ABSTRACT

This guide to sources for San Diego (California) State University students doing library research on topics related to American Indian Studies begins by noting that information on North American Indians can be found in a variety of subject disciplines including history, anthropology, education, sociology, health care, law, business, and politics. The sources listed are annotated, and include reference sources; bibliographies; research library catalogs; magazine, journal, and newspaper indexes; computer databases; and U.S. Government, California state government, and United Nations publications. Additional sources suggested include audiovisual materials, biographical sources, book reviews, curriculum collections, interlibrary loan, the juvenile collection, and microform collections. Information is also provided on the San Diego State University Library and the University's American Indian Studies Department. Appendixes contain a list of Library of Congress Subject Heading subdivisions for the heading "Indians of North America"; the Library of Congress classes which encompass this topic; maps showing the distribution of major Indian tribes in San Diego county and the Southwest; a chart showing Southern California reservation populations; community information and referral sources; and financial aid information for Indian college students. A subject index concludes the guide. (MAB)

AMERICAN INDIAN STUDIES

Library Research Guide

2nd Edition
1991

The purpose of this guide is to assist students at San Diego State University in researching topics on American Indians. Information on American Indians is found in many subject disciplines, such as history, anthropology, law, education, sociology, psychology, medicine, public health, business, politics, literature, and the arts. Therefore, many different library sources may be required for research. The most important sources in our library are listed in this guide.

For more information or assistance, please consult a reference librarian, or a faculty member in the American Indian Studies Department.

American Indian Studies is an academic department within the College of Arts and Letters. The Department serves all students, providing a wide spectrum of courses dealing with the history, government, culture, and literature of American Indians. We offer a minor in American Indian Studies and several of our courses meet University General Education curriculum requirements. Students are encouraged to join the North American Indian Student Alliance, an association recognized by the Associated Students of SDSU. The students, staff, and faculty of the Department of American Indian Studies work closely to further knowledge of and the educational opportunities for American Indians.

Student Activities

Since 1970, the North American Indian Student Alliance (NAISA) has sponsored activities which bring together people who are interested in the rich cultural heritage of America's native peoples. Working with the American Indian Studies staff and faculty and with the regional American Indian community, the students plan and sponsor activities which enhance educational programs of SDSU, including American Indian Culture Week, sponsored each Spring. Public lectures, exhibits, and photo displays are offered.

SDSU's American Indian Pow Wow

American Indian Culture Week concludes with the annual pow wow, in the Spring semester, which features inter-tribal music and dances. Indians from many parts of North America participate in the events, many displaying their arts and crafts.

Courses and Minor

The Department of American Indian Studies offers courses on a variety of subjects. A minor in American Indian Studies consists of a minimum of 15 units, 9 of which must include upper division courses. A minor in American Indian Studies enables students, with majors in history, political science, sociology, public health, law, business, and many other fields to broaden their education while at the same time focusing it on America's first people. The minor will enhance one's education and help students face post graduate work.

Classes in American Indian Studies include: (General Education) American Indian Heritage, American Indians in Contemporary Society, American Indian Literature, American Indian Music, American Indian Poetry and Fiction, American Indian History, and Roots of Indian Traditions. Other courses fulfilling the minor include American Indian Art, Experimental Topics, Political Experience, Bureaucracy, Indian Education, Indian People of California, Indians of the Plains, Community Organization and Development, and Topics and Special Studies in American Indian Studies. A complete listing may be found in the SDSU General Catalog.

Publications in American Indian Studies

The American Indian Studies Department is dedicated to providing students and the public with high quality information regarding the cultural heritage of American Indians. To this end, the Department publishes limited editions of scholarly works designed to educate and enlighten the interested public and the Indian community. Many of these publications are in the University Library.

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

The University Library (or, Love Library, named for former SDSU President Malcolm Love) contains over 1,000,000 volumes, including over 6200 books on Indians of North America. We receive almost 10,000 periodical and serial titles. The library is also a depository for government publications from the U.S. government, the California state government, and the United Nations. In addition, the library has thousands of microforms, maps, and media materials.

We have an "open stacks" library, meaning students can freely get materials or browse. Also, reference librarians are available to assist you in researching your topics and in learning to use the library.

Librarians provide reference assistance from 3 points:

1. General Reference Desk (2nd, or main floor)
Covers the social sciences, humanities, education, business, the arts, and general reference questions.
2. Science Reference Desk (5th floor)
Covers the the sciences, medicine, engineering, and technology.
3. Government Publications (3rd floor)
Covers materials in all subject fields published by the U.S. government, the California state government and the United Nations.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CLASSIFICATION
AND SUBJECT HEADINGS

Our library uses the Library of Congress Classification system. Call numbers consist of a combination of letters and numbers that represent subject areas, and identify each specific book. To get the call numbers for books you want, use the PAC (Public Access Catalog). The PAC is the library's computerized catalog system which lists books by subjects, authors, and titles, and keywords in titles.

When looking for books on a subject, it is advisable to first check the Library of Congress Subject Headings to determine the correct terms to use in the PAC for your topic. The Library of Congress Subject Headings are published in 3 large volumes and are placed on stands near the PAC.

Some examples of subject headings are the following:

ACOMA INDIANS
CAHUILLA INDIANS
CHEROKEE INDIANS
CUPENO INDIANS
DAKOTA INDIANS
DIEGUENO INDIANS
LUISENO INDIANS

INDIANS OF NORTH AMERICA -- CALIFORNIA
INDIANS OF NORTH AMERICA -- CULTURE
INDIANS OF NORTH AMERICA -- GOVERNMENT RELATIONS
INDIANS OF NORTH AMERICA -- HISTORY

JOSEPH, NEZ PERCE CHIEF
LEWIS, LUCY M.

Appendix 1 provides an extensive list of subject headings under which our library has books.

LOCATING BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

Once you find books in the PAC that you want, write down the call numbers for the books. Then, go to the appropriate floor and get the books. You can check them out at the Circulation Desk on the main floor.

Example: E California Indians. N.Y.: Garland
 78 Publishing, Inc., 1974.
 C15
 C29
 1988

The call number is E 78 C15 C29.

'K's are on the 4th floor.

BROWSING

If you want to browse through the major section of books on American Indians, go to the 3rd floor, call numbers E51-E99. For more specific browsing, Appendix II lists the Library of Congress Classification numbers for books on American Indians.

REFERENCE SOURCES

Reference books are consulted for specific information, such as facts or dates, or for overview, background, or summary information. They include encyclopedias, dictionaries, handbooks, and bibliographies. It is often a good idea to begin your research with a reference source to get background on your topic, to decide how to narrow (or broaden) your topic, and to find out specific names, dates, and events associated with your topic. Some of the most important reference sources on American Indians are listed below.

INDEX: Number 200 of the Bulletin is the index to the set. The index is located in the Reference Room stacks (E 51 U6 Ref) and also in Government Publications Reference (SI 2.3
No.200). In 1965, a new series entitled Smithsonian Contributions to Anthropology was initiated, which provides not only scholarly studies of the American Indian, but also studies of other peoples and cultures of the world. This superceded the Bulletin, and ended the set.

This 50-volume set includes valuable, detailed studies of California tribes. The INDEX is located in the Reference Room (E 51 C15 REF).

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

Bibliographies list information sources on particular topics. They usually list books and periodical articles, and may include government publications, dissertations, chapters of books, and other materials. (However, some of the books and periodicals will not be found in our library, and you may want to request them through Inter-Library Loan).

Bibliographies that are broad in scope, and comprehensive in coverage, are kept in the Reference Room. The following are important ones for American Indian topics:

RESEARCH LIBRARY CATALOGS

Research library catalogs, sometimes called book catalogs, are photographed copies of the catalog cards in large, research libraries, which have strong collections in certain subject areas. These catalogs enable researchers to see a list of the books and periodical literature in other libraries. Some important collections of Indian materials are in the libraries listed below. Since many of these materials will not be found in our library, these catalogs are for those needing to do more in-depth research. It will be necessary to use Inter-Library Loan to obtain many of the materials listed in these catalogs.

MAGAZINE INDEXES

Periodicals (magazines, journals) provide articles on specific topics. More recent information may be found in periodicals, the articles are shorter than books, and they may give a diversity of viewpoints on the topic you need.

Steps in researching periodical articles:

- (1) Use a periodical index (or computer database) in the reference room to find references to articles on your subject.
- (2) Use the PAC (computerized catalog) to get the call numbers for the names of the periodicals.
- (3) Go to the 1st floor and locate the periodicals by call numbers (5th floor has science and medical periodicals).
- (4) Read or photocopy the articles. (Periodicals cannot be checked out).

The following are the major magazine indexes, located in the General Reference Room:

JOURNAL INDEXES

Journals are scholarly, research-oriented, professional periodicals that provide more in-depth information than do general magazines. Most often, professors require their students to use journals rather than magazines for their research papers.

Some of the most important journal indexes and abstracting services for American Indian topics are listed below.

Index Table 6 Social Sciences Index. New York: H.W. Wilson (1974-present).
Covers the primary journals in all fields of the social sciences. For earlier years, see the Social Sciences and Humanities Index (1965-74), and the International Index (1907-65).

Index Table 11A America: History and Life. Santa Barbara, CA: Clio Press (1964-present).
Index to American history journals. Use the annual subject index (Part D), which refers you to the abstracts (Part A).

Index Table 9 Public Affairs Information Service (P.A.I.S.) Bulletin. New York: Public Affairs Information Service (1915-present).
Indexes periodicals, government publications, books, and pamphlets on social and economic issues.

Index Table 9 Sociological Abstracts. San Diego: Sociological Abstracts, (1952-present).
The primary index to journals and professional papers in sociology.

Index Table 12 Abstracts in Anthropology. Amityville, NY: Baygood Publishing (1970-present).
Indexes and abstracts articles from major English-language journals in anthropology and related fields. Subject and author indexes in back of each volume.

Index Table 9 Anthropological Literature. Cambridge, MA: Tozzer Library, Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, Harvard University (1979-present). Volumes 1-5 (1979-83) and Volume 11- (1989-present) are on Table 12; Volumes 6-10 (1984-1988) are on microfiche in the Reference Room. Updates the Peabody Museum Catalogue. Covers serial and edited works internationally, as received by Tozzer Library, the Anthropology Library at Harvard. For the advanced researcher.

Index Table 6 Social Sciences Citation Index. Philadelphia: Institute for Scientific Information (1966-present). Indexes keywords in titles of articles in over 4,500 journals in the social, behavioral and related sciences. The citation volumes also allow one to find out who is citing another's work.

NEWSPAPER INDEXES

Newspapers provide current news, local stories, interviews, case studies, and other primary source information. Few newspapers have a published index. The following are the major indexes for newspapers in our library:

- Ref Room Table National Newspaper Index. Belmont, CA: Information Access (latest 3 years).
This microfilm index covers the latest 3 years of the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Christian Science Monitor, Los Angeles Times, and the Washington Post. Updated monthly.
- Index 9a Newsbank. New Canaan, CT: Newsbank, Inc.
Indexes hundreds of newspapers around the country for many topics in the news. The articles from the newspapers are reproduced on microfiche and kept in the Microforms and Newspaper Center, 1st floor.
- Index Table 9 Individual newspaper indexes, such as the New York Times Index, Los Angeles Times Index, and the San Francisco Chronicle Index, are kept on this index table.
- Ref Room Pamphlet Files.
Newspaper clippings on local topics (such as Indian bingo or landfills) may be found in the General Reference Room pamphlet files.
- Index Table 9 San Diego Reader KWIC Index (1972-1987).
Index to key words in titles of articles from the local, Thursday Reader newspaper. Index created by the University of California, San Diego, Library.
- C-467 San Diego Union Index (1851-1981).
Created by the San Diego Public Library, this index is on microfiche in the Microforms and Newspaper Center, 1st floor. (For more recent information, ask a reference librarian about the computerized, full-text version of the San Diego Union and Tribune newspapers available online for $1.00/minute, covering 1986-present).

COMPUTER DATABASES

Our library has access to over 500 commercially-available databases, plus some CD-ROM (compact disk) versions made available to you for free. The databases are usually computerized equivalents of printed periodical indexes. Instead of looking through the printed periodical indexes, you can have a computer search done. You get a printout of references to articles on your topic.

Advantages of a computer search:

1. Speed.
2. Comprehensiveness.
3. Ability to combine terms.
4. Ability to search terms in abstracts and titles.

Disadvantages of most computer searches:

1. Most cost money (average cost: $20-30)
(except for CD-ROM databases listed below)*
2. Generally, do not cover older literature.

SOME OF THE DATABASES AVAILABLE FOR A FEE:

America: History and Life
American Statistics Index (ASI)
ATLA Religion
Bilingual Education Bibliographic Abstracts (BEBA)
Child Abuse and Neglect
Congressional Information Service (CIS)
Exceptional Child Education Resources (ECER)
Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts (LLBA)
MLA Bibliography (Modern Language Association)
NCJRS (National Criminal Justice Reference Service)
NTIS (National Technical Information Service)
Public Affairs Information Service (PAIS)
San Diego Union/Tribune Newspaper
Social Scisearch (SSCI)
Social Work Abstracts
Sociological Abstracts

*FREE CD-ROM DATABASES IN THE LIBRARY:

E.R.I.C. (education) (1980-present)
InfoTrac (general/business) (latest 3 years)
PsycLit (psychology/mental health) (1974-present)
Medline (medicine/health) 1988-present
Newsbank (newspaper articles) 1986-present

User-guides and assistance are available to help you learn how to use these CD-ROM databases.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS

Current and historical materials on Indians can be found in the Government Publications Division on the 3rd floor. These materials are not normally listed in the PAC. Many U.S. government departments and agencies publish reports on American Indians. Among these are the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the Smithsonian Institution, and the Bureau of American Ethnology. Documents, treaties, census materials, congressional reports and hearings, and other valuable primary-source materials are available for your research. Reference librarians who specialize in government publications are available to assist you.

Government Publications can be checked out from the collection on the 3rd floor, and must be returned there also.

Some of the most important indexes and sets to use for your research are listed below:

GP3.8 Monthly Catalog of United States Government
GOV PUBS Publications (1895-present)

CALIFORNIA STATE GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS

Our library is also a depository for publications of the various agencies and departments of the state of California. A separate card catalog on the 3rd floor lists these materials, which also can be checked out from the desk on the 3rd floor.

Examples of California publications:

P160 Parks and Recreation Department. Division of E8 Beaches and Parks. (1962). A Bibliography of nos 1-5 Indians of California. Sacramento: California
 State Department of Parks and Recreation.

References to books and periodical articles on Indians of California, in 5 volumes.

P155 Hill, Dorothy. (1978). The Indians of Chico
I55 Rancheria. Sacramento: California State
 Department of Parks and Recreation.

L500 California Legislature. Senate Judiciary
J81 Committee. (1985). Hearing -- Law Enforcement
985 on Indian Lands. Sacramento: California
No.1 State Joint Publications Office.

Testimony by tribal members and law officers.

UNITED NATIONS PUBLICATIONS

Our library is a depository for publications of the United Nations. Sometimes, American Indians will take their grievances to the United Nations as sovereign nations. Check the special card catalog or the CD-ROM computerized catalog on the 3rd floor.

Example of a UN Document:

E/CN.4/
Sub.2/
1989/35
(Part I) Commission on Human Rights. Subcommittee on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities. 41st Session. Agenda Item 13.
(1989). Discrimination Against Indigenous Peoples. Hopi-Navajo Relocation. New York:
United Nations.

AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS

MEDIA CENTER (4th Floor, South)

The library has a collection of records, tapes, filmstrips, and other media on Indians of North America available for use in the library. Check the Media card catalog or the PAC for your topic.

Media Technology Services (594-5691) has a good collection of videotapes and films on American Indians. They can be viewed in the library's Media Center, or shown in a classroom. Check the Media Catalog (in book form) in the Media Center in the library for the videotape or film you want to see, and request that it be shown for you, or scheduled (with your professor's approval) to be shown in your classroom.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY LIBRARY (694-3996)

An excellent collection of videos on American Indians is available through the county library. Check your closest county library, such as the La Mesa branch (469-2159), and request any video that is listed in the system, and it will be delivered to your closest county library.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

Information about people may be found in many places: books, periodicals, newspapers, directories, etc. Some of the major sources to check are the following:

- E Who Was Who In Native American History. (1990). New 89 York: Facts on File.
- W35 Brief summaries of important "Indians and 1990 non-Indians from early contacts through 1900."

Section).

Table Biographical Index. New York: H.W. Wilson
7 (1946-present).

Indexes articles about people in magazines and books. Check under the last name of the person you are researching in each volume. Excellent for current Indians in the news, such as Chief Wilma Mankiller.

Additional source of biographical information:

Los Angeles Public Library
SCAN (State of California Answering Network)
(213) 612-3216

INDIAN is the name of a file created by the LAPL, which includes biographical information on American Indians. Collective biographies of American Indians have been analyzed so specific names can be searched. About 10 Indian newspapers that are not indexed elsewhere are scanned. Also, articles from the Los Angeles Times newspaper and their pamphlet files are included.

BOOK REVIEWS

Book reviews may be found in many periodicals. Two important periodicals in our library are the following:

E American Indian Culture and Research Journal
75 Bound 1974-1980; microfiche C-1592 1981-current A5124

E American Indian Quarterly
75 Bound 1974-1979, 1982-current
A547

Both are located in the Current Periodicals Room on the 1st floor for about the latest year. If you need a book review for a very recent book, you may want to look through the current issues. If the book is older than one year, go to the reference room and use a book review index.

BOOK REVIEW INDEXES

Use a book review index, or a periodical index that includes book reviews, in the General Reference room to locate references to reviews in periodicals. The following indexes include citations to book reviews on American Indians:

America: History and Life (Table 12)
Book Review Digest (Table 7)
Book Review Index (Table 7)
Combined Retrospective Index to Book Reviews in the Humanities (Table 7)
Combined Retrospective Index to Book Reviews in Scholarly Journals (Table 6)
Humanities Index (Table 3a)
Index to Book Reviews in the Humanities (Table 7)
Social Science Citation Index (Table 6)
Social Sciences Index (Table 6)

CURRICULUM COLLECTIONS

CURRICULUM COLLECTION (4th Floor, West)

Textbooks and curriculum guides for grades K-12 are available on the 4th floor. You may find teaching and study materials here on topics dealing with American Indians. The general call number is 'LT' for this collection. Check the Curriculum Catalog near this section, or the PAC.

KRAUS CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT LIBRARY (Cumulative Subject Index - Table 10 Reference Room)

A collection of curriculum guides from all over North America are reproduced on microfiche (C-727, 1st floor). These provide objectives, programs, and teaching practices for grades K-12. Check the key word index under Native American history and Native American studies.

INTER-LIBRARY LOAN (Main Floor, East) 594-6730

This office will obtain books, periodical articles, and other materials for you that are not held by our library. They borrow books from other libraries, and have photocopies made of periodical articles you request. There is no charge for this service, but allow 7-10 days to receive your materials.

JUVENILE COLLECTION
(4th Floor, South)

To locate children's books, use the PAC. Choose "Juvenile Books" on the PAC menu and search by subjects, authors or titles. This collection uses the Dewey Decimal system of classification, whereby the call numbers begin with numbers. The books are on the 4th floor, and can be checked out at the Circulation Desk on the main floor for 28 days.

MICROFORM COLLECTIONS
(1st Floor, North)

Microforms include microfilm, microfiche, and microprint. Although you may often find that the newspaper or magazine you need is on microfilm or microfiche in our library, there are also special collections of materials in microform in our library. These are mainly intended for the researcher who needs primary-source materials. Below are listed the most important microform materials in our library on American Indians. All are located on the 1st floor in the Microforms and Newspaper Center.

HRAF (Human Relations Area Files) (C-2493)

Many students will find this a valuable collection, since it includes books, articles, dissertations, field notes and other materials on many American Indian tribes and cultures, reproduced on microfiche. Use the two printed guides to the collection: Outline of World Cultures (GN 345.3 M87 1983 REF), and Outline of Cultural Materials (GN 345.3 O95 1982 REF) to identify the code to your cultural group and find the subject codes to use with the microfiche. Warning: About 3000 known cultures of the world are identified in the guide, but there are HRAF files on only about 10% of these. Your cultural group must be checked off in the Outline of World Cultures to indicate that a file exists.

The Papers of John Peabody Harrington in the Smithsonian Institution 1907-1957 Parts 1 & 2. (F-3416)

101 reels on microfilm make up this important collection of papers and field notes of this unrelenting anthropologist, ethnologist, linguist, and field worker, pertaining to the history, language, and culture of Native Americans, especially California Indians. Volume 1 covers Alaska/Northwest Coast; Volume 2 covers Northern and Central California. Printed Guide and Reel Guide provided.

The Papers of Carlos Montezuma, M.D. (F-3601)

9 rolls of microfilm record the papers of the Yavapai Indian (1867-1923) who was a leading crusader for Native American rights. Printed Guide and Index available.

Duke Indian Oral History Collection (C-1832)

From 1967-1972, Miss Doris Duke supported this large project, where Indians talked about their views and heritage. The transcripts were reproduced onto 310 microfiche.

University of South Dakota American Indian Oral History Collection Part 1 (F-1349) Part 2 (C-1844)

Interviews with American Indians and people knowledgeable about American Indians were made between 1967-1973. The typed transcripts were published on microfilm. These first-person views on Indian life, traditions, and culture provide a unique perspective of Indian history.

Other Microform Collections:

Below are listed additional microform collections which include information on American Indians. These may be useful for the advanced researcher.

American Culture Series (F-1112)

Series I covers 1493-1806; Series II covers 1801-1875. Books and pamphlets published before 1875, in the United States, in English primarily. Series I includes the French and Indian War. Author, title, and subject indexes.

Western Americana (F-2469)

A collection on microfilm of over 7000 titles covering a "frontier history of the trans-Mississippi West 1550-1900." Important primary-source materials from the Newberry Library and Yale University Library are listed, such as personal narratives, local histories, pamphlets, and state and federal documents. Indian wars and other Indian-White relations and contacts are covered. Use the printed Guide, volume 2 to check your subject.

Early American Imprints (P-1)

Microprint set which reproduces the full text of all existing books, pamphlets, and broadsides published in the United States between 1639-1800. Use Charles Evan's American Bibliography (Z 1215 E923 REF) for a list of publications, and to get the Evan's entry numbers.

Early American Newspapers (P-3)

Microprint set covering the years 1704-1825 of nearly 2000 newspapers published in the United States, which provides deep insights into the life, culture, customs, technology and events of this period of America.

American Periodical Series (F-244, F-245, F-246)

18th and 19th century American periodicals on almost 2800 rolls of microfilm, representing the history, politics, life and customs of early America.

INTER-TRIBAL LIBRARY AND INFORMATION CENTER
4040 30th Street
(between El Cajon Blvd. and University Ave.)
San Diego

281-5964 Open: 9-4:30 Monday-Friday

This is part of the Indian Human Resource Center, and there is a good collection of Indian periodicals for your use. You cannot check the magazines and newspapers out.

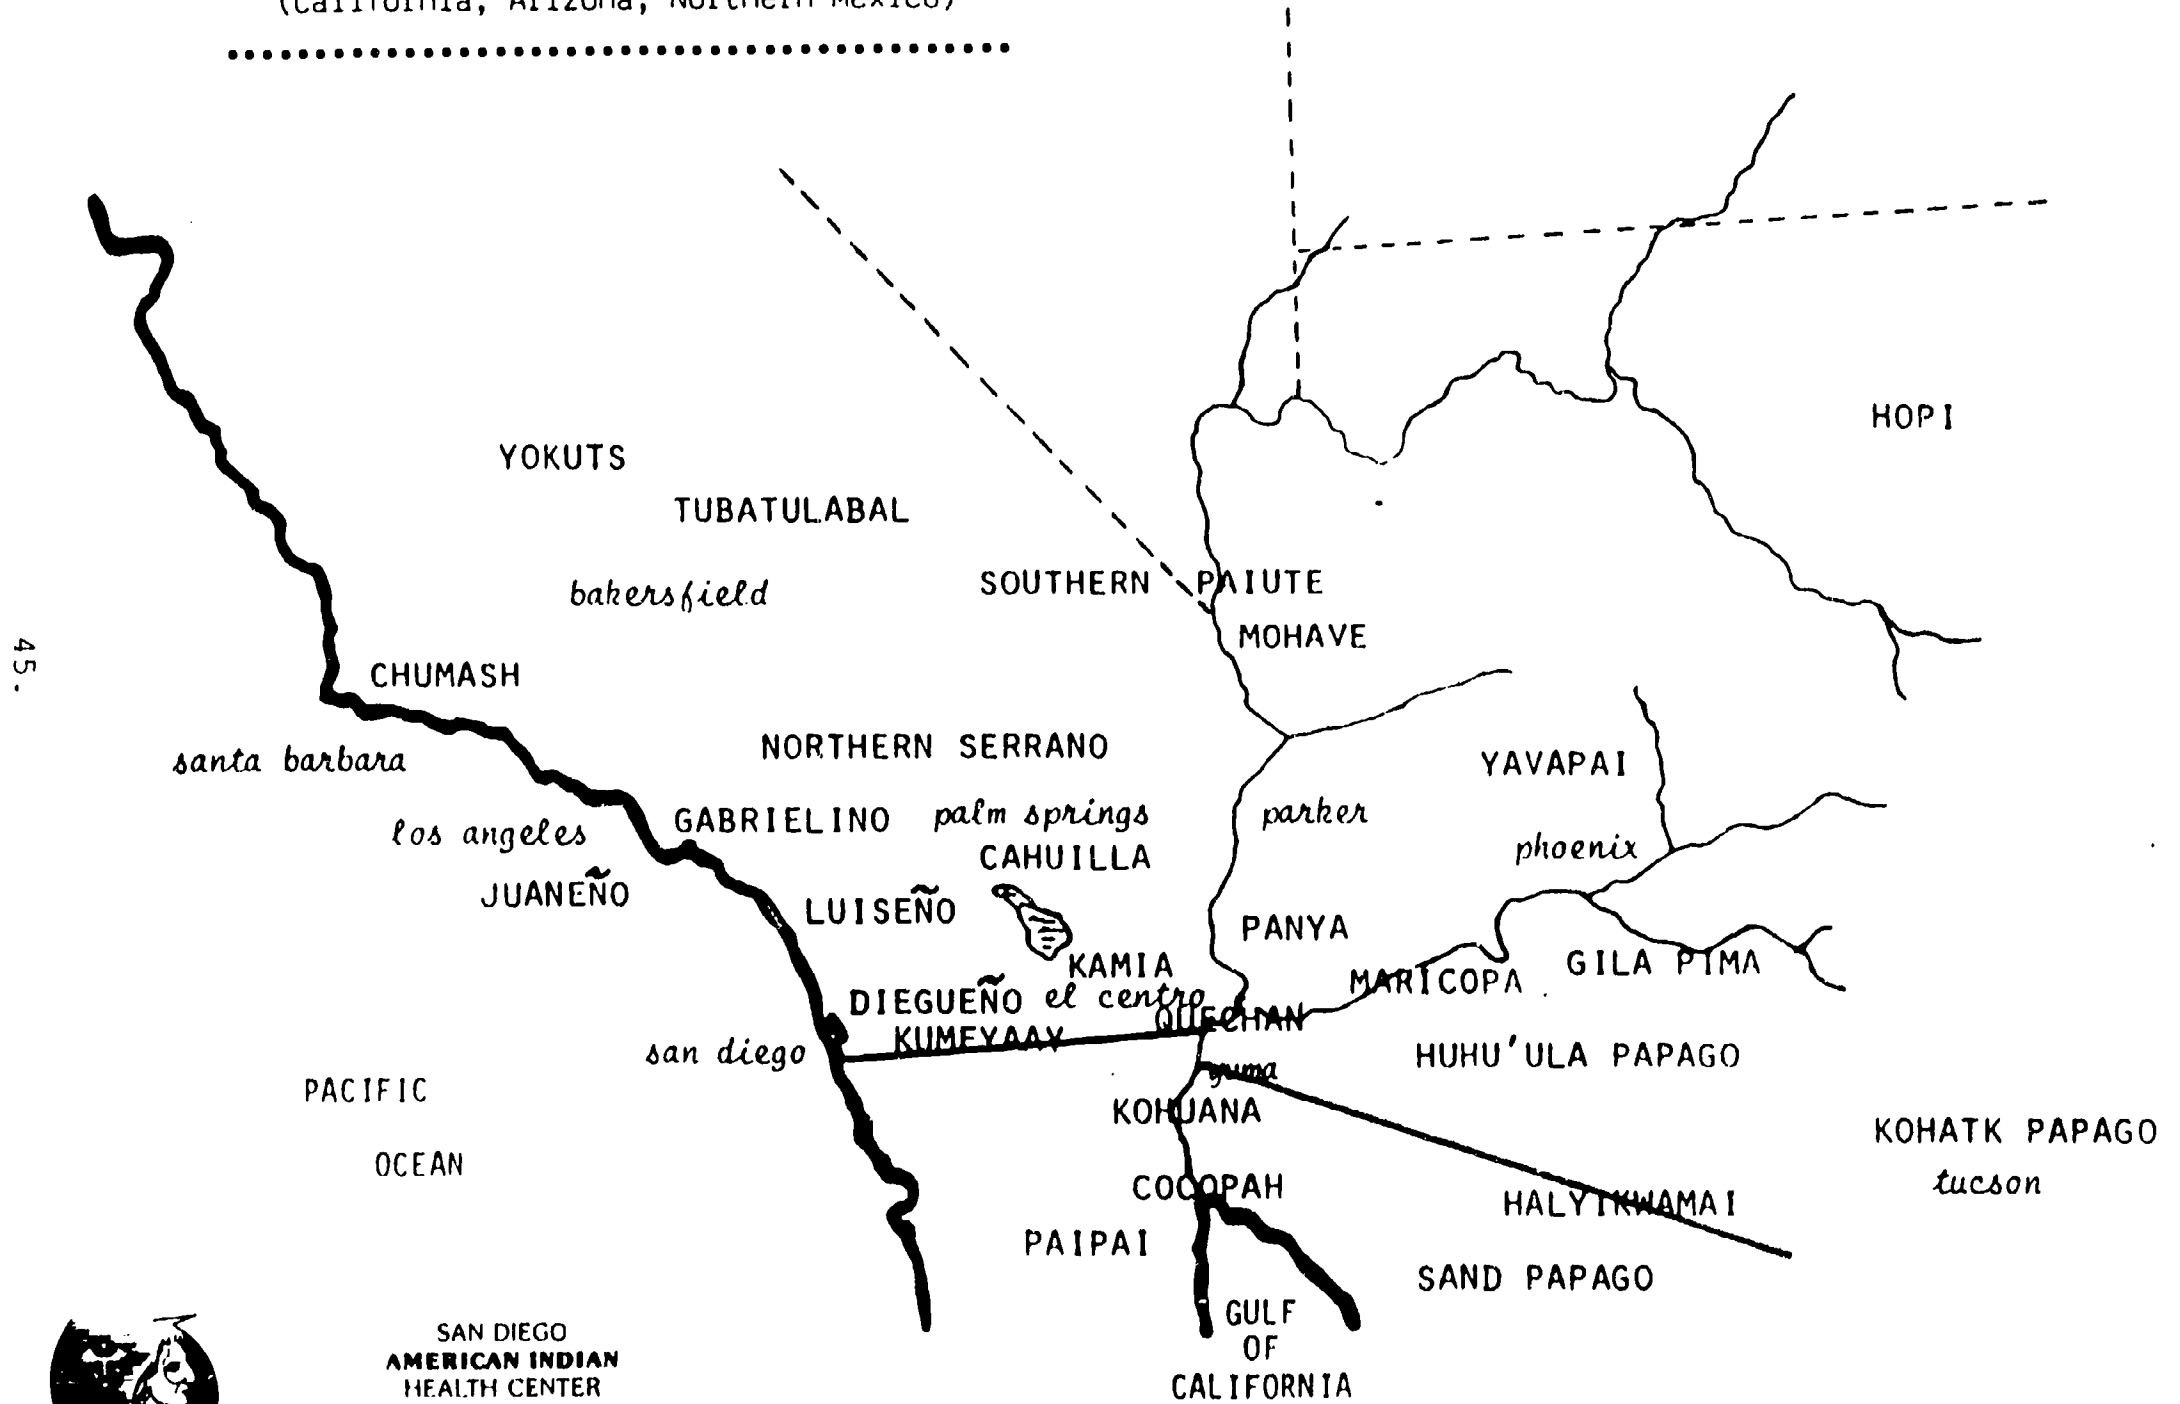

Other Periodicals:

Many older Indian periodicals are in special microfilm collections, such as the Underground Newspaper Collection (F-1226). One very important source is North American Indian Periodicals (or, Periodicals By and About the North American Indian). Many Indian periodicals published from 1928-1981 are reproduced on 72 reels of microfilm (F-1226). Check the name of the periodical you need in the PAC to get the reel number for your periodical, or use the printed guide available in the Microforms and Newspaper Center on the 1st floor.
