(2) From 20 percent of such funds, each local educational agency shall be allocated an amount that bears the same relationship to such 20 percent as the number of students with handicaps who have individualized education programs under section 614(a)(5) of the Education of the Handicapped Act served by each local educational agency in the preceding fiscal year bears to the total number of such students served by local educational agencies in the State in such year.

(2) From 10 percent of such funds, each local educational agency shall be allocated an amount that bears the same relationship to such 10 percent as the number of students enrolled in schools and adults enrolled in training programs within the jurisdiction of each local educational agency in the preceding fiscal year bears to the number of students enrolled in schools and adults enrolled in training programs under the jurisdiction of all local educational agencies in the State in such year.

(b) MINIMUM GRANT AMOUNT.—(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), no local educational agency shall be eligible for a grant under this part unless the amount allocated to each agency under subsection (a) is not less than $25,000. A local educational agency may enter into a consortium with other local educational agencies for purposes of meeting the minimum grant requirement of this paragraph.

(3) The State may waive the application of paragraph (1) in any case in which the local educational agency—

(2) If an area vocational education school or intermediate educational agency meets the requirements of paragraph (1), then—

(A) the amount that would otherwise be distributed to the local educational agency shall be allocated to the area vocational education school, the intermediate educational agency, and the local educational agency based on each school’s or entity’s relative share of students described in paragraph (1)(B)(1) who are attending vocational education programs that meet the requirements of section 235 (based, if practicable, on the average enrollment for the prior 3 years); or

(B) such amount may be allocated on the basis of an agreement between the local educational agency and the area vocational education school or intermediate educational agency.

(3)(A) For the purposes of this subsection, the State may determine the number of economically disadvantaged students attending vocational education programs on the basis of eligibility for any of the following:

(i) Free or reduced-price meals under the National School Lunch Act.

(ii) The program for aid to dependent children under part A of title IV of the Social Security Act.

(4) The State shall establish an appeals procedure for resolution of any dispute arising between a local educational agency and an area vocational education school or an intermediate educational agency with respect to the allocation procedures described in this section, including the decision of a local educational agency to leave a consortium.

within the State in such year.

may waive the application of subsection (a) in the case of any State that submits to the Secretary an application for such a waiver that—within the State that have the highest numbers of economically disadvantaged individuals and that an alternative formula would result in such a distribution; and

"(2) includes a proposal for an alternative formula that may include criteria relating to the number of individuals attending institutions within the State who—

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the House and the Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill joint resolution (H.R. 7) to amend the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act to extend the authorities contained in such act through the fiscal year 1995, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The Senate amendment struck out all of the House bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The House recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate with an amendment which is a substitute for the House bill and the Senate amendment. The differences between the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clarifying changes.

1. Short Title. The House bill is called the "Applied Technology Education Amendments of 1989." The Senate amendment is called "The Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act Amendments of 1989."

The House recedes with an amendment naming the bill "The Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Act Amendments of 1990."

2. State Councils: Establishment. (a) The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires each State to establish a State human investment council to review Federal programs under the Adult Education Act, the Carl D. Perkins Applied Technology Education Act, the Job Training Partnership Act, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Wagner-Peyser Act. Under current law, each State is required to establish a State council on vocational education and a job training coordinating council and may establish, at its discretion, a State advisory council on adult education. No councils are currently required under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or the Wagner-Peyser Act.

The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, retains the requirement from the current Perkins Act that each State have a council on vocational education.

The House recedes.

3. State Councils: Duties—Coordination. The House bill requires that this new human investment council must review the provision of services under the five programs and advise the governor on how to coordinate such services consistent with the provisions of each program.
The Senate amendment clarifies the section of the current law requiring an evaluation at least every 2 years of the coordination between vocational education and JTPA.

The House recedes.

Under Section 3, authorizations are specified for each of the separate programs contained in Title III, in addition to the State advisory council and bilingual education. The managers want to make very clear that authorizations of appropriations for each of these programs in the fiscal years 1992 through 1995 are contained in the overall authorization of appropriations under Section 3(a), which is the overall ceiling for Titles I, II, III and IV. Such sums as may be necessary are authorized to fiscal years 1992 through 1995 under this subsection, and this authorization would therefore apply to each of the separate programs for these years.

The Senate amendment authorizes $14 million for fiscal year 1991 and such sums for fiscal years 1992 through 1995 for community-based organizations.

The Senate recedes with an amendment setting $15 million for fiscal year 1991.

The Senate recedes with amendment for a $1 billion trigger for guidance and counseling, business-labor-education partnerships, and community education-lighthouse school programs.

The Senate recedes with an amendment setting $10 million for fiscal year 1991.

29. Authorization: National Programs. For national programs, the House bill reserves 2% of the appropriations made under the Act. The Senate amendment reserves 2.75%.

The House recedes with an amendment setting 2.5% because this percentage reflects more accurately the current appropriations.

30. State Allotment. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, modifies the provision guaranteeing each State no less than one-half of 1% of the appropriation by placing a limitation on each State of no more than an amount calculated by multiplying the number of individuals in the State counted for the formula by 150% of the national average per pupil payment. However, no State would receive less than it received in FY 1989.

The Senate recedes with an amendment for a fiscal year 1991 hold harmless.

31. State Allotment: Indian Programs. The State amendment, but not the House bill, increases from 1¼ to 2% the amounts reserved for Indian programs.

The House recedes.

36. Within State Allocation. (a) The House bill permits a State to reserve a maximum of 5% of the basic State grant for State administration and sets a minimum of $250,000 per State. The Senate amendment also reserves a maximum of 5% for State administration (25% of a maximum of 20%) but does not contain any minimum. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires States to match dollar for dollar the funds reserved for State administration.

The Senate recedes on 1st and 2nd sentences. The House recedes on the 3rd sentence with an amendment requiring States to use the 5% State administration funding to develop State plans; review/approve local applications; administer funds; monitor and evaluate program effectiveness; provide technical assistance; assure compliance with all aspects of law, including required services and activities for individuals who are members of special populations. The managers intend that the matching requirement be applied to overall, not line-by-line, State administration expenditures. For example, the $60,000 reserved for the State sex equity coordinator must be matched, but the matching funds need not be used for such coordinator. For further information regarding this provision, see item #39.

(b) The House bill requires that 10% of the basic State grant be reserved for the program for single parents, homemakers, displaced homemakers and for the sex equity program. The Senate amendment reserves 4% (20% of the maximum of 20%) of the basic State grant for sex equity programs and reserves for the displaced homemakers program at least 10.5% of the amount a State reserves for secondary and postsecondary programs. The Senate amendment requires that the funds reserved for the displaced homemaker program be taken from the amount a State set aside for postsecondary programs.

The Senate recedes with amendments setting 10 1/2% for both programs, of which no less than 7% is for the displaced homemakers and no less than 3% for sex equity, and providing for a 1990 hold harmless for both programs which will be ratably reduced if sequestration or a decline in appropriations occurs.

39. Within State Allocation—State Administration Match. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, reserves 5% of the basic State grant for tech-prep programs. The House bill separately authorizes these programs for $200 million in FY 1990.

The Senate recedes with an amendment requiring the sex equity coordinator's salary to come from the 5% for administration. The managers intend that this provision lead to overall, not line item, matching for State administration. Also included is the same amendment as in #36(a).

40. Within State Allocation—Secondary/Postsecondary Split. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires each State to fund secondary and postsecondary programs in accordance with a range of permissible percentages. (Of the 75% of the basic State grant reserved for title II, 65%-75% would be reserved for secondary programs and 25%-35% would be reserved for postsecondary programs.)

The Senate amendment includes a hold harmless phase-in of this requirement (20% in FY 1991, 36% in FY 1992, and 51% in FY 1993) and also permits a waiver for states (which is described later). The Senate recedes with an amendment which provides that, if a State uses less than 15% of Title II, Part C funds for either secondary or postsecondary programs, it can allocate such funds through competitive grants—provided that better targeting results.

41. Within State Allocation—Title II Programs. The Senate amendment reserves 75% of the basic State grant for basic programs under part C of title II. The House bill applies the remainder of allotments not used for administration (5% maximum), sex equity/displaced homemakers (10%), and special programs (5% maximum) to title II basic programs.

The Senate recedes with an amendment reserving no more than 25% for State activities (administration, displaced homemakers, sex equity, corrections, and discretionary programs) and directing at least 75% to local uses.

The Senate recedes on the first sentence. The House recedes on the second sentence. The managers allow qualified schools operated by the Bureau of Indian Affairs to compete for grants under this section. Such applications may be made either as individual schools, or in consortia made up of a number of such schools or such schools, and other entities. Such applications are to be considered in the same fashion as all other applications. However, if a B.I.A. operated school or consortia is successful, the managers have mandated a minimum grant. This should be taken into consideration either in the initial application or in a request by the Department for an amendment to the application, which shall involve activities in support of the initial project. Tribally operated schools, whether contract or grant, would continue to qualify as tribal organizations. With respect to administration of grants or contracts with successful B.I.A. operated schools, the Secretary of Education shall enter into an arrangement with the Secretary of the Interior for the transfer of funds to the Secretary of Interior/Assistant Secretary of B.I.A. for administration through the B.I.A.'s cost-accounting system, provided that the B.I.A. shall pass through to the successful school/consortia the entire amount of money, in exactly the form and with the exact conditions as are associated with the successful grant and the B.I.A. shall take no administrative or handling or indirect cost funds from the grant/contract for the handling of such transfer. The Secretary of Education shall conduct such evaluation and receive all other grant documents or products directly from the grantee.

43. (b) One-twelfth of the funds reserved under this section will go for grants to BIA secondary schools to provide voc ed programs for secondary students attending the school, with a minimum grant size of $35,000. The bill outlines the distribution of any excess funds.

(c) Two-twelfths of the funds reserved under this section will go for grants to two or more schools of vocational-technical education, which are: a) governed by a majority of trustees who are Indians, b) in operation for five or more years, c) enroll a minimum of 100 students of which a majority are Indians, and d) nationally accredited, or a candidate for accreditation for at least 5 years. If any funds from the reservation are left over, the Secretary may award grants first to tribally-controlled colleges and, if any funds are still remaining, to Indian tribes and organizations. A minimum grant of $50,000 is specified.

American Samoa, Palau, the Marshall Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Marianas will receive $190,000, the amount provided to American Samoa in FY 1990 for vocational education programs. From the remaining funds, the Secretary shall make a grant to the Center for the Advancement of Pacific Education in Hawaii for vocational education and training grants in the territories for teacher and counselor training, curriculum development, and improving secondary and postsecondary programs. This Center may use no more than 5% of the funds for administration of the grant.

The House recedes with an amendment of $500,000 for Guam and $190,000 each for American Samoa, Commonwealth of the Marianas and Palau, but Palau may only receive funding until it ratifies any compact of free association. Additional amendments affect the Center on Pacific Education by limiting funds to direct educational services permitting CAPE to make grants as well to the Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia, and clarifying any successor agency as the one designated as the Pacific Regional Laboratory. The managers intend that the allocation for Palau be granted directly to the Micronesian Occupational College (MOC) in Koror.

The Senate recedes with an amendment including local educational agencies and intermediate educational agencies.

69. Section 116. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires each State to provide assurances that it will carry out the provisions of section 116, dealing with state improvement plans.

The Senate recedes.

70. State Plans—Assurances/Guidance & Counseling. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill requires that the State plan provide assurances that the State will provide leadership, supervision, and resources for comprehensive career guidance, vocational counseling, and placement programs. As a component of those assurances, the State must assess and report on the degree to which aggregate guidance and counseling expenditures are not less than such expenditures in FY 1988.

The House recedes. The managers intend that this provision will result in States reporting in the State plan on expenditures for guidance and counseling. Although the assessment is to be done annually, reporting is required only as part of the State plan.

71. State Plans—Approval. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill adds the Governor to the list of entities (State legislature and State job training coordinator) to receive the state plan at least 60 days before submission to the Secretary.

The Senate recedes.

The Senate recedes.

(b) The House bill requires the State agencies responsible for the supervision of community colleges, technical institutes, or other 2-year postsecondary institutions primarily engaged in providing postsecondary applied technology education all be consulted if they are separate.

The Senate recedes.

(c) The Senate amendment only requires consultation with the State agency responsible for community colleges and for secondary education.

The Senate recedes.

73. State Plans—Consultation/Tech-Prep. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill requires that the State board develop the portion of the State plan relating to the reservation of funds of tech-prep education after consultation with appropriate State agencies.

The House recedes with an amendment deleting the setaside but requiring consultation for any tech-prep funding.

74. State Plans—Approval by Secretary. Both the House bill and the Senate amendment require that the State plan be submitted to the Secretary by May 1. The Secretary must approve qualified plans within 60 days of their submission. The House bill includes the development and implementation of performance standards, and the Senate amendment refers to performance evaluations and improvements.

The Senate recedes.

75. Local Application. The House bill retains the current local application under Title I, Part B—State Organization and Planning and adds to the list of requirements for local applications several new items.

The Senate amendment moves the local application to Title II, Part C, Subpart I—Secondary School Programs and also adds new requirements.

The House recedes on placement of section in law, including it in Title II, Part C, Subpart 3.

(a) The House bill requires that local applications include a description of how the State performance standards and measures for applied technology education programs will be applied and implemented—in consultation with the private industry council under JTPA.

The Senate amendment requires that local applications include a description of the performance evaluation standards the applicant will use to measure its progress. In addition, the applications must describe methods to coordinate vocational education services with relevant programs under JTPA—including cooperative arrangements established with JTPA PICs in order to avoid duplication and expand accessibility.

The House recedes.

(b) The House bill requires that local applications include a description of how access to programs of good quality will be provided through outreach programs to students who are economically disadvantaged, handicapped, foster children, or are limited English proficient.

The Senate amendment requires that local applications ensure full and equitable participation in a vocational education program of quality.

The Senate recedes with amendment striking "foster children" and including after the term "disadvantaged" the following "(including foster children)."

(c) The House bill requires that local applications include a description of how applied technology education programs for handicapped students will be monitored.

The Senate amendment includes new requirements that local applications contain: (i) a report on the number of special population individuals being served, (ii) a description of how the needs of special populations will be assessed and of the planned use of funds to meet such needs, (iii) identification of the planned use of resources allocated to meet those needs, and (iv) assurances that programs will be carried out according to the criteria for programs for each special population. The applications must also assure that parents and special population students have been involved in developing programs.

The House recedes.

(d) The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the local recipient to demonstrate that it has met the needs of special populations before school-wide use of curriculum development and program improvement activities is permitted.

The Senate recedes.

(a) The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that local applications include a description of coordination with community-based organizations.

The Senate recedes.

(b) The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that the special needs coordinator review and comment on the assurances in the application regarding services to special populations.

The Senate recedes.

(g) The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires the local recipient to consider the occupational needs of the area being assisted.

The Senate recedes.

(h) The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires the local recipient to describe how funds will first be used to serve schools with the greatest concentration of special population students and which have programs that are in greatest need of improvement.

The Senate recedes with an amendment establishing the purpose of Perkins funds as being to improve programs at a limited number of sites or in a limited number of subject areas with the full participation of members of special populations. Recipients must annually choose sites and subject areas giving a priority to schools or institutions with the highest concentrations of special populations. Funds may only be used to improve programs that are of such size, scope, and quality as to be effective, integrate academic and vocational education, and provide equitable participation for special populations. Activities, such as tech-prep education, upgrading of curriculum, and in-service training may be supported with funds. The managers emphasize that the activities outlined in Section 235(c)(2) are intended to be illustrative. Other activities which meet the requirements of Section 235(c)(1) may be funded.

(i) The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires local recipients to provide a program in which academic and occupational disciplines will be integrated so that students receive competency in both, in which coherent sequence of courses leading to a job skill is offered, in which students are encouraged through counseling to pursue a coherent sequence of courses, in which special population students receive supportive services, which are of sufficient size, scope, and quality to bring about improvement, and which cooperate with the sex equity program.

The Senate recedes.

(j) The Senate amendment contains somewhat similar requirements in its provisions for the use of funds for secondary and post-secondary recipients.

The Senate recedes.

(k) The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires each local educational agency working in a consortium to describe how funds have been provided to area schools in the consortium according to such schools' relative shares of special population students.

The Senate recedes with an amendment which provides that funds must be allocated directly to an area school if an LEA and an area school form a consortium and if the area school serves an approximately equal or greater number of economically disadvantaged and disabled students. Diverse types of data can be used for these purposes. Also, if an LEA allocation is not sufficient to provide a quality program, the LEA is encouraged to transfer funds to an area school.

76. Local application—waiver. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires that the local application include any other appropriate information that the State may require.

The House recedes.

77. State Improvement Plans. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires each State to review all programs in secondary and postsecondary institutions to determine whether such programs coordinate academic and occupational education, offer coherent sequences of courses, counsel students, lead to academic and occupational competencies, provide access to good programs for special population students, and provide updated equipment and materials. A State may fulfill this requirement either in fiscal 1991 or 1992.

The House recedes.

78. Standards and Assessments. The House bill requires States receiving funds under the Act to develop State-wide systems of standards and measures of performance for technical education programs within two years of enactment.

The Senate amendment requires States desiring funding under Title II to develop criteria for and evaluate effectiveness of programs under Title II. The State assessment must be completed no later than the beginning of the 1993 school year.

The Senate recedes with an amendment requiring each State to develop and implement a state-wide system of standards and measures in consultation with a committee of practitioners; includes measures of learning and competency gains in both academic achievement and vocational skills competencies; also requires a report to show that standards and measures are unbiased to special populations; also an amendment which requires each eligible recipient with full participation by representatives of special populations to annually evaluate the effectiveness of the program based on the standards and measures set forth. If no progress is shown after the first year, the eligible recipient will develop a plan in consultation with teachers, parents, students, and all others involved.

Standards and Assessments—Measures (a) Gains. The House bill requires that the system of standards and measures of performance include measures of learning gains and competency gains.

The Senate amendment requires that program criteria and evaluation include student progress in the achievement of basic academic skills.

The Senate recedes with same amendments as in #78.

(b) Performance. The House bill requires that the system include one or more of the following measures of performance: competency attainment, job or work skill attainment or enhancement, retention in/completion of secondary school or its equivalent, articulation into additional training, education or military service.

The Senate amendment requires that program criteria include student progress in achieving occupational skills necessary to obtain employment in the field for which the student has been prepared, including occupational skills in all aspects of the industry the student is preparing to enter.

Same as numbers 78 and 78(a).

(c) Special Populations. The House bill requires that the system include incentives or adjustments to encourage service to targeted groups or special populations. It must also include performance levels for handicapped students, commensurate with their ability levels and IEPs.

The Senate amendment requires that program criteria include the program's ability to meet the needs of special populations.

The Senate recedes with an amendment requiring each eligible recipient, with full participation by representatives of special populations, to annually evaluate the effectiveness of the program based on the standards and measures set forth. If no progress is shown after the first year, the eligible recipient will develop a plan in consultation with teachers, parents, students and all others involved.

(d) Coordination. The House bill requires that the system include procedures for utilizing existing resources and methods developed in other programs receiving federal assistance.

The Senate amendment requires that the program criteria include any other measures the State deems necessary.

The House recedes and the Senate recedes with an amendment requiring each State to develop and implement a state-wide system of standards and measures in consultation with a committee of practitioners; includes measures of learning and competency gains in both academic achievement and vocational skills competencies; also requires a report to show that standards and measures are unbiased to special populations.

(e) Standards and Assessments—Consistency with Local Criteria. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that the State make every effort to develop criteria that are consistent with local criteria. If after two years the State determines that the local recipient is not making progress, then the State must work with that recipient to modify its program.

The Senate recedes with amendments requiring each State to develop and implement a State-wide system of standards and measures in consultation with a committee of practitioners; includes measures of learning and competency gains in both academic achievement and vocational skills competencies; also requires a report to show that standards and measures are unbiased to special populations. The Senate also recedes on an amendment requiring that if student progress has not been made after one year of implementation of the plan by the LEA, the State board and LEA will work jointly to develop a plan for improvement. If after one year of implementation of the joint plan, no progress is made, the State board and LEA will make revisions for each consecutive year until performance is sustained over a period of more than one year.

79. State Assessment. (a) The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires each State to develop measurable objective criteria and standards for programs. Wide consultation is required and such criteria must be used by school year 1998.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as in 78(d). The House recedes with amendment to change date to 1991.
(b) The Senate amendment further provides that such criteria must include several factors, such as student improvement in basic skills. Within each State, the head of the special education unit, the sex equity coordinator, and the administrator of limited-English proficiency programs must each develop data collection procedures appropriate to special populations.

The Senate recedes.

c) The Senate amendment further requires each State board to assess improvement in programs using six specific criteria, including the integration of academic and vocational education.

The House recedes with an amendment adding additional criteria.

80. Standards and Assessments—Technical Assistance. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires the Secretary to provide technical assistance to the States regarding the development of a system of standards and measures of performance.

The Senate recedes.

81. Standards and Assessments—Report. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires the Secretary to report to Congress within four years regarding the status of each State's system of standards for performance and measures of performance developed and any effects due to the implementation of same.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as in 78(d).

82. State Assessment—Criteria. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that the State assessment include criteria relating to: (a) student improvement in basic skills; (b) gains in learning and educational outcomes; (c) competency in all aspects of the industry the student is preparing to enter; (d) student improvement in life skills, problem solving, and career decision making; (e) the ability of recipients (under Title II, subpart 2 of part C) to meet the needs of special populations; (f) the quality of vocational education in terms of pertinence of programs, the technological and educational capacity of vocational curricula, equipment, and instructional materials to meet the increased demands of the workplace; capability to provide training to address the changing content of jobs; capability of programs to give experience in all aspects of the industry and to provide job placements; and measurement of the state-of-the-art quality of vocational education and (g) setting measurable goals to meet the needs of special populations.

The House recedes with an amendment requiring the State to develop measurable objective criteria to assess program quality including integration of academic and vocational education, sequential course of study, pertinence of programs to the workplace, and the ability of eligible recipients to meet the needs of special populations.

83. State Assessment—Data Collection/Special Populations. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the head of the special education office, the sex equity administrator, the Chapter 1 Coordinator, and the administrator of LEP programs to develop data collection procedures (including program services and outcomes as well as individuals being served) appropriate to the special populations being served.

The Senate recedes.
84. State Assessment—Improvements Needed. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires each State board to assess improvements needed in programs. Factors in the assessment include: (a) academic/vocational education integration, (b) all aspects of the industry, (c) sequential course of study, (d) increased student job placement, (e) increased linkages between secondary and post-secondary institutions, (f) assistance to special populations; and (g) raising the quality of programs in schools with high concentrations of poor and low achieving students.

The House recedes with same amendment as #82.

85. State Assessment—Improvements Needed/Timetable. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the State board to complete an assessment of improvements needed pursuant to a timetable consistent with the State plan.

The House recedes with an amendment requiring the assessment to be completed six months after date of enactment.

86. State Leadership. The House bill permits a State to reserve up to 5% of the basic State grant for business-education-labor partnerships, the development of State performance standards, the training and retraining of staff, at least one program for incarcerated youth or criminals, preservice and inservice training, and support of student organizations.

The Senate amendment adds a new section which allows a State to reserve a maximum of 15% of the basic State grant for State programs and State leadership activities. State programs authorized may include the following activities: training and retraining programs for teachers, administrators, and counselors; curriculum development and dissemination and field testing; programs in technology education, and supporting student vocational organizations.

The Senate amendment adds a new section which allows a State to reserve a maximum of 15% of the basic State grant for State programs and State leadership activities. State programs authorized may include the following activities: training and retraining programs for teachers, administrators, and counselors; curriculum development and dissemination and field testing; programs in technology education, and supporting student vocational organizations.

The House recedes with an amendment requiring that the State shall use the 8.5% allotted for State leadership activities for staff development (both in-service and pre-service training for vocational and academic teachers working in vocational education, counselors, CBO personnel, corrections educators, special emphasis on training of minority teacher); curriculum development (integration of vocational and academic training, and sequential courses of study in state-of-the-art programs and techniques for integration); assessment, performance standards and measures, program improvement, and accountability. Also the State may use these funds for promoting business, education, industry and labor, CBO or inter-agency partnerships; tech prep education, data collection, support of vocational student organizations, and programs in technology education. The managers intend that States be afforded flexibility in providing technical assistance with any funds carried over from prior years into years affected by these amendments. The managers also intend that current restrictions on use of Perkins funds for awards and student travel apply to the provision authorizing States to support vocational youth organizations.

87. State Leadership—Emphasis in Training & Retraining. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that state programs give particular emphasis in training and retraining programs to recruiting and training minority teachers and counselors and that the utilization of business and industry equipment and personnel be encouraged.
The House recedes.

88. State Leadership—Curriculum. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires that curriculum development/dissemination/field-testing activities in state programs give priority to curriculum which: (a) integrates academic and vocational studies and (b) incorporates the needs of business, industry, and labor in high skilled occupations. These activities may include the award of contracts to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting and of grants for tech-prep programs.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as in #86.

89. State Leadership—Leadership Activities. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits State leadership activities to include: (a) monitoring and evaluation, (b) development and implementation of performance evaluations, (c) development and implementation of the State assessment, (d) promoting business-industry-labor-interagency linkages, (e) promoting technology education courses, (f) establishing guidelines for local plan development, (g) creation and maintenance of a public awareness program, (h) developing linkages with community-based organizations, and (i) building collaborative efforts to improve vocational education services in traditionally underserved populations.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as in #86.

90. State Leadership—Matching Funds. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires a dollar-for-dollar match for leadership activities.

The Senate recedes.

91. Sex Equity—Displaced Homemaker Program Coordinator. Both the House bill and the Senate amendment require that a coordinator be appointed who would be responsible for administering both the homemakers and sex equity programs. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, adds new requirements as regards this coordinator. For example, the coordinator would have to be responsible for developing an annual plan for the use of all funds available for such programs and for managing and monitoring these funds.

The House bill places the coordinator under Title I, Part C ("State Administered Programs").

The Senate amendment places the coordinator under Title II, Part A ("State Programs").

The Senate recedes with an amendment to incorporate into State administration. (Section 111).

92. Sex Equity—Displaced Homemaker Program Coordinator/Administration. The House bill retains current language (Section 111(b)(1)) listing the duties to be fulfilled by the coordinator. This language is expanded by adding: (a) development of an annual plan for use of funds; (b) management of fund distribution; (c) monitoring of use of funds; (d) evaluation of program effectiveness.

The Senate amendment retains Section 111(b)(1), language and adds a new provision which allows the coordinator to review and comment on LEA plans to ensure the needs of women and men in nontraditional jobs are met.

The Senate recedes on first sentence with an amendment.

The House recedes on second sentence.
98. Homemakers Program—Participants. The House bill offers programs for single parents, homemakers, and displaced homemakers.

The Senate amendment offers programs for single parents, displaced homemakers, and single pregnant women.

The House recedes.

94. Homemakers Program—Reserve of Funds. The House bill requires that the State program to assist single parents, homemakers, and displaced homemakers be funded with the sex equity program in an amount equal to 10% of the basic State grant. Seventy percent of that 10% reserve will be used for homemakers programs and the remaining 30% for sex equity programs.

The Senate amendment reserves for programs serving single parents, displaced homemakers, and single pregnant women at least 10.5% of the amount the State reserves for both secondary and postsecondary programs. (Sex equity reserve is 4% of the basic State grant.) The funds will be taken from the amount set aside for postsecondary programs, but programs may be offered in either secondary or postsecondary schools.

The Senate recedes with amendments reserving 10¼%, requiring at least 7% for displaced homemakers and 3% for sex equity, and providing for a 1990 hold harmless adjusted ratably if sequestration or a reduction in appropriations occurs.

95. Homemaker Program—Required Services. The Senate bill provides that homemaker programs must provide vocational and prevocational programs, including comprehensive career guidance and counseling, to participants.

The House recedes. The managers intend guidance and counseling to be a part of the general State program but not necessarily a part of each local program.

96. Homemaker Program—Activities. In general, the House bill indicates that the State shall use a portion of its allotment only for the activities listed below.

The Senate amendment permits the State to use funds for the activities listed below.

The Senate recedes. The managers intend that these funds be used for direct services and the smallest amount possible be used for administration.

(a) Preparatory/Pre-Vocational. The House bill provides that homemaker programs may provide, subsidize, reimburse, or pay for Preparatory services, including basic literacy instruction and necessary educational materials, to provide participants with marketable skills.

The Senate recedes.

(b) The Senate amendment provides that homemaker programs may provide, subsidize, reimburse, or pay for vocational and prevocational education and training activities—including basic academic skills, necessary educational materials, and career guidance and counseling—to provide participants with marketable skills.

The House recedes with amendment changing “may” to “shall”.

97. Grants. The House bill provides for grants to eligible recipients for Preparatory services of applied technology education and applied technology education services.
The Senate bill refers to grants to local recipients for vocational and prevocational education services.

The Senate recedes on "preparatory" and "local".

The House recedes on "applied technology".

98. Support Services. The House bill provides that homemaker programs may assist participants with dependent care or transportation services.

The Senate amendment provides that homemaker program may provide support services including dependent care, transportation services, special services and supplies, books and materials.

The House recedes.

99. Information. The House bill provides that homemaker programs may provide information to single parents, homemakers, and displaced homemakers about applied technology education programs and related support services.

The Senate amendment provides that homemaker programs may provide information to single parents, displaced homemakers, and single pregnant women about vocational education programs, related support services, and career counseling.

The House recedes.

100. Sex Equity Programs—General Provisions. Both the House bill and the Senate amendment make similar requirements for sex equity programs. Provisions are identical, with the exception of the two items noted below:

(a) The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, includes comprehensive career guidance and counseling among activities to eliminate sex bias and stereotyping.

The House recedes. The managers have agreed on a State-level requirement for guidance and counseling and not on a requirement for such activities within each local program.

(b) The House bill refers to "preparatory services for applied technology education and applied technology programs."

The Senate bill refers to "vocational and prevocational education programs."

The Senate recedes on preparatory. The House recedes on "applied technology".

101. Sex Equity Programs—Secondary School Level. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, adds new provisions dealing with sex equity in schools offering secondary programs. Schools must provide: equal access to nontraditional occupation education and training and to the full range of vocational programs, programs to overcome sex bias/stereotyping, programs to expand outreach to nontraditional occupations, supplementary services, and programs to increase and provide support services. The sex equity coordinator must review these programs and services.

The House recedes with an amendment applying requirements to postsecondary institutions.

102. Sex Equity Programs—Competitive Awards. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, adds a new section requiring that the administrator of the sex equity and homemaker programs distribute the funds for both programs on a competitive basis and collect data from recipients so that evaluations can be conducted.

The Senate recedes with an amendment regarding size, scope and quality so as to ensure success. The requirement to distribute funds for sex equity and single parent/displaced homemaker programs on a competitive basis does not mean that programs may not receive continuing support from year to year if they continue to compete successfully. It is intended that successfully operating programs be supported through continued funding and that States not apply a maximum number of years a program may be funded. It is intended that the distribution of funds for the sex equity and single parent/displaced homemaker programs be based on information and needs identified by the sex equity coordinator. The funding formulas for basic grant funds are not applicable to these programs.

103. Secondary Programs—Within State Allocation. The House bill requires each State to allocate basic State grant funds (Title II) by formula to each LEA serving secondary students as follows: Each local educational agency within the State would receive an allocation based on its relative share of Chapter 1 basic grants (70 percent of the allocation), handicapped students (20 percent), and general enrollment—including adults enrolled in training programs (10 percent) within the State. (The State may decide how much of its Federal funds will be spent on secondary programs.) The Senate amendment requires the State to allocate the amount reserved for secondary programs to each local educational agency in proportion to the amount of funds such agency received in basic and concentration grants under Chapter 1.

The Senate recedes. An LEA may receive funds directly or designate a fiscal agent to receive such funds in the case where LEAs form a consortium.

104. Secondary Programs—State Correctional Program. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the State board to ratably reduce the funds reserved for secondary programs to provide monies to the State corrections education agency in an amount substantially equal to the amount it would have received had it been eligible for Chapter 1, but not more than 5 percent of the total secondary program reserve. The age of individuals in correctional institutions to be counted shall be 9 through 35, although services are not limited to those in this age group.

The House recedes with an amendment treating the correctional agency or agencies as an LEA and includes in the count of individual criminal offenders in all non-Federal correctional institutions within the State, provides that the funds shall be made available to a correctional agency or agencies designated by the State board, and treats such correctional agency or agencies as if they were LEAs applying for grants to the State board.

105. The Senate amendment requires an allocation to be equal to or exceed $25,000 in order for an LEA, area school, or intermediate agency to be eligible. Such entities, however, may form consortia and aggregate their individual amounts in order to achieve this threshold. The $25,000 minimum grant requirement does not apply to State correctional agencies.

The House bill provides that any LEA receiving a grant of not more than $5,000 must participate in a consortium. The State, however, may waive this requirement for an LEA in a rural or sparsely populated area which demonstrates an inability to form a consortium.
The House recedes with an amendment of a $15,000 minimum grant with a waiver for school districts that are unable to form a consortium if in a rural, sparsely populated area.

106. (a) Secondary Programs—Redistribution of Funds. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, provides that amounts not allocated due to LEA's not meeting the $25,000 funding threshold shall be redistributed to LEAs in accordance with the provisions of the section.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as #106.

(b) The House bill requires that the amount which would have gone under this formula to LEAs serving only elementary schools must be allocated to LEAs with secondary schools educating the students from such elementary school districts. Conversely, the amount to be allocated to an LEA only serving secondary schools is determined based on the number of students that enter such secondary schools from the elementary schools involved.

The House recedes on 1st sentence.
The Senate recedes on 2nd sentence.

(c) The Senate amendment prevents any LEA only serving elementary schools from receiving funds and redistributes such funds to the local or regional educational agency which provides secondary school services in the same attendance area.

The House recedes.

(d) The Senate amendment provides that amounts available to LEAs served by an area vocational school shall be made available to the area school. A State agency is permitted to distribute funds to both an area school and an LEA served by such school, if the area school and the LEA offer comparable programs. In such a case, the $25,000 minimum must be met both by the area school and the LEA.

The House recedes with the same amendment as #75(k).

107. Secondary Programs—Intermediate Educational Agency. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, provides that where an intermediate educational agency and an LEA served by such an intermediate educational agency offer comparable vocational education programs, the State agency may distribute funds to both an intermediate educational agency and an LEA served by such an agency if the $25,000 minimum is met.

The House recedes with same amendment as #75(k).

108. Secondary Programs—LEA Notification to State. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires an LEA to notify the State of the portion of its allocation which should be distributed to the LEA, to any consortium in which such LEA participates, or to any area school.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as #75(k).

109. The House bill requires an LEA to notify the State of the portion of its allocation which should be distributed to the LEA, to any consortium in which such LEA participates, or to any area school. Further, any LEA sending students to an area school must participate in a consortium with such school and with any other LEAs sending students to such schools and must provide a relative percentage of its allocation to be sent to such school based on the relative percentage of special needs students in that school who are from that LEA.
The Senate amendment requires an area vocational school to be allocated the funds which are available to LEAs served by that school. Intermediate educational agencies would also receive the funds allocated to LEAs served by that agency.

The Senate amendment, however, permits a State agency to distribute funds to both an area school and an LEA served by such area school if the area school and the LEA offer comparable programs. In such a case, the $26,000 minimum requirement must be met both by the area school and the LEA.

The House recedes with same amendment as #75(k).

110. Secondary Programs.—State Reserve. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits States to reserve up to 10% of secondary school program funds to make special allocations to areas experiencing severe hardships and whose percentage, or concentration, of these hardships are above the statewide average. Such severe hardships include: severe unemployment, severe poverty concentration, high dropout rate, high crime rate, high incidence of drug abuse, or high concentration of LEP students. Funds may be distributed to LEAs, area vo-tech schools, intermediate educational agencies, or community colleges. Each reserved fund would have to be matched by the State using State sources or private sources. No funds from LEAs, area schools, or intermediate agencies may be used to meet this matching requirement. In addition to such distributions, a State may use these reserved funds at community colleges for programs providing high school diplomas to youths 17 through 18 if these community colleges match the grants.

The Senate recedes.

111. Postsecondary Education Allocation. (a) The House bill requires each State to distribute by formula the amount it reserves for postsecondary and adult programs. Each eligible institution would receive a relative share of these funds based on its number of Pell grant and BIA grant recipients (70% of the allocation), handicapped individuals receiving assistance under the Rehabilitation Act (20%), and general enrollment (10%), within the State. A State is permitted to use training enrollment in lieu of general enrollment if the State determines that applied technology programs offered by eligible institutions are clearly distinguishable from other education programs offered by such institutions.

The Senate recedes with an amendment establishing the relative distribution of Pell and BIA grants among recipients enrolled in Perkins eligible programs in institutions of higher education, LEAs serving adults, and area schools serving adults, as the basis for distributing postsecondary funds within a State but permitting a State to apply to the Secretary for a waiver for an alternative formula proposing one or more substituting or additional factors, such as participation in publicly-funded student aid, AFDC, or JTPA programs, if such alternative results in better targeting of funds to institutions with the highest numbers of economically disadvantaged students and adults enrolled in Perkins eligible programs. A minimum grant of $50,000 is required. If the institutions decline to use the money, it shall revert back to the State to be redistributed consistent with the purposes of this Act.

(b) The Senate amendment reserves for postsecondary and adult programs 25%–35% of the 75% available for secondary, postsecondary, and adult programs and permits States to distribute these funds on either a competitive basis or formula determined by the State board.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as in #40.

(c) The Senate amendment permits a State to distribute the funds it reserves for these programs on either a competitive basis or by formula. Unlike the House bill, the Senate amendment permits such grants to be awarded to community-based organizations.

The Senate recedes.

112. Postsecondary Programs—Priorities. The Senate bill, but not the House amendment, gives priority to: (a) programs serving special populations; (b) apprenticeship programs; (c) programs strongly tied to economic development efforts within the State; (d) programs which train in all aspects of the occupation where job openings are projected or currently available, provide comprehensive career guidance and counseling, and are developed in conjunction with business/labor/industry/the community/the State board/other local eligible recipients, and focus on the most salable, highest placement aspects of the industry; and (e) partnerships with business/industry/labor.

The House recedes with an amendment establishing for postsecondary institutions the same criteria for local uses of funds as are applicable to secondary schools. Permissive uses of funds include tech-prep, apprenticeship, economic development, and programs involving all aspects of the industry.

113. Postsecondary Programs—Reallocation of Funds. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires each LEA and eligible institution which does not expend all of its funds in one academic year to return such funds to the State for reallocation. If the State is not able to reallocate, then it may retain such funds to be distributed in the following academic year.

The Senate recedes.

114. Postsecondary Programs—Coordination with other Programs
The Senate recedes.

The Senate amendment requires that postsecondary awards be coordinated with programs and services provided through JTPA, the Adult Education Act, and the Family Support Act.

The House recedes retaining the provision with the exception of the formation of a human investment council.

115. Secondary Programs—Minimum Grant Size. The House bill provides a minimum grant size of $5,000. Any LEA receiving a grant of less than $5,000 must participate in a consortium.

The Senate amendment requires a minimum grant size of $25,000 in order for an LEA area school, or intermediate agency to be eligible for funds. Such entities may form consortia and aggregate their individual amounts in order to achieve this threshold.

116. Secondary Programs—Minimum Grant Size Waiver. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, permits a State to waive the minimum grant requirement for an LEA in a rural or... sparsely populated area which demonstrates an inability to form a consortium.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as #105.

117. Secondary/Postsecondary Funding—Hold Harmless. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, provides a hold harmless with no LEA or eligible entity receiving less than 80% of the average of its allocation percentage for each of the 3 preceding fiscal years; in the second and third fiscal years, no less than 80% of the allocation percentage for the preceding fiscal year. In the event a State does not receive sufficient funding to pay the full hold harmless amount, payments will be ratably reduced.
The House recedes.

118. Secondary/Postsecondary Funding—Duplication. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, forbids Federal funds from being used to duplicate facilities or services unless alternative servces or facilities would be more effective.
The Senate recedes.

119. Secondary/Postsecondary—Allocation Percentage. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, defines “allocation percentage” for this subsection as the percentage which an LEA or eligible institution received of the total amount allocated under this section or allotted under the previous Perkins Act to all agencies and instittutions in the State.
The House recedes.

120. Postsecondary Programs—Eligible Institutions. The House bill defines “eligible institution” as any secondary school, area school, technical institute, community college, or institution of higher education designated by the State that offers programs qualified for funds under the basic State grant and that seeks to receive assistance. (This definition is applicable to both secondary and postsecondary programs.). In addition, the House bill permits an LEA to apply for funds as part of a consortium with other LEAs or eligible institutions of higher education to conduct programs.
The Senate amendment does not define “eligible institution” but makes eligible for postsecondary funding: (a) postsecondary education institutions, (b) LEAs for programs for adults in secondary schools, (c) area vocational schools serving postsecondary students or adults, (d) community-based organizations providing vocational education to adults, (e) any of the above entities in partnership with business/industry/labor, and (f) consortia of the above entities.
The House recedes with an amendment defining “eligible institution” as an institution of higher education, an LEA serving adults, or an area vocational education school serving adults. In addition, the definition of postsecondary education is clarified to include BIA controlled postsecondary education institutions.

121. Secondary/Postsecondary Funding—Definitions. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, adds “institution of higher education” and “Pell Grant recipient” to the list of definitions for Title II.
The Senate recedes.

122. Use of Funds. The House bill retains the application provision from current law and proposes new limitations on the use of Federal funds. Each LEA and eligible postsecondary institution may only use its funds to:

(1) first serve schools with the most special needs students and which have programs in greatest need of improvement;

(2) provide programs that integrate academic and occupational disciplines, offer coherent sequences of courses leading to a job skill, offer counseling, assist special needs students through supportive services, are of sufficient size, scope and quality, and cooperate with the sex equity program. The House bill also retains the provision from current law permitting the State to fund programs in private-for-profit institutions.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as #76(h).

123. The Senate amendment has separate requirements for use of funds for secondary programs and for postsecondary and adult programs. The Senate amendment requires that secondary school funds be spent only on the following populations: economically disadvantaged students, individuals with disabilities, individuals who participate in programs designed to eliminate sex bias, economically disadvantaged adults, and criminal offenders.

The Senate recedes. The managers intend that programs for adults may be supported from either the secondary or postsecondary allocation received by an area school or LEA serving adults. In addition, postsecondary institutions serving high school students, ages 16-18 would be eligible for funding from either the secondary or postsecondary allocations.

124. Use of Funds—Assessment. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the services provided under the basic State grant to be identified and designed through an assessment of the interests, abilities and needs of special population students and shall reflect the participation of both parent and student, and guidance counseling activities to criminal offenders.

The House recedes with an amendment requiring the participation of students and parents.

125. Use of Funds—Administrative Costs. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, limits the amount of basic State grant funds to be used by local recipients for administrative costs to no more than 5%.

The House recedes with an amendment also applying to postsecondary recipients.

126. Use of Funds—Community-Based Organizations. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits secondary schools to use funds to develop programs in consortia or in cooperation with community-based organizations.

The House recedes.

127. Use of Funds—Programs Which May Be Offered. Both the House bill and the Senate amendment authorize funds for programs which integrate academic and occupational disciplines; requires such integration “to the extent practicable.” The House bill requires a “coherent sequence of courses leading to a job skill” while the Senate bill requires a “sequential course of study” which motivates students to excel and incorporates business and industry.

The Senate recedes with an amendment regarding providing counseling throughout the course of study as a permissive use of funds.
(a) The House bill authorizes programs which use counseling to encourage students, while the Senate amendment requires programs to provide comprehensive guidance and counseling by grade 9 and throughout the vocational program.

The Senate recedes with amendment regarding providing counseling throughout the course of study.

(b) The House bill requires support services for special populations while the Senate bill mandates supplementary services which enable special populations to participate fully in programs.

The House recedes with the same amendment as §75(h).

(c) The House bill uses the phrase "of such size, scope, and quality to bring about improvement" while the Senate amendment uses the phrase "give reasonable promise of meeting the vocational needs of the students in describing the requirement that projects be of sufficient size, scope and quality.

The Senate recedes with an amendment providing that programs be of such size, scope, and quality as to be effective.

(d) The House bill authorizes programs which seek to cooperate with activities of the sex equity programs while the Senate bill authorizes programs to eliminate sex bias in addition to the sex equity reserve at the state level.

The House recedes with the same amendment as §75(h).

128. Informational. (b)(1) The Senate amendment has separate sections for use of funds for secondary programs and for postsecondary and adult programs.

Secondary programs must use funds to provide special needs students with supplementary services, ensure that programs for such individuals are of the highest quality and state-of-the-art, and support additional staff, equipment, materials, and services for such individuals. Secondary programs shall, to the extent practicable, use funds for special needs individuals to integrate academic and vocational training, providing a sequential course of study, and which encourages use of the business-industry model of applied learning. These programs must also provide program improvement to upgrade instruction and must designate a special populations coordinator. Further, comprehensive guidance and counseling must be provided to students below 9th grade and to their parents. Once the needs of special population students are met, then funds may be used to benefit other populations. No more than 5% of a local grant may be used for administrative costs. Equipment purchased under the Act may be available for instructional purposes not related to special needs students if certain conditions are met.

The Senate recedes with same amendment as §75(h).

129. Use of Funds—Private Institutions and Employers. The House bill permits a State, LEA, or eligible institution to use a portion of their respective allotments to provide educational training through arrangements with private applied technology training institutions, private postsecondary educational institutions, labor organizations, joint labor-management apprenticeship programs, and employers whenever such institutions or employers can make a significant contribution to State plan objectives and can provide substantially equivalent training at a lower cost or can provide equipment or services not available in public institutions.
The Senate amendment permits postsecondary and adult grant funds to provide education and training through arrangements with private vocational training institutions, private postsecondary educational institutions, and employers under the same conditions specified in the House bill.

The Senate recedes.

180. Coordinator. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires the local recipient to designate a special populations coordinator to ensure that special populations are receiving services. Funds for the coordinator shall be paid from administrative monies.

The Senate recedes with an amendment making a permissible use of local administrative money the payment, in whole or in part, of a special populations coordinator's salary.

181. Use of Funds—Tech Prep. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits the use of secondary school funds for tech prep programs for special populations.

The Senate recedes with an amendment not limiting to special populations, and not limiting to secondary programs.

182. Use of Funds—Other Than Special Populations. The Senate amendment permits secondary funds with respect to curriculum development and program improvement to be used for other populations once the needs of special population students are met.

The Senate recedes with the same amendment as #75(h).

183. Use of Funds—Equipment. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, provides that equipment purchased with federal secondary school funds with respect to curriculum development and program improvement may be used for instructional purposes not related to special needs students if the acquisition of the equipment: was reasonable and necessary, if it is used after regular school hours or on weekends, and if such other use is incidental to the use of the equipment, does not interfere with the use of that equipment, and does not add to the cost of its use.

The Senate recedes. The managers intend, by adopting this provision, to make more widely available equipment purchased with Federal funds. For instance, data processing equipment used in Perkins-supported programs during the regular school day could be made available for adult literacy courses at night. The managers want to emphasize that nothing in this section is designed to place limitations on use of equipment in Perkins funded programs.

184. Use of Funds—Consultation. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires local recipients to provide for consultation with members of special populations, students, parents, teachers, workers and members of community-based organizations in the planning of secondary school programs.

The Senate recedes with the same amendment as #75(h).

185. Report. The Senate amendment adds a new requirement that the local application must contain a report on the number of special population individuals being served and must assess the needs of special populations and the planned use of funds to meet those needs. This application must also show that parents and special population students have been involved in developing programs and there has been coordination with community-based organizations. The special needs coordinator must review and comment on the assurances in the application regarding services to those populations.

The House recedes on first two sentences.

The Senate recedes on the third sentence.

136. Performance Evaluation and Improvement. The House bill requires each State to review all programs in secondary and post-secondary institutions.

The Senate amendment requires that: (a) secondary programs receiving basic State grant funds develop goals and evaluate the effectiveness of programs with respect to basic and occupational skills and the ability to meet the needs of special populations; (b) local recipients consult with the State in developing measurement criteria; (c) if a local entity is not making substantial progress in meeting performance criteria, the entity must develop a program improvement plan; and (d) regular program reviews, including participation of special population representatives, must be done to overcome any barriers resulting in lower rates or access or success for special populations. The Senate amendment further requires the local recipient to consult with the State board in developing the measurement criteria.

The Senate recedes with amendments requiring each eligible recipient with full participation by representatives of special populations to annually evaluate the effectiveness of the program based on the standards and measures set forth. If no progress is shown after the first year, the eligible recipient will develop a plan in consultation with teachers, parents, students and all others involved. In addition, the amendment requires that if student progress has not been made after one year of implementation of the plan by the LEA, the State and LEA will work together to develop a joint plan for improvement. If after one year of implementation of the joint plan, no progress is made, the State and LEA will make revisions for each consecutive year until performance is sustained over a period of more than one year. These amendments also apply to "sex equity and displaced homemakers" programs.

137. Program Improvement Plan. The Senate bill, but not the House amendment, requires that each entity operating a secondary program must adopt an improvement plan if substantial progress is not being made to meet the evaluation criteria. If, after one year of implementation of this plan, sufficient progress has not been made, the State shall work jointly with the local entity (and teachers, parents, and students) to develop a further plan of program improvement which will include technical assistance from the State and a timetable for improvement.

The House recedes with an amendment requiring that if student progress has not been made after one year of implementation of the plan by the LEA, the State and LEA will work jointly to develop a plan for improvement. If after one year of implementation of the joint plan, no progress is made, the State and LEA will make revisions for each consecutive year until performance is sustained over a period of more than one year.

138. Special Populations. (a) The House bill contains requirements for State level assurances and for local assurances that special populations will be served. The State Board must assure that such populations have access to programs and that individuals with handicaps be served in conformity with the Education of the Handicapped Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The State must also assure that programs for special populations will be monitored and will be supervised by individuals in the State responsible for such populations. Each local educational agency must provide specific information to special population students one year before they would be eligible for programs. Each LEA and institution of higher education must assure that the special needs of these students are being met in integrated settings and through adopting a curriculum and providing counseling. The State must also provide for participatory planning in the creation of programs and for an appeal procedure.

The Senate recedes.

(b) The Senate amendment includes: the economically disadvantaged, individuals with disabilities, individuals who participate in programs designed to eliminate sex bias and stereotyping in education, LEAP students, economically disadvantaged adults, and criminal offenders—both juveniles and adults—who are serving in correction institutions as special populations.

The House recedes.

(c) The Senate amendment contains State assurances regarding special populations in the State plan. The amendment also requires the special populations to be served by local secondary agencies, but has different provisions for the populations to be served by post secondary agencies.

The Senate recedes.

129. Special Populations—Adults. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits any LEA with a student enrollment exceeding 100,000 which served economically and education disadvantaged adults in FY 1990 to continue to serve such adults with the same proportionate amount of funds as they used for that purpose in FY 1990.

The Senate recedes.

140. Special Populations-Assurances/Disadvantaged. The House bill requires that the State board provide assurances that all special populations (in both secondary and postsecondary programs) be provided with equal access to recruitment, enrollment, and placement activities and that they be provided equal access to the full range of programs available to others (including occupationally specific courses of study, cooperative education, and apprenticeship programs) and shall not be discriminated against on the basis of their status. The education of disadvantaged students will be monitored to assure they have access in the most integrated setting possible.

The Senate recedes.

141. The Senate amendment contains similar provisions that secondary school program recipients provide disadvantaged students with equal access in recruitment, enrollment, and placement activities and with equal access to the full range of vocational programs (including occupationally specific courses of study, cooperative education and apprenticeship programs), and also requires comprehensive career guidance and counseling services and the supplementary services necessary to ensure full participation in programs.
The House recedes with an amendment that comprehensive guidance and counseling be provided “to the extent practicable”.

142. Special Populations—Assurances/Students With Disabilities. In addition to the general assurances for special populations, the House bill requires individuals with handicaps be served in conformance with the EHA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and in the least restrictive environment. If the student has an IEP, services must be provided in accordance with it. If a student does not have an IEP, services will be provided under Section 504 guarantees. Planning for such individuals must be coordinated between appropriate representatives of vocational education, special education, and State vocational rehabilitation agencies. Their education will be monitored and supervised in conjunction with supervision by the State agency administering EHA.

The Senate recedes with an amendment “and for the purpose of this Act such rights and protection shall include making vocational education programs readily accessible to qualified individuals with disabilities by the provision of services defined in sections of this Act”.

143. The Senate amendment requires secondary school program Title II recipients to provide students with disabilities equal access to recruitment, enrollment, placement, and a full range of vocational programs in the least restrictive environment, as well as in conformance with the vocational education component of an IEP. Supplementary services must be provided. Planning must be coordinated with appropriate representatives of vocational and special education. The head of the State office responsible for administering Part B of EHA must review the planning. The equal access provisions of Section 504 and EHA will be applied.

The Senate recedes with an amendment inserting language after the word “institution”, “and when appropriate, assist in the preparation of applications”.

144. Special Populations—Assurances/Educationally Disadvantaged. The House bill limits the term “disadvantaged” to only those economically disadvantaged.

The Senate amendment defines “disadvantaged student” to mean a student who is economically or educationally disadvantaged.

The House bill requires the State to monitor access to programs for economically disadvantaged. The Senate bill requires the Chapter 1 coordinator to monitor services, and further requires each local recipient to provide equal access and supplementary services for economically disadvantaged students.

The House recedes on the first two sentences.
The Senate recedes on the third and fourth sentences.

145. Special Populations—Assurances/LEP. In addition to the general population assurances, the House bill requires that LEP students have access in the most integrated setting possible.

The Senate amendment requires that secondary school program recipients assured equal access in recruitment, enrollment, placement, and full range of programs. In addition, supplementary services must be provided, such as adapted vocational instruction, communication and counseling in the students’ language, and bilingual and cultural counseling. Planning for LEP students must be reviewed by the head of the State office responsible for education of LEP students.

The Senate recedes.

146. Special Populations—Provision of Information. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires that LEAs provide special population students and their parents with information regarding opportunities, eligibility requirements, specific courses, special services, employment opportunities, and placement at least one year before the students enter vocational training. Postsecondary institutions must provide such information upon request or when a special population student seeks admission. Information must be presented in an understandable form.

The Senate bill requires guidance and counseling of all special populations in grade 9 in the course of study in each program, its requirements, postsecondary, apprenticeship, and career opportunities. In addition, the Senate bill requires guidance and counseling services at the prevocational level.

The Senate recedes of first paragraph with an amendment “and when appropriate, assist in the preparation of applications”.

The House recedes on second paragraph with amendment contained in §75(h).

147. The House bill requires an assurance that each LRA or higher ed. institution will assess the special needs of participating students and provide special services, while the Senate amendment requires each postsecondary school to provide equal access and supplementary services and to regularly review the program. Each local recipient of secondary school funds is required to provide supplementary services, and to assess the abilities and needs of the students.

The Senate recedes with an amendment including a new paragraph: “(1) Assist students who are members of special populations to enter vocational education programs. With respect to students with handicaps, institutions of higher education shall assist local education agencies in fulfilling the transition requirements of the Education of the Handicapped Act”.

148. The House bill requires each grant recipient to provide counseling services for the transition from school to work, while the Senate amendment requires each secondary school recipient to provide guidance and counseling for part-time and summer employment while in school, and for post-school employment.

The House recedes and the Senate recedes.

149. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, requires LEAs in a consortium to determine each school’s relative share of special populations.

The House recedes.

150. Special Populations—Participatory Planning. The House bill requires the State board to establish procedures to assure direct participation in State and local decisions by parents, students, teachers, and area residents; provide procedures by which such individuals may appeal adverse decisions; and provide technical assistance to assure that such individuals receive the information needed to use these procedures.

The Senate recedes with an amendment to include an appeals procedure as part of the assurances. It is expected that the participatory planning requirements will help ensure that vocational education programs are responsive to the needs of the students, the special populations, and the communities they serve, and that these programs will work in the manner Congress intended. It is the intent of the managers that the expedited appeals procedures or any other provisions in this law will in no way restrict an individual's ability to pursue remedies under any other provision of law.

151. Special Populations—Assurances/Programs for Criminal Offenders. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, requires State correctional education agencies receiving Title II funds to administer vocational programs for male and female criminal offenders to update equipment. Funds are to be distributed to correctional institutions in proportion to the number of individuals served by each facility.

The House recedes with an amendment which makes criminal offenders in non-Federal correctional institutions, including county and local correctional institutions, eligible for services; requires programs to coordinate with eligible recipients in the provision of services to offenders both prior to and following release, gives special consideration for services to inmates who are completing their sentences and preparing for release, and requires that special consideration in the awarding of funds be given to correctional institutions at which vocational education programs are not currently available.

152. Special Populations—Other Remedies. The House bill, but not the Senate amendment, has a disclaimer which indicates that nothing in the subsection shall be construed to limit remedies available under any other provision of law.

The House recedes.

153. Use of Funds—Postsecondary. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, establishes separate requirements for postsecondary and adult programs. It provides grants for postsecondary and adult vocational education programs for: (a) training older individuals, (b) the costs of serving adults in other vocational programs, (c) training programs designed cooperatively with employer or labor, (d) industry-education-labor partnerships in high technology fields, (e) programs offering high school diplomas to individuals aged 16-18, and (f) tech-prep. The State must use funds available under this part for apprenticeship training. The State may also use these funds for comprehensive tech prep programs and State-wide mentoring programs.

The Senate recedes.

The Senate amendment allows postsecondary & adult grants to be used to provide education and training through arrangements.
with private vocational training institutions, private postsecondary educational institutions, and employers if those institutions can make a significant contribution at a lesser cost—or provide equipment or services not otherwise available.

The House recedes with an amendment adding labor organizations and apprenticeship programs.

156. Use of Funds—Postsecondary/Mentoring. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits a State board to award grants for mentoring programs to institutions of higher education offering comprehensive programs in teacher or counselor preparation. The mentoring program must establish partnerships aimed at preparing and meeting the continuing needs of vocational educators and counselors, provide competency-based teacher education programs, and assess professional education skills. The program shall employ highly qualified classroom educators as mentors to assist with the program.

The House recedes with an amendment including “mentoring” in the list of permissible activities.

157. Use of Funds—Postsecondary/Special Populations (Page 97). The Senate amendment requires that postsecondary program fund recipients provide special populations equal access recruitment, enrollment, placement, and vocational programs and offer needed supplementary services. Recipients must regularly review such programs, with such groups, to identify barriers to success.

The House bill requires that Perkins dollars first serve these populations.

The Senate recedes on first two sentences.

The House recedes on last sentence.

158. Administrative Provisions—Supplement, Not Supplant. 164. Administrative Provisions—Waiver of “Split”.—The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, permits a State to petition the Secretary for a waiver of the requirements that 65-75% of Perkins funds must be spent for secondary programs. The Secretary may approve such waiver only if certain conditions are met, such as the need to serve more effectively special populations enrolled in secondary or area schools or having dropped out of high school. In case of a waiver, such funds must be directed to serve such populations to become better trained or to achieve a high school diploma and such funds must be spent in postsecondary schools with high concentrations of special populations. The Senate secondary school agency is afforded the opportunity to file objections to such waiver petition. If granted, such waiver cannot permit less than 50% of a State’s Perkins funds to be used for secondary programs except for a demonstration program in no more than five States under certain conditions.

The Senate recedes.

165. The Senate amendment, but not the House bill, also permits the Secretary to establish a demonstration program for no more than 5 states to spend up to 65% for postsecondary and adult pro-into consideration the school dropout rates, state unemployment figures and the demand for postsecondary and adult education pro-will be provided by participating businesses or labor organizations; and

The Senate recedes with an amendment clarifying that the 50 percent match is not applicable to small businesses or labor organizations.

The Senate amendment repeals Part E, Industry-Education Partnerships, and creates a new business-industry and labor partnership under National Demonstration Programs in Title IV.
