INTRODUCTION

The Government Documents Collection of Calvin T. Ryan Library contains a wealth of information on a wide range of topics and has different types of publications such as studies, reports, etc. One of the more difficult types to locate is curriculum material. A number of government agencies publish curriculum guides and supplements which are scattered throughout the collection.

This bibliography updates "Curriculum Materials for Use with Adult Groups: A Bibliography of Government Documents", dated February, 1989. It contains material published from March, 1989, through November, 1993. It does not contain titles from the older bibliography. It is highly recommended, therefore, that it be used in conjunction with the older one for complete coverage of materials in the Documents Collection. Some topics are not covered on this bibliography but are on the older version.

In addition, two other bibliographies are available. Each lists curriculum materials suitable for use with K-12 classes. One is titled "Curriculum Materials for Use with Grades K - 12: A Bibliography of Government Documents" and is dated February, 1989. Its companion, "New K-12 Curriculum Materials in the Government Documents Collection" is an update containing materials published from March, 1989, through November, 1993. The user should bear in mind that upper level high school students would benefit from many adult level guides and all five (two K-12, two adult, one Nebraska-see below) bibliographies should be consulted for comprehensive coverage.

The purpose of this new bibliography remains the same as the older edition: to provide a list of government documents of special interest to students pursuing careers in education, practicing teachers, and teachers of adult students, including university faculty. Most of the material is not copyrighted and can be copied. Almost all of the titles can be checked out of the library for four weeks. (Only "reference collection" titles, designated by an "*", cannot be checked out.)

One change was made on this bibliography compared to the older version. It is the exclusion of curriculum materials in the Nebraska Documents Collection. A separate bibliography listing these materials is available: "Curriculum Guides and Aids in the Nebraska Documents Collection".

The bibliography contains several types of publications including curriculum guides and supplements, sources of government and non-government print and non-print resources, bibliographies, evaluation guides, examples of projects, guides for educating community groups and the general public, and professional level materials.

The format of the bibliography remains the same with each entry containing the publication date, number of pages, and the call number which must be used to find the document in the collection. Rather than list several subagencies as the author of a title, the broad government agency name was used.

The bibliography attempts to be as comprehensive as possible in the inclusion of curriculum guides and supplements. Certain types of publications were again excluded, however, including studies, results of surveys, technical reports, conference reports, journals, essays, statistical publications, and others deemed to not be of immediate practical use to the teaching profession. Any of the titles in a foreign language are indexed under the name of the language in the subject index.

Arrangement of the entries is by broad subject heading, with the subject index in the back providing more detailed access. The index is based on words from the titles and annotations. Several subject sections have two parts, one which lists and describes the guides and supplements and another which contains titles of bibliographies and sources of materials on the subject. A miscellaneous section lists titles that were too few in number to list in separate subject sections. Titles are listed only once on the bibliography. Users are advised to consult the subject index for related topics and for titles which contain several subjects but are in only one section of the bibliography.
