Abstract: This handbook is a reference for sponsors of food service programs for children during school vacation periods. It is not applicable to academic year operations. Issues relating to planning a food service program are discussed. These include sponsor eligibility, the determination of the need of recipient children, requirements of kinds and amounts of food per meal, choice of a site, and staff duties. Issues relating to administering programs are also discussed. These include the training of personnel, compliance with civil rights legislation, methods of cost reimbursement payments to sponsors, and recordkeeping requirements. For those sponsors that decide to contract with a food service management company, suggestions for selecting a company are given, and considerations of program operations are examined. Special issues relating to the operation of camp food service program are discussed. A reference section contains samples of various worksheets, agreements, and forms. (BC)

The Summer Food Service Program for Children is available to all children without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap. Any person who believes he or she has been treated unfairly in receiving food services because of discrimination should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250.

Revised February 1991
INTRODUCTION

The Sponsor's Handbook is a vital reference for all sponsors who participate or plan to participate in the Summer Food Service Program for Children during school vacation periods. It is not, however, applicable to the academic-year operations of National Youth Sports Program (NYSP) sponsors during October through April. Additionally, it contains a section which addresses the needs of food service management companies that provide meals to Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) sponsors.

The SFSP was established to ensure that during school vacation periods, children could continue to receive the same high-quality meals that are provided during the school year under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. The program resulted from an increased awareness of the critical importance of proper nutrition to children, and a belief that school vacations should not end the availability of nutritious meals for many children. Although the SFSP primarily operates during the summer months, May to September, when schools in most areas are closed, it also provides meals during vacation breaks where schools are operated on a continuous school calendar.

This handbook for SFSP sponsors consists of five main sections:

PLANNING A PROGRAM provides information to help guide potential sponsors through the early stages of program planning and operations. This section includes information on determining eligibility, planning the meal service, and applying for the program.

ADMINISTERING A PROGRAM outlines in more detail the administrative responsibilities of the sponsor in the areas of training, recordkeeping, and monitoring.

FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT COMPANIES discusses how a sponsor contracts with a food service management company. This section includes information on the sponsor’s and food service management company’s responsibilities in relation to operating the food service at program sites.

CAMPS discusses the unique eligibility requirements and reimbursement methods used by camps, and their special needs.

REFERENCES provides sample copies of forms and necessary program worksheets that sponsors may use. A glossary of SFSP terms is also included at the end of this section.

The SFSP makes meals available to children 18 years old or younger. People over 18 years old, who (1) are determined by a State or local educational agency to be mentally or physically handicapped and (2) participate in a public or private nonprofit school program for children with handicaps during the school year, are also eligible to receive benefits.
A basic understanding of the SFSP requires familiarity with each of the following terms:

SPONSOR

Organizations that may sponsor the SFSP are limited to (1) public and private nonprofit school food authorities, residential summer camps, and colleges and universities that participate in the NYSP; (2) private nonprofit organizations that meet specific criteria defined in SFSP regulations; and (3) local, county, municipal, State, or Federal government units. Both private nonprofit organizations and governmental units must have direct operational control over each site under their sponsorship. This means that they will be responsible for (1) managing site staff, including such areas as hiring, conditions of employment, and termination; and (2) exercising management control over SFSP operations at sites during the period of program participation.

Potential sponsors must demonstrate that they have the necessary financial and administrative capability to meet SFSP objectives and to comply with program regulations. They must also accept final financial and administrative responsibility for all sites under their auspices. Approved sponsors must operate the program according to the Federal regulations, relevant instructions, this handbook, other SFSP guidance materials, and all applicable State and local laws. Management responsibilities cannot be delegated below the sponsor level. The quality of the meal service, the conduct of site personnel, and the adequacy of recordkeeping reflect directly upon the sponsor’s performance, which is subject to audit by the administering agency, by the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) Office of the Inspector General (OIG), and the General Accounting Office (GAO).

REIMBURSEMENT

SFSP sponsors receive Federal funds from their administering agency based on the number of each type of meals they serve to children. Separate reimbursement rates have been established to cover their operating costs of preparing and serving meals and their costs of administering the program. There are different rates for each meal type—breakfast, lunch/supper, and snack—and the number of eligible meals served according to program regulations, multiplied by the appropriate reimbursement rate, will be the maximum amount of money that a sponsor receives for either its administrative or operating costs. To cover its administrative costs the sponsor will receive the lesser of (1) actual administrative costs; (2) the amount in its approved administrative budget; or (3) the amount provided by the rates. For operating costs, the sponsor will receive the lesser of actual operating costs or the amount provided by the rates.

Sponsors may receive advance payments and may also be able to receive some startup funds; additional administrative funds are available for rural sponsors and for sponsors that prepare their own meals. In addition, donated commodities are available for sponsors that prepare their own meals; for sponsors that contract with a school food authority for prepared meals; and for school food authority sponsors that competitively procure meals from the same food service management company that provided their most recent National School Lunch Program meals.
Sponsors may operate the SFSP at one or more sites—the physical locations where program meals are served to children. Regular sites and sites primarily for homeless children may be approved to serve up to two meals daily, either lunch and breakfast or lunch and a snack, while sites serving primarily migrant children and camps may be approved to serve up to four meals per day—breakfast, snack, lunch, or supper.

Regular (open or enrolled) sites serve either (1) an open geographical area where at least 50 percent of the local children are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals, based on information provided by local public and nonprofit private school officials, welfare or education agencies, zoning commissions, census tract data, migrant organizations, or other appropriate sources; or (2) an enrolled program where children are enrolled and where at least 50 percent of the enrolled children are individually determined to be eligible for such meals.

Enrolled sites are usually established (1) where an identified group of needy children living in a "pocket of poverty" are provided SFSP meals; (2) where identified needy children are transported to a congregate meal site located in a geographical area with less than 50 percent eligible children; or (3) where a sponsor operates a program for a specific group of children, providing recreational, cultural, religious, or other types of organized activities except, as indicated on page 17, at an accredited summer school. Enrolled site sponsors must provide eligibility forms to all enrollees and document, using only the completed and approved forms, that at least 50 percent of those enrolled are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals.

Sponsors of regular open sites and homeless feeding sites are reimbursed for program meals served to all attending children; whereas, regular enrolled site sponsors are reimbursed only for the meals served to their enrolled attendees.

Residential summer camps and nonresidential day camp sites must take applications from all enrolled children and determine their individual eligibility for SFSP meals, since such sponsors may claim for reimbursement only those meals served to children at the camp who are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals. Nonresidential day camps, which can only participate as sites under sponsorship of an eligible school food authority, college, university, governmental unit, or private nonprofit organization, must offer a continuous schedule of organized cultural or recreational programs for enrolled children between their SFSP meal services.

The term camp is a Program term and need not limit the type of participation by a given site. For example, a "day camp" operated by a city housing agency may qualify as an enrolled site, while the same agency might run a recreation program which qualifies and is approved as a nonresidential camp, assuming each met the criteria discussed above. Sponsors of residential and nonresidential camps must provide the administering agency with the number of children enrolled in each session at each camp site who have been determined eligible for reimbursed SFSP meals. This information must be submitted before the time the sponsor's claim for reimbursement is submitted or at a time specified by the administering agency.
Homeless feeding sites, unlike regular sites and camp sites, may participate in the SFSP without reference to area eligibility and without taking applications from participating children. These sites must document (1) that their primary purpose is to provide shelter and one or more meal services per day to homeless families and (2) that they are not residential child care institutions (RCCIs) as defined in National School Lunch Program (NSLP) regulations. RCCIs "including but not limited to homes for the mentally impaired, temporary shelters for runaway children, homes for unwed mothers and their children, and juvenile detention centers" differ from homeless feeding sites in that they provide ongoing institutional care for children.

PLANNING A PROGRAM

SPONSOR ELIGIBILITY

Every sponsoring organization must meet certain requirements. Only public or private nonprofit school food authorities, colleges or universities participating in the Program (NYSP), and residential summer camps; local, county, municipal, State, or Federal governmental units; and private nonprofit organizations which meet specific criteria, may serve as sponsors. Private nonprofit organizations are limited, among other criteria, as to the location of their sites, the total number of sites they may operate, and the maximum number of children they may serve; and the administering agency can provide more specific details about the conditions under which they may participate. Governmental sponsors and private nonprofit organizations must certify on the application for participation that they have direct operational control over all sites under their sponsorship. Direct operational control means that the sponsor is responsible for managing site staff, including such areas as hiring, determining conditions of employment, and termination, and for exercising management control over SFSP operations at sites during the period of program participation.

All private nonprofit sponsors (whether private nonprofit organizations or other types of private nonprofit sponsors) must be tax exempt under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and all sponsors must demonstrate adequate administrative and financial responsibility to effectively manage food service at their sites. Sponsors must also provide a year-round public service to the area in which they intend to provide the SFSP, except for sponsors of residential camps, sites serving migrant programs, and those serving needy areas that would otherwise not be served.

DETERMINATION OF NEED

Because the SFSP is primarily directed toward children in needy areas, sponsors of regular open and enrolled sites and those serving migrant children must, as part of the application process, document the need of the geographical area or the identified population of children they would serve. Such sponsors must submit information to the administering agency to establish each noncamp site's eligibility, and the following pages describe the kinds of data they should use to document this eligibility. Homeless feeding sites must meet the requirements described above, while camp sponsors must meet other requirements that are described on page 8.

Eligibility Based on Area Served

Sponsors must demonstrate that their proposed open sites are located in areas in which poor economic conditions exist, and there are two primary methods--use of school data or use of census tract data--that may be used to determine whether the area that would be served is eligible.

Use of School Data - Generally, sponsors will find it most helpful to contact the local schools directly in order to obtain the necessary information to determine the need of the area they wish to serve. When sponsors decide to use school data, they must determine and contact the school (or schools) serving the children who live in the area where they intend to offer the program. The local school district and nonprofit private schools serving the area can then provide sponsors with the number of children who are eligible for free and reduced-price National School Lunch or School Breakfast Program meals and the total enrollment of the school(s).

The sponsors must then provide their administering agency with the following information to document the eligibility of the area they intend to serve: (1) the names of all public and nonprofit private schools or districts serving the children who reside within the area; (2) the number (but not names) of all children eligible for free and reduced-price meals who are enrolled in those schools; and (3) the total number of children enrolled in those schools or school districts.

The administering agency will determine the eligibility of each proposed site located in the area based on this data submitted by the sponsor. Since the local school or district must certify that the data are accurate, sponsors should ask local schools or districts to provide the necessary figures on school or district stationery, with the signature of an authorized school official.

Use of Census Tract Data - Sponsors may also choose to document area need by submitting census tract data. We suggest, however, that sponsors use census tract data only if school information is nonexistent or irrelevant for a particular site. Since data from the 1990 decennial census for the area of consideration may not yet be available, census data may be more than 10 years old, and an area as small as a census tract may have undergone substantial demographic change during this period. Census data are frequently available from local government planning offices or public libraries.

The census data that should be used to determine site eligibility will depend on the location of the area the sponsor hopes to serve. If it hopes to serve an area located in a city with a population of over 50,000, the following documents should be used: Table P-1, General Characteristics of Persons and Table P-60, Income and Poverty Status in 1989. Table P-1 lists, by tract number or city, the average number of people per household and Table P-60 lists, by tract number or city, the median income.
If a sponsor wishes to serve an area located in a county with a population of less than 50,000, the sponsor should refer to Table 14, Summary of General Characteristics and Table 180, Income Characteristics in 1979 for Counties. Table 14 lists, by tract number or county, the average number of people per household and Table 180 lists, by tract number or county, the median income.

If sponsors elect to use census data to document the eligibility of sites, they must first consult a census map to determine the tract that includes each area they wish to serve. A copy of this map should be submitted to the administering agency. Once the tract is determined, sponsors should look at Table P-60 (for cities with more than 50,000 people) or Table 180 (for counties with less than 50,000 people) to determine the median household income for the tract. Then, sponsors should determine the average household size for the tract from Table P-1 for cities or Table 14 for counties. Although the average household size will not usually be a whole number, the decimal remainder must not be rounded up or down. Rather, the tract figures must be adjusted and compared to the income eligibility guidelines for reduced-price school meals as in the following example:

USDA’s family size and income eligibility guidelines set a maximum annual income of $19,536 for reduced-price meals for a household of three in the contiguous States. Suppose the census tables show that a given census tract has a median income of $21,000 and an average household size of 3.28. To make the comparison, the census tract data must be prorated to reflect the income of a household of three. This is accomplished by setting up a proportion and computing as follows:

\frac{3.28}{21,000} = \frac{3}{X}

3 \times 21,000 = 63,000

63,000 \div 3.28 = 19,207.317

Since the decimal .32 is less than .50, it must be rounded down to yield a prorated income of $19,207 for a household of three in this hypothetical census tract. Compare this number to the maximum annual income listed in the current guidelines to determine the eligibility of the area—a prorated income of $19,207 versus the $19,536 maximum listed in the guidelines. Because the adjusted median income for the tract is lower than the reduced-price guideline, the tract meets the definition of an area where poor economic conditions exist.
Sponsors that wish to document site eligibility with census tract data must submit to the administering agency photocopies of:

(1) the census map page that includes the tract used;

(2) the page from Table P-1 or Table 14 indicating the average number of persons per household in the tract; and

(3) the page from Table P-60 or Table 180 indicating the median household income in the tract.

Eligibility Based on Enrollment Group Served: Sponsors of sites where meals are served only to an enrolled group of children must document their sites' eligibility based on statements of the household size and income, or food stamp or AFDC case numbers, of children enrolled at each site. For such site to be eligible, the sponsor must be able to demonstrate, using only the completed eligibility forms, that at least 50 percent of the enrolled children have been individually determined eligible for free or reduced-price school meals. Such sponsors must provide the administering agency with:

(1) A statement that they will use the Eligibility Form for Camps and Enrolled Sites or a sample of their individually developed form containing the identical information that they will use to make the eligibility determinations;

(2) The total number of children enrolled at the site; and

(3) The number of children enrolled at the site who are documented as eligible for free and reduced-price school meals, based on the income eligibility guidelines or on their food stamp or AFDC case numbers.

Sponsors of enrolled sites are not required to submit the completed and approved eligibility forms to the administering agency. However, each site that will be documented as eligible based on enrollment data must have on file (1) records of the total number of children enrolled at the site and (2) the actual approved eligibility form for each child who is counted as being eligible for free or reduced-price school meals.

Other Documentation: If sponsors are unable to document the need of their area or site(s) by school data, census tract data, enrollment data, or serving homeless children, they have several other options:

For all sponsors: Since 1990 decennial census data compilations are incomplete, photocopies of appropriate data from their State's volume of The 1980 U.S. Census Reports, General Social and Economic Characteristics (Bureau of the Census publication # PC 80-1-C, volumes 2-52, which can be obtained from public libraries) may be submitted to document the need in each area served by their sites.
For Indians: Sponsors offering programs at sites located on Indian reservations may obtain and submit statistics on the population from one of the 12 Bureau of Indian Affairs area offices.

For Migrants: Sponsors may submit information obtained from a migrant organization to document the eligibility of sites serving children of migrant workers. The administering agency must confirm that the organization is a migrant organization, and the data provided must indicate that at least 50 percent of the children are eligible for free and reduced-price meals.

Frequency of Need Documentation: Area eligible sites may use documentation from the previous year to support the site's program eligibility. In such instances, sponsors are only required to obtain new documentation every other year. Sponsors of all other sites must document the sites' eligibility annually.

Need Documentation for Camps: Sponsors of residential summer camps and nonresidential day camp sites may claim reimbursement only for the meals served at such sites to campers who have been individually determined to be eligible for free or reduced-price school meals. Camp sponsors must make such determinations on the basis of the eligibility form information submitted by the parent or guardian of each child. They compare that information with USDA's income eligibility guidelines for the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs to determine the child's eligibility for meals in the SFSP.

Sponsors of residential and nonresidential camps must provide the administering agency with the number of children enrolled in each session at each camp site who have been determined eligible for reimbursed SFSP meals. This information must be submitted before the time the sponsor's claim for reimbursement is submitted or at a time specified by the administering agency.

Administering agencies may also require camp sponsors: (1) to indicate that they will use the Eligibility Form for Camps and Enrolled Sites or (2) to submit a sample of the locally developed form: that they will use to collect household size and income data, or food stamp or AFDC case numbers from the children enrolled in each session, in order to determine their eligibility for program meals.

Sponsors of camps are not required to submit their approved free and reduced-price eligibility forms to the administering agency. They must, however, maintain the originals of the approved forms for all eligible children available for review in their files.

MEAL SERVICE

Before an administering agency approves the program application, a sponsor will have to indicate the method it will use to provide meals to children. Several factors -- the cost of food, the number of meals required, the type of meal service, the number and type of sites, and the facilities available at each site -- will influence the sponsor's choice.
Sponsors may choose from several methods of providing meals. They may either (1) prepare their own meals, (2) obtain meals from a school food service authority, or (3) obtain meals from a food service management company.

Sponsor Meal Preparation: Many sponsors choose to prepare their own meals, which allows the sponsor to have maximum control over the quality of preparation. Depending on facilities available at its sites, a sponsor may prepare meals at each site location or at a central kitchen. Preparing meals at the site requires that each site have adequate kitchen and storage facilities. Sponsors preparing meals at a central kitchen must decide how they are going to distribute the meals from the central kitchen to the sites. Sponsors preparing their own meals either at each site or at a central kitchen may receive additional administrative reimbursement.

Purchasing Meals From Schools: If sponsors choose not to prepare meals for their sites, they may instead purchase the meals from a school food service. Most schools have meal preparation and service facilities since they serve meals to children during the school year. Also, experienced school food service personnel are often available for summer jobs. Most schools participate in the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. If meals for your summer program will be prepared in such schools, the administering agency can permit you to serve meals that meet the requirements of these programs rather than the summer program meal patterns. If you wish to exercise this option, you should submit a request for permission to the administering agency along with your application for program participation.

Nonschool sponsors that wish to obtain their SFSP meals from a school should contact their local superintendent of schools, or principals of local nonprofit private schools. Such an arrangement will require either a written agreement or a contract with the school food authority.

Purchasing Meals from Food Service Management Companies: Those sponsors who choose to contract with a food service management company to obtain their meals should consult the FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT COMPANIES section on page 46 of this handbook. This section explains the various requirements and procedures that such sponsors must follow when they are locating and contracting with a food service management company.

Commodities: Sponsors preparing meals onsite or at a central kitchen, those purchasing meals from a school food authority, and "school food authority" sponsors that competitively procure their SFSP meals from the same food service management company that competitively provided their most recent (NSLP) meals are eligible to receive donated commodities under the SFSP. The administering agency will provide information about currently available foods to these sponsors, who may not receive commodities under more than one program (i.e., the SFSP and the NSLP) during the same time period.

Unitized Meals: Food service management companies and school food authorities contracting to prepare SFSP meals must provide unitized meals to the sponsors' site(s) unless the administering agency has approved a waiver of the unitized meal requirement.
The unitized meal requirement specifies that the meal components (except the milk or juice) must be packaged, delivered, and served as a unit. Milk or juice, which may be packaged and provided separately, must be served with the meal and only such complete meals are reimbursable.

Number of Meals: The administering agency may approve regular sites for the service of up to two meals each day. These sites may serve lunch and breakfast or lunch and a snack. Sites serving primarily migrant children and camp sites can receive approval to serve up to four meals a day consisting of breakfast, snack, lunch, and supper.

Meal Pattern Goal and Minimum Requirements: Careful planning is necessary to meet the goal of the SFSP, which is to serve nutritious meals that meet meal pattern requirements and are appetizing to children. The SFSP meal pattern requirements assure well-balanced meals that supply the kinds and amounts of foods that children require to help meet their nutrient and energy needs. The meal patterns establish the minimum portions of the various meal components that must be served to each child in order for the participating sponsor to receive reimbursement for each meal.

Portion Adjustments: The portions included in the meal pattern requirements on the following pages are the minimum quantities for children. Sponsors serving older children may wish to serve more than these minimum quantities. In some cases, the administering agency may approve a sponsor to serve smaller portions of food if the sponsor is serving a group of children under 6 years of age. Sponsors wishing to serve smaller portions must (a) receive prior approval from their administering agency, and (b) comply with the meal pattern requirements for younger children established in Section 226.20 of the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) regulations, which can be obtained from the administering agency.

Such sponsors must demonstrate that they are able to control portion sizes and that they can ensure that the variations in portion size are in accordance with the age levels of the children being served. Any SFSP sponsors approved by the administering agency to serve children who are under 1 year of age must obtain a copy of the CACFP regulations and comply with the "Infant Meal Pattern" requirements in subsection 226.20(b).
SUMMER FOOD SERVICE PROGRAM MEAL PATTERN REQUIREMENTS

The meal pattern requirements assure well-balanced, nutritious meals that supply the kinds and amounts of foods that children require to help meet their nutrient and energy needs. You must make sure that meals served at your site meet the meal pattern requirements listed on the following pages. Compare the patterns of the meals to be served at your site with these requirements and learn to recognize meal deficiencies.

* No more than one-half of the requirement shall be met with nuts or seeds. Nuts or seeds shall be combined with another meat/meat alternate to fulfill the requirement.

Note: The serving sizes of food specified in the meal patterns are minimum amounts. If the administering agency approves the sponsor to serve smaller portion sizes to children under 6 years old, the sponsor must meet the meal patterns specified in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) regulations. You can obtain copies of these regulations from your administering agency. Children over 6 years old may be served larger portions, but not less than the minimum requirements specified in the Summer Food Service Program regulations. Remember that your sponsor does not receive reimbursement for meals that do not meet the minimum program requirements.
Meal Service Requirements: In addition to serving meals that meet meal pattern requirements, sponsors must be certain that they comply with the following rules when serving meals at each of their sites:

- Serve the same meal to all children.
- Ensure that children eat all meals onsite. Site personnel must be sure to supervise all children on the site while they are eating meals. Only meals that children eat onsite are eligible for reimbursement.
- Serve meals during the times of meal service submitted on the Site Information Sheet and approved by the administering agency. Sponsors must have the administering agency approve any changes in these meal service times.
- Ensure that all children in attendance at the site receive one meal before any child is served a second meal.
- Ensure that 3 hours elapse between meals. When nonresidential camp sites and sites serving primarily migrant children serve lunch and supper with no afternoon snack between the two meals, they must be sure that 4 hours elapse between the lunch and supper. Such sites must begin serving supper no later than 7 p.m. and must end supper service by 8 p.m. None of these time restrictions applies to residential camps or homeless feeding sites. The administering agency must approve any other waivers to these restrictions.
- Except at homeless feeding sites, ensure that the meal service period does not exceed 2 hours for lunch/supper and 1 hour for all other meals, including snacks.
- Adhere to local health and sanitation regulations.
- Arrange for delivery if the meals are not prepared at the site and arrange for storing the meals according to standards prescribed by local health authorities until meal time. If the meals are not prepared onsite, the administering agency will not approve more than one meal service at that site unless either: (1) each meal can be delivered separately within 1 hour of beginning of the meal service, or (2) proper facilities exist onsite for storing the food.
- Arrange for the proper storage of any excess meals.
- Make adequate arrangements for food service during inclement weather, if meals are usually served at an outdoor site.

Limitations on Meal Service: The administering agency will limit sponsors to serving one meal a day at any site if it finds that the site is in violation of the meal service requirements and if the site does not take corrective action within a reasonable time.
Evaluating an Area: It is important that a sponsor adequately evaluate the needs and resources of the area(s) it hopes to serve prior to making final plans for site operations. In particular, a sponsor should try to determine the type and size of program that would best meet the needs of its community. As part of the inquiry into the community's needs, a sponsor should:

- Ask parks and recreation centers about their summer recreation programs.
- Contact YMCAs, YWCAs, churches, and scout troops about their summer plans.
- Contact minority referral sources and relevant minority organizations in the prospective site area.
- Contact other groups in the area that may be planning to participate in the summer program.
- Contact local parent groups to determine the level of parental support.

After sponsors have made these initial contacts in any area(s) they hope to serve, they will have an easier time evaluating different sites and deciding on the size of their operations. Sponsors will have to make three especially important decisions. They must: (1) select the particular sites where they will serve meals to children; (2) decide how many sites they will sponsor during the summer; and (3) determine how many children they will serve at each site they sponsor. If sponsors take particular care in making these decisions before their program's start, they may be able to prevent problems that could arise later.

Selecting Sites: Sponsors must assume administrative and financial responsibility for total program operations at all sites under their supervision. They must, therefore, be certain that a site can offer a quality meal service before they decide to sponsor that site. Private nonprofit organizations and governmental sponsors must certify that they will directly operate the program at each site under their sponsorship. Direct operation means that the sponsor will be responsible for (1) managing site staff, including such areas as hiring, conditions of employment, and termination, and (2) managing program operations at sites during the period of program participation.

A Site Selection Worksheet should be completed when sponsors visit each potential site. The worksheet (see the REFERENCES section of this handbook) outlines several major issues that ought to be considered when evaluating sites and proves useful to sponsors when they prepare site information sheets. This worksheet focuses on the following areas:

Adequacy of Meal Service Facilities: Sponsors will have to determine whether the meal service facilities available at a site are adequate for the type of meal service they are planning. If the sponsor plans to prepare meals onsite, the site must have adequate meal preparation facilities. Whether a sponsor plans to have the meals prepared by a food service management company, by a school food service, or at a central kitchen, it should check the food holding facilities. If applicable, the sponsor should contact the administering agency to determine whether there are registered food service management companies in the area. All sponsors should determine whether meals will be served inside or outside. If regular meal service is outdoors, sponsors must make sure there is adequate indoor space for meal service during inclement weather.

Number of Site Supervisors: According to program meal service requirements, sponsors should assess how much supervision will be necessary to ensure proper program operations. These supervisory needs will differ from site to site.

Serving Capacity: Sponsors need to determine the maximum number of children who can be served at any of the sites where they plan to serve meals. This number will serve as an outside limit on the size of a sponsor's meal service at the site.

Site Activities: If possible, sponsors should select sites that offer organized activities during the day. Sponsors should determine whether there are any year-round public service programs in the community that might serve as sites. These sites will usually have facilities that can be used for the meal service and a permanent staff.

Preoperational Site Visits: A representative of the sponsor must visit all new sites and sites that experienced problems in prior years before such sites are approved for the program. Sponsors should note the date of the visit to each site and the name of the person who visited each site. When they apply for the SFSP, sponsors will have to certify that all required site visits have been conducted.

Choosing the Number of Sites: In addition to selecting the sites at which meals will be served, sponsors have to decide how many sites they will administer. This decision will depend greatly on the sponsor's administrative capability and on the size of the programs at the sites. Sponsors must be sure that they plan to operate programs that are consistent with the size of their administrative staff and the extent of their expertise. A small sponsor with limited administrative experience should carefully place limits on the number of sites where it will offer meals.

Special Milk Program Participation: Sites cannot participate in both the SFSP and the Special Milk Program (SMP). Sponsors may elect to operate the SFSP at some of their sites, while other sites may only participate in the SMP. However, sponsors must enter into a separate agreement with the administering agency to operate the SMP at those sites which are not participating in the SFSP.

Summer Schools: If a sponsor wishes to operate the program at a site offering an accredited summer school program, the site must either open its food service to children other than enrollees in the accredited school program or serve meals to children outside of the summer school's hours. If the site serves only children who are enrolled in the accredited summer school program, it must participate in the National School Lunch and/or School Breakfast Programs, rather than the SFSP.

Problem Sites: Sponsors should not select sites where site supervisors have had a poor performance record in past summers and where supervisors were unable to institute corrective action. Depending on the nature of these problems, the administering agency may not approve such sites for the program.
Determining the Number of Children to Serve: When determining the number of children they will serve at their various sites, sponsors should consider three factors: (a) their administrative capabilities, (b) the capacity of each site for serving children, and (c) the number of children living in the area of each site who are likely to participate. We cannot overemphasize the importance of sponsors determining as accurately as possible the number of children each site will serve. They can plan their programs adequately only when they know approximately how many children they will serve (and therefore about how much total reimbursement they will receive). An excellent way for sponsors to make this approximation is by contacting schools and other children's organizations in the areas of their sites. Because the number of children is so difficult to determine, sponsors may want to offer an enrollment-type program, in which the sponsor is certain of the number of children who will be receiving meals.

Preoperational Health and Sanitation Requirements: When sponsors have chosen their prospective sites, they must:

- Notify the health department of all prospective site locations and ask the department to inspect them to ensure that they meet local standards.
- Alert the sanitation department to ensure prompt and regular trash removal.

Sponsor/Site Agreements: Sponsors that plan to administer a multi-site operation with sites that are not under their direct administrative control should enter into an agreement with the site supervisor or responsible site official. Such an agreement should list, in specific terms, the responsibilities of the site supervisor for the food service program, which will make it easier for the site supervisor to understand his or her duties. The agreement, however, does not relieve the sponsor's final administrative and financial responsibility for operating the SFSP at the site. A sample Sponsor/Site Agreement form is on page 65 of this handbook. Such agreements do not apply to Federal, State, local, municipal, or county government sponsors or private nonprofit organizations which must directly operate the program at all sites under their sponsorship.

Approved Level of Meal Service: During the application approval process, the administering agency will approve sponsors that purchase meals from a food service management company to serve a maximum number of meals at each meal service for each site. The approved level represents the maximum number of meals sponsors can serve and claim for reimbursement at each meal service at their vended sites. If a sponsor finds that the approved level is too low, the sponsor may seek an adjustment by requesting the administering agency to conduct a site review; or the sponsor may document in writing (to the administering agency) that attendance at a site exceeds the approved level. The administering agency may reduce the approved level at any time if it determines that a site's attendance is greatly below its approved level.

Sponsors must plan for and adjust meal orders with the objective of serving only one meal to each child at each meal service. A vended sponsor must inform its food service management company of: (1) the approved level for each meal service at each site where the food service management company will deliver meals; and (2) any adjustments in the approved level for its sites.
Such sponsors must advise the food service management company that the approved level for each site is the maximum number of meals that can be served at that site. This does not mean that such sites will serve that specific number of meals each day. The sponsor must clearly inform its food service management company that it will only be ordering the number of meals actually needed, based on participation trends and with the intent of serving only one meal to each child at each meal service. During reviews, administering agencies will disallow all served meals that exceed the approved level for each site.

Operating Limitations: Sponsors should remember that there are limits on the size of a program. (1) All sponsors except private nonprofit organizations may be approved for a maximum of 200 sites and a total average daily attendance at all sites of 50,000 children. If such a sponsor needs to exceed these levels, the administering agency must determine that sponsor has the capability and facilities for managing a larger operation before waiving these limits. (2) Private nonprofit organizations may be approved to operate no more than 5 urban sites, or 20 rural sites, or 20 total sites of which no more than 5 may be urban; and to serve no more than 2,500 children per day, with a maximum of 300 children at any one site. While the limitations on the number of sites and the total number of children served each day by private nonprofit organizations may not be waived, the administering agency can approve a waiver of the 300-child limit, up to a maximum of 500 children, at any meal service at any one site.

Sponsor Selection Priorities: Confusion and waste result when two or more sponsors compete for the same sites or for serving children in the same geographical area. Since such an overlap in service conflicts with program objectives, the administering agencies usually approve only one sponsor to serve a target population. When determining which of the competing sponsors will serve a target population, the administering agency will give priority (in descending order) to:

1. Public or nonprofit private schools and other applicant sponsors that successfully operated SFSP in a prior year.
2. Sponsors that propose to prepare meals at their own facilities or sponsors that will operate only one site.
3. Sponsors that propose to use local school food facilities for preparing meals.
4. Other sponsors that have successfully operated a program.
5. Sponsors that plan to integrate the program with Federal, State, or local employment or training programs.
6. Private nonprofit organizations.
STAFFING:

The size and type of a sponsor's program will dictate many of the sponsor's staffing needs. Depending on a sponsor's program, many positions will require only part-time employment, particularly in the planning and closeout phases. The need for recordkeeping personnel varies according to the extent of support services provided to the program and the volume of records that must be maintained. To meet program monitoring requirements, the USDA recommends one monitor for every 15 to 20 sites in urban areas. The number of monitors necessary for rural sites may increase depending upon the geographic area to be covered. Varying opening and closing dates of individual site operations affect staffing needs. In every case, however, the sponsor must provide adequate personnel for overall program management and monitoring.

Staff Duties: For guidance, refer to the list of responsibilities by position that follows. (Small programs will not need a different person for each of the duties described.) Sponsors needing more specific staffing guidance should consult their administering agency.

Director

Responsible for:

- Providing overall management
- Supervising the program
- Selecting sites
- Submitting applications
- Corresponding with administering agency
- Coordinating with other agencies
- Conducting outreach efforts
- Hiring, training, and supervising staff
- Arranging for food preparation or delivery
- Ensuring that all monitoring requirements are met
- Adjusting meal orders
- Submitting reimbursement vouchers
- Ensuring Civil Rights compliance
- Handling all contracts, bidding, and negotiations with food service management companies

Assistant Director (large program only)

Responsible for:

- Providing initial and ongoing training for sponsor and site personnel
- Designing forms for recordkeeping purposes
- Maintaining liaison with vendor to adjust meal delivery
- Checking reimbursement vouchers
- Maintaining time and attendance records of staff
- Maintaining records on number of meals served
Area Supervisor (very large program only) - This person is in charge of several monitors and reports site problems to the director or assistant director.

Responsible for:

- Scheduling monitors' visits
- Checking monitors' reports
- Preparing weekly summaries of monitoring efforts
- Providing ongoing training for monitors
- Visiting sites with monitors
- Determining need for and following through on corrective action

Bookkeeper

Responsible for:

- Maintaining records on the following:
  - Daily site reports, invoices, and bills
  - Food costs
  - Labor costs
  - Administrative costs
  - Other costs
  - Program income
- Preparing reimbursement vouchers
- Preparing payroll
- Purchasing office supplies

Monitor (At a minimum, one monitor is needed for every 15 to 20 sites.) - The monitor visits sites on a regular basis and observes meal service operations. (See the MONITORING section on page 32 of this handbook for more details.)

Responsible for:

- Checking onsite operations to ensure that site personnel maintain records and that the program operates in accordance with the requirements
- Visiting all sites within the first week of food service operations
- Reviewing food service operations of all sites within the first 4 weeks of operation
- Preparing reports of visits and reviews
- Revisiting sites as necessary
- Suggesting corrective actions for problems encountered
- Ensuring that the site takes corrective actions
- Conducting onsite training as necessary
Site Supervisor - The site supervisor is in charge of the program at the site level.

Responsible for:

- Serving meals
- Cleaning up after meals
- Ensuring safe and sanitary conditions at the site
- Receiving and accounting for delivered meals
- Ensuring that children eat all meals onsite
- Ensuring that only eligible children receive meals
- Planning and organizing daily site activities
- Making meal arrangements during bad weather

Sponsor Management Plan: When applying for the program, sponsors must submit a management plan that includes detailed information on the program's staffing pattern. Along with other information, sponsors will indicate the number of people who will be working in each position, the number of hours per day each will work, and the total estimate for employee salaries, including hourly wages and fringe benefits.

Communications: To ensure efficient administration, internal and external channels of communication must be established. Internally, discussing job descriptions and explaining the organizational structure enables staff members to understand their own responsibilities as well as those of their coworkers.

A communications network must also include the administering agency, the food service management company, the supervisors of the in-office staff members, monitors, and site personnel. At a minimum, the sponsor and site personnel must maintain daily telephone contact to allow them to promptly report changes in the number of meals ordered, any problems with meals, and requests for menu changes.

APPLICATIONS

Scope: Potential sponsors must submit an application to the administering agency before the agency's deadline date. Applicants should be certain that they have filled out the application completely and that they have forwarded all of the necessary supporting documentation to the administering agency. Incomplete applications will cause a delay in approval for the sponsor.

Application Requirements: A list of application requirements cannot be all-inclusive, since variations occur with each administering agency and with the nature of different food services. However, the following list indicates the basic application requirements that sponsors must satisfy. In their applications, sponsors must:

- Submit documentation that they have tax-exempt status under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 if they are private nonprofit entities. The evidence of tax-exempt status under any State laws does not meet this requirement.
- Demonstrate adequate administrative and financial responsibility to manage an effective food service.
Provide information for each proposed site. This information includes documentation of eligibility and meal service capabilities for each site, or, if the sponsor qualifies as a camp, documentation of the number of children enrolled in its program who are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals. (The type of documentation that is necessary for a site to be approved is discussed in the Determination of Need section on page 4 of this handbook.) This documentation must be provided for each new site and for each session at each camp. Sponsors that serve the same noncamp or nonenrollment sites in consecutive years may use documentation from the previous year to support the eligibility for their sites. Sponsors must also certify that they visited all sites before program operations began.

Sign a program agreement with the administering agency.

Distribute to local newspaper(s) or other media a news release on nondiscrimination policy, availability of the program, and income eligibility guidelines.

Submit a complete management plan that includes staffing needs and an administrative budget. Sponsors should complete their budgets after estimating the amount of program payments they will receive during the summer. (See the Program Payments section for more information on how to make this estimate.)

Apply for advance payments, if the sponsor wants to receive them. These payments are also explained in the Program Payments section on page 35 of this handbook.

Certify that a training program will be conducted for sponsor and site personnel. In their applications sponsors will inform the administering agency of when they will be training their personnel and the topics that will be discussed during training. The Training section on page 26 contains an in-depth explanation of this training requirement.

Provide a synopsis of the invitation for bid (if sponsors plan to obtain meals through a food service management company) or the proposed agreement (if they plan to obtain meals through a school food service authority). Sponsors should also submit plans for advertisement, if they are hoping to contract with a food service management company. (These requirements are discussed in greater depth in the Food Service Management Companies section of this handbook.)

Apply for startup payments if they are available and if the sponsor wants to receive them. Startup payments are described in the Program Payments section of this handbook.

Certify that they will directly operate the food service at each of their sites if a Federal, State, local, or county governmental unit or a private nonprofit organization is the sponsor.

Your administering agency will provide you with information on audits.
Within 2 weeks after receiving approval for participation, but before program operations begin, sponsors must give the administering agency a copy of their letter notifying the health department of their intention to provide a food service at planned sites.

During the approval procedure, the administering agency will communicate with the sponsor representative in writing and by phone. The administering agency must approve or deny any complete and correct application within 30 days after receiving the application. Sponsors may not apply for the program after the administering agency's deadline date.

At the time it approves sponsors for the program, the administering agency will complete and sign a program agreement with each sponsor. The agreement should be read carefully before being signed, since it is a legally binding document that specifies the rights and responsibilities of both the sponsor and administering agency. When they receive the complete agreement back from the administering agency, sponsors should be certain to check the following items:

The approved administrative budget: This budget will include the levels of potential administrative costs approved by the administering agency and will be based on the budget submitted by the sponsor. (The approved budget does not imply in any way that sponsors will be reimbursed for the full amount of each budgeted item, but rather specifies the areas of administrative costs that will be allowable and gives reasonable levels for those costs.) If a sponsor finds that the levels approved in the administrative budget are inadequate, it may amend the budget with the approval of the administering agency.

The approved list of sites: The agreement will include a list of approved sponsor sites. Only meals served at these sites will be eligible for program reimbursement.

The approved meal service(s) at each site: The agreement will specify the type(s) of meals approved for each site. Sponsors will not receive any reimbursement for the service of any meal type that is not approved by the administering agency.

The approved level(s) of meal service for each site serving vended meals: The agreement will include an approved level of meal service for each type authorized for each vended site. (This approved level is discussed in the Sites section of this handbook.) Those meals served that exceed the approved level at any meal service will not be eligible for reimbursement. If a sponsor determines that an approved level is too low, the sponsor may seek an adjustment by requesting a site review or by documenting to the administering agency that its attendance at a site exceeds the approved level.

Most importantly, sponsors will be able to receive reimbursement only for meals that are served after they have been approved for program operations. Sponsors must be certain that they have received approval before they begin their meal service. Sponsors will not receive reimbursement for meals served before they receive approval to operate the program.
Review of Denial: Any sponsor that is denied participation in the program may obtain a review by an official other than the one directly responsible for the original determination. This procedure is fully outlined in the program regulations. At the time of the denial, the administering agency must tell the sponsor whom to contact for a review.

Additional Actions Subject to Appeal: A sponsor may also request a review of the following administering agency actions:

- Denial of sponsor's request for an advance payment
- Denial of a sponsor's claim for reimbursement (Except on decisions made by FNS with respect to late claims or upward adjustments.)
- Termination of a sponsor's (or a site's) participation in the program
- Denial of a sponsor's site application
- Claim against a sponsor for remittance of a payment
- Refusal by State agency to forward to FNS an exception request by the sponsor for payment of a late claim or a request for an upward adjustment to a claim

Procurement: All procurements of food, supplies, goods, and other services with program funds by sponsors must comply with procurement standards prescribed in subpart S of USDA's Uniform Federal Assistance Regulations (7 CFR Part 3015). The administering agency will make a copy of subpart S available to sponsors upon request, and can provide more detailed information about these minimum purchasing requirements. In addition to complying with the minimum Federal standards, sponsor purchases may have to meet other State-level, local, and/or administering agency standards, as well as special procurement requirements which may be established by the State agency, with approval of FNS, to prevent fraud, waste, and program abuse.

Minority Business Enterprise: All sponsors are encouraged to procure their food, supplies, goods, and services from minority business enterprises. Sponsors may wish to divide their total procurement needs into smaller quantities to facilitate participation by minority business enterprises. They may also want to establish delivery schedules that will help minority business enterprises meet deadlines. Sponsors can use the services and assistance of the Small Business Administration and the Office of Minority Business Enterprise of the Department of Commerce.
PLANNING CHECKLIST

The following checklist summarizes planning activities described throughout the PLANNING A PROGRAM section of this handbook.

Date Completed

1. [ ] Meet with community leaders, if possible, for assistance in determining suitable site locations.

2. [ ] Survey community for areas of need; begin choosing possible sites and compiling written documentation of need for each.

3. [ ] Contact local schools concerning the possibility of vending meals for the program, if meals will not be prepared by the sponsor.

4. [ ] Contact recreation departments, schools, and local service organizations to coordinate recreation activities with food service at sites.

5. [ ] Contact reliable former site supervisors to determine if they have a continued interest in the program.

6. [ ] Attend training workshops offered by administering agency personnel.

7. [ ] Hire secretarial staff to assist the program director.

8. [ ] Develop specifications for the invitation to bid (if applicable).

9. [ ] Publicly advertise the bid, at least 14 days before bid openings (if applicable).

10. [ ] Estimate program reimbursement and develop budget and staffing plans for the program.

11. [ ] Solicit volunteer help at sites whenever possible.

12. [ ] Hire an assistant program director, if necessary.

13. [ ] Design forms or use the sample forms in this handbook for all aspects of program operations.

14. [ ] Set up a filing system for those documents that must be maintained for at least 3 years.

15. [ ] For camps, obtain data for each child to document eligibility for free and reduced-price school meals. This also applies to sites where eligibility is based on the enrollment group served.
16. Notify the health department of your intention to operate a food service program, giving a list of sites you plan to serve.

17. Submit to the administering agency a copy of the notification letter to the health department as part of the application for participation.

18. Conduct a preoperational visit to all sites.

19. Submit a complete application with accompanying documents to the administering agency. Include all attachments as requested by the administering agency.

20. Use proper procedures to select a registered vendor (if applicable).

21. Meet the vendor and develop delivery schedules (if applicable).

22. Hire monitors and site supervisors.

23. Hold training workshops for monitors and supervisors.

24. Obtain signatures from site personnel who will be responsible for supervising the site and signing daily records.

25. Announce the availability of the program and the nondiscrimination policy through local media.

26. Finalize monitoring schedules and any emergency procedures.

27. Arrange to have a nondiscrimination poster, either developed by USDA or approved by FNS, for each site.

ADMINISTERING A PROGRAM

TRAINING

Training is one of the sponsor's major administrative responsibilities. A smoothly operating program will require that training be provided by sponsors throughout the summer. A comprehensive training effort, including weekly or biweekly meetings on program requirements, will help to make certain that sponsor and site personnel are performing according to program regulations, that all meals will be eligible for reimbursement, and that accurate and adequate records are available to document the costs and meals claimed. Meetings with site and sponsor personnel will also allow an opportunity to ask questions about and discuss site operations and give sponsors a chance to provide specific training on any problem area for personnel.
Sponsor Requirements: Sponsors must conduct training for both their administrative and site personnel. Because these two groups of personnel have different program responsibilities, most sponsors will want to offer two different sessions so that they can stress each group's specific functions. All personnel should receive a letter or flyer announcing the date, time, location, and importance of attending the training session that has been planned for their particular function. Sponsors should also remind personnel shortly before the date of the session.

Announcing the Session and Documenting Attendance: For each training session that sponsors offer to their administrative and site personnel, sponsors must record the date and attendance. Sponsors record the attendance by having all attendees sign an attendance form for the training session. This list of signatures must then be kept with the sponsor's other program records.

Training for Sponsor Personnel: The training session that sponsors offer to their administrative staff will explain the responsibilities and duties of all sponsor personnel who are helping to administer the summer program at the sponsor level. These personnel include the office staff (assistants, bookkeepers, secretaries, and clerks), area supervisors, and most importantly, monitors.

Outline for Training Sponsor Personnel: The specific training needs of sponsor administrative personnel will vary, so sponsors may need to cover specific areas of the training in greater depth with different employees. However, all sponsor training for administrative personnel should cover the following topics and use the training materials listed in the following sample outline:

Need for Site Training: Regulations state that no food service site may operate until personnel at the site have attended at least one of the sponsor's training sessions. Sponsors should document the attendance at site training sessions, as discussed previously, and schedule additional sessions for those personnel who are absent. Regulations also require that at least one person who has been trained by the sponsor be present at each of the sponsor's sites during the time of the meal service. This means that if a site supervisor who has attended the sponsor's training session resigns during the summer, the sponsor is responsible for ensuring that the new site supervisor receives all necessary training.

Records of Signatures: The training session for site personnel is also a good time for sponsors to assemble a list of the signatures of the site supervisors and assistants who are responsible for signing daily records. Sponsors should then keep this list at their office to use when reviewing the records returned by the sites.

Monitors and Site Training: In addition to site personnel, sponsors should be sure that monitors attend the site training session. Monitors will be acting as liaison between the sponsor-office level and the site-operations level. The site training session will provide an excellent opportunity for monitors and site supervisors to meet each other and understand their responsibilities in relation to each other. Sponsors should also send a notice of the site training to local health inspectors so that they have an opportunity to attend the training and become more familiar with the food service operations. If any site receives meals through a food service management company or school food service authority, then the sponsor should invite the company or school representatives to attend the training and participate in the discussion of menus and delivery schedules.
Outline for Site Personnel Training: At a minimum, sponsors should be certain that they cover the following topics in the training session for site personnel:

Additional Monitor Training: As mentioned, monitors should be present at both the site and administrative training meetings to ensure a good grasp of program operations at both levels. Since the role of sponsor’s monitors is so important for proper program operations and full reimbursement, sponsors should conduct a separate training session for monitors that highlights their specific functions. This should include:
1. Outline the specific duties of monitors

   a. Sites for which they will be responsible
   b. Monitoring schedules
   c. Reporting procedures
   d. Followup procedures
   e. Office procedures
   f. Local sanitation and health laws

   Monitor's Handbook (FNS-179)
   Beneficiary data form

Sponsors must keep records that document: (1) the date(s) of training of site and administrative personnel, (2) the attendance at each training session, and (3) the topics covered at each training session. Sponsors that have requested advance payments for operating costs must send certification to the administering agency that they have completed training for site and administrative personnel. Without this certification, the administering agency will not release the second advance payment for operating costs to the sponsor.

CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE

Persons responsible for reviewing nondiscrimination compliance must receive training to help them perform their reviews. This training should be carried out as part of ongoing technical assistance.

All participating sponsors must inform potential beneficiaries, particularly minorities, of the availability of the SFSP. In addition, all sponsors and their sites are required to:

(1) Display in a prominent place the nondiscrimination poster developed by USDA or approved by FNS;

(2) Be able to provide information in the appropriate translation concerning the availability and nutritional benefits of the program, as necessary;

(3) Make program information available to the public upon request;

(4) Include the nondiscrimination statement, and instructions for filing a complaint, in any program information directed to parents of beneficiaries and potential beneficiaries;
(5) Make sure that meals are served to all attending children, regardless of their race color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap; and

(6) Make sure that all children have equal access to services and facilities at the site regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age or handicap.

Each year, every sponsor must determine the number of potential eligible beneficiaries by racial/ethnic category for the area served. Data concerning the number of potential eligible beneficiaries, along with identification of all sources of the information, must be updated annually and maintained on file for 3 years. This information may be obtained from census data or public school enrollment data.

Each year, the sponsor must collect beneficiary data by racial/ethnic category for each site under the sponsor’s jurisdiction. Sponsors of residential camps must collect and maintain this information separately for each session of the camp. For all other sites, the sponsor must count the participating children at least once during the site’s operation. The sponsor may use visual identification to determine a beneficiary’s racial/ethnic category, or the parents of a beneficiary may be asked to identify the racial/ethnic group of their child.

For collection purposes, a beneficiary may be included in the group to which he or she appears to belong, identifies with, or is regarded as a member of by the community. Parents of beneficiaries may be asked to identify the racial/ethnic group of their child only after it has been explained to them, and they understand, that this information is collected strictly for statistical reporting requirements and has no effect on the determination of their eligibility to receive benefits under the program.

The sponsor must retain data, as well as documentation for the data, for the required 3 years. The sponsor must use safeguards to prevent the data from being used for discriminatory purposes. Such safeguards include allowing access to program records containing this data only to authorized personnel. There is a sample beneficiary data form in the back of this handbook; however, you may provide a different form for collecting this information.

MONITORING

An efficient and capable monitoring staff is essential for any sponsor’s program to be successful. A monitor serves as a direct link between the sponsor headquarters and the actual food service sites. Establishing a workable monitoring system will help to prevent problems from occurring and will make it much easier to correct any problems that do arise during the summer. The size of the monitoring staff will, of course, depend on the size of the sponsor’s program. This is discussed in the Staffing section of this handbook.

Training: Training is certainly vital if a monitor is to be effective. The sponsor must provide monitors with thorough training, because only those monitors knowledgeable in program requirements and duties will be able to provide the kinds of feedback that a sponsor must have. The sponsor must ensure that the authority and responsibilities of its monitors are clear to the monitoring staff, site supervisors, and office personnel. Monitors must ensure that the site serves only nutritious meals and operates the program according to program guidelines.
Monitors must understand program requirements, and civil rights requirements, train site personnel when necessary, and spend enough time at each site to be sure of proper program operations. The monitor should also have all necessary forms.

Visits and Reviews: When monitors observe the summer program operations at sites, they will usually make either a "visit" or a "review." A site "visit" requires a monitor to ensure that the food service is operating smoothly and that any apparent problems are immediately resolved. A site "review" requires the monitor to determine if the site is meeting all the various program requirements. To accomplish this, a monitor will have to observe delivering or preparing meals, serving meals, eating meals, and cleaning up after meals.

Monitoring Requirements: Sponsors must ensure that they meet minimum monitoring requirements. Regulations require that sponsor representatives visit all sites at least once during the first week of operation and that prompt action be taken to correct any problems found at sites. Sponsor representatives must also review all sites at least once during the first 4 weeks of the program operations. Finally, regulations require that monitoring continue throughout the summer at a level sufficient to ensure that sites comply with program regulations.

Records of Visits: Sponsors must be able to document that they have met these monitoring requirements. For each site visit during the first week of program operations and for site visits throughout the summer, sponsors should receive from monitors a record for visits to all their sites. The records must contain at least:

- The name and address of the site visited
- The date of the site visit
- The times of the monitor's arrival and departure
- A listing of any problems that were noted during the visit, and any corrective actions that were initiated to eliminate the problems
- The site supervisor's signature
- The monitor's signature

Records of Reviews: For each site review during the first 4 weeks of program operations, and for site reviews throughout the summer, sponsors should receive from monitors a review form to be used when reviewing each site. This form is developed by the administering agency and contains the same information listed above for a record of a site visit, but includes additional information. The additional information concerns meal preparation and delivery schedules, the quality of site records and recordkeeping, the regular adjustment of meal orders, and whether changes are made in menus. Sample monitor review forms for self-preparation sites and vended sites are included in the REFERENCES section on pages 64.
Processing Monitor Reports: These records of visits and reviews will help sponsors assess the operation of their sites. The records are only useful, however, when they are carefully reviewed by sponsor personnel and when followup monitoring is scheduled to ensure that the suggested corrective actions have been taken to improve site operations.

Each sponsor must, therefore, design a system for handling the monitor reports. Sponsors should have a system that will ensure that monitors return reports frequently—if possible, every day. Their reports should be immediately reviewed by a specific member of the sponsor’s staff who is responsible for following up on any problems. This staff member should consider any problems found by the reviewer; call the site supervisor, if necessary; schedule a followup review, if necessary; make any comments or notes on the site’s problems; and sign and date the report. The sponsor review official will have to base the timing of a followup review on the severity of the problem.

Sponsors must be sure that they schedule monitor visits and reviews so that they can meet the program requirements. This is particularly true for the sponsors with a large number of sites. A good monitoring schedule and an efficient system for the review and followup on the monitor’s reports are necessary for effective program operations.

Quality of Monitor Reports: When sponsors or their staff review monitor reports, they should also pay attention to the quality of the reports. There are several problems that may be apparent in the report that will indicate either the monitor’s lack of program knowledge or the monitor’s lack of understanding of his or her responsibilities. A monitor is very likely to need additional training if:

- The monitor does not include comments in the remarks section of the reports.
- The number of meals that are delivered or served and the number of children who are in attendance are always the same.
- The monitor recommends a corrective action and fails to note the action taken to correct the problem(s).
- The monitor fails to recommend adjustments in meal orders when the number of meals exceeds attendance.

Preoperational Visits: The monitors should begin work several days before sites open. If the sponsors wish, monitors may complete the required preoperational visits. These preoperational visits must not be confused with required site visits during the first week of program operations.

PROGRAM PAYMENTS

This section discusses the methods and procedures for program payments. These payments are the reimbursement that sponsors receive based on the number of meals they serve that meet SFSP requirements for reimbursement. Sponsors may receive reimbursement for the eligible administrative and operating costs they incur.
Advance Payments: When they apply for the program, sponsors may request advance payments for their total program costs, for their operating costs, or for their administrative costs. These payments are advances on the reimbursement that sponsors will receive for a month of operations. The advances should help sponsors maintain a positive cash flow because they will have funds available to meet program costs as they arise throughout the month. A sponsor's final reimbursement will, of course, depend on the number of meals served and the costs of providing them.

Advance Payments for Operating Costs: Sponsors must request each advance payment for operating costs from the administering agency at least 30 days before the payment dates of June 1, July 15, and August 15. If sponsors have participated in last year’s program, the advance payments for operating costs will usually be based on the reimbursement they earned during the same month of the previous year. The administering agency may also estimate advance payments as a percentage of anticipated costs. The administering agency must receive certification that a sponsor has held training sessions on program requirements for site and sponsor personnel before it will release the second month’s operating advance to the sponsor. A sponsor may not receive an advance for operating costs in any month when it will not be operating for at least 10 days.

Advance Payments for Administrative Costs: Sponsors must request each advance payment for administrative costs from the administering agency at least 30 days before the payment dates of June 1 and July 15. Before the second month’s administrative advance, sponsors must certify that they currently operate the number of sites provided for in the administrative budget, and that no significant change has occurred in their administrative costs since approval of the administrative budget. If sponsors operate the program less than 10 days in June but at least 10 days in August, they will be issued the second month’s payment for advance administrative costs on August 15. Sponsors planning to operate the program for less than 10 days cannot receive advance payments for administrative costs.

If the administering agency’s monitoring or audits reveal that a sponsor may not be able to submit an adequate claim, then the administering agency will not send the advance payment for the following month until the sponsor submits a valid claim.

Startup Payments: The administering agency may, at its option, provide the sponsor with a limited amount of startup payments. These startup payments, which are deducted from later administrative reimbursements, are for administrative costs incurred in planning a food service and in establishing effective management procedures for that service. Sponsors may request the startup payments if they are available, when they apply for the program.

Program Reimbursement: Sponsors may elect to claim all or part of their administrative costs and their full operating costs for reimbursement. Any sponsor that receives startup or advance payments for administrative costs must claim administrative costs for reimbursement. Sponsors must maintain complete records to document all costs and meals they claim for reimbursement. The necessary records are discussed starting on page 39 in the Recordkeeping section of this handbook.

Operating Cost Reimbursement: The amount of reimbursement to sponsors for operating costs will, in general, be the lesser of either (1) actual operating costs, or (2) the number of meals by type actually served to eligible children multiplied by the appropriate rates of reimbursement for those meals. The administering agency will be able to tell sponsors the current rates of reimbursement.

Administrative Cost Reimbursement: Payment to sponsors for administrative costs, will in general, be the lesser of (1) actual expenses incurred for administrative costs, or (2) the number of meals by type actually served to eligible children multiplied by the rates for those meals, or (3) the administrative budget that was approved by the administering agency and included in the program agreement, along with any approved amendments to it. The current administrative rates are available from the administering agency.

The summer program has two different levels of administrative reimbursement rates. The higher reimbursement rates are for sponsors of sites that prepare their own meals and sponsors of sites located in rural areas.

Rural Areas: A rural area is any county that is not part of a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area as defined by the Office of Management and Budget. At the approval of the USDA regional office, an area may be defined as rural if it is a part of a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, but is isolated from the urban center. This alternate definition of rural area will only be used in situations where a State recognizes unique problems for the given area. The administering agency will be able to provide information on whether sites are considered rural for program purposes.

Claim for Reimbursement: Sponsors receive their program payments based on claims for reimbursement that they submit to the administering agency. Sponsors assume complete responsibility for all of the information they submit on their claims. There are four major types of data that sponsors must report on their claims:

- Meal Counts: Based on records that are regularly submitted by the sites, sponsors must report the number and type of meals served to all children, the number and type of meals served to eligible children (for sponsors of camps), the number and type of meals served to program adults, and the number and type of meals served to nonprogram adults.

- Operating Costs: Based on their operating cost records, sponsors must report the cost of food used, the cost of labor, and the other costs directly incurred in preparing and serving meals.

- Administrative Costs: Based on their administrative cost records, sponsors must report the costs related to administering the program (if those costs are being claimed).

- Program Income: Based on their records of program income, sponsors must report the amount of money that has accrued to their food service program.

After the reimbursement claim form is completed, the sponsor must then sign the form and send it to the administering agency as soon as possible within the next month following the month covered by the claim. No claims will be paid if they are not submitted within 60 days of the last day of the month covered by the claim. Your state administering agency may impose a different deadline for submission of your claim within the 60-day requirement.

Camp Reimbursement: The specific reimbursement requirements for sponsors of camps are discussed in the Camps section of this handbook.

Unallowable Meals: Sponsors may only claim for reimbursement those meals that meet SFSP requirements. Reimbursement may not be claimed for:

- Meals served to adults
- Meals that do not meet meal requirements
- Meals not served as a complete unit
- Meal patterns or types not approved by administering agencies
- Meals served at sites not approved by administering agencies
- Meals consumed offsite
- Meals served outside of approved timeframes or approved dates of operation
- Meals served to ineligible children in camps (those not meeting the family size and income guidelines for free or reduced-price school meals)
- Meals in excess of the site's approved level of meal service
- Unserved meals

Program Costs: Sponsors may only claim for reimbursement those costs that are directly related to program operation and administration. These allowable costs are discussed in the Recordkeeping section of this handbook.

Unallowable Costs: Sponsors may not include the following costs under any cost category on their claim for reimbursement:

- Costs of purchasing land, acquiring or constructing buildings, or making alterations to existing buildings
- Costs of purchasing nonexpendable equipment, whether food service, office, automotive, or any other kind of equipment. (This category includes costs of equipment repairs that materially increase the value or useful life of the equipment.)
- Use allowance for buildings and use allowance for equipment that is not specifically permitted in the sponsor's written agreement with the State agency. Use allowances cannot apply to any equipment purchased with Federal assistance. Use allowance do not apply to idle equipment.
Fees (when such fees are credited to the final purchase price of equipment or space) that result from written or verbal contractual arrangements for rental-purchase or lease of equipment or space with an option to purchase. These include rental fees sponsors claim for equipment they (or one of their subsidiaries) own and other rentals that are not specified in the budget or written agreement.

Value of donated food, cash, labor, space, and land used. (A use allowance can be authorized on donated equipment that is not expendable.)

Administrative cost items not included in the approved sponsor budget or in amendments subsequently submitted and approved.

Interest or other financial costs.

Costs or proration of costs that result from the sponsor's maintenance of a legal staff.

Legal expenses for prosecution of claims or other legal actions against the Federal government or administering agency.

Fines and penalties or bad debts.

Estimating Reimbursement: Claims for reimbursement must only reflect meals actually served to eligible children during the claiming period and the costs that are associated with those meals. The following steps illustrate how the sponsor can estimate the amount of reimbursement to be received. In making these calculations, remember that you may only claim reimbursement for a number of second meals which does not exceed 2 percent of the number of first meals served to children for each meal type:

1. Potential reimbursement for operating costs: Multiply the number of meals, by type, served to eligible children by the applicable reimbursement rates. (The administering agency can supply you with the current rates.) Add these figures for each meal type and compare this sum to the actual expenditures for operating costs incurred for serving meals to eligible children. The lesser amount is the sponsor's potential operating cost reimbursement.

2. Potential reimbursement for administrative costs: Multiply the number of meals, by type, served to eligible children by the applicable administrative reimbursement rates. (The administering agency can supply you with the rates.) Add these figures for each meal type and compare this sum to the actual expenditures for administrative costs incurred for serving meals to eligible children and the administrative budget and the approved amendments. The least of these amounts is the potential reimbursement to the sponsor for the administrative costs.

In order to determine the final total reimbursement, a sponsor must subtract the amount of income accruing to the program from the sponsor's total actual program costs. A sponsor then compares this net program cost to the sum of the potential reimbursements for operating and administrative costs discussed in (1) and (2) above. The lesser of these two amounts is a sponsor’s final potential reimbursement. This amount will be reduced by any startup or advance payments the sponsor received. The REFERENCES section includes a worksheet that will help sponsors estimate the amount of reimbursement they can anticipate.

RECORDKEEPING

Need for Records: Sponsors must keep full and accurate records so they can substantiate the allowable administrative and operating costs and the number of program meals that they have submitted on each claim for reimbursement. Sponsors must maintain all of these records for 3 years after the end of the fiscal year in which the program operated. These records must be accessible to Federal and administering agency personnel for audit and review purposes.

To justify claims for reimbursement, sponsors must maintain the following records:

I. Records of meal counts taken daily at each site
II. Records of claimed operating costs, including food, and other costs
III. Records of claimed administrative costs, including labor and supplies
IV. Records of program income

I. Records of Meal Counts

Site Records: All sponsors will use daily site records in order to document the number of program meals they have served to children. The sponsor must provide all necessary record sheets to the sites. Site personnel are then responsible for keeping the records each day. The site personnel must complete the records based on actual counts taken at each site for each meal service on each day of operation. Site personnel must be sure that they record all required counts. These counts should include:

- The number of meals delivered or prepared, by type (breakfast, snack, lunch, supper). Vended programs must support this information with a signed delivery receipt. A designee of the sponsor must verify the adequacy and number of meals delivered by checking the meals when they are delivered to the site.
- The number of children in attendance.
- The number of complete meals served as firsts to children, by type.
- The number of second meals served to children. Sponsors must plan, prepare, or order meals on the basis of participation trends. Sponsors must plan to provide only one meal per child at each meal service. In recognition of the changes in participation levels, a second meal that is served as a unit to the same child can be claimed for reimbursement, as long as the total number of second meals claimed does not exceed 2 percent of the number of first meals served during the claiming period. Administering agencies can provide further guidance on seconds and on those situations where excessive seconds will not be reimbursed.

- The total number of meals served as firsts and seconds to children.
- Meal count records should distinguish between reimbursable and nonreimbursable meals.
- The number of meals served to program adults, if any.
- The number of meals served to nonprogram adults, if any.

Collecting Records: Sponsors should collect these site records at least every week. Sponsors may have their monitors pick up site reports on designated days, or sponsors may ask site supervisors to mail the records to the sponsor’s office. When deciding how they will collect site records, sponsors must try to minimize the chances of losing the records. When they collect the site records, sponsors must be certain to check for the site supervisor’s signature. Any sponsor serving vended meals must be sure that the figure entered as the number of meals delivered on the site record is the same as that entered on the vendor’s report. If there is any discrepancy between the numbers, the sponsor should immediately contact the vendor and site supervisor and resolve the problem. The sponsor should make a permanent note of the discrepancy as well as the action that was taken to resolve it.

II. Records of Operating Costs

Allowable Operating Costs: Operating costs are allowable costs incurred by the sponsor for preparing and serving meals to eligible children and program adults. These costs include, but are not limited to, cost of food used, labor, nonfood supplies, and space for the food service. Rural sites may include costs that are directly incurred in transporting children from rural homes to rural food service sites. Sponsors will be reimbursed for operating costs the lesser of (1) allowable meals times the reimbursement rates or (2) allowable operating costs. In no case may the cost of meals in excess of a site’s approved level of meal service be considered allowable or be reported as an operating cost.

Records for Costs of Food: The data that are necessary for computing the cost of food used are more extensive when sites prepare their own meals. Records to support the cost of food used should include, at a minimum:

- Receiving reports
- Purchasing invoices
- Records of any returns, discounts, or other credits not reflected on purchase invoices
Inventory records that show the kinds of food items on hand at the beginning and end of the inventory period, the quantity of each item, documented major inventory adjustments, and the total value of the inventory.

Cancelled checks or other forms of receipt for payment.

Cost of food used means, in its simplest form, beginning inventory plus purchases plus other costs of food minus credits to costs of food minus inventory adjustments minus ending inventory. Sponsors must record the dollar value of food (ending inventory) that is unused at the close of program operations. Sponsors must subtract this ending inventory from all food costs incurred as a result of program operations.

Food costs cover the cost of purchases and the costs of processing, transporting, storing, and handling food that is donated (including USDA commodities) or purchased by the sponsor. Sponsors must make adjustments when major reductions of food in stock are the result of fire, theft, spoilage, contamination, or any event other than normal usage.

Inventory Form: The REFERENCES section provides a sample inventory form for sponsors that prepare meals onsite. Site personnel should use a form similar to this to list all food items on hand. Site personnel should use invoices to determine the unit cost per item. After taking a physical count of each item on hand, site personnel should multiply this number by the unit cost to get the total inventory value for each item. Adding the total inventory values for all items will then provide the sponsor with the value of the beginning or ending inventory.

Food Costs in Vended Programs: The cost of food used means the cost of the preparation and/or delivery of meals charged to the sponsor by the food service management company or the school facility. This may not include charges for meals delivered to nonapproved sites, meals not delivered within the established delivery time, meals that are spoiled or unwholesome, or meals that do not meet the requirements or terms of the contract. The sponsor should not pay the food service management company for these meals. The sponsor must maintain records that include the signed delivery slips to support its claim for reimbursement. Designees of the sponsor at each site should check the adequacy of the delivery and meals before signing the delivery slip.

Labor Costs: Labor costs include compensation by sponsor for labor that is required to prepare and serve meals and to supervise children during the meal service. These costs may include wages, salaries, employee benefits, and the share of taxes paid by the sponsor. Sponsors must keep accurate time and attendance records for all labor costs that are submitted on the claim for reimbursement.

Other Operating Costs: Other operating costs may include, but are not limited to, (a) costs of nonfood supplies; (b) rental costs for buildings, food service equipment, and vehicles; (c) utility costs; and (d) mileage allowances. If sponsors feel that they may have "other" costs that are not listed, they may contact the administering agency for further information. Sponsors must keep all necessary records and documentation to support any costs that they may claim for reimbursement.
III. Records of Administrative Costs: Administrative costs are costs incurred by the sponsor for activities related to planning, organizing, and administering the program. Generally, these activities are:

1. Preparing and submitting an application for participation, including a management plan containing budgets of operating and administrative costs, and staffing and monitoring plans.

2. Establishing the eligibility of children for free or reduced-price school meals for each session. This applies only to camps and enrolled sites where eligibility has been determined by household size and income levels, or by food stamp or AFDC case numbers.

3. Attending training provided by the administering agency.

4. Hiring and training site and administrative personnel.

5. Visiting sites, reviewing and monitoring operations at sites, and documenting these visits and reviews.

6. Preparing and submitting a plan for and synopsis of the invitation to bid when the sponsor wants to contract with a food service management company.

7. Preparing and submitting claims for reimbursement.

8. Performing other activities that are necessary for planning, organizing, and managing the program.

Generally, costs incurred for these activities are:

(a) Labor costs for administrative activities

(b) Rental costs for offices, office equipment, and vehicles

(c) Vehicle allowance and parking expenses

(d) Office supplies

(e) Communications

(f) Insurance and indemnification

(g) Audits

(h) Travel
Sponsors must be certain that they have records that document the amount and the purpose of all administrative costs they claim. The REFERENCES section includes a worksheet for determining administrative costs as well as a simple administrative mileage record form.

IV. Records of Program Income: Incoming accruing to the food service program includes all funds received from State, local, and other sources, except for program advances or reimbursement. These funds must be designated specifically for the food service program. Records reflecting income may include deposit records, voucher stubs, or receipts. Sources of funds that are earmarked for food service and counted as income include: income for food sales to adults; cash donations or grants from philanthropic organizations or individuals; and monies received from State, intermediate, or local governments.

Checklist of Required Records: There are a number of additional records sponsors must maintain in their files. These records and the records discussed in this section are summarized in the following checklist of required records:

1. Records that document eligibility for the summer program:
   - Approved Agreement
   - Application
   - Site Information Sheet for each site
   - Evidence to show eligibility for each site based on serving needy children (or in the case of camps, evidence to show that children are individually documented as being eligible for free or reduced-price school meals)
   - Public release
   - Letter from IRS showing tax-exempt status (for private sponsors)
   - Preapproval site forms
   - Management Plan
   - Sponsor/site agreements
   - Certification of training
   - Letter of engagement of CPA firm or independent accountant, or State or local government accountant and management letter (if applicable).

2. Records that support the number of meals served to children:
   - Daily count of meals prepared or received at sites
   - Daily count of meals served to children as firsts
   - Daily count of meals served to children as seconds
   - Daily count of meals served to program and nonprogram adults
   - Daily count of children in attendance at each site

3. Records that support food service costs:
   - Food inventories
   - Delivery receipts for vended meals
   - Payroll and time-and-attendance records for site personnel
4. Records that support administrative costs:

   - Payroll and time-and-attendance records for administrative personnel
   - Rental agreements for office equipment or space
   - Mileage records

5. Records to support income to the program:

   - Site records of cash collected
   - Copies of receipts given for cash donations
   - Records of any other funds received for the food service program

6. Other required records:

   - Agreement with schools to furnish meals
   - Contract with registered vendor
   - Bid procedures used
   - Records and inventories of USDA-donated foods
   - Monitor's reports of site visits and reviews
   - Records of training conducted
   - Menu records
   - Quantity production records for each meal (for self-preparation sites)
   - Receipts, invoices, and bills for all rented or purchased items and services
   - Bank statements and deposit slips
   - Accounting ledgers
   - Sanitation and health reports
   - Certification and Independent Price Determination
   - Beneficiary Data Form

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEWS

Purpose of Administrative Reviews: During the course of the summer, administering agencies will complete an administrative review of most sponsors' program operations. This administrative review will involve visits by administering agency personnel to the sponsor's site(s) and office. The reviews are designed to ensure that a sponsor's overall program is operating according to requirements and to provide assistance and advice to a sponsor if there are questions about program operations.

Review Procedures: An administering agency review of site operations will usually involve observing the meal service operations and the recordkeeping at the site. A review of the sponsor level will usually involve a review of how the claim for reimbursement is assembled and a review of the records maintained by the sponsor. Regardless of the specific administrative review procedures, all sponsors must make their records available for the administering agency's review and must proceed with the corrective actions recommended by the administering agency, if there are any. The results of an administrative review may affect the amount of reimbursement a sponsor will receive.
Corrective Action Plan: When the administering agency finds violations during the conduct of a site review, it will require the sponsor to correct problems found. If the administering agency finds a high level of meal service violations at a site, it will immediately require the sponsor to follow a specific corrective action plan. The administering agency will initiate a followup system to ensure that sponsors take the specific action (as outlined in the plan) for correcting site violations.

Statistical Monitoring: The administering agency may elect to use statistical monitoring procedures when it conducts administrative reviews of sponsors. The administering agency may use the results of statistical monitoring to determine the sponsor's reimbursement. The administering agency will inform the sponsor if it plans to use statistical monitoring and will provide the sponsor with the necessary information on its procedures for conducting statistical monitoring. The administering agency has additional information on statistical monitoring.

VIOLATIONS

Violations of program requirements may result in withholding or recovering reimbursement, temporary suspension, or termination and exclusion from future program participation.

Such violations include but are not limited to:

- Noncompliance with the time requirements between meals
- Failure to maintain adequate site or sponsor records.
- Failure to adjust meal orders to conform with changes in site attendance
- Serving more than one meal to a child at one time
- Children eating meals offsite
- Claiming program reimbursement for meals served to anyone other than eligible children
- Serving meals that do not include the required quantities of meal components
- Continued use of food service management companies that violate health codes
- Not adhering to competitive bid procedures
- Noncompliance with civil rights laws and regulations
POSTPROGRAM EVALUATION

Upon the completion of the local program, the sponsor should prepare an evaluation. The following format is suggested for these evaluations:

- Sponsor Personnel - Evaluate the size and efficiency of the staff.
- Site Personnel - Evaluate the ability of site personnel to control and supervise the program at the site level.
- Food Preparation - Evaluate the major facets of food preparation as well as the quality and variety of foods offered within meal requirements.
- Organization - Evaluate the administrative structure of the organization.
- State Agency or FNS Regional Office - Evaluate the relationship between the sponsoring agency and the administering agency, noting the adequacy of training efforts and the availability of guidance, information, and assistance.

FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT COMPANIES

Sponsors that decide to contract with a food service management company to obtain meals must meet various program requirements and follow certain procedures. (This is called a vended program.) Food service management companies that enter into a contract with a sponsor to prepare and deliver meals must provide meals that comply with program regulations and their contract with the sponsor. Therefore, both sponsors and food service management companies should be familiar with the information in this section. A successful vended operation depends on both parties fully understanding their mutual responsibilities in the program.

The term "food service management companies" includes commercial companies that prepare meals using school facilities, the sponsor's facilities, and their own facilities. Public schools that use their own facilities to prepare meals are included in this definition. Excluding them would imply that sponsors could not contract with schools to prepare meals.

SELECTING A COMPANY

Selecting a Food Service Management Company: There are several factors that can influence a sponsor to contract for meals with a food service management company. These factors may include limited personnel, a site that is unsuited for meal preparation, or a large number of sites spread over a wide geographical area.

Before inviting food service management companies to bid on a program, sponsors must contact their local school food service authority about the possibility of using school facilities to prepare meals, or of obtaining meals under agreement with a school. Using the facilities of local public or private schools to prepare or obtain meals offers the sponsor several advantages. These schools often prepare large numbers of meals and already have the facilities, staffing, and system for such a service. And many schools are accustomed to preparing meals that meet USDA requirements if they participate in other Child Nutrition Programs.

When exploring a school’s capability for meal service, sponsors must consider whether or not an adequate delivery service to sites can be established and whether the meals prepared by the school are comparable in price and quality to those available from commercial vendors. This delivery service cannot be prohibitive in cost, and it must meet local health and sanitation requirements. Sponsors that can use local school food service facilities must enter into a written agreement with the school. If contracting with a local school is not possible, sponsors may contract with a food service management company to prepare and deliver meals. Sponsors should be aware that these and many other requirements pertaining to food service management companies apply regardless of whether the food service management company is a school or a commercial entity.

Only food service management companies that register with the administering agency may be used. A list of registered companies should be obtained from the administering office as soon as possible. No sponsor may, however, contract out the management responsibilities of the SFSP such as monitoring, enforcing corrective action, or preparing program applications. Sponsors remain legally responsible for seeing that the food service operation meets all requirements specified in the agreement they sign with the administering agency.

INVITATION FOR BID AND CONTRACT

Standard Contract: Administering agencies require all sponsors under their jurisdiction to use a standard contract for meals provided by a food service management company. These standard contracts may vary, according to different State and local requirements. This document, called the Invitation for Bid and Contract, serves a dual purpose. It contains the specific information a bidder needs to make an offer, and it also tells the bidder how to submit the actual bid.

Competitive Bid Waivers: A sponsor that is a school with an exclusive contract with a food service management company for year-round service, or any sponsor that will have total contracts with food service management companies not exceeding $10,000, is not required to comply with the competitive bid procedures listed below. These exceptions do not relieve the sponsor of the responsibility to ensure that normally accepted bidding procedures are followed in contracting with any food service management company. Schools and universities that participate as summer sponsors and have an existing year-round contract with food service management companies to prepare meals do not have to bid competitively. However, if necessary, existing contracts will have to be amended to ensure that they meet the requirements listed in section 225.17 of the SFSP regulations.

BID PROCEDURE

Standard Competitive Bid Procedures: The administering agency must ensure that contracting and bidding meet USDA requirements. The administering agency will provide whatever technical assistance is needed to sponsors to ensure that the bid process runs smoothly.
All sponsors with contracts that will exceed $10,000 must adhere to the competitive bid procedures and procurement standards set by SFSP regulations. The standard bid procedure includes, among other requirements, five steps:

1. Completing the Invitation for Bid package.

2. Publicly announcing all invitations for bid not less that 14 days before bids are opened. Announcements must include the time and place of the bid opening.

3. Notifying the administering agency at least 14 days before the bid opening. The notification must include the time and place of the opening.

4. Publicly opening all bids.

5. Submitting to the administering agency copies of all bids received and their reason for selecting the food service management company chosen.

Once the sponsor has filled in its particular specifications in the standard Invitation for Bid and Contract, the document is referred to as the Invitation for Bid (IFB). The IFB is the most important step in the process. Sponsors must complete the estimated range of servings, decide on an affordable and attractive menu, and complete the site schedule. Sponsors must supply the IFB to all companies responding to the public announcement.

The sponsor’s Invitation for Bid must include:

1. A menu cycle

2. Food specifications and meal quality standards

3. A copy of the program (SFSP) regulations

4. Nonfood items essential for conducting the food service

5. Special meal requirements to meet ethnic or religious needs if these are necessary to meet the needs of the children to be served.

The sponsor’s Invitation for Bid must not:

1. Specify a minimum price

2. Provide for loans or any other monetary benefit, term, or condition to be made to sponsors by food service management companies

3. Include nonfood items (except where such items are essential to the conduct of food service).
The food service management company's bid in response to the IFB must include:

1. A copy of the required health certificate
2. Proof that the company is registered with the State.

If food service management companies submit a bid over $100,000, they must submit a bid bond in an amount determined by the sponsor. The bond should be between 5 percent and 10 percent of the value of the contract for which the bid is made. A copy of the bid bond must accompany each bid. The bond must be from one of the companies listed in Department of Treasury Circular 570, which is available from the Department of Treasury, Fiscal Service, Bureau of Financial Operations, Washington, DC 20226.

It is important that the food service management company respond to the IFB accurately and completely. Food service management companies must bid on all the meals listed in the IFB and must bid on the menu cycles included in the IFB. Food service management companies cannot be candidates for assuming award of the contract unless they respond to every requirement listed in the IFB.

The sponsor must fill in the following information in the IFB so bidders will know exactly what the specifications of the bid include:

Site Information: The sponsor must include a list of proposed site names, addresses, delivery locations, and times. With this information, a bidder can estimate the cost of delivery and the feasibility of meeting the sponsor’s requirements.

Menu Cycle: The sponsor must also attach an 11-day menu cycle that lists the types and amounts of food in each meal. Program regulations specify minimum meal pattern requirements, but sponsors may improve upon these minimums to increase the variety and appeal of menus. Sponsors may request approval from the administering agency for variations from the meal requirements only when necessary to meet ethnic, religious, economic, or nutritional needs.

Meal Requirements: As part of the IFB, the sponsor must provide the food service management company with a copy of the meal requirements outlined in part 225.16 of the SFSP regulations. The sponsor must also provide a copy of the minimum food specifications and model meal quality standards required by part 225.7(c) of SFSP regulations. (Sponsors can get the regulations from the administering agency.) The food service management company must deliver meals that meet these meal requirements and minimum food specifications and model meal quality standards. Under the provisions of the contract between the sponsor and the food service management company, the sponsor is liable only for the delivered meals that meet these requirements and should not pay for ineligible meals. Similarly, the sponsor may receive payments from the administering agency only for meals served that meet these requirements.

An effective quality control system is essential for verifying that meal components meet the minimum quantity requirements. During food preparation, the food service management company should regularly inspect and measure items to ascertain correct sizes and weights. Setting production equipment for the desired specifications is no substitute... for a quality control system, because equipment settings may become distorted during operation. Administering agencies and sponsors are responsible for sampling meals and disallowing payment for meals that fail to meet minimum standards. The entire meal may be disallowed for reimbursement if any component does not meet minimum standards.

Unitized Meals: Sponsors must ensure that food service management companies provide unitized meals with or without milk or juice. This means that meals must be individually portioned, packaged, delivered, and served as a unit. The milk or juice may be packaged and provided separately, but must be served with the meal unit. Other variations of unitized meals can be approved by the administering agency. The specifications must be worded in such detail that all bidders will have an equal chance to compete for the same menus, and they also must indicate under what conditions substitutions may be made by the food service management company if, during the course of the program, certain specified food items become unavailable or become too expensive.

Commodities: Sponsors of vended programs can only receive commodities if the vendor is a school or school district, or the sponsor is a school food authority that competitively procures its SFSP meals from the same food service management company that competitively provided its most recent NSLP meals. However, vended program sponsors located in rural areas may receive additional funds for administrative expenses.

Regulations: The sponsor must attach a copy of the SFSP regulations to the IFB and must agree to operate the program according to the regulations.

Meal Range Adjustments: Actual participation under a given sponsorship frequently may vary from the estimate specified in the IFB. The food service management company bases a bid on the specifications and expects to be serving close to the number of meals listed in the estimate. A sizeable discrepancy between estimated and actual participation can increase or decrease the food service management company's unit production cost. Therefore, the sponsor must estimate a possible range of meals served per day. Food service management companies must submit prices for each range the sponsor lists, remembering that if the sponsor decreases the number of meals served, the cost of the meals may increase. The range is provided to lessen the risk of losses to the food service management companies in these cases. Sponsors may increase or decrease the number of meal orders specified in the IFB only after notifying the food service management company. Increases in maximum meal service levels at sites receiving vended meals must be approved by the administering agency.

Special Accounts: The administering agency may require sponsors to set up special accounts at financial institutions. If such accounts are established, the sponsor must deposit any payments received from the administering agency for operating costs in the special account. Any checks drawn from this account must be authorized by both the food service management company and the sponsor. This is to help ensure that the company receives payment for the eligible meals it provides to the sponsor's program.

Food Service Management Company Bid Requirements: There are several specific requirements food service management companies must meet and several things they must include when submitting a bid. These requirements are:
Health Certification and Inspection: Food service management companies must have State or local health certification for the facility(ies) they use to prepare meals for the SFSP. The companies must ensure that health and sanitation requirements are met at all times. In addition, the companies must ask local health authorities or independent agencies to periodically inspect the meals they serve to determine bacteria levels. These levels must conform to the standards applied to other food service establishments in the area.

Food service management companies should also be aware that the administering agency may send health inspectors to check preparation facilities and meals. This inspection is independent of the one the food service management company provides. The companies must submit health certification as part of the bid.

Records: Food service management companies must maintain records (supported by invoices, receipts, or other evidence) that the sponsor needs to meet program responsibilities. Companies must report to the sponsor at the end of each month, at a minimum. The food service management company must keep the books and records concerning the sponsor's food service operations for 3 years from the day the company receives final payment. Representatives of the administering agency, USDA, and the United States General Accounting Office may examine or audit of these records at a reasonable time and place.

Subcontracts: Food service management companies may not subcontract with another company for the total meal (with or without milk) or for assembling of the meal. The variation between contracted and subcontracted meal prices is an unnecessary expense. Subcontracting means the sponsor does not have a contract with the company that prepares meals and, therefore, cannot directly control the quality and supply of the meals.

Contract Responsibility: It is important for the prospective food service management company to realize that the contract is a private contract between the food service management company and the sponsor. Neither USDA nor the administering agency has any jurisdiction in the payments made to the food service management company. Before contracting to provide meals for the program, the food service management company needs to assess the sponsor's capability to meet the terms of the contract and needs to assess the sponsor's capability to pay them for all meals that are properly delivered. If applicable, the company should become familiar with sponsor's past performance in this or other federally funded programs.

AWARDING THE CONTRACT

Selection Criteria: Sponsors should consider many factors in awarding contracts. Some of these are the integrity of the contractor, the contractor's financial and technical resources, and the contractor's access to other necessary resources. Contracts may be made only with schools or with registered, responsible vendors that possess the potential ability to perform successfully under the contract's specified terms.

Sponsors may also take many other factors into consideration before they award contracts. These include the food service management company's performance in past food assistance operations, cost per delivered meal, ability to meet all the specifications in the IFB, ability to increase or decrease meal deliveries within a reasonable time frame, preparation facility and the proximity to the site(s) being served, use of refrigerated delivery trucks, and ability to meet local health and sanitation requirements. Sponsors are encouraged to use the services of minority-owned companies.

The sponsor should award the contract at least 2 weeks before program operations will begin to allow time for both the food service management company and the sponsor to prepare. The sponsor must give to the administering agency copies of all bids the sponsor received and the reason it chose that particular food service management company.

Accepting Bids: All bids totaling $100,000 or more must be submitted to the administering agency for approval before the sponsor can accept a bid. In addition, any bids (regardless of dollar amount) that exceed the lowest bid must be submitted to the administering agency for approval before acceptance, with an explanation of why that particular bid was chosen. The IFB that the sponsor accepts will become the contract for program operations between the sponsor and the food service management company. The administering agency will keep copies of all contracts between sponsors and food service management companies.

Performance Bond: If a food service management company enters into a food service contract with a sponsor for more than $100,000, a performance bond must be obtained from surety companies (which are listed in the current Department of Treasury Circular 570) in an amount determined by the administering agency. This amount must be no less than 10 percent nor more than 25 percent of the value of the contract. The food service management company must furnish a copy of the bond to the sponsor within 10 days of awarding of the contract.

Award Conference: After awarding the contract and before executing the contract, all sponsor and food service management company representatives should meet to discuss their mutual and individual responsibilities in the food service program. In this meeting, which is called the award conference, the representatives should review the IFB’s required procedures for adjusting meal deliveries, the cycle menus, food quality specifications, and meal packaging, as well as sanitation requirements. The food service management company must also be familiar with all State and local health requirements, particularly those concerning food preparation and meal delivery. Most vended meals are packaged to prevent contamination. Thus, the greatest danger usually results when meals are held too long or are stored under improper temperature controls. Sponsors should also inform the food service management company of the function of monitors, reviews, and statistical monitoring, if applicable, in the operation of SFSP.

PLANNING AND OPERATING THE PROGRAM

Sites Approved for Food Service: Sponsors should provide the food service management company with a list of approved food service sites, along with the limit on the number of meals that may be claimed for reimbursement for each site. It is likely that some approved sites, for one reason or another, may have been canceled or dropped from participation before the food service operations begin. A new list should be provided to the food service management company well before it is to start food service operations. The administering agency should notify the company within the time limits mutually agreed upon in the contract if any site on its delivery schedule is being dropped or canceled.

Approved Meal Levels The administering agency will set an approved level of meal service for each vended site. These levels will be the maximum number of meals, including any unplanned seconds, that any be served at a site at one meal service. The sponsor can request that these levels be allowed to change when participation fluctuates throughout the summer. Sponsors of vended sites will receive a written confirmation from the administering agency of the approved levels.

Adjusting Meal Deliveries: One of the most important topics for discussion in the award conference is the adjustment of meal deliveries. The sponsor should establish a system for collecting information on attendance changes from its sites, translating these changes into adjustments in the meal order, and communicating these adjustments to the food service management company. In turn, the food service management company should have an organized system for:

- Receiving orders for delivery adjustments
- Documenting orders for delivery adjustments
- Adjusting production levels, if necessary
- Ensuring that delivery receipts are changed to reflect adjusted meal orders (this is a particularly important responsibility.)
- Ensuring that adjusted meal orders for each site are correctly packaged and loaded for delivery.

The food service management company's key personnel must be aware of these responsibilities. For example, the food service management company's delivery personnel must understand that site supervisors cannot independently request more or fewer meals. These requests must be channeled through the sponsor. Meal deliveries may be adjusted only by the sponsor. As necessary, the sponsor must get approval from the administering agency.

The attendance at sites will probably decrease during the summer, especially if there is no organized activity at a site other than the food service. The sponsor may be able to anticipate certain fluctuations in attendance (such as local events that may interfere with site participation) and make arrangements in advance with the food service management company to adjust orders. For example, a consistent drop in attendance each Friday could be handled by reducing the number of meals delivered for that day only.

Whenever possible, meals can be transferred from a site with too many meals to a site with a shortage. The sponsor's monitors should be aware of the procedures for handling extra meals so they can assist the site supervisors in making transfers or other arrangements.

During the summer, sites may cease food service operations on either a temporary or permanent basis. Also, new sites may be authorized to participate in the SFSP. Site deletions and additions may necessitate changes in delivery routes and production levels, and will require the food service management company's cooperation. The sponsor is responsible for making sure the food service management company is informed of any need for such changes.

Planning Delivery Routes: The food service management company must carefully plan delivery routes and schedules and should review them with the sponsor. Sites without adequate storage facilities must receive all meals within 1 hour prior to the beginning of the meal service. Delivery personnel for food service management companies should become familiar with their routes before the SFSP starts to help avoid confusion. The food service management company or the sponsor should periodically evaluate and restructure the routes if deliveries for some sites are consistently late. The food service management company is responsible for ensuring that sufficient equipment is available to handle such changes (for example, additional trucks, refrigeration, etc.).

Sponsors must plan a system for serving meals when the weather is bad, or they must plan a system for canceling meal service at sites lacking sheltered facilities. The food service management company should be notified of these contingency plans.

Other Considerations: Good communication is essential for smooth program operations. Even with good management and good intentions, complaints about the food service can arise. Food service management companies and sponsors should establish a system for communicating and resolving complaints. Experience indicates that problems can be most efficiently resolved when both the sponsor and the food service management company designate officials to receive and respond to suggestions and complaints.

Reimbursement: Under the SFSP, a sponsor is reimbursed for complete meals that are properly served to eligible children. Therefore, if sponsors do not meet their responsibilities (such as ensuring that meals are eaten only on site), meals shall be disallowed. This may not result in a loss of payment to the food service management company. However, the sponsor may be unable to pay the food service management company if the administering agency does not reimburse the sponsor.

The food service management company should understand that the sponsor must pay for meals delivered by the food service management company in accordance with the contract. Administering agencies and USDA are not parties to such contracts. Federal reimbursement is based solely upon program performance and is paid to the sponsor. Therefore, the food service management company should make sure that it is informed of any sponsor disallowances made by the administering agency, as such disallowances may affect payment to the company.

Statistical Monitoring: Statistical monitoring procedures may be used by the administering agency and the USDA's Office of the Inspector General as a management and monitoring tool. Since the results of a statistical monitoring procedure may be used to determine a sponsor's reimbursement, both sponsors and food service management companies should be informed about how the monitoring method operates.

If statistical sampling reveals that the sponsor made an error, the administering agency may not reimburse the sponsor. In these cases, the sponsor still remains responsible for reimbursing the food service management company for meals that were delivered in accordance with the regulations and the contract. The administering agency will be able to furnish sponsors and food service management companies with additional information about statistical monitoring methods.

Administrative Review: During the course of the summer, the administering agency will conduct administrative reviews of the sponsor's program operations. The reviews are designed to ensure that the sponsor's overall program is operating according to requirements. The results of these reviews may affect the amount of reimbursement a sponsor will receive and the payment to the food service management company as well. The food service management company should designate an official to be familiar with the total program, particularly with the sponsor's responsibilities. For example, in addition to reading the SFSP regulations, this handbook and other aids for the sponsor, the food service management company's representatives may want to attend training sessions sponsors arrange for food service personnel.

Sponsor Disallowances: Violations that will result in loss of the sponsor's reimbursement from the administering agency (the sponsor is still responsible for paying the food service management company) are:

- Failure to plan and prepare, or order and adjust, meal orders with the objective of providing only one meal per child at each meal service
- Allowing meals to be eaten offsite
- Failure to serve meals as a unit
- Claiming meals served to nonprogram adults
- Serving meals outside the approved timeframes
- Serving meals in excess of approved levels

Food Service Management Company Disallowances: Violations that would cause disallowances in the food service management company's payment from the sponsor's reimbursement are:

- Delivering meals that are not unitized
- Delivering meals that are wholly or partially spoiled
- Delivering meals outside the designated delivery times
- Delivering meals with components that are less than the required size or weight
- Delivering meals that are missing components
- Changing menus or substituting components without the sponsor's prior approval.
Default of Contract: Sponsors may terminate the contract if the food service management company does not comply with its terms. The sponsor will notify the food service management company (and surety company, if a performance bond is in effect) of specific instances of unsatisfactory performance. If the food service management company does not immediately take corrective action, the sponsor may request the surety company to provide another food service management company, or the sponsor may negotiate another contract on a competitive basis. If the sponsor decides to negotiate another contract on a competitive basis, it must contact several food service management companies for prices and try to choose the most qualified company at the most economical price. The defaulting food service management company (or surety company if applicable) is liable for any difference in price between the original price and the repurchase price.

Use of Minority Business Enterprise: In accordance with OMB Circular A-102 all sponsors are encouraged, whenever possible, to procure services from minority business enterprises on solicitation lists. If it is economically feasible, sponsors may wish to divide their total procurement requirements into smaller tasks or quantities to encourage participation by minority business enterprises.

A minority business is a business in which the management and daily operations are controlled by a member or members of a minority group. Such minority groups include Blacks, Hispanics, American Indians, Alaskan Natives, and Aleuts.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED BY THE SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Small Business Administration (SBA) is an independent Federal agency established to provide assistance to all small businesses. The SBA provides prospective, new, and established members of the small business community with financial assistance, management training, and counseling. It helps increase opportunities for minority people to start, strengthen, or expand successful businesses. The SBA's policy is to extend the fullest opportunity for minority and disadvantaged people to participate in the small business sector.

Some areas in which the SBA may be able to help minority-owned food service management companies improve or develop their businesses are:

Financial Assistance: Food service management companies that need money and cannot borrow it on reasonable terms from conventional lenders may be able to get assistance from the SBA's loan programs. However, by law, the SBA may not make a loan if a business is able to obtain funds from a bank or other private source. The SBA may either participate with a bank or other lender in a loan, or it may guarantee up to 90 percent of a loan against loss. If the bank or other lender cannot provide funds using either of these methods, the law provides that the SBA can consider lending the entire amount as a direct governmental loan, if the funds are available. The SBA loans may be used to help food service management companies purchase equipment, facilities, and supplies.

Surety Bonds: Under the Summer Food Service Program, food service management companies that submit bids over $100,000 and that enter into a food service contract for over $100,000 must obtain bid and performance bonds. The SBA makes the bonding process accessible to small and emerging contractors that find bonding unavailable to them.
The SBA is authorized to guarantee a qualified surety up to 90 percent of losses incurred under bid payment bonds. The SBA can also guarantee performance bonds that are issued to contractors on contracts up to $1 million. Food service management companies that anticipate problems in obtaining bid and performance bonds for the summer program may be interested in contacting the SBA for assistance.

Management and Counseling Assistance: The SBA places special emphasis on improving the management ability of small business owners and managers. Accordingly, small business specialists may be able to assist minority-owned food service management companies with their management problems. They may also provide counseling on the problems or concerns food service management companies may have in meeting requirements for the SFSP.

Minority-owned food service management companies should contact SBA’s nearest field office for prompt assistance.

CAMPS

The material in this section will provide the camp sponsor with the information essential for planning and operating a successful camp food service program.

CAMP ELIGIBILITY

The regulations define a camp as:

Residential summer camps and nonresidential day camps that offer a regularly scheduled food service as part of an organized program for enrolled children. Nonresidential camps must offer a continuous schedule between meal services of organized cultural or recreational programs for enrolled children.

SPONSOR REQUIREMENTS FOR CAMPS

In addition to the sponsor requirements mentioned in the earlier sections of this handbook, sponsors of camps must also:

- Serve meals free to enrolled children who are eligible for free and reduced-price school meals according to the income eligibility guidelines for the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs.
- Collect family size and income information statements that document the eligibility of all children who are being claimed as eligible for free and reduced-price school meals. These income statements must be maintained by the sponsor of the camp.
- Serve the same meal to all children regardless of reimbursement status and without discrimination against any child because of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap.
Develop a written policy statement for determining eligibility for free SFSP meals to be used by all participating camp sites, if the camp sponsor charges separately for meals.

TRAINING OF CAMP SPONSOR PERSONNEL

Sponsor Personnel: Camp sponsors must attend administering agency training sessions on program responsibilities. Camp sponsors must then hold training sessions on program duties and responsibilities for all camp personnel.

Training for camp site personnel must include at least:

1. A general explanation of how the program operates
   a. Purpose of the program
   b. Requirements for camp site eligibility
2. Site Operations
   a. Food service management company relationship (if applicable)
   b. Site procedures at mealtime
3. Daily recordkeeping requirements

REIMBURSEMENT

The SFSP authorizing legislation mandates that camp sponsors can only be reimbursed for meals served to children who are eligible for free and reduced-price meals according to the income guidelines for the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. Camps must properly allocate and justify costs based on the percentage of children served who are eligible for free and reduced-price meals. Some costs, though, will be readily identifiable as direct costs, and must be documented as such.

The administering agency must approve the allocation formula for each camp sponsor. Since different camps will operate under different circumstances (that is, length of program, number and size of each session, and so forth), the camps will have different allocation plans.

Claims for reimbursement must reflect only meals served to eligible children and the costs associated with those meals.

Determining Allowable Meals and Costs: As mentioned earlier, camps may be reimbursed only for meals served to children eligible for free and reduced-price school meals. In order to determine allowable meals and costs, camps must make a number of computations before using the Reimbursement Worksheets included in the REFERENCES section. The computations described here are also outlined in the Camp Worksheet for camp sponsors at the end of this section on page 61.

Adjustment Factors: Camps must first determine what amount of their meals and program costs are eligible for reimbursement. Sponsors make this determination by computing two different adjustment factors: one enables sponsors to determine the number of meals served, and the other enables sponsors to determine which operating costs may be claimed... for reimbursement based on the total costs of their food service.

Combined Adjustment Factors: Sponsors with camps that offer more than one session during a claiming period will need to compute combined adjustment factors that will take into account the size of each session and the percentage of eligible children enrolled in each session. The worksheet for camps explains specifically how sponsors determine these combined adjustment factors.

If sponsors wish to determine their potential reimbursement, they should complete all computations on the following Worksheet for Camp Sponsors. Sponsors should turn to the regular reimbursement worksheets in the REFERENCES section on page 64 and make the following adjustments:

1. Wherever the sheet asks for the number of breakfasts, lunches, etc., served, enter only the number of each allowable meal as computed on the camp worksheet. Multiply these numbers of allowable meals by the reimbursement rates to determine your potential reimbursement for operating and administrative costs.

2. Under number 2 on the reimbursement worksheet, enter only allowable costs determined on the camp worksheet.

These are the only changes that camps should make. Sponsors should not adjust their actual administrative expenditures by multiplying administrative costs by the weighted adjustment factor.
WORKSHEET FOR CAMP SPONSORS

Step 1: Determine meal adjustment factor (compute separately for each camp session occurring within a claiming period):

a. Number of enrolled children in this session who are eligible for free and reduced-price school meals =

b. Total number of enrolled children in this session plus camp employees and adults who eat meals =

c. Meal adjustment factor -- divide a by b (the result must be less than 1) =

Step 2: Determine combined meal adjustment factor (if there has been only one camp session during this claiming period, continue to step 3):

I. a. Meal adjustment factor for session 1 =
   b. Total number of meals served for session 1 =
   c. Allowable meals for session 1 (a x b) =

II. a. Meal adjustment factor for session 2 =
    b. Total number of meals served for session 2 =

III. a. Meal adjustment factor for session 3 =
     b. Total number of meals served for session 3 =
     c. Allowable meals for session 3 (a x b) =

Continue in this manner for each additional session if there are more than three sessions.

Combined meal adjustment factor:

\frac{\text{Total Allowable Meals}}{\text{Total Meals}} = \frac{Ic+IIc+IIIc+\text{etc.}}{Ib+IIb+IIIb+\text{etc.}} \]

= _____ (This number must be less than 1)
Step 3: Determine allowable meals:

I. a. Total number of breakfasts
   =
   b. (Combined) meal adjustment factor
   =
   c. Allowable breakfasts (a x b)
   =

II. a. Total number of snacks
    =
    b. (Combined) meal adjustment factor
    =
    c. Allowable snacks (a x b)
    =

III. a. Total number of lunches and/or suppers
     =
     b. (Combined) meal adjustment factor
     =
     c. Allowable lunches and/or suppers (a x b)
     =

Step 4: Determine operating cost adjustment factor (compute separately for each camp session in a claiming period):

a. Number of enrolled children eligible for free and reduced-price school meals and the number of program adults who eat meals in this session =

b. Total number of enrolled children plus camp employees and adults who eat meals in this session =

c. Operating cost adjustment factor-divide a by b (this number must be less than 1) =

Step 5: Determine combined operating cost adjustment factor (if there has been only one camp session during this claiming period, continue to step 6):

I. a. Operating cost adjustment factor for session 1
     b. Total number of meals served for session 1
     =
     c. Allowable meals for session 1 (a x b)
     =

II. a. Operating cost adjustment factor for session 2
     =
     b. Total number of meals served for session 2
     =
     c. Allowable meals for session 2 (a x b)
     =

61
III. a. Operating cost adjustment factor for session 3 =
    b. Total number of meals served for session 3 =
    c. Allowable meals for session 3 (a x b) =

Continue in this manner for each additional session in this claiming period if there are more than three sessions.

Combined operating cost adjustment factor:

\frac{\text{Total allowable meals}}{\text{Total meals}} = \frac{Ic+IIc+IIIc+IVc+Vc}{Ib+IIb+IIIb+IVb+Vb}
\]

(this number must be less than 1)

Step 6: Determine allowable operating costs:

I. a. Total food cost =
    b. (Combined) operating cost adjustment factor =
    c. Allowable food costs (a x b) =

II. a. Total labor costs =
    b. (Combined) operating cost adjustment factor =
    c. Allowable labor costs (a x b) =

III. a. Total other costs =
    b. (Combined) operating cost adjustment factor =
    c. Allowable other costs (a x b) =

Step 7: Determine allowable administrative costs:

a. Total administrative costs (these costs are not reduced by the adjustment factor) =

Agreement to Furnish Food Service (Sponsor/School)

THIS AGREEMENT is made and entered into by and between (school) __________________________ and (sponsor) __________________________:

(School) __________________________ agrees to supply unitized meals (inclusive/exclusive) of milk and juice to (sponsor) __________________________ with and for the rates herein listed:

Breakfasts .... $ ________ each Lunches .... $ ________ each
Snacks .... $ ________ each Supper .... $ ________ each

It is further agreed that (school) __________________________, pursuant to the provisions of the Summer Food Service Program Regulations, the attached copy of which is part of this agreement, will assure that said meals meet the minimum requirements as to nutritive value and content, and will maintain full and accurate records that the institution will need to meet its responsibility including the following:

1. Menu Records, including amount of food prepared.

2. Meals, including daily number of meals delivered by type.

These records must be reported to the institution promptly at the end of each month. (School) __________________________ agrees also to retain records required under the preceding clause for a period of 3 years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain (or longer, if an audit is in progress); and upon request, to make all accounts and records pertaining to the program available to representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the General Accounting Office for audit or administrative review at a reasonable time and place.

This agreement shall be effective as of (date) _______________. It may be terminated by notice in writing given by any party hereto to the other parties at least 30 days prior to the date of termination.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this agreement as of the dates indicated below:

SUMMER FOOD SERVICE PROGRAM
ELIGIBILITY FORM FOR CAMPS AND ENROLLED SITES

To apply for free meals for your child(ren) carefully complete, sign, and return this form to the Sponsor. If you need more space in Parts 1, 2, or 3, attach a separate piece of paper. Call this telephone number: __________________ if you need help completing this form.

NOTE: Since in some cases foster children are eligible for benefits regardless of household income, contact the Sponsor for assistance if you are applying for meals for a foster child.

PART 1 - COMPLETE THIS PART FOR ANY CHILDREN IN YOUR HOUSEHOLD WHO ARE CURRENTLY INCLUDED IN A FOOD STAMP OR AFDC CASE.

PART 3 - IF YOU LISTED ANY CHILDREN IN PART 2, YOU MUST COMPLETE THIS PART AND PART 4. If you listed children only in Part 1, skip this part and go on to Part 4. Under NAME you must list the name of EACH PERSON living in your household, including yourself and the children listed above. In the columns list ALL income received last month on the same line as the name of the person who received it. You must list the GROSS income (the amount BEFORE deductions for taxes, social security, etc.) If the person had more than one source of income list each amount under the correct column title. For monthly income: Multiply the gross amount (a) by 4.33 if income is received weekly; (b) by 2.15 if received every two weeks; or (c) by 2 if it is received twice a month.

PART 4 - RACE/ETHNIC IDENTIFYING INFORMATION

Please check the race or ethnic identity of your children. You are not required to answer this question. We need this information, however, to be sure that everyone receives benefits on a fair basis. NO CHILD WILL BE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST BECAUSE OF RACE, SEX, COLOR, NATIONAL ORIGIN, AGE, OR HANDICAP.

____ WHITE, NOT OF HISPANIC ORIGIN
____ BLACK, NOT OF HISPANIC ORIGIN
____ HISPANIC

____ ASIAN OR PACIFIC ISLANDER
____ AMERICAN INDIAN
____ ALASKAN NATIVE
PART 5 - CERTIFICATION OF DATA AND SIGNATURE: An adult MUST sign this application before it can be approved.

PENALTIES FOR MISREPRESENTATION: I certify that all of the above information is true and correct and that all income is reported. I understand that this information is being given for the receipt of Federal funds, that the Sponsor may verify the information on the application, and that the deliberate misrepresentation of the information may subject me to prosecution under applicable State and Federal laws.

HOME PHONE

*Section 9 of the National School Lunch Act requires that, unless your child’s food stamp or AFDC case number is provided, you must include the social security number of the parent or guardian who is the primary wage earner or the social security number of the adult household member signing the application, or an indication that neither household member possesses a social security number. Provision of a social security number is not mandatory, but if a social security number is not provided or an indication is not made that neither the primary wage earner nor the adult household member signing the application has one, the application cannot be approved. This notice must be brought to the attention of the household member whose social security number is disclosed. The social security number may be used to identify the household member in carrying out efforts to verify the correctness of information stated on the application. These verification efforts may be carried out through program reviews, audits, and investigations and may include contacting employers to determine income, contacting a food stamp or welfare office to determine the amount of benefits received, and checking the documentation produced by the household member to prove the amount of income received. These efforts may result in a loss or reduction of benefits, administrative claims, or legal actions if incorrect information is reported.

Supervisor's comments (account for all other meals)

The monitor should notify the sponsor immediately if: there is a need to increase or decrease meals, the meals do not meet meal requirements, the meals are unsatisfactory, or the delivery is too late or too early. If you receive meals from another site or transfer some meals to another approved site, record the date, number of meals, and name and location of other site.

Meal Preparation  Those sponsors that prepare meals using their own personnel either at the site or at a central kitchen facility, from which the meals are transported to the sites also by sponsor personnel.

Unit  Serving all components of a meal together at the same time. For example, the milk and fruit components of a lunch cannot be served as a snack later in the day.

Unitized Meal  Meals delivered by a vendor with all components of each meal in one package (with the exception of milk and juice). The administering agency may approve exceptions to unitizing certain other components of a meal.

The Summer Food Service Program for Children is available to all children without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap. Any person who believes he or she has been treated unfairly in receiving food services because of discrimination should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250.
