The 1994 Florida Library Youth Program is an extension of the successful and long-running Florida Summer Library Program to help librarians provide programs for school-age children, aged 6 through 12, throughout the year. The emphasis is primarily recreational. This manual for program coordinators and library users amplifies a theme called Celebrate Our Love Of Reading (COLOR). Each of the following sections is identified with a particular color: (1) riddles and humor (red); (2) Florida (orange); (3) foods (yellow); (4) environment and conservation (green); (5) moods and feelings (blue); (6) mystery (indigo); (7) violins and violets (music and flowers) (violet); (8) night (black); (9) winter in July (white); and (10) multicultural (rainbows). Each section contains program ideas that list books to read and "booktalk" (lists of books categorized by grade), games, songs, displays, crafts, and special productions. The sections are supplemented by a 428-item bibliography that also serves as an index. (SLD)

January 1994

Dear Youth Librarian:

Once again, the State Library of Florida is happy to administer and provide direction for the Florida Library Youth Program, formerly known as the Summer Library Program. This long-running program remains vigorous and progressive through your efforts and support.

We at the State Library of Florida are aware of the important role you play in developing a love of reading and books in the young people of our state. We can accomplish this goal, along with our more urgent goal of eliminating illiteracy, by our continued involvement in the Florida Library Youth Program. Without your dedication, this Program, funded by the Library Services and Construction Act, would not be the success it is.

As we embark on our second quarter century of service through this program, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your fine efforts to provide a varied, quality program of library service to the youth of the Sunshine State and to encourage you and your staff to participate fully in this year’s Program.

Sincerely,

Barratt Wilkins
State Librarian

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the 1994 Florida Library Youth Program. This Program is an extension of the highly successful and long running Florida Summer Library Program. Every year as we evaluate the past year’s program, we look towards the future and seek ways to make this Program responsive to the trends and developments that public libraries face in serving youth.

For the past several years, we have been hearing that youth librarians in many areas of the state were trying to respond to the need to provide programs for school aged children at times other than the traditional summer vacation. Many counties were experimenting with year-round schools and libraries needed to be able to provide programs similar to the successful Summer Library Program at other times of the year. Thus, the idea of the Florida Library Youth Program was born.

While not really new, the Florida Library Youth Program, by removing the word "Summer" from the promotional materials, provides local libraries with the added flexibility of being able to use the promotional materials year round.

BASIC PHILOSOPHY - Our basic philosophy and goals remain the same as in previous years. We want children to learn to come to the library, to understand that there is a wealth of information and fun waiting for them in a friendly, encouraging atmosphere. We want the experience to be relaxing, pleasurable, and free of stress. For that reason, we downplay numbers of books read. "How many" is not nearly as important as "how good." No prizes should be given for number of books read unless it is an agreed upon contract between child and librarian. We want children to share books and stories in the company of others and discover the satisfaction of reading alone. That’s why we have group programs and individual guidance.

AGE AND ABILITY LEVELS - The Florida Library Youth Program is designed primarily for school age children (six through twelve years of age). Its purpose is to encourage library use for leisure and continued learning during the weeks that school is not in session. The Program tends to be recreational rather than educational in nature. This is more a matter of emphasis rather than a true difference in content. The Florida Library Youth Program should allow children the freedom and time to follow personal interests and inclinations that may or may not be found in the school curriculum.

Although we realize that toddlers and preschoolers also have library needs, the primary thrust of the Summer Library Program is not for that age group. This does not mean, of course, that preschool storytimes must be eliminated, only that the suggestions for programs, bibliographies, and materials supplied through the Florida Library Youth Program will be aimed at a higher level.
All children, regardless of ability or disability, are encouraged to participate in the Florida Library Youth Program at their local public library. Libraries need to offer adaptations, such as sign language interpreters, assistive listening devices, or visual adaptations to be in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Local libraries are encouraged to request deposit collections through the Bureau of Braille and Talking Book Services for children with limited vision or physical disabilities that prevent them from using traditional print materials. For detailed information on working with children with disabilities, see the 1992 Summer Library Program Manual.

MATERIALS AND INCENTIVES - Art for this year's full color poster and bookmark have been designed by children's book illustrator and Florida resident Jenni Bassett. Our colorful mascot character this year is "Prism," a chameleon. The art has been adapted for our logo sheets, coloring sheet, and the reproducible reading logs. This year for the first time, we are also supplying a reproducible "Read To Me" log.

Posters - Space is provided for you to include additional information. If you need more space than provided, mount the poster on a larger sheet of poster board or foam core. Place posters in locations throughout your community, such as Boys and Girls clubs, grocery stores, laundremats, and other appropriate establishments that children and their families may frequent.

Bookmarks - These are your first form of publicity. Use them freely during your school and community visits.

Repro Pack - While not every library uses every item in the repro pack, we try to provide a variety of materials so that there is something for everyone. Use what you can and adapt the rest for your individual library's needs.

This year the repro pack will include a certificate, coloring sheet, and logo sheet. The logo sheet contains line drawings of Prism adapted from the poster and the bookmark as well as the program slogan in several type sizes. Use the logo sheet to create program fliers for your series of programs. Add the mascot to your press releases to garner attention.

The repro pack this year will also include a doorknob hanger. If possible, reproduce this on card stock. Have children use crayons, markers, or colored pencils to brighten this "Do not disturb! I'm reading!" sign before it is cut out. Encourage children (and their caregivers) to set aside a special place and time each day to read.

Two sheets in the repro pack have been designed to be run back to back to create a two-sided reading log. There is a cover sheet with the program logo and space for the reader to place his or her name on the front. The inside provides places which will allow the reader to track books read and library activities in which he or she has participated.
In addition to the reading log, this year we are introducing a "Read To Me" Log. This log will be very similar to the reading log, except that it will be simplified. The outside cover will note that "This Read To Me Log Belongs To ______________." The inside will be wide lines which will allow the reader/listener to track the books that someone has read to him or her, or that he or she has read independently.

No matter which log you use, customize it for the children in your service area. Interchange the insides. Number the line if you desire. Add categories if you wish. Or have your readers keep track of how many pages or minutes they read as well as the titles.

Rubber Stamp - Evaluation of the materials provided last year again showed that there are still many libraries that use the rubber stamp. Libraries were again given the option of ordering a stamp this year. The stamp will be approximately 1" by 1" in size. Use this as a hand stamp when children attend programs, to validate reading logs, or in any creative manner you and your patrons desire. Multicolored rainbow stamp pads, available in many stationery and office supply stores, and other commercially available rubber stamps will provide more fun.

Incentives - This year, libraries will again be receiving reading incentives. At the time this manual is being prepared, we are still not sure what exactly they will be. Whatever they are, they will enhance and enlarge our colorful theme.

The Florida Library Youth Program does not give prizes to children in competition with each other to see who can read the most books. It is not a competitive program in which one child is the winner and all others are losers. Rather, in as many ways as possible, local libraries need to devise methods to make every child feel a sense of achievement and pride in accomplishment. This is where we walk the thin line between incentives and competition. Rewards for completing individual contracts, rewards and recognition for number of pages read or number of minutes read, for coming to specific programs, or for team work should be handled in such a way that there are no losers. Exactly how this is done varies with the children you serve and requires judgement on the part of the librarian.

Evaluation Form - Please read the Evaluation Form, found elsewhere in this manual, now so you will know what figures and records you need to keep. We have kept the same basic form from the past several years. Program attendance figures are important because it is a concrete measure of the impact of the Florida Library Youth Program. Your comments on the theme and materials are used in planning future Programs. Please make certain that evaluations are returned to the State Library of Florida by September 1, 1994.

READING RAINBOW - An obvious connection with our theme this year is Reading Rainbow, the highly acclaimed educational television program aired on local Public Broadcasting Stations around the state. Libraries are encouraged to form partnerships with their local PBS outlet to promote this reading encouragement television program. Contact the educational and community outreach department at your local PBS outlet.
The State Library is in the process of purchasing many of the videos from the Reading Rainbow series. While these are not included in the film and video listing in this manual, libraries are encouraged to use these in their programming. Please contact the Statewide Audio Visual Service to obtain a current list of Reading Rainbow titles in our collection and to arrange for booking for your library.

PROJECT ADMINISTRATION - Administrative support for this Library Services and Construction Act Program is again being provided by the Florida Library Association. Libraries who ordered program materials will be receiving them no later than April 1, 1994. If your local branch library has not received their materials by that date, check with your local Florida Library Youth Program coordinator (usually the children’s coordinator or the system administrator). If your local Florida Library Youth Program coordinator needs to check on the status of your materials order, have them check with Mr. Phil Pyster, Florida Library Association, (407) 647-8839, FAX (407) 629-2502.
Our Thanks To ...

Everywhere we turned during the preparation of this manual, the editors were met with kindness and graciousness. We would, however, like to mention with gratitude the following people, without whose experience, advice, ideas and time this manual could not have been produced:

To the administration of the State Library of Florida, including Barratt Wilkins, State Librarian.

To Mary Ann Sumner, Head, Children’s Programs, Bureau of Braille and Talking Book Services, for an invaluable contribution.

To Dan Lhotka, Audio Visual Librarian, State Library of Florida, and his staff for compiling the film and video lists that are included in each section.

To Carole Fiore, Library Program Specialist, State Library of Florida, for her generosity and help.

To Jenni Bassett, creator and illustrator of Prism, our Florida Library Youth Program guide.

To Gary Raymont Piper of the Administrative Staff, Broward County West Regional Library, who worked tirelessly and energetically to meet deadlines in the preparation of this manuscript.

To our other colleagues at the Broward County Libraries who were so willing to help.

Last, but certainly not least, to our wonderful Florida Library Youth Program Planning Committee and other librarians whose help we recruited. The members of this Committee met in the Spring of 1992 to choose the theme, and to advise on ideas, materials and all aspects of administration. The Committee represents all types of libraries in all areas of the State of Florida. The members are truly the backbone of the Program, and the editors salute them:

The 1994 Florida Library Youth Program is made possible through a grant funded by the Library Services and Construction Act. The Florida Library Association and its management company, Crow Segal, administers this Program in cooperation with the State Library of Florida. Special thanks go to the officers of the Association, Marjorie Stealey, Executive Secretary of FLA, and all of the FLA office staff for their patience and assistance on this project.

Words of Welcome

Here it is at last -- the 1994 Florida Library Youth Program. Our theme this year is C.O.L.O.R. - Celebrate Our Love Of Reading, and it is a theme that lends itself to variety and excitement. We have as our guide a new friend whose name is PRISM. As a chameleon, he knows everything there is to know about COLOR. Watch him carefully, though, because he can change himself in just the blink of an eye.

In planning the Manual, the editors have tried to include books and other materials which will interest and challenge all of our young library users. However, as in years past, there is a realization that the basic purpose of the State of Florida's Summer Library Program is to keep school-age children thinking and reading during a time when school classes may be on hiatus. Thus, the target audience for the Summer Library Program is the six-to-twelve-year-old child.

In most cases, the editors do feel that the themes can easily be adapted for pre-school storytimes and crafts. In order that all children enjoy their summer visits to the library, the emphasis of the Floridia Library Youth Program is recreational rather than instructional.

Your Manual is divided into eleven sections. Each section has a different theme, based on the concept of C.O.L.O.R. With the help of our terrific Planning Committee, each C.O.L.O.R. section (each a different color) contains program ideas using books to read and booktalk, games, songs, displays, crafts and special productions. The colorful sections are as follows:

Radical Red -- Riddles and Humor
Outrageous Orange -- Florida
Yummy Yellow -- Foods
Going Green -- Environment and Conservation
Bodacious Blue -- Moods and Feelings
Intriguing Indigo -- Mystery
Very Violet -- Violins (Music) and Violets (Flowers)
Beautiful Black -- Night
Wondrous White -- Winter in July
Rainbow -- Multicultural

Finally, as a reward for our hardworking little guide, the editors promised Prism that we would give him a section of his very own. Thus, our last section is called Prism's Page.

Prism also asks that we draw your attention to the puppet show, which stars (naturally) the little fellow himself. This represents his first venture into the theater, and he is very proud of his role. This production may be adapted for in-library use or for visits to the schools.
The editors encourage librarians to include books and materials that can be adapted to interest children who are physically disadvantaged. Whether the vehicle consists of a narrated musical program or signed storytimes, please be aware that a child who is disabled can and will benefit greatly from creative and thoughtfully planned presentations, with a focus on his or her special needs.

Libraries need to offer adaptations, such as sign language interpreters, assistive listening devices, or visual enhancements, in order to be in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Local libraries are urged to request deposit collections through the Bureau of Braille and Talking Book Services for children with impaired vision or other physical disabilities that limit or preclude their use of traditional print materials.

Our libraries serve all children. Please study carefully the information prepared for you by the Bureau of Library Services for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, as well as the film list supplied by the State Library of Florida.

INCLUDE YOUR COMMUNITY: Community support can certainly enhance your Program. As well as adding interest and local C.O.L.O.R. to your celebrations, community input can contribute to a public awareness of available library services and can build community cohesiveness. Again, make sure that you approach your community contacts early, and with a positive and open attitude. Suggestions for such contacts are as follows:

Local pet shops, wildlife parks, or zoos can talk about the environment (Green)

A local planetarium may have an outreach program about the stars (Black)

A local school may have a band or a choir (Violet), and, for the same color, a local florist may be able to present a flower-arranging workshop.

Try a local ice cream or frozen yogurt store. A possible fun activity is a create your own sundae bar (Yummy Yellow).

You will undoubtedly make new friends in your community as a result of these resource-involving undertakings. The editors suggest personal visits to your community resources, along with lots of publicity and follow-up thank-you notes and letters. Happy hunting!

SUGGESTIONS FOR SCHOOL VISITS: Create a mini-puppet stage which is portable, can stand on a flat surface, such as a table, and can be visible to classrooms or media center audiences.

Perform the mini-version of the puppet show found elsewhere in the Manual.
Perform promotional performances with Prism showing him in several colors with colored background props, such as leaves (Green), bananas (Yellow), etc.

or

Visit schools with a rainbow selection of scarves which can be pulled out of a pot or cauldron. With the help of a Prism puppet, find the treasure (books and other prizes) at the end of the rainbow.

Tell folktales (Rainbow), scary stories (Beautiful Black/Night) or read funny poetry (Radical Red).

These school presentations can be transported and performed by one or, if you have available staff or volunteers, several Youth Services librarians. Take with you State promotional materials to show. These materials may include booklogs (reading logs) and bookmarks. Plan ahead to include your library's flyers describing the summer's activities and events. Make sure that you have enough flyers to give one to each child. The easiest method is to have a packet of flyers available for each teacher. Remember that enthusiasm is important, so enjoy your visits to schools, and as a consequence everyone else will enjoy them too!

Early planning for school visits is a must. For the sake of courtesy and convenience, notify the school principal and/or media specialist of your desire to visit, length of proposed program, and any school equipment that will be needed. Allow the school personnel sufficient advance notice to place your program on their busy schedules.

PUBLICITY: Well-planned and timely publicity is crucial to a successful library programs. Schedule your summer events as early as possible, and then work on your flyers, signs and library publicity.

Clip art has been included throughout this Manual for use in the design of publicity as well as for other uses throughout the summer and the year. Also included are sample Public Service Announcements, or PSA's. Please contact media, such as radio/television and newspapers, early. Remember that these resources have many demands on their time and services. Please make sure that you give at least two weeks notice for all your media publicity. Type all PSA's in capital letters, doubled spaces, for ease of reading.

COPYRIGHT: It is the responsibility of each library and each librarian to comply with copyright law. Infringement of the law is a serious offense. Any permanent form of reproduction, artistic or written, should be cleared in advance with the rights and permissions department of the individual publishing company disseminating the material. Permission for use is usually forthcoming as the result of a letter from you, describing your library and the purpose for which the materials will be used. Forward your letters far enough in advance of the anticipated production and use date so as to allow the rights and permissions department sufficient time to respond. You are free, of course, to reproduce all "clip art" contained in this Manual.

Needless to say, all ideas contained in this Manual are suggestions only. We urge you to use them as guidelines and to be as free and unrestrained as you wish in interpreting and adapting them to your needs. In presenting your programs, you, of course, are the best judge of the interests and needs of your community, as well as of the size and scope of your individual collections.

There are several different Prism puppets:
a light, dull brown one, his natural color a green one a red and white checkered one a blue one
Each of these different colored Prisms should match in color the appropriate props.
SCENE I: City street backdrop. The last house on end is rainbow-colored.
The stage is dark.
Chameleon is center stage as lights slowly go on.

P. I.
CHAMELEON:

Hello. I've been asked to come here by the librarians to tell you a story. My name is PRISM THE CHAMELEON, and I'm a detective, a private investigator. Some of you might have heard of me. Well, I'm here to tell you about my most famous case -- the Rainbow Mystery. It all started a few weeks ago when things started disappearing.

(P. I. CHAMELEON exits)

(NEWSBOY enters with newspaper.)

NEWSBOY:
Extra, extra. Read all about it! The famous "Blue Boy Painting" has been stolen from the art museum.

(Exits, then re-enters.)

Extra! Extra! Yellow Rose of Texas is missing!

(Exits, then re-enters.)

Extra! Extra! Red River Valley disappears!

(Exits, then re-enters.)

Extra! Extra! Read all about it! Thief steals all copies of the record "Mood Indigo"!

(Exits.)

(P. I. CHAMELEON enters with GERTIE, his assistant.)
GERTIE: Boss, this is terrible.

P.I.: What is terrible, Gertie?

GERTIE: Haven't you heard? There have been robberies all over the world. Someone has stolen the Red River Valley, the Yellow Rose of Texas, the famous Blue Boy Painting, all the copies of "Mood Indigo", and now I've just heard that the White Cliffs of Dover and the Purple Mountains' Majesty are missing.

P.I.: Yes, and I've just heard that all the orange juice has been stolen from all the stores. There seems to be a pattern here.

(NEWSBOY enters.)

NEWSBOY: Extra, extra! Read all about it! All copies of the book How Green Was My Valley have been stolen from the library.

(NEWSBOY exits.)

P.I.: That does it! When they start stealing books from the library, they have gone too far!

GERTIE: Does that mean you'll take the case, Boss?

P.I.: Yes, Gertie, Detective Chameleon is now on the job. Let's buy some of these newspapers to see if that thief has left any clues at the scenes of the crimes.

(P.I. and GERTIE exit.

Sinister music plays softly in the background.)
A duck in hat and sunglasses with an odd red machine that has black branches and leaves sticking out enters.
The duck goes to the end of the stage.

Enter P.I. and GERTIE, with newspapers.)

GERTIE: It says right here, Boss, that right before these things disappeared a strange sucking sound was heard. That’s kind of creepy if you ask me.

P.I.: And a footprint was found on the beach at Dover.

(P.I. shows footprint of a duck to Gertie and audience).

Very suspicious.

GERTIE: I wonder who it could be?

NEWSBOY: (Off stage, calling.)

Extra! Extra! Read all about it! Germany’s famous Black Forest has been stolen.

(Duck looks around nervously and leaves with odd machine.)

GERTIE: A whole forest is gone. This is getting ridiculous! It’s an international disaster. The whole world is being robbed. It’s a rainbow collection of thievery!

P.I.: That’s it, Gertie! I know where the thief is going to strike next: RAINBOWS. The thief is going to try to steal all the rainbows in the world. We must find him before he can pull off this last daring robbery.

xxi
But look! What’s that?

(GERTIE picks up black leaf.)

GERM:
It looks like a leaf.

P.I.:
Yes, Gertie, but not just any leaf -- a BLACK LEAF.

GERTIE:
You’re right, Boss. It must be from the Black Forest! That means that the thief was just here.

P.I.:
Gertie, there’s only one thief clever enough to pull off all these incredible robberies, and that’s my old enemy, that master criminal. . . .

GERTIE:
You don’t mean Dr. Aritie?

P.I.:
That’s right, Gertie -- Dr. Morrie Aritie. I think I’m just going to pay the doctor a visit. You go back to the office and contact the police for more clues. Maybe you can find more evidence and see if the thief had any helpers.

GERTIE:
Okay, Boss, but be careful. Whoever this thief is, it’s obvious he is a dangerous and ruthless criminal.

(GERTIE exits.)

P.I.:
(P.I. goes to the end of the stage in front of Rainbow House.)

This is where the doctor lives. I don’t know why, but I’m beginning to get suspicious. It’s time to question the doctor.

End Scene I -- Close curtain.
SCENE II: Inside Dr. Aritie’s house.

The room contains a potted plant, table with checkered cover, and a blue rug. The wallpaper on the back wall is loosely pinned, so that it can be quickly removed to reveal the hiding place of all the missing objects.

Dr. Aritie is there.
P.I. enters.

P.I.:

Thank you for seeing me, Doctor.

DR. A.:

What is it that you want, Chameleon? I have no time for your snoopy, nosy body questions.

P.I.:

I just want to know what you’ve been doing lately. Done any traveling lately?

DR. A.:

Yes, if it’s any of your business.

P.I.:

To Germany, perhaps?

DR. A.:

Maybe yes. Maybe no. Get to the point, Chameleon. What are you really after?

P.I.:

The truth, Doctor. There have been several worldwide robberies of such cleverness that only you could have done it. We also have a footprint of the thief. See . . .

(P.I. shows footprint to Dr. A.)

DR. A.:

Very interesting. But what makes you suspect me? You have no proof! Now, get out! I have no time for your foolishness.

(Dr. A. turns and exits.)

xxiii
P.I.: I don’t trust that duck. It’s time for Detective Chameleon to really get to work.

(Takes off hat and coat.)

Now, I’ll just hide behind this plant.

(Pops down and comes up green.)

I’ll be able to hear all his plots and plans now!

(DR. A. and NEWSBOY enter with a map.)

DR. A.: Good, you’ve brought the map. Now we will have to be a little more careful. That stupid snoop, Chameleon, is already suspicious and has been asking questions. Have you found out where the end of the rainbows are, so we can suck them up in my Color Machine?

NEWSBOY: Right here. We can get all of the rainbows in the world if we set up the machine right at this spot.

(Both look at map.)

DR. A.: We need a pencil to chart a way to get there.

(Dr. A. and NEWSBOY exit.)

P.I.: I must get closer and see that map. I knew I was right about that doctor.

(P.I. pops under table and comes back up checkered like the tablecloth. Looks at map.)
Amazing! Who could have thought that all the rainbows in the world could be found in... Uh, oh. They're coming back. I'd better hide.

(P.I. pops down.)

(DR. A. and NEWSBOY return with pencil.)

NEWSBOY: If we go this way, past this river and through these mountains, we could get there in a few days.

DR. A.: Good, good! Then all the treasures of COLOR will be mine and mine alone. Ha, ha, ha!

NEWSBOY: When are we leaving, Doctor?

DR. A.: Now. We've got no time to lose. We must be gone before that busybody Detective Chameleon can return to stop us.

(Dr. A. and NEWSBOY exit.)

(P.I. pops up, regular color.)

P.I.: I must call Gertie. She must get the police here before they can escape.

(P.I goes to phone, picks it up, and dials.)

Hello, Gertie, it's me. Call the....

(DR. A. and NEWSBOY enter as P.I. speaks.)

DR. A.: Stop him!
NEWSBOY: (Newsboy grabs P.I. and sits on him and knocks phone away.)
Got him, Doctor!

DR. A.: I'll get some rope to tie him up. Then, we will take care of him for once and for all. I think, Detective Chameleon, you will make a wonderful addition to my color collection. And I have just the right cage to put you in.

(Dr. A. exits.)

P.I.: I guess you and the Doctor are just too smart for me.

NEWSBOY: That's right, Chameleon.

(NEWSBOY gets off P.I.)

You aren't clever enough to escape the Doctor.

P.I.: Maybe so, but I'm smart enough to escape from you.

(P.I. pushes NEWSBOY down and runs. NEWSBOY chases him back and forth across and on and off the stage several times.

On the last pass, only P.I. enters.)

I hope Gertie knew I needed help. The doors are all locked, and I can't get out of here. My only chance is to hide.

(P.I. lays down on rug. He pops down and comes up blue to match rug.)

(NEWSBOY enters.)

xxvi
NEWSBOY: Where is he? The Doctor will be very angry if that Chameleon gets away.

(Police sirens are heard.)

Oh, no! It’s the police. We’re finished now!

(Looks off stage.)

Look, the Doctor is outside, and he’s getting into a car. He’s leaving me here so the police can catch me. Wait! The police have caught him, but they won’t catch me. I’m going to run away.

(Starts to go, but Chameleon trips him and sits on him.)

P.I.: Oh, no you don’t! The only place you are going is to jail, for helping the Doctor steal all those colorful things.

(GERTIE enters.)

GERTIE: Are you all right, Boss?

P.I.: Yes. That was quick thinking on your part, Gertie. Take this other crook out to the police so they can lock him up with the Doctor.

GERTIE: Come on, you!

(GERTIE takes NEWSBOY out, and CHAMELEON changes back to old colored self.)

(GERTIE returns.)
Well, you solved the case, and caught the criminals, Boss. It's all over.

P.I.: Not quite yet, Gertie. Have you forgotten all those missing things?

GERTIE: That's right. Do you know where they are?

P.I.: As a matter of fact, I do. Just like a chameleon, they are hiding right in front of our eyes. Help me with this wallpaper.

(They pull down the wallpaper to reveal the missing objects -- yellow rose, indiglo record, green book.)

GERTIE: Wow, Boss! You found everything. You really are the world's greatest detective! How do you do it?

P.I.: Elementary, my dear Gertie. Elementary!

End Scene II - Close curtain.

P.I. comes out and bows and says "Goodbye."

Radical Red
RADICAL RED

These books celebrate the color red, and the joy and fun of reading. There are literally hundreds of joke, riddle, and funny poem books. Everyone has favorites and we couldn’t include them all. For the time you are presenting Radical Red, you might create a riddle stew for a quick and easy display. Prepare this stew by using a big red pot filled with riddles and jokes for the children to take or exchange. It’s a fun way to introduce this time of silly books and stories.

STORIES
Red, Red, Red!

- Clifford, the Big Red Dog, by Norman Bridwell.
  Everyone's favorite giant dog and his friend, Emily.

  The Grey Lady loves strawberries. She must elude the mysterious "strawberry snatcher" who loves them too. A wordless picture book.

- Little Red Riding Hood, by Paul Galdone.
  A traditional retelling of the fairy tale by the Brothers Grimm.

  Grandpa learns that he can do many things all by himself.

- Miss Eva and the Red Balloon, by Karen M. Glennan.
  Miss Eva's life changes when Adam gives her a magic red balloon.

- Mystery of the Missing Red Mitten, by Steven Kellogg.
  Annie loses her mitten for the fifth time in one winter.

- The Red Carpet, by Rex Parkin.
  The red carpet rolls, and rolls, and rolls, bringing fun and excitement to everyone in town.

- Red Fox, by Hannah Gifford.
  A red fox is so desperate that he dares to go into town to find food for himself and his family.
Red Fox on the Move, by Hannah Gifford.
Red Fox and his family must find a new home after a bulldozer crashes into his den.

Red Fox and His Canoe, by Nathaniel Benchley.
Red Fox, a native American boy, has an unexpected adventure in his canoe.

Red Wool Man, (OP) by Edna Luginbuhl.
The wind changes a bit of red wool into the shape of a man who comes alive and has many adventures.

Red Woolen Blanket, by Bob Graham.
Julia carries her beloved red blanket everywhere until one day when she outgrows it.

Ruby, the Red Knight, (OP) by Amy Aitken.
Ruby tames a giant, a dragon, and an evil wizard.

Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs, by Judi Barrett.
In this little town it doesn’t just rain or snow; it rains soup and juice, and snows mashed potatoes.

Flapdoodle, collected by Alvin Schwartz.
A collection of silliness from American folklore.

Funny You Should Ask, edited by David Gale.
Silly short stories.

Potato Talk, (OP) by Ennis Rees.
A farmer’s troubles are only beginning the day his potatoes start talking to him.

The Three Sillies, (OP) by Paul Galdone.
A traditional retelling.

The Baby Uggs Are Hatching, by Jack Prelutsky.
Imaginary creatures do weird and funny things.
Laughing Time, by William Jay Smith.

The New Kid on the Block, by Jack Prelutsky.
"I Wonder Why Dad Is So Thoroughly Mad," page 11.

This bibliography provides complete bibliographic and order information, including ISBN numbers, when available. This is not a suggested buying list. Not every title is appropriate for every collection. Libraries should make purchasing decision based on their collection development policies.

We have tried to limit the number of out-of-print items whenever possible. However, we realize that all libraries will have access to them through their own collections or through the Florida Library Information Network (FLIN) interlibrary loan system. Many libraries do not lend their juvenile materials. Please allow sufficient time for ILL requests to be processed.

When a book is available in an alternate format through the Regional Library (Florida Division of Blind Services, Bureau of Braille and Talking Book Services), it is noted "Braille/Talking Book" at the end of the bibliographic entry. Libraries wishing to arrange for deposit collections of these materials for their special patrons should contact Mary Ann Sunner, (904) 239-6010, or the local subregional talking book library, when available.
