This handbook was written to help implementation of Delaware Public Law 100-297, Title I, Elementary and Secondary Education Program Reauthorized. It provides a step-by-step guide for fulfilling the six goals for parental involvement: (1) to inform parents of participating children of the reasons for participation in such programs, and the specific instructional objectives and methods of the program; (2) to support parental efforts, including training parents to work with their children in the home and to understand the program requirements, and training parents and teachers to work together; (3) to train teachers and other staff to work effectively with the parents of participating pupils; (4) to consult with parents concerning the manner in which they and the school can better work together and to give parents a feeling of partnership in their children's education; (5) to provide a comprehensive range of opportunities for parents to become informed of all facets of the program; and (6) to ensure opportunities for the full participation of parents who lack literacy skills or whose native language is not English. A substantial appendix includes handouts, letters, surveys, workshop agendas, and other related materials. (JD)

The following assurance of compliance with Title 19 of the Delaware Code and the "Rules and Regulations" of the State Board of Education was approved in October, 1972. This assurance is applicable to educational programs receiving state financial support.

"No person in the State of Delaware shall, on the grounds of race, color, creed, national origin, handicapping condition or sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving approval and/or financial assistance from the State Board of Education"

The State of Delaware is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate or deny services on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, and/or age.

Sec. 1016  Parental Involvement.

Congress finds that activities by schools to increase parental involvement are a vital part of programs under this Chapter. TOWARD THAT END, a local educational agency may receive funds under this Chapter ONLY if it implements programs, activities, and procedures for the involvement of parents in programs assisted under this Chapter.
Sec. 1016 Parental Involvement/Goals

Goal #1 - to inform parents of participating children of the program under this Chapter, the reasons for their children's participation in such programs, and the specific instructional objectives and methods of the program....
Step #1:

Informing parents of their child's participation in Chapter I is your first step towards parental involvement. Sending a notice home in a small child's back pack is not the best way of informing parents. As we all know, they may never see that notice. If they don't see it, they haven't been informed, and the law has not been followed. A more effective notice, other than person to person home visitation, is registered mail. This, however gets to be expensive. An appropriate method, in terms of guaranteed deliverance, and cost effectiveness, is first class mail. Save your mailing list and record who sent the information. This is your documentation.

Whereas a first class mailing complies with the law, it does not guarantee positive parental involvement. To maximize the positive side of parental involvement and minimize the negative, wise directors will also encourage teachers to make a personal phone call or, in the absence of a phone in the home, a home-visit.

What teacher or paraprofessional has time for so many phone calls? The director can explain to the staff that, phone calls, though initially time consuming, save time in the long term. The result of an early placed positive phone contact is positive parental help during the year and fewer discipline problems throughout the year. Unfortunately, parents usually do not receive phone calls from schools until "something happens". The standard call from teacher or principal usually brings bad tidings and resultantly parents are conditioned to be defensive with school staff and frequently are reluctant to be involved due to such hostile feelings.

Create a partnership! Direct your teachers and paraprofessionals to call each home (quick! before the kids have a chance to be bad!) during the first few weeks of school and compliment the parent by complimenting the child. ("Your son has such a friendly smile, I'm so glad he's in my class.") Initiating a POSITIVE communication gets the parents on the same "side" as the teacher and that's where they will be when and if they are needed.

If you should decide to initiate a telephone - follow-up to the parent's initial notice of child's participation, the following reproducibles have been prepared for your staff.
"E.T., PHONE HOME..."

(EFFECTIVE TEACHERS, PHONE HOME.)

Parents are often a neglected teacher resource. Having them on the team, from day one, reduces certain work considerably. Not only do you double adult input for the student, but you reduce resistance which might otherwise be met when a problem arises during the year. It is imperative that parents be won over very early. For this reason the first contact with them should be positive and should convey the mutual interest in what is best for the "shared" student. Solicit their help.
On the first day of school have the students record on a 5 x 7 file card their names, addresses, home phone numbers, and the full names of their parents, stepparents, or guardians. (Remember, if Johnny Smith's mother is remarried, she won't appreciate being addressed as Mrs. Smith.) Make sure the student understands that you will be making "good news" phone calls.

Begin that evening. Select five cards at random, call the student's home, introduce yourself and find something complimentary to say about the student. State your belief that teachers and parents make a powerful team and tell them that you look forward to working with them throughout the year. Each phone call should take only two-three minutes. At a rate of ten minutes per night, you will be able to establish positive contact with every parent very quickly.

Round Two of phone calls should be initiated around November. At this point call the parents of the underachievers and invite them to the classroom for a special activity.

The third phone call to a particular set of parents should be to praise an especially noteworthy accomplishment of "the shared student" or to request the input concerning a problem. If the phone call is of the latter sort, at this point the parents should be more than happy to help.

These phone calls do take an initial investment of extra time. However, the time they save in conferences and in negative parental input is immeasurable.

SAMPLE PHONE SCRIPTS

PHONE CALL # ONE*

"Hello, Mrs. Jones? I am Johnny's teacher."

* Standard Response - Oh @!+!#! What has he done now?

"Johnny has been so polite and so helpful I just wanted to call and tell you what a lovely son you have. I really am enjoying having him in my class."

* Standard Response - My Johnny? Are you sure? Wait a minute - describe the kid you're talking about.

You're kidding! or Well this is a first! Would you mind saying that again to Johnny's dad?

"I believe teachers and parents should stick together. Let's keep in touch this year!"

Time: 34 seconds

*Phone call Number One is an actual transcript of a home phone-call.

PHONE CALL # TWO

- Hello, Mrs. Jones? This is Johnny's teacher again. Listen, we are having a school open house next week. Johnny's working on a special bulletin board. I really hope you can come."

After just 2 phone calls a bond has been set, a partnership formed. With the parent's support at home and the teacher's guidance at school, Johnny should go twice as far.

After contact has been initiated and a bond has been created, your paraprofessional/teacher will find it beneficial to sustain communication. Unfortunately, letters and newsletters given to the children often remain undelivered. (You'd be surprised what great airplanes they make!) To be effective, deliverance should be guaranteed. Having the parents sign a verification of receipt is one way to guarantee deliverance and rewarding the return of this verification is a sure way to encourage positive communication. The following Coupon-Guaranteed Deliverance has a high success rate. Note also that parents are given access to input on this form.

GUARANTEED DELIVERANCE

Periodically send home a letter updating parents on what has been happening in your class, giving an outlook for the future, and advising the parents as to homework load and future trips. Include special student gift (Christmas, Hannukah, Birthday) suggestions such as pens, magic markers and dictionaries.

To ensure that this letter will reach the parents' hands, end it with a clip and return coupon for extra credit for the student when signed by the parent and returned. Allow a space on this coupon for parental input.

A novel and effective means of sustained communication was also featured in an article by Jerold P. Bauch in the October, 1989 issue of Educational Leadership (p. 32-34), text insert below. The TransParent model is effective and offers the convenience of modern technology. Again, this model is pertinent to Chapter I in that it provides ongoing - two way consultation.

From The TransParent School Model:
New Technology for Parent Involvement
By: Jerold P. Bauch

Making the School TransParent

The TransParent School Model can literally open the classroom to the home on a daily basis - and in very little time. The telephone becomes the channel for routine communication, and every parent can find out the answers to the three questions every day - all it takes is a phone call!

The TransParent School concept is having powerful effects on home/school communication in several pilot schools. The model, which I developed in the Betty Phillips Center for Parenthood Education at Peabody College of Vanderbilt University in 1987, uses answering machines or electronic mailboxes parents can call to hear a message from their child's teacher (Bauch 1988a).

Two technical systems are used. First, the school provides each teacher with an answering machine or electronic mailbox. At the end of the day, the teacher enters a 1-3 minute message that describes learning activities, homework, and how parents can support the child's study at home. Then parents can call at any time from anywhere and hear exactly what they need to know. (Gaining access to this information when a child is ill or absent also enables parents to help the child keep up with the rest of the class.)

Second, teachers use a computer-based system called Compu-Call to store messages in a computer and direct the autodialer to place phone calls to all parents or specific groups of parents. The next morning, they can use the system to run a printout of the calls completed. Compu-Call also has an integrated attendance management program, which invites parents to become actively involved in helping to improve school attendance (rather than simply reporting absenteeism as earlier calling machines have done).

Pilot Schools and Results

The TransParent School Model was first piloted at the Academy for Academics and Arts in Huntsville, Alabama. After installing the model in November 1987, this K-8 magnet school had a 460 percent increase in parent/teacher interaction the first month. Now the model routinely accounts for about twice as many contacts as all other communication methods.
In a second pilot, a more detailed evaluation was conducted. In January 1989, Carter Lawrence Middle School in Nashville began using 10 answering machines and the computer calling system to increase contact with families. Before the school implemented the model, parent-initiated contacts with a teacher averaged about 10 per day; the number of calls to hear the message on answering machines increased to a mean of 63 per day. Some days, a full third of the parents made the call. When parents became "frequent users," the homework completion rates for students, as reported by their teachers, showed a significant increase (Bissell 1989). Of the "frequent user" parents, 93 percent also noticed improvements in the attitudes and skills of their children.

At Carter Lawrence, about half of the parents who now use the system regularly report they had had no previous involvement with the school. And most heartening of all, low-income parents are well represented in the "frequent user" group. Our initial findings show that low-income parents use the services at the same rate as middle-income parents, supporting Rich's (1988) conclusion that all parents want the best for their children but that some may not want to be involved in traditional school activities. In Huntsville, teachers reported that some of the parents they have never met are among the most frequent callers to the answering machines.

Although answering machines are an effective, easy-to-use means for storing teacher messages and delivering the information when parents call, there is a limit to the number of answering machines and individual phone lines that a school or school system can provide. Consequently, the Inman Middle School in Atlanta is experimenting with electronic mailboxes. Each teacher in the building has a mailbox that holds the daily message. Parents access the message by calling only one phone number; they can also leave messages or even find out what's for lunch. We found that home/school contact at Inman increased by more than 500 percent, and there were well over 1,000 calls from home to teacher mailboxes every week! BellSouth, which is conducting this pilot, hopes to increase the flexibility of the services while reducing overall costs. Two more models will be implemented in the Memphis City Schools during the 1989-90 school year, using BellSouth's Voice Messaging Services. New technical applications are under development, and some schools are mounting fundraising projects to acquire the model. There are trials of electronic mail applications under way at other locations (West 1989).

A New Way of Communicating

Up to now, because most of our methods have been personnel intensive, to communicate regularly with parents has been time-consuming and expensive. Both teachers and parents are busy, and their interactions are limited by time, distance, and abundant demands. The use of the telephone, supported by computer technology (Bauch 1988b), though, can have a dramatic influence on home/school interaction. In the latest Gallup Poll of teacher attitudes (Bradley 1989), 34 percent of the teachers cited parents' lack of interest as their top area of concern. But we have been demonstrating that parents are interested when teachers provide vital information that is easy for parents to acquire.

School personnel who use the TransParent School Model are providing the information parents want on a daily basis. Among the gains they are seeing are increased homework completion, better student achievement, improved attendance, and the development of a shared partnership between parents and teachers. Since these gains promise to lessen the rise of school failure, grade retention, and dropping out, opening communication lines between school and home can have far-reaching effects on overall school improvement.

Goal #2 - to support the efforts of parents, including training parents, to the maximum extent practicable, to work with their children in the home to attain the instructional objectives of programs under this Chapter and to understand the program requirements of this Chapter and to train parents and teachers to build a partnership between home and school.
Training parents can be achieved in numerous ways and in a combination of numerous ways. Among the more practical ways are:

By.....

1) maintaining a library of self-help books, magazines, audial cassette tapes, and video training tapes.

2) providing a newsletter with a parent-training focus. An excellent example of such a newsletter is Parents Make the Difference! published by the Parent Institute, a division of NIS, Inc. (P.O. Box 7474, Fairfax Station, VA 22039-7474; 703/569-9842). Newsletters can be professionally prepared or in-house prepared.

3) submitting and publishing articles concerning practical ways for parents to help their children in community newspapers.

4) initiating, planning and implementing parent-training focused productions for local radio and/or television stations.

5) providing district level parent-training workshops (see "How to Plan a Workshop")

6) providing monetary support for parents to attend workshops, seminars, and conferences.
HOW TO PLAN A PARENT WORKSHOP/MEETING

In planning a workshop for parents, the most critical element is ensuring that parents will attend, otherwise all of your efforts are in vain. The best way to get the parents involved is to first involve the children. The following are ways the children can be directly involved:

A. Have a party for children while the workshop/meeting is being conducted for parents. This party could feature a movie for the children or the children can be divided into age groups for age appropriate crafts and games. Serve refreshments.

B. Involve the children in a formal dramatic "play" or presentation for the parents. This could be a production based on stories from their readings.

C. Display the work of the children. Encourage the children to urge their parents to come see their work.

D. Give each child a free ticket to a raffle for a wonderful prize. Tina Huff, Supervisor of Reading for Capital School District, Dover, DE, is noted for her annual bike raffle which brings hundreds of parents to her annual workshop. A girl's bike and a boy's bike are donated by local service clubs: Each Chapter I child is given a chance which they deposit in a raffle box the night of the meeting. It is important to note that all children receive a gift that night - this cushions the disappointment of those who don't win a bike. (see #F)

E. Offer gifts or door prizes at the meeting/workshop for those who attend. These can be solicited as donations from local businesses and/or service clubs.

Make a sincere effort to invite each parent. Make the parents feel wanted, invited, and special.

A. Send numerous and much advance notice to the parents of the workshop and "hype" it.

Examples:
- Coming Soon: The Annual Parent Workshop!
- One month until the BIG EVENT - Don't miss the Parent Workshop

Hype-publicity can be included in newsletters and other bulletins.

B. Have teachers/paraprofessionals personally call (see phone management plan) and invite each parent.

C. Provide babysitters and transportation when necessary. (Honor Society, Scouts, 4H Clubs, and other service organizations can be tapped for babysitting in the building while the meetings/workshops are in progress).

D. Send personal invitations. (See appendix for sample invitation)
E. Offer gifts or door prizes to those who attend. These can be solicited from local organizations and businesses.

F. Advertise in local newspapers. (Clip this for documentation files.)

G. If a School Events outdoor sign is available, list the meeting or workshop there.

H. Be hospitable; serve refreshments.

I. If you have bilingual students, send all communications in appropriate language.
Plan your agenda. Workshops can be conducted by staff and/or paid consultants. Two to two and one-half hours should be an adequate time frame for a workshop. Meetings need not be as long.

(See Appendix for sample agendas)

Prepare written programs and evaluation forms for distribution the night of the workshop.

For your own records and documentation, arrange for a sign-in or registration system the night of the workshop/meeting. If the meeting is small, a sign-in sheet can be passed around. If you are expecting a high attendance for a meeting or if you are having a workshop, a manned registration area is much more effective.

Statistics gathered from LEA records have revealed that for numerous reasons, attendance at annual meetings tends to be low whereas attendance at workshops is generally high. To capitalize on high workshop attendance, if workshops were to be held in a "timely way" (sec. 1016, Goal #5), conceivably the annual meeting/workshop could be a combined function. This would entail designating perhaps 30 minutes for a general session, used to fulfill requirements of annual meeting, prior to workshop activities.

Also, as the annual meeting can be held at building or district level, it is also possible to capitalize on the Fall Open House high attendance by including in the schedule a Chapter I visitation/meeting. Realizing that directors cannot be at all district open houses, particularly in large districts, staff should be trained and delegated to conduct building level meetings. To this end also, publications can be prepared which explain the regulations concerning parental involvement and parental rights for distribution at that time. Again, document attendance.

It has been unfortunate that in the past, statistics gathered on parental attendance do not reflect the high levels of parental involvement that are actualized in districts. These suggestions provide ways to make those statistics a truer reflection of the high degree of parental involvement that is otherwise apparent.
The following is a checklist to assist you in "making parents aware of parental involvement requirements and other relevant provisions of the program." (Federal Register, May 19, 1989, Section 200.34, C6)

I. Parent Involvement Relevant to Chapter I:
   At the local level --
   - in having input in the design and implementation of local programs
   - in evaluation of the local program
   - in home and school activities that improve their abilities to assist their children's achievement
   - in an annual meeting
   - in having opportunities for other meetings if desired

II. Chapter I Parents Have the Right to:
   - information in a timely manner and in a form and language they understand
   - information on specific requirements of Chapter I
   - copies of plans, evaluations, improvement plans, and other public documents
   - written policies, provided to them, that ensure their involvement
   - the Policy Manual to be published by the Education Department
   - meaningful consultation with the LEA and school personnel, defined as consultation that is "organized, systematic, ongoing, informed, and timely in relation to programmatic decisions. Timely response to parent recommendations is also an essential part of the consultation."
   - involvement in all aspects of the program
   - a comprehensive range of opportunities to participate in the program
   - regular meetings that they may organize for themselves
   - reasonable support for their activities
   - training, to the maximum extent practicable, for parents to work with their children to attain the instructional objectives, to understand the program requirements, to build home-school partnerships
   - access, on an ongoing basis, to personnel, and to observe the program
   - reports on their children's progress and at least one parent-teacher conference per year
   - materials which build their capacity to improve their children's learning
   - the choice of their children's presentatives, in lieu of parents, and the choice of their own representatives when appropriate for various functional requirements of the Act
   - request reasonable support for their activities
   - the use of complaint procedures to correct violations of the Act
Sec. 1016

Goal #3 - to train teachers and other staff involved in programs under this Chapter to work effectively with the parents of participating students.
Whereas parent involvement is highly effective at the "grass roots" or classroom level, it is not reasonable to expect a director to personally supervise all parental involvement efforts. It is reasonable to expect directors to train teachers and staff in effective communications strategies and documentation thereof. This is not to say that a director's involvement is to be limited to staff training; it is to say that effective delegation can lessen the burden of the director in the area of parental involvement.

Staff training can be accomplished by:

- inservice
- conference/seminar attendance
- publications
- video/audio cassette training packages
- modeling
Sec. 1016

Goal #4 - to consult with parents, on an ongoing basis, concerning the manner in which the school and parents can better work together to achieve the program's objectives and to give parents a feeling of partnership in the education of their children.
Ongoing consultation commences with your notification to the parents of the child's participation in the program. The second step can be sponsoring, as required in Public Law 100-297 - April 28, 1988 sec. 1016(c), an annual meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to explain to parents the programs and activities provided with funds under this Chapter. Such meetings may be district-wide or at the building level. This is an excellent opportunity to solicit the parent's input and, in satisfaction of 1016-c-4, to provide parents an opportunity for regular meetings which can then be scheduled. One way to involve parents in the planning, design, and implementation of programs is to form a committee of interested parents. All parents should be given opportunity to participate and notice of the activities of this committee should be provided (i.e. through bulletin or newsletter) to all parents.

Another manner of soliciting parental suggestions in the planning, development, and operation of the program is via a parent survey. This form can be distributed at workshops, meetings, or sent home with the children, or incorporated into the required parent-teacher conference. As an evaluation of the current program is also required, it too can be incorporated in this survey.

Take heed: A parent's signature where required on federal proposals is not akin to a rubber stamp. Parents are to be involved in decision-making, their function is not to simply approve decisions already made by others.
Sec. 1016

Goal #5 - to provide a comprehensive range of opportunities for parents to become informed, in a timely way, about how the program will be designed, operated, and evaluated, allowing opportunities for parental participation, so that parents and educators can work together to achieve the program's objectives.
The key phrase in this passage is "in a timely way". It is important to note that parental recommendations are advisory. While advice is not always followed, it must be solicited and responded to "in a timely way". Certainly if many of the suggestions in this manual are followed, a "comprehensive range of opportunities" will be provided.

Suggestions for a comprehensive range of opportunities:

a) annual meeting
b) regular meetings
c) newsletters requesting comments
d) parental surveys
e) bulletins
f) parent-teacher conferences
g) information hotline (see TransParent Model)
h) public notice
i) publicly displayed information posters
j) suggestion box for parents
k) personal phone contact

(Documentation: Copies of newsletters, bulletins, logs of phone contact, minutes of meetings, schedules of conferences, public notice of meetings)

Again, as noted in discussion of Goal #4, the nature of parental involvement is emphasized by the phrase "in a timely way". Parents are to be involved in the process of decision-making. They are to be involved in "the planning, design, and implementation of programs". Where required, their signature on federal proposals is not obligatory nor is it token. It is a reflection of their involvement and they should not sign unless it is a true reflection.
Sec. 1016

Goal #6 - to ensure opportunities, to the extent practicable, for the full participation of parents who lack literacy skills or whose native language is not English.
Direct verbal communication (telephone, radio announcement of meetings, etc.) provides for parents lacking literary skills. A verbal or written translation of general communications is required for parents whose native language is not English if they do not speak or understand English. The extreme of this section includes parents who may be deaf or blind. Certainly a combination of written and oral communications would provide access to information for most cases. Language barriers need to be dealt with specifically.
Sec. 1016 (c) Mechanisms for Parental Involvement

- written policies for parental involvement
- reasonable support for parental involvement activities
- annual meeting to which all parents of participating children shall be invited
- reports on children's progress to parents of participating children
- ready accessibility of educational personnel to parents including opportunity to observe activities (i.e. classes or instruction) under this Chapter
- opportunities for regular meeting of parents
- timely information

Parent programs, activities, and procedures may include:

- regular parent conferences
- parent resource centers
- parent training programs
- reasonable and necessary expenditures associated with the attendance of parents at training sessions
- hiring, training, and utilization of parental involvement liaison workers
- training of personnel to work with parents
- use of parents as classroom volunteers, tutors, and aides
- provision of school-to-home complimentary curriculum materials
- solicitation of parent suggestions
- timely responses to parent recommendations
- parent advisory councils
In closing, please keep in mind the following adage:

Parent involvement can be a thorn in our side or a wind at our back.

Research is currently reflecting the fact that as parental involvement increases, so does student achievement. In recognition of the need for directly involving parents, the United States Government has mandated parental involvement. In fact, by the directive of the two words "only if", implementation of Chapter I, would not be possible without parental involvement.

"Toward the end, a local educational agency may receive funds under this Chapter ONLY IF it implements programs, activities, and procedures for the involvement of parents in programs assisted under this Chapter." We have no choice on whether or not to involve parents, our only choice is "thorn" or "wind". Directors, as your title implies, you are in a position to choose "wind" and then provide the direction that you wish the wind to follow. I leave you with an Irish blessing, "May the wind be always at your back."
1. All parents of elementary students will receive an informational brochure about Chapter I at the beginning of the school year.

2. All parents of Chapter I Students will be notified by letter that their child is participating in the program.

3. A meeting will be held during the fall of each year to which each parent or guardian of a Chapter I participant will be invited. The purpose of this meeting will be to outline the project purposes and discuss the planned project activities for the year.

4. A meeting will be held during the month of May each year to which all parents of the Capital School District will be invited with special notices going to Chapter I parents. The purpose of this meeting will be to reflect on the year's activities and discuss modifications for the next year's project.

5. Effort will be made by the project managers to encourage parents of children in the program only to become active on the state-wide PAC.

6. Parents and staff will be involved in planning a parent workshop to be held during the year. The purpose of the workshop will be to help parents support their child's education at home.

7. Parent materials will be available at the parent workshop. A shelf of parent resource material and library books will be available at all times at the Instructional Materials Center.

8. Parents will be encouraged and funds will be made available for parents to attend the statewide Chapter I workshop.

9. Parent activities will be recognized and printed in the district newsletter as well as local newspapers.

10. A certificate(s) will be given at the end of the school year to recognize any parent(s) who have made significant contributions to the ECIA Chapter I Project in the district.
What Is Chapter 1?

Chapter 1 is a federally funded program operating in the elementary schools of the Capital School District during the school year.

The Chapter 1 Program will provide a teacher and/or aides to work within each building on a daily basis, each following a prescribed schedule.

Who Will Receive This Help?

Extra help will be given to those students who are having the most difficulty in kindergarten through grade four.

Any and all extra help will be in addition to the student’s regular program and will usually be given within the classroom setting.

What Do Chapter 1 Teachers and Aides Do?

Chapter 1 teachers and aides work cooperatively with classroom teachers. In grades one through four, they will provide extra help in the reading areas, including spelling, writing and language. Extra help in math, science, and social studies will be provided for some students. In kindergarten, aides help students learn readiness skills. They also work on enhancing language development.

How Can Parents Get Involved?

During the school year, parents will be invited to meet the Chapter 1 staff and discuss the program further with them. If you have any concerns regarding participation in the program, please contact the principal of your child's school.
You are cordially invited to attend a Chapter 1 Workshop
Thursday, March 10, 1988

Parents will receive materials and ideas they can use to help their children at home.
Each family will receive a free book for their child enrolled in Chapter 1.
Children are welcome.

Dear Parents,

Your child, ____________________________ has been selected to participate in the Chapter I Reading Program at Mount Pleasant Elementary School. Students in this program receive an additional thirty minutes of reading instruction each day. We are confident that your child will benefit from this opportunity to improve his/her reading skills. You will receive a separate progress report when the classroom report cards are issued.

So that I can be sure you are aware of your child's participation in the Chapter I Program, please sign on the line below and have your child return that portion of the letter to me. If you have any questions about this program, please contact me at school.

Yours truly,

QUESTIONS PARENTS OFTEN ASK

1. What is the Chapter One program? This is a federally-funded program that provides an extra half-hour of reading instruction each day for selected students.

2. What is the Basic Skills program? This program also provides an additional half hour of reading instruction each day for selected students. This program is funded by the state of Delaware.

3. How was my child chosen to participate? Classroom teachers often suggest those students whom they feel will benefit from extra help. Your child's performance on last year's standardized test is also considered before students are admitted to either program.

4. What happens during my child's Chapter I or Basic Skills class? Your child works in a small group of 8-10 children. Classes last about 30 minutes. During that time your child may work on phonics skills, improving his sight vocabulary and understanding of what he reads.

5. Does my child miss something in his regular classroom during that time? Children do not miss reading or math or special classes such as art or music. Because we think that these extra reading programs are very important, classroom teachers do not hold students responsible for material covered during that time.

6. Will I have a conference with the Chapter I/Basic Skills teacher? Does my child receive a grade for this class? Yes, I will schedule a conference with you. Your child will not receive a grade but I will send home a progress report at report card time.
7. How can I help my child at home?

First of all, read to your child. All Mt. Pleasant students borrow wonderful books from our library. Ask your child to bring a book home so that you may read it to him or her. Talk with your child about the story and about the pictures. Make sure you keep these reading sessions short but enjoyable for both of you.

You also can help by setting a good example. Turn off the TV and radio so that your child can see you reading a magazine or newspaper.

8. Should I make my child sound out all the words he doesn't know?

No, no one would enjoy reading like that. Instead, ask your child to skip the unknown word and read the rest of the sentence. Then try the sentence again. If your child still does not know the word, tell him and allow him to go on with the story.

9. May I get in touch with you at school?

Yes, Call the office and leave a message. I'll return your call as soon as possible.

10. Is my child upset about leaving his classroom for extra help?

Most children enjoy their extra class very much. Other students who are not in the program often ask when they can join us.

Most children love books and enjoy reading, even if reading is difficult for them. Mrs. Gaudino and I also enjoy our classes with your children. Reading is fun for all of us!

The Hawkins Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988, P.L. 100-297 provides federal assistance to reinforce and remediate skills of identified students.

Through the financial assistance of Chapter I, the district provides programs to meet the academic needs of children.

The Chapter I Program, Project Academic Success, offers supplemental programs to eligible elementary schools and four catholic schools. Students in grades K-6 participate in programs which are designed to supplement readiness, reading and math instruction for identified target students.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT

Parent involvement is an important part of Chapter I. The District Parent Advisory Council is composed of representatives from each target school.
Dear Parents:

We welcome your child to the First Grade Chapter I Reading program. We would like you to help us help your child get off to a great start. Here are some ways to support your child:

1. Read to your child each day and talk to your child about what you have read. Your child can bring a book home every day. Please look at the card in the back for suggested questions.

2. Help your child's vocabulary grow. Use correct words for the things you use (wrench, spatula, jack, etc.), for parts of the body (scalp, hip, wrist, etc.), for things you do (measure, lengthen, brake, etc.). Teach a word each day.

3. Discuss everyday experiences with your child. Why does ice melt and water freeze? Why is there a date on milk? What happens to bubbles in soda? Help him or her look for questions even if you can't answer them.

We hope this will help your child have a good start this year.

If you have questions, leave a message at the school office at 762-7190.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Alice Epstein

Dear Parents:

We have read many books to your child during this school year, and she/he has read many, too.

Now you and your child have a two-and-a-half month vacation. It would be helpful to build on your youngster’s strengths in reading and writing over the summer. Without your help, she/he is likely to take a big step backward. Even with Summer School, your help is still needed at home.

You can help by:

1. Arranging time daily for silent reading.
2. Arranging time daily for reading aloud.
3. Planning weekly trips to the library.
4. Helping your child keep a notebook journal to write in three times a week.

We hope we will welcome your child back to Lombardy in September with lots of reading skills and enthusiasm. Have a great summer!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Alice Epstein

RE: ____________________________

GRADE: __ Reading __ Mathematics __

Dear ___________

Delmar has received federal funds to continue its special program of reading and mathematics improvement in grades 7, 8, and 9. The project, "Reading and Mathematics Progress," is funded for 1989-'90 as Chapter 1 (formerly Title I) of the federal E.C.L.A. An abstract of the program is included on the reverse side of this letter.

Based on standardized tests, teacher tests/assessments, and other factors, your child will be one of sixty (60) participating in this Chapter 1 program. He/she will receive help in reading, mathematics, or both as cited above. We also hope to operate some extra tutorial time when possible. Help might include use of computer-assisted instruction, an assistant for small group or tutorial help, especially created materials, help on the minimum competency requirement, etc.

We have a small advisory group of parents and staff. We will select several new members this year. Mrs. Jane Long is currently the chairperson of this committee. Mrs. Pat Moore is our representative on the Delaware State PAC of Chapter 1.

The teachers who will be involved this year in the Chapter 1 project will be glad to provide insights and/or answer questions. They are: Ruth Ellis (reading 7), Jane Phillips (math 7), Dr. Joanne Czernik (reading 8-9), and Charity Phillips (math 8).

If you have questions about our project, please feel free to call me or project secretary, Pat Naugla at 846-9544.

We would also like to invite you to a special "Chapter 1 Annual Parent Night" on Tuesday evening, October 3 at 7:30 p.m. in room 115! The south entrance of the building will be open.

Sincerely,

Kenneth T. Matthews

RE: Welcome to Advisory Membership!

Dear

As we indicated in the Chapter 1 Program Orientation, we are adding members to the Delmar Chapter 1/Resource Advisory Committee. This will continue a membership of a majority of Chapter 1 parents. Staff members will also continue to serve. A revised 1989-90 roster is enclosed.

Welcome to our advisory! A summary of a last year's meeting is enclosed to give you some further background.

The normal "term" of service is 3 years. Since your child is in grade 7, he/she may not be "designated" next year. Nonetheless, we'd like you to continue to serve, giving us the advantage of your experiences and a continuity of service.

Our first meeting is set for Thursday, November 30. It will convene at 7:00 p.m. in room 115 (Mrs. Ellis').

Please call me, Chairperson Jane Long, or State Advisory representative, Pat Moore, if you have questions or concerns.

Thanks for accepting this post. We look forward to seeing you on November 30!

Sincerely,

Kenneth T. Matthews

Dear [Name],

As we approach another federal Chapter 1 year, I note that you have completed the three-year term of office as a member of our parent advisory committee. Parents of new grade seven designated students have been selected to round out membership to assure a majority of parent members.

All of us on the Advisory and in the school and district, are appreciative of this and other supports which you have rendered. THANK YOU FROM ALL OF US, FOR THIS SERVICE!

The project, "Reading and Mathematics Progress," is funded for 1989-90. It will continue to serve students in grades 7-8-9 under provisions of the federal statute, E.C.I.A., Chapter 1. Delmar retains a parent advisory to provide for systematic consultation into this program. Naturally, we still invite your suggestions relative to all school activities, and we hope to feel free to avail ourselves of your volunteer services as needs arise.

Again THANKS for the fine parent advisory services.

Sincerely,

Kenneth T. Matthews

On behalf of chairpersons Jane Long (Chapter 1/Resource) and Jim Pusey (Vocational/Career Education) of our Advisory, we would like to invite you to our third joint meeting. It is set for:

Thursday Evening, February 9
7:30 p.m.
Delmar Junior-Senior High Home Economics Suite

This meeting will have several "common interests" in the agenda. Items will update us on those Delmar education points "where vocational/career education needs tend to blend with academic remediation, the handicapped, and the disadvantaged." Some members of the two advisories will share their involvement in a variety of statewide activities. This will, of course, correlate with Vocational Education Week (February 5-11). In terms of the age and grade level of students involved, the agenda will also help focus a preview on Middle Level Education Week (March 12-18).

The evening will tend to focus upon several current thrusts:

- The new federal Chapter 1 and Delmar's program;
- The new Middle Level guidance professional, Claudia Franceschi;
- Revised vocational courses - approved in '80-'89;
- Middle-level programs in grades 7-8;
- Key Vocational Assessment testing in grade 8 this year; and
- Delmar's Local Operational Plan for Special Education and Related Services for Exceptional Children.

We also hope to include a Delmar tradition -- the Renee Morison dessert, tailored to Valentine's Day and goodies!

Please call me (846-9544) or Mrs. Pat Naugle if you cannot attend!

RE: "Chapter 1 Project Development Workshop"

Dear [Name],

Our Advisory, at its April 20 meeting, authorized a "working meeting" to develop the major components of Delmar's 3-Year plan and 1989-'90 Project Proposal for E.C.I.A. Chapter 1.

On behalf of Chairperson, Jane Long, we wish to invite you to such a meeting:

Monday evening, May 22
Delmar Conference Room
7:00 p.m. -- 8:30 p.m.

While we hope to have some "goodies," it is intended to be a "shirt sleeve" and "hands on" session. We will review the new law and our '89-'90 allocation of funds--then "have at it"!

Please call me, or Pat Naugle, if you cannot attend! We'll hope to see you there!

Sincerely,

GROUP RIGHT RESPONSE REPORTS FOR CURRENT CHAPTER 1 STUDENTS. Some of these special-order computer reports have been used to date. They show the student's performance in depth...by objective,... by question item ... from his/her SAT8 (State Test), Spring '89! They are excellent supplement sources for teachers to direct teacher assistants in remediation.

The grade 8 Chapter 1 students and resource students' reports were especially ordered. Our Chapter 1 teachers can really get at individual student weaknesses with these.

PARAPROFESSIONAL WORKSHOP. Chapter 1 Teacher Assistants are invited to the all-day workshop in Friday, February 2, 1990 at the Dover Sheraton. The agenda is out! Our Teacher Assistants will, of course, be compensated for the extra hours.

ON-SITE EVALUATION BY D.P.I. February 27, 1990 is set for a 3-member team to visit our Chapter 1 Project: Dr. Edwin Skinner, Mrs. Kathaleen McCormick, and Mr. Frank Soriano.

STATE TESTING/CHAPTER 1 POST-TESTS. The allocated time for Spring testing is March 19--March 30. Claudia Franceschi and Jay Green will schedule for us. Remember, these scores for Chapter 1 students on the SAT8 will be the official post-tests for us. Urge attendance, and best performance to students!

COMPUTERS, GAINS, STAND-ALONE USES, SOFTWARE. Our Computer Assisted Instruction (C.A.I.) monthly, gains reports this year "look good." Most students are getting the suggested "on-task time"/3 lessons per week. Keep up the good work! Parents, thanks for the encouragement.

Time is also available, and one Chapter 1 micro is totally "stand alone." Dr. Czernik plans to use this one with a variety of software lessons.

headline: Do you want your child to be more responsible?

Do you have to constantly remind your child to complete homework? Do you find yourself nagging your child to clean up his room? Do you wonder how your teen will make choices about smoking, drugs, or friends? If so, you are not alone!

Lake Forest Chapter I Parents Advisory Council is inviting families to attend a workshop entitled Responsibility Plus. At the meeting, to be held on February 28 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Lake Forest High School, parents will learn how to help their children act more responsibly. Lake Forest Honor Society members will show Land Before Time, Bambi, E.T., Cinderella, Star Wars, Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure, and New Kids on the Block. AN ORGANIZATIONAL HEALTH CHECK LIST

Place a check by the statement that you could say yes to when looking at your organization.

A healthy organization:

1. Has a clear understanding of its purposes or goals.
2. Makes progress toward its goals and with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of wasted effort.
3. Is able to look ahead and plan ahead as a group.
4. Has developed an effective degree of intercommunication.
5. Is able to initiate and carry on worthwhile, logical problem-solving.
6. Has achieved a balance between established ways of working together and readiness to change its patterns when necessary.
7. Is objective about its own functioning and intelligently make whatever procedural modifications are called for.
8. Strikes an appropriate balance between group productivity and the satisfaction of ego need.
9. Provides for the sharing and revolving of leadership responsibilities.
10. Has a high degree of group solidarity but not to the point of exclusiveness.
11. Makes intelligent use of the differing abilities and views of its members.
12. Provides an atmosphere of freedom for the expression of all feelings and points of view.
13. Faces reality, and works on the basis of fact rather than fantasy.
14. Is not overdominated by its leader or by any of its members.
15. Has achieved a healthy balance between cooperative and competitive behavior on part of its members.
16. Strikes an appropriate balance between emotionality and rationality.
17. Can readily change and adapt itself to the needs of differing situations and problems.
18. Recognizes the limitations as well as the rewards of democratic procedures.
THE ROLE OF THE CHAPTER I PARENT

In keeping with Federal and State requirements, parents must be involved in the planning, development, operation and evaluation of Chapter I projects. The parent, therefore, has many roles, the most important of which is regular committed involvement. The following are examples:

1. Parents as Helpers

   Volunteering services and talents to bring an even greater impact on Chapter I activities, parents can serve as aides, chaperons, lunch time helpers, etc.

2. Parents as Community Members

   Parents are much more a part of the school and community than any other community members. Therefore, the Chapter I parents have an excellent opportunity to inform the community what the school is doing as well as to let the school know the concerns of the community.

3. Parents as Planners

   Parents should be involved in certain phases of the planning for the child's learning experiences. Parents' ideas should be heard when the school's instructional program is being developed.

4. Parents as Observers

   The Chapter I program is within the school and in a classroom setting. Parents must go into the school and the classroom to get firsthand information about the Chapter I program. Observing teachers and noticing the use of teaching materials and equipment and methods and techniques are important roles that too few parents do anything about.

5. Parents as Decision Makers

   Federal monies are provided for the Chapter I projects. In many ways, parents and their recommendations and/or advise are included in the decisions which influence the use of these funds.

6. Parents as Evaluators

   Parents are needed to be involved in determining whether or not the Chapter I program is making a difference in children's achievement. Are children learning more because of the Title I program?

7. Parents as Consultants

   - Well informed parent is in the position to explain what Chapter I is all about.
   - An involved parent is in a position to explain how Chapter I works in a particular school or area.
   - A Parent on the Advisory Council is in a position to make recommendations about Chapter I concerns.
.. RANGE OF QUALITIES OF ORGANIZATIONS

An Effective, Healthy Organization Has:

1. Clear, attainable goals which evolved as consensus decision from members.
2. Frequently-revolved leadership which includes members in decisions about tasks and goals.
3. Periodic review of both short term and long range goals and objectives by members and officers, with revisions where necessary to insure organizational vitality.
4. Opportunity for a range of differences with workable means for resolving disagreements.
5. Members and leaders highly committed to achieving the organization's goals, not to individual or "clique" self-seeking.
6. Input of new members who believe the organization is capable of achieving their goals.
7. A minimum of time and energy given to non-productive conflict and a maximum to service and goal achievement.

An Ineffective, Sick Organization Has:

1. Either too dominating or too weak leadership, with inadequate arrangements to make viable changes in leadership within reasonable time periods.
2. Non-productive conflict with little ability to resolve such differences within the organizational structure.
3. Little involvement of members in goal setting, decision-making and service, which generally results in low commitment and apathy.
4. Few new members, and an age-range of present members tending toward older people rather than young.
5. Extensive amounts of time given to "house-keeping" chores and social activities, rather than efforts toward goal-achievement.
6. A public image of being an ineffective or conflict prone organization.

"LET'S PLAN A MEETING"

An agenda is the group's guide so that all of the business is included in the time set aside for the meeting. There is a certain order that all agendas have so that everyone knows what to expect.

SAMPLE AGENDA

1. Call to order
2. Minutes of the last meeting.
3. Reports ... Treasurer, committee, etc.
4. Correspondence.
5. Old Business.
7. Adjourn.

A lot can be done using common sense. We don't need to be terribly formal but in order for everything to move along smoothly, we need to follow some simple rules.

1. Follow the agenda.
2. Save visiting and unnecessary comments until the meeting is over.
3. Address the chairperson before talking so we don't have more than one person talking at once.
4. When a recommendation is made that the group take some kind of action, the suggestion is called a MOTION. Any member of the group may make a motion by saying, "I move we. . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . ." It must be seconded by another person who says, "I seconded the motion." Then the group discusses the issue. Remember to keep the discussion to the point and short, but make sure everyone who wants to gets a chance to talk. Then we vote by either voice, show of hands, or written ballot.

HOW TO HELP YOUR CHILD BE A SUCCESSFUL STUDENT

Here are some important things you can do for your child. They do not take special skills, but they do take a little time. Give them a try, and you'll be pleased with the results.

Establish daily habits. Set up guidelines for a regular bedtime and a minimum number of hours of sleep each night. Emphasize the importance of regular attendance at school, and insist on it from the very beginning of your child's school career.

Praise your child. Be aware of what your child brings home. Applaud all good work done, and offer help in areas where it is needed.

Care for books. Treat the books and magazines in your home as prized possessions. Give them as gifts; make them treasures.

Talk to your child. Use a normal speaking voice, and include words your child does not know. Hearing new words will help your child learn them, which will make learning to read easier.

Listen to your child. Encourage your child to talk about all the things he or she sees and does. Ask questions to show that you are listening. This kind of exchange also helps a child learn new words.

Read to your child. This is the most important thing you can do. Read books to your child to show that reading is fun. Reading books yourself will show your child that you, too, enjoy reading. These actions will give your child the desire to learn to read.

Go to school. Children love to have their parents at school for open house and classroom visitation days. Show your child that you care about school by attending as many of these special events as possible.

Visit interesting places. Give your child lots of new experiences. Go to a zoo, a new building, a fair or to any interesting place or event in your area. Since children often like to read about things they have seen or done, take your child to the library and find books related to your experiences.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR MY CHILD'S HOME ENVIRONMENT

1. DO I RESPECT EDUCATION AND FOSTER IN MY CHILD A BELIEF IN EDUCATION AS A WAY TO A BETTER LIFE?

2. DO I HELP MY CHILD TO DEVELOP A SENSE OF VALUES ABOUT LIFE? DOES HE KNOW THAT THE "LAST WORD" IS NOT REEBOKS, THE LARGEST RADIO OR A LEATHER JACKET?

3. IS THE QUALITY OF MY RELATIONSHIP WITH MY CHILD A LOVING, CARING ONE?

4. DO I USE MY CHILD TO VENT MY ANGER AND HOSTILITY OVER OTHER PROBLEMS IN MY LIFE?

5. AM I SENSITIVE TO MY CHILD'S NEEDS?

6. IS MY HOME A PLACE WITH RESPECT FOR ADULTS, DISCIPLINE (NOT EXCESSIVE), RESPONSIBILITIES?

7. DO I BUY BOOKS FOR MY CHILD AND READ TO HIM EACH DAY WHEN HE IS LITTLE?

8. AM I A ROLE MODEL FOR MY CHILD SO THAT HE CAN DO AS I DO, NOT ONLY DO AS I SAY?

9. DO I SEE THAT THERE IS A SCHEDULED TIME FOR HOMEWORK, EVERY EVENING, WITHOUT TELEVISION OR MUSIC?

10. DO I PROVIDE PROPER SUPERVISION FOR MY CHILD WHEN I AM AT WORK OR IS HE A "LATCHKEY KID?"

CHILDREN LEARN WHAT THEY LIVE

Dorothy Law Nolte

If a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn.
If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight.
If a child lives with fear, he learns to be apprehensive.
If a child lives with pity, he learns to feel sorry for himself.
If a child lives with ridicule, he learns to be shy.
If a child lives with jealousy, he learns what envy is.
If a child lives with shame, he learns to feel guilty.
If a child lives with encouragement, he learns to be confident.
If a child lives with tolerance, he learns to be patient.
If a child lives with praise, he learns to be appreciative.
If a child lives with acceptance, he learns to love.
If a child lives with approval, he learns to like himself.
If a child lives with recognition, he learns that it is good to have a goal.
If a child lives with sharing, he learns about generosity.
If a child lives with honesty and fairness, he learns what truth and justice are.
If a child lives with security, he learns to have faith in himself and in those about him.
If a child lives with friendliness, he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.
If you live with serenity, your child will live with peace of mind.

With what is your child living?
"I got two A's," the small boy cried.
   His voice was filled with glee.
His father very bluntly asked,
   "Why didn't you get three?"
"Mom, I've got the dishes done."
   The girl called from the door.
Her mother very calmly said,
   "Did you sweep the floor?"
"I've mowed the grass," the tall boy said,
   "And put the mower away."
His father asked him, with a shrug,
   "Did you clean off the clay?"
The children in the house next door
   Seem happy and content.
The same things happen over there.
   But this is how it went:
"I got two A's," the small boy cried.
   His voice was filled with glee.
His father very proudly said, "That's great; I'm glad you belong to me."
"Mom, I've got the dishes done."
   The girl called from the door.
Her mother smiled and softly said,
   "Each day I love you more."
"I've mowed the grass," the tall boy said,
   "And put the mower away."
His father answered with much joy,
   "You've made my happy day."
Children deserve a little praise
   For tasks they're asked to do.
If they're to lead a happy life,
   So much depends on you.
