This General Marketing Occupational Competency Analysis Profile (OCAP) is one of a series of competency lists, verified by expert workers, that have evolved from a modified DACUM (Developing a Curriculum) job analysis process involving business, industry, labor, and community agency representatives from throughout Ohio. This OCAP identifies the occupational, academic, and employability skills (or competencies) needed to enter marketing occupations. The OCAP clusters the competencies into broader units and details the knowledge, skills, and attitudes (competency builders) needed to perform each competency. The competencies are clustered into the following 12 units: human resource foundations; marketing and business foundations; economic foundations; promotion; risk management; distribution; pricing; financing; product and service development and operations; purchasing; marketing information management; and technology. This guide also includes the following components: (1) an OCAP listing employability competencies; (2) work keys assessments that measure students’ applied academic skills; (3) job profiling, a key to the level of applied skills required for the accounting occupation; (4) a total list of academic competencies in communications, mathematics, and science; and (5) a list of academic competencies from the total list that were identified by expert workers as most crucial to the entry-level success of employees in marketing. Introduction

What is an OCAP?

According to the Action Plan for Accelerating the Modernization of Vocational Education: Ohio's Future at Work—

A comprehensive and verified employer competency list will be developed and kept current for each program

—Imperative 3, Objective 2—

The Occupational Competency Analysis Profiles (OCAPs) are the Ohio Division of Vocational and Adult Education’s response to that objective.

OCAPs are competency lists—verified by expert workers—that evolve from a modified DACUM job analysis process involving business, industry, labor, and community agency representatives from throughout Ohio. The OCAP process is directed by the Vocational Instructional Materials Laboratory located at The Ohio State University’s Center on Education and Training for Employment.

How is the OCAP used?

Each OCAP identifies the occupational, academic, and employability skills (or competencies) needed to enter a given occupation or occupational area. The OCAP not only lists the competencies but also clusters those competencies into broader units and details the knowledge, skills, and attitudes (competency builders) needed to perform each competency.

Within the competency list are two levels of items: core and advancing. Core items, which are essential for entry-level employment, are required to be taught and are the basis for questions on the Ohio Vocational Competency Assessment (OVCA). Advancing items (marked with an asterisk) are those needed to advance in a given occupation.

School districts may add as many units, competencies, and/or competency builders as desired to reflect local employment needs, trends, and specialties. Local advisory committees should be actively involved in the identification and verification of additional items. Vocational and applied academic instructors will be able to formulate their courses of study using the varied contents of the OCAP and will be able to monitor competency gains via the new criterion-referenced competency testing program, which is tied to the competencies identified on the OCAP.

The Purpose of Job Profiling

Developed by American College Testing (ACT), the purpose of the Job Profiling process is to identify the level of applied academic skills that, according to business and industry, students must master to qualify for and be successful in their occupation of choice. The results of Job Profile “leveling” can help teachers to better target instruction toward their students’ needs.

As part of the Ohio Vocational Competency Assessment (OVCA) program, the Vocational Instructional Materials Laboratory (VIML) at The Ohio State University has conducted Job Profiling workshops in which representatives of business, industry, labor, and community organizations identified the academic skill levels needed by entry-level workers in the occupational areas covered by the OCAPs. The Job Profiling, which was carried out in spring 1994 and spring 1995, was sponsored by the Ohio Department of Education, Division of Vocational and Adult Education.

OVCA—What Is It?

The Ohio Vocational Competency Assessment (or OVCA) package consists of two assessment components: OCAP and Work Keys. Together they measure entry-level occupational, academic, and employability skills. All OVCA items are criterion-referenced, use a multiple-choice format, and are administered using a traditional paper-and-pencil method. The OVCA is designed to do the following:

- Provide one dimension of a multi-assessment strategy for career passport credentialing
- Evaluate learner readiness for jobs requiring specific occupational, academic, and employability skills
- Assist educators in curriculum development
- Provide state-aggregated learning gain scores to comply with the regulations in the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Act of 1990

OCAP. The OCAP component of OVCA assesses students in occupational skills—employment requirements—in a particular occupational area. Assessment is based on the core competencies identified through the OCAP process, and each multiple-choice assessment item is correlated to those essential competencies.

Work Keys. The Work Keys component, developed by ACT, measures students’ applied academic skills. All OVCA packages contain two Work Keys assessments:

- Applied Mathematics measures students’ ability to analyze, set up, and solve math problems typically found in the workplace.
- Locating Information measures students’ ability to use graphic documents to insert, extract, and apply information.

In addition, certain taxonomies will use the following Work Keys assessments:

- Reading for Information will be used by Business, Marketing, Home Economics, Health Education, and Cosmetology taxonomies.
- Applied Technology will be used by Trade and Industrial and Agricultural Education taxonomies.

Other optional Work Keys assessments, not included in the basic OVCA package, are Teamwork, Listening, and Writing.

Each Work Keys assessment is further broken down into four to five levels of achievement, with higher numbers indicating higher achievement in the assessed skill (descriptions of the levels for each Work Keys assessment are provided on pp 35-41). For each academic skill, the Job Profiling process identifies the level required for successful entry into an occupational area.
Job Profiling—How It Works

VIML's Job Profiling process was initiated by mailing surveys to current workers in OCAP occupations all across Ohio. The survey's purpose: to have actual workers in specific occupations rate job tasks according to each task's frequency and criticality—that is, the amount of time spent performing each task relative to other tasks and the importance of each task to overall job performance.

To complete the survey, participants examined OCAP competencies for their occupation. Based on the survey's results, VIML staff produced a list of the most critical competencies in each occupation.

The next stage of Job Profiling was to convene committees of subject-matter experts to perform "leveling," which involved the following tasks:

• Examining the frequency and criticality competency lists for an occupation
• Reviewing the levels associated with each of the seven Work Keys academic skills: Locating Information, Reading for Information, Applied Mathematics, Applied Technology, Listening, Writing, and Teamwork
• Identifying the level of skill students must master relative to each Work Keys academic skill in order to successfully perform the occupational competencies

Finally, in 1995, the initial leveling of Work Keys academic skills for the occupational area covered by this OCAP was revalidated by the new panel of expert workers convened to update the OCAP (see inside back cover).

Example of Job Profiling

For every occupational area, there are shaded graphs to represent each of the seven Work Keys academic skills. Each graph shows the range of levels for that particular skill; the shading represents the academic skill level required by an entry-level worker in that occupation, as determined by the Job Profiling committee. For example:

!Applied Mathematics

In the example shown, Applied Mathematics has a skill range of 3–7. The required skill level, determined by Job Profiling and shown by the highlighting, is 6.
NOTE: Definitions of each level in each of the seven academic skill areas are provided on the pages that follow.
Levels of Work Keys Defined

The skills needed to achieve each level for each of the seven Work Keys* academic skills are as follows.

Applied Mathematics

Locating Information

Locating Information measures skill in using information taken from workplace graphics such as diagrams, blueprints, floor plans, tables, forms, graphs, charts, and instrument gauges. There are four levels of complexity, 3 through 6, with Level 3 being the least complex and Level 6 the most complex. The levels build on each other, each incorporating the skills at the preceding levels.

Level 3
- Find one or two pieces of information in elementary workplace graphics, such as simple order forms, bar graphs, tables, flowcharts, and floor plans.
- Fill in one or two pieces of information that are missing from elementary workplace graphics.

Level 4
- Find several pieces of information in straightforward workplace graphics, such as basic order forms, line graphs, tables, instrument gauges, maps, flowcharts, and diagrams.
- Summarize and/or compare information and trends in a single straightforward graphic.
- Summarize and/or compare information and trends among more than one straightforward workplace graphic, such as a bar chart and a data table showing related information.

Level 5
- Summarize and/or compare information and trends in single complicated workplace graphics, such as detailed forms, tables, graphs, maps, instrument gauges, and diagrams.
- Summarize and/or compare information and trends among more than one complicated workplace graphic, such as a bar chart and a data table showing related information.

Level 6
- Make decisions, draw conclusions, and/or apply information to new situations using several related and complex workplace graphics that contain a great amount of information or have challenging presentations (e.g., very detailed graphs, charts, tables, forms, maps, blueprints, diagrams).
Reading for Information

Reading for Information measures skill in reading and understanding work-related reading materials. There are five levels of complexity, 3 through 7, with Level 3 being the least complex and Level 7 the most complex. Although Level 3 is the least complex, it still represents a level of reading skill well above “no skill at all.” The levels build on each other, each incorporating the skills at the preceding levels.

Level 3
- Identify uncomplicated key concepts and simple details.
- Recognize the proper placement of a step in a sequence of events, or the proper time to perform a task.
- Identify the meaning of words that are defined within a passage.
- Identify the meaning of simple words that are not defined within a passage.
- Recognize the application of instructions from a passage to situations that are described in the passage.

Level 4
- Identify details that are more subtle than those in Level 3.
- Recognize the application of more complex instructions, some of which involve several steps, to described situations.
- Recognize cause-effect relationships.

Level 5
- Identify the paraphrased definition of jargon or technical terms that are defined in a passage and recognize the application of jargon or technical terms to stated situations.
- Recognize the definition of acronyms that are defined in a passage.
- Identify the appropriate definition of words with multiple meanings.
- Recognize the application of instructions from a passage to new situations that are similar to the situations described in the reading materials.

- Generalize from a passage to situations neither described in nor completely similar to those in a passage.
Applied Technology

Applied Technology measures skill in solving problems of a technological nature, involving the basic principles of mechanics, electricity, fluid dynamics, and thermodynamics as they apply to machines and equipment found in the workplace. There are four levels of complexity, 3 through 6, with Level 3 being the least complex and Level 6 the most complex. Although Level 3 is the least complex, it still represents a level of applied technology skill well above "no skill at all." The levels build on each other, each incorporating the skills at the preceding levels.

Level 3
- Apply the elementary physical principles underlying the operation of uncomplicated systems or tools.
- Recognize and identify relevant aspects of simple problems that involve one uncomplicated system or tool.

- Solve problems that contain extraneous information.
- Solve problems involving one or more tools or systems having a wide range of complexity.
- Apply difficult physical principles.
- Understand and correctly interpret the interaction of several complex systems.
Listening

Listening measures skill in listening to and understanding work-related messages; receiving information from customers, coworkers, or suppliers; and then writing down the information to communicate it to someone else. Students demonstrate their ability to distinguish and communicate critical information and noncritical information. Critical information consists of those details that the recipient of the message must have in order to understand the message and act upon it (e.g., names, phone numbers, addresses, times). Noncritical information can improve a message by providing details that further explain the message or its tone, but the absence of this noncritical information does not interfere with the recipient's ability to understand and accurately act upon the message. Each Listening level describes the content and quality of messages students write to describe an audio message.

Level 0
- No meaningful information, or totally inaccurate information.

Level 1
- Minimal pertinent information; enough context to provide clues as to gist of situation or source of further information.

Level 2
- Some pertinent information; may have incorrect critical information, but sketch of the situation is correct.

Level 3
- All the critical information that is present is correct; may be missing a few pieces of critical information.

Level 4
- All critical information is given and is correct; may be missing subtle details or tone; may have incorrect noncritical information that does not interfere with central meaning.

Level 5

Writing measures skill at writing work-related messages; receiving information from customers, coworkers, or suppliers; and then writing down the information to communicate it to someone else. Each Writing level rates the writing mechanics (such as sentence structure and grammar) and writing style of messages students write to describe an audio message.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Level</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0</td>
<td>An attempt is made at the message, but the message is completely garbled with no recognizable sentence structure.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Message conveyed inadequately; overall lack of proper sentence structure.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Message conveyed inadequately; weak sentence structure; large number of mechanical errors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Message conveyed clearly; most sentences complete; some mechanical errors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Message conveyed clearly; all sentences are complete; may have a few minor mechanical errors; may have a choppy style.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Message conveyed clearly; good sentence structure; no mechanical errors; highly appropriate for business setting and situation; smooth, logical style.</td>

Teamwork

Teamwork measures skill in choosing behaviors and/or actions that simultaneously support team interrelationships and lead toward the accomplishment of work tasks. There are four levels of complexity, 3 through 6, with Level 3 being the least complex and Level 6 the most complex. Although Level 3 is the least complex, it still represents a level of teamwork skill well above "no skill at all." The levels build on each other, each incorporating the skills at the preceding levels.

Level 3
- Identify team goals and ways to work with other team members to accomplish those goals.
- Choose actions that support the ideas of other team members to accomplish team goals.
- Recognize that a team is having problems finishing a task and identify the cause of those problems.

Level 4
- Identify the organization of tasks and the time schedule that would help accomplish team goals efficiently and effectively.
- Select approaches that accept direction from other team members in order to accomplish tasks and to build and keep up good team relations.
- Identify behaviors that show appreciation for the personal and professional qualities of other team members and respect for their diversity.

Level 5
- Identify courses of action that give direction to other team members effectively.
- Choose approaches that encourage and support the efforts of other team members to further team relationships and/or task accomplishment.
- Consider the possible effects of alternative behaviors on both team relationships and team accomplishments and select the one that would best help the team meet its goals.

Level 6
- Identify the focus of team activity and select a new focus if that would help the team meet its goals more effectively.
- Select approaches that show the willingness to give and take direction as needed to further team goals (e.g., recognize the organization of team members’ tasks that would best serve the larger goals of the team).
- Choose approaches that encourage a team to act as a unit and reach agreement when discussing specific issues.
- Identify actions that would help manage differences of opinion among team members, moving the team toward its goals while valuing and supporting individual diversity.
Academic Competencies
Total List of Academic Competencies

Three products of the Ohio Department of Education, Division of Curriculum, Instruction, and Professional Development, describe the academic skills that should be possessed by each student at the end of each grade level:

- Model Competency-Based Language Arts Program
- Model Competency-Based Mathematics Program
- Model Competency-Based Science Program

The following lists were derived from the academic competencies delineated for Grades 9-12 in these documents. Although the competencies are listed separately by grade level in the original documents, the levels were combined—and in some cases refined—for OCAP purposes, any overlap was eliminated, and a numbering system was imposed for ease of reference.

During the course of the OCAP workshops, each of the representatives from business, industry, labor, and community-based organizations was given a copy of these lists of academic competencies and instructed to circle the competencies that an entry-level employee should possess. The results from each panel were tallied to identify those required academic competencies most crucial to entry level in each specific occupational area. The results for this OCAP are presented on pp. 59-64.
