ABSTRACT

Despite the tremendous growth of the ethnic community in Santa Clara County, California, very few minorities are employed in city and county government. The Minorities In Government Internship Project (MIGIP) was established to place minority vocational students with a minimum of 12 quarter units in their major in administrative, technical and management internships in local municipal governments. Specifically, the MIGIP sought to recruit and train 10-15 minority vocational college students for work in the public sector, evaluate the placement of the interns, coordinate activities with other skill training and job placement programs in Santa Clara County, disseminate project results, and make recommendations. Twenty-four requests were received and 11 interns were placed in government internships from April 4 to June 1, 1992. An evaluation survey was sent to all interns and site supervisors, results indicated that the supervisors were extremely pleased with the interns, while the interns felt that the internship substantiated their vocational training and provided them with an appreciation for government service. Recommendations include expanding the internships to 6 months so that interns could learn the nuances of their jobs and the complexities of government work, developing a civics class for incoming freshmen students in community colleges, setting up a job fair for government jobs and services in the community colleges, and replicating the MIGIP project. Survey forms, sample letters and a project brochure are attached. (MAB)

Executive Summary

The ethnic community in the Santa Clara County has experienced tremendous growth in the last decade. Despite this, very few minorities are employed in city and county government. Statistics show that "Asians are the least represented group in the top jobs, compared with their population". The Minorities In Government Internship Project (MIGIP) was designed to respond to this problem. The project aims to: 1) increase access for minority vocational students into public sector jobs (i.e. city, county, state, federal and special districts), 2) help minority vocational students develop an interest, understanding and skill for public sector jobs, and 3) increase the effectiveness of vocational education to assist students entering public sector employment.

MIGIP focused on minority vocational students who have completed a minimum of 12 quarter units in their vocational major at De Anza or Foothill College. These students were placed in administrative, technical and management positions in different departments with local municipalities.

The working objectives of MIGIP were:

I. Selection and formation of a Minorities in Government Internship Advisory Committee consisting of representatives from minority groups and public sector employers.

II. Survey and prioritize 20 internship opportunities for Minority Vocational College students.

III. Implement a recruitment campaign to train and place 10-15 minority students in public sector internship jobs.
IV. Provide training and cooperative education internships to 10-15 minority vocational students in the public sector.

V. Evaluate the placement of minority vocational students in internship positions and appropriate training areas.

VI. Coordinate the Minorities in Government Internship Project (MIGIP) with other skill training and job placement programs in Santa Clara County.

VII. Disseminate project results and make recommendations to the Chancellor's Office regarding the development of future Minorities in Government Internship training projects.

Twenty four requests for interns were received from the County of Santa Clara, City of San Jose, City of Cupertino, City of Milpitas and the City of Mountain View. Eleven interns were placed from April 4 to June 1, 1992.

An evaluation survey was sent to all Interns and Site Supervisors. Preliminary results suggest that the Interns performed exceptionally well. In fact, Site Supervisors felt that the internship time line was too short. They wanted to keep the Interns for another quarter.

There were numerous requests for internship received after the completion of MIGIP. These requests were turned over to the Career Planning and Placement Center of De Anza College to enable other students to benefit from the project. The Occupational Training Institute will also utilize these internships to give Job Training Partnership Administration (JTPA) participants hand-on training in their vocational careers.

CURRENT OBJECTIVES / ACTIVITIES

2. Survey 50 members of the public sector department heads to identify local city and government employment standards and hiring practices for minorities.

2.1 A questionnaire will be developed with the assistance of the Project Advisory Committee to survey employment opportunities at 20 public sector employers. It will be designed to survey attitudes regarding gender equity and the target populations as outlined in the proposal as well as public sector needs and requirements. Additional information will be gathered with input from: The Cooperative Education Department, Career Planning and Placement Center at De Anza College, The Employment Development Department, The NOVA Labor Market Information Survey and the Occupational Training Institute's Employer Network.

2.2 The questionnaire will be mailed to 20 local government and community organizations. Additional telephone surveys will be conducted by the Internship Developer to prospective public sector participants and their responses recorded. Face-to-face interviews will also be conducted by the Internship Developer.

3. Implement a recruitment campaign to train and place 10-15 minority students in public sector jobs.

3.1 A minimum of three outreach workshops will be presented to educate students to the Internship program. The student body groups of De Anza College and Foothill College, the Career Planning and Placement Center and other student services on each campus will be used as resources for student outreach. These workshops will also serve to educate minority students on government operation, structures, processes and career opportunities.
3.2 Interested students must be currently enrolled in a vocational program, with a minimum of 12 units completed towards their major course of study.

3.3 Students will meet with the Director, Internship Developer and Assistant Internship Developer on a one-to-one and a group basis to further develop information in order to focus program goals to student needs. Student internship opportunities will directly relate to their vocational program. Internships will be paid or non-paid and will be done for college credit. Internships will be set up on a 12 week timeline for students to coincide with the quarter system on the Foothill and De Anza College campus. Interns will be required to work a minimum of 12 and a maximum of 20 hours per week.

3.4 Coordination with the Foothill/De Anza Risk Management Department and the Cooperative Education Department will be conducted to ensure liability for all Internship participants.

4. Provide training and cooperative education internships to 10 - 15 minority vocational students in the public sector.

4.1 Develop a pre-internship program that will prepare participants in the actual experience phase of the project. This will include basic skills, personal and career counseling, local government structures and processes, and multicultural issues.

Survey 50 Filipino-American students to identify skill training needs to meet public sector employment requirements.

Survey and prioritize 20 internship opportunities for Filipino-American students.

The following contract objectives and activities were not performed due to the limited time allowed for this project:

A survey will be developed to identify the needs of the Filipino-American students interested in participating in an internship program. Information to be incorporated in the survey will come from these agencies:

* Cooperative Education Department, De Anza/Foothill College
* NASA/Ames Research Center Internship Program
* Filipino-American Club of De Anza College
* Filipino Chamber of Commerce
* Members of the Minorities in Government Advisory Committee

It will be distributed to 50 Filipino-American students of Foothill/De Anza College by the Internship Developer with the assistance of the Filipino-American Club and the Division Deans.

The Internship Developer will develop a data base of 20 internship opportunities for Filipino-American participants within the public sector. Data from the surveys will be compiled to identify the areas of highest need and to coordinate services to address those needs.

Employers will be prioritized using the following measurements:

1. Appropriate classroom training to be completed prior to internship placement.
2. Appropriateness of skills to be developed during the Internship.
3. Ratio of Mentor/Advisors to the Intern.
4. Availability of Mentor/Advisor to the Intern.
5. Work environment and safety standards.
6. The promotion of gender equity in the workplace.
7. Policies toward the hiring of and/or services to minorities, economically disadvantaged, English as a second language employees.
8. Responsiveness to multicultural issues.
Refer 75% of Minorities in Government Internship participants to full-time employment openings in the public sector with an outcome of 25% full-time job placement, depending on civil service hiring procedures.

Specific problems such as insurance coverage for interns while in the work place, union regulations, non-traditional employer bias and multicultural issues will be addressed and educational workshops covering these topics will be provided to interested Mentors/Advisors by the Internship Developer and Co-Director.

Provide an intensive job search workshop to program participants. The workshops will include all phases of job development, placement and job retention such as applications, cover letters and resume development, interview skills, accessing public sector employment opportunities and passing civil service exams. Attendance will be mandatory to all participants.

Referral of program participants to full-time employment opportunities.
Project Outcome

The project was formally approved on November 23, 1991 but work did not actually start until January 6, 1992. The period between these dates were utilized to hire the staff and prepare the groundwork for the implementation of the project. The outcome of the project relative to its working or current objectives were:

The advisory committee met on January 24, 1992, March 6, 1992 and May 29, 1992 with representatives from the City of San Jose, County of Santa Clara, City of Sunnyvale, Filipino-American Chamber of Commerce, Asian Law Alliance, Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors and De Anza Career Planning and Placement Center. The committee members were:

- Michael Boennighausen (representing County Board of Supervisor Zoe Lofgren)
- La Verne Parker Diggs (Director of Human Resources - City of San Jose)
- Ramon Laconico (Filipino-American Chamber of Commerce of Santa Clara County)
- James McEntee (Director of Human Resources - County of Santa Clara)
- Shirley Rodgers (Executive Assistant - City of San Jose)
- Maxi Villones (Executive Director - Asian Law Alliance)
- Gail Waiters (Director of Human Resources - City of Sunnyvale)
- Shirley Kawazoe (Associate Coordinator - De Anza College Career Planning and Placement Center).

The advisory committee recommended that the project focus primarily on minority vocational college students who were pursuing an AA degree or Certificate program at De Anza or Foothill College. The committee also suggested that a public service or civics class emphasizing city and county government processes/structures be offered to high school graduates or Freshman students of the college. The staff communicated this to De Anza's Dean of Social Science Department (Larry Burke) and the Head of the Administration of Justice Department (Dick Bothman). They were both very supportive of this idea if MIGIP will pay for the cost of instruction and recruit a minimum of 20 students who will attend the class. MIGIP did not budget for the cost of instruction and could not recruit 20 students in time for the spring quarter so this suggestion was not pursued any further.
Survey 50 members of the public sector department heads to identify local city and government employment standards and hiring practices for minorities.

Instead of a survey questionnaire, MIGIP met individually with politicians and executives in local government. This cut down on follow-up time and enabled us to garner immediate support for the project.

a) Politicians readily embraced MIGIP because of public pressure to promote a multicultural diverse workplace in Santa Clara County. The Office of the Mayor and Council Members of the City of San Jose gave the project a Commendation (Attachment A) while the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution adopting the project.

b) A meeting with Human Resources Directors of the City of San Jose, City of Cupertino, City of Milpitas, City of Sunnyvale, City of Santa Clara and City of Mountain View was set. We found that most of them welcomed the idea of bringing in minority students as Interns in their organizations. The only exception was the HR Director of the City of Santa Clara who did not make any apparent effort to support the project.

MIGIP came at an opportune time for the public sector as the budget deficit has put a hold on hiring for almost all positions. Many departments are understaffed so the project was welcomed as an alternative to their hiring needs.

c) A brochure and letter of solicitation was sent to all department heads. Only the City of Sunnyvale Human Resources Director disapproved of this action as internship requests are centralized in her department.

d) Judy Gaynor, Senior Organization and Staff Development Specialist of the County of Santa Clara, facilitated a meeting between MIGIP and all interested department supervisors. She also very efficiently coordinated the project in the County.

A meeting with union representatives of SEIU Local 715 and County management was imperative before we could implement the project in the County. The union believed that a mass layoff was imminent. They were concerned that the internship will be used to replace laid-off employees. They were also concerned that training Interns will be the additional responsibility of their members.

Project Outcome 3-2
Implement a recruitment campaign to train and place 10-15 minority students in public sector jobs.

Management representatives and MIGIP assured the union that the project cannot be used to replace employees inasmuch as the internship was only available for one quarter, and that training Interns will be the responsibility of the Department Supervisors. The union acquiesced after Management limited the number of Interns to five.

MIGIP organized seminars which served a dual purpose of recruiting students and educating them in government careers as well as services. Minority speakers were specifically chosen so students can identify with them and see them as role models. The seminar topics, dates and speakers were:

- December 18, 1991 - Self-Esteem and Job Search Workshop
  - Albert White - Self-Esteem and Employment Consultant
  - Roy Suba - Supervising Auditor/Senior Appraiser, County of Santa Clara

- March 4, 1992 - Panel Discussion on Government Careers and Services
  - City Government Part I
  - Ed Normandy - Sr. Staff Analyst, City of San Jose
  - Estela Tarano - Equal Opportunity Officer, County of Santa Clara
  - Clare Phillips - Associate Director, Office for Multicultural Development, Stanford University

- March 11, 1992 - City Government Jobs and Services, Part II
  - Rudy Navarro - Director for Affirmative Action, City of San Jose
  - Lt. Tom Nishisaka - Captain, Milpitas Police Department
  - Cpt. Walt Adkins - San Jose Police Department

Despite strong reservations from the committee, MIGIP dedicated this session on public safety and law enforcement careers and services. We did not want to delve on social issues but we thought it important to address a topic that was specifically requested by students. We were confident that we had a well-behaved group of students who were capable of discussing issues in a positive way. We were not disappointed. Students focused their questions on career and work-related issues.
Social issues were only raised when encouraged by the speakers. Student attendance tripled in this session.

March 18, 1992 - County and State Government Jobs and Services
Manuel Valeria - Representing Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, 13th District
Alfonso Fernandez - Judge, Municipal Court of Santa Clara County
Mark Nelson - Personnel Director, City of Milpitas

March 25, 1992 - The Political Process
George Shirakawa - Councilman, City of San Jose
Michael Chang - Trustee, Cupertino Union School District
Dolores Sandoval - Trustee, Foothill - De Anza College District

April 8, 1992 - MAYORS SYMPOSIUM
Patricia Castillo - Mayor, City of Sunnyvale
Laurel Lee Sorensen - Mayor, City of Cupertino
Ed Souza - Mayor, City of Santa Clara
Pete McHugh - Mayor, City of Milpitas
Art Takahara - Mayor, City of Mountain View

The mayors discussed their City's affirmative action program and employment opportunities as well as their vision of a multicultural society in this symposium.

A booth was set up in both De Anza and Foothill College Campus Centers to recruit students. The project was also explained to instructors in De Anza College and they were encouraged to refer their minority students to the project.

MIGIP met with officers of minority student clubs in De Anza College and found that they were not as cooperative as expected. Most club officers appeared suspicious of the project. Despite our insistence, they did not let us present at their meetings nor gave us a roster of their members.
MIGIP recruited a total of 55 minority students. Their ethnic background were:
   26-Filipino-Americans
   9-Asians
   9-Hispanic
   6-Blacks
   5-Others

Filipino-Americans comprised 47.3% of our applicants because the Project Director and Co-Director are both Advisors of the Filipino-American Cultural Exchange Club in De Anza College. Having direct access to the members, they convinced the students that this internship is a positive step towards their careers.

MIGIP received a total of 24 requests for Interns from February to May 1992. Internship positions were obtained from:

- City of Milpitas: Community Policing and Strategic Planning Assistant
- City of San Jose: Geographic Information Systems Assistant, Public Information Intern, Contract Compliance Specialist, Real Estate Assistant, Transportation Analyst Assistant, and Police Interns
- County of Santa Clara: Paralegal, HR Office Assistant, Communication Assistant, General Office Assistant (2), Physical Therapy Intern, Computer Software Assistant, Management Aide, Affirmative Action Assistant, Occupational Therapy Intern, Patient Aide Intern, and Pharmacy Assistant.
- City of Cupertino: Administrative Assistant - Finance Department
Internship Procedure

City of Mountain View: Police Department Intern, Engineering Office Assistant, and General Office Assistant - Fire Department

Eleven Interns were successfully placed. They were:
- Alfredo Cabigao - Computer Software Assistant (County of Santa Clara)
- Alexander Hang - Management Aide (County of Santa Clara)
- Geraldine Hernandez - Police Intern (City of San Jose)
- Mary Hernandez - Administrative Assistant (City of Cupertino)
- Rebecca Herrera - Affirmative Action Assistant (County of Santa Clara)
- Teresa Huynh - GIS Assistant (City of San Jose)
- Yi Ping Liu - GIS Assistant (City of San Jose)
- Bertha Morris - General Office Assistant (City of Mountain View)
- Eduardo Regala - Pharmacy Assistant (County of Santa Clara)
- Ehab Saab - Real Estate Assistant (City of San Jose)
- German Sedano - Police Intern (City of San Jose)

All Interns have completed a minimum of 12 units in their vocational major prior to the commencement of their internship assignment in April 1992. To earn college credits and for liability coverage, Interns were required to register in CO-OP Ed: Occupational Work Experience (COOP 50). Some Interns were placed after a month into the spring quarter. They were allowed to start their internship but will not earn college credits until the summer quarter, when they will register for COOP 50.

The following internship procedure was followed:

- Interns selected by public sector agencies and departments were enrolled in COOP 50. Interns were required to fill out and submit an objectives work sheet which the Site Supervisor reviewed and signed (Attachment B).

- A Faculty Advisor and the Internship Developer met with Interns and their respective Site Supervisors to review the objectives stated in the worksheet. Thereafter, Interns signed the Student Agreement form (Attachment C) and Performance Agreement Form (Attachment D).
The Assistant Internship Developer called Interns once every two weeks for job counseling and/or problem resolution. She documented every contact with Interns and Supervisors. Interns were also required to contact their Faculty Advisor thrice during a quarter. Site Supervisors were encouraged to contact MIGIP for concerns or problems with the Intern.

On June 15, 1992, the Faculty Advisor and the Assistant Internship Developer met with Interns and Site Supervisors to evaluate the Interns' performance and his/her accomplishment of work objectives.

To earn a grade, the Interns were required to write a self-evaluation paper on: the value of the internship to his/her career and personal goals, how well he/she accomplished the performance objectives, and the value of the objectives as they relate to the employer and the work performed.

An evaluation form was sent to Interns (Attachment E) and Site Supervisors (Attachment F) on June 16, 1992. Based on the early response and the letters we received (Attachment G), the Site Supervisors were extremely pleased with the Interns. The Interns, on the other hand, felt that the internship substantiated their vocational training and provided them with an appreciation for government service. Most of the Interns indicated that they will now consider civil service as a viable career option. All Interns received an A grade from the Faculty Advisor.

Despite of the very positive response to the Interns, none of them were placed in full-time jobs. City and County government in California is in a serious budget deficit so hiring for entry level positions have been suspended. As the union feared, a layoff in the public sector may occur before the end of this year.

Numerous requests for Interns were received from the public sector after May 30, 1992. These will be turned over to the Career Planning and Placement Center of De Anza College so other college students could avail of this opportunity. The Occupational Training Institute (OTI) will also utilize these to provide their JTPA participants with hands-on Coordinate the Minorities in Government Internship Project with other skill training and job placement programs in Santa Clara County.

Disseminate project results and make recommendations to the Chancellor's Office regarding the development of future Minorities in Government Internship training projects.

MIGIP is unique in that a similar project does not exist in Santa Clara County. Close coordination with OTI and the student clubs at De Anza College were, therefore, critical to the success of this project. Coordination was established with OTI's Title III (dislocated workers) and Title IIA (low-income) programs, Foothill College's Computer Service Technician and Facilities Maintenance programs as well as De Anza College's Medical, Cooperative Education, and Students Activities departments.

Four Students from OTI's Title III program and one student from the Title IIA program were placed.

Articles about this project were written in the Philippine News, De Anza’s Student Body Publication - La Voz, Asian Week, San Jose Mercury News and Foothill-De Anza College Staff Publication - Connections. MIGIP brochures and information packet were distributed to all City/County executives and elected officials.

The Project Co-Director presented on the progress of the project in a Vocational Education Special Project workshop held in Los Angeles. A status report was distributed at the workshop and to all the advisory committee members.

This report will be distributed to the State’s Chancellor’s Office, College Vocational Education Deans, Employment and Training Network, Community-Based Organizations and Adult Education Facilities. Copies will also be given to the Career Planning and Placement Centers of De Anza and Foothill College.
Recommendations

The Minorities in Government Internship Project (MIGIP) should be a one year project. Funding came in so late that internship assignments were limited to only one quarter or three months. This was not sufficient for Interns to learn the nuances of the job much less understand the complexities of government work. Site Supervisors also felt that a one quarter internship was too short. Several of them requested for a continuation of the assignment for another quarter.

Requests for Interns that "poured" from the public sector was a surprise to us. We expected that the bureaucracy entrenched in local government would prevent us from implementing the project within the timeframe given to us. The hiring freeze in city and county government made this project timely. Department Supervisors were more than willing to train and utilize qualified Interns despite of their ethnic background. Most of the local government executives that we approached were very supportive of the project. The City of Santa Clara was the only exception.

Recruiting minority students and educating them on government careers/services proved to be a more difficult task. Student attendance in the seminars on government careers and services fell short of expected goals. The seminar on City Government and Services which focused on law enforcement and public safety was the only one that attracted the most interest. It seems that law enforcement is the only government service that sparks students curiosity. We believe that more time should be devoted to educating minority students in the civil service. Once exposed to government work, they will see it as a viable career option.

Some of the recommendations made by the MIGIP Advisory Committee to strengthen the project included:
* Developing a Civics class for Freshman students in Community Colleges
* Providing a minimum of six months internship for students
* Setting up a job fair for government jobs and services in the Community College
MIGIP occasionally had to deal with social issues like racial discrimination and ethnic disputes. It was inevitable that community activists would be drawn to the project and would want to use it to advance their agenda. While the project needed their support and cooperation, we shied away from any controversy. Our first and foremost goal was to provide internship opportunities to minority students in the public sector.

MIGIP is a project worth replicating. Its potential contribution to multicultural diversity in the government can be immense, given a longer timeframe for project implementation.
Commendation

WHEREAS: Santa Clara County's multi-ethnic population has grown significantly in the last decade, presenting cities and county governments with the challenge of reflecting diversity in our workforces; and

WHEREAS: The MINORITIES IN GOVERNMENT INTERNSHIP PROJECT is a pilot program of the Occupational Training Institute of Foothill-De Anza Community College District; and

WHEREAS: The MINORITIES IN GOVERNMENT INTERNSHIP PROJECT was developed to assist minority students in overcoming barriers to entering public sector employment and to increase the effectiveness of vocational education; and

WHEREAS: Minority students from Foothill and De Anza Community Colleges, having completed a minimum of 12 quarter units, will be recruited and placed in departments and agencies of local governments;

NOW, THEREFORE I, Susan Hammer, Mayor of the City of San Jose, together with Councilmember Trixie Johnson, do hereby commend the MINORITIES IN GOVERNMENT INTERNSHIP PROJECT for providing encouragement and the opportunity for minority students to prepare for public service careers.

RE: MIGIP Student Interns

Dear Ms. Ogilvie:

The three student interns with the City of San Jose Department of Public Works are performing exceptionally well, within the established precepts of the MIGIP program.

As a result, the Department of Public Works is very interested in extending their internship through the summer. The terms of their present internship agreement will expire on June 26, 1992 for Yi-Ping Lee and Teresa Huynh, and on July 10, 1992 for Ehab Saad.

It is our understanding that the extensions are possible, provided the students agree to continue their internship through the summer. Also, the Department could offer the students new tasks and learning opportunities in order for them to receive additional college credits.

It would be most appreciated if you would send the necessary paperwork and guide us through the procedures needed to process their internship extensions.

Please call me at (408) 277-4337 if you require further information. Thank you for your support and assistance.

Sincerely,

EMILY R. BRIGGS

Gentlemen:

The San Jose Police Department has developed a working relationship with the "Minorities In Government Internship Project" through DeAnza College. To date we have placed two interns (German Sedano and Geraldine Hernandez). They are being kept very busy helping the Police Department in developing our Community Policing Program.

This is a new experience for the Police Department and we are excited about the possibility of the continued involvement of interns from the MIGIP Program.

Alex Melendez and Willie Mae O'Gilvie have greatly assisted in the set up and coordination of the Internship Program. With their continued involvement, the Internship Program in the San Jose Police Department will be a great success.

Sincerely,

LOUIS A. COBARRUVIAZ

WHAT IS MIGIP?

Minorities In Government Internship Project (MIGIP) is a pilot project of the Occupational Training Institute (OTI), of Foothill-De Anza Community College District that is funded through the Chancellor's Vocational Education Special Project. This was conceived out of concern for the minorities' lack of representation in the top government jobs.

The ethnic community in Santa Clara County has experienced tremendous growth in the last decade. Despite this, very few minorities are employed in city and county government.

THE GOAL OF MIGIP is to assist minority students in overcoming barriers and increasing the effectiveness of vocational education to assist students in entering public sector employment.

MIGIP will specifically target minority vocational students. It will provide them with:

- Knowledge of the complexities of governmental operations;
- Hands-on experience specific to public sector internship positions;
- Insight into the various facets of government work which could stimulate a desire to pursue a career in public employment, and
- An opportunity to transition into full-time employment.
