INTRODUCTION: PURPOSE AND USE

The Library Information Resource Book is intended to be the MU Libraries' reference book. Its purpose is to provide up-to-date and readily accessible information on library collections, facilities, and services. It is designed for use at Reference/Service Desks in the University Libraries as a quick reference tool for desk workers. It may also be useful as a training manual for student workers, allowing them a short course on the increasingly complex world of a large academic library. The subjects treated here have been chosen with care and written in broad strokes. We have tried to give concise and essential information about the library without burdening the reader with excessive detail. The goal is to make the library understandable so that complete and accurate information may be passed along to our library patrons.

The Resource Book is specially designed for ease of use. Articles are arranged in an alphabetic, dictionary format with numerous cross-references. Names and words in bold-face type within the body of an article indicate a "see also" reference to another appropriate article within the Resource Book. Additional references are listed in bold-type at the end of the article. Founders Memorial Library (FML) floor-plan maps, an ILLINET Online (IO) Location Code chart, a glossary of library abbreviations, acronyms, and terms, and a sampling of library forms are added features of the Resource Book.

The Editorial Committee planned the Resource Book to be used in a looseleaf format, so that it may be revised, added to, or updated on a periodic basis. The Resource Book is only a preliminary effort. The University Libraries is an ever-changing, flexible institution, and the Resource Book should reflect the character of the library it describes. On that note, the Committee welcomes any ideas, suggestions, or corrections to make the Resource Book a even more useful tool.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES, LIBRARY

FML 428

Service Hours:

Monday-Friday 8:00 am - 4:30 pm

The library administrative unit comprises the offices of the director and associate directors, business manager and personnel assistant, administrative secretaries, and a seminar room. The Administrative Offices serve the following patron needs:

1. reserve library meeting rooms,
2. obtain vending machine refunds,
3. find replacement ribbons for the typing room,
4. get information about student employment or graduate assistantships in the library or to fill out an application form.

ANNUAL REPORTS, COMPANY

A Company Annual Reports file is available as part of the Social Sciences reference collection. The Annual Reports are filed alphabetically by company name in file cabinets located north of the elevator core on the 2nd floor. These reports are primarily public relations publications aimed at the stockholders of the companies. They contain statistics and other useful company information. Similar to Annual Reports are 10K Reports. These differ from the stockholders annual reports in that they contain information required by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Both Annual Reports and 10K Reports are also available in the Microforms Department on microfiche. For help with these reports ask the Social Sciences Reference Desk, or, for those located in microforms, the Microforms service desk.
ARCHIVES, UNIVERSITY

Swen Parson Hall 155, 753-1779
Contact Person: Glen Gildemeister, 753-9392

The University Archives serves as the repository for all official records of the university that have permanent historical or administrative value. University records consist of materials pertaining to the history, organization, and administration of the entire university community. Included in this collection are Illinois Board of Higher Education and Board of Regents proceedings, the president's and provost's office records, departmental records, faculty papers, records of student government and organizations, and extensive photographs of campus life. Archival copies of university publications, yearbooks, theses and dissertations, and student newspapers are also available in the Center.

ART COLLECTION, STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Association (SA) art collection began in 1967 for the purpose of enriching the cultural environment of the University and the community. In order to make the collections more accessible and to better preserve the art works, the SA Art Collection Curator proposed in 1991 that Founders Library become the Collection's permanent home. The installation was completed in the Fall of 1992.

The Collection numbers some 150 pieces of art in various formats, including prints, drawings, photographs, and paintings by such artists as Salvador Dali, Robert Rauschenberg, Max Beckman, and Helen Frankenthaler. The art works are displayed throughout the library on all four floors. The pieces are numbered to allow anyone to conduct a self-guided tour of the collection with the aid of a guide booklet obtainable from the Information Desk or any of the library's reference desks. The guide booklets are for in-house use only and must be returned to the desks where they were obtained. Additional copies may be acquired from the SA Art Collection Curator at the SA office in Holmes Student Center.
ATLASES

Located on the 3rd floor, adjacent to the escalators on the north side, are atlas cases containing atlases of various countries. Additional atlases can be found in other reference collections in Founders Memorial Library, as well as those found at the Map Library in Davis Hall. Check ILLINET Online for locations.

BOOK REQUESTS

To request that a book be ordered for inclusion in the Library's collections, there are two alternatives:

CARD CATALOGS

The Founders Library main card catalog is located in the lower level of the building, on the opposite side of the escalators from the Student Lounge. There are two separate catalogs: Author-Title and Subject. The Author-Title catalog has cards for materials acquired and cataloged by the library before July 1, 1987; the Subject catalog has cards for materials acquired and cataloged before July 1, 1988. In order to locate recent materials (those acquired and cataloged since July 1, 1988), patrons need to use ILLINET Online.

The University Libraries maintains a specialized public access card catalog for the Rare Books and Special Collections department (author/title and subject catalog). Several branch libraries and departments maintain shelflist catalogs (arranged by call number order) for the materials in their areas. The Government Publications Department uses a card catalog for older UN and Illinois state documents. Patrons should consult with reference staff in these branches or departments to determine the currency and scope of the card catalogs before using them.

A Computer Output Microfiche (COM) catalog, designed to be a backup for ILLINET Online, is kept in Microforms and Media Services. Each branch library also has a copy.

CAREER INFORMATION SOURCES

Contact Person: Byron Anderson, FML 102, 753-1992

First Floor Reference provides an array of informational materials to students engaged in career planning or job searching. These materials are intended to help students build a career path, explore specific career areas, and/or gather information about potential employers or specific companies. A bibliography and guide titled "Careers: Information Sources" is available at the First Floor Reference desk. The majority of items listed in the guide are located in either the reference areas of Founders Library or in the Reserve room.

In addition to many career-related books, the First Floor Reference department maintains a career pamphlet file which includes concise information about occupations, employment opportunities, and potential employers. The Career File is made up of three file cabinets located near the main Pamphlet File in the First Floor Reference area. The file is composed of approximately 600 hanging files arranged alphabetically by career or occupational title. The career file focuses especially on careers requiring a college background. Pamphlets may be checked out at the Circulation Desk for a two-week period. Special library instruction sessions on career information may be scheduled by any faculty member so desiring.
CARL UNCOVER

Available on all online catalog computers and also by dial access.

CARL UnCover is part of the ILLINET Online system. UnCover is a name and keyword index to the table of contents pages of over 10,000 journal titles with nearly 2,000,000 articles. Most subjects are covered. Uncover is not designed to be a retrospective index; the database covers only the current three to four years. The University libraries own about 60 percent of the journals in the UnCover database. Check the Periodicals Holdings List to determine if the library owns specific titles and dates.

Library patrons may order copies of articles from CARL for a fee. Articles usually will be faxed within 24 hours of ordering. If patrons do not have access to a fax, they may use the fax service available at Holmes Student Center. Contact the Student Center for further information. Costs for delivery of articles will be clearly displayed before ordering. To order an article, look for the Delivery Information "D" menu option at the end of the article record. The "New" UnCover menu option allows patrons to create a personal profile for easier document delivery. Patrons should consult with the Interlibrary Loan (ILL) Service for an alternative to document delivery through CARL.

Indexes--Periodical
CD-ROM

CD-ROM is an acronym for Compact Disk Read Only Memory. It is a relatively new medium for storing and retrieving all kinds of data, text, and graphic images. CD-ROM has become the preferred format for bibliographic indexes, large text files, and all kinds of numeric and statistical databases. With CD-ROM readers attached to personal computers, it is possible to do sophisticated and comprehensive searches that formerly required expensive tape drives and mainframe computers.

The University Libraries has acquired numerous CD-ROM products, searchable through various means. Several products are networked on the Index Networks and through LEARN.

In addition, the following departments have stand-alone workstations to access their CD-ROM products:

- Government Publications
- Humanities and Behavioral Science Reference
- Rare Books and Special Collections
- Reference, First Floor
- Science and Engineering Reference
- Social Science, Education, and Business Reference
- Southeast Asian Collection

Patrons should consult the reference staff in these departments for the specific products available. The Law Library also has CD-ROM titles and workstations.

A brochure titled "CD-ROM Products and Index Networks" describes and gives the location of several significant CD-ROM databases available in the library.

An additional handout titled "CD-ROMs Available at NIU Libraries" lists the titles in broad subject categories.

COPY CARDS

Copy cards can be purchased at the Copy Services office (FML 194) or at one of the four card dispensers/rechargers. Two card dispensers/rechargers are located on the first floor of Founders Library, one at the Law Library, and one at Holmes Student Center across from the browsing room. Cards cost $1.00; additional money for copies will need to be added to an existing card in any dollar amount up to $50.00. Dispensers/rechargers will accept any multiple of $1.00 using one, five, ten, or twenty-dollar bills. You can also add value to a card at any copy machine that accepts money, either coin or bills. Cards can be used in all of the public photocopy machines in the library with the exception of the microfilm and microfiche reader/printers. Having a copy card eliminates the need for coins and allows a discount from the single-copy price.

DIAL ACCESS, ILLINET ONLINE

Patrons may dial into and search ILLINET Online (IO) from remote locations using a microcomputer equipped with a modem and telecommunication software. Searching IO through dial access is free of charge, with the exception of telephone charges, which are the responsibility of the user. Dial access will provide the same online databases and computer screen information that are available on any ILLINET Online terminal in the University Libraries. Specific information about remote access can be found in the "Dial Access to the Online Catalog" brochure found at the Information Desk and at the first floor Reference desk. This brochure is for dial access within the 815 area code. A second information sheet titled "Dial Access to the NIU Online Catalog Outside of the 815 Area Code" is intended for users seeking remote access from 708 and 312 area codes. This access requires different terminal settings and connection procedures than the 815 access.

Dial access using the menu search mode allows the option to Charge (check out), Save (recall), or Renew an item. This option applies to items found at the University Libraries as well as the 40 other cooperating libraries of the Illinois University Libraries (ILCSO) system. For information about the Charge/Save/Renew menu option, consult the "Dial Access to the Online Catalog" brochure or refer patrons to the Circulation Services desk.

FIRSTSEARCH

FirstSearch is an online system that includes the OCLC database as well as numerous periodicals indexes. It is located at the first-floor Reference desk, the Government Publications desk, and the Subject Reference desks. Although patrons may not conduct searches on FirstSearch, they may ask the reference staff at these service desks to do so when the online catalog and periodicals indexes have failed to provide them with citations to books and periodical literature.
Founders Memorial Library is named for Jacob Haish, Isaac L. Ellwood, Clinton Rosette, and Joseph F. Glidden. These men were prominent in the efforts to win legislative approval for the placement of a Normal (teacher education) school in DeKalb. Glidden, Ellwood, and Haish were each inventors of different types of barbed wire. It was the Glidden barbed wire patent which would become the standard. Ellwood saw the commercial potential of Glidden's invention and became a partner with Glidden. The Glidden/Ellwood company would eventually become American Steel and Wire Company, a subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation. Ellwood was also known for his fine stable of horses and the monthly horse sales held at his farm. Haish was also a manufacturer of barbed wire and the owner of the Haish Bank in DeKalb. Rosette was the editor of the DeKalb Chronicle. Governor John Altgeld appointed Rosette to the Board of Education of the state of Illinois, and it was Rosette who alerted the community of the possibility of an additional teachers college to be located in northern Illinois.

On the brick wall behind the Information Desk hangs the portraits of Joseph F. Glidden and Isaac L. Ellwood. Glidden's portrait was painted in 1899 by A.O. Brooks and was originally placed in the auditorium in Altgeld Hall. The Ellwood portrait was painted by C.A. Hedger in 1917 and originally hung with Glidden's in the auditorium. The original Ellwood portrait now hangs in the Ellwood House Museum located on North First Street in DeKalb. A bronze bas-relief plaque, commemorating the four Founders, is mounted near the entrance to the library.

Founders Memorial Library is the third building to serve as the main library for NIU. The first library was established in 1900 and located in the east end of Altgeld Hall. The Swen Parson Library opened in 1952 and housed the library collections until the current building opened in the spring of 1977. In April of 1979 the new library building was dedicated as the Founders Memorial Library.

The Friends of the MU Libraries began in 1983 as an association of library supporters interested in contributing to the resources of the University Libraries. The Friends secure gifts, bequests, and other private funds in order to purchase rare books, manuscripts, and other materials which could not otherwise be acquired by the University Libraries. Friends contribute in various ways, including member dues, the Library Endowment Fund, the Bernadine C. Hanby Endowment, and the sponsorship of memorial and honor gift programs. Each April the Friends sponsor and organize a community-wide used book sale. All proceeds from the sale help support the library. Donations of books for the sale are encouraged. Books may be dropped off at the Information Desk or the Circulation Services Desk of Founders Library.

As a service to the libraries and the university community, the Friends sponsor a series of programs each year on topics related to books, libraries, and publishing. These programs are open to the public. A published calendar of the current year’s programs is available for distribution.

Founde Memorial Library has been a selective depository for both Illinois state and U.S. federal government publications since 1960. The Library selects 82.68 per cent of the publications available through the Depository Library Program of the Government Printing Office. Federal publications not selected may be obtained through Interlibrary Loan from the Regional Depository at the Illinois State Library in Springfield and from many of the more than 1,400 other depositories around the country.

These publications are housed in the Government Publications Department on the second floor of the Library. They do not have Library of Congress call numbers, but are shelved according to the Superintendent of Documents, or SuDocs, classification system. Staff in the department can assist patrons in understanding this system. Most of the publications are not found in ILLINET Online. Those issued since 1976 can be found by using the GPO on Silverplatter data base available on the Index Network; earlier material can be located by using various indexes in the Government Publications reference collection.

Finding aids in the department’s reference collection include bibliographies and indexes for state, federal, and international government publications, as well as works dealing with the organization and functions of government bodies at all levels. The reference collection also has a major index series to congressional documents and to sources of state, federal, and international statistics. A CD-ROM workstation provides access to government CD-ROM titles.

The department receives a large number of maps on deposit, including the popular U.S. Geological Survey Topographic Quadrangle maps. Most of the maps are housed in the Map Library. In addition to the extensive collection of U.S. and Illinois publications, the department has a large collection of United Nations official records and publications.

Materials in the Government Publications Department collections can be checked out unless they are stamped or labelled "Building Use Only." All circulating materials are checked out at the main desk in Circulation Services. The department also has master copies of tax forms from current and previous years which are available for photocopying at the patron’s expense. The Law Library is also a selective U.S. federal depository.

ILLINET ONLINE

ILLINET, or the Illinois Library Network, is a cooperative, resource-sharing network that provides a variety of services and databases to approximately 800 Illinois libraries, including the NIU Libraries. ILLINET offers two menu choices: 1) ILLINET Online (IO), the library catalog, and 2) CARL UnCover, a current contents journal index. The primary component of the network is ILLINET Online, also called the Online Catalog. IO is a state-wide union catalog containing more than 8 million records. In addition, IO is capable of providing specific location and circulation status information for items in 40 primarily academic libraries (ILCSO libraries). IO allows the option of searching other library catalogs, individually, collectively in groups, or all 800 libraries. For a list of these library names and options, use the "O - Other libraries" when available as a menu choice.

IO defaults to searching the holdings of the NIU Libraries unless otherwise specified. IO workstations are located on floors 1 through 4 near the reference desks and in the branch libraries. The system operates Monday through Saturday from 7:00 a.m. until midnight and on Sunday from 12:00 noon until midnight. IO is also available through remote dial access computers, LEARN, and the Internet.

ILLINET Online is the library's main catalog. It can be searched by author, title, or subject in either a menu-mode system or a faster command-mode system. Most patrons are able to use the menu system with little difficulty, but the command system requires knowledge of certain basic commands. Patrons may view help screens as an on-screen menu option; type "INFO,00" for a help screen menu. Instruction sheets for both the command-mode system and the menu-mode system are available near the ILLINET Online workstations. Also, the Library provides one-hour hands-on classroom instruction sessions during the first few weeks of each semester. Training session schedules and registration sign-up sheets are located at the Information Desk.

INDEXES, PERIODICAL

The Library's main collection of printed indexes and abstracts is located in the first-floor Reference Department.

Newspaper and periodical indexes provide subject access to articles that appear in newspapers, popular magazines, and specialized subject journals. The printed indexes are shelved in alphabetical order by title. All titles on ILLINET Online with a GRI location code are periodical indexes and shelved as described above; the call numbers should be ignored.

A complete list of the periodical indexes designating shelf location is available at the first-floor reference desk. The Periodicals Holdings List also includes index titles.

INFOPASS/DATAPASS

Contact: Reference Department desk (first floor), 753-1995

The Infopass/Datapass program was initiated in 1973 by the Illinois Regional Library Council. It is a cooperative resource-sharing arrangement aimed toward opening access to library services and collections not ordinarily open to the general public. Most NIU graduate students and faculty seek access to the University of Chicago and Northwestern University libraries. However, several other large private libraries in the Chicago area also accept Infopasses.

NIU students or faculty wanting an Infopass must fill out an Infopass/Datapass form. Forms are available only at the first floor Reference desk. The requestor must have exhausted the resources of the University Libraries in his subject area and must have identified a special collection or resource in another library that will further the research project. Requestors must be screened by a reference librarian. The screening librarian makes sure the form is filled out completely and should include a note on the specific collections or materials needed by the requestor. The form must also be signed by the referring librarian.

Participating libraries determine the extent of services offered to individuals from outside their own user communities. The Infopass generally allows the requestor five visits to the designated library per academic semester or quarter. Infopasses do not allow circulation privileges; materials may be used in the library only. For detailed procedures of the Infopass/Datapass program, refer to Section IX of the Chicago Library System ILLINET Procedures Manual (1987), available at the First Floor Reference Desk.

Interlibrary Loan (ILL) is a service that provides access to materials that are not available in the NIU Libraries. The service is available to the following categories of patrons:

* NIU faculty
* Graduate and undergraduate students
* Staff
* Academic Research Card holders

Patrons should take the following steps to request materials:

1. For books: Fill out a white ILL request form for each item desired.

   For periodical articles: Fill out a blue copy request form for each article to be photocopied.

   For Document Express items: Fill out a pink request form for each item desired.

2. Deposit completed request forms in the wooden bin at the east end of the Circulation desk or bring completed forms to the ILL office during service hours.

ILL forms are available at the Information Desk, at reference desks in FML and branch libraries, in a literature rack next to the deposit bin, and in the ILL office. Document Express forms are available at reference desks only.

In order that their requests be met accurately and efficiently patrons must provide complete and accurate bibliographic information when they fill out the request forms. Librarians offer library bibliographic instruction (BI) to help students learn about the library, including how to conduct more effective library research. The largest library instruction program teaches library skills to English 103, 104, and 105 students. Also, the library holds a three-week laboratory in FML 202 each September for COMS 100P students.

Librarians provide classroom library instruction by appointment. Please refer all faculty inquiries about scheduling a BI session or library tour to the Library Instruction Coordinator or Clerk. For assistance with library equipment, notify the library instruction clerk.

Most English BI classes are held in FML 202. Most higher level BI classes and CD-ROM classes are held in FML 302. ILLINET Online training sessions are held in FML 297. The schedule book listing all classes and tours is kept in the Reference Department office, FML 145. For information on times and classes scheduled, call 743-9851 or 753-0525. All outside groups, including high schools, should contact the Library Instruction Coordinator to schedule library visits. Requests to reserve meeting rooms in the library other than the Library Instruction classrooms should be referred to the Library Administrative Offices, FML 428, telephone 753-9808.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS SUBJECT HEADINGS

The University Libraries uses the Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH) to assign uniform and consistent subject headings to the books and other materials it acquires and catalogs. It is necessary to use the subject headings in order to do subject searches in ILLINET Online or the card catalogs. Copies of the LCSH, published in four large red volumes, can be found at each reference desk, the Information Desk, Microforms, and in the branch libraries. An explanation of the concept of subject headings and instructions for their use can be found in the front of the volumes. Patrons needing assistance should ask for help at any reference desk.

RARE BOOKS AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS, FOURTH FLOOR

Office: FML 403, 753-0255

Service Desk Hours (Fall/Spring semesters):

Monday - Friday 8:00 am - 12:00 Noon

The Rare Books Collection was established in April 1966 by Bernadine C. Hanby, then director of the University Libraries. With the move of the library from Swen Parson Hall to Founders Memorial Library in January 1977, the Rare Books Collection was expanded to include Special Collections. In April 1992, the reading room was formally dedicated as the Bernadine C. Hanby Rare Books and Special Collections Reading Room.

The Reading Room is located in the northwest section of the fourth floor of Founders Memorial Library. By the entrance is a replica of an 18th Century English wooden printing press known as a "common press." This working press has been used to demonstrate printing to classes or to print special leaflets and brochures for the University Libraries and the Rare Books and Special Collections Department.

The collections have grown over the past 25 years to more than 45,000 volumes. The earliest imprint in the Collection is a book published in 1493. Of particular interest is a special collection of approximately 6,500 volumes of old and rare books with a strong emphasis on English 18th century imprints. Included among the rare books are works of Pope, Swift, Burke, "Popish Plot" pamphlets, and Curtis's North American Indian. Other special collections include Midwestern Private Press publications; American Popular Literature from 1865 to 1920; Science Fiction and Western Fiction Magazines; Radical Pamphlets; and works of authors such as Walt Whitman, Jeremy Taylor, Vincent Starrett, H.P. Lovecraft, James Hanley, Lord Byron, Robert Burns, Alan Denson, Willard Motley, and Graham Greene. Two recently established collections are the Edward Ardizzone Collection (purchased by the Friends of NIU Libraries) and the African-American Collection (initiated by the Presidential Commission on the Status of Minorities and supported by President John E. La Tourette). Other significant and unique collections are the Johannsen-Dime Novels, Nisbet-Snyder Drama collection, and the Chicago Lyric Opera Archives.

Rare books do not circulate.

The tests are generally covered by copyright law and are restricted in use. The purpose of the collection is to support undergraduate and graduate teaching and research in Education, Communication Disorders, and related disciplines. Patrons wishing to read and/or take out tests from the library must seek permission from the Education Subject Specialist. Once permission is granted, tests may be circulated for a one-week period. Renewals are allowed.

Old tests developed by NIU professors, to be used as study aids, are also available in the Reserve Room. Test study guides for the GRE, GMAT, etc., are located by call number in the reference collections in each subject reference department, and older editions are shelved in the Stacks.

TRAINING, IO, CD-ROM

Contact Person: Byron Anderson, Coordinator for Computer Access Services, FML 102, Telephone: 753-1992

Librarians provide user training for ILLINET Online and CD-ROM products during the first three to four weeks of each semester. ILLINET Online training sessions provide users with hands-on experience. The following systems are covered:

- ILLINET Online - Menu system
- ILLINET Online - Command system--basic
- ILLINET Online - Command system--advanced
- CARL UnCover
- Index Network - Silver Platter products
- Index Network - WilsonDisc products

Training sessions are held on various days and times. A brochure titled Online Catalog and CD-ROM Training Programs Schedule outlines each semester's training schedule. Advance registration is required. Patrons may register by signing up at the Information Desk or by calling 753-1995. Instructors may arrange special training sessions for their classes. Training for the Online Catalog systems is held in FML 297. CD-ROM sessions are given in FML 302.

TYING ROOM

FML 227

Typewriters for patron use are located in the typing room. The typewriters are coin-operated and only take quarters. Each quarter buys 15 minutes of typing time. Patrons must supply their own paper; the library supplies the ribbons. There are no staff on duty at any time in the typing room, so patrons are on their own. Instructions for obtaining new ribbons and reporting malfunctions are posted in the room. The typing room is open during the hours the library is open.

NOTICE

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Subject: Policy Regarding Authorization Card

Please be aware that signing the attached card extends the following privileges to the named graduate assistant:

- Your graduate assistant may charge out books and periodicals in your name. Books will be charged by computer when possible, and so, there will be no signature record as to who actually charged out the item (i.e. you or the graduate assistant). Manual charge cards will be used for library materials not listed on our computer system and for periodical charges.

- Loan periods for library materials vary. Consult the library policies on circulation loan periods for more specific information. Your graduate assistant may pick up interlibrary loan, remote charge, and recall items that have been ordered for you. They may also originally order these items in your name.

Please note that, if library materials are overdue or are billed as lost for not having been returned, you will receive the overdue notices and/or bills for the item. Because signing this card allows the above-mentioned privileges for the graduate assistant and imparts full responsibility for the items to you, it is important that you closely monitor items your graduate assistant charges out by using this authorization card.

Please sign this form and see that it is returned along with the filled out authorization card.

I have read the information outlined above.
