort, the SEA shall consider the LEA's expenditures in the year the failure occurred to be no less than 90 percent of the expenditures for the third preceding year (see the following example):
Example  (This example is based on an LEA with expenditures of $1,000,000 in FY 1987, $850,000 in FY 1988, $810,000 in FY 1989, $800,000 in FY 1990, and $700,000 in FY 1991.)

Comparability

An LEA may receive Chapter 1 funds only if it uses State and local funds to provide services in project areas that are at least comparable to the services provided in school attendance areas that are not receiving Chapter 1 funds. If the LEA selects all of its school attendance areas as project areas, the LEA must use State and local funds to provide services that are substantially comparable in each project area.

An SEA shall consider an LEA to have met the comparability requirement if the LEA either: (1) files with the SEA a written assurance that it has established and implemented a districtwide salary schedule, a policy to ensure equivalence among schools in teachers, administrators, and auxiliary personnel, and a policy to ensure equivalence among schools in the provision of curriculum materials and instructional supplies; or (2) establishes and implements other measures for determining compliance such as student/instructional staff ratios or student/instructional staff salary ratios. In either case, §200.43(d) of the regulations requires that an LEA develop written procedures to ensure that comparable services are provided and demonstrate that the procedures if implemented, in fact, achieve comparability.
An LEA must maintain annual records documenting compliance with the comparability requirement, and the SEA must monitor each LEA's compliance with the requirement.

Q5. If an LEA chooses to measure compliance with the comparability requirement by comparing student/instructional staff ratios or student/instructional staff salary ratios, which staff members should be included as "instructional staff"?

A. If the LEA chooses to measure compliance by comparing staff ratios or staff salary ratios, the LEA must consistently include the same staff members in the ratios for both project schools and the comparison group. Instructional staff should include teachers and administrators; other personnel assigned to schools to provide direct instructional services such as music, art, and physical education teachers, guidance counselors, speech therapists, librarians, and instructional aides; and other personnel who provide services that support instruction such as school social workers, psychologists, and instructional secretaries.

Q6. If all school attendance areas in an LEA or in a grade span grouping are designated as project areas, must the LEA demonstrate that the project areas are providing comparable services?

A. Yes. Section 200.43(a)(2) of the regulations requires that if the LEA selects all of its school attendance areas as project areas, the LEA must use State and local funds to provide services that are substantially comparable in each project area. For example, the LEA, in order to establish a comparison to determine that services are "substantially comparable," may calculate ratios for the group of schools serving project areas with the lowest percentage or numbers of children from low-income families. The ratio for each of the other project schools would then be compared with the average calculated for the comparison group of project schools. The same 10 percent variances as provided in §200.43(c)(1) of the regulations would be used.

Q7. The regulations provide that comparability may be determined on a districtwide or grade span basis. Are there limitations on the number of grade spans an LEA may use?

A. No. However, the number should match the basic organization of schools in the LEA. For example, if the LEA's organization includes elementary, junior high, and senior high schools, the LEA would have three grade spans.

Q8. In addition to grade span groupings, does the LEA have the option to divide grade spans into a large school group and a small school group?

A. Yes, but there must be a significant difference in the enrollments of schools within the grade span—for example, the largest school in a grade span with an enrollment that is two times the enrollment of the smallest school in the grade span.

Q9. What records does an LEA maintain to document compliance with the comparability requirement?
A. If the LEA files a written assurance that it has established and implemented a districtwide salary schedule and policies to ensure equivalence among schools in staffing and in the provision of materials and supplies, it must keep records to document that the salary schedule and policies were implemented and that equivalence was achieved among schools in staffing, materials, and supplies.

If the LEA established and implemented other measures for determining compliance with the requirement such as student/instructional staff ratios, it must maintain source documentation to support the calculations and documentation to demonstrate that any needed adjustments to staff assignments were made to meet the allowable variations.

Q10. When should an LEA determine whether its project schools meet the comparability requirement?

A. Specific dates for determining compliance with the comparability requirement are not included in the Act or the regulations. However, section 1018(c) of Chapter 1 and §200.43(a) of the regulations provide that an LEA may receive funds under Chapter 1 only if it complies with the comparability requirement. Moreover, if an LEA is found not to be in compliance with the requirement, funds are to either be withheld from the LEA or repaid by the LEA. Whether funds are withheld or repaid depends on when the violation is determined. Because the purpose of the comparability requirement is to ensure that project schools receive the same level of services from State and local funds as other schools, determinations must be made as early as possible in the school year. Early determinations will preclude an LEA from having to subsequently refund amounts for failure to comply. In accordance with the authority for State regulations in §200.70 of the regulations, the SEA may establish timelines for comparability determinations and for implementing any required corrective actions.

Q11. What are the SEA’s responsibilities for monitoring the comparability requirement?

A. The Act and the regulations require that the SEA monitor each LEA’s compliance with the comparability requirement. Methods for monitoring are not specified. Therefore, each SEA has the flexibility to determine how best to carry out the monitoring responsibility. This could include reviews of the written procedures required by §200.43(d) of the regulations, including determinations that the procedures actually achieve comparability; reviews of the records maintained to document compliance; and onsite verification that comparable services are provided with State and local funds in project areas. The SEA, however, is ultimately responsible for ensuring that its LEAs remain in compliance with the comparability requirement. In addition, the SEA must withhold funds or require refunds from LEAs that fail to comply with the comparability requirements.

Supplement, Not Supplant

An LEA may use Chapter 1 funds only to supplement and, to the extent practical, increase the level of funds that would, in the absence of Chapter 1 funds, be made available from non-Federal sources for the education of children participating in Chapter 1 projects. In no case may Chapter 1 funds be used to supplant funds from non-Federal sources. To meet this requirement, an LEA is not required to provide Chapter 1 services using a particular instructional method or in a particular instructional setting.

Q12. What are some project designs that meet the supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. Common project designs include in-class, extended pull-out, replacement, add-on, and limited pull-out models. If implemented properly, each model can conform to the supplement, not supplant requirement.

Q13. What are the characteristics of an in-class project?

A. An in-class project provides instructional services for participating children in the same setting and within the time period they would receive instructional services if they were not participating in the Chapter 1 project. An in-class project meets the supplement, not supplant requirement if:

- The project is designed to meet Chapter 1 participants' special educational needs;
- The classroom teacher who would be responsible for the provision of instructional services to participating children in the absence of Chapter 1 remains responsible for, and continues to perform, those duties the teacher would be required to perform in the absence of Chapter 1, including planning the regular instructional program of participating children, providing them with instructional services, and evaluating their progress; and

- Instructional staff members paid with Chapter 1 funds work closely with the classroom teacher, who is ultimately responsible for the provision of instructional services to participating children in the absence of Chapter 1, so as to provide services that are designed to meet participants' special educational needs.

Example: An LEA wishes to provide a special program of remedial instruction using a teacher aide for ten high school juniors assigned to one business math class and for five high school sophomores in a separate compensatory mathematics class that meets at the same time. The teacher aide spends half of each class period in each class, working individually with Chapter 1 participants to provide tutorial assistance on an as-needed basis. Such a project satisfies the supplement, not supplant requirement if the classroom teacher, who would be responsible for providing instruction to the participating children in each case, continues to be responsible for tasks such as lesson planning and basic instruction, and meets with the teacher aide on a regular basis to ensure that the Chapter 1 participants are receiving a program of instruction that meets their individual needs.
Example: An LEA wishes to provide a special program of remedial instruction for up to one hour per day to Chapter 1 students using the regular classroom teacher. Where normally a maximum of five teachers are required to be hired (for a 1:20 ratio) to instruct a particular number of students in one grade, six teachers are hired. Each of the six teachers is assigned a class in which about five students are Chapter 1 students. Each of the six teachers spend up to one hour per day providing Chapter 1 services exclusively to the Chapter 1 students in one section of the room while a volunteer or aide oversees the other students in another part of the room. For the portion of time the teachers spend with the Chapter 1 students exclusively, their salaries are charged to Chapter 1. Collectively, the portions of time should equal one full-time equivalent (FTE) teacher's salary charged to Chapter 1.

Example: An LEA wishes to provide a special program of remedial instruction for up to one hour per day to Chapter 1 students using the regular classroom teacher in the regular classroom. For example, five regular teachers are provided by the LEA to teach the students at one grade level for a five-hour instructional day. An additional teacher is hired by the LEA to rotate among the five classrooms for one hour in each classroom and replace the regular classroom teacher for that period. During the time the rotating teacher is in a classroom, the regular teacher provides intensive instruction for the Chapter 1 students to meet their special educational needs that is in addition to the services the students would receive if there were no Chapter 1 services. The rotating teacher takes over the regular program of instruction with the remaining students. Either each regular teacher's salary could be charged to Chapter 1 for the portion of the time the teacher spends solely with Chapter 1 students, or the salary of the additional teacher hired to rotate among the five classes could be charged to Chapter 1.

Both the second and third examples above would allow for smaller regular classroom loads and continuity in and maximum coordination of the Chapter 1 students' education. These examples would comply with the supplement, not supplant requirement if (1) for the time spent with Chapter 1 students, the regular teacher is formally relieved of responsibility for other students, and spends time exclusively with the Chapter 1 students, (2) the proportion of the salary costs paid by Chapter 1 is equal to the actual portion of each regular teacher's total work day spent providing Chapter 1 services, (3) the Chapter 1 services are supplemental to the regular program, designed to meet the students' special educational needs, and the Chapter 1 students receive all services they otherwise would receive in the regular program, and (4) the regular teacher keeps time distribution records to show the actual time spent providing supplemental benefits for Chapter 1 students. (See Q3. of the Uses of Funds section of this policy manual.)

Q14. What are the characteristics of extended pull-out and replacement projects?

A. An extended pull-out project or a replacement project provides Chapter 1 services for a period of time that exceeds 25 percent of the time-- computed on a per day, per month, or per year basis—that a participating child would, in the absence of Chapter 1 funds, spend receiving instructional services from a particular teacher of a required or elective subject who is paid with other than Chapter 1 funds. An extended pull-out or a replacement project meets the supplement, not supplant requirement if the Chapter 1 services have all of the following characteristics:

- Chapter 1 services are provided to participating children in a different classroom setting or at a different time than would be the case if these children were not participating in the Chapter 1 project.

- The Chapter 1 project provides services that replace all or part of the course of instruction regularly provided to Chapter 1 participants with a program that is particularly designed to meet participants' special educational needs.

- The LEA provides from funds other than Chapter 1 either the FTE number of staff that would have been provided for the services replaced by the Chapter 1 project or the funds required to provide the number of staff.

In calculating the FTE number of staff the LEA must provide from funds other than Chapter 1, the following principles apply:

1. If an extended pull-out or replacement project operates in more than one school, the appropriate staff to be provided from other than Chapter 1 funds must be determined in the aggregate for all the schools implementing the project.

2. If more than one extended pull-out or replacement project is implemented by the LEA, e.g., one in mathematics and one in reading, the appropriate staff to be provided from other than Chapter 1 funds must be calculated separately for each replacement project. The calculation, however, must be determined in the aggregate for all schools within each replacement project.

3. The LEA is not required to provide fractional parts of an FTE staff member for an extended pull-out or replacement project. However, the dropping of fractional parts of FTEs must be done for calculations across an entire extended pull-out or replacement project rather than on an individual school basis.

Elementary School (self-contained) - Example 1

This example pertains to an LEA that has one school implementing a language arts replacement project.
Items to know before calculating the resources the LEA is required to provide are as follows:

- Average class size for a full-time teacher in that school.
- Number of minutes per day a full-time teacher provides instruction.
- Number of children to be served by the replacement project.
- Number of minutes per day that language arts is taught in the regular program.

Let the average class size be 25, the number of minutes a teacher teaches per day be 300, the number of students to be served be 75, and the number of minutes language arts is taught per day be 120.

- Calculate the percent of time per day that the students will participate in the replacement project by dividing the number of minutes the students will be served by the total number of minutes a day a full-time teacher provides instruction.

\frac{120 \text{ minutes}}{300 \text{ minutes}} = 0.4 \text{ or } 40\% \text{ of a school day}
\]

- Calculate the number of students a teacher would teach for 40 percent of the day by multiplying that percent of the day by the number of Chapter 1 students to be served.

75 \text{ Chapter 1 students} \times 40\% = 30 \text{ students}
\]

- Calculate the number of FTE teachers to be provided by the LEA by dividing the number of students calculated above by the average regular class size.

\frac{30 \text{ students}}{25 \text{ students}} = 1.2 \text{ FTE teachers}

Since the fractional portion of an FTE can be dropped, the LEA must contribute resources equal to 1 full-time teacher.

---

Elementary School (self-contained) - Example 2

This example pertains to an LEA that is going to implement a language arts replacement project and a mathematics replacement project in one school.

Items to know before calculating the resources the LEA is required to provide are as follows:

- Average class size for a full-time teacher in that school.
- Number of minutes per day a full-time teacher provides instruction.
- Number of children to be served by the language arts replacement project.
- Number of children to be served by the mathematics replacement project.
Number of minutes per day that language arts is taught in the regular program.

Number of minutes per day that mathematics is taught in the regular program.

Let the average class size be 25, the number of minutes a teacher teaches per day be 300, the number of students to be served in language arts be 75, the number of students to be served in mathematics be 40, the number of minutes language arts is taught per day be 120, and the number of minutes per day mathematics is taught be 70.

Language Arts

- Calculate the percent of time per day that the students will participate in the language arts replacement project, by dividing the number of minutes the students will be served by the total number of minutes a day a full-time language arts teacher provides instruction.

  \frac{120 \text{ minutes}}{300 \text{ minutes}} = .4 \text{ or } 40\% \text{ of a school day}
  \]

- Calculate the number of students a teacher would teach for 40 percent of the day by multiplying that percent of the day by the number of Chapter 1 students to be served.

  \[75 \text{ Chapter 1 students} \times 40\% = 30 \text{ students}\]

- Calculate the number of FTE teachers to be provided by the LEA by dividing the number of students calculated above by the average regular class size.

Mathematics

- Calculate the percent of time per day that the students will participate in the mathematics replacement project by dividing the number of minutes the students will be served by the total number of minutes a day a full-time mathematics teacher provides instruction.

  \frac{70 \text{ minutes}}{300 \text{ minutes}} = .233 \text{ or } 23\% \text{ of a school day}
  \]

- Calculate the number of students a teacher would teach for 23 percent of the day by multiplying that percent of the day by the number of Chapter 1 students to be served.

  \[40 \text{ Chapter 1 students} \times 23\% = 9.2 \text{ students}\]

Total Resources the LEA Must Provide

1.2 FTE language arts teachers
.37 FTE mathematics teachers

The LEA determines required resources separately for each subject. The LEA must contribute resources equal to one full-time teacher, since the fractional parts of the language arts teachers and mathematics teachers can be dropped.

Secondary School - Example 1

This example pertains to an LEA that has one school implementing a language arts replacement project.

Items to know before calculating the resources the LEA is required to provide are as follows:

- Average language arts class size for a full-time teacher.
- Number of periods a day a full-time language arts teacher teaches.
- The number of children to be served by the replacement project.

Let the average class size be 30, the number of periods a language arts teacher teaches per day be 5, and the number of students to be served be 300.

A full-time teacher would normally teach 150 students per day.

\[ 30 \text{ students} \times 5 \text{ periods} = 150 \text{ students} \]

To calculate the resources the LEA must contribute, divide the number of Chapter 1 students to be served by the number of students a full-time teacher would teach during the day.

\[ \frac{300 \text{ Chapter 1 students}}{150 \text{ students}} = 2 \]

Secondary School - Example 2

This example pertains to an LEA that has more than one school implementing an English replacement project.

Items to know before calculating the resources the LEA is required to provide are as follows:
Average districtwide English class size for a full-time teacher.

Average number of periods a day a district English teacher teaches.

The number of children to be served by the English replacement project.

Let the average class size be 28, the number of periods an English teacher teaches per day be 5, and the number of students to be served by Chapter 1 be 60 students in one school and 80 students in another school, or a total of 140 students.

A full-time English teacher would normally teach 140 students per day.

\[ 28 \text{ students} \times 5 \text{ periods} = 140 \text{ students} \]

To calculate the resources the LEA must contribute, divide the number of Chapter 1 students to be served by the number of students a full-time teacher would teach during the day.

\[ \frac{140}{140} = 1 \]

The LEA must contribute resources to equal 1 full-time teacher.

Secondary School - Example 3

This example pertains to an LEA that has one school implementing a mathematics replacement project. This mathematics replacement project will be conducted in the eighth and ninth grades. Teachers of ninth grade students are required to have larger classes than teachers of eighth grade students.

Items to know before calculating the resources the LEA is required to provide are as follows:

- Average mathematics class size for eighth grade teachers.
- Average mathematics class size for ninth grade teachers.
- Number of periods a day a full-time mathematics teacher teaches.
- The number of eighth grade students to be served by the replacement project.
- The number of ninth grade students to be served by the replacement project.

Let the average eighth grade mathematics class size be 30, the number of periods a day a teacher teaches be 5, and the number of eighth grade students to be served by Chapter 1 be 75.

A full-time teacher would normally teach 150 students per day.

\[ 30 \text{ students} \times 5 \text{ periods} = 150 \text{ students} \]
To calculate the resources the LEA must contribute for the eighth grade portion of the replacement project, divide the number of Chapter 1 eighth grade students by the number of students an eighth grade mathematics teacher would teach during the day.

\frac{75}{150} = 0.5

Let the average ninth grade mathematics class size be 35, the number of periods a day a teacher teaches be 5, and the number of ninth grade students to be served by Chapter 1 be 100.

- A full-time teacher would normally teach 175 students per day.

To calculate the resources the LEA must contribute for the ninth grade portion of the replacement project, divide the number of Chapter 1 ninth grade students by the number of students a ninth grade mathematics teacher would teach during the day.

Add 0.5 and 0.57 = 1.07 Since the LEA may drop the fractional portion, it must contribute resources equal to 1 FTE staff.

Q15. What are the characteristics of an add-on project?

A. An add-on project provides Chapter 1 services at a time that participants would not be receiving State or locally funded instructional services, including periods such as study halls, before or after the regular school day, weekends, or vacation periods. The project meets the supplement, not supplant requirement if the project is designed to meet participants' special educational needs.

Q16. What are the characteristics of a limited pull-out project?

A. A limited pull-out project provides instructional services for participating children in a different setting or a different time than would be the case if those children were not participating in the Chapter 1 project. Services are provided for a period of time that does not exceed 25 percent of the time--computed on a per day, per month, or per year basis--that a participating child would, in the absence of Chapter 1 funds, spend receiving instructional services from teachers of required or elective subjects who are paid with other than Chapter 1 funds. A limited pull-out project meets the supplement, not supplant requirement if all of the following characteristics are met:

- The project is particularly designed to meet participants' special educational needs.
The classroom teacher, who would be responsible for the provision of instructional services to participating children in the absence of Chapter 1, remains responsible for, and continues to perform, those duties the teacher would be required to perform in the absence of Chapter 1, including planning the instructional program of the participating children, providing them with instructional services, and evaluating their progress.

Instructional staff members paid with Chapter 1 funds work closely with the classroom teacher, who is ultimately responsible for the provision of instructional services to participating children in the absence of Chapter 1, so as to provide services that are particularly designed to meet participants' special educational needs.

Example: Fifty third graders participate in a Chapter 1 project designed to help them improve their reading skills. All the children receive instruction in reading from their classroom teacher as part of their regular program of instruction. Under the Chapter 1 project, a special resource center is staffed by personnel paid with Chapter 1 funds: Chapter 1 participants are pulled out of class for one-half hour, five days per week to receive special assistance at the resource center. The time spent in the resource center totals 2.5 hours, or 12.5 percent of the 20 hours of instructional time the 50 participating children spend with their classroom teacher as part of their regular program of instruction. This project does not violate the supplement, not supplant requirement so long as the classroom teacher whose instruction the Chapter 1 project is designed to supplement continues to remain responsible for the regular program of instruction that is provided to the participating children and performs regular planning, instructional, and evaluative duties associated with those children. The classroom teacher must also work with those children and with the resource center personnel to ensure that a coordinated program of instructi0nal is provided so as to meet the special needs of Chapter 1 participants.

Q17. How can an LEA provide Chapter 1 service for handicapped children without violating the supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. Section 1014(d) of Chapter 1 and §200.31(c)(5)(iii) of the regulations provide that an LEA may not use Chapter 1 funds to provide services that are required by Federal, State, or local law to overcome children's handicapping conditions. Therefore, services that must be provided for children because of their handicap (for example, services required by the Education of the Handicapped Act) may not be paid for with Chapter 1 funds. An LEA may provide services for handicapped children that comply with the supplement, not supplant requirement if the Chapter 1 services have all of the following characteristics:

- The LEA designs the Chapter 1 project to address special needs resulting from educational deprivation, not needs relating to children's handicapping conditions.
- The LEA sets overall program objectives that do not distinguish between handicapped and non-handicapped participants.
The LEA selects handicapped children for Chapter 1 services on the basis of educational deprivation, not on the basis of handicap, and the LEA selects those handicapped children who can be expected to make substantial progress toward accomplishing project activities without substantially modifying the educational level of the subject matter.

The LEA provides the same services to address children's handicapping conditions from non-Chapter 1 funds that are provided for handicapped children in nonproject schools.

The LEA provides Chapter 1 services at intensities taking into account the needs and abilities of individual participants, but without distinguishing generally between handicapped and non-handicapped participants with respect to the instruction provided.

The LEA provides for maximum coordination between the Chapter 1 services and the services provided to address the children's handicapping conditions in order to increase program effectiveness, eliminate duplication, and reduce fragmentation of the children's programs. Some examples of how this can be achieved are listed below.

Examples of Chapter 1 Services for Handicapped Students

1. In-class

An educational aide, tutor, or teacher can provide supplemental instructional assistance to Chapter 1 students who may also be handicapped during their mainstreamed instructional activities. For example, if a handicapped student has been determined to be educationally deprived in language arts, the in-class tutor can provide assistance during the time the student is mainstreamed into language arts activities. This in-class tutor can work with all those in the language arts class who have been identified as eligible for and selected to receive Chapter 1 services. In this manner, there is maximum coordination with the regular classroom teacher since services are provided in the regular classroom and the handicapped students are not segregated from non-handicapped students when Chapter 1 services are provided.

2. Multiple-funded teacher

A special education teacher can be multiple funded by special education funds and Chapter 1 funds in order to teach handicapped students for a portion of the day and Chapter 1 students for a portion of the day. In the portion of the day during which the teacher will work with Chapter 1 students, the teacher would be working with some of the handicapped students who were identified as eligible for and selected to receive Chapter 1 services. In this manner, there would be automatic coordination for those students in special education and Chapter 1 since the same teacher would be providing both services. This teacher could then spend sufficient time with the regular teachers for coordinating Chapter 1 and regular services for those non-handicapped Chapter 1 students.
Q18. How can an LEA provide Chapter 1 services for children with LEP without violating the supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. Section 1014(d) of Chapter 1 and §200.31(c)(5)(iii) of the regulations provide that an LEA may not use Chapter 1 funds to provide services that the LEA is required to provide for children with LEP under Federal or State law, including provisions required by Lau v. Nichols. The level of services necessary to meet Federal or State requirements must be provided from non-Chapter 1 sources. An LEA may use Chapter 1 funds to provide services for children with LEP that comply with the supplement, not supplant requirement if the Chapter 1 services have all of the following characteristics:

- The LEA designs its Chapter 1 project to address special needs resulting from educational deprivation, not needs relating solely to the children's LEP.
- The LEA sets overall project objectives that do not distinguish between participants of LEP and other participants.
- Through the use of uniform criteria, the LEA selects children for participation on the basis of educational deprivation, not on the basis of LEP.
- The LEA provides Chapter 1 services taking into account the needs and abilities of individual participants. The LEAs may use Chapter 1 funds to provide staff who are bilingual and secure appropriate materials, when such staff and materials are necessary to address the educational deprivation of children to be served. Some examples of how this can be achieved are listed below.
- The LEA provides for maximum coordination between the Chapter 1 services and the services provided to address the children's LEP in order to increase program effectiveness, eliminate duplication, and reduce fragmentation of the children's programs.

Q18A. How can an LEA determine when it must use State and local resources to provide services for Chapter 1 LEP children?

A. There are several ways to make this determination:

1. Any services required by a court order or agreement with the Office for Civil Rights.

2. Any services that may be required by State law or regulation. For instance, if the State requires that LEP children receive at least one hour of instruction daily in English as a second language (ESL), this must be provided with funds other than Chapter 1.

3. Any services required by local law, policy, or regulation.
4. Services similar to those being provided to LEP children not in the Chapter 1 program. For instance, LEP children in non-Chapter 1 schools receive one hour daily of special instruction in English; this must also be provided to Chapter 1 LEP children prior to any additional services the children might receive under Chapter 1.

Finally, the Lau decision requires LEAs to take steps to overcome the barriers posed by students’ LEP. In addition, the Equal Opportunities Act of 1974 requires each educational agency "to take appropriate action to overcome barriers that impede equal participation by its students in its instructional programs." Therefore, in no instance should LEP children be receiving special services solely from Chapter 1.

Examples of Chapter 1 Services for LEP Students

1. In-class

In instances where there is one primary language spoken by LEP students--Spanish, for example--a Spanish-English speaking bilingual teacher, educational aide, or tutor can provide supplemental instructional assistance to the LEP students in the classrooms of the instructional areas the students have been identified as educationally deprived. In this manner the Chapter 1-funded bilingual instructor will be in continual contact with the regular teachers to coordinate Chapter 1 and regular services.

2. In instances where there are several languages spoken by LEP students, a teacher, educational aide, or tutor who is trained to teach ESL can provide supplemental instructional assistance to students in the classrooms of the instructional areas the students have been identified as educationally deprived. The ESL and regular teacher can continually coordinate Chapter 1 and regular services.

Exclusion of Special State and Local Program Funds from Comparability and Supplement, not Supplant Requirements

An LEA may exclude State and local funds expended for carrying out special programs to meet the educational needs of educationally deprived children when determining compliance with the comparability and supplement, not supplant requirements. If funds are expended for conducting a State program, the Secretary must grant a written, advance determination that the State program meets the five requirements set forth in section 1018(d)(1)(B) of Chapter 1. If funds are expended for conducting a local program, the State must grant a written, advance determination that the local program meets these five requirements.

Q19. What are the five requirements that must be met in order to receive a written determination allowing the exclusion of State or local funds?

A. The Secretary shall consider a State program, and an SEA shall consider a local program, to be similar to Chapter 1 programs if--

1. All children participating in the program are educationally deprived;
2. The program is based on similar performance objectives related to educational achievement and is evaluated in a manner consistent with those performance objectives;

3. The program provides supplementary services designed to meet the special educational needs of the children who are participating;

4. The LEA keeps such records and affords access thereto as are necessary to assure the correctness and verification of these requirements; and

5. The SEA monitors performance under the program to ensure that these requirements are met.

Q20. What is the purpose of allowing the exclusion of local or State funds expended on State or local compensatory education programs from determinations of compliance with the Chapter 1 supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. The exclusion allows State and local compensatory education funds to be used to further extend services similar to those provided by Chapter 1 to educationally deprived students without requiring such funds to be distributed equitably among Chapter 1 and non-Chapter 1 students. Chapter 1 funds may not provide students with services that the State or local program funds are required to provide.

Q21. How may excludable special State and local compensatory funds be used with Chapter 1 funds to meet the needs of educationally deprived students without violating the Chapter 1 supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. An LEA’s Chapter 1 program, for example, provides reading services at Chapter 1 project schools to students in grades K-3 who performed at or below the 25th percentile on the reading portion of a standardized test. The excludable State (or local) compensatory education program funds provide reading services at nonproject schools to like students.

Q22. When should advance determinations be requested in relation to when comparability is determined?

A. Advance determinations should be requested of the Secretary and the SEA (as appropriate) before or as soon as possible during the project year for which such determinations are being made so that the LEA seeking to exclude State and local funds can compensate for potential instances of supplanting or noncomparability, if any, in order to meet its fiscal responsibilities.
Q23. May an LEA exclude State and local funds expended for bilingual education for LEP children, special education for handicapped children, and certain State phase-in programs when demonstrating compliance with the supplement, not supplant requirement?

A. No. The LEA may only exclude these funds for the purpose of demonstrating compliance with the comparability requirement.
EVALUATION

Statutory Requirements

Sections 1019 and 1435 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.35 and 200.80-200.89

Introduction

Section 1019 of Chapter 1 provides the requirements for State and local evaluations of Chapter 1 Basic Grant programs. Section 1435 of Chapter 1 provides the statutory basis for the development of national standards to be implemented in conducting Chapter 1 evaluations.

Local Evaluations--General Requirements

Section 1019(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.35(a) of the regulations require that every LEA evaluate the effectiveness of the program in meeting desired outcomes stated in the LEA application; implement the national standards developed under section 1435; evaluate program effectiveness at least once every three years (or more frequently if required to do so by the SEA); use objective measures; measure individual student achievement in basic skills and more advanced skills; aggregate individual student achievement by grade and subject in basic and more advanced skills for the whole; submit the results to the SEA at least once every three years; determine if the effect of the program is sustained over more than one program year; and review Chapter 1 children's progress in the regular school program.

Q1. Are Chapter 1 preschool, kindergarten, and first grade programs exempt from evaluation?

A. No. Chapter 1 programs for students in these grades are exempt only from collecting aggregatable achievement results using the national standards. LEAs are required to evaluate the effectiveness of such programs using the desired outcomes stated in their program applications.

Q2. Must the LEA evaluate its Chapter 1 project in terms of both aggregate student achievement and desired outcomes?

A. Yes. LEAs must evaluate their Chapter 1 projects on the basis of aggregate student achievement collected in accordance with national standards and other desired outcomes stated in the LEA application.

Q3. May an LEA establish a minimum amount of participation in the project a child must have to be included in its evaluation?

A. All students who were enrolled in the project for the entire school year and for whom the LEA has obtained pre- and post-test scores must be included in the evaluation, even if some of those students were absent during some of the time the project operated. However, students who enrolled in the project well into the school year need not be included, even if the LEA has pre- and post-test scores on them.

Q4. An LEA is required to conduct and report an evaluation of its Chapter 1 program only once every three years. Must it collect data on aggregate student achievement and progress toward meeting other desired outcomes every year?

A. Yes. Although Chapter 1 requires that the LEA conduct and report an evaluation only once every three years, for purposes of program improvement, the LEA must conduct an annual local review of the effectiveness of each Chapter 1 school’s project as measured by aggregate performance and desired outcomes.

Q5. Must the LEA evaluate student achievement using an annual testing cycle?

A. Yes. Student achievement must be evaluated on a spring-to-spring or fall-to-fall testing cycle.

Q6. Must an LEA conduct a sustained effects study as part of its evaluation responsibilities?

A. Yes. An LEA must conduct a sustained effects study that examines whether Chapter 1 effects are sustained over a period of more than one program year. It must assess the performance of the same children for at least two consecutive 12-month periods, provided the children remain within the LEA.

Local Evaluations--Desired Outcomes

Both Chapter 1 (sections 1012(b) and 1021) and the regulations (§200.35-a (l)(l)(A)) require that the effectiveness of Chapter 1 programs be evaluated based on aggregated student achievement following the national standards and desired outcomes stated in the LEA application.

Q7. What are desired outcomes?

A. Desired outcomes are an LEA’s goals to improve educational opportunities of educationally deprived children so that they (1) succeed in the regular classroom; (2) attain grade level proficiency; and (3) improve in basic and more advanced skills.

Desired outcomes must be stated in an LEA’s Chapter 1 application in terms of the basic and more advanced skills that all children are expected to master.

Q8. How are desired outcomes expressed?

A. Desired outcomes must be expressed in terms that can be measured. At a minimum they must be expressed in terms of aggregate performance, i.e., show improvement in aggregate performance of children over a 12-month period (except preschool, kindergarten, and first grade programs) in basic and more advanced skills that all children are expected to master in an instructional area. However, to achieve a more complete picture of the success of the Chapter 1 program in its schools, an LEA is encouraged to state other desired outcomes expressed in terms of indicators, such as improved student performance on criterion-referenced tests (CRTs), lower dropout rates, improved attendance, or fewer retentions in grade. All desired outcomes must relate to improved performance in basic and more advanced skills.

Q9. Must desired outcomes be evaluated and results reported?
A. Each desired outcome must be evaluated by the LEA, using methods appropriate to the way the desired outcome is stated. Results of the evaluations must be reported to the SEA at least once every three years.

Q10. What part do desired outcomes play in determining the need for program improvement activities?
A. For each project school, an LEA must annually review effectiveness on the basis of aggregate performance and substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes.

Failure to make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes will require school program improvement activities regardless of the results of aggregate performance. In other words, a school that does not make substantial progress annually on the stated desired outcomes will be required to develop a program improvement plan.

Q11. Are desired outcomes used differently for projects serving special groups of students?
A. Desired outcomes are used in the same way in all LEA Chapter 1 projects, i.e., as part of the local annual review for program improvement and for evaluation at least once every three years.

In projects serving preschool, kindergarten, and first grade students, other desired outcomes are the only basis for annual review and evaluation. The same is true for projects designed primarily to teach English to students with LEP whose performance cannot be validly and reliably assessed with norm-referenced tests (NRTs).

Q12. Other than NRTs, are there examples of objective measures that an LEA might use to assess progress toward desired outcomes?
A. A variety of instrumentation and data may be considered as objective measures. Obviously, the data obtained and reviewed should reflect the goals and objectives of the programs involved. Care, however, should be taken to ensure validity and reliability in data collection, analysis, and interpretation.

Criterion-referenced tests might be used to provide information about attainment of particular skills. Performance tests, such as writing assessments, might be used. Like other measures, performance assessments must be reliable and valid. Teacher rating scales may provide data on student performance. Trends in dropout or attendance rates might be used in secondary schools to identify the impact of projects seeking to improve the graduation rates for students with deficits in basic and advanced skills. Improved grades received by students may also be used as a desired outcome.

Local Evaluations--Norm Referenced Testing

Section 1435 of Chapter 1 requires the development of national standards for the local evaluation of Chapter 1 programs. Sections 200.80-200.89 of the regulations present these national standards. One of the main features of these standards is the requirement that achievement be measured over a 12-month period with a norm-referenced achievement test in reading, mathematics, or language arts for students in grades 2-12.

Q13. Why must an LEA use a norm-referenced achievement test or one that can be equated to an NRT to evaluate the achievement of Chapter 1 students in grades 2-12 receiving services in reading, mathematics, or language arts?

A. The national standards require the LEA to calculate achievement gains for students in grades 2-12 who receive services in reading, mathematics, or language arts for local review purposes and so that Chapter 1 data from across the Nation can be aggregated to determine the overall impact of the program. This is accomplished by comparing their actual post-test achievement with an estimate of post-test achievement that would be expected in the absence of Chapter 1 services (§200.80(a) (1)(i)). The estimate of expected post-test achievement requires that the achievement test provide scores that can be referenced to the performance of a norming sample developed by the LEA, the SEA, or the test publisher.

If the LEA uses a published achievement test that has nationally representative norms, these norms can be used to measure achievement gains and to report them to the SEA in terms of the common reporting scale (see below). If the LEA uses an achievement test without such national norms, the LEA must adhere to technical requirements for equating this test with a nationally normed test or be able to use State or local norms developed according to technical requirements for nationally representative norms. (Contact ED for information on these technical requirements.)

Once equated, the norms from the equated test or the State or local norming sample can then be used to measure achievement gains and to report them to the SEA in terms of the common reporting scale. If the SEA does not require the reporting of achievement gains in the common reporting scale, the LEA must report sufficient information about its achievement results to the SEA so that the achievement results can be converted to the common reporting scale by the SEA.

Q14. What is the common reporting scale?

A. The common reporting scale is the normal curve equivalent (NCE), a scale that is similar to the percentile rank scale but one that permits aggregation of results. Although NCEs can be averaged to determine the performance of a group, percentiles must not be averaged. The NCE scale ranges from 1 to 99; a score of 50 represents average performance nationally.

Q15. I know our students have learned, but the mean NCE gain for the group as a whole is close to 0. Is this possible?

A. Yes. For example, if a group of students pre-tested one spring at 27 NCEs and post-tested the following spring at 27 NCEs, this would indicate that they have learned at the same rate as the norming group. However, with the additional instruction Chapter 1 students receive, the expectation is that they will learn at a faster rate than the norming group and increase their NCE standing from pre-test to post-test.

Q16. For an LEA to consider an instrument appropriate for Chapter 1 evaluation, must it have (or be equated to a test with) nationally representative norms?

A. If the instrument is used to evaluate student achievement in grades 2-12 in reading, mathematics, or language arts for the purpose of aggregating and reporting achievement gains to the SEA in terms of the common reporting scale, then it must have, or be equated to a test with, nationally representative norms. If the instrument is to be used for other purposes, then national norms may not be necessary.

Q17. If an LEA wishes to use a locally developed test to evaluate Chapter 1, must it be equated to an NRT?

A. If the locally developed test is used to measure achievement gains in reading, mathematics, or language arts that are to be aggregated and reported to the SEA using the common reporting scale, it must be appropriately equated to a nationally normed test. However, a locally developed test used to evaluate other desired outcomes need not be expressed in terms of the common reporting scale or equated to a nationally normed test.

Q18. May an LEA use a State competency test as part of the objective criteria for evaluation?

A. If a State competency test is used to evaluate student achievement in grades 2-12 in reading, mathematics, or language arts for the purpose of reporting achievement gains to the SEA in terms of the common reporting scale, then it must have nationally representative norms or be equated to a test with such norms. If the test is to be used for purposes other than reporting under the national standards, student performance need not be compared to national norms.

Q19. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay for testing non-Chapter 1 students in an equating study?

A. Yes. Chapter 1 funds may be used to pay for testing an appropriate number of non-Chapter 1 students in equating State or locally developed tests to nationally normed tests to meet the national standards in Subpart H of the regulations. An appropriate number means a representative sample that is large enough to meet the needs of the equating study.
Q20. May Chapter 1 funds be used to pay for the development or the norming of a State or local test that will be used for Chapter 1 evaluation?

A. No. The use of Chapter 1 funds to develop or norm a State or local test to measure achievement according to the national evaluation standards is prohibited. An LEA must select a test that has already been developed and normed.

Q21. If an LEA does not wish to use NRTs districtwide, may the LEA test only the Chapter 1 children?

A. Yes. Chapter 1 regulations do not require that all children in the LEA be tested. The annual needs assessment and selection of students for Chapter 1 services can be conducted without the administration of NRTs. However, in order to assess the progress of students participating in the Chapter 1 program, pre- and post-test data, using a test with (or equated to a test with) nationally representative norms, are required.

Q22. Is it necessary to test students in the spring of the first grade with an NRT to have a pre-test to evaluate the second grade Chapter 1 program?

A. No. Although this will be done most frequently, an alternative is to measure achievement gains in the second grade from fall-to-fall, while measuring gains in all other grades from spring-to-spring. To do this requires testing in both the fall and the spring in grades two and three, but eliminates the need for norm-referenced testing in grade one.

Local Evaluations--Basic and More Advanced Skills

The Act identifies the purpose of Chapter 1 as improving achievement in basic and more advanced skills (section 1001(b)), and requires LEAs to specify desired outcomes in terms of basic and more advanced skills (section 1012(b)) and evaluate performance and progress in both skill areas (section 1019(a)).

"More advanced skills" are defined in Chapter 1 under section 1471(13) as: "...skills including reasoning, analysis, interpretation, problem-solving and decisionmaking as they relate to the particular subjects in which instruction is provided...[by Chapter 1 programs]."

Methods for assessing more advanced skills in reading and mathematics have been specified in the regulations by identifying specific subtests (reading comprehension and mathematics problems and applications) considered appropriate for measuring aggregate performance (§200.80(a)(2)). Subtests for advanced skills in language arts and early childhood have not been specified.

An LEA must report on its evaluation of performance in basic and more advanced skills to the SEA at least once every three years (§200.35(a)(1)(i)). However, the LEA must annually review performance for the purpose of determining the need for required school improvement activities (§200.38(a)(1)(i)).

Q23. In the evaluation of the Chapter 1 program, must LEAs address both basic and more advanced skills?
A. Yes. Chapter 1 requires that Chapter 1 programs be designed to improve achievement in both basic and more advanced skills. All LEAs must express desired outcomes for Chapter 1 children in terms of basic and advanced skills all children are expected to master. Further, programs are required to review and report aggregate performance in both basic and advanced skills.

Q24. How are advanced skills to be measured in terms of aggregate data?

A. More advanced skills in reading must be measured by the "comprehension" or equivalent score of a nationally normed reading test. For mathematics, a "problems and applications" or equivalent score is required. In language arts, a more advanced skills subtest is not required if a language arts test is used for evaluation. However, if a reading test is used to evaluate the language arts program, the "comprehension" or equivalent score is required.

Q25. Are technical requirements for assessments of advanced skills generally the same as those for assessments of basic skills?

A. Yes. While the objectives measured are different, the essential test characteristics required by the national standards are the same for both. Reporting requirements are identical for both areas.

Q26. Will both basic and more advanced skills be reviewed for determining whether schools have met aggregate performance standards in the local annual review?

A. Yes. Aggregate performance must be determined for basic and more advanced skills and both skill areas must be included in the local annual review. A school showing no improvement or a decline in the aggregate performance of participating children for a 12-month period, in either type of skill, would have to develop a school improvement plan.

Q27. Must a project use two separate test scores to satisfy the reporting requirements for advanced and basic skills? For example, if a Chapter 1 reading project has previously measured achievement with a reading "comprehension" test--or mathematics with a "problem-solving or applications" score--must it now employ additional measures?

A. No. For reporting purposes, basic skills may be measured by any reliable and valid subtest or total test score for which students' scores can be converted to the common reporting scale according to the national evaluation standards. However, particular care should be taken when using a subtest score for these purposes, to determine that the subtest contains a sufficient number of items to be valid and reliable when used as a free-standing measure.

Q28. May subtests be used to assess more advanced skills?

A. Yes. Advanced skills in reading are to be measured by a reading comprehension (or equivalent) subtest. Advanced skills in mathematics are to be measured by a problem-solving or applications (or an
When it appears that more than one subtest could be used to measure reading comprehension or mathematics problem-solving, the objectives measured by each subtest should be examined to determine which is the best measure of comprehension or problem-solving.

Q29. May total reading scores be used for advanced skills measurement?

A. Generally, no. Most total reading test scores are a composite of scores from two or more subtests, only one of which is comprehension; thus, total reading would not be acceptable as a measure of advanced skills. However, in exceptional cases where the total reading is in fact equivalent to a comprehension subtest, the score could be used for advanced skills measurement.

Q30. Some nationally normed tests have mathematics subtests entitled "concepts and applications" that assess students' understanding of concepts and their abilities to apply concepts to solve problems. Other tests have separate subtests for concepts and problem-solving. May SEAs allow any of these subtests as measures of advanced skills in mathematics?

A. Section 200.80(a)(2)(i)(B) of the regulations specifies the use of the "problems and applications" or equivalent score of a nationally normed mathematics test as the measure of advanced skills in mathematics. Whether a particular subtest meets this requirement depends on the actual content of the test, and not the name given to it by the publisher. To qualify, the test must measure application of mathematical concepts. Tests that primarily measure computational skills or knowledge of definitions would not qualify.

Q31. For some nationally normed mathematics tests there is more than one "problems and applications" score. In such cases should the LEA use multiple scores, combined scores, or choose a single score to assess more advanced skills in mathematics?

A. A single score must be chosen. Any subtest that is equivalent to a problem-solving and applications subtest may be used to measure advanced skills in mathematics. When it appears that more than one subtest could be used to measure more advanced skills in mathematics, the objectives measured by each subtest should be examined to determine which is the best measure of applications or problem-solving. Whatever subtest is used, it must be possible to convert student performance on the subtest to the common reporting scale (currently NCEs) at the local or State level.

Q32. Which language arts tests or subtests are appropriate for measuring more advanced skills?

A. No particular subtests within language arts achievement tests have been specified by the Act or regulations as measures of more advanced skills. Determination of the best measure of advanced and basic skills for a particular language arts program is left to the LEA.

Recognizing the difficulty of locating valid language arts tests in areas other than reading, the regulations permit reading tests to be used to assess both basic and advanced skills achievement in a language arts program. In that case, the appropriate test for assessing advanced skills in a language arts program would be the reading comprehension or equivalent subtest of the reading test.

Q33. If a Chapter 1 program is using a language arts test (other than reading) to measure basic skills performance, must the program also report some measure of advanced skills for aggregate performance requirements?

A. No. When it has been determined that the best measure of the Chapter 1 program is a language arts test, there is no requirement for reporting an advanced skills score for aggregate performance. However, an LEA must include more advanced skills in language arts among its desired outcomes. It may wish to assess these by other means such as holistic scoring of writing samples.

Q34. Many advanced skills are not measured at all, or well, by NRTs. Are there alternatives for assessment?

A. Currently, the national evaluation standards specify minimum requirements for measuring advanced skills in reading and mathematics in order to facilitate the national aggregation of the impact of Chapter 1 programs in these areas. The intent is to develop a broad national picture of Chapter 1 students' performance in skills beyond the basics. LEAs are encouraged to consider other valid measures for assessing student performance in advanced skills. However, results from these other measures cannot be substituted for reporting purposes for the measures of advanced skills in reading and mathematics required in the national standards.

Norm-referenced achievement test results are only part of the evaluation of a Chapter 1 program. Local Chapter 1 programs are encouraged to use additional measures of advanced skills that are related to the instructional focus and are expressed as desired outcomes.

Local Evaluations--Annual Testing Cycles

Q35. Must LEAs use an annual testing cycle for evaluation of Chapter 1 student achievement?

A. Yes. For the purpose of reporting aggregate performance to the SEA, an LEA must evaluate student achievement by measuring achievement over a period of approximately 12 months. LEAs may use either a spring-to-spring or a fall-to-fall testing interval.

If an LEA measured student achievement on a fall-spring interval in school year 1988-89, it may continue to do so for one additional year if the SEA determines that implementing an annual testing cycle in that LEA would be a substantial hardship.

Q36. If, in implementing an annual testing cycle, the same level of the test is not appropriate for the grade level at post-test time, what should an LEA do?
A. LEAs should administer the test level that most closely matches the curriculum at each grade level, and that is appropriate for the valid measurement of achievement levels of Chapter 1 students.

Q37. If an LEA intends to implement an annual testing cycle but wants to test in February using mid-year norms, may these results be reported for Chapter 1 evaluation purposes?

A. No. A winter-winter testing schedule effectively evaluates only the second half of one year's Chapter 1 program and the first half of next year's program. Chapter 1 programs must be evaluated over a program year.

Q38. If an LEA is using a spring-spring testing schedule for Chapter 1 testing, must students who enter the Chapter 1 program in the fall without a spring pre-test be tested in the fall for evaluation purposes?

A. No. Ordinarily, no pre-test score would be available for such a student, and that student's achievement would not be included in the LEA's Chapter 1 evaluation. However, if the student participated in a statewide testing program, or was tested the previous spring in another school within the LEA, or in another LEA, that score can be used as a pre-test if it was obtained from the same test and edition used in the Chapter 1 evaluation.

If the proportion of new fall Chapter 1 students without spring pre-tests is large, the LEA should consider a fall-fall testing cycle for them and report both spring-spring and fall-fall testing results.

Local Evaluations—Sustained Effects Studies

Q39. What are the basic requirements for LEAs conducting a sustained effects study?

A. The basic requirements of a sustained effects study include:

- Determination if the effect of the Chapter 1 program has been sustained over more than one program year;
- Assessment of the performance of the same students over two consecutive 12-month periods;
- Use of either a spring-spring-spring or a fall-fall-fall testing interval; and
- Use by the LEA in reviewing plans for improving the program.

Q40. How often must an LEA conduct a sustained effects study and what is the minimum time period for such studies?

A. At least once during each three-year evaluation cycle an LEA must collect information to determine whether student achievement gains are sustained over a period of more than 12 months. To make this determination, an LEA must assess performance of the same Chapter 1 children.
for at least two consecutive 12-month periods, provided these children continue to be enrolled in schools in the LEA.

Q41. What testing cycles are appropriate to enable an LEA to meet the sustained effects study requirement?
A. Either a spring-spring-spring testing interval or a fall-fall-fall testing interval is appropriate.

Q42. What does sustained effect mean?
A. Sustained effect means that the level of performance that was attained at the time of the post-testing has not declined when measured at the third data point. Whether a decline has occurred is determined by comparing the level of performance of the students on the post-test with the level of their performance at the third data point.

Q43. Is the LEA required to report sustained effects information?
A. No. Unless requested by the SEA, the LEA is not required to report the results.

Q44. Are any Chapter 1 students excluded from the sustained effects requirements?
A. Yes. Section 1019(c) of Chapter 1 exempts preschool, kindergarten, and first grade students from being included in sustained effects studies.

Q45. Must an LEA measure the sustained effects of support services?
A. No. Sustained effects studies are only required for instructional services.

Q46. Must sustained effects studies be done for each subject (reading, mathematics, language arts) addressed in a Chapter 1 program and for every grade level?
A. No. In the Joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference, pg. 324, the conferees state that in implementing the sustained gains requirement, "local educational agencies may use a sampling procedure or carefully designed study to meet the sustained gains requirement rather than trying to track all children served at all grade levels in all subject areas for a period of three years."

An LEA should construct a carefully designed sustained effects study capable of answering important questions about the effectiveness of the program over time.

If an LEA elects to use a sampling procedure as part of its sustained effects study, the sample should be representative of students, grades, and subject areas that are the focus of the sustained effects study.

Q47. Is norm-referenced achievement testing the only acceptable means for determining whether improved performance of students is sustained for more than one year?
A. No. However, the method used to measure sustained improved student performance should match the method used to measure improved performance in the Chapter 1 program. The national standards require the use of NCEs based on nationally normed achievement tests (or equated tests) in measuring improved performance in basic and advanced skills in reading, mathematics, or language arts in grades 2-12. Consequently, measuring sustained effects will generally be based on this type of testing since data will already be available.

Q48. Must the LEA track students who have left the Chapter 1 program in order to meet the sustained effects requirement?

A. Yes. If the students are still attending school within the LEA, then reasonable efforts should be made to include them in the sustained effects study. In order to assess the impact of Chapter 1, it is necessary to include the performance of students who have left the program. Therefore, Chapter 1 funds may be used by the LEA to test children no longer receiving Chapter 1 services to determine whether achievement gains are sustained over a period of more than 12 months.

Q49. Must an LEA use the same methodology for the sustained effects studies for different projects or components?

A. No. Since the purpose of sustained effects studies is determining program effectiveness and providing information for making modifications to increase the impact of Chapter 1, LEAs may design different studies for individual projects and components.

Q50. If a Chapter 1 project fails to show a positive effect in a particular grade and subject area as a result of its program evaluation, must it still implement a sustained effects study in that grade and subject area?

A. No. The purpose of the sustained effects study is to determine whether or not improved performance has been sustained over time. However, using those program evaluation results to modify the program, as necessary, would be appropriate.

Q51. Must sustained effects study results be used to inform program improvement decisions?

A. Yes. LEAs must use the results of the Chapter 1 evaluation, including sustained effects studies, in designing modifications to improve the program.

Q52. May a sustained effects study be used to meet the requirements for evaluating student progress in the regular program?

A. No. While it may be possible for a well-designed sustained effects study to contribute to the review of the progress of a Chapter 1 student in the regular program, it probably would not provide sufficient information. For example, a student may demonstrate positive yearly gains in Chapter 1 that are sustained over time, but the student may be making minimal progress in the regular program utilizing other important criteria of performance.
Q53. What impact will a change in the measurement instrument have on an LEA’s sustained effects data when the change occurs within the testing year of the third data point?

A. If the pre- and post-test results cannot be equated to the new measurement instrument used for the third data point, caution should be used when interpreting whether gains have been sustained. Any change in NCE averages may be due to the change in instruments and/or their norms.

If the measurement instrument used for the third data point is different from that used for the pre- and post-test, there are essentially three ways to handle the situation: (1) use appropriate equating results to estimate scores on the sustained effects test; (2) administer both tests at the time of the post-test; or (3) advise caution in interpreting the gains/losses between the post-test and the sustained effects test. The Chapter 1 program should anticipate changes in tests so that choices can be planned. The third choice should be avoided whenever possible.

Q54. Does the local annual review discussed in §200.38(a) of the regulations require an LEA to conduct a sustained effects study each year and must the study be done for each school rather than for the project or total program?

A. No. The determination of sustained improved performance in §200.38(a)(2) refers to improved performance of any school implementing a joint program improvement plan. The LEA must annually review the performance of schools implementing joint improvement plans until improved performance is sustained over a period of more than 12 months.

This requirement is not the same as the requirement for sustained effects studies discussed in §200.35(a)(2)(i). The confusion arises from the use of similar language, i.e., sustained improved performance.

Local Evaluations—Performance in the Regular School Program

The regulations require that LEAs review Chapter 1 students' performance in the regular school program at least once every three years (§200.35(a)(1)(ii)).

The requirement is based on the concern that the gains reflected by achievement testing in Chapter 1 may not translate into improved performance in regular classrooms. Conversely, progress in the regular program may not be reflected by achievement testing conducted for the Chapter 1 program.

Q55. What is the regular program?

A. The "regular program" is that program defined by the educational goals and objectives to be attained by students at a certain grade level and in a given subject area. This program could be defined at the school, the district, or the State level. In practice, this can mean the educational program provided to those students who are not receiving services for special populations such as ESL, handicapped, gifted, or Chapter 1. The definition of regular program is left to State and local officials to determine.

Q56. What are the basic requirements for LEAs assessing progress in the regular school program?

A. To meet its program evaluation obligations, an LEA must:
   - Conduct a review of Chapter 1 students' progress in the regular school program at least once every three years;
   - Determine through the review whether the ultimate purpose of Chapter 1—success in the regular program of the LEA—is being achieved; and
   - Include that information in the evaluation results reported to the SEA at least once every three years.

Q57. What measures or indicators may be included in the review of student progress in the regular program?

A. Ideally the measures or indicators chosen will be those typically used by an LEA to define major benchmarks of academic progress and success in school. The areas covered by the assessment should reflect the shared goals and objectives between the regular program and Chapter 1. There should be a similarity of content taught, skills developed, and level of difficulty.

   The assessment may include additional testing in other subject areas that are related to the instructional objectives of the Chapter 1 program, but such testing is not required. The measures chosen will be those typically used by an LEA to indicate major benchmarks of academic progress.

Q58. How many measures or indicators should be included in the assessment?

A. There is no minimum number of measures or indicators required by the regulations. However, LEAs are encouraged to use more than one.

   There are several advantages to using multiple measures or indicators of success in the regular program. The use of multiple measures can provide more reliable and more objective results, a more comprehensive picture of students’ academic performance and progress, and more information to use in identifying strengths and weaknesses of both the regular program and Chapter 1 in serving these children.

Q59. Must LEAs use achievement test data to assess progress in the regular school program?

A. No. There is no Federal requirement that LEAs examine achievement test data when assessing or reviewing Chapter 1 student performance in the regular program. An SEA may, however, require its LEAs to collect such information.

Because the Secretary has emphasized determining through this requirement whether the purpose of Chapter 1 is being achieved, the use of some type of achievement data would be useful. Data could take the form of additional standardized testing, test results from district or State administered testing programs, end-of-chapter or textbook tests, or criterion-referenced skills tests or checklists.

The determination of information to be collected and the method are left to State and local officials.

Q60. May LEAs use sampling procedures to assess Chapter 1 students' performance in the regular school program?

A. Determination of how to conduct the review of progress in the regular school program is left to State and local officials. Sampling procedures, if used, should result in a sample that is representative of the Chapter 1 students served.

Q61. Is the review of children's progress in the regular school program for LEA use only? If not, are results reported to the SEA?

A. It is assumed that the LEA will use information from the review of Chapter 1 children's progress in the regular program to make adjustments in the Chapter 1 program and, as appropriate, in the regular program of the LEA to better meet the needs of Chapter 1 students. Evaluation information from the review of Chapter 1 children's performance in the regular program must also be included in the LEA evaluation report submitted to the SEA at least once every three years. The SEA has the option of requesting LEA evaluation information more frequently.

How information will be collected and the form it will take in the report are decisions left to State and local officials to determine. There is no requirement that this information be aggregatable.

Local Evaluations--LEA Reporting Requirements

LEAs are required to report two different types of data concerning their Chapter 1 programs to the SEA. The first type is the information required by the SEA to complete its Annual Performance Report. LEAs must report this information annually to the SEA. The second type is the results of the LEA's evaluation of the effectiveness of its Chapter 1 program. This information must be reported to the SEA at least once every three years, or more frequently if requested by the SEA. The accuracy, quality, and completeness of the information and data collected and submitted provide Congress and the general public a picture of how well Chapter 1 is performing.

Q62. What information must be included in the data reported for the SEA's Annual Performance Report?
A. The Annual Performance Report prepared by the SEA must contain data specified in section 1019 of the Act, by the Secretary, and by the SEA. It is the SEA's responsibility to inform the LEA of the specific data that are required. The information required may change from year to year depending on the needs of the SEA or the Secretary.

Q63. What is meant by "children with handicapping conditions" as stated in section 1019 of Chapter 1 under the SEA's data collection requirement and again in §200.35(c)(1) of the regulations?

A. Chapter 1 programs are required to report the number of children with handicapping conditions who are receiving Chapter 1 services. For these reporting purposes, children with handicapping conditions may be defined as those who have an Individualized Education Program (IEP) as required by P.L. 94-142.

Q64. May an SEA or LEA use a sampling procedure for obtaining and reporting information on participation counts and other demographic data for the Annual Performance Report?

A. No. Such information must be reported for all Chapter 1 students annually.

Q65. Is there a minimum period of time for which students must have been served to be included in the participation counts and other demographic data for the Annual Performance Report?

A. No. A Chapter 1 participant is a student who received any amount of Chapter 1-funded instruction.

Q66. Must an SEA report LEA evaluation data each year in conjunction with the Annual Performance Report?

A. No. An SEA must submit evaluation data at least every two years. However, those SEAs that collect achievement data annually are encouraged to submit evaluation data to the Secretary every year. This will permit the Department to provide in its Annual Report to the Congress a complete picture of Chapter 1 nationally as possible.

Q67. What evaluation data must the LEA report to the SEA?

A. The evaluation data reported by the LEA to the SEA must include information about the--

- Aggregate achievement of students by grade (2-12) and content area (reading, mathematics, and language arts) in both basic and advanced skills, for the LEA as a whole;

- Attainment of desired outcomes stated in the LEA's application; and Review of Chapter 1 children's progress in the regular school program.

The SEA may also require the LEA to report the results of sustained effects studies.

Preschool, kindergarten, and first grade programs are exempt from collecting aggregate achievement data but not from reporting evaluation information based on other measures.

Q68. How often does an LEA have to report its Chapter 1 evaluation results to the SEA?

A. Evaluation results are reported to the SEA at least once during each three-year application cycle or more frequently if required by the SEA. The results of sustained effects studies do not have to be reported unless required by the SEA.

Q69. Specifically, how should an LEA report student achievement results to the SEA?

A. In reporting aggregate student achievement, an LEA must use the current common reporting scale required by the Secretary, which is the NCE. If an LEA is given permission by the SEA, it may report in another metric unit such as percentile or standardized scores as long as it provides the SEA with enough information to allow conversion of results to NCEs.

Local Evaluations--Technical Standards

Four technical standards are provided in the Chapter 1 regulations as part of the national evaluation standards (§200.81). The standards are required only for the evaluation of the achievement of students in grades 2-12 receiving services in reading, mathematics, or language arts. However, they are technically relevant to the evaluation of all Chapter 1 programs and services.

Q70. What are the technical standards for evaluating student achievement?

A. Evaluations of student achievement under the national standards must meet the following four technical standards:

- Evaluation findings must be representative of all students served.
- Evaluation instruments and procedures must be reliable and valid.
- Achievement gains must be assessed in a valid manner.
- Errors in evaluation procedures must be minimized through quality control mechanisms.
Q71. How does an LEA ensure that its evaluation findings are representative of all students served?

A. Evaluation findings will be representative if evaluation data are obtained for all students served or for a representative sample of students served. Sampling students for evaluation requires a carefully designed and implemented sampling plan that conforms to generally recognized standards for research and evaluation.

Q72. What constitutes a representative sample of students for use in local Chapter 1 evaluations?

A. A sample must represent all of the students served by the Chapter 1 program in terms of their grade levels, schools, instructional services received, supportive services received, and any other known characteristic that might influence the impact of the Chapter 1 program on the students' achievement of basic and more advanced skills. The sample must be drawn in a probabilistic manner so that every student has a known non-zero chance of being included and be large enough to guarantee that results are generalizable to the entire population. Although there are many sampling procedures that can achieve this, they all require time and resources. In most cases, it will be simpler to include all students served, especially since the student program improvement requirements necessitate assessment of all Chapter 1 students.

Q73. If an LEA has high levels of mobility or turnover within the Chapter 1 program such that many students stop receiving services during the school year, must the LEA obtain post-test data for these students?

A. Yes. The LEA must track the performance of Chapter 1 participants who stop receiving services during the school year, except for students who have been transferred to another LEA.

Q74. If an LEA is using a fall-fall schedule for Chapter 1 testing and a student served in one year transfers to another school in the LEA over the summer, must that student be tested by Chapter 1 in the fall?

A. Yes. So long as the student has transferred to a school in the LEA, the student must be post-tested for Chapter 1 evaluation.

Q75. If an LEA is using a spring-spring schedule for Chapter 1 testing, must students who enter the Chapter 1 program in the fall without a spring pre-test be tested in the fall?

A. No. Ordinarily, no pre-test score would be available for such a student and that student's achievement data would not be included in the LEA's Chapter 1 evaluation. However, if the student was tested the previous spring in another school within the LEA or in another LEA, that score could be used as a pre-test if it was obtained from the same test and edition used in the Chapter 1 evaluation. If the proportion of such students is large, the LEA should consider a fall-fall testing cycle for them and report both spring-spring and fall-fall testing results.
Although not required for evaluation purposes, LEAs should still assess students who enter in fall for instructional purposes.

Q76. Must an LEA report evaluation results if the number of students with pre- and post-test scores is small in comparison to the total number of students who received Chapter 1 services?

A. Yes. It is the LEA's responsibility to report the achievement of all students in grades 2-12 who have pre- and post-test scores in the areas of reading, mathematics, or language arts.

Q77. Since we will never have scores on all children, on what proportion of children participating in Chapter 1 should an LEA expect to have matched test scores?

A. Ideally, the LEA will have test scores on all Chapter 1 children who were attending school in the LEA at both testing points, since such data are already required under student program improvement. If the number of matched scores is small relative to the number of students served, this is an indication that a serious problem exists. The LEA should immediately implement techniques for maximizing the number of students tested at both times, e.g., give make-up tests, make available testing data more accessible to Chapter 1 staff, carefully review student record folders, track students who transfer among LEA schools, and use computer database software to facilitate good recordkeeping practices. With thorough testing and follow-up practices, obtaining matched scores on virtually all students attending schools in the district at both test points is a realistic goal.

Q78. What is test validity and what is the most important type of validity an LEA should be concerned about when selecting tests for Chapter 1 purposes?

A. The validity of a test is the extent to which it measures what it is intended to measure. The most important type of validity in selecting a test for Chapter 1 evaluation is the degree of correspondence between the curriculum or instructional content of the Chapter 1 program and the content of the test.

Q79. May student writing samples be used as evidence of achievement in the evaluation of a Chapter 1 language arts program?

A. Yes. If an assessment of writing matches the objectives of the Chapter 1 language arts program and the assessment methodology yields aggregatable scores for grades 2-12 according to the national standards, then the use of student writing samples is appropriate as a measure of achievement.

If the scores are not aggregatable, they may still be used to assess student performance on other desired outcomes of the program.
Q80. How does an LEA determine the reliability of a test for Chapter 1 evaluation?

A. The test publisher's reliability estimates for all subtest and total test scores can generally be found in the technical manual for the test.

Q81. What procedures must an LEA follow in order to make a valid assessment of Chapter 1 student achievement gains?

A. For Chapter 1 programs providing instructional services in reading, mathematics, or language arts in grades 2-12 during the regular school year, the LEA must:

- Administer a pre-test and post-test separated by approximately 12 months on a spring-spring or fall-fall basis.
- Use nationally representative norms to estimate post-test achievement expected in the absence of Chapter 1 services.
- Calculate the difference between the actual post-test achievement of the Chapter 1 students and the achievement expected in the absence of the program using the common reporting scale.

An SEA may assume the responsibility of using nationally representative norms to calculate achievement gains and express them in the common reporting scale. In such instances, the LEA must provide the SEA with the achievement data required.

Alternative evaluation procedures may be used if the LEA obtains the approval of the SEA and the Secretary prior to their use.

Q82. What alternative evaluation procedures does the Department have available from which LEAs may choose?

A. None. The Department believes that the procedures required in the national evaluation standards are the best currently available that will meet the data aggregation and other requirements of the Act. The provision for alternative standards is included to provide a means for approving other new or innovative procedures that SEAs or LEAs might propose that can meet these requirements.

Q83. What are the requirements of alternative procedures for making a valid assessment of achievement gains that must be met before they can be approved by the SEA and the Secretary?

A. Alternative procedures must yield a valid and reliable measure of achievement after receiving services for reading, mathematics, or language arts and an estimate of achievement expected in the absence of those services. Such procedures must also provide results that can be expressed in the common reporting scale.
Q84. What evaluation practices should an LEA follow to ensure the validity of the assessment of achievement gains?

A. An LEA should--

- Use the same achievement test battery and edition and the same or equivalent subtest for pre- and post-testing;
- Use the same edition of national norms for converting pre- and post-test results to the common reporting scale;
- Use the most recent or previous edition of the achievement test;
- Administer the test at the same time of year that the publisher's norming group was tested;
- Administer the level of the test that is most appropriate for the functional level of the students; and
- Correct for the regression effect if students are selected for the program solely on the basis of their pre-test scores.

Q85. May a subtest score be used for the pre-test and the total test score of the same test be used for the post-test?

A. No. This would yield a meaningless result.

Q86. May an LEA use entirely different but equated tests for the pre-test and the post-test?

A. Yes. Some publishers have equated two different nationally normed tests. Publishers also typically equate consecutive editions of the same test. If the Chapter 1 program must switch to a new test or a new edition of the same test that is equated to the old test, student pre-test scores on the old test (or edition) should be converted to equivalent scores on the new test (or edition) so that the pre-test and post-test results are on the same scale. Publishers typically distribute special tables for making these conversions.

The norms for the new test (or edition) should be used to obtain both pre- and post-test NCEs.

With annual testing schedules, both sets of norms will be used for the pre-test because it is also the post-test for the previous year. The old norms should be used to obtain post-test NCEs for the previous year.

Q87. May an LEA use entirely different and unequated tests for the pre-test and the post-test?

A. No. If the Chapter 1 program must switch to an entirely different test and the new test is not equated to the old, the LEA should consider a sampling strategy that would provide evaluations and avoid or minimize double-testing. If Chapter 1 students may take either the new or the old test, the LEA should consider administering the old test to half of the students (randomly determined) and the new test to the other half. The performance on the old test would serve to estimate post-test scores; the performance on the new test would estimate pre-test scores for the next year’s evaluation. If all Chapter 1 students must take the new test, the LEA should consider double-testing a representative random sample of students with the new and old tests. The scores of the sample on the old test would be used to estimate the average post-test scores for all Chapter 1 students.

Q88. If a publisher develops new norms for its test between the LEA’s administration of the Chapter 1 pre-test and post-test, which set of norms should be used to obtain pre- and post-test NCEs?

A. The most recent norms should be used for both the pre-test and the post-test. With annual testing schedules, both sets of norms will be used for the pre-test because it is also the post-test for the previous year. The old norms should be used to obtain post-test NCEs for the previous year.

Q89. How close to the test publisher’s norming dates should an LEA administer the Chapter 1 pre-test/post-test?

A. Testing of a norming sample by the publisher usually extends over several weeks. The midpoint of this period is used to determine appropriate testing times. Chapter 1 testing should be done within a two-week period on either side of the midpoint of the publisher’s norming period. Tests can be administered as much as six weeks on either side of this midpoint so long as norms are created for the actual testing time by interpolating or extrapolating from the publisher’s norms tables.

Make-up tests for students who missed the original testing session should be completed within two weeks of the original testing date.

An explanation of how to interpolate or extrapolate can be provided by your Chapter 1 Technical Assistance Center (TAC) or Rural Technical Assistance Center (R-TAC).

Q90. An LEA wants to test once a year in February using mid-year norms. May these results be used for Chapter 1 evaluation?

A. No. A winter-winter testing schedule effectively evaluates only the second half of one year’s Chapter 1 program and the first half of the next year’s program. Chapter 1 programs must be evaluated over a program year.

Q91. Is out-of-level testing permissible?

A. Yes. Out-of-level (or functional level) testing is testing a child or group of children at their current functioning level. Functional level testing is strongly encouraged, whether in-level or out-of-level. An LEA should consult the SEA regarding State policy concerning the reporting of out-of-level testing results.

Q92. If test scores used for selecting Chapter 1 students are also used for pre-test/post-test scores, must adjustments for regression be made?

A. If Chapter 1 students are selected only on pre-test scores, a significant amount of regression to the mean will take place and the LEA must correct achievement gains for the regression effect.

(For example, regression to the mean in Chapter 1 occurs when a group of students is systematically selected from a larger group only on the basis of low pre-test scores on a particular instrument; when post-tested on the same instrument this group's average score will automatically increase (regress to the mean) without any intervention (instruction) having taken place. In order to adjust for this apparent, but non-Chapter 1 related "improvement," the post-test score must be modified to remove the artificial gain due to the regression effect.)

If the pre-test scores were combined with other measures (such as teacher judgment, letter grades, other test scores) to select students, a lesser and perhaps negligible amount of regression will take place, and correcting for the regression effect is not required. However, LEAs should be aware that if the combined measures are themselves highly correlated and together still systematically select only those students with the lowest pre-test scores, adjustment for regression is again necessary.

Assistance concerning when and how to adjust for regression is available from your Chapter 1 TAC or R-TAC.

Q93. How is the correction for the regression effect calculated?

A. While the required calculations are not complex, they are too detailed for inclusion here. Generally speaking, the formula used to calculate the correction employs information about the test score distributions for Chapter 1 students and for the total group of Chapter 1 and non-Chapter 1 students (the mean and variance), and about the relationship between pre-test and post-test scores for the total group (the pre-test-post-test correlation). In some cases this information may be difficult to obtain, but in such instances it may be possible to employ reasonable estimates to determine the needed correction. Your Chapter 1 TAC or R-TAC will be able to provide consultation and guidance concerning the best way to calculate the regression effect correction.

Q94. What kinds of errors in evaluation procedures should an LEA be concerned with and what are some of the quality control mechanisms that can be used to minimize these errors?

A. Errors in Chapter 1 evaluation typically occur in the following areas:

   o Scoring and editing.
Converting scores.

Data entry or transcription.

Computation.

The mechanisms that can be employed to minimize such errors include the following:

- Repeating procedures on a random sample of scores or calculations.
- Employing tools, such as calculators and computers to perform repetitive or complex tasks.
- Hiring personnel with appropriate technical expertise.
- Establishing checks for consistency and accuracy in evaluation results.
- Providing training and/or tutorial materials for staff.

Q95. On how many of its students should a Chapter 1 project collect test scores?

A. It is the LEA's responsibility to obtain pre- and post-test scores on all students who receive Chapter 1 services for a substantial portion of the project year (or on all those identified in a sampling plan if one is being used). This requirement may mean locating individual student records within district test files, arranging for make-up testing if students have been absent, or obtaining scores from other buildings within the LEA if a student has transferred. Automated databases should be considered to facilitate recordkeeping. Some software for such databases is available free of cost through the Chapter 1 TACs.

Q96. Under what circumstances may a student's test score be judged invalid and therefore not be included in the evaluation?

A. Scores may be excluded from the evaluation only for the following reasons:

- The score has specifically been identified by the test publisher or independent scoring service, through its edit procedures, as being invalid.
- The score resulted from documented problems or irregularities in test administration.

In either case, the number and specific reasons for such exclusions must be included in the local evaluation report which is to be made public.
All Chapter 1 programs must be evaluated to determine their effectiveness. The Act and regulations, however, provide special consideration for several types of Chapter 1 programs regarding aggregate performance information. Section 1019(c) of Chapter 1 exempts preschool, kindergarten, and first grade Chapter 1 students from the requirement of collecting aggregate achievement information using the national standards and from conducting sustained effects studies. Exemptions are further described in §§200.35(a)(1)(i)(B) and 200.80(a)(1)(i)(A) of the regulations.

Section 200.80(a)(1)(i)(A) of the regulations also exempts Chapter 1 projects specifically designed to teach English to limited English speaking children from collecting aggregate achievement information following the national standards.

Schoolwide Chapter 1 projects are not exempt from collecting aggregate achievement data following the national standards. They are discussed in this portion of the Policy Manual because the continuation of schoolwide projects requires the use of evaluation information. The regulations address schoolwide accountability requirements in §200.36(f).

Q97. Are there different evaluation requirements for special Chapter 1 projects or projects serving special students?

A. Yes. There are some variations in evaluation requirements for projects serving preschool, kindergarten, and first grade students; students with LEP; and students enrolled in schoolwide projects. Special requirements for projects serving those students are discussed below.

Preschool, Kindergarten, First Grade Projects and Students

Q98. How do evaluation requirements for early childhood projects and students differ from basic requirements?

A. Early childhood projects are required to--

- Evaluate the effectiveness of the program;
- Evaluate at least once every three years (or more frequently if required to do so by the SEA) and report results to the SEA; and
- Conduct a local annual review of program effectiveness in improving student performance in the form of progress toward meeting desired outcomes.

Early childhood programs are not required to do the following--

- Report aggregatable achievement data.
- Use NRTs to report achievement.
Conduct sustained effects studies.

Use fall-fall or spring-spring evaluation cycles.

Q99. Are preschool, kindergarten, and first grade programs prohibited from using norm-referenced achievement tests?

A. No. Although the statute clearly exempts programs at these grade levels from the norm-referenced testing requirements, such testing is not prohibited. However, Chapter 1 programs serving children in these grades should examine carefully the appropriateness of any test for assessing the objectives of the program and the children served. Norm-referenced tests may not be appropriate for validly and reliably assessing the performance of young children; such tests should never be used as the sole measure for decisionmaking.

Q100. In the local annual review process how will progress be measured for preschool, kindergarten, and first grade Chapter 1 programs?

A. The only consistent basis for assessing effectiveness, as part of the local annual review process, is use of the desired outcomes included in the project application, because preschool, kindergarten, and first grade programs are excluded from the aggregate performance requirement.

Progress on desired outcomes may be measured by a variety of indicators such as improved student performance measured by CRTs, improved attendance, and fewer retentions in grade. Progress on desired outcomes can be measured with a variety of instruments and procedures such as developmental checklists, criterion- or norm-referenced tests (as appropriate), observational scales, teacher ratings, skills mastery checklists, attendance, and retention records.

Q101. May Chapter 1 children in preschool, kindergarten, and first grade be included in the aggregate performance data considered by the LEA as part of the local annual review?

A. No. LEAs may not include data from children at these grade levels in aggregations because such data may be unreliable and could lead to distorted overall results. The evaluation of the progress of these students should be reviewed separately from grades 2-12 results. The local annual review should be based on progress toward meeting the early childhood program's desired outcomes.

Q102. How does the LEA review aggregate scores in a K-2 program? If only second grade has test scores and does not show progress, must the LEA develop a program improvement plan for the entire school?

A. Regardless of how performance is assessed in kindergarten and first grade, failure to show an NCE gain greater than zero in second grade would initiate program improvement requirements, since the second grade scores constitute the entire aggregate performance measure in this case. If, under these circumstances, credible evidence showed that the program... was successful in kindergarten and first grade, the program improvement plan would obviously focus on the second grade component.

Limited English Proficient Students

Q103. Must LEAs evaluate basic Chapter 1 reading, mathematics, and language arts programs that serve LEP students?

A. Basic programs with some LEP students must follow all the regular evaluation requirements, including reporting aggregated performance data.

Q104. How may an LEA evaluate the performance of LEP children in Chapter 1 projects?

A. If the students were selected for participation on the basis of test scores on a nationally normed (or equated) test, the students' pre-test and post-test scores should be included in the aggregate performance measure. If students were selected on other measures, then evaluation should be based on desired outcomes.

Students in Schoolwide Projects

LEAs operating schoolwide projects must conduct evaluations and local annual reviews in the same manner as other projects. In addition, there are special accountability standards for schoolwide projects that must be met in order to continue the projects. The accountability requirements can be fulfilled using information collected for evaluations and annual reviews. The Act and regulations stress that achievement data must be collected annually for each school participating in a schoolwide project.

Q105. What are the accountability standards that apply to schoolwide projects?

A. In order for a school to continue as a schoolwide project, the LEA must demonstrate that after three years the achievement gains of educationally deprived children in the schoolwide project exceed the average gains of comparable Chapter 1 students in the LEA as a whole, or comparable Chapter 1 students in the same school for the three years prior to the implementation of the schoolwide project.

These standards are in addition to, and not in place of, the program improvement requirements applicable to all Chapter 1 projects.

Q106. Do the same accountability standards apply to secondary schools?

A. No. For a secondary school, if achievement levels do not decline when compared to achievement levels of comparable Chapter 1 students in the LEA as a whole, or comparable students in the same school for the previous three-year period, the schoolwide project may continue if the school also demonstrates lower dropout rates, increased retention rates, or increased graduation rates. It is not required that achievement gains exceed previous achievement gains in order to continue a secondary schoolwide project.

Q107. Must all students in a schoolwide Chapter 1 project be included in the evaluation of that project?

A. No. Only the performance results of the educationally deprived children who were counted for funding level determinations for the schoolwide project are included. The local annual review should also be based on this group of students.

Q108. For making the accountability comparison to continue schoolwide projects, which students constitute the comparable group?

A. The comparable group consists of either:

- All Chapter 1 students served in the rest of the LEA in the same grades served by the schoolwide project school, or

- All Chapter 1 students served in the schoolwide project school during the three years prior to the schoolwide project.

For example, if accountability comparisons are made with Chapter 1 students served in the rest of the LEA and these students were all in grades 3 through 6, then all students in the schoolwide project in grades 3 through 6 who meet the selection criteria for Chapter 1 in the LEA would be included in the accountability comparison.
State Evaluation and Reporting Requirements

Like the LEA, the SEA has a responsibility for evaluating the effectiveness of its Chapter 1 programs. The SEA is required to submit to the Secretary an Annual Performance Report that summarizes the information provided to it by its LEAs. In addition, the SEA must, at least every two years, prepare and submit to the Secretary, following national standards, aggregated achievement data received from LEAs.

Q1. What are the basic State evaluation requirements for Chapter 1?

A. To meet its Chapter 1 evaluation requirements, an SEA must do the following:
   - Conduct evaluations at least every two years.
   - Base its evaluation on local evaluation data of Chapter 1 programs.
   - Inform LEAs in advance about the evaluation data needed and how they will be collected.
   - Submit the results of its evaluation to the Secretary.
   - Make public the results of the evaluation.

Q2. What reports must an SEA submit to the Secretary?

A. An SEA must submit an Annual Performance Report that contains specific demographic data (e.g., race, age, gender, number of children with handicapping conditions) for children participating in Chapter 1 programs in the State.

An SEA must submit aggregated achievement data received from its LEAs to the Secretary at least every two years. Some SEAs collect aggregated achievement data annually from their LEAs. In these cases, the SEA is encouraged to submit those data to the Secretary annually.

Q3. What is the common reporting scale established by the Secretary for SEA evaluation reports?

A. The common reporting scale established by the Secretary is currently the NCE.

Q4. May an SEA exclude an LEA's out-of-level test results from the report to the Secretary?

A. No. Since out-of-level testing is generally employed to improve the validity of test scores, there is no valid reason for excluding these results.
Q5. May a State implement a sampling plan for collecting and reporting evaluation information from its LEAs for aggregated achievement data to be reported to the Secretary?

A. Yes. An SEA may use a sampling plan in its evaluation of Chapter 1 programs. The proposed sampling plan must be submitted to the Secretary for approval, prior to being implemented. The sampling plan must be designed to ensure that reliable and representative data for the LEAs in the State will be provided in any school year.

Q6. How often must the SEA's sampling plan be reviewed?

A. The sampling plan must be reviewed at least once every three years to ensure that it is providing reliable and representative data.

Q7. What should an SEA do if changes in its sampling plan become necessary?

A. If the sampling plan requires changes, the SEA must submit the new plan to the Secretary for approval prior to implementation.

Q8. Is guidance available for SEAs desiring to develop a sampling plan for collecting and reporting evaluation information from its LEAs?

A. Yes. A document entitled "Guidance for Developing a Plan to Sample Local Chapter 1 Programs for State Chapter 1 Evaluations" provides detailed guidance in this area and is available from the office of Compensatory Education Programs, U.S. Department of Education.
PROGRAM IMPROVEMENT

Statutory Requirements

Sections 1012(b), 1020, and 1021 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.6, 200.20, 200.37-200.38, and 200.80-200.89

Introduction

Program improvement requirements are divided into two areas--school program improvement and student program improvement--and include activities by both LEAs and SEAs. Basically, an LEA must (1) establish desired outcomes in its application and define substantial progress toward meeting those outcomes; (2) make certain decisions regarding aggregate performance; and (3) review annually its Chapter 1 program to determine if it has succeeded in raising achievement levels of students, aggregated by school, and is making substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes, in terms of basic and more advanced skills all children are expected to master, that the LEA has included in its application. In the case of school improvement, if the review shows that, in the aggregate, Chapter 1 participants in a school have not met either or both of the two criteria, the LEA must develop a plan to improve the Chapter 1 program. If after this plan is in operation for a full school year, the school still is unable to meet either the aggregate performance or substantial progress toward desired outcomes criteria, the LEA and SEA must jointly develop a plan to improve the Chapter 1 program, and must annually review and modify the plan until the two criteria are met.

In the case of an individual student who fails to show gains in achievement or to make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes, the LEA must first review each student's Chapter 1 program to see if changes are needed. If a student does not show gain or make progress for two consecutive years, the LEA must conduct a thorough assessment of the child's needs and make necessary modifications to the Chapter 1 project.

LEA Responsibilities--School Improvement

Q1. What are the general LEA responsibilities for school program improvement?

A. An LEA must assess whether Chapter 1 children in each school as a whole are showing improvement. If not, the LEA is required to take action until improvement is shown. If Chapter 1 children in the aggregate do not show improvement as measured by the national standards in §§200.80-200.89 or make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes in terms of the basic and more advanced skills all children are expected to master, the LEA, in cooperation with the school, must develop and implement a plan to improve the Chapter 1 project in that school. If after one full school year of operation that plan is not successful, the LEA and the SEA must jointly develop a plan for program improvement in that school and continue reviewing and revising that plan until the improved performance of Chapter 1 children in the school in the aggregate is sustained over a period of more than 12 months.
Q2. What factors should LEAs consider in establishing desired outcomes and measuring progress toward meeting them?

A. The Act and the Conference Report accompanying it make clear that Congress' intent is that desired outcomes be expressed in terms of basic and more advanced skills all children are expected to master. For desired outcomes such as those to be measured by performance on State or local CRTs, desired outcomes for Chapter 1 students should be commensurate with those for other children in the State or LEA. If the State sets mastery goals for its test, then, consistent with the purposes of the Act, those goals also apply to the Chapter 1 children. If an LEA has established a set of skills it expects children to attain at various points in their education, such as the end of third grade, then these skills are the appropriate desired outcomes for Chapter 1 children.

Q3. Must an LEA state its desired outcomes in terms of both basic and more advanced skills?

A. Yes. Section 1012(b) of Chapter 1 requires that the application contain desired outcomes "in terms of basic and more advanced skills all children are expected to master...." Certain desired outcomes, such as raising scores on CRTs, may measure progress toward basic and more advanced skills at the same time if the CRT addresses both areas. In those instances, while it would be helpful to differentiate progress separately for both areas, it may not be possible to do so and is not required.

Q4. What are some examples of desired outcomes and substantial progress toward meeting them?

A. As stated in §200.6 of the regulations, desired outcomes are the goals an LEA sets to help Chapter 1 children succeed in the regular school program, attain grade level proficiency, and improve achievement in basic and more advanced skills. These goals may be based on any outcome the LEA identifies, provided it measures success in one of the three areas included above. At a minimum, the outcomes must be stated in terms of aggregate performance; however, LEAs are strongly encouraged to develop other desired outcomes specifically related to their Chapter 1 programs. Aggregate performance alone may not portray a full picture of the effectiveness of Chapter 1; additional desired outcomes can help complete that picture.

In developing desired outcomes for the project to be included in the LEA's application to the State, the LEA may wish to specify what it hopes to achieve during the project period. For three-year applications, it would be appropriate for the LEA to state what it hopes to achieve for the entire project period. It may state how far along it expects to be at the end of each year--i.e., what would constitute substantial progress each year toward meeting its three-year desired outcome.
Following are some illustrations of how this may be stated:

1. The LEA has specified skills, in terms of both basic and more advanced skills, it expects all children to attain at the end of grades 3, 4, and 5. At present, some percent of children in Chapter 1 fail to attain the LEA's stated skill level. During the three-year project period, the LEA establishes a desired outcome that Chapter 1 children will attain the appropriate skill level in each grade. At the conclusion of the first year, 70 percent of the Chapter 1 children will achieve the expected skill level; at the end of the second year, 80 percent will attain the level; and at the end of the third year, all Chapter 1 children in grades 3, 4, and 5 will attain the expected level.

2. The LEA specifies skills that are appropriately measured by standardized tests. The LEA will measure progress as follows: children participating in the project for three years will show an average gain of 8 NCEs in both basic and more advanced skills; those in the project for a year will show an average gain of 2 NCEs in each area; those in the project for two years will show an average gain of 5 NCEs both in basic and more advanced skills. Substantial progress will be measured by determining if, for each year, children attain the gains specified.

3. The LEA specifies skills included in a State competency test as a desired outcome for Chapter 1 children. The LEA will measure progress as follows: over the three-year period, rates for successful passage of the State minimum competency test by Chapter 1 children, in grades in which the test is given, will increase from the current level of 60 percent to 70 percent. Substantial progress for the first year will be an increase to 62 percent, for the second year an increase to 64 percent.

4. Retention in grade indicates failure to attain mastery of basic and more advanced skills expected of all children. Therefore, the LEA will measure progress as follows: over the three-year period, the percentage of children retained in grade will decrease from the current level of 15 percent to 8 percent. Substantial progress for the first year will be a reduction to 12 percent, for the second year to a reduction of 10 percent.

5. Dropout rates are indicators of students' failure to achieve in basic and more advanced skills. The LEA will measure progress as follows: an LEA's current dropout rate is 40 percent. It sets a desired outcome to reduce the rate to 30 percent over a three-year period. Substantial progress will be reduction to 37 percent at the end of the first year and 34 percent at the end of the second year.

In these examples, substantial progress has been given for each desired outcome; LEAs may, however, measure substantial progress in other ways, such as successfully meeting goals in some of their desired outcomes; meeting goals in certain grade levels; or meeting goals in a percentage of the grade levels included in the project.
Q5. What is a local annual review?

A. The local annual review ($200.38(a)) is a process whereby the LEA determines the effectiveness of the Chapter 1 project in each project school in terms of aggregate performance and desired outcomes stated in the LEA application.

The result of the local annual review at a minimum is a list of project schools that showed no improvement or a decline in aggregate performance or that did not make substantial progress toward meeting the LEA's desired outcomes.

The LEA must make the results of the review available to teachers, parents of Chapter 1 students, and other appropriate parties, including principals of schools attended by Chapter 1 children.

Q6. In addition to examining the effectiveness of the Chapter 1 program in terms of aggregate performance and desired outcomes, what other requirements for school improvement are part of the local annual review process?

A. The local annual review must also determine if improved performance for those Chapter 1 schools implementing a joint school improvement plan has been sustained for a period of more than 12 months ($200.38(b)(6)(iv)(C)$). The results of the annual review must be used to improve the LEA's Chapter 1 program.

Q7. Must an LEA take into account success of Chapter 1 children in the regular school program in its annual review to determine if program improvement is needed?

A. Section 200.35(a)(1)(ii) requires an LEA to review Chapter 1 children's progress in the regular school program as part of its evaluation, but the LEA is not specifically required to do so in its annual review under §200.38(a). However, LEAs may include success in the regular program as a desired outcome for the project, in which case failure to make substantial progress toward meeting it would place that school in program improvement. Since success in the regular program is a specific purpose of Chapter 1 included in section 1001(b) of the Act, stating desired outcomes in terms of success in the regular program is appropriate and LEAs are encouraged to do so.

Q8. Who must participate in the local annual review?

A. A local annual review must be done for each Chapter 1 project school. The statute and regulations do not specify who must be included in the review process. It may be possible that the local annual review could be conducted by only the Chapter 1 director or a designated individual in a school. The best practice, however, would be to involve a number of parties from the school who are concerned about the effectiveness of the Chapter 1 program. These could include the building principal, regular classroom teachers, Chapter 1 teachers, members of the school or district improvement team, and Chapter 1 parents.

Q9. What timelines apply to the local annual review process?
A. The local annual review process must be completed in time to make necessary school program improvement decisions, and before the SEA requires LEA data for the Annual Performance Report.

Q10. How should the performance of Chapter 1 students enrolled in private schools be included in the local annual review?

A. If the instructional approaches and service delivery systems for public and private school children are substantially the same, the LEA should review the effectiveness of the Chapter 1 project in improving the performance of all participants--public and private school children. Results for children enrolled in private schools should be included with the results for participants in the public schools that private school children would have attended if they were not enrolled in private schools.

On the other hand, if the approaches and delivery systems for private school children are different from those for the public school children, the LEA should review the progress of public and private school children separately. If the services for children enrolled in private schools are the same for all private school children, the LEA may review the progress of these children as if they were all in one school.

Q11. What factors must be considered in determining whether a school is in need of program improvement activities?

A. There are two factors that must be considered:

1. No improvement or a decline in aggregate performance, in basic and more advanced skills, as measured by the national standards described in §§200.80-200.89 of the regulations. A school must begin program improvement activities if it fails to show gains in aggregate performance, in either basic or more advanced skills, measured in terms of NCES.

2. Failure to make substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes the LEA has included in its application.

Q12. Are achievement data aggregated for school improvement purposes by subject area across grade levels, or across schools?

A. Program improvement requirements are focused at the school building level. Therefore, achievement data are to be aggregated by subject area for all grades. For program improvement purposes the achievement data are not aggregated for more than one school.

Q13. May Chapter 1 children in preschool, kindergarten, and first grade be included in the aggregate performance data considered by the LEA as part of the local annual review?

A. No. LEAs may not include data from children at these grade levels in determining aggregate performance because such data may be unreliable and could lead to distorted overall results. The evaluation of the progress of these students must be reviewed separately from grades 2-12.
results. The review must be based on substantial progress toward meeting the LEA's desired outcomes.

Q14. Must data from an annual testing cycle be the basis for determining no improvement or a decline in aggregate performance?

A. Yes. The minimum standard is a positive NCE gain measured on an annual testing cycle (spring-spring or fall-fall).

Q15. May an LEA use "confidence intervals" or "error bands" in making determinations about which schools must undergo program improvement activities?

A. No. Although these analytic tools are useful for understanding and interpreting results of evaluations, they may not be used for making decisions about whether schools are in need of program improvement. The following example points out some of the problems associated with this issue:

A school building has an aggregate mean gain score for its predominant Chapter 1 program (reading) of -1 NCE with an error band of +/-3 NCEs. Looking at the mean only, this school would be identified for program improvement activities. In an effort to avoid program improvement, an LEA may argue that the error band indicates that the true score lies between +2 NCEs and -4 NCEs, and that since the top end of the range is above the statutorily required minimum, program improvement is not needed. However, there is an equal likelihood that the true score is as low as -4 NCEs. Therefore, although LEAs may use error bands to help interpret data, selection of schools for program improvement activities must be based on simple means or medians.

Q16. If a school has a very small number of Chapter 1 students and is concerned that the scores of a few students may skew the mean NCE gain for the school, what alternatives are available?

A. If an LEA feels that using the mean NCE gain to determine the effectiveness of the Chapter 1 program in its schools might not be appropriate because of the possible influence of extreme scores, then that LEA may use the median score in place of the mean. However, the same choice of the mean or median score must be made for all the LEA's Chapter 1 schools.

When reporting Chapter 1 LEA evaluation results to the SEA, the LEA must still use the mean for aggregation and reporting purposes.

Q17. Does the use of the median as opposed to the mean have advantages in other than small schools?

A. Yes. Medians have properties that may make them desirable in various settings. They greatly diminish the influence of extreme scores even in larger samples. Results based on medians are also intuitively easy to understand and explain. One can simply state that half the students performed above (or below) a certain level. For program improvement purposes, it would be easy to determine, based on the median, that half of the students in a school did (or did not) benefit from the program, i.e., showed a gain greater than zero.

Q18. What is the Department's position on use of the median?

A. The Department endorses the use of the median for program improvement (but not reporting) purposes. However, the LEA must use them uniformly in all its Chapter 1 buildings. The LEA may not use medians or means selectively in individual schools to avoid program improvement.

Q19. Must both basic and more advanced skills be reviewed to determine whether schools have met aggregate performance standards in the local annual review?

A. Yes. Aggregate performance must be determined for basic and more advanced skills and both areas must be included in the local annual review. Any school showing no improvement or a decline in the aggregate performance of participating children for a 12-month period, in either type of skill, must be identified as needing program improvement.

Q19a. Must aggregate achievement performance be determined in basic and more advanced skills in all Chapter 1 subject areas in the school?

A. Not necessarily. The LEA need consider only the area of primary focus of its Chapter 1 program in measuring aggregate performance gains. If two or more subject areas are equally addressed, however, it must measure aggregate achievement performance in all of them.

Q20. May States or LEAs set different expected desired outcomes, in terms of achievement gains for schools or students, depending on their pre-test scores?

A. Section 1012(b) of Chapter 1 requires LEAs to describe their desired outcomes "in terms of basic and more advanced skills all children are expected to master." In discussing the phrase, the Conference Report states it means the project sets "academic expectations not substantially different from those expected for other students of the same age or at the same grade level" (Conf. Rept 100-567, 100th Cong., 2nd Sess., April 13, 1988, p. 322). Therefore, the final desired outcomes should not vary among students or among schools. In seeking to achieve these outcomes, LEAs should consider what differing resources and approaches are appropriate for different Chapter 1 children and Chapter 1 schools.

Q21. What is the relationship between desired outcomes and aggregate performance with respect to program improvement requirements?

A. There are several provisions that must be taken into consideration in determining whether a school is in need of program improvement. First, under section 1021(b) of the Act, either failure to make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes or failure to demonstrate a gain in aggregate performance would identify a school as in need of program improvement. Second, under sections 1012(b) and 1019 of the Act, both desired outcomes and aggregate performance must be measured in terms of basic and more advanced skills. Finally, under section 1012(b), desired outcomes for each area of instruction must be included in an LEA’s application. Thus, a failure to make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes or to gain skills in each instructional area potentially could result in a school being required to develop a program improvement plan.

The regulations permit an LEA the option to consolidate, to a certain extent, these indicators of need for program improvement. First, §200.38(b)(2) permits an LEA to determine the aggregate performance of a school in only the instructional area that is the primary focus of the Chapter 1 program in that school. Thus, in school A, if 75 percent of the children receive reading and only 25 percent receive mathematics, the LEA could determine aggregate performance—in basic and more advanced skills—in just reading. However, if the Chapter 1 program in school B provides services in reading and mathematics with relatively equal emphasis, the LEA would have to determine aggregate performance—in basic and more advanced skills—in both instructional areas.

As stated above, the LEA must also have desired outcomes, expressed in basic and more advanced skills, for each instructional area. Section 200.6(c) of the regulations permits an LEA, if it chooses, to express desired outcomes in terms of only aggregate performance. Under this option, an LEA could determine whether school B above needs program improvement on the basis of aggregate performance, in basic and more advanced skills, in reading and mathematics. Of course, the LEA could also establish—indeed, is encouraged to establish—other desired outcomes that exceed the minimum gains required for aggregate performance or that are measured by other indicators, such as CRTs, to achieve a more complete picture of the success of the Chapter 1 program in that school.

For school A in the example above, the LEA expresses its desired outcomes for reading in terms of aggregate performance. Obviously, the LEA could also express desired outcomes for reading through other appropriate indicators. If the LEA selects the option in §200.38(b)(2), it would not have aggregate performance results for school A in mathematics. Thus, because it must have desired outcomes for each instructional area, the LEA could express its outcomes for mathematics in other terms, such as CRTs. It could also use aggregate performance in mathematics. However it chooses to act, the LEA must measure its substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes in each instructional area to determine if a school is in need of program improvement.

Q22. May an LEA ignore an instructional area that is not primary focus in identifying schools in need of program improvement?

A. No. The LEA must determine if progress is being made in all instructional areas in its Chapter 1 program. If the LEA exercises the option to determine aggregate performance in only the instructional area that is the primary focus of the Chapter 1 program, the LEA must still determine that the school has made substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes for other instructional areas. If the LEA has established desired outcomes for the instructional area that is a secondary focus other than aggregate performance, it must assess whether the project has made substantial progress toward the stated desired outcomes. If substantial progress is not made, a school must be identified for program improvement.

In the case of an LEA that has expressed its desired outcomes only in terms of aggregate performance, the LEA must use aggregate performance for a secondary focus area because there are no other desired outcomes to use to determine the success of the project. Therefore, notwithstanding the option to use aggregate performance for only the instructional area of primary focus, the LEA in this case must also use aggregate performance for the instructional area that is a secondary focus.

Q23. If a student receives services in more than one Chapter I school in an LEA during the year, for which school should that student's achievement gains aggregated for the local annual review?

A. The child's achievement scores should be included in the annual review for the school that provided the longest period of service to that child.

Q24. How are aggregate performance scores used with respect to program improvement?

A. No gain or a decline in aggregate performance scores in the subject that is the primary focus of the Chapter I program, measured according to the national standards for evaluation, causes a school to be identified for program improvement. If reading or mathematics is the primary focus, aggregate performance must be measured for both basic and more advanced skills, and no gain or a decline in either identifies a school as needing program improvement. If a language arts test is used to measure aggregate performance, only the total score that test produces is used, since there is no subtest score to measure more advanced skills.

Q25. What is meant by no gain or a decline in aggregate achievement?

A. In terms of NCEs, no change or a loss in NCEs.

Q26. If an LEA uses a norm-referenced language arts test that does not provide measurement of more advanced skills to measure aggregate performance, must it establish desired outcomes to measure performance in more advanced skills in language arts?

A. Yes, but the outcomes need not be expressed in terms that may be converted to NCEs.

Q27. Suppose a K-4 school expresses its desired outcomes in terms of aggregate performance for grades 2-4, and uses another outcome for children in grades K-1. Although the aggregate performance scores for children in grades 2-4 show a decline, the children in grades K-1 make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes. Must the school be identified for program improvement?

A. Yes, but it may limit its plan to grades 2-4.
Q28. May an LEA establish a minimum amount of participation in the project a child must have in order to be included in aggregate performance?

A. All children who were enrolled in the project for the entire year must be included, even if, during the year, some of those children did not attend or participate in some of the Chapter 1 project. However, children who enter the project well into the school year or leave well before the school year ends need not be included, even if the LEA has pre- and post-test scores on them.

Q29. When may an LEA apply for program improvement assistance available under section 1405?

A. As soon as it has identified a school or schools in need of program improvement. States should establish procedures to provide assistance to LEAs.

Q30. Must an LEA submit any plans for schools needing program improvement to the SEA for review and approval?

A. Section 1021(b)(1)(B) requires only that the LEA submit the plan to the SEA but does not require that the SEA approve the plan. The SEA may, however, comment on the plan and provide assistance to the LEA.

Q31. Do school improvement plans have to address each school, including schoolwide project schools, separately?

A. Yes. These plans are school-based and established for each school identified for program improvement. They must be developed in coordination with staff at the school. This may likely result in different approaches, different costs, and different Chapter 1 projects among an LEA's schools.

Q32. May an SEA rather than the LEA identify schools as needing program improvement?

A. If an SEA has information on schools that indicates a need for program improvement, it may and should share that information with the LEA. Actual identification for the initial plan, however, is done by the LEA.

Q33. If a school has been identified as being in need of program improvement, may it focus its Chapter 1 program on improving the entire education program at that school?

A. Except in the case of a schoolwide project, Chapter 1 funds may be used only to provide supplemental services to Chapter 1 participating children and not for general school improvement. The Chapter 1 project in a school should go hand-in-hand with local and State-supported activities to improve the school's general instructional program. For instance, a change in approach or materials in the basic reading program of the school should be accompanied by revisions to the Chapter 1 reading activities so that those activities will be more likely to assist Chapter 1 students succeed in the regular instructional program of the school.
Q34. What action may an SEA take if an LEA fails to develop or implement a required school improvement plan?

A. Section 1021(b) of Chapter 1 requires that, for schools identified as being in need of program improvement, an LEA shall develop and implement in coordination with such school a plan for program improvement, and requires that the plan be submitted to the SEA. As with other requirements, the SEA is responsible for ensuring LEA compliance with this provision. Failure by an LEA to comply would compel the State to implement appropriate enforcement mechanisms.

Q35. If an LEA determines that a school needs program improvement and decides to implement a schoolwide project in that school, may the schoolwide project plan serve as the program improvement plan?

A. Yes, provided the process used in developing the schoolwide project plan meets the requirements of §200.38.

Q36. Are local conditions restricted to only those described in the statute and regulations?

A. Yes. Section 1021(e) includes only five specific conditions. There are no other local conditions that may be considered.

Q37. How are local conditions to be used during the program improvement process?

A. As stated in §200.38(c) of the regulations, local conditions are to be considered throughout the program improvement process. This is especially true of the conditions contained in §200.38(c)(1)(i-iii). For instance, an LEA knows prior to starting its Chapter 1 project that, in two of its schools, there is a higher degree of educational deprivation than in other Chapter 1 schools. In allocating resources to those schools, it should take that local condition into account. Should the LEA not do so, and subsequently determine that the school failed to show improvement, it may not use that local condition to excuse that school from program improvement. On the other hand, if, during the school year, changes occur in a school that could not be foreseen, such as a large increase in mobility, then, in determining whether program improvement is needed, the LEA may take that local condition into account.

Q38. As a result of an approved equating study, an LEA is using a State assessment test at grades 4, 6, and 8 and a different commercial test at grades 3, 5, and 7 to evaluate its Chapter 1 reading project. The results show large gains in one grade followed by large losses for the next grade. After careful review of the results, the LEA determined that these data are invalid due to the use of a different test each year although they appeared to equate adequately. May the LEA claim a local condition to invalidate the results?

A. Yes, but this may only be done once. Equating studies provide only estimates of what results would have been had the equated test been used for the "second score." Where actual experience using equated tests show that results are invalid or unreliable, the use of the equated tests must be discontinued by all districts in the State that are using them.

Q39. In allocating resources to schools, either initially or subsequent to implementation of a program improvement plan, may an LEA allocate different amounts per child to different schools?

A. Yes. In allocating resources to schools, §200.33(a) requires LEAs to take into account the number of eligible students, their educational needs, and the extent of educational deprivation of children in each school. Further, §200.38(c)(2) requires LEAs to take into account local conditions in allocating resources to its Chapter 1 schools. Finally, in implementing program improvement plans, LEAs should provide resources to schools based on the cost of these plans.

Q40. Should the scores of LEP children be aggregated with scores of other children to determine aggregate performance?

A. If the student was, in the opinion of the LEA, sufficiently proficient in English to have had a valid measure of educational deprivation determined by a standardized pre-test, then that student's post-test score, and the gain, should be included in the school aggregation. If the student, however, was determined to be educationally deprived based on other methods, the scores should not be included.

Q41. Must an LEA establish desired outcomes for LEP children whose achievement cannot be validly measured by standardized test scores?

A. Yes.

Q42. When should an LEA begin to plan and implement program improvement activities in a school?

A. As soon as the school has been identified as being in need of improvement. While the regulations require that full implementation of the plan take place no later than the beginning of the second school year following the year during which the school did not show improvement or meet its desired outcomes, this is the outside time limit for full implementation. Only when the plan includes a major redirection of the program—such as changing from a pull-out project to a schoolwide project—should the maximum time be used. In most instances, plans should be put in place during the year immediately following the one upon which the need for improvement was determined—if not at the beginning, then during the school year. If full implementation is not possible, portions of the plan should be put in place. When a local plan is implemented during the school year, rather than at the year's beginning, the success of the plan is measured on the basis of information gathered during the subsequent year. Therefore, the success of the local plan is determined after the plan has been implemented for an entire school year.

Q43. How will districts on a fall-to-fall testing cycle fit into the timeline?
A. Clearly these LEAs will have more difficulty in implementing program improvement plans, since information identifying schools in need will not be available until after the school year has begun. Nevertheless, these LEAs must implement portions of plans during that first year, whenever possible, and must fully implement plans during the subsequent school year.

Q44. On the basis of a post-test in spring, an LEA determines a school is in need of program improvement. The plan the school and the LEA develops provides additional materials and supplies to the school and is implemented the following fall. If the school does not show gains during that year, must the LEA and SEA develop a joint plan for it?

A. Yes.

Q45. If there are "10 or fewer" students in the Chapter 1 program in a school during the program year, does a program improvement plan need to be developed?

A. No. Schools that serve 10 or fewer Chapter 1 students during the entire school year are exempt from developing a school improvement plan. However, the LEA must conduct a local annual review for such schools and, under student program improvement requirements, identify individual students who fail to demonstrate improvement or substantial progress.

Q46. If a school has provided a full year's service to more than 10 students but has both pre- and post-test scores on fewer than 10, is the school exempt from developing a program improvement plan?

A. No. The only exemption from having to develop a program improvement plan is for a school that served 10 or fewer students in the Chapter 1 program for the entire school year.

Q47. May improvement plans be developed for one grade or one subject area if that is the only area that shows a loss?

A. Yes. Improvement plans are developed for individual schools, but those plans need not propose changes to the Chapter 1 project for grades or subject areas in which students are already demonstrating improvement and substantial progress.

If two subject areas are equally addressed by Chapter 1, failure to show gain in either of the subject areas will result in identification of a school for program improvement. Program improvement efforts should focus on the subject area or areas in which Chapter 1 children fail to show gain or do not make substantial progress toward desired outcomes.

LEA Responsibilities--Student Program Improvement

Q48. What are an LEA's responsibilities for student program improvement?

A. Students not showing gains in performance or making substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes must be identified and revisions to their Chapter 1 services considered. If after two years these students still do not gain in performance or make substantial progress, the LEA must conduct a thorough assessment of their needs and, where appropriate, revise the services to meet those needs. For students in a school undergoing program improvement activities, those activities may meet the requirement for student program improvement as well.

Q49. Is the definition of "no improvement or a decline" as it is used in §200.38(d)(1)(ii) the same for individual students as it is for schools?

A. Yes. Improved performance for students is defined in the same manner as it is for schools—that is, a pre-test to post-test change in NCEs that is greater than zero.

Q50. When assessing individual student progress, how reliable are the results of group-administered, nationally normed tests?

A. The standard error of measurement associated with any individual test score means that judgments made about an individual's performance based solely on test results may be inaccurate. For this reason, it is recommended that multiple performance measures (e.g., performance on classroom assignments and tests, CRTs, in-class performance, progress through the curriculum, etc.) be considered when planning changes in the Chapter 1 program to meet the needs of students who do not demonstrate improved performance on an achievement test.

Q51. Must an LEA identify students for program improvement who attend schools that have not been identified as needing program improvement?

A. Yes.

Q52. Does student program improvement apply to students attending private schools?

A. Yes.

Q53. How can student program improvement be implemented in areas where student mobility is high?

A. As with school program improvement, in order to determine if student program improvement is warranted, an LEA must have annual test information and measures of success in achieving desired outcomes from the beginning to the end of a school year. Students who move out of the district or to schools with no Chapter 1 project need not be identified for student program improvement. However, children who move from one Chapter 1 school to another must be followed, and, if their performance warrants, provided with student program improvement activities.

Q54. How can substantial progress toward desired outcomes be applied to individual students when progress is measured in terms of percentages of children attaining specified levels of learning?

A. Those students not reaching the level specified will be identified for student program improvement. Both school and student centered efforts should focus on meeting the desired outcome.
State Responsibilities

Q55. Must the State set standards for program improvement or may it allow each LEA to do so?

A. Section 200.37(a)(2)(ii) of the regulations requires that the SEA's plan include the "objective measures and standards the SEA and LEAs will use" to determine success of the Chapter 1 program, and that the SEA "may establish standards" that will be included in the plan. Therefore, the SEA may establish standards or allow its LEAs to do so. In the latter circumstance, the standards of each LEA become a part of the State's program improvement plan. Either the SEA or LEAs, in expressing desired outcomes in terms of aggregate performance, may and are encouraged to set standards higher than no gain or a decline in aggregate performance to identify schools in need of program improvement.

Q56. Must the State's program improvement plan be approved by the committee of practitioners?

A. Section 1020(a) of Chapter 1 requires that the State's plan be developed "in consultation with a committee of practitioners." This does not require that the committee members, either as a whole or individually, be in total agreement with the plan. Rather, the requirement envisions continuous consultation with the committee throughout development of the plan.

Q57. What should be the timeline for joint SEA/LEA program improvement?

A. While it is possible a maximum of three years could pass between identification of a school in need of program improvement and implementation of a joint plan, it should happen only in those cases where the complexity of first the LEA plan and then the SEA plan precludes the more immediate full implementation. LEAs must put in place as soon as possible those changes that can be made, and implement the full plan as soon as possible.

Q58. Must an SEA provide assistance to all schools identified as needing a joint plan or may it target its assistance in some of those schools?

A. It must provide assistance to all schools so identified.

Q59. If no funds are available under section 1405, what is a State required to do?

A. At a minimum, States must follow the progress of any school identified as needing program improvement, work with LEAs to develop joint plans for each school that, after one full year of operation under a locally developed plan, fails to show gains in aggregate performance or make substantial progress toward meeting desired outcomes, and ensure that program improvement assistance is provided to each school implementing a joint plan. The State is not required to make funds available or make assistance available from providers other than the SEA.
Q60. What happens if the SEA and the LEA cannot jointly agree on an SEA/LEA plan for program improvement?

A. The SEA may refuse to approve that part of the LEA's application or update, including budgets, related to the school or schools for which no agreed upon joint program improvement plan exists. LEAs and SEAs should be aware that such action deprives children of Chapter 1 services pending final agreement, and should make every effort to avoid this situation.

Q61. Must the selection of providers of technical assistance to schools undergoing program improvement be decided prior to an SEA's commitment of section 1405 funds to provide it?

A. Yes. Section 1405 states that parents of participating children, school staff, the SEA, and the LEA must jointly agree on who shall provide technical assistance to each school. Since the SEA cannot know in advance what providers will be selected, it is unable to commit funds. SEAs may make plans, however, prior to actual expenditures. For instance, SEAs may do either or both of the following:

1. Hire program improvement specialists, using Chapter 1 administrative funds authorized under section 1404, and then charge these persons' time, as jointly agreed by the parties in section 1405(b)(3) of the Act, for program improvement activities to the 1405 account.

2. Enter into cost reimbursable agreements with other possible providers who are selected and perform the duties.

Q62. How does the requirement to measure sustained effects under program improvement (section 1021) relate to the sustained effects requirement under evaluation (section 1019)?

A. The requirement in section 1019 applies to all LEAs, and either through sampling or a designed study should yield information about the Chapter 1 program in the LEA as a whole. It must be done at least once every three years. Under §200.39(a)(2) of the regulations, the sustained effects requirement under section 1021 applies to those schools implementing a joint LEA/SEA school improvement plan and implements the requirement in section 1021(h) of Chapter 1 that the SEA and the LEA continue to revise the joint plan until improved performance "is sustained over a period of more than one year." This requirement must be met annually.
STATE ADMINISTRATION

Statutory Requirements

Sections 1451, - 34(b), and 1405 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Introduction

The Act sets forth several new provisions under State administration and most of them are contained in sections 1451, 1404(b), and 1405. Section 1451(a)(1) of Chapter 1 is implemented by §200.70(a) of the regulations, which provides that a State has the authority to issue rules, regulations, or policies for the Chapter 1 LEA program so long as they are consistent with the provisions of the Chapter 1 statute, regulations, and other applicable Federal statutes and regulations. Section 1451(a)(2) of Chapter 1 and §200.70(b) of the regulations stipulate, however, that State regulations or policies may not be issued that limit an LEA’s decisions affecting Chapter 1 funds regarding grade levels to be served; basic skill areas to be addressed (such as reading, mathematics, or language arts); licensed and certified instructional staff to be employed; instructional settings, materials, or teaching techniques to be used; and other essential support services (such as counseling and other pupil personnel services). These limits do not preempt an SEA’s authority to review and approve an LEA’s application, however, or relieve an SEA of its responsibility to ensure compliance with applicable program requirements.

Section 1451(b) of Chapter 1 is implemented by §200.70(e) of the regulations. This regulatory provision requires the SEA to convene a State committee of practitioners to review, before publishing, any major proposed or final rule, and to ensure that the committee reviews all other nonmajor rules before publication, but not necessarily in a meeting. Additionally, if a State issues policies, rather than regulations, that the SEA and LEAs are required to follow, the State must comply with the same consultation requirements for issuing rules and regulations.

The only instance in which an SEA may issue a major rule or regulation relating to the administration or operation of Chapter 1 programs without consulting the committee of practitioners is in an emergency when time constraints prevent consultation. However, the committee must be convened to review the emergency rule or regulation before it is published in final form.

A limit is now imposed on the percentage of State administration funds that may be used for indirect costs by statutory and regulatory provisions in section 1404(b) and §200.72(a)(2), respectively.

Section 1405 of Chapter 1 makes funds available for direct educational service in schools implementing program improvement plans. It requires parents of participating children, school staff, the LEA, and the SEA to jointly agree to the selection of technical assistance providers and the best use of funds. Section 200.72(b) of the regulations implements these statutory requirements.
State Regulations--General

Q1. May an SEA limit the percentages proposed in an LEA budget for supplies, materials, or other categories?

A. No. An SEA does not have the authority to impose limitations on reasonable expenditures to implement an effective program that are proposed in an LEA's budget and are supported by the LEA's assessment of the special educational needs of Chapter 1 children.

Q2. May the SEA issue regulations governing an LEA's parental involvement activities?

A. The SEA may issue regulations concerning parental involvement so long as the requirements are consistent with Chapter 1 and regulations, but it does not have the authority to dictate the type of parental involvement activities that an LEA chooses to conduct. The SEA does have the authority and the responsibility, however, to review LEA decisions concerning the use of Chapter 1 funds to ensure compliance with applicable requirements.

Q3. Must the SEA differentiate between State and Federal requirements?

A. Yes. In accordance with §200.70(d) of the regulations, the SEA must identify any State-imposed requirement having to do with the administration and operation of Chapter 1 LEA programs, including those based on State interpretations of any Federal law, regulation, or guideline, as a State requirement.

Review By Committee Of Practitioners

Q4. When is an SEA required to convene its committee of practitioners?

A. Before an SEA issues major rules or regulations for the Chapter 1 LEA program, it is required to convene its State committee of practitioners to review these rules.

Q5. If State law requires the issuance of proposed rules prior to publishing the rules in final form, does the committee of practitioners have to be convened to review both the proposed and final rules?

A. Yes. If the rules are major and State law requires the use of a proposed and final publication process, the committee of practitioners must be convened to review both the proposed and final versions of the rules prior to publication.

Q6. Must the committee of practitioners be convened to review nonmajor rules and regulations before publication?

A. No. The committee of practitioners must review the nonmajor rules and regulations, but the committee does not necessarily have to be convened to conduct this review. Responses may be received in writing or by telephone, including conference calls.
Q7. When a State issues policies (rather than rules or regulations) that the SEA and LEAs are required to follow, what responsibility does the committee of practitioners have for reviewing these policies?

A. The State must comply with the same consultation requirements for reviewing policies that it does for reviewing rules or regulations. That is, it must convene the committee of practitioners to review all major policies prior to publication, and ensure that all other nonmajor policies are reviewed by the committee.

Q8. May an SEA issue a major rule or regulation without consulting the committee of practitioners?

A. Yes. In an emergency situation when a major rule or regulation must be issued within a very limited amount of time, the SEA may issue the rule or regulation without consulting the committee of practitioners. However, immediately after issuance, the SEA must convene the committee to review the emergency rule or regulation prior to its publication in final form.

Q9. Section 200.70(e)(3)(ii) of the regulations requires an LEA majority on the committee. Which practitioners should be counted as LEA representatives?

A. The committee of practitioners must include administrators, teachers, parents, members of local boards of education, and representatives of private school children. Local administrators, teachers, and local board members are generally representative of LEAs and therefore could be counted appropriately as such.

Funds For State Administration

Q10. Is the SEA limited in its use of State administration funds for indirect costs?

A. Yes. Section 1404(b) of Chapter 1 and §200.72(a)(2) of the regulations limit the amount of State administration funds that may be used for indirect costs to 15 percent.

Funds For Implementing School Improvement Programs

Q11. May school improvement funds (section 1405 of Chapter 1) be used to hire State staff to assist with conducting program improvement activities?

A. An SEA may use section 1405 funds to hire State staff to assist with program improvement activities if the following requirements are met:

- The LEA, parents, and staff of the school that will receive school improvement services jointly agree that this is a good use of funds.

- The State staff provide direct educational services to schools implementing program improvement plans.
Q12. May section 1405 funds be used for State administration activities?

A. No. Section 200.72(b)(3) of the regulations specifically states that section 1405 funds may not be used for State administration. Section 200.72(b)(1) of the regulations restricts the use of these school improvement funds to direct educational services in schools implementing program improvement plans.

Complaint Procedures Of The SEA

Sections 200.73 through 200.75 of the regulations contain complaint procedures that an SEA must implement.

Q13. What complaint procedures is an SEA required to have?

A. In accordance with §200.73 of the regulations, an SEA is required to have written procedures for resolving any complaint that the SEA or an LEA is in violation of any Federal statute or regulation that applies to the Chapter 1 LEA program. These written procedures must include procedures for reviewing an appeal from a decision of an LEA and for conducting an independent onsite investigation of a complaint if the SEA determines that an onsite investigation is necessary.

Q14. Are there specific issues that the complaint procedures must address?

A. Yes. At a minimum, the SEA’s complaint procedures must include the following:

- A time limit of 60 calendar days after the SEA receives a complaint to carry out an independent investigation and to resolve the complaint.

- An extension of this time limit only if exceptional circumstances exist with respect to a particular complaint.

- The right to request that the Secretary review the final decision of the SEA.
ASSIGNMENT OF PERSONNEL

Statutory Requirements

Section 1453 of Chapter 1 of Title I, ESEA

Regulatory Requirements

Sections 200.39 and 200.71

Introduction

Section 1453(a) of Chapter 1 provides that public school personnel who are paid entirely with Chapter 1 funds may be assigned limited supervisory duties that are assigned to similarly situated personnel not paid with Chapter 1 funds. Such duties need not be limited to classroom instruction or to the benefit of children participating in the Chapter 1 program. Under §200.39 of the regulations, the amount of time spent on supervisory duties may not exceed the least of: the proportion of time that similarly situated non-Chapter 1 personnel at the same school site spend performing these duties; one period per day; or sixty minutes per day. The amount of time spent on supervisory duties may be calculated on a daily, weekly, monthly, or annual basis. Allowable supervisory duties may include, but are not limited to, such activities as supervision of halls, playgrounds, lunchrooms, study halls, bus loading and unloading, and homerooms; participation as a member of a school or district curriculum committee; and participation in the selection of regular curriculum materials and supplies.

Section 200.71 of the regulations and section 1453(b) of Chapter 1 authorize SEAs to use Chapter 1 funds to pay a portion of the salary costs of employees who are assigned administrative, training, and technical assistance responsibilities for Chapter 1 and special State programs. Except as discussed below, these salary costs must be supported by appropriate time distribution records that reflect the actual amount of time spent by each employee and costs must be charged on a basis of the employee's time distribution records.

If an employee is assigned responsibilities that jointly benefit a State program and Chapter 1 programs, and the actual time spent for each program cannot be determined, §200.71(c) of the regulations provides that costs may be charged to the programs on a basis other than the actual time spent on each of the programs, provided charges are equitably distributed among funding sources. (See example under §200.71(c) of the regulations.)

Q1. Who are "similarly situated" personnel?

A. The definition of "similarly situated" personnel may vary depending on the duties to be assigned. For example, if the duty is lunchroom supervision, it may be appropriate to consider all instructional personnel—teachers and aides—as "similarly situated." In a school that has only Chapter 1-paid aides and regular classroom teachers are assigned lunchroom supervision duties, Chapter 1-paid aides could be considered as "similarly situated" and assigned to lunchroom supervision.
on the same basis as regular classroom teachers. On the other hand, if in this same school teachers are not assigned to lunchroom supervision, Chapter 1 aides could not be assigned to these duties because there are no "similarly situated."

In defining "similarly situated," it is important that the LEA remember the purpose of this provision: to permit Chapter 1 staff to share in certain responsibilities to alleviate the ill will sometimes created by the former prohibition against Title I staff assuming non-Title I duties. See H.R. Rept. No. 1137, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 37 (1978). It is not to devise ways to use only Chapter 1 personnel to carry out the supervisory responsibilities in a school. Accordingly, an LEA should ensure that Chapter 1 personnel do not carry a disproportionate share of the load. Moreover, the Chapter 1 program may not be harmed by the use of Chapter 1 personnel for supervisory duties.

Q2. May "supervisory duties" include instructional duties?

A. Yes. Both section 1453(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.39(a) of the regulations make specific reference to limited supervisory duties that "need not be limited to classroom instruction." Thus, supervisory duties may include both instructional and noninstructional responsibilities.

Q3. May Chapter 1 staff be assigned supervisory duties if there are no "similarly situated" non-Chapter 1 personnel at the same school site who perform the duties?

A. No. Section 200.39(a)(1) of the regulations restricts the assignment of supervisory duties to Chapter 1 staff only when there are similarly situated non-Chapter 1 staff at the same school site who are assigned the duties.

Q4. May Chapter 1 aides or teachers be assigned to supervise in-school suspension or detention classes?

A. Yes, if similarly situated personnel at the school site who are not paid with Chapter 1 funds are assigned these duties, and the time spent by Chapter 1 personnel on these duties does not exceed the limits specified in the regulations.

Q5. Is placement on an LEA's pay scale or salary schedule that reflects different levels of training sufficient to determine who is similarly situated?

A. No. Determining who is similarly situated must be based on assigned job responsibilities.

Q6. May a teacher or an aide who is paid partially with Chapter 1 funds and partially with local district funds be assigned non-Chapter 1 supervisory duties while on Chapter 1 salary?

A. No. Section 1453(a) of Chapter 1 and §200.39(a) of the regulations specify that only personnel who are paid entirely with Chapter 1 funds may be assigned limited supervisory duties. However, a LEA may assign staff partially paid with Chapter 1 funds to perform supervisory duties during time they are paid with non-Chapter 1 funds.

Q7. May Chapter 1 personnel be assigned substitute teaching responsibilities?

A. Chapter 1 personnel may be assigned substitute teaching responsibilities if similarly situated personnel at the same school site are assigned these duties and performance of them does not exceed the time limits specified in §200.39(a)(2) of the regulations. Before an LEA uses Chapter 1 personnel for substitute teaching, however, it must ensure that truly similarly situated personnel are also used for substitute teaching. For example, it would be unallowable to define similarly situated so narrowly that few other types of personnel would qualify and, as a result, Chapter 1 personnel would carry a disproportionate share of the substitute teaching responsibilities. Moreover, the Chapter 1 program may not be harmed in order for the Chapter 1 teacher to do substitute teaching. For example, Chapter 1 classes may not be cancelled. Substitute teaching may be performed by Chapter 1 personnel only during nonteaching periods—for example, during planning periods.

Q8. May a Chapter 1 aide who works only 4 hours per day be assigned "supervisory duties" for 60 minutes per day?

A. No. Part-time Chapter 1 staff who are paid fully with Chapter 1 funds may be assigned supervisory duties only on a basis that is proportionate to the time that similarly situated full-time personnel at the same school site are assigned the same duties.

Q9. May Chapter 1 staff be assigned multiple types of supervisory duties in the same day if similarly situated personnel perform them and the time limits in §200.39(a)(2) are observed?

A. Yes. Chapter 1 staff may perform different types of supervisory duties in the same day such as homeroom for 20 minutes and bus duty for 20 minutes if similarly situated personnel at the same school site also perform different types of supervisory duties during the day and the time limits for Chapter 1 staff as specified in the regulations are not exceeded.

Q10. May the time limits specified in §200.39(a)(2) be applied individually to each supervisory duty assigned to Chapter 1 staff?

A. No. The time limits may not be applied separately to each supervisory duty performed by Chapter 1 staff. These limits apply to the total amount of time that Chapter 1 staff spend on supervisory duties. This total amount of time may be calculated on a daily, weekly, monthly, or annual basis as specified in §200.39(b). However, the cumulative time an employee spends on supervisory duties may not exceed the least of the limits in §200.39(a)(2) multiplied by the number of working days in an employee’s contract.
Personnel Assigned to Chapter 1 and Special State Programs

Q11. May a method other than time distribution records be used to prorate costs when SEA staff perform duties that benefit both the Chapter 1 program and the State compensatory education program and these duties cannot be clearly distinguished?

A. Yes. As explained in §200.71(c) of the regulations, when an employee is assigned responsibilities that jointly benefit the Chapter 1 program and a State compensatory education program, and the employee cannot determine the actual time spent for each, it is allowable to charge costs to the programs on a basis other than the actual time spent on each of them. The basis that is used, however, must ensure that charges are distributed equitably among the programs. (See example in §200.71(c) of the regulations.)

Q12. When LEA personnel are assigned duties that jointly benefit Chapter 1 and special State or local programs, may the LEA charge costs to these programs on a basis other than actual time spent on specific activities?

A. Yes. Section 200.71(c) of the regulations provides that SEA personnel assigned to administrative, training, and technical assistance duties that jointly benefit Chapter 1 and special State programs may charge costs to the programs on a basis other than actual time spent on each program, provided charges are equitably distributed among funding sources. An LEA may apply the same procedures for employees assigned to duties that jointly benefit Chapter 1 and special State and local programs.

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 2701 et seq.) (other than title X of such Act) is amended as follows:

"SECTION I. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the 'Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965'.

"TITLE I—BASIC PROGRAMS

"CHAPTER I—FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO MEET SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS OF CHILDREN

"SEC. 1001. DECLARATION OF POLICY AND STATEMENT OF PURPOSE.

"(a) Declaration of Policy.—In recognition of—

"(1) the special educational needs of children of low-income families and the impact of concentrations of low-income families on the ability of local educational agencies to provide educational programs which meet such needs, and

"(2) the special educational needs of children of migrant parents, of Indian children, and of handicapped, neglected, and delinquent children, the Congress declares it to be the policy of the United States to—

"(A) provide financial assistance to State and local educational agencies to meet the special needs of such educationally deprived children at the preschool, elementary, and secondary levels;

"(B) expand the programs authorized by this chapter over the next 5 years by increasing funding for this chapter by at least $264,000,000 over baseline each fiscal year and thereby increasing the percentage of eligible children served in each fiscal year with the intent of serving all eligible children by fiscal year 1993, and

"(C) provide such assistance in a way which eliminates unnecessary administrative burden and paperwork and overly prescriptive regulations and provides flexibility to State and local educational agencies in making educational decisions.

"(b) Statement of Purpose.—The purpose of assistance under this chapter is to improve the educational opportunities of educationally deprived children by helping such children succeed in the regular program of the local educational agency, attain grade-level proficiency, and improve achievement in basic and more advanced skills. These purposes shall be accomplished through such means as supplemental education programs, schoolwide programs, and the increased involvement of parents in their children's education.

"PART A—BASIC PROGRAMS OPERATED BY LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES

"SEC. 1003. BASIC GRANTS.

"(a) Amount of Grants.—

"(1) Grants for Territories.—There is authorized to be appropriated for each fiscal year for the purpose of this paragraph 1 percent of the amount appropriated for such year for payments to States under this section. The amount appropriated pursuant to this paragraph shall be allotted by the Secretary (A) among Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands according to their respective need for grants under this part, and (B) to the Secretary of the Interior in the amount necessary (i) to make payments pursuant to paragraph (1) of subsection (d), and (ii) to make payments pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection (d). The grant which a local educational agency in Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands is eligible to receive shall be determined pursuant to such criteria as the Secretary determines will best carry out the purposes of this chapter.

"(2) Grants for Local Educational Agencies and Puerto Rico.—

"(A) In any case in which the Secretary determines that satisfactory data for that purpose are available, the grant which a local educational agency in a State is eligible to receive under this subpart for a fiscal year shall (except as provided in paragraph (3)) be determined by multiplying the number of children counted under subsection (c) by 45 percent of the amount determined under the next sentence. The amount determined under this sentence shall be the average per pupil expenditure in the State except that (i) if the average per pupil expenditure in the State is more than 80 percent of the average per pupil expenditure in the United States, such amount shall be 80 percent of the average per pupil expenditure in the United States, or (ii) if the average per pupil expenditure in the State is more than 120 percent of the average per pupil expenditure in the United States, such amount shall be 120 percent of the average per pupil expenditure in the United States.

"(B) In any case in which such data are not available, subject to paragraph (3), the grant for any local educational agency in a State shall be determined on the basis of the aggregate amount of such grants for all such agencies in the county or counties in which the school district of the particular agency is located, which aggregate amount shall be equal to the aggregate amount determined under special allocation procedures. —
"(A) Upon determination by the State educational agency that a local educational agency in the State is unable or unwilling to provide for the special educational needs of children described in clause (C) of paragraph (1) of subsection (c), who are living in institutions for neglected or delinquent children, the State educational agency shall, if it assumes responsibility for the special educational needs of such children, be eligible to receive the portion of the allocation to such local educational agency which is attributable to such neglected or delinquent children, but if the State educational agency does not assume such responsibility, any other State or local public agency, as determined by regulations established by the Secretary, which does assume such responsibility, shall be eligible to receive such portion of the allocation.

"(B) In the case of local educational agencies which serve in whole or in part the same geographical area, and in the case of a local educational agency which provides free public education for a substantial number of children who reside in the school district of another local educational agency, the State educational agency may allocate the full amount of the grants for those agencies among them in such manner as it determines will best carry out the purposes of this chapter.

"(C) In any State in which a large number of local educational agencies overlap county boundaries, the State educational agency may apply to the Secretary for authority during any particular fiscal year to make the allocations under this part (other than section 1006) directly to local educational agencies without regard to the counties or may continue to make such allocations if the agency had the authority to do so under chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981. If the Secretary approves an application of a State educational agency for a particular year under this subparagraph, the State educational agency shall provide assurances that such allocations will be made using precisely the same factors for determining a grant as are used under this part and that a procedure will be established through which local educational agencies dissatisfied with the determinations made by the State educational agency may appeal directly to the Secretary for a final determination.

"(4) Definition. —For purposes of this subsection, the term "State" does not include Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

"(b) Minimum Number of Children To Qualify. —A local educational agency shall be eligible for a basic grant for a fiscal year under this subpart only if it meets the following requirements with respect to the number of children counted under subsection (c):

"(1) In any case except as provided in paragraph (3) in which the Secretary determines that satisfactory data for the purpose of this subsection as to the number of such children are available on a school district basis, the number of such children in the school district of such local educational agency shall be at least 10.

"(2) In any other case, except as provided in paragraph (3), the number of such children in the county which includes such local educational agency's school district shall be at least 10.

"(3) In any case in which a county includes a part of the school district of the local educational agency concerned and the Secretary has not determined that satisfactory data for the purpose of this subsection are available on a school district basis for all the local educational agencies or all the counties into which the school district of the local educational agency concerned extends, the eligibility requirement with respect to the number of such children for such local educational agency shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary for the purposes of this subsection.

"(c) Children To Be Counted. —

"(1) Categories of children. —The number of children to be counted for purposes of this section is the aggregate of—

"(a) General Provisions.—

"(1) Subject to subsection (b), a local educational agency shall use funds received under this chapter in school attendance areas having high concentrations of children from low-income families (hereinafter referred to as ‘eligible school attendance areas’), and where funds under this chapter are insufficient to provide programs and projects for all educationally deprived children in eligible school attendance areas, a local educational agency shall annually rank its eligible school attendance areas from highest to lowest within each grade span grouping or for the entire local educational agency, according to relative degree of concentration of children from low-income families. "(2) The same measure of low income, which shall be chosen by the local educational agency on the basis of the best available data and which may be a composite of several indicators, shall be used with respect to all school attendance areas within a grade span grouping or for the entire local educational agency, both to identify the areas having high concentrations of children from low-income families and to determine the ranking of each area.

"(3) The requirements of this subsection shall not apply in the case of a local educational agency with a total enrollment of less than 1,000 children, but this paragraph does not relieve such an agency from the responsibility to serve eligible children according to the provisions of section 1014.

"(2) A local educational agency may designate any school attendance area in which at least 25 percent of the children are from low-income families as an eligible school attendance area if the aggregate amount expended under this chapter and under any other program meeting the requirements of sections 1118(d)(1)(B) and 1118(d)(2)(B) in that fiscal year in each school attendance area of that agency eligible under subsection (a) in which projects assisted under this chapter were carried out in the preceding fiscal year equals or exceeds the amount expended from those sources in that area in such preceding fiscal year if such

Every local educational agency that receives funds under this chapter shall provide parents of participating children with reports on the children's progress, placement, and methods by which parents may become informed, in a timely way, about how the program will be designed, operated, and evaluated, allowing opportunities for parental participation, so that parents and educators can work together to achieve the program's objectives; and

The amounts appropriated for each such subpart shall be allotted among Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands according to the respective need for such grants, based on such criteria as the Secretary determines will best carry out the purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 1292. DUAL ELIGIBILITY FOR PROGRAMS.

Neglected and delinquent children under subpart 3 who are eligible for programs for handicapped children under subpart 2, may be counted under each subpart for purposes of grant determination and may be served under each such program.

PART E—PAYMENTS

SEC. 1101. PAYMENT METHODS.

The Secretary shall, from time to time, pay to each State, in advance or otherwise, the amount which it and the local educational agencies of that State are eligible to receive under this chapter. Such payments shall take into account the extent (if any) to which any previous payment to such State educational agency under this chapter or chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981 (whether or not in the same fiscal year) was greater or less than the amount which should have been paid to it.

SEC. 1102. AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.

From the funds paid to it pursuant to section 1401 each State educational agency shall distribute to each local educational agency of the State which is eligible to receive a grant under this chapter and which has submitted an application approved pursuant to section 1012 the amount for which such application has been approved, and the amount which the local educational agency is eligible to receive under sections 1003 and 1102 except that the amount shall not exceed the amount determined for that local educational agency under this chapter.

SEC. 1103. ADJUSTMENTS WHERE NECESSITATED BY APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) Adjustment Allocation.—If the sums appropriated for any fiscal year for making the payments provided for in this chapter are not sufficient to pay in full the total amounts which all local and State educational agencies are entitled to receive under this chapter for such year, the amount available for each grant to a State agency eligible for a grant under subpart 1, 2, or 3 of part D shall be equal to the total amount of the grant as computed under each such subpart. If the remainder of such sums available after the application of the preceding sentence is not sufficient to pay in full the total amounts which all local educational agencies are entitled to receive under subpart 1 of part A of this chapter for such year, the allocations made to such agencies shall, subject to section 1006(c) and to adjustments under the next sentence, be ratably reduced to the extent necessary to bring the aggregate of such allocations within the limits of the amount so appropriated. The allocation of a local educational agency which would be reduced under the preceding sentence to less than 85 percent of its allocation under subpart 1 of the part A for the preceding fiscal year, shall be increased to such amount, the total of the increases thereby required being derived by proportionately reducing the allocations of the remaining local educational agencies, under the preceding sentence, but with such adjustments as the Secretary determines will best carry out the purposes of this chapter.

(b) Additional Funds Allocation.—(1) If additional funds become available for making payments under this chapter for that year, allocations that were reduced pursuant to subsection (a) shall be increased on the same basis as they were reduced.

(2) In order to permit the most effective use of all appropriations made to carry out this chapter, the Secretary may set dates by which (A) State educational agencies must certify to the Secretary the amounts for which the applications of educational agencies have been or will be approved by the State, and (B) State educational agencies referred to in subpart 1 of part D must file applications. If the maximum grant a local educational agency would receive under any ratable reduction which may have been required under the first sentence of subsection (a) of this section is more than an amount which the Secretary determines will best carry out the purposes of this chapter and in accordance with criteria prescribed by the Secretary which are designed to assure that such excess amounts will be made available to other eligible educational agencies with the greatest need, for the purpose of, where appropriate, redressing inequities inherent in, or mitigating hardships caused by, the application of the provisions of section 1005(a) as a result of such factors as population shifts and changing economic circumstances. In the event excess amounts remain after carrying out the preceding 2 sentences of this section, such excess amounts shall be distributed among the other States as the Secretary shall prescribe for use by local educational agencies in such States for the purposes of this chapter in such manner as the respective State educational agencies shall prescribe.

SEC. 1104. PAYMENTS FOR STATE ADMINISTRATION.

(a) In General.—The Secretary is authorized to pay to each State amounts equal to the amounts expended by it for the orderly and efficient performance of its duties under this chapter (other than section 1021), except that the total of such payments in any fiscal year shall be the greater of the following:

(1) 1 percent of the amount allocated to the State and its local educational agencies and to other State agencies as determined under sections 1012, 1291, and 1292; or

(2) $25,000, or $40,000 in the case of Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

Any excess over such amount shall be used to ratably increase the allocations under subpart 1 of part A of the other local educational agencies whose allocations do not exceed the maximum amount for which the agencies are eligible under section 1005.

"SEC. 142. AVAILABILITY OF APPROPRIATIONS.

"(a) General Provision.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, unless expressly in limitation of this section, funds appropriated in any fiscal year to carry out activities under this chapter shall become available for obligation on July 1 of such fiscal year and shall remain available for obligation until the end of the subsequent fiscal year.

"(b) Carryover and Waiver.—Notwithstanding section 412 of the General Education Provisions Act, subsection (a) or any other provision of law—
"(1) not more than 25 percent of funds appropriated for fiscal year 1989 and 15 percent of funds appropriated for fiscal year 1990 and each subsequent year may remain available for obligation for 1 additional year;

"(2) a State educational agency may grant a 1-time waiver of the percentage limitation under paragraph (1) if the agency determines that the request by a local educational agency is reasonable and necessary or may grant a waiver in any fiscal year in which supplemental appropriations for this chapter become available for obligation; and

"(3) the percentage limitation under paragraph (1) shall not apply with respect to any local educational agency which receives less than $5,000 under this chapter for any fiscal year.

SEC. 133. WITHHOLDING OF PAYMENTS.

"(a) Withholding.—Whenever the Secretary, after reasonable notice to any State educational agency and an opportunity for a hearing on the record, finds that there has been a failure to comply substantially with any assurances required to be given or conditions required to be met under this chapter, the Secretary shall notify such agency of these findings and that beginning 60 days after the date of such notification, further payments will not be made to the State under this chapter, or affected part or subpart thereof, nor to any local educational agency under the part or subpart thereof, nor to any State agencies not affected by the failure, until the Secretary is satisfied that there is no longer any such failure to comply. Until the Secretary is so satisfied, (1) no further payments shall be made to the State under the part or subpart thereof, or (2) payments by the State educational agency under the part or subpart thereof shall be limited to local educational agencies and State agencies not affected by the failure, or (3) payments to particular local educational agencies shall be reduced, as the case may be.

"(b) Notice to Public.—Upon submission to a State of a notice under subsection (a) that the Secretary is withholding payments, the Secretary shall take such action as may be necessary to bring the withholding of payments to the attention of the public within the State.

SEC. 134. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

"(a) Filing Appeals.—If any State is dissatisfied with the Secretary's action under section 1433(a), such State may, within 60 days after notice of such action, file with the United States court of appeals for the circuit in which such State is located a petition for review of that action. A copy of the petition shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the Secretary. The filing of such petition shall act to suspend any withholding of funds by the Secretary pending the judgment of the court and prior to a final action on any review of such judgment. The Secretary thereupon shall file in the court the record of the proceedings on which the Secretary's action was based, as provided in section 2112 of title 28, United States Code.

Allocation of Basic Grants

§§ 200.22-200.25 Allocation of Basic Grants

(a) If the Secretary determines the amount of funds that each LEA in a State is eligible to receive under section 1005(a)(3)(A) of the Act, an SEA shall... allocate that amount to each LEA within the State.

(b) If the Secretary determines county aggregate amounts under section 1005(a)(6)(B) of the Act, the SEA shall allocate county aggregate amounts to LEAs in accordance with §§ 200.23-200.24.

[Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2711(a)]

§ 200.23 How does an SEA allocate county aggregate amounts?

Except as provided in § 200.24, an SEA shall allocate county aggregate amounts to LEAs as follows:

(a) Allocations based on children in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children. (1)(i) Except as provided in paragraphs (a)(2), (3), and (4) of this section the SEA shall first allocate to a particular LEA that portion, if any, of the county aggregate amount that is based on the total number of children aged 5 to 17, inclusive, in the LEA’s school district who resided in a local institution for neglected or delinquent children and were not counted under Subpart 3 of Part D of Chapter 1 (programs for neglected or delinquent children operated by State agencies) for at least 30 consecutive days, at least one day of which was in the month of October of the preceding fiscal year.

(ii) For the purpose of this section, the SEA shall consider children who are in local correctional institutions to be residing in institutions for delinquent children.

(b) Allocations based on the distribution of children from low-income families—(1) General rule. (i) After following the procedures in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, the SEA shall allocate the remaining county aggregate amount of LEAs in the county on the basis of the best available data on the number of children from low-income families in the school districts of those LEAs.

(ii) The SEA shall determine the number of children from low-income families in the school districts of the LEAs in the county by using the same measure of low-income throughout the State.

(iii) In accordance with section 1403(a) of the Act, an LEA’s allocation under paragraphs (a) and (b)(1)(i) of this section may not be less than 85 percent of the allocation it received for the previous fiscal year.

(B) Special circumstances. The SEA shall adjust the allocations for the number of children from low-income families in the school districts of those LEAs.

(2) Special circumstances. The SEA shall adjust the allocations for the number of children from low-income families in the school districts of those LEAs.

(ii) LEAs serving children from another LEA. If an LEA serves a subpart of another LEA’s school district, the SEA shall make an allocation to the LEA in proportion to the proportion of children served by the LEA compared to the LEA’s school district.

(iii) Changes in LEAs. If an LEA’s school district is merged or consolidated, or a portion of the district is transferred to another LEA, the SEA may adjust the allocations between the LEAs in a manner the SEA determines best carry out the purposes of Chapter 1.

(c) Changes in LEAs. If an LEA’s school district is merged or consolidated, or a portion of the district is transferred to another LEA, the SEA may adjust the allocations between the LEAs in a manner the SEA determines best carry out the purposes of Chapter 1.

§ 200.24 Are there exceptions to how an SEA allocates county aggregate amounts?

(a) In any State in which a large number of LEAs overlap county boundaries, the SEA may apply to the Secretary for authority to make allocations directly to LEAs without regard to counties.

(b) If an SEA allocates directly to LEAs under paragraph (a) of this section, the SEA shall use the same factors contained in section 1005(c) of the Act to determine the LEAs’ allocations as the Secretary used to compute county aggregate amounts under section 1005(a)(2)(B) of the Act.

(c) An LEA dissatisfied with the determination by the SEA under this section may appeal directly to the Secretary for a final determination.

[Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2711]

Allocation of Concentration Grants

§ 200.25 How does an SEA allocate concentration grants to an LEA?

(a) General rule. (1) As provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an SEA shall allocate—

(i) Each LEA’s share of the concentration grant funds only to LEAs—

(A) Whose school districts lie, in whole or in part, within the county; and

(B) Which is based on the number of children from low-income families in the school districts of those LEAs.

(ii) In the case of LEAs located in ineligible counties, the SEA may allocate the funds in accordance with the procedures in paragraph (a) or (b)(1)(ii) of this section.

(b) Exceptions. (1)(i) An LEA may reserve not more than 2 percent of the amount of concentration grant funds it receives to make direct payments to LEAs in counties that meet the criteria in § 200.26 and § 200.27 in the school district of each LEA compared to the current number of children in the school districts of all LEAs that are eligible for concentration grants in the county.

(ii) If an SEA allocates directly to LEAs under paragraph (a) of this section, the SEA shall distribute the funds to each LEA that is eligible to receive those funds in proportion to the current number of children counted for purposes of § 200.26 or § 200.27 in the school district of each LEA compared to the current number of children in the school districts of all LEAs that are eligible for concentration grants in the county.

(iii) If an SEA allocates directly to LEAs under paragraph (a) of this section, the SEA shall—

(A) Adjust the allocations for the affected LEAs to reflect the number of children from children from low-income families for whom each LEA is providing a free public education;

(B) Permit an LEA that has submitted an approved application to carry out the project, by itself or in cooperation with another LEA, during the remainder of the fiscal year.

(C) Minimum allocation. The SEA is not required to allocate to an LEA a basic grant of funds under this part generated by fewer than 10 children.

[Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2711, 2322-2323]
(C) Proportionately reduce the amount available for concentration grants for eligible counties or LEAs to provide the reserved amount.

(D) Rank order the LEAs eligible for concentration grant funds that are located in ineligible counties according to the number or percentage of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the preceding fiscal year in each LEA:

(E) Select, in rank order, those LEAs that the SEA plans to provide concentration grant funds: and

(F) Distribute the reserved funds among the selected LEAs in proportion to the current number of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the school district of each LEA compared to the current number of those children in all the school districts of the selected LEAs.

(2) In a county in which no LEA meets the eligibility criteria in § 200.3(c)(1)(iii), the SEA shall—

(i) Identify those LEAs in which either the number or percentage of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the preceding fiscal year exceeds the average number or percentage of those children in the county; and

(ii) Allocate concentration grant funds for the county among the LEAs identified in paragraph (b)(2)(i) of this section in proportion to the current number of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the school district of each LEA compared to the current number of those children in all the school districts of those LEAs.

(3) In a State that receives a minimum concentration grant under section 1006(a)(1)(B) of the Act, the SEA shall—

(i) Allocate concentration grant funds among LEAs in the State in accordance with the provisions in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section; or

(ii) Without regard to the counties in which the LEAs are located—

(A) Identify those LEAs in which either the number or percentage of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the preceding fiscal year exceeds the average number or percentage of those children in the State; and

(B) Allocate concentration grant funds among the LEAs identified in paragraph (b)(3)(ii)(A) of this section in proportion to the current number of children counted for purposes of § 200.23 or § 200.24 in the school district of each LEA compared to the current number of those children in all the school districts of all the LEAs so identified.

(4) Use of concentration grant funds.

(1) An LEA that receives concentration grant funds under this section shall use those funds to carry out activities described in its approved project application under § 200.20.

(2) The LEA is not required to account for concentration grant funds separately from basic grant funds.

[Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2712]

Reallocation

§ 200.28 How does an SEA reallocate funds?

(a) An SEA shall reallocate, on a timely basis, excess Chapter 1 funds provided under §§ 200.22-200.25—

(1) From an LEA that—

(i) Is not participating in the Chapter 1 LEA Program;

(ii) Has had its allocation reduced because it failed to meet the maintenance of effort requirements in § 200.41; and

(iii) Has carryover funds that exceed the percentage limitation in § 200.48; or

(iv) Has excess funds for other reasons;

(2) That the SEA has recovered after determining that an LEA has failed to spend funds received under this part in accordance with applicable law.

(b)(1) An SEA may reallocate excess Chapter 1 funds referred to in paragraph (a) of this section only to LEAs with the greatest need for those funds because of inequities in, or mitigating hardships caused by, application of the allocation formula in section 1006 of the Act.

(b)(2) Factors that may cause inequities in the formula include—

(i) An increase since the most recent decennial census, caused by population shifts or changing economic conditions, in the number of children from low-income families.

(ii) Caseload data used in the allocation formula that are not representative of the number of neglected or delinquent children in local institutions; and

(iii) Other circumstances in which the statutory formula fails to reflect accurately the number or percentage of low-income children.

(c) The SEA shall develop procedures for reallocating excess Chapter 1 funds provided under §§ 200.22-200.25 that include the following three steps:

(1) A determination of which LEAs are eligible to receive additional funds as indicated by the presence of factors such as those in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. An LEA’s eligibility must be based on inequity caused by the allocation formula.

(2) From among the eligible LEAs, a determination of which LEAs have the greatest need for funds. The SEA may consider such factors as—

(i) The degree of increase in the number or percentage of children from low-income families;

(ii) An LEA’s need for additional funds to provide Chapter 1 services to address the unmet needs of eligible Chapter 1 children;

(iii) An establishment of timelines for reallocation.

(d)(1) An SEA may reallocate excess funds only during the Federal fiscal year for which the funds were appropriated or during the succeeding Federal fiscal year.

(2) Reallocation does not extend the period during which the excess funds are available for obligation.

§§ 200.27-200.29 [Reserved]

Subpart D—What Project Requirements Apply to the Chapter 1 LEA Program?

§ 200.30 How does an LEA select school attendance areas to be project areas?

(a) General rule. (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section, an LEA that receives Chapter 1 funds under this part shall conduct Chapter 1 projects in school attendance areas that have high concentrations of children from low-income families.

(b)(1) An LEA shall identify a school attendance area with a high concentration of children from low-income families as an eligible school attendance area if—

(A) The percentage of children from low-income families in that school attendance area is at least as high as the percentage of children from low-income families in the LEA as a whole; or

(B) The number of children from low-income families in that school attendance area is at least as high as the average number of children from low-income families per school attendance area in the LEA as a whole.

(c) In identifying eligible areas, the LEA may use a combination of the procedures in paragraph (a)(2)(i) of this section, except that the total number of eligible school attendance areas may not exceed the number the LEA would have identified as eligible if it had used only one of the methods.

(d)(1) An LEA that has excess funds for other reasons:

(i) May reallocate excess funds to provide Chapter 1 services to address the unmet needs of eligible Chapter 1 children;

(ii) May use a combination of the methods in paragraph (a)(2)(i) of this section, except that the total number of eligible school attendance areas may not exceed the number the LEA would have identified as eligible if it had used only one of the methods.

(iii) If an LEA ranks its school attendance areas by grade span groupings under paragraph (a)(2)(i)(A) of this section, the LEA shall determine the percentage of or average number of children from low-income families in the LEA as a whole for each grade span grouping.

(iv) If fund available under this part are insufficient to provide programs and projects for all educationally deprived... children in eligible school attendance areas, an LEA shall—
(i) Annually rank its eligible school attendance areas from highest to lowest according to relative degree of concentration of children from low-income families. The LEA may rank its school attendance areas—
(A) By grade span groupings; or
(B) For the entire LEA; and
(ii) Based on the needs of educationally deprived children identified under § 200.31(b) and the resources necessary to meet those needs, determine in rank order the number of eligible school attendance areas to be served.
(4) An LEA may carry out a Chapter 1 program or project in an eligible school attendance area only if it carries out a Chapter 1 program or project in all other eligible school attendance areas that are ranked higher under paragraph (a)(3) of this section.
(b) Special rules. Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section, an LEA may identify and rank eligible school attendance areas as follows:
(1) An LEA may designate as eligible and serve all school attendance areas within a grade span grouping or in the entire LEA if the percentage of children from low-income families in each school attendance area is not more than five percentage points above or five percentage points below the average percentage of children from low-income families within a grade span grouping or within the entire LEA.
(2)(i) If the expenditure requirements in paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of this section are met, an LEA may identify the school attendance areas in which at least 25 percent of the children are from low-income families.
(ii) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(2)(ii)(B) of this section, an LEA may use the provision in paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of this section only if, in each school attendance area of the LEA in which Chapter 1 projects were carried out during the preceding year, the aggregate per pupil expenditures of funds available under this part are funds from a State program that meets the requirements of section 101(b)(1)(D) of the Act in the current fiscal year or exceed the aggregate per pupil expenditures from those sources in the preceding fiscal year; provided that each school attendance area qualifies for the amount under the requirements in § 200.33.
(B) An LEA may expend in the current fiscal year in particular school attendance areas less than the aggregate per pupil expenditures required under paragraph (b)(2)(ii)(A) of this section if the LEA determines, under § 200.33 that fewer resources are needed to meet the needs of children selected for participation in those attendance areas.
(3)(i) An LEA may designate a school that serves an ineligible school attendance area or serves more than one school attendance area as an eligible school if the proportion of children from low-income families in average daily attendance in that school is substantially equal to the proportion of children from low-income families in an eligible school attendance area.
(ii) If an LEA designates a school as eligible under paragraph (b)(3)(i) of this section, the LEA shall—
(A) Determine that the school complies with the school attendance area requirements in paragraph (a) of this section; and
(B) At its discretion, apply the special rules for identifying and ranking eligible school attendance areas in paragraph (b) of this section to the school.
(4) With the approval of the SEA, an LEA may designate as eligible and serve a school attendance area with a substantially higher number or percentage of educationally deprived children before school attendance areas with higher concentrations of children from low-income families if—
(i) The LEA does not serve more school attendance areas than could otherwise be served; and
(ii) The SEA determines that the selection of school attendance areas under paragraph (b)(4) of this section will not substantially impair the delivery of services to educationally deprived children from low-income families in project areas served by the LEA.
(5)(i) An LEA may continue to provide for one year Chapter 1 services in a school attendance area that is not eligible or is eligible but not selected under paragraph (a) of this section if that school attendance area was eligible and selected under the standards in paragraph (a) of this section in the immediately preceding year.
(ii) A school attendance area that continues to be served under paragraph (b)(5)(i) of this section may take the place of the lowest ranked but otherwise eligible school attendance area.
(6) With the approval of the SEA, an LEA may skip eligible school attendance areas that have higher proportions of children from low-income families if the children in those attendance areas are receiving, from non-Federal funds, services of the same nature and scope as would otherwise be provided under Chapter 1, except that the LEA shall—
(i) Determine the number of children in private elementary and secondary schools to receive Chapter 1 services without regard to non-Federal compensatory education funds used to serve eligible children in public elementary and secondary schools; and
(ii) Identify children in private schools to receive Chapter 1 services in accordance with the requirements in paragraphs (a) and (b) (1)(5) of this section.
(c) Exemptions. An LEA does not have to comply with the requirements in this section but shall comply with the requirements in § 200.31 if the LEA has—
(1) A total enrollment of fewer than 1,000 children; or
(2) No more than one school attendance area at each grade span.

Authority: 20 U.S.C. 722(b)-(ii)
§ 200.31 How does an LEA identify and select children to participate?
(a) General rule. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section and § 200.33, an LEA shall use funds available under this part only for educationally deprived children, identified under paragraph (b) of this section as having the greatest need for special assistance, in school attendance areas or schools selected under § 200.30.
(b) Annual assessment of educational needs. An LEA that receives funds under this part shall annually assess educational needs under this part as follows:
(1) Identify educationally deprived children, as defined in § 200.3(c), in all eligible school attendance areas, including educationally deprived children in private schools.
(2) On the basis of information obtained under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, including information concerning educationally deprived children in private schools, identify the general instructional areas and grade levels on which the program will focus. Instructional areas and grade levels may vary among and within school attendance areas if the needs assessment data support those variations.
(3) Establish educationally related objective criteria, which include written or oral testing instruments, for each grade level and instructional area to select educationally deprived children.
for participation in the Chapter 1 project.

(4) Uniformly apply the criteria required in paragraph (b)(3) of this section to particular grade levels throughout the LEA.

(5) Select for services those educationally deprived children who have the greatest need for special assistance.

(6) Determine —

(i) The special educational needs of participating children with sufficient specificity to ensure concentration on those needs; and

(ii) The resources such as personnel, instructional materials, and library resources necessary to meet those special educational needs.

(c) Special rules. In selecting children to participate in Chapter 1, an LEA may implement the following provisions:

(1) An LEA may use funds available under this part during the current school year to continue to serve educationally deprived children who begin participation in a Chapter 1 project but who, in the same school year, are transferred to a school attendance area or a school not receiving funds under this part.

(2) An LEA may skip educationally deprived children in greatest need of special assistance if those children are receiving, from non-Federal sources, services of the same nature and scope as would otherwise be provided under Chapter 1.

(3) An LEA may use funds available under this part to serve, for a maximum of two additional years, children who were identified in the previous year as being in greatest need for special assistance and who continue to be educationally deprived but are no longer in greatest need of special assistance.

(4) An LEA shall consider as eligible and may serve children who, at any time in the previous two years, received services under the Chapter 1 Program for Neglected or Delinquent Children.

(5)(i) An LEA may identify as eligible and serve under this part children receiving services to overcome handicapping conditions or limited English proficiency if these children—

(A) Have needs stemming from educational deprivation and not needs related solely to their handicapping conditions or limited English proficiency; and

(B) Are selected on the same basis as other children identified as eligible for and selected to receive services under paragraph (b) of this section.

(ii) In identifying and selecting limited English proficient children for participation in the Chapter 1 LEA Program, an LEA shall—

(A) For children with sufficient English language proficiency, use tests written in the English language, with or without bilingual assistance; or

(B) For children whose lack of English language proficiency precludes valid assessment in the English language, use factors such as teacher evaluation of student performance, language dominance tests in combination with other measures, or other indicators that may be used separately, as a composite score, or as a composite with weighting, to select children on a basis other than English language deficiency.

(6) To provide a comprehensive range of services that are required by Federal, State, or local law to overcome children's handicapping conditions or limited English proficiency.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2724)

$200.32 What are the size, scope, and quality requirements of a project?

An LEA shall use funds available under this part for a project that is of sufficient size, scope, and quality to give reasonable promise of substantial progress toward meeting the special educational needs of the children being served.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2722(e)(1))

$200.33 How does an LEA allocate resources to project areas and schools?

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an LEA shall allocate resources available under this part among project areas and schools on the basis of—

(1) The number and needs of children selected for participation under §200.31;

(2) The degree of educational deprivation of these children; and

(3) The services to be provided.

(b) For the sole purpose of allocating resources available under this part among project areas and schools under paragraph (a) of this section, an LEA may continue to count, for two additional years, children in those areas and schools who—

(1) Received Chapter 1 services in the preceding school year but

(2) No longer eligible for services because of improved academic achievement attributable to the Chapter 1 services.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2722(e)(i))

$200.34 How does an LEA involve parents?

(a) General rule. (1) An LEA may receive funds under this part only if it implements programs, activities, and procedures for the involvement of parents of participating public and private school children. This involvement must include, but is not limited to, parent input into the planning, design, and implementation of the Chapter 1 LEA Program.

(2)(i) The activities and procedures required under paragraph (a)(1) of this section must be planned and implemented with the meaningful consultation of parents of participating children.

(ii) The consultation required in paragraph (a)(2)(i) of this section and in other sections in this part must be organized, systematic, ongoing, informed, and timely in relation to decisions about the program.

(3) The activities and procedures for the involvement of parents must be of sufficient size, scope, and quality to give reasonable promise of substantial progress toward achieving the goals under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Goals of parental involvement. To meet the requirements in paragraph (a)(2) of this section, an LEA shall, in coordination with parents of participating children, develop programs, activities, and procedures that have the following goals:

(1) To inform parents of participating children of the—

(i) Reasons their children are participating in the program; and

(ii) Specific instructional objectives and methods of the program.

(2) To support the efforts of parents, including training parents, to the maximum extent practicable, to—

(i) Work with their children in the home to attain the instructional objectives of the program; and

(ii) Understand the program requirements.

(3) To train parents, teachers, and principals to build a partnership between home and school.

(4) To train teachers, principals, and other staff members involved in the Chapter 1 LEA Program to work effectively with the parents of participating children.

literacy skills or whose native language is not English.

c) Specific requirements. An LEA shall implement the following activities:

Examples: An LEA provides Chapter 1 services during the 1989-90 school year. The LEA measures the gains made by participating children on a spring testing cycle (spring of 1989, 1990). To determine whether improved performance is sustained over a period of more than 12 months, the LEA measures performance again in the spring of 1991.

The LEA shall report its evaluation results to the SEA at least once during each three-year application cycle.

(b) SEA evaluations. (1) An SEA shall evaluate, at least every two years, the Chapter 1 programs in the State on the basis of the local evaluations conducted under paragraph (a) of this section and sections 1107, 1202(a)(6), and 1242(d) of the Act.

§ 200.36 What are the requirements for schoolwide projects?

(a) Eligibility for a schoolwide project. An LEA may conduct a Chapter 1 project to upgrade the entire educational program in a school if the following requirements are met:

(1) The school serves an eligible attendance area or is an eligible school in accordance with § 200.30.

(2) For the first year of the three-year project period the LEA determines, using the same measure of low income used to identify rank school attendance areas under § 200.30(c), that at least 75 percent of the children residing in the school attendance area or enrolled in the school are from low-income families.

(3) The LEA develops a plan for the school:

(i) Meets the requirements in paragraph (b) of this section and

(ii) Has been approved by the SEA.

(4) The LEA meets the fiscal requirements in paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Required plan. The plan required under paragraph (a)(3) of this section must—

(1) Provide for a comprehensive assessment of the educational needs of all students in the school, particularly the special needs of educationally deprived children;

(2) Establish goals to—

(i) Meet the special needs of all students; and

(ii) Ensure that educationally deprived children are—

(A) Served effectively; and

(B) Demonstrate performance gains that are comparable to the performance gains of other students;

(3) Describe the instructional program, pupil services, and procedures to be used to implement the goals of the schoolwide project;

(4) Describe the specific uses of funds available under this part to the schoolwide project;

(5) If appropriate, describe how the school will move to implement an effective schools program in the school according to paragraph (b)(3) of this section;

(6) Conduct a schoolwide project who was natives of the school participating in the schoolwide project, consistent with the comparability requirements in § 200.43.

(c) Fiscal requirements. An LEA that uses funds available under this part to conduct a schoolwide project shall meet the following fiscal requirements:

(1)(i) In each fiscal year with one or more schoolwide projects and one or more other schools serving project areas, the LEA shall provide for each schoolwide project an amount of funds made available under this part that, for each educationally deprived child, equals or exceeds the amount of funds made available under this part that the LEA provides for all educationally deprived child served in other project schools.

(ii) The number of children in the schoolwide project below the highest ranked child served in other project schools in the LEA.

(iii) All children meeting the definition of "educationally deprived children" in § 200.43.

(2) The LEA shall allocate to a schoolwide project an amount of funds made available under this part that is sufficient to ensure that the project is of sufficient size, scope, and quality to give reasonable promise of substantial progress toward meeting the special educational needs of the educationally deprived children served.

(2)(i) Except as provided in paragraph (c)(2)(ii) of this section, during each fiscal year in which a schoolwide project is carried out, the LEA shall, in each schoolwide project, spend per child an amount of State and local funds—excluding amounts spent under a compensatory program as defined in § 200.45[(c)]—and special supplementary State and local funds required under Chapter 1 of the ECIA for each child in a schoolwide project who was not educationally deprived—that is at least equal to the amount of State and local funds the LEA spent per child in that school during the preceding fiscal year.

(ii) The LEA shall include for each fiscal year the cost of services for State and local programs under § 200.43(13) only in proportion to the number of children served by these programs in the school in the year for which the determinations are made.

(3) The LEA shall ensure that funds made available under this part for a schoolwide project only supplement, and to the extent practical, increase the level of funds that would, in the absence of funds under this part, be made available from non-Federal sources for the school.

(4) The LEA shall comply with the comparability requirements in § 200.43.

(D) Improving coordination between programs assisted under Chapter 1 and the regular school program; and

(E) Developing innovative strategies to enhance parental involvement.

§ 200.38: What are an SEA’s responsibilities for program improvement?

(a) SEA program improvement plan.

(1) An SEA shall develop, in consultation with the committee of practitioners under § 200.70(e), a plan to ensure implementation of the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and § 200.38.

(2) The SEA’s plan must contain, but is not limited to, the following:

(i) A description of how the LEA will carry out the strategies selected.

(ii) The timetable for developing and implementing a joint plan with an LEA.

(iii) In accordance with § 200.38(b)(6), the timetable for developing and implementing a joint plan with an LEA.

(iv) The program improvement assistance to be provided to a school identified under § 200.38(b)(6), which may include, but is not limited to—

(A) Training and retraining personnel;

(B) Developing curricula that have shown promise in similar schools;

(C) Exploring promising practices in effective schools models;

(D) Improving coordination between programs assisted under Chapter 1 and the regular school program; and

(E) Developing innovative strategies
to enhance parental involvement.

§ 200.38: What are an SEA’s responsibilities for program improvement?

(a) Local review. For each project school, an LEA shall—

(1) Conduct an annual review of the effectiveness of its Chapter 1 project in improving student performance as measured by aggregate performance and the desired outcomes described in the LEA’s application; and

(ii) Make the results of the review available to teachers, parents of participating children, and other appropriate parties, including principals of schools attended by Chapter 1 children:

(2) Determine whether improved performance is sustained over a period of more than 12 months as required by § 200.38(b)(6)(iv)(C); and

(3) Use the results of the review and the LEA’s evaluation under section 1019 of the Act in program improvement efforts required by paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) School program improvement. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(4) of this section, an LEA shall implement the requirements in paragraph (b)(2) of this section with respect to each school that—

(i) Does not show substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes described in the LEA’s application; or

(ii) (A) Shows no improvement or a decline in aggregate performance of participating children for a 12-month period. No improvement or a decline in aggregate performance occurs if participating children, in the aggregate, in the school fail to make gains beyond that which they would be expected to make in the absence of the additional help the program provided.

(B) (1) Unless the conditions in paragraph (b)(1)(ii)(B)(2) of this section exist, the LEA is only required to determine the aggregate performance of a school in the instructional area that is the primary focus of the Chapter 1 LEA Program in that school.

(ii) If the Chapter 1 LEA Program in that school addresses two or more instructional areas with relatively equal emphasis, the LEA shall determine aggregate performance in each area.

(2) For each school identified under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the LEA shall develop and implement, in coordination with the school, a plan for program improvement that—

(i) Describes how the LEA will identify and modify Chapter 1 programs for each school and its participating children under this section:

(ii) Incorporates those program changes that have the greatest likelihood of improving the performance of educationally deprived children, including—

(A) A description of educational strategies designed to achieve the LEA’s desired outcomes or otherwise to improve the performance and meet the needs of participating children:

(B) A description of the resources, and how those resources will be applied, to carry out the strategies selected.

(iii) Qualified personnel:

(2) Inservice training:
implement a staff training program during the 1988-89 school year in preparation for full implementation of the plan in September 1990.

(a) If, after the LEA's plan has been in effect for one full school year, the school is still identified as needing improvement under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the LEA shall, with the SEA, develop and implement a joint plan for program improvement in the school.

(ii) The joint plan must—

(A) Be developed and implemented in consultation with school staff and parents of participating children; and

(B) Be approved by both the SEA and LEA before the plan may be implemented.

(iii) (A) The joint plan must be fully implemented as soon as possible but no later than the beginning of the second school year after the full school year during which the LEA's plan under paragraph (b)(2)-(5) of this section was in effect.

(B) If full implementation of the joint plan requires the maximum time allowed under paragraph (b)(6)(iii)(A) of this section, the SEA and LEA shall implement portions of the plan as soon as possible.

(iv) If the SEA finds that, after the joint plan has been in effect for one full school year, a school continues to need improvement under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the SEA, with the LEA, shall—

(A) Review the plan;

(B) Make revisions that are designed to improve performance; and

(C) Continue to review and revise the joint plan by the next school year until improved performance is sustained over a period of more than 12 months.

(v) Nothing in this section or 200.37 shall be construed to give the SEA any authority concerning the educational program of an LEA that does not otherwise exist under State law.

Example: If the LEA and SEA determined that a school during the 1988-89 school year, had a decline in aggregate performance. The LEA must develop and fully implement a school improvement plan in that school as soon as possible but no later than September 1990. For example, if the necessary changes could be accomplished quickly, such as contracting readily available materials or equipment, the LEA would be able to implement its plan by September 1990. On the other hand, if the needed changes require a complete redesign of the LEA's project, the LEA might not be able to implement the plan before September 1990. In this case, the LEA must implement portions of the plan as soon as possible. For example, the LEA develops and implements a staff training program during the 1988-89 school year in preparation for full implementation of the plan in September 1990.
(v) Identifying a school that continues to need program improvement under paragraph (b)(6) of this section.

(d) Student program improvement. On the basis of the evaluation under section 1019 of the Act and local reviews under paragraph (a) of this section, an LEA shall—

(1) Identify all students who have been served for a school year and—

(i) Have not shown substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes established for participating children under § 200.20(a)(4); or

(ii) Whose performance show no improvement or a decline;

(2) Consider modifications in the LEA's Chapter 1 project to serve those students better;

(3) Conduct a thorough assessment of the educational needs of children who remain in the LEA's Chapter 1 project after two consecutive years of participation and—

(i) Have not shown substantial progress toward meeting the desired outcomes established for participating children under § 200.20(a)(4); or

(ii) Whose performance shows no improvement or a decline; and

(4) If appropriate, use the results of that needs assessment to modify the Chapter 1 project to meet the children's needs.

(e) Private school children. Program improvement and student improvement activities under this section must include participating children in private schools in accordance with section 1017 of the Act.

(f) Effective date. An LEA shall begin identifying schools and students in need of program improvement based on information gathered before or during the 1988-89 school year.

(g) Technical assistance centers. In carrying out the program improvement and student improvement activities under this section, an LEA and SEA shall utilize the resources of the regional technical assistance centers and appropriate regional and local assistance programs established under section 1456 of the Act to the fullest extent those resources are available.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2723)

§ 200.49 What is the prohibition against using funds under this part to provide general aid?

An LEA may use funds available under this part only for projects that are designed and implemented to meet the special educational needs of educationally deprived children who are—

(a) Identified and selected in accordance with § 200.31; and

(b) Included in the LEA's application that has been approved by the SEA.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2272(a), 2722(b), 2724)

§ 200.41 What maintenance of effort requirements apply to this program?

(a) [1] Basic standard. Except as provided in § 200.42, and LEA may receive its full allocation of funds under this part if the LEA funds that either the combined fiscal effort per student or the aggregate expenditures of State and local funds with respect to the provision of free public education in the LEA for the preceding fiscal year was not less than 90 percent of the combined fiscal effort per student or the aggregate expenditures for the preceding fiscal year.

(2) In determining maintenance of effort for the fiscal year immediately following the fiscal year in which the LEA failed to maintain effort, the SEA shall consider the LEA's fiscal effort for the second preceding fiscal year to be no less than 90 percent of the combined fiscal effort per student or aggregate expenditures (using the measure most favorable to the LEA) for the second preceding fiscal year.

(b) Failure to maintain effort. (1) If an LEA fails to maintain effort and a waiver under § 200.42 is not granted, the SEA shall reduce the LEA's allocation of funds under this part in the exact proportion by which the LEA fails to meet 90 percent of both the combined fiscal effort per student and aggregate expenditures (using the measure most favorable to the LEA) for the second preceding fiscal year.

(2) In determining maintenance of effort for the fiscal year immediately following the fiscal year in which the LEA failed to maintain effort, the SEA shall consider the LEA's fiscal effort for the second preceding fiscal year to be no less than 90 percent of the combined fiscal effort per student or aggregate expenditures (using the measure most favorable to the LEA) for the third preceding fiscal year.

Example: For funds first made available on July 1, 1985, if a State is using the Federal fiscal year, the preceding fiscal year is Federal fiscal year 1988 (which began on October 1, 1987) and the second preceding fiscal year is Federal fiscal year 1989 (which began on October 1, 1988). If a State is using a fiscal year that begins on July 1, 1989, the preceding fiscal year is the 12-month period ending on June 30, 1988 and the second preceding fiscal year is the period ending on June 30, 1987.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C.2728(n)(3))

(b) An LEA with not in more than one school attendance area f e each grade span is not required to meet the comparability requirements in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c)(1) An LEA shall be considered to have met the comparability requirements in paragraph (a) of this section if it either—

(i) Files with the SEA a written assurance that it has established and implemented—

(A) A districtwide salary schedule;

(B) A policy to ensure equivalence among schools in teachers, administrators, and auxiliary personnel; and

(C) A policy to ensure equivalence among schools in the provision of curriculum materials and instructional supplies; or

(ii) Establishes and implements other measures for determining compliance such as the following:

(A) Compares the average number of students per instructional staff in each project school with the average number of students per instructional staff in schools not participating in programs under this part. A project school is comparable if its average does not exceed 110 percent of the average of schools not participating in programs under this part.

(B) Compares the average instructional staff salary expenditure per student in each project school with the average instructional staff salary expenditure per student in schools not participating in programs under this part. A project school is comparable if its average is at least 90 percent of the average of schools not participating in programs under this part.

(2) In determining compliance with the comparability requirements in this section, an LEA is not required to provide services under this part through use of a particular instructional method or in a particular instructional setting.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 2728(b). (d))

§ 200.45 How may an LEA exclude special State and local funds from comparability and supplement, not supplant determinations?

(a) General rule. (1) For the purpose of determining compliance with the comparability requirements in § 200.43 and the supplement, not supplant requirement in § 200.44, an LEA may exclude State and local funds spent in carrying out the following types of programs:

(i) Special State programs designed to meet the educational needs of educationally deprived children, including compensatory education for educationally deprived children, that the Secretary has determined in advance under paragraph (b) of this section meet the requirements in section 1018(d)(1)(B) of the Act.

(ii) Special local programs designed to meet the educational needs of educationally deprived children, including compensatory education for educationally deprived children, that the SEA has determined in advance under paragraph (c) of this section meet the requirements in section 1018(d)(1)(B) of the Act.

(2) For the purpose of determining compliance with the comparability requirements in § 200.43 only, an LEA may also exclude State and local funds.
§ 200.46 What is the maximum amount of funds an LEA may carry over?
(a) Limitation on carryover. The amount of funds allocated to an LEA under §§ 200.22–200.25 that remains available for obligation for one additional year under section 412(b) of GEPA is limited to—
(1) No more than 25 percent of the funds allocated to the LEA from the Federal fiscal year 1989 appropriation (allocated to the LEA for the period July 1, 1989–September 30, 1989); and
(2) No more than 15 percent of the funds allocated to the LEA from the Federal fiscal year 1990 appropriation (allocated to the LEA for the period July 1, 1990–September 30, 1990) and each subsequent year's appropriation.
(b) Exceptions. (1) The percentage limitations in paragraph (a) of this section do not apply to an LEA that receives less than $50,000 under §§ 200.22–200.25 for any fiscal year.
(2) An SEA may grant an LEA a waiver of the percentage limitations in paragraph (a) of this section if—
(i) The SEA determines, on a one-time basis, that the LEA's request for the waiver is reasonable and necessary; or
(ii) A supplemental Chapter 1 appropriation becomes available for obligation in any fiscal year.

§ 200.47 What is the prohibition against considering payments under this part in determining State aid?
A State may not take into consideration payments under this part in determining State aid.

§ 200.48 What are the requirements for consultation with private school officials?
(a) An LEA shall consult with appropriate private school officials—
(1) During all phases of the design and development of the LEA's Chapter 1 project, including consideration of—

Such report shall contain recommendations for revisions to Federal laws which the Secretary finds are imposing undue burdens on educational agencies and institutions, and such recommendations shall not be subject to any review by any Federal agency outside the Department.

(f)(1) The Secretary is authorized to make grants from sums appropriated pursuant to this subsection to State educational agencies, including State agencies responsible for postsecondary education, for the development or improvement of education management information systems.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION

Sec. 405. (a)(1) The Congress hereby declares it to be the policy of the United States to provide to every person an equal opportunity to receive an education of high quality regardless of his race, color, religion, sex, age, handicap, national origin, or social class. Although the American educational system has pursued this objective, it has not yet attained that objective.

Inequalities of opportunity to receive high quality education remain pronounced. To achieve quality will require far more dependable knowledge about the processes of learning and education than now exists or can be expected from present research and experimentation in this field. While the direction of the education system remains primarily the responsibility of State and local governments the Federal Government has a clear responsibility to provide leadership in the conduct and support of scientific inquiry into the educational process.

(2) The Congress further declares it to be the policy of the United States to—

(i) help to solve or to alleviate the problems of, and promote the reform and renewal of American education;

(ii) advance the practice of education, as an art, science, and profession;

(iii) strengthen the scientific and technological foundations of education; and

(iv) build an effective educational research and development system.

(b)(1) In order to carry out the policy set forth in subsection (a), there is established the National Institute of Education (hereinafter referred to as the "Institute") which shall consist of a National Council on Educational Research (referred to in this section as the "Council") and a Director of the Institute (hereinafter referred to as the "Director"). The Institute shall have only such authority as may be vested therein by this section.

(2) The Institute shall, in accordance with the provisions of this section, seek to improve education in the United States through concentrating the resources of the Institute on the following priority research and development needs—

(A) improvement in student achievement in the basic educational skills, including reading and mathematics;

(B) overcoming problems of finance, productivity, and management in educational institutions;

(C) improving the ability of schools to meet their responsibilities to provide equal educational opportunities for students of limited English-speaking ability, women, and students who are socially, economically, or educationally disadvantaged;

(D) preparation of youths and adults for entering and progressing in careers;

(E) overcoming the special problems of the nontraditional student, including the older student (with special consideration for students over age 45) and the part-time student, and the institution which the student attends;

(F) encouraging the study of languages and cultures and addressing both national and international education concerns; and

(G) improved dissemination of the results of, and knowledge gained from, educational research and development, including assistance to educational agencies and institutions in the application of such results and knowledge.

In carrying out this paragraph, the Institute shall give attention to the needs of early adolescents and the schools which serve them.

(c)(1) The Council shall consist of fifteen members appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the Director, and such other ex officio members who are officers of the United States as the President may designate. A majority of the members of the Council (including ex officio members) shall constitute a quorum. The Chairman of the Council shall be designated from among its appointed members by the President. Ex officio members shall not have a vote on the Council. The members of the Council shall be appointed so that the Council shall be broadly representative of the general public, including practitioners and researchers, and of the various fields of education, including preschool, elementary and secondary, postsecondary, continuing, vocational, special, and compensatory education.

(2) The term of office of the members of the Council (other than ex officio members) shall be three years, except that (A) the members first taking office shall serve as designated by the President, five for terms of three years, five for terms of two years, and five for terms of one year, (B) any member appointed to fill a vacancy shall serve for the remainder of the term for which his predecessor was appointed, and (C) the term of office of each member shall expire on September 30 of the year in which such term would otherwise expire, unless a successor to such member has not been appointed and confirmed by the Senate by such date, in which case such member shall continue to serve until a successor has been appointed and confirmed. Any appointed member who has been a member of the Council for six consecutive years shall thereafter be ineligible for appointment to the Council during the two-year period following the expiration of such sixth year.

(3) The Council shall—

(A) establish general policies for, and review the conduct of, the Institute;

(B) advise the Assistant Secretary and the Director of the Institute on development of programs to be carried out by the Institute;

(C) present to the Assistant Secretary and the Director such recommendations as it may deem appropriate for the strengthening of educational research, the improvement of methods of collecting and disseminating the findings of educational research and of insuring the implementation of educational renewal and reform based upon the findings of educational research;

(D) conduct such studies as may be necessary to fulfill its functions under this section;

(E) prepare an annual report to the Assistant Secretary on the current status and needs of educational research in the United States;

(F) submit an annual report to the President on the activities of the Institute, and on education and educational research in general, (i) which shall include such recommendations and comments as the Council may deem appropriate, and (ii) shall be submitted to the Congress not later than March 31 of each year; and

Projects and activities funded under this paragraph may include cooperative and jointly funded arrangements for such dissemination utilizing individuals who may be designated as "Education Extension Agents." Employment opportunities at the local level which are generated and funded through projects and activities carried out under the preceding sentence of this paragraph shall be made available to residents of the area to be served, if any such residents are qualified for, and apply for, such employment.

(3) The Director may establish and maintain research fellowships in the Institute, with such stipends and allowances, including travel and subsistence expenses, as the Director may deem necessary to procure the assistance of highly qualified research fellows from the United States and abroad.

Not less than 30 per centum of the funds appropriated pursuant to subsection (b) for any fiscal year shall be expended to carry out this section through grants or contracts with qualified public or private agencies and individuals.

(5) The Director may appoint, for terms not to exceed three years, without regard to the provisions of title 5 of the United States Code governing appointment in the competitive service and with the approval of the Council, such technical or professional employees of the Institute as he deems necessary to accomplish its functions and also appoint and compensate without regard to such provisions not to exceed one-fifth of the number of full-time, regular technical or professional employees of the Institute.

(3) No regional educational laboratory or research and development center receiving assistance under this subsection shall by reason of the receipt of such assistance be ineligible to receive any other assistance from the Institute authorized by law.

(4)(A) There is established within the Institute a Federal Council on Educational Research and Development (hereinafter in this subsection referred to as the "Federal Council").

(B) The Federal Council shall be composed of representatives of Federal agencies engaged in research and development relating to education, and shall include, but not be limited to, a representative designated by the Secretary of Defense, a representative designated by the Secretary of Labor, the Director of the National Institutes of Education, the Director of the National Institute of Health, the Director of the National Science Foundation, the Director of the Office of Child Development of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and the Commissioner of Education.

(f) The Secretary, or an administrative head of an educational agency, shall take appropriate actions to enforce provisions of this section and to deal with violations of this section, according to the provisions of this Act, except that action to terminate assistance may be taken only if the Secretary finds there has been a failure to comply with the provisions of this section, and he has determined that compliance cannot be secured by voluntary means.

(g) The Secretary shall establish or designate an office and review board within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of investigating, processing, reviewing, and adjudicating violations of the provisions of this section and complaints which may be filed concerning alleged violations of this section. Such a refusal shall also not constitute sufficient grounds for a denial of a request to consider, or a delay in the consideration of, funding for such a recipient in succeeding fiscal years. In the case of any dispute arising under this section, reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing shall be afforded the applicant.

(b) The extension of Federal financial assistance to a local educational agency may not be limited, deferred, or terminated by the Secretary on the ground of noncompliance with title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 or any other nondiscrimination provision of Federal law unless such agency is accorded the right of due process of law, which shall include—

2. the opportunity for a hearing on the record before a duly appointed administrative law judge within a 60-day period (unless such period is extended by mutual consent of the Secretary and such agency) from the commencement of any deferral;
3. the conclusion of such hearing and the rendering of a decision on the merits by the administrative law judge within a period not to exceed 90 days from the commencement of such hearing, unless the judge finds by a decision that such hearing cannot be concluded or such decision cannot be rendered within such period, in which case such judge may extend such period for not to exceed 60 additional days;
4. the limitation of any deferral of Federal financial assistance which may be imposed by the Secretary to a period not to exceed 15 days after the rendering of such decision unless there has been an express finding on such record that such agency has failed to comply with any such nondiscrimination provision of Federal law; and
5. procedures, which shall be established by the Secretary, to ensure the availability of sufficient funds, without regard to any fiscal year limitations, to comply with the decision of such judge.

(c) It shall be unlawful for the Secretary to defer or limit any Federal financial assistance on the basis of any failure to comply with the imposition of quotas (or any other numerical requirements which have the effect of imposing quotas) on the student admission practices of an institution of higher education or community college receiving Federal financial assistance.

"(c) The judges shall be officers or employees of the Department. The judges shall meet the requirements imposed for administrative law judges pursuant to section 3105 of title 5, United States Code. In choosing among equally qualified candidates for such positions the Secretary shall give favorable consideration to the candidates' experience in State or local educational agencies and their knowledge..."
edge of the workings of Federal education programs in such agencies. The Secretary shall designate one of the judges of the Office to be the chief judge.

"(d) For the purposes of conducting hearings described in subsection (a), the chief judge shall assign a judge to each case or class of cases. A judge shall be disqualified in any case in which the judge has a substantial interest, has been of counsel, is or has been a material witness, or is so related to or connected with any party or the party’s attorney as to make it improper for the judge to be assigned to the case.

"(e) The judge shall review and may require that evidence be taken on the sufficiency of the preliminary departmental determination as set forth in section 452.

"(f)(1) The proceedings of the Office shall be conducted according to such rules as the Secretary shall prescribe by regulation in conformance with the rules relating to hearings in title 5, United States Code, sections 554 and 555.

"(2) The provisions of title 5, United States Code, section 504, relating to costs and fees of parties, shall apply to the proceedings before the Department.

"(g)(1) In order to secure a fair, expeditious, and economical resolution of cases and where the judge determines that the discovered information is likely to elicit relevant information with respect to an issue in the case, is not sought primarily for the purposes of delay or harassment, and would serve the ends of justice, the judge may order a party to—

"(A) produce relevant documents;

"(B) answer written interrogatories that inquire into relevant matters; and

"(C) have depositions taken.

The judge shall set a time limit of 90 days on the discovery period. The judge may extend this period for good cause shown. At the request of any party, the judge may establish a specific schedule for the conduct of discovery.

"(2) In order to carry out the provisions of subsections (f)(1) and (g)(1), the judge is authorized to issue subpoenas and apply to the appropriate court of the United States for enforcement of a subpoena. The court may enforce the subpoena as if it were a proceeding before that court.

"(h) The Secretary shall establish a process for the voluntary mediation of disputes pending before the Office. The mediator shall be agreed to by all parties involved in mediation and shall be independent of the parties to the dispute. In the mediation of disputes the Secretary shall consider mitigating circumstances and proportion of harm pursuant to section 453. In accordance with rule 408 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, evidence of conduct or statements made in compromise negotiations shall not be admissible in proceedings before the Office. Mediation shall be limited to 120 days, except that the mediator may grant extensions of such period.

"(i) The Secretary shall employ, assign, or transfer sufficient professional personnel, including judges of the Office, to ensure that all matters brought before the Office may be dealt with in a timely manner.

SEC. 452. RECOVERY OF FUNDS.

"(a)(1) Whenever the Secretary determines that a recipient of a grant or cooperative agreement under an applicable program must return funds because the recipient has made an expenditure of funds that is not allowable under that grant or cooperative agreement, or has otherwise failed to discharge its obligation to account properly for funds under the grant or cooperative agreement, the Secretary shall give the recipient written notice of a preliminary departmental decision and notify the recipient of its right to have that decision reviewed by the Office and of its right to request mediation.

"(2) In a preliminary departmental decision, the Secretary shall have the burden of stating a prima facie case for the recovery of funds. The facts to serve as the basis of the preliminary departmental decision may come from an audit report, an investigative report, a monitoring report, or other evidence. The amount of funds to be recovered shall be determined on the basis of section 453.

"(3) For the purpose of paragraph (2), failure by a recipient to maintain records required by law, or to allow the Secretary access to such records, shall constitute a prima facie case.

"(b)(1) A recipient that has received written notice of a preliminary departmental decision and that desires to have such decision reviewed by the Office shall submit to the Office an application for review not later than 30 days after receipt of notice of the preliminary departmental decision. The application shall be in the form and contain the information specified by the Office. As expeditiously as possible, the Office shall return to the Secretary for such action as the Secretary considers appropriate any preliminary departmental decision which the Office determines does not meet the requirements of subsection (a)(2).

"(2) In cases where the preliminary departmental decision requests a recovery of funds from a State recipient, that State recipient may not recover funds from an affected local educational agency unless that State recipient has—

"(A) transmitted a copy of the preliminary departmental decision to any affected subrecipient within 10 days of the date that the State recipient in a State administered program received such written notice; and

"(B) consulted with each affected subrecipient to determine whether the State recipient should submit an application for review under paragraph (1).

"(3) In any proceeding before the Office under this section, the burden shall be upon the recipient to demonstrate that it should not be required to return the amount of funds for which recovery is sought in the preliminary departmental decision under subsection (a).

"(c) A hearing shall be set 90 days after receipt of a request for review of a preliminary departmental decision by the Office, except that such 90-day requirement may be waived at the discretion of the judge for good cause.

"(d) Upon review of a decision of the Office by the Secretary, the findings of fact by the Office, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. However, the Secretary, for good cause shown, may remand the case to the Office to take further evidence, and the Office may thereupon make new or modified findings of fact and may modify its previous action. Such new or modified findings of fact shall likewise be conclusive if supported by substantial evidence.
"(e) Parties to the proceeding shall have 30 days to file a petition for review of a decision of the administrative law judges with the Office of the Secretary.

"(f) If a recipient submits a timely application for review of a preliminary departmental decision, the Secretary shall take no collection action until the decision of the Office upholding the preliminary Department decision becomes final agency action.

"(g) A decision of the Office regarding the review of a preliminary departmental decision shall become final agency action 60 days after the recipient receives written notice of the decision unless the Secretary either—

"(1) modifies or sets aside the decision, in whole or in part, in which case the decision of the Secretary shall become final agency action when the recipient receives written notice of the Secretary's action, or

"(2) remands the decision to the Office.

"(h) The Secretary shall publish decisions that have become final agency action under subsection (g) in the Federal Register or in another appropriate publication within 60 days.

"(i) The amount of a preliminary departmental decision under subsection (a) for which review has not been requested in accordance with subsection (b), and the amount sustained by a decision of the Office or the Secretary which becomes final agency action under subsection (g), may be collected by the Secretary in accordance with chapter 37 of title 31, United States Code.

"(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary may subject to the notice requirements of paragraph (2), compromise any preliminary departmental decision under this subsection which does not exceed the amount agreed to be returned by more than $200,000, if the Secretary determines that (A) the collection of any or all of the amount thereof would not be practical or in the public interest, and (B) the practice which resulted in the preliminary departmental decision, may be collected by the Secretary in accordance with chapter 37 of title 31, United States Code.

"(k) No recipient under an applicable program shall be liable to return funds which were expended in a manner not authorized by law more than 5 years before the recipient received written notice of a preliminary departmental decision.

"(l) No interest shall be charged arising from a claim during the administrative review of the preliminary departmental decision.
such officer had examined the proposed expenditure or practice and believed the proposed expenditure or practice was permissible under then applicable State and Federal law; and

"(C) the State or local educational agency reasonably believed that the proposed expenditure or practice was permissible under the applicable State and Federal law.

"(6) The Secretary shall disseminate to State educational agencies response to written requests for guidance, described in paragraph (5), that reflect significant interpretations of applicable law or policy.

"(a) The Secretary shall periodically review the written requests for guidance submitted under this section to determine the need for new or supplementary regulatory or other guidance under applicable programs.

"SEC. 454. REMEDIES FOR EXISTING VIOLATIONS.

"(a) Whenever the Secretary has reason to believe that any recipient of funds under any applicable program is failing to comply substantially with any requirement of law applicable to such funds, the Secretary may:

"(1) withhold further payments under that program, as authorized by section 455;

"(2) issue a complaint to compel compliance through a cease and desist order of the Office, as authorized by section 455;

"(3) enter into a compliance agreement with a recipient to bring it into compliance, as authorized by section 455; or

"(4) take any other action authorized by law with respect to the recipient.

"(b) Any action, or failure to take action, by the Secretary under this section shall not preclude the Secretary from seeking a recovery of funds under section 453.

"SEC. 455. WITHHOLDING.

"(a) In accordance with section 454, the Secretary may withhold from a recipient, in whole or in part, further payments (including payments for administrative costs) under an applicable program.

"(b) Before withholding payments, the Secretary shall notify the recipient, in writing, of

"(1) the intent to withhold payments;

"(2) the factual and legal basis for the Secretary's belief that the recipient has failed to comply substantially with a requirement of law; and

"(3) an opportunity for a hearing to be held on a date at least 30 days after the notification has been sent to the recipient.

"(c) The hearing shall be held before the Office and shall be conducted in accordance with the rules prescribed pursuant to subsections (f) and (g) of section 451 of this Act.

"(d) Pending the outcome of any hearing under this section, the Secretary may suspend payments to a recipient, suspend the authority of the recipient to obligate Federal funds, or both, after such recipient has been given reasonable notice and an opportunity to show cause why future payments or authority to obligate Federal funds should not be suspended.

"(e) Upon review of a decision of the Office by the Secretary, the findings of fact by the Office, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. However, the Secretary, for good cause shown, may remand the case to the Office to take further evidence, and the office may thereafter make new or modified findings of fact and do modify its previous action. Such new or modified findings of fact shall likewise be conclusive if supported by substantial vidence.

"(f) The decision of the Office in any hearing under this section shall become final agency action 60 days after the recipient receives written notice of the decision unless the Secretary either

"(1) modifies or sets aside the decision, in whole or in part, in which case the decision of the Secretary shall become final agency action when the recipient receives written notice of the Secretary's decision; or

"(2) remands the decision of the Office.

"SEC. 456. CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS.

"(a) In accordance with section 454, the Secretary may issue to a recipient under an applicable program a complaint which

"(1) describes the factual and legal basis for the Secretary's belief that the recipient is failing to comply substantially with a requirement of law; and

"(2) contains a notice of a hearing to be held before the Office on a date at least 30 days after the service of the complaint.

"(b) The recipient upon which a complaint has been served shall have the right to appear before the Office on the date specified and to show cause why an order should not be entered by the Office requiring the recipient to cease and desist from the violation of law charged in the complaint.

"(c) The testimony in any hearing held under this section shall be reduced to writing and filed with the Office. If upon that hearing the Office is of the opinion that the recipient is in violation of any requirement of law as charged in the complaint, the Office shall:

"(1) make a report in writing stating its findings of fact; and

"(2) issue to the recipient an order requiring the recipient to cease and desist from the practice, policy, or procedure which resulted in the violation.

"(d) The report and order of the Office under this section shall become the final agency action when the recipient receives the report and order.

"(e) The Secretary may enforce a final order of the Office under this section which becomes final agency action by

"(1) withholding from the recipient any portion of the amount payable to it, including the amount payable for administrative costs, under the applicable program; or

"(2) certifying the facts to the Attorney General who shall cause an appropriate proceeding to be brought for the enforcement of the order.

"SEC. 457. COMPLIANCE AGREEMENTS.

"(a) In accordance with section 454, the Secretary may enter into a compliance agreement with a recipient under an applicable program The purpose of any compliance agreement under this section shall be to bring the recipient into full compliance with the applicable requirements of law as soon as feasible and not to excuse or remedy past violations of such requirements.

"(b) Before entering into a compliance agreement with a recipient, the Secretary shall hold a hearing at which the recipient, affected students and parents or their representatives, and other interested parties are invited to participate. The recipient shall have the burden of persuading the Secretary that full compliance with the applicable requirements of law is not feasible until a future date.

"(b) The Secretary may consider those findings to be in full compliance with the applicable requirements of law, and

"(c) If a recipient fails to comply with the terms and conditions of a compliance agreement under this section, the Secretary may consider that compliance agreement to be no longer in effect, and the Secretary may take any action authorized by law with respect to the recipient.

"SEC. 43c. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

"(a) Any recipient of funds under an applicable program that would be adversely affected by a final agency action under section 452, 455, or 456 of this Act, and any State entitled to receive funds under a program described in section 435a(a) of this title whose application has been disapproved by the Secretary, shall be entitled to judicial review of such action in accordance with the provisions of this section. The Secretary may not take any action on the basis of a final agency action until judicial review is completed.

"(b) A recipient that desires judicial review of an action described in subsection (a) shall, within 60 days of that action, file with the United States Court of Appeals for the circuit in which that recipient is located, a petition for review of such action. A copy of the petition shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the Secretary. The Secretary shall file in the court the record of the proceedings on which the action was based, as provided in section 2112 of title 28, United States Code.

"(c) The findings of fact by the Office, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive; but the court, for good cause shown, may remand the case to the Office to take further evidence, and the Office may make new or modified findings of fact and may modify its previous action, and shall certify to the court the record of the further proceedings. Such new or modified findings of fact shall likewise be conclusive if supported by substantial evidence.

"(d) The court shall have jurisdiction to affirm the action of the Office or the Secretary or to set it aside, in whole or in part. The judgment of the court shall be subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification as provided in section 1254 of title 28, United States Code.

"SEC. 43f. USE OF RECOVERED FUNDS.

"(a) Whenever the Secretary recovers funds paid to a recipient under a grant or cooperative agreement made under an applicable program for the purpose of funds that were not allowable, or otherwise failed to discharge its responsibility to account properly for funds, the Secretary may consider those funds to be additional funds available for that program and may arrange to repay to the recipient affected by that action an amount of at least 75 percent of the recovered funds if the Secretary determines that the practices or procedures of the recipient that resulted in the violation of law have been corrected, and that the recipient is in all other respects in compliance with the requirements of that program.

"(b) The recipient has submitted to the Secretary a plan for the use of those funds pursuant to the requirements of that program and, to the extent possible, for the benefit of the population that was affected by the failure to comply or by the misuse of funds that resulted in the recovery; and

"(c) The use of those funds in accordance with that plan would serve to achieve the purposes of the program under which the funds were originally paid.

"(d) Any payments by the Secretary under this section shall be subject to such other terms and conditions as the Secretary considers necessary to accomplish the purposes of the affected programs, including-

"(1) the submission of periodic reports on the use of funds provided under this section; and

"(2) consultation by the recipient with students, parents, or representatives of the population that will benefit from the payments.

"(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the funds made available under this section shall remain available for expenditure for a period of time deemed reasonable by the Secretary, but in no case to exceed more than 3 fiscal years following the fiscal year in which final agency action under section 452(e) is taken.

"(f) At least 30 days prior to entering into an arrangement under this section, the Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of intent to enter into such an arrangement and the terms and conditions under which payments will be made. Interested persons shall have an opportunity for at least 30 days to submit comments to the Secretary regarding the proposed arrangement.

(b) Provide the Insular Area with flexibility in allocating the funds under the consolidated grant to achieve any of the purposes to be served by the programs that are consolidated.

(Authority: 48 U.S.C. 1681a(a)(4) and 1681e)

§ 76.128 How does a consolidated grant work?

(a) An Insular Area shall use the funds it receives under a consolidated grant to carry out, in its jurisdiction, one or more of the programs included in the grant.

Example: Assume that Guam applies for a consolidated grant under the Vocational Education Act, the Handicapped Preschool and School Programs-Incentive Grants, and the Adult Education Act and that the sum of the allocations under this program is $700,000. Guam may choose to allocate this $700,000 among all of the programs authorized under the three programs. Alternatively, it may choose to allocate the entire $700,000 to one or two of the programs, for example, the Adult Education Act Program.

(b) An Insular Area shall comply with the statutory and regulatory requirements that apply to each program under which funds, from the consolidated grant are expended.

Example: Assume that American Samoa uses part of the funds under a consolidated grant for the State program under the Adult Education Act. American Samoa must meet and be able to demonstrate compliance with this equal treatment requirement.

(c) An Insular Area shall include in its consolidated grant application a program plan that:

(1) Contains a list of the programs in § 76.125(c) to be included in the consolidated grant;

(2) Describes the programs or projects in § 76.125(c) under which the consolidated grant funds will be used and administered;

(3) Describes the goals, objectives, activities, and the means of evaluating program outcomes for the programs for which the Insular Area will use the funds received under the consolidated grant during the fiscal year for which it submits the application, including needs of the population that will be met by the consolidation of funds; and

(4) Contains a budget that includes a description of the allocation of funds— including any anticipated carryover funds of the program in the consolidated grant from the preceding year—among the programs to be included in the consolidated grant.

(4) Although Pub. L. 95-134 authorizes the Secretary to consolidate grant funds that the Department awards to an Insular Area, it does not confer eligibility for any grant funds. The eligibility of a particular Insular Area to receive grant funds under a Federal education program is determined under the statute and regulations for that program.

(Authority: 48 U.S.C. 1681a(a)(4) and 1681e)
34 CFR Subtitle A (11-1-89 Edition)

(b) Adopt and use methods of monitoring and providing technical assistance to any agencies, organizations, or institutions that carry out the programs under the consolidated grant to ensure that any obligations imposed on them under the applicable statutes and regulations;

(b) Evaluate the effectiveness of these programs in meeting the purposes and objectives in the authorizing statutes under which program funds are used and administered;

(b) Conduct evaluations of these programs at intervals, in accordance with procedures the Secretary may prescribe; and

(b) Provide appropriate opportunities for participation by local agencies, representatives of the groups affected by the programs, and other interested institutions, organizations, and individuals in planning and operating the programs.

(b) These assurances remain in effect for the duration of the programs they cover.

(b) After an Insular Area receives a consolidated grant, it may reallocate the funds in a manner different from the allocation described in its consolidated grant application. However, the funds cannot be used for purposes that are not authorized under the programs in the consolidated grant under which funds are to be used and administered.

(b) If an Insular Area decides to reallocate the funds it receives under a consolidated grant, it shall notify the Secretary by amending its original application to include an update of the information required under §76.131.

(b) Provide that funds received under the consolidated grant will be under control of, and that title to property acquired with these funds will be in, a public agency, institution, or organization. The public agency shall administer these funds and property.

(b) Keep records, including a copy of the State Plan or application documented under which funds are to be spent, which show how the funds received under the consolidated grant have been spent.

Office of the Secretary, Education for assistance under any other programs listed in §76.125(c) for which it is eligible.

(b) Those programs that an Insular Area decides to exclude from consolidation—for which it must submit separate plans or applications—are implemented in accordance with the applicable program statutes and regulations. The excluded programs are not subject to the provisions for allocation of funds among programs in a consolidated grant.

§76.135 Are there any requirements for matching funds?

The Secretary waives all requirements for matching funds for those programs that are consolidated by an Insular Area in a consolidated grant application.

§76.136 Under what programs may consolidated grant funds be spent?

Insular Areas may only use and administer funds under programs listed in §76.125(c)(1) during a fiscal year for which the Insular Area is entitled to receive funds under an appropriation for that program.

§76.137 How may carryover funds be used under the consolidated grant application?

Any funds under any applicable program which are available for obligation and expenditure in the succeeding fiscal year for which they are appropriated must be obligated and expended in accordance with the consolidated grant application submitted by the Insular Area for that program for the preceding fiscal year.

Grantee means the government to which a grant is awarded and which is accountable for the use of the funds provided. The grantee is the entire legal entity even if only a particular component of the entity is designated in the grant award document.

"Local government" means a county, municipality, city, town, township, local public authority (including any public and Indian housing agency under the United States Housing Act of 1937) school district, special district, intrastate district, council of government (whether or not incorporated as a nonprofit corporation under state law), any other regional or interstate government entity, or any agency or instrumentality of a local government.

"Obligations" means the amounts of orders placed, contracts and subgrants awarded, goods and services received, and similar transactions during a period that will require payment by the grantee during the same or a future period.

"OMB" means the United States Office of Management and Budget.

"Outlay" means charges made to the project or program they may be reported on a cash or accrual basis. For reports prepared on a cash basis, outlays are the sum of actual cash disbursements for direct charges for goods and services, the amount of indirect expense incurred, the value of in-kind contributions applied and the amount of cash advances and payments made to contractors and subgrantees. For reports prepared on an accrued expenditure basis, outlays are the sum of actual cash disbursements, the amount of indirect expense incurred, the value of in-kind contributions applied, and the new increase (or decrease) in the amounts owed by the grantee for goods and other property received, for services performed by employees, contractors, subcontractors, and other payees, and other amounts becoming owed under programs for which no current services or performance are required, such as annuities, insurance claims, and other benefits payments.

"Percentage of completion method" refers to a system under which payments are made for construction work according to the percentage of completion of the work, rather than to the grantee's cost incurred.

"Prior approval" means documentation evidencing consent prior to incurring specific cost.

"Real property" means land, including land improvements, structures and appurtenances thereto, excluding movable machinery and equipment.

"Share", when referring to the awarding agency's portion of real property, equipment or supplies, means the same percentage as the awarding agency's portion of the acquiring party's total costs under the grant to which the acquisition costs under the grant to which the acquisition cost of the property was charged. Only costs are to be counted—not the value of third-party in-kind contributions.

"State" means any of the several States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, or any agency or instrumentality of a State exclusive of local governments. The term does not include the Indian housing authority under United States Housing Act of 1937.

The definition of "State" in this section is used for the purpose of determining the availability of financial assistance under programs funded by the Federal government.

"Subgrant" means an award of financial assistance in the form of money, property, or services which is made under a grant by a grantee to an eligible subgrantee. The term includes financial assistance when provided by contract, purchase order, or other contractual agreement. The term does not include procurement purchases, nor does it include any form of assistance which is excluded from the definition of "grant" in this part.

"Subgrantee" means the government or other legal entity to which a subgrant is awarded and which is accountable to the grantee for the use of the funds provided.

"Supplies" mean all tangible personal property other than "equipment" as defined in this part.

34 CFR Subtitle A (11-1-89 Edition)

§ 80.3

Office of the Secretary, Education

"Suspension" means depending on the context, either (1) temporary withdrawal of the authority to obligate grant funds pending corrective action by the grantee or subgrantee or a decision to terminate the grant, or (2) an action taken by a suspending official in accordance with agency regulations implementing E.O. 12549 to immediately exclude a person from participating in grant transactions for a period, pending completion of an investigation and such legal or debarment proceedings as may ensue.

"Termination" means permanent withdrawal of the authority to obligate previously-awarded grant funds before that authority would otherwise expire. It also means the voluntary relinquishment of that authority by the grantee or subgrantee. "Termination" does not include: (1) Withdrawal of funds awarded on the basis of the grantee's underestimate of the unobligated balance in a prior period; (2) Withdrawal of the unobligated balance as of the expiration of a grant; (3) Refusal to extend a grant or award additional funds to make a competing or noncompeting continuation, renewal, extension, or supplemental award; or (4) Voiding of a grant upon determination that the award was obtained fraudulently or otherwise illegally or invalid from inception.

"Terms of a grant or subgrant" mean all requirements of the grant or subgrant, whether in statute, regulations, or the grant document.

"Third party in kind contributions" mean property or services which benefit a federally assisted project or program and which are contributed by non-Federal third parties without charge to the grantee, or a cost-type contractor under the grant agreement.

"Unliquidated obligations" for reports prepared on a cash basis mean the amount of obligations incurred by the grantee which has not been paid. For reports prepared on an accrued expenditure basis, they represent the amount of obligations incurred by the grantee which an unlay has not been recorded.

"Unobligated balance" means the portion of the funds authorized by the Federal agency that has not been obligated by the grantee and is determined by deducting the cumulative obligations from the cumulative funds authorized.

(2) The value of third party in-kind contributions applicable to the period to which the cost sharing or matching requirements apply.

(b) Qualifications and exceptions—

This prohibition does not apply to income earned by a grantee or subgrantee from a contract awarded under another Federal grant.

(3) Liquidation of obligations. For the purpose of this section, general revenue sharing funds distributed under 31 U.S.C. 6702 are not considered Federal grant funds.

(6) Records. Costs and third party in-kind contributions counting towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement must be verifiable from the records of grantees and subgrantees. These records must show how the value placed on third party in-kind contributions was derived. To the extent feasible, volunteer services will be supported by the same methods that the organization uses to support the allocability of regular personnel costs.

(7) Special standards for third party in-kind contributions. (1) Third party in-kind contributions count towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement only where, if the party receiving the contributions were to pay for them, the payments would be allowable costs.

(2) Some third party in-kind contributions are goods and services that, if the contractor receiving the contribution had to pay for them, the payments would have been an indirect costs. Costs sharing or matching credit for such contributions may count towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement.

(3) A cost or contribution counted towards other Federal cost-sharing requirements. Neither costs nor the values of third party in-kind contributions may count towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement of a grant agreement if they have been or will be counted towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement of another Federal grant agreement, a Federal procurement contract, or any other award of Federal funds.

(4) Costs financed by program income. Costs financed by program income, as defined in § 80.25, shall not count towards satisfying a cost sharing or matching requirement unless they are expressly permitted in the terms of the assistance agreement (This use of program income is described in § 80.25(g)).

(5) Services or property financed by income earned by contractors. Contractors, under a grant may earn income from the activities carried out under the contract in addition to the amounts earned from the party awarding the contract. Office of the Secretary, Education the rules in the succeeding sections of this part. If a third party in-kind contribution is a type not treated in those sections, the value placed upon it shall be fair and reasonable.

(a) Valuation of donated services—

(1) Volunteer services. Unpaid services provided to a grantee or subgrantee by individuals will be valued at rates consistent with those ordinarily paid for similar work in the labor market. In either case, a reasonable amount for fringe benefits may be included in the valuation.

(2) Employees of other organizations. When an employer other than a grantee, subgrantee, or cost type contractor furnishes free of charge the services of an employee in the employee's normal line of work, the services will be valued at the employee's regular rate of pay exclusive of the employee's fringe benefits and overhead costs if the services are in a different line of work, paragraph (c)(1) of this section applies.

(b) Valuation of third party donated supplies and leased equipment or space (1) If a third party donates supplies or equipment or space, the contribution will be valued at the market value of the supplies at the time of donation.

(2) If a third party donates the use of equipment or space in a building but retains title, the contribution will be valued at the fair rental rate of the equipment or space.

(c) Valuation of donated real estate and buildings, and land. (1) If a third party donates real estate and buildings, or land, and title passes to a grantee or subgrantee, the treatment of the donated property will depend upon the purpose of the grant or subgrant as follows.

(1) Awards for capital expenditures. If the purpose of the grant or subgrant is to assist the grantee or subgrantee in the acquisition of property, the market value of that property at the time of donation may be counted as cost-sharing or matching.

(2) Other awards. If assisting in the acquisition of property is not the purpose of the grant or subgrant, paragraphs (c)(2)(i) and (ii) of this section apply.

(i) If approval is obtained from the awarding agency, the market value at the time of donation of the donated equipment or buildings and the fair rental rate of the land may be counted as cost sharing or matching. In the case of a subgrant, the terms of the grant agreement may require that the approval be obtained from the Federal agency as well as the grantee. In all cases, the approval may be given only if a purchase of the equipment or rental of the land would be approved as an allowable direct cost. If any part of the donated property was acquired with Federal funds, only the non-federal share of the property may be counted as cost-sharing or matching.

(ii) If approval is not obtained under paragraph (c)(2)(i) of this section, no amount may be counted for donated land, and only depreciation or use allowances may be counted for donated equipment and buildings. The depreciation or use allowances for this property are not treated as third party in-kind contributions. Instead, they are treated as costs incurred by the grantee or subgrantee. They are computed and allocated (usually as indirect costs) in accordance with the cost principles specified in § 80.22, in the same way as depreciation or use allowances for purchased equipment and buildings. The amount of depreciation or use allowances may be counted for donated equipment and buildings if based on the property's market value at the time it was donated.

(3) Valuation of property for construction/acquisition. (a) If a grantee or subgrantee donates real property for a construction or facilities acquisition project, the market value of that property may be counted as cost sharing or matching. If any part of the donated property was acquired with Federal funds, only the non-federal share of the property may be counted as cost-sharing or matching.

(b) Valuation of real property. In some cases, under paragraphs (d), (e), and (f) of this section, it will be necessary to establish the market value of land or a building or the fair rental rate of land or of space in a building.

(c) Effect of disposable personal property in the grantee's own labor market. In these cases, the Federal agency may require the market value or fair rental value of a grantee's or subgrantee's disposable personal property to be determined by an independent appraiser, and that the value or rate be certified by the grantee. This requirement will also be imposed by the grantee on subgrantees.

(4) Program income. (a) General. Grantees are encouraged to earn income to defray program costs. Program income includes income from fees for services performed, from the sale of real or personal property acquired with grant funds, from the sale of commodities or items fabricated under a grant agreement, and from payments of principal and interest on loans made with grant funds. Except as otherwise provided in regulations of the Federal agency, program income does not include interest on grant funds, rebates, credits, discounts, refunds, etc., and interest earned on any of them.

(b) Definition of program income. Program income means gross income received by the grantee or subgrantee directly generated by a grant supported activity, or earned only as a result of the Federal agency's approval of the grant agreement during the grant period. "During the grant period" is the time between the effective date of the award and the ending date of the award as reflected in the final financial report.

(c) Cost of generating program income. If authorized by Federal regulations or the grant agreement, costs incident to the generation of program income may be deducted from gross income to determine program income.

(d) Governmental revenues. Taxes, special assessments, levies, fines, and other such revenues raised by a grantee or subgrantee are not program income unless the revenues are specifically identified in the grant agreement or Federal agency regulations as program income.

(e) Royalties. Income from royalties and license fees for copyrighted material, patents, and inventions developed by a grantee or subgrantee may be counted as program income only if the revenues are specifically identified in the grant agreement or Federal agency regulations as program income. (See § 80.34.)

(f) Proceeds. Proceeds from the sale of real property or equipment will be handled in accordance with the requirements of §§ 80.31 and 80.32.

(g) Program income shall be deducted from outlays which may be both Federal and non-Federal as described below, unless the Federal agency regulations or the grant agreement specify another alternative (or a combination of the alternatives). In specifying alternatives, the Federal agency may distinguish between income earned by the grantee and income earned by subgrantees and between the sources, kinds, or amounts of income. When Federal agencies authorize the alternatives in paragraphs (g)(2) and (3) of this section, program income in excess of any limits stipulated shall also be deducted from outlays.

(1) Deduction. Ordinarily program income shall be deducted from total allowable costs to determine the net allowable costs. Program income shall be used for current costs unless the Federal agency authorizes otherwise. Program income which the grantee did not anticipate at the time of the award shall be used to reduce the Federal agency's and grantee's contributions rather than to increase the funds committed to the project.

(2) Addition. When authorized, program income may be added to the funds committed to the grant agreement by the Federal agency and the grantee. The program income shall be used for the purposes and under the conditions of the grant agreement rather than to increase the funds committed to the project.

(3) Cost sharing or matching. When authorized, program income may be used to meet the cost sharing or matching requirements of the grant agreement. The amount of the Federal grant award remains the same.

(h) Income after the award period. There are no Federal requirements governing the disposition of program income earned after the end of the award period (i.e., until the ending date of the final financial report, see paragraph (a) of this section), unless the terms of the agreement or the Federal agency regulations provide otherwise.

§ 80.26 Non-Federal audits.

(a) Basic rule. Grantees and subgrantees are responsible for obtaining audits in accordance with the Single Audit Act of 1984 (31 U.S.C. 3501-7) and Federal agency implementing regulations. The audits shall be made by an independent auditor in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards covering financial and compliance audits.

(b) Subgrantees. State or local governments, as those terms are defined for purposes of the Single Audit Act, that receive Federal financial assistance and provide more than $25,000 or more of it in a fiscal year to a subgrantee shall:

(1) Determine whether State or local subgrantees have met the audit requirements of the Act and whether subgrantees covered by OMB Circular A-110, "Uniform Requirements for Grants and Other Agreements with Institutions of Higher Education, Hospitals, universities, and Other Nonprofit Organizations" have met the audit requirements.

(2) Commercial contractors (private nonprofit and private and governmental organizations) providing goods and services to State and local governments are not required to have a single audit performed. State and local governments should use their own procedures to ensure that the contractor complies with laws and regulations affecting the expenditure of Federal funds.

(3) Determine whether the subgrantee's Federal assistance funds are in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. This may be accomplished by reviewing an audit of the subgrantee made in accordance with the Act, Circular A-110, or through other means (e.g., program reviews) if the subgrantee has not had such an audit.

34 CFR Subtitle A (11-1-89 Edition)

§ 80.28 Changes, Property, and Subawards

(3) Ensure that appropriate corrective action is taken within six months after receipt of the audit report in instances of noncompliance with Federal laws and regulations.

(4) Consider whether subgrantee audits necessitate adjustment of the grantee's own records, and

(5) Require each subgrantee to permit independent auditors to have access to the records and financial statements.

(c) Auditor selection. In arranging for audit services, § 80.36 shall be followed.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 3474, OMB Circular A-102)

§ 80.30 Changes.

(a) General. Grantees and subgrantees are permitted to rebudget within the approved direct cost budget to meet unanticipated requirements and may make limited program changes to the approved project. However, unless waived by the awarding agency, certain types of post-award changes in budgets and projects shall require the prior written approval of the awarding agency.

(b) Relation to cost principles. The applicable cost principles (see § 80.22) contain requirements for prior approval of certain types of costs. Except where waived, those requirements apply to all grants and subgrants even if paragraphs (c) through (f) of this section do not apply.

(c) Budget changes—(1) Nonconstruction projects. Except as stated in other regulations or an award document, a grant or subgrant shall obtain the prior approval of the awarding agency whenever any of the following changes is anticipated under a nonconstruction award:

(ii) Unless waived by the awarding agency, cumulative transfers among direct cost categories, or, if applicable, among separately budgeted programs, projects, functions, or activities which exceed or are expected to exceed ten percent of the current total approved budget, whenever the awarding agency's share exceeds $100,000.

When a grant or subgrant provides funding for both construction and nonconstruction activities, the grantee or subgrantee shall obtain prior written approval from the awarding agency before making any fund or budget transfer from nonconstruction to construction or vice versa.

(d) Programmatic changes. Grantees or subgrantees must obtain the prior approval of the awarding agency whenever any of the following actions is anticipated:

(i) Any revision of the scope or objectives of the project (regardless of whether there is an associated budget revision requiring prior approval).

(ii) Need to extend the period of availability of funds.

(iii) Changes in key persons in case, where specified in an application or a grant award, in research projects, a change in the project director or principal investigator shall always require approval unless waived by the awarding agency.

(4) Under: construction projects, contracting out, subgranting (if authorized by law) or otherwise obtaining the services of a third party to perform work central to the purposes of the award. This approval requirement is in addition to the approval requirements of § 80.36 but does not apply to the procurement of equipment, supplies, and general support services.

(e) Additional prior approval requirements. The awarding agency may not require prior approval for any budget revision which is not described in paragraph (c) of this section.

(f) Requesting prior approval. (1) A request for prior approval of any budget revision will be in the same budget format the grantee used in its application and shall be accompanied by a narrative justification for the proposed revision.

(2) A request for a prior approval under the applicable Federal cost principles (see § 80.22) may be made by letter.

(1) A request by a subgrantee for prior approval will be addressed in writing to the grantee. The grantee will promptly review such request and shall approve or disapprove the request in writing. A grantee will not approve any budget or project revision which is inconsistent with the purpose or terms and conditions of the Federal grant to the grantee. If the revision, requested by the subgrantee would result in a change to the grantee's approved project which requires Federal prior approval, the grantee will obtain the Federal agency's approval before approving the subgrantee's request.

(4) Requests for additional prior approval of construction projects which require Federal prior approval, the grantee will obtain the Federal agency's approval before approving the subgrantee's request.

§ 80.36 Procurement

(a) States. When procuring property and services under a grant, a State will follow the same policies and procedures it uses for procurements from its non-Federal funds. (iii) His or her partner, or
(iv) An organization with which employs, or is about to employ, any of the above, has a financial or other interest in the firm selected for award. The grantee's or subgrantee's officers, employees or agents shall neither solicit nor accept gratuities, favors or anything of monetary value from contractors, potential contractors, or parties to subagreements. Grantee and subgrantee may set minimum rules where the financial interest is not substantial or the gift is an unsolicited item of nominal intrinsic value. To the extent permitted by State or local law, the standards or conduct will provide for penalties, sanctions, or other disciplinary actions for violations of such standards by the grantee's and subgrantee's officers, employees, or agents, or by contractors or their agents. The awarding agency may in regulation provide additional prohibitions relative to real or apparent conflict of interest.

(4) Grantee and subgrantee procedures will provide for a review of proposed procurements to avoid purchase of unnecessary or duplicative items. Consideration should be given to consolidating or breaking out procurements to obtain a more economical purchase. Where appropriate, an analysis will be made of lease versus purchase alternatives, and any other appropriate analysis to determine the most economical approach.

(5) To foster greater economy and efficiency, grantees and subgrantees are encouraged to enter into State and local intergovernmental agreements for procurement or use of common goods and services.

(6) Grantees and subgrantees are encouraged to use value engineering clauses in contracts for construction projects of sufficient size to offer reasonable opportunities for cost reduction. Value engineering is a systematic and creative analysis of each contract item or task to ensure that its essential function is provided at the overall lower cost.

(7) Grantees and subgrantees are encouraged to use value engineering clauses in contracts for construction projects of sufficient size to offer reasonable opportunities for cost reduction. Value engineering is a systematic and creative analysis of each contract item or task to ensure that its essential function is provided at the overall lower cost.

(8) Grantees and subgrantees will make awards only to responsible contractors possessing the ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration will be given to such matters as contractor integrity, compliance with public policy, record of past performance, and financial and technical resources.

(9) Grantees and subgrantees will maintain records sufficient to detail technical resources.

(10) Grantees and subgrantees will use time and material type contracts only:
(i) After a determination that no other contract is suitable, and
(ii) If the contract includes a ceiling price that the contractor exceeds at its own risk.

(11) Grantees and subgrantees alone will be responsible, in accordance with good administrative practice and sound business judgment, for the settlement of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements. These issues include, but are not limited to source evaluation, protests, disputes, and claims. These standards do not relieve the grantee or subgrantee of any contractual responsibilities under its contracts. Federal agencies will not substitute their judgment for that of the grantee or subgrantee under the matter is primarily a Federal concern. Violations of law will be referred to the local, State, or Federal authority having proper jurisdiction.

(12) Grantees and subgrantees will have protest procedures to handle and resolve disputes relating to their procurements and shall in all instances disclose information regarding the protest to the awarding agency. A protestor must exhaust all administrative remedies with the grantee and subgrantee before pursuing a protest with the Federal agency. Reviews of protests by the Federal agency will be limited to:
(i) Violations of Federal law or regulations and the standards of this section (violations of State or local law will be under the jurisdiction of State or local authorities) and
(ii) Violations of the grantee's or subgrantee's protest procedures for failure to review a complaint or protest. Protests received by the Federal agency other than those specified above will be referred to the grantee or subgrantee.

(c) Competition. (1) All procurement transactions will be conducted in a manner providing full and open competition consistent with the standards of § 80.36. Some of the situations considered to be restrictive of competition include but are not limited to:
(i) Placing unreasonable requirements on firms in order for them to qualify to do business.
(ii) Requiring unnecessary experience and excessive bonding.
(iii) Noncompetitive pricing practices between firms or between affiliated companies.
(iv) Noncompetitive awards to consultants that are on retain contracts.
(v) Organizational conflicts of interest.
(vi) Specifying only a "brand name" product instead of allowing "an equal" product to be offered and describing the performance of other relevant requirements of the procurement, and (vii) Any arbitrary action in the procurement process.

(2) Grantees and subgrantees will conduct procurements in a manner that prohibits the use of statutorily or administratively imposed in-State or local geographical preferences in the evaluation of a contract. When contracting for architectural and engineering (A/E) services, geographic location may be a selection criteria provided its application leaves an appropriate number of qualified firms, given the nature and size of the project, to compete for the contract.

(3) Grantees will have written selection procedures for procurement transactions. These procedures will ensure that all solicitations:

- Incorporate a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product, or service to be procured. Such description shall not in competitive procurements contain features which unduly restrict competition.
- May include a statement of the qualitative nature of the material, product, or service to be procured, and when necessary, shall set forth those minimum essential characteristics and standards to which it must conform if it is to satisfy its intended use. Detailed product specifications should be avoided if at all possible. When procurement is by sealed bids or proposals, failure to make a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements, a "brand name or equal" description may be used as means to define the performance or other pertinent requirements of a procurement. The specific features of the named brand which must be met by offers shall be clearly stated; and
- Identify all requirements which the offerors must fulfill and all other factors to be used in evaluating bids or proposals.

(4) Grantees and subgrantees will ensure that all prequalified lists of persons, firms, or products which are used in acquiring goods and services are current and include enough qualified sources to ensure maximum open and free competition. Also, grantees and subgrantees will not preclude potential bidders from qualifying during the solicitation period.

(5) Methods of procurement to be followed:

(1) Procurement by small purchase procedures. Small purchase procedures are those relatively simple and inexpensive procurement methods for securing services, supplies, or other property that do not cost more than $25,000 in the aggregate. If small purchase procedures are used, price or rate quotations will be obtained from an adequate number of qualified sources.

(2) Procurement by sealed bids (formal advertising). Bids are publicly solicited and a firm-fixed-price contract (lump sum or unit price) is awarded to the responsible bidder whose bid, conforming with all the material terms and conditions of the invitation for bids, results in the lowest bid. The sealed bid method is the preferred method for procuring construction, if the conditions in § 30.36(d)(2)(ii)(A) apply.

(3) In order for sealed bidding to be feasible, the following conditions should be present:

(A) A complete, adequate, and realistic specification or purchase description is available;

(B) Two or more responsible bidders are willing and able to compete effectively for the business; and

(C) The procurement lends itself to a firm fixed price contract and the selection of the successful bidder can be made principally on the basis of price.

(ii) If sealed bids are used, the following requirements apply:

(A) The invitation for bids will be publicly advertised and bids shall be solicited from an adequate number of known suppliers, providing them sufficient time prior to the date set for opening the bids;

(B) The invitation for bids, which will include any specifications and pertinent attachments, shall define the items or services in order for the bidder to properly respond.
§ 80.36

Encourage participation by small and minority business, and women's business enterprises.

(ii) When the services and assistance of the Small Business Administration, and the Minority Business Development Agency of the Department of Commerce, and

(iii) Use of the prime contractor, if subcontracts are to be let, to take the affirmative steps listed in paragraphs (e)(2) (i) through (v) of this section.

(1) Contract cost and price. (1) Grantees and subgrantees must perform a cost or price analysis in connection with every procurement action including contract modifications. The method and degree of analysis is dependent on the facts surrounding the particular procurement situation, but as a starting point, grantees must make independent estimates before receiving bids or proposals. A cost analysis must be performed when the offeror is required to submit the elements of his estimated cost, e.g., under fixed price, time and material, consulting, and architectural engineering services contracts. A cost analysis will be necessary when adequate price competition is lacking, and for sole source procurements, in choosing between specifications or change orders, unless price reasonableness can be established on the basis of a catalog or market price of a commercial product sold in substantial quantities. A cost analysis will be used in all other instances to determine the reasonableness of the elements of the price for each contract in which there is no price competition and in all cases where a cost analysis is performed. To establish a fair and reasonable profit, consideration will be given to the complexity of the work to be performed, the risk borne by the contractor, the contractor's investment, the amount of subcontracting, the quality of its record of past performance, and industry profit rates in the surrounding geographic area for similar work.

(2) Costs or prices based on estimated costs for contracts under grants will be allowable only to the extent that costs incurred or cost estimates included in negotiated prices are consistent with Federal cost principles (see § 80.22). Grantees may reference their own cost principles that comply with the applicable Federal cost principles.

(4) The cost plus a percentage of cost and percentage of construction cost methods of contracting shall not be used.

(g) Awarding agency review. (1) Grantees and subgrantees must make available, upon request of the awarding agency to the government, on proposed procurements where the awarding agency believes such review is needed to ensure that the item and/or service specified is the one being proposed for purchase. This review generally will take place prior to the time the specification is incorporated into a solicitation document. However, if the grantee or subgrantee desires to have the review accomplished after a solicitation has been developed, the awarding agency may still review the specification, with such review usually being limited to the technical aspects of the proposed purchase.

(2) Grantees and subgrantees must on request make available for awarding agency pre-award review procurement documents, such as requests for proposals or invitations for bids, independent cost estimates, etc., when:

(i) A grantee's or subgrantee's procurement procedures or operation fails to comply with the procurement standards in this section; or

(ii) The procurement is expected to exceed $5,000 and is to be awarded without solicitation or by negotiation; or

(iii) The procurement is expected to exceed $25,000, specifies a "brand name" product, or

(iv) The proposed award over $25,000 is to be awarded to other than the apparent low bidder under a sealed bid procurement; or

(v) A proposed contract modification changes the scope of the contract or increases the contract amounts by more than $25,000.

(3) A grantee or subgrantee will be exempt from the pre-award review in paragraphs (g)(2) of this section if the awarding agency determines that its procurement systems comply with the standards of this section.

(1) A grantees or subgrantee may request that its procurement system be reviewed by the awarding agency to determine whether its system meets these standards. For order in its system to be certified. Generally, these reviews will be conducted only where there is a continuous high-dollar funding, and third-party contracts are awarded on a regular basis;

(2) A grantee or subgrantee may request review of its procurement system. Such self-certification shall not limit the awarding agency's right to survey the system. Under a self-certification procedure, awarding agencies may rely upon written assurances from the grantee or subgrantee that it is complying with these standards. A grantee or subgrantee will cite specific procedures, regulations, standards, etc., as being in compliance with these requirements and have its system available for review.

(h) Bonding requirements. For contracts or procurement contracts or subcontracts exceeding $100,000, the awarding agency may accept the bonding policy and requirements of the grantee or subgrantee provided that the awarding agency has made a determination that the awarding agency's interest is adequately protected. If such a determination has not been made, the minimum requirement will be as follows:

(i) A bid guarantee from each bidder equivalent to five percent of the bid price. The "bid guarantee" shall consist of a time commitment such as a bid bond, certified check, or other negotiable instrument accompanying a bid as assurance that the bidder will, upon acceptance of his bid, execute a contract in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract.

(ii) A performance bond on the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. This performance bond can be one executed in connection with a contract to assure fulfillment of all the contractor's obligations under such contract.

(iii) A payment bond on the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. This payment bond is one executed in connection with a contract to assure payment as required by law of all persons supplying labor and material in the execution of the work provided for in the contract.

(1) Contract provisions. A grantee's and subgrantee's contracts must contain provisions in paragraph (i) of this section. Federal agencies are permitted to require changes, remedies, or legal remedies in instances where contractors violate or breach contract terms, and provide for such sanctions and penalties as may be appropriate (Contracts other than small purchases).

(2) Termination for cause and for convenience by the grantee or subgrantee including the manner by which it will be effected and the basis for settlement (All contracts in excess of $10,000).

(3) Compliance with Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965 entitled "Equal Employment Opportunity" as amended by Executive Order 11375 of October 13, 1967 and as supplemented in Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Chapter 6) (All construction contracts awarded in excess of $10,000 by grantees and their contractors or subcontractors).

(4) Compliance with the Copeland "Anti-Kickback" Act (18 U.S.C. 874) as supplemented in Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 3) (Construction contracts awarded in excess of $2,000 awarded by grantees and subgrantees when required by Federal grant programs). The "Anti-Kickback" Act is an act passed by Congress to prevent the payment of kickbacks in the construction industry.

(5) Compliance with the Davis- Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 276a et seq.) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 4) (Construction contracts awarded in excess of $2,000 awarded by grantees and subgrantees when required by Federal grant programs).

(6) Compliance with sections 103 and 107 of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 327-330) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 6) (Construction contracts awarded by grantees and subgrantees in excess of $2,000, and in excess of $2,500 for... other contracts which involve the employment of mechanics or laborers. (7) Notice of awarding agency requirements and regulations pertaining to reporting.

(8) Notice of awarding agency requirements and regulations pertaining to patent rights with respect to any discovery or invention which arises or is developed in the course of or under such contract.

(9) Awarding agency requires and regulations pertaining to copyrights and rights in data.

(10) Access by the grantee, the subgrantee, the Federal grantor agency, the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their duly authorized representatives to any books, documents, papers, and records of the contractor which are directly pertinent to that specific contract for the purpose of making audit, examination, excerpts, and transcriptions.

(11) Retention of all required records for three years after grantees or subgrantees make final payments and all other pending matters are closed.

(12) Compliance with all applicable statutes, regulations, or requirements issued under section 306 of the National Air Act (42 U.S.C. 1857h1), section 508 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. 1368), Executive Order 11738, and Environmental Protection Agency regulations (40 CFR Part 19) (Contracts, subcontracts, and subgrants of amounts in excess of $100,000).

(13) Mandatory standards and policies relating to energy efficiency which are contained in the state energy conservation plan issued in compliance with the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (Pub. L. 94-163).

§ 80.37 Subgrants.

(a) States. States shall follow state law and procedures when awarding and administering subgrants (whether on a cost reimbursement or fixed amount basis) of financial assistance to local and Indian tribal governments.

(b) All other grantees. All other grantees shall follow the provisions of this part which are applicable to awarding agencies when awarding and administering subgrants (whether on a cost reimbursement or fixed amount basis) of financial assistance to local and Indian tribal governments.

(1) Ensure that every subgrant includes any clauses required by Federal statute and executive orders and their implementing regulations;

(2) Ensure that subgrantees are aware of requirements imposed upon them by Federal statute and regulations;

(3) Ensure that a provision for compliance with § 80.42 is placed in every cost reimbursement subgrant; and

(4) Conform any advances of grant funds to subgrantees substantially to the same standards of timing and amount that apply to cash advances by Federal agencies.

Office of the Secretary, Education

§ 80.40

(4) Grantees will adhere to the standards in this section in prescribing performance reporting requirements for subgrantees.

(c) Construction performance reports. For the most part, on-site technical inspections and certified percentage complete data are relied on heavily by Federal agencies to monitor progress under construction grants and subgrants. The Federal agency will require additional formal performance reports only when considered necessary, and never more than weekly.

(d) Significant developments. Events may occur between the scheduled performance reporting dates which have significant impact upon the grant or subgrant supported activity. In such cases, the grantee must inform the Federal agency as soon as the following types of conditions become known:

(1) Problems, delays, or adverse conditions which will materially impair the ability to meet the objective of the award. This disclosure must include a statement of the action taken or contemplated, and any assistance needed to resolve the situation.

(2) Favorable developments which enable meeting time schedules and objectives sooner or at less cost than anticipated or producing more beneficial results than originally planned.

(e) Federal agencies may make site visits as warranted by program needs.

(f) Waivers, extensions. (1) Federal agencies may waive any performance report required by this part if not needed.

(2) The grantee may waive any performance report from a subgrantee when not needed. The grantee may extend the due date for any performance report from a subgrantee if the grantee will still be able to meet its performance reporting obligations to the Federal agency.

§ 80.38

Reports, Records, Retention, and Enforcement

§ 80.10 Monitoring and reporting program performance.

(a) Monitoring by grantees. Grantees are responsible for managing the day-to-day operations of grant and subgrant supported activities. Grantees must monitor grant and subgrant supported activities to assure compliance with applicable Federal requirements and that performance goals are being achieved. Grantee monitoring must cover each program, function, or activity.

(b) Notice of performance reports. The Federal agency may, if it decides that performance information available from subsequent applications contains sufficient information to meet its programmatic needs, require the grantee to submit a performance report only upon expiration or termination of grant support. Unless waived by the Federal agency this report will be due on the same date as the final Financial Status Report.

(1) Management shall submit annual performance reports unless the awarding agency requires quarterly or semiannual reports. However, performance reports will not be required more frequently than quarterly. Annual reports shall be due 90 days after the grant year, quarterly or semiannual reports shall be due 30 days after the reporting period. The final performance report will be due 90 days after the expiration or termination of grant support. If a justified request is submitted by a grantee, the Federal agency may extend the due date for any performance report. Additionally, requirements for unnecessary performance reports may be waived by the Federal agency.

(2) Performance reports will contain, for each grantee, the following information:

(i) A comparison of actual accomplishments to the objectives established for the period. Where the output or the project can be quantified, a computation of the cost per unit of output may be required if that information will be useful.

(ii) The reasons for slippage if established objectives were not met.

(iii) Additional pertinent information including, when appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or high unit costs.

(3) Grantees will not be required to submit more than the original two copies of performance reports.
(3) Grants that support construction activities paid by reimbursement method. Requests for reimbursement under construction grants shall be submitted on Standard Form 271, Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs. Federal agencies may prescribe the frequency of the report to be submitted within 15 working days following the end of each month. However, when an advance is paid by letter of credit or electronic transfer of funds is authorized at an annualized rate of one million dollars or more, the Federal agency may require the report to be submitted within 15 working days following the end of each month.

(4) Federal Cash Transactions Report. (1) Form. (i) For grants paid by letter of credit, Treasury check advance or electronic transfer of funds, the grantee will submit the Standard Form 272, Federal Cash Transactions Report, and when necessary, its continuation sheet, Standard Form 272a, unless the terms of the award exempt the grantee from the requirement.

(ii) These reports will be used by the Federal agency to monitor cash advanced to grantees and to obtain disbursement data for each grant from grantees. The format of the report may be adapted as appropriate when reporting is to be accomplished with the assistance of automatic data processing equipment provided that the information to be submitted is not changed in substance.

(2) Frequency. The frequency for submitting payment requests is prescribed in §80.41(b)(3).

(3) Electronic transfer of Treasury funds, as executing agent, in Treasury check advance. When a construction grant is made by letter of credit, electronic transfer of Treasury funds, or when Treasury check advance is made, the grantee shall report its outlays to the Federal agency using Standard Form 272, Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs. The Federal agency may prescribe any necessary special instructions. However, frequency and due dates shall be governed by §80.41(d) and (e).

(a) Applicability. This section applies to all financial and programmatic records, supporting documents, statistical records, and other records of grantees or subcontractors which are:

(i) Required to be maintained by the terms of this part, program regulations or the grant agreement, or

(ii) Otherwise reasonably considered as pertinent to program regulations or the grant agreement.

(b) Length of retention period. Except as otherwise provided, records must be retained for three years from the date of the last receipt or submission of such records.
§ 10.42

34 CFR Subtitle A (11-1-89 Edition)

(3) Records for income transactions after grant or subgrant support. In some cases grantees must report income after the period of grant support. Where there is such a requirement, the retention period for the records pertaining to the earning of the income starts from the end of the grantees fiscal year in which the income is earned.

(4) Indirect cost rate proposals, cost allocations plans, etc. This paragraph applies to the following types of documents, and their supporting records: indirect cost rate computations or proposals, cost allocation plans, and any similar computations of the rate at which a particular group of costs is chargeable (such as computer usage chargeback rates or composite fringe benefit rates).

(4) A recipient that receives funds under a program subject to 20 U.S.C. 1232f (section 437 of the General Education Provisions Act) shall retain records for a minimum of five years after the starting date specified in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Starting date of retention period—(1) General. When grant support is continued or renewed at annual or other intervals, the retention period for the records of each funding period starts on the day the grantee or subgrantee submits its expenditure report for the fiscal year. However, if grant support is continued or renewed quarterly, the retention period for each quarter of the fiscal year starts on the day the grantee submits its expenditure report for the last quarter of the Federal fiscal year. In all other cases, the retention period starts on the day the grantee submits its expenditure report. If an expenditure report has been waived, the retention period starts on the day the report would have been due.

(2) Real property and equipment records. The retention period for real property and equipment records starts from the date of the disposition or replacement or transfer at the direction of the awarding agency.

Enforcement.

(a) Remedies for noncompliance. If a grantee or subgrantee materially fails to comply with any term of an award, whether stated in a Federal statute or regulation, an assurance, in a State plan or application, a notice of award, or elsewhere, the awarding agency may take one or more of the following actions, as appropriate in the circumstances:

(1) Temporarily withhold cash payments pending correction of the deficiency by the grantee or subgrantee or more serious enforcement action by the awarding agency.

(2) Disallow (that is, deny both use of funds and matching credit for) all or part of the cost of the activity or action not in conformance with the awarding agencies regulations.

(c) Effects of suspension and termination. Costs of grants or subgrants resulting from obligations incurred by the grantee or subgrantee during a suspension, or after termination of an award are not allowable unless the awarding agency expressly authorizes them in the notice of suspension or termination or subsequently. Other grantee or subgrantee costs during suspension or after termination which are necessary and not reasonably avoidable are allowable.

(1) The costs result from obligations which were properly incurred by the grantee or subgrantee before the effective date of suspension or termination, are not anticipated by it, and, in the case of a termination, are non-cancellable, and

(2) The costs would be allowable if the award were not suspended or expired normally at the end of the funding period in which the termination takes effect.

(d) Relationship to debarment and suspension. The enforcement remedies identified in this section, including suspension and termination, do not preclude grantee or subgrantee from being subject to "Debarment and Suspension" under E.O. 12549 (see § 80.35).

(1) The award was not suspended or expired normally at the end of the funding period in which the termination takes effect.

(2) The costs would be allowable if the award were not suspended or expired normally at the end of the funding period in which the termination takes effect.

(3) The costs result from obligations which were properly incurred by the grantee or subgrantee before the effective date of suspension or termination, are not anticipated by it, and, in the case of a termination, are non-cancellable, and

(4) The costs would be allowable if the award were not suspended or expired normally at the end of the funding period in which the termination takes effect.

§ 80.41 Termination for convenience.

Except as provided in § 80.43 awards may be terminated in whole or in part only as follows:

(a) By the awarding agency with the consent of the grantee or subgrantee in which case the final parties shall agree upon the termination conditions, including the effective date and in the case of partial termination, the portion to be terminated or

(b) By the grantee or subgrantee upon written notification to the awarding agency, setting forth the reasons for such termination, the effective date, and in the case of partial termination, the portion to be terminated.

(c) The costs result from obligations which were properly incurred by the grantee or subgrantee before the effective date of suspension or termination, are not anticipated by it, and, in the case of a termination, are non-cancellable, and

§ 80.50

Subpart D—After-the-Grant Requirements

§ 80.50 Closeout.

Appendix to Part 80—Audit Requirements and Expenditures

Appendix A to Part 80—Audit Requirements for State and Local Governments

1 Purpose: This appendix is issued pursuant to the Single Audit Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-502.

Office of the Secretary, Education

98-502 It establishes audit requirements for State and local governments that receive Federal aid, and defines Federal responsibility for implementing and monitoring those requirements.

1 Policy: The Single Audit Act requires the following:

a. State or local governments that receive $500,000 or more a year in Federal financial assistance must have an audit made in accordance with this appendix.

b. State or local governments that receive between $25,000 and $500,000 a year shall have an audit under paragraph (a) of this appendix, or in accordance with Federal laws and regulations governing the program for which they participate.

c. State or local governments that receive less than $25,000 a year shall be exempt from the audit requirement if the Federal agency and the States and local governments shall be governed by audit requirements prescribed by State or local law or regulation.

2 Definitions For the purposes of this appendix, the following definitions from the Single Audit Act apply:

(g) Mitigating circumstances exist if it would be unjust to compel the return of funds because the recipient's violation was caused by the recipient's failure to provide timely guidance. To prove mitigating circumstances under this paragraph, the recipient shall prove that—

1. The guidance was provided in response to a written request from the recipient that was submitted to the Department at the address provided by notice published in the Federal Register under this section;
2. The guidance was provided by a Departmental official authorized to provide the guidance, as described by that notice.
§ 81.24 Notice of a disallowance decision.

The Secretary or an authorized Departmental official as appropriate may, after the issuance of a disallowance decision, reduce the amount of a claim established under this subpart by—

(b) Compromising the claim under the Federal Claims Collection Standards in 4 CFR Part 103; or

(c) Compromising the claim under §81.26, if applicable.

§ 81.26 Compromise of claims under General Education Provision Act.

(a) The Secretary or an authorized Departmental official as appropriate may compromise a claim established under this subpart without following the procedures in 4 CFR Part 103 if—

(1) The amount of the claim does not exceed $200,000; or

(2) The difference between the amount of the claim and the amount agreed to be returned does not exceed $200,000;

(b) The Secretary or the official determines that—

(i) The collection of the amount by which the claim is reduced under the compromise would not be practical or in the public interest; and

(ii) The practice that resulted in the disallowance decision has been corrected and will not recur.

(2) A party shall serve a copy of its statement of views on the other party on the filing date by hand delivery or by overnight or express mail.

(2) Final decision of the Department.

(a) The ALJ's initial decision becomes the final decision of the Department 60 days after the recipient receives the initial decision unless the Secretary modifies or sets aside the initial decision, in whole or in part, in the Secretary's decision in an interlocutory or final decision. The Secretary's decision is conclusive.

(b) The Secretary may modify or set aside the initial decision if the Secretary finds that the initial decision is incorrect, that it is not supported by substantial evidence, or that the Secretary's rules were not followed. The Secretary may also modify or set aside the initial decision if the Secretary finds that the initial decision is incorrect, that it is not supported by substantial evidence, or that the Secretary's rules were not followed. The Secretary may also modify or set aside the initial decision if the Secretary finds that the initial decision is incorrect, that it is not supported by substantial evidence, or that the Secretary's rules were not followed.

(c) The Department may modify or set aside the initial decision if the Secretary finds that the initial decision is incorrect, that it is not supported by substantial evidence, or that the Secretary's rules were not followed. The Secretary may also modify or set aside the initial decision if the Secretary finds that the initial decision is incorrect, that it is not supported by substantial evidence, or that the Secretary's rules were not followed.
(3) Ineligible beneficiaries. Same as the example in paragraph (2), except that only 40 percent of the children were identified as gifted or talented, and it is not clear whether the project was designed or implemented to meet the special educational needs of these children. If it is determined that the project was designed and implemented to meet the special educational needs of these children, the LEA must return its entire award. If it is determined that the project was not designed and implemented to meet the special educational needs of gifted or talented students, the LEA must return the entire award because it did not provide services authorized by the statute.

(4) Unallowed activities. An LEA uses funds reserved for the disadvantaged under a Federal educational program to pay for the cost of the same educational services it provides to non-disadvantaged individuals. The program statute requires that funds reserved for the disadvantaged must be used only for the supplemental or additional costs of educational services provided to disadvantaged individuals and that are required for disadvantaged individuals to participate in educational programs. Although the funds were spent on the disadvantaged, the funds were not spent on the supplemental or additional costs of providing services to the disadvantaged.

(5) Nonfederal share. An LEA participates in a Federal program in fiscal year 1988 that requires it to maintain its expenditures from non-Federal sources for program purposes at not less than 90 percent of its Federal funds, but its non-Federal funds expended in the fiscal year were only 58 percent of its Federal funds. Result: The LEA must return 14 percent of its Federal funds, or $18,000, in matching Federal funds were uncollected.

(6) Failure to adhere to restrictions. An LEA uses funds under a Federal drug education program to provide drug education services to children, but the school board had contracted with the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) to receive funds under the Federal drug education program and to provide drug education services to children. Result: The LEA must return 20 percent of its Federal funds, or $36,000, in Federal funds were expended in violation of the Federal program statute.

(7) Unmatched Federal funds. A State submits an application for Federal funds to provide drug abuse prevention services to students in the eighth grade. The State is required to provide drug abuse prevention counseling to students in the eighth grade under the Federal statute. The SEA finds that the project as a whole did not achieve the required counseling to students in the eighth grade. Result: The State must return its entire Federal funds, or $120,000, in Federal funds were uncollected.

(8) Failure to comply with regulations. An LEA spends Federal funds on an unapproved program activity. Result: The LEA must return 20 percent of its Federal funds, or $36,000, in Federal funds were expended for unapproved program activities.

(9) Failure to adhere to requirements. An LEA used Federal funds to provide drug abuse prevention counseling to students in the eighth grade. The State is required to provide drug abuse prevention counseling to students in the eighth grade under the Federal statute. The SEA finds that the project as a whole did not achieve the required counseling to students in the eighth grade. Result: The LEA must return 20 percent of its Federal funds, or $36,000, in Federal funds were expended for unapproved program activities.

(10) Failure to submit required reports. An LEA uses Federal funds to provide drug abuse prevention counseling to students in the eighth grade. The State is required to provide drug abuse prevention counseling to students in the eighth grade under the Federal statute. The SEA finds that the project as a whole did not achieve the required counseling to students in the eighth grade. Result: The LEA must return 20 percent of its Federal funds, or $36,000, in Federal funds were expended for unapproved program activities.

Office of the Secretary, Education

85.115 Relationship to other sections.

This section describes the types of transactions to which a debarment or suspension under the regulations will apply. Subpart B, "Effect of Action," § 85.200, "Debarment or suspension," sets forth the consequences of a debarment or suspension. Those consequences would only be recorded in the database of the lead agency.

Section 85.300, "Scope of debarment," and 85.302, "Scope of suspension," describe the extent to which a specific participant or organizational elements of a participant would be automatically included within a debarment or suspension action, and the conditions under which affiliates of persons associated with a participant may also be brought within the scope of the action.
§ 85.200 Debarment or suspension.

(a) Primary covered transactions. Except to the extent prohibited by law and subject to § 85.201, Treatment of Title IV, HEA participation, persons who are debarred or suspended shall be excluded from primary covered transactions as either participants or principals throughout the executive branch of the Federal Government for the period of their debarment or suspension. Accordingly, ED shall not enter into primary covered transactions with such debarred or suspended persons during such period, except as permitted pursuant to § 85.215.

(b) Lower tier covered transactions. Except to the extent prohibited by law and subject to § 85.210, Treatment of Title IV, HEA participation, persons who have been debarred or suspended shall be excluded from participating as either participants or principals in all lower tier covered transactions (see § 85.110(a)(1)(ii)) for the period of their debarment or suspension. Such persons shall also be excluded from all contracts to provide federally-required audit services regardless of contract amount.

(c) Exceptions. Debarment, or suspension does not affect a person's eligibility for:

1. Statutory entitlements or mandatory awards (but not subaward entitlements thereunder which are not themselves mandatory), including deposited funds insured by the Federal Government;

2. Direct awards to foreign governments or public international organizations or transactions with foreign governments or foreign governmental entities, public international organizations, foreign government owned (in whole or in part) or controlled entities and entities consisting wholly or partially of foreign governments or foreign governmental entities;

4. Federal employment;

5. Transactions pursuant to national or agency-recognized emergencies or disasters;

6. Incidental benefits derived from ordinary governmental operations; and

7. Other transactions where the application of these regulations would be prohibited by law.

(a)(1) The debarment of an educational institution under E.O. 12549 pursuant to procedures that comply with 5 U.S.C. 554-557 (formal adjudication requirements under the Administrative Procedures Act) terminates the institution's eligibility to participate in any student financial assistance program authorized by Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, for the duration of the debarment.

(b)(1) The suspension of an educational institution under E.O. 12549 pursuant to procedures that comply with 5 U.S.C. 554-557 suspends the institution's eligibility to participate in any student financial assistance program authorized by Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended.

§ 85.210 Voluntary exclusion.

People who accept voluntary exclusions under § 85.315 are excluded in accordance with the applicable statutory, executive order, or regulatory authority.

§ 85.216 Exception provision.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, the Secretary conducts an audit or program review of any lender that is debarred or suspended by ED or another Federal agency, to determine whether grounds exist for the initiation of a debarment, suspension, or termination action against the lender under 34 CFR Part 668, Subpart G.

§ 85.220 Continuation of covered transactions.

(a) Notwithstanding the debarment, suspension, or voluntary exclusion of any person by an agency, agencies and participants may continue covered transactions in existence at the time the person was debarred, suspended, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded. A decision as to the type of termination action, if any, should be made only after thorough review to ensure the propriety of the proposed action.

(b) Except as provided in § 85.201, Treatment of Title IV, HEA participation, as amended at 53 FR 19192, May 26, 1988, and (h)(1). 1094(041)(D). 3474) § 85.205 Ineligible persons.

§ 85.225 Failure to adhere to restrictions.

As excepted permitted under § 85.215 or § 85.315 of these regulations, a participant shall not knowingly do business under a covered transaction with a person who is debarred or suspended, or with a person who is ineligible or voluntarily excluded from that covered transaction. Violation of this restriction may result in disallowance of costs, annulment or termination of award, issuance of a stop work order, debarment or suspension, or other remedies, as appropriate. A participant may rely upon the certification of a prospective participant in a lower tier covered transaction that it and its principals are not debarred, suspended, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from the covered transaction (see Appendix B), unless it knows that the certification is erroneous. An agency has the burden of proof that such par-Debarment may be imposed in accordance with the provisions of §§85.300 through 85.314 for:

§ 85.315

(iii) Stating the period of debarment, including effective dates; and § 85.317 Procedures for Title IV, HEA debarments.

(a)(1) If the Secretary debars an educational institution under E.O. 12540, the Secretary uses the following procedures in connection with the debarment to ensure that the debarment also precludes participation under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1985, as amended:

(i) The procedures in § 85.312, Notice of proposed debarment, and § 85.314(d), Notice of debarring official's decision.

(ii) Instead of the procedures in § 85.313 and § 85.314(a)-(c), the procedures in 34 CFR Part 668, Subpart G that are incorporated in the regulations of the Secretary, may grant such a request for reasons including, but not limited to:

(1) Newly discovered material evidence;

(2) Reversal of the conviction or civil judgment upon which the debarment was based;

(3) bona fide change in ownership or management;

(4) Elimination of other causes for which the debarment was imposed; or

(5) Other reasons the debarring official deems appropriate.

(Authority: E.O. 12540; 20 U.S.C. 1082(a)(1) and (h)(1), 1094(c)(1)(K), 3474)

(53 FR 19191 and 19204, May 28, 1988, as amended at 54 FR 4950 and 4980, Jan 31, 1989)

§ 85.320 Period of debarment.

(a) Debarment shall be for a period commensurate with the seriousness of the cause(s). If a suspension precedes a debarment, the suspension period shall be considered in determining the debarment period. The debarment period shall not exceed three years.

(b) In the case of a debarment for purposes of determining the scope of debarment, conduct may be imputed to other participants if the conduct occurred for or on behalf of the joint venture, grant, or other similar transaction. Such a request for an extension shall be considered in determining the scope of debarment or with the knowledge, approval, or acquiescence of these participants.

(a) Scope in general. (1) Debarment of a person under these regulations constitutes debarment of all its divisions and other organizational elements from all covered transactions, unless the debarment decision is limited by its terms to one or more specifically identified individuals, divisions, or other organizational elements or to specific types of transactions.

(2) The debarment action may include any affiliate of the participant that is specifically named and given notice of the proposed debarment and an opportunity to respond (see § 85.314).

(3) Imputing conduct. For purposes of determining the scope of debarment, conduct may be imputed as follows:

(1) Conduct imputed to participant. The fraudulent, criminal or other seriously improper conduct of any officer, director, shareholder, partner, employee, or other individual associated with a participant may be imputed to the participant when the conduct occurred in connection with the individual's performance of duties for or on behalf of the participant, or with the participant's knowledge, approval, or acquiescence. The participant's acceptance of the benefits derived from the conduct shall be evidence of such knowledge, approval, or acquiescence.

(2) Conduct imputed to individuals associated with participant. The fraudulent, criminal, or other seriously improper conduct of a participant may be imputed to any officer, director, shareholder, partner, employee, or other individual associated with the participant who participated in, knew of, or had reason to know of the participant's conduct.

(3) Conduct of one participant imputed to other participants in a joint venture. The fraudulent, criminal, or other seriously improper conduct of one participant in a joint venture, grant, or other similar transaction may be imputed to other participants if the conduct occurred for or on behalf of the joint venture, grant, or other similar transaction.

(b) Suspension is a serious action to be imposed only when:

(1) There exists adequate evidence of one or more of the causes set out in § 85.405, and

(2) Immediate action is necessary to protect the public interest.

(c) In assessing the adequacy of the evidence, the agency should consider how much information is available, how credible it is given the circumstances, whether or not important allegations are corroborated, and what inferences can reasonably be drawn as a result. This assessment should include an examination of basic documents such as grants, cooperative agreements, loan authorizations, and contracts.

§ 85.405 Causes for suspension.

(b) Decisionmaking process. ED shall process suspension actions as informally as practicable, consistent with principles of fundamental fairness, using the procedures in §§ 85.411 through 85.413.

(Authority: E.O. 12549; 20 U.S.C. 3474)

When a respondent is suspended, notice shall immediately be given:

(b) That the suspension is based on an indictment, conviction, or other adequate evidence that the respondent has committed irregularities seriously reflecting on the propriety of further Federal Government dealings with the respondent;

(c) Describing any such irregularities in terms sufficient to put the respondent on notice without disclosing the Federal Government's evidence;

(d) Of the cause(s) relied upon under § 85.405 for imposing suspension;

(e) That the suspension is for a temporary period pending the completion of an investigation or ensuing legal, debarment, or Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act proceeding;

(b) Additional proceedings as to disputed material facts.

(1) If the suspending official finds that the respondent's submission in opposition raises a genuine dispute over facts material to the suspension, the suspending official shall afford an opportunity to appear with a representative, submit documentary evidence, present witnesses, and confront any witness the agency presents, unless:

(i) The action is based on an indictment, conviction or civil judgment, or it is determined by the suspending official to be precluded by the Secretary's participation in the Title IV proceedings; and

(ii) The action is based on an indictment, conviction or civil judgment, or it is determined by the suspending official to be precluded by the Secretary's participation in the Title IV proceedings.

(ii) The suspending official shall base the decision on the facts as found, together with any information and argument submitted by the respondent and any other information in the administrative record.

(2) The suspending official may refer matters involving disputed material facts to another official for findings of fact. The suspending official may reject any such findings, in whole or in part, only after specifically determining them to be arbitrary or capricious or clearly erroneous.

(c) Notice of suspending official's decision. Prompt written notice of the suspending official's decision shall be sent to the respondent.

(b) If legal or administrative proceedings are not initiated within 12 months after the date of the suspension notice, the suspension shall be terminated unless the Assistant Attorney General or United States Attorney requests its extension in writing, in which case it may be extended for an additional six months. In no event may a suspension extend beyond 18 months, unless such proceedings have been initiated within that period.

(c) The suspending official shall notify the Department of Justice of an impending termination of a suspension, at least 30 days before the 12-month period expires, to give that Department an opportunity to request an extension.
