This workplace skills business writing course presents the fundamentals of effective business letter writing. It focuses on logical organization, word choice, style, tone, and clarity, using students' own examples as well as practice exercises for reinforcement. Introductory material includes course description, objectives, and topical outline. The course consists of six sessions, each of which has these components: objectives, topics, methods, evaluation, materials list, teacher tips, and information sheets and handouts. Topics covered in the sessions include the following: analyzing the author's purpose, the reader, the style, and tone; prewriting--brainstorming, organizing, freewriting; writing clearly and correctly; and editing. ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Mercer County Community College thanks Lorna Burt, Senior Education Specialist/Curriculum Developer for creating this manual. Through her valuable contributions employees in manufacturing and service industries learned concepts relevant to their existing jobs and strategies for learning other tasks if that opportunity should arise.
WORKPLACE SKILLS TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

A factory or service center creates a classroom that is very different from the one we are used to seeing in colleges and adult schools, so it only follows that our approach to teaching in the factory should also differ.

Our goal is to teach employees skills that they need in order to be functional and successful in their work environment, and encourage them to apply those skills on the job and at home. For example, we motivate students to do the following:

- work more efficiently and more safely
- make fewer mistakes
- solve problems working interactively
- take greater responsibility for their jobs
- recognize the interconnectedness of the various jobs in their workplace
- be better communicators in the workplace

Company needs are revealed through a needs assessment. At that time, we also determine the basic skills needs of the employees. We are learner centered, as the individual employee’s needs are considered alongside those of the company.

Once we have determined those needs, we develop curricula that incorporate basic skills, using the workplace literature (e.g. forms, applications, codes, abbreviations, charts and tables, handbooks, regulations, procedures, policies, memos, letters) of the company. Because each company is different, the needs and literature are also different; hence, we develop new materials for every company in which we teach. By utilizing these workplace items, we help students transfer and apply their skills directly to their jobs.

We rely on the classroom techniques of problem solving, cooperative learning, and group discussion. Our overall approach is concept based, with the emphasis on application, such as in role plays, dialogues, and group work. Despite the specific course titles, we incorporate the elements of math, English, and communication skills into all of our sessions.

In terms of students evaluation, after initial testing we give a pre-test and post-test in order to determine comprehension. Students receive feedback throughout the course from the instructor, as well as from fellow students as we sincerely believe in the powerful positive reinforcement of peer critiques and cooperative exchanges.

In essence, we believe that although we make the materials for the students with which to work, it is the students who truly make the class.
BUSINESS WRITING II

COURSE OUTLINE:

In order to communicate effectively, we need to be able to write clearly and persuasively. This course presents the fundamentals of effective business letter writing. We will focus on logical organization, word choice, style, tone and clarity, using students' own examples as well as practice exercises for reinforcement.

OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to do the following:

- identify the reason for writing
- analyze the reader and what his response should be
- choose appropriate styles and tones
- organize ideas into the most effective order
- apply the principles of good business writing, including grammar, punctuation and mechanics
- edit first drafts
- write clear, precise letters and memos

TOPICAL OUTLINE:

- analyzing the author's purpose, the reader, the style and tone
- prewriting – brainstorming, organizing, freewriting
- writing clearly and correctly
- editing

OTHER:

- Hours: 12
- CEU: 1.2
BUSINESS WRITING II ♦ SESSION 1

OBJECTIVES:

In order to write a work related memo or letter, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- assess how efficiently they write
- understand the purpose of writing a memo
- understand the principles of good writing
- know why they are writing a particular message
- analyze their reader and what his response should be

TOPICS:

- efficiency assessment
- the principles of good writing
- planning the document
  ⇒ purpose
  ⇒ audience
  ⇒ bottom line

METHODS:

- guided discussion of principles
- group work
- practice situations for discussion and writing

EVALUATION:

- pre-class exercise
- correction in class and self evaluation of class exercises
BUSINESS WRITING II • SESSION 1

MATERIALS:

- Efficiency assessment
- Pre-class exercise
- Principles of Good Writing
- Tips for Effective Communication
- Document Planning Sheet
- Audience and Use Profile Sheet
Introductions
Course overview and what we hope to achieve in the next 6 weeks. Efficiency Assessment helps to clarify what will be covered in the course, as well as giving students guidelines for assessing where individual problems lie.

Pre-class exercise. Wesserveyou Airlines. Get students to write about what they think is wrong with the letter. Assess on the interpretation of what the purpose is of the letter, and whether it achieves its purpose.

Discussion – what's the purpose of writing a memo/letter?

Discussion – first step to writing –

1. PURPOSE:
   why am I writing this?
   what do I want my reader to do?

2. AUDIENCE:
   who is my reader?
   what is he/she?
   what does he/she know about the subject?
   how will he/she react and use this document?
   is there anyone else who should read this?

3. BOTTOM LINE:
   if the reader were to forget everything else, what is the one idea I want to get across?

Use Audience-and-Use Profile Sheet and Document Planning Sheet in preparation for writing a letter which they will work on and submit for evaluation, at the end of the course.
EFFICIENCY ASSESSMENT

To assess how efficiently you write, answer the following questions about the processes you use when you write memos, letters and reports.

1. Before I begin, I ask myself what my goals are for writing the document.

2. I ask myself questions about who will be reading my document.

3. I expect to write my document perfectly immediately.

4. I stop and fix mistakes as I write.

5. Before I write I brain-storm and record my ideas on paper.

6. I introduce my main ideas clearly and concisely.

7. I give explanations and examples in the body of my document.

8. I try to group together all my requests for the action I want the reader to take.

9. I try to put as much information into as few pages as possible.

10. I try to make my writing/typing visibly easy to read.

11. I edit my work ruthlessly, cutting out from, rather than adding to, my first draft.

Mr. John Smith
19 Montgomery Road
Trenton, NJ 08690

Dear Mr. Smith:

I was asked to investigate the circumstances that prompted your recent letter and respond directly to you. I apologize that your special meals continue to be a source of irritation and you are simply not receiving them as requested.

In checking your recent past date record, it appears that special meals were ordered for flights 123 and 456, but not on flight 654 as your documentation states. I believe that this problem is occurring between the transmission of the information your travel agent is putting into the computer and what we are receiving. It does not seem to be anybody's fault, but simply a computer glitch. However, I realize how frustrating and inconvenient this must be for you. I would be more than happy to speak with your travel agent regarding this issue so that he and I can come up with a solution to your problem. Please feel free to have her call me so we can figure this out together.

Mr. Smith, again, I apologize that you are having such a difficult time. This is not something that you should have to worry about and I am more than happy to solve the problem. Thank you for the opportunity to be of assistance. We, at WESERVEYOU AIRLINES, are here to serve you.

Yours truly,

1. Know why you are writing. What do you hope to accomplish by writing? What do you want the reader to think, feel, say or do as a result of reading your communication?

2. Write the way you speak. Though written English is usually more formal than spoken, use standard, straightforward language. Don’t make anything more complicated than it needs to be. Fancy vocabulary more often than not creates problems.

3. Write for your reader, not for yourself. Involve your reader in your communication.

4. Be positive and, wherever possible, look upon situations optimistically.

5. Be certain your writing is clear, concise, accessible, complete and accurate, correct and organized.
TIPS FOR EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

- Keep your writing clear, concise and simple.
- Choose your words carefully.
- Be natural.
- Avoid fad words, jargon, and clichés.
- Use the active rather than the passive voice.
- Be committed to what you say. Avoid qualifiers.
- Use familiar words.
- Be specific. Avoid vagueness.
- Eliminate redundant expressions.
- Keep your audience in mind.

TRANSITIONS

TRANSITIONS are words or phrases that show the relationship between one statement and another or one paragraph and another. They make your writing read more smoothly.

TO EXPLAIN – for instance, for example, to illustrate, also, that is, too, namely

TO CONTRAST – however, nevertheless, yet, but, on the other hand, on the contrary, otherwise, in contrast, in spite of, instead

TO ADD – in addition, furthermore, similarly, besides, moreover, a second..., another..., again

TO SHOW REPETITION – in other words, as I have said, that is, as has been stated

TO SHOW ORDER – first, second, third, finally, in conclusion

TO SHOW RESULT – therefore, as a result, consequently, for this reason, accordingly, in conclusion

TO EMPHASIZE – in fact, indeed, in any event, naturally

TO CONCEDE A POINT – fortunately, of course, in fact, naturally
TIPS FOR SETTING OUT YOUR LETTER

When reader's reaction is positive or neutral and you aren't asking for any action –

- give good news first. Summarize main points in 1st paragraph.
- in body, give supporting details, negative aspects and benefits.
- make last paragraph personal and positive.

When you have bad news –

- open with a neutral statement.
- give the reason for the news before the bad news itself.
- be clear and concise.
- try to give an alternative or compromise.
- try to end positively.

When you want the reader to do something –

- catch the reader's interest.
- define the problem.
- explain the solution.
- show that any objections are outweighed by the benefits
- tell the reader exactly what you want him to do.
STYLE AND TONE

What you say in a memo or letter is partly how you say it.

Your message can get lost in your words. The whole message is more than understanding the dictionary definitions of the words you use.

Writing effectively conveys how you wish to relate to your audience and what you want your audience to feel in response.

You must choose what style is appropriate for the occasion. Should you be personal or impersonal, simple and direct or more complex and colorful, forceful or passive?

To be an effective communicator remember:

1. Your style has an impact on your reader
2. Style communicates almost as much as the content of a message
3. Style cannot be isolated from a situation
4. There is no general style to fit all situations

For a forceful style – appropriate where the writer has power to give orders or to say no, firmly but politely to a subordinate.

♦ use the active voice
♦ don’t beat about the bush. Say it directly.
♦ Write most sentences in subject-verb-object order. Don’t weaken sentences by relegating the action to a subordinate clause: "Mike was offered the job, although the competition was intense," not "Although Mike was offered the job, the competition was intense."
♦ be confident. Avoid words like possibly, maybe, perhaps, some might conclude that

For a passive style – appropriate in negative situations and where the writer is subordinate to the reader.

♦ avoid the imperative

29
STYLE AND TONE

- occasional use of the passive: "Valuable time is being wasted" instead of "You are wasting valuable time."
- use words like possibly, maybe, perhaps, some might conclude that

For a personal style — appropriate in good news and persuasive action/request situations.

- use the active voice
- use personal pronouns (particularly you and I) and people's names, instead of titles
- uses short sentences that give the rhythm of ordinary conversation
- direct questions to the reader
- add positive personal thoughts and references to reinforce that this is not some type of form letter, sent to lots of others

For an impersonal style — appropriate in negative and information conveying situations. (Also in technical and scientific writing)

- avoid using people's names and personal pronouns
- use the passive voice
- make some of your sentences complex and some paragraphs long.

For a colorful style — appropriate for the more persuasive writing of sales and advertising letters.

- use adjectives and adverbs
- if appropriate, use metaphors — our new product is a miracle of modern design; or similes — our new cleaner works like magic to remove stains

There can be some overlap in these styles. This is a guide to help you, but, in the end, it is up to you to decide how you say what you want to say.
Company XYZ has a policy of flextime. Below are a selection of letters written by the Manager of Human Resources telling all employees about the program. Discuss how each meets the needs of the reader and the organization. Is the message clear, complete and concise?

To: All Employees
From: Manager, Human Resources
Subject: Now you can come and go when you want!

Great news! As from Monday, March 1, you get to choose your own hours! Well, not any hours, but as long as you're here from 10 to 3, the rest is up to you. This will make life easier for you moms and dads. We all know what a pain it is trying to juggle home and work. And those without kids won't mind the extra flexibility to catch up on time in the gym. It will be good to get on the machines without having to wait. Just work it out with your supervisor. Someone has to be around from 9 to 5. We don't want the customers thinking there's nobody here when they phone! Enjoy!

To: All Employees
From: Manager, Human Resources
Subject: Flextime

Following the Executive Board meeting on February 3, 1993, in accordance with company policy regarding changes to procedures, it is announced that from Monday, March 1, 1993, Company XYZ will be initiating a system of flextime. Attendance between the hours of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be regarded as obligatory. However employees will have the option of choosing their own hours of commencement and departure, subject to their supervisor's approval and providing they are present for the mandatory eight hours. The other stipulation is that personnel are present at all times in order to facilitate the answering of telephones.
MEMOS FOR DISCUSSION

To: All Employees
From: Manager, Human Resources
Subject: Another Employee Benefit for Employees who work here at Company XYZ.

Some of you may already have got wind of the new policy that we are about to initiate at XYZ. We are really excited about it and know that once you get used to the new system; you too will be as enthusiastic as we are. However there are some organizational details that you need to be aware of.

Things will get under way on March 1, 1993. At that time you will be able to be more flexible about you start and finish times. You have to be at work between the core hours of 10 a.m and 3 p.m. and then have to put in the extra 3 hours to make the 8 hour work day. This means that, for example, you could come in at 6 a.m. and then leave by 3 p.m. Or, if you wanted to come in at 9.30 a.m. it would mean that you could only leave at 5.30 p.m. You will be able to work out whatever suits you best. You can even come in at different times on different days, so long as you have your supervisor’s permission.

As I have just said, you do need to get your supervisor’s permission. This is obvious, because otherwise it might mean that on some days and at some times, there might not be anybody to answer the telephones. You all know that customers are the lifeblood of our company, so we must have somebody here at all times.

I do see that there might be a few problems with this to start out, but I am confident that we can work it out. I hope that you think that this is a good idea and that it gives you more time to spend with your families or catching up with those things that we never get time to do in a normal work week.

Now rewrite this memo.
BUSINESS WRITING II ♦ SESSION 3

OBJECTIVES:

In order to write effective memos and letters, at the end of this session students will be able to:

- brainstorm
- organize their ideas into the most effective order
- freewrite
- write a first draft

TOPICS:

- brainstorming
- organizing ideas
- freewriting
- writing a first draft

METHODS:

- guided discussion of principles
- group work applying principles
- writing

EVALUATION:

- self evaluation of first draft

MATERIALS:

- The Brainstorm Outline
TEACHER TIPS  ❖  SESSION 3

Discussion on brainstorming – tends to be useful for longer memos, letters and reports.

1. Regular jotting down of ideas
2. Picture Outline
   - nonlinear, pictorial way of getting ideas and their relationship
   - to each other on paper
   - encourages free association of ideas
   - space to squeeze in new ideas
   - visual grouping of ideas
   - put related ideas on same spoke or close to it
   - less important facts stem out of more important ones

Brainstorm using both methods (either 2 of 3 original memos or new ones)

Organizing ideas:

- what order will be most effective?
- can any details be combined?
- look at what general topics emerge
- will these be separate headings/paragraphs?

Freewriting:

- write from beginning to end. If a good beginning doesn't emerge, go onto next idea.
- let your thoughts flow. Don't worry about mechanics. That comes with editing.
- change nothing as you write.
OBJECTIVES:

In order to write clear, well constructed letters and memos, at the end of this session, students will be able to do the following:

- edit for visual impact
- simplify complicated sentences
- remove cliches, redundancies and obsolete expressions
- avoid ambiguities
- use the active rather than the passive voice

TOPICS:

- basic rules for editing: trimming unnecessary words, simplifying language, removing cliches, redundancies, ambiguities, and obsolete expressions

METHODS:

- guided discussion of principles
- worksheets of examples
- application of the above to own first drafts

EVALUATION:

- comparison of first to second drafts
- successful completion of worksheets
MATERIALS:

- Three Steps to Editing
- The Importance of Visual Impact
- Editing: What to look for
- Simplifying Prepositional Phrases
- Simplifying Phrases
- Sentences to Simplify
- Outdated Business Language
- Redundancies
- Being Tactful and Positive
- Eliminating Redundancies
- Making Passive Sentences Active
TEACHER TIPS ➕ SESSION 4 & 5

- The purpose of these two sessions is for students to edit their five memos that they have been working on throughout the course. These will be submitted in session #6.

- Students are introduced to the rules of editing, using company and class generated materials. The handouts are for back-up and for the students to use later.

- The handouts are supplemented by worksheets to edit.

- Then students look at their own writing. Encourage them to be critical of their first drafts and to edit ruthlessly. This is a good time for the instructor to spend time with individual students and their specific writing problems.
THREE STEPS TO EDITING

In order to simplify the task of editing, we suggest you divide it up into three separate sections.

1. Looking at the whole picture – the overall content and organization of your work. Skim through your document. Does it look easy to read? If it looks hard to read, it is hard to read and may not get read at all!

2. Editing what you have written. Read for clarity, conciseness and simplicity. Can you leave out phrases or sentences that might confuse your reader? Can you simplify what is left? The sections that follow go into this editing in detail.

THE IMPORTANCE OF VISUAL IMPACT

USE:

♦ Short paragraphs

Paragraphs have three purposes:
⇒ to develop the single idea presented in the topic sentence or subject line
⇒ to provide a logical break in material
⇒ to create physical breaks that help the reader visually

Paragraphs should be short – 5-6 lines.

♦ Headlines

Headlines focus your reader on major ideas

♦ Highlighting

Use bold, italics, capitals to focus your reader on important information

♦ Bullets

For impact, use bullets to replace lists within sentences
EDITING: WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Lengthy Sentences

In arranging for the customer to finance his car, Chrysler dealers were at a disadvantage when competing with General Motors and Ford dealers because both these companies offered direct auto financing to dealers and customers through their own financing sources and Chrysler dealers had to look to outside sources to satisfy their financing requirements.

Rewrite the following sentences so that they are simpler and more concise.

1. Pursuant to our meeting last week, the undersigned requests the opinion of your workteam concerning the feasibility of the proposed guidelines.

2. In the event of an unexpected accident and you are a witness who saw the accident, you should file a completed accident report with the office of the safety director.

3. They would not divulge the reason that their equipment was in a non-operative condition.

4. We must interface with the Personnel Department as to the availability of the training facility in order to assemble for our class.

5. Enclosed you will find various selections from literature about chemical contaminants to assist engineering personnel who are in the process of preparing documentation on the inherent problems at the aforementioned site.
Good business writing requires flexibility and a willingness to change. Many obsolete phrases and overused expressions are no longer appropriate and make your writing dull and expressionless.

Examples:

comply with your request
permit us to remind you pleasure of a reply
regret to advise you thanking you kindly we take pleasure in advising subsequent to your letter of as per our agreement
as per your request

Rewrite the sentences below, eliminating the unnecessary words.

1. In my opinion, I personally like working together with other people.

2. Joint cooperation is absolutely essential for the mutual benefit of everyone.

3. The working environment at ABC Company is very unique in the Princeton area.

4. As a general rule, my supervisor arrives at 9.00 a.m., each and every day.

5. Please remit your complete and full report by Monday, so that if it doesn't meet our goals and objectives, you can continue on and revise it before the meeting. The other alternative is for us to meet together to revise it together.

6. An extremely higher concentration of sodium and chloride concentrations might in all probability be considered a clear indication of surface water impact on groundwater quality.
MAKING PASSIVE SENTENCES ACTIVE

Overusing the passive voice makes you sound ineffectual, and unwilling to take a stand. Instead, use the active voice to sound more positive and capable of getting the job done.

Example:

We have received your letter or Thank you for your letter rather than
Receipt of your letter is acknowledged

Rewrite the sentences below using the active voice.

1. The client was notified by the consultant that the meeting would take place the following Thursday.

2. Suggestions and comments about my ideas can be given without hurting my feelings.

3. It was stated in the nurse's report that fewer accidents were suffered by employees this year than in the previous three years.

4. It is advised that accurate minutes of all departmental meetings be kept and reports submitted by departments at the end of every month.

5. Influences from other sources will be demonstrated if significant differences are to be found.

6. Clients are being put on hold for extended periods while you are being located by us.

SPELLING RULES

1. i before e, except after c, if the sound of the 2 letters combined is "ee":
   - mischief
   - receive

   i before e if the sound of the 2 letters combined is "ee". If not, the pattern is reversed:
   - foreign

   Exceptions:
   - either, neither
   - seize, leizure
   - weird, sheik

2. If a word ends in "y" and the "y" comes after a consonant, change the y to i before adding more to the word:
   - enemy
   - secretary
   - try
   - study
   - lonely
   - enemies
   - secretaries
   - tries
   - studies
   - loneliness

   But when you add "ing" you keep the "y":
   - try
   - study
   - trying
   - studying

   If the "y" comes after a vowel, you do not change it to "i":
   - holiday
   - display
   - employ
   - pay
   - holidays
   - displays
   - employment
   - payment

   Exceptions:
   - day
   - pay
   - lay
   - daily
   - paid
   - laid
SPELLING RULES

3. Drop the final silent e when adding an ending that begins with a vowel:

   - accuse → accusing
   - dispute → disputing

   Keep the final silent e when adding an ending that begins with a consonant*:

   - hope → hopeless
   - spite → spiteful

   Exceptions:

   - judgment → courageous
   - dyeing → argument
   - truly

4. Double the final consonant, when adding an ending, when the vowel sound says its sound:

   - sum → summary
   - trim → trimming
   - program → programming

   Usually, in words of more than one syllable, when the accent is on the 1st. syllable, do not double the consonant:

   - layer → layering
   - offer → offered
   - cancel → canceled

   Usually, in words of more than one syllable, when the accent is on the 2nd. syllable, double the consonant:

   - occur → occurring
   - refer → referred
   - prefer → preferred
   - remit → remittance
   - omit → omitted

   Do not double the final consonant, when adding an ending when the vowel sound says its own name:

   - time → timing
   - rage → raging
   - cope → coping
FREQUENTLY CONFUSED WORDS

Fill in the blank in each sentence by selecting the word you think most appropriate from the words in parentheses.

1. Don't let my opinion __________________ your decision.
   (effect, affect)

2. The __________________ of the new price increases will be that fewer people will be able to afford the product.
   (effect, affect)

3. It becomes a matter of __________________ that we offer products at affordable prices.
   (principal, principle)

4. After working in sales for a year, she decided that she was __________________ in it.
   (disinterested, uninterested)

5. Let me __________________ an example to illustrate the point.
   (cite, site, sight)

6. The __________________ is an important part of this program.
   (counselor, counselor)

7. Do you mean to __________________ that I am not telling the truth?
   (infer, imply)

8. From what you have said, I have reason to __________________ it.
   (infer, imply)
FREQUENTLY CONFUSED WORDS

9. Nothing that happened after the meeting could ______________ from the initial excitement we all felt.
   (detract, distract)

10. He received many ______________ for the presentation he gave on the importance of good customer relations.
    (complements, compliments)

11. When we arrived, the others were ______________ to go.
    (all ready, already)

12. I make __________ mistakes in punctuation than I did before I took this course.
    (less, fewer)

13. In order to relax, you must ______________ deeply.
    (breath, breathe)

14. The new rule, ______________ antagonizing the employees, will be difficult to administer.
    (beside, besides)

15. Writing letters is another good ______________ of communication for this purpose.
    (median, medium)
COMMAS

1. Use a comma in a compound sentence between the 2 independent clauses and before the conjunction unless it obstructs the flow.

   IC, for IC.
   IC, but IC.

   Examples:
   He asked for a promotion, but he got a demotion.
   She had to go to the warehouse, so she left early.

2. Use commas around removable information.

   Examples:
   The house, made of wood and cement, was demolished in 1988.
   The company, a turbine manufacturer, has three locations.
   Steve, who has worked for the company for 10 years, has taken his GED test.

3. Use commas to separate items in a list. The items can be things (nouns) or action phrases.

   Examples:
   He brought nails, screws, tacks, and a hammer.
   They take the order, call the customer, check the order, and ship the merchandise.

   NOTE: The final comma before the "and" is optional, but it depends on the context. If the reader could be confused without the comma, then put it in.

   Examples:
   He drinks tea, beer and milk.
   The afternoon garbage man will drive the truck, make the stops, eat and pick up the garbage.
   This being my last will and testament, I am leaving my estate to be divided among my sons: Bill, George and Steve.
4. Use a comma between a subordinate clause and a main clause.
   SC, MC.

   Examples:
   Even though it was 110 degrees, he was wearing a sweater.
   Since they lost the key to the room, they had to break down the door.

   NOTE: If you put the MC first, you don't need a comma.
   MC, SC

   Example:
   They had to break down the door since they lost their key.

5. Use a comma to set off a direct quote.

   Examples:
   He said, "The meeting will be at noon."
   They asked, "Where is the meeting being held?"

   NOTE: In reported speech, omit the comma.

   Examples:
   He said the meeting would be at noon.
   They asked where the meeting was being held.

6. Use commas between adjectives of equal importance.

   Examples:
   She is a wise, witty woman.
   The big, expensive, obnoxious American car was parked illegally.

   NOTE: use a comma between adjectives when you would say "and"

   Example:
   The big AND expensive car is parked wrong.

   But:
   The expensive American car (you wouldn't say expensive AND American car)
RUN-ONS

Three ways to fix a run-on:

1. Make it into two separate sentences by adding a period and a capital letter.

2. Make it into a compound sentence by adding a coordinating conjunction (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so).

3. Make it into a complex sentence by adding a subordinating conjunction (because, when, before, while since, etc.)

Find and correct the run-ons in the sentences below, using a combination of the three methods.

1. Employees should notify the human resources department they plan to take vacation time.

2. You must tidy the library after you have been working there you must also tidy your desk at the end of the day.

3. All procedures must conform to company safety standards these are set out in the company guidelines.

4. Unhappy customers might not complain they just won’t come back.

5. Most benefit books are very boring to read and difficult to understand people don’t bother to read them.

6. Some people like to listen to music when they work others prefer to work in silence.
DO NOT use a comma between two independent clauses. (IC, IC.). This error is known as a comma splice, because you are splicing together two ideas that could stand independently.

He was late, he came to work at 9:00.

HOW TO FIX A COMMA SPLICE?

1. Use a period to separate the 2 clauses.

   IC. IC.

2. Use a comma and a conjunction to separate the 2 clauses.

   IC, so IC.
   IC, for IC.
   IC, but IC.

3. Use a semicolon to separate the 2 clauses.

   IC; IC.

4. Use a semicolon and a transition word (followed by a comma) to separate the 2 clauses.

   IC; however, IC.
   IC; nevertheless, IC.
   IC; regardless, IC.
LONG ITEMS OR CLARIFICATIONS IN A LIST

1. Use
semicolons between long or wordy items in a list, and commas between the adjectives and phrases.

Example:

There were several reasons why she hated going to the warehouse
alone: the dark, damp space scared her, the extreme quiet rankled
her nerves, made her skin crawl, and left her tense, and her fear of being locked in, a fear that stemmed from her childhood, froze her in her tracks.

There were several reasons why she hated going to the warehouse
alone: the dark, damp space scared her; the extreme quiet rankled
her nerves, made her skin crawl, and left her tense; and her fear of being locked in, a fear that stemmed from her childhood, froze her in her tracks.

2. Use
commas between items and clarifications, then semicolons between the separate items in a list.

Example:

Many people attended the meeting: Paul Smith, President; Ken
Lewis, Vice President; Stan Heim, Marketing Representative; and
the secretary.

How many people attended that meeting?

Many people attended the meeting: Paul Smith, President; Ken
Lewis, Vice President; Stan Heim, Marketing Representative; and
the secretary.

How many people attended this meeting?
1. Use colons to introduce a list. Be sure that you have a complete sentence before the colon.

   Example:

   Many different classes are being offered: English, Math, Economics, and Writing.

   But not:

   The classes are: English, Math, Economics, and Writing.

2. Use a colon to come to a conclusion or generalization.

   Example:

   He had no other choice: he had to change shifts.

   The wheels were broken, the radiator was smoking, and the fenders were falling off: her car was a piece of junk.
APOSTROPHES

Apostrophes for Contraction

1. Use an apostrophe to replace the removed letter(s):

   We are = we're can not = can't we have eaten = we've eaten

   Note: He’s could mean he is or he has, and you need to know the context to determine the tense.

Apostrophes for Possession

1. Use an apostrophe and an S to show possession:

   Carol's book
   Lorna's pencil
   the student's notebook

2. If the name/noun ends in an S, you have two options:

   1) add only the apostrophe:
   2) add the apostrophe and the S

   Luis' book or Luis's book
   Jesus' mother or Jesus's mother
   the boss' office or the boss's office

3. If the noun is plural and you are showing plural possession, add the S to make the countable noun plural then add just the apostrophe the teacher's book = one teacher and his/her book

   the teachers' lounge = many teachers use the lounge

63
4. If the spelling changes on the plural, make the change, then add the apostrophe after the S to show possession:

- the company's policy = one company
- the companies' policy = more than one company

5. If the plural is irregular, use apostrophe S to show possession:

- the women's room
- the children's babysitter

6. If the plural and singular noun are the same, add apostrophe S:

- the sheep's barn

7. If you are using the possessive for an indefinite pronoun, use 'S:

- anyone's
- no one's
- everyone's
- somebody's
- someone's

REMEMBER:

Possessive pronouns that replace the noun do not take an apostrophe:

- yours
- theirs
- ours
- hers
- not your's
- not their's
- not our's
- not her's

BE CAREFUL!

- It is = it's
- its = possession

Example: It's raining so hard that the sheep can't find its barn.
OTHER PUNCTUATION MARKS

QUESTION MARKS

The question mark (?) follows a direct question.

Do you have the stock we ordered?

Indirect questions tell the reader about a question, rather than ask it directly. They do not require question marks, but end with periods.

He asked if they had the stock they ordered.

EXCLAMATION POINTS

The exclamation point (!) shows that a word or statement expresses excitement or another strong feeling.

Look out for that truck!

Be careful not to use the exclamation point too frequently, as it loses its effectiveness.

HYPHENS

Use hyphens (-) for adjectives joined as one unit to modify a noun.

ABC Company uses the most up-to-date equipment.

Use hyphens with the prefixes ex and self.

The problem is self-evident.

I saw my ex-boss at a conference last week.
OTHER PUNCTUATION MARKS

HYPHENS (con’t)

Use hyphens for fractions and numbers above 20 and below 100 when they are spelled out.

A two-thirds majority is needed to pass the motion.

Seventy-three of our employees received long-service awards.

A hyphen is used to divide a word at the end of a line.

If you ever visit our plant in the United Kingdom, please come and see me.

DASHES

Dashes (–) are used for emphasis or to set off parenthetical expressions that already contain commas. Do not add a space before or after a dash.

CPR sometimes—but not always—succeeds in reviving people who have had heart attacks.

PARENTHETICAL EXPRESSIONS

Parentheses ( ) are used to set off explanatory information from the rest of the sentence.

The information that follows (worksheets 2, 3, and 4) will help you to understand the rules of punctuation.
OTHER PUNCTUATION MARKS

QUOTATION MARKS

Quotation marks (" "') are needed for direct speech. They enclose the exact words of the speaker or writer.

The supervisor said, "Get to work on time, or your job is on the line!"

Titles of short works, including song titles, short stories, newspaper and magazine articles, book chapters and TV shows, are set off in quotation marks.

Longer works should be underlined, or set in italics.

I read an article in Newsweek about training in the workplace. I think it was called "Training for the Twenty-First Century."
Punctuate the paragraph below.

A new employee is usually assigned the easiest tasks in the office for example she will be expected to learn what tasks are to be performed and who performs them. The new employee also learns the company's policies, procedures, and benefits. There are different levels of entry into the company: hourly paid, salaried, and management. On her first day, the new employee may be asked by the human resources department, do you understand the way your contract is set out?
PUNCTUATION EXERCISE

Punctuate the memo below.

To: Customer Service Employees
From: Jane Brown, Supervisor
Date: April 1, 1993
Subject: Letters to Customers

I have become concerned about the correspondence that we are sending out to customers copies of employees memos and letters for the months of January, February, and March reveal some real problems. People are making a variety of punctuation errors; commas, colons, and semicolons are used incorrectly. Spelling mistakes are common and this shouldn't happen with spell checks and messages are not clear, concise, or to the point.

Even though many of you were at Mercer County Community Colleges last training session, I'm signing you all up for their new set of mini courses called Grammar Brush Up. There are four sessions on offer: parts of speech, punctuation, spelling, and sentence problems.

I'm also purchasing the book Proofreading/Editing Proficiency. Pay particular attention to Chapter 2: Rules of Good Editing and Chapter 4: Punctuation Made Easy.

You must all make a concerted effort to be more accurate. Do you want your mistakes to affect your relationship with your customers?
PUNCTUATION EXERCISE

Punctuate the letter below.

Bill Leavitall
Sales Manager

P.R.I.D.E.
1. During the meeting the manager was shrewd, clever, and controlled but the order went to the company's competition.

2. In spite of the Equal Opportunities Act, women still find it difficult to move up in the company, let alone become president.

3. We thought we would have to work over the Labor Day weekend, therefore we were delighted when we finished the order two days before schedule.

4. The employees' handbook is updated occasionally when there are policy changes, when there are holiday changes, and at the end of every year.

5. The Christmas bonuses were distributed on December 21, but Bill and Mary, two workers in the warehouse, complained that they hadn't gotten theirs yet. They had a Merry Christmas.

6. My new office contains a lot of new furniture: a top-of-the-line IBM compatible computer, a laser printer, a modern streamlined wooden credenza, and an environmentally sensitive halogen lamp.

7. The guard at the security house is thorough and reliable. He always asks for identification and often requires strangers to show a second form of ID: a driver's license, a social security card, or a recent photo.
BUSINESS WRITING II • SESSION 6

OBJECTIVES:

In order to write clear, well constructed letters and memos, at the end of this session, students will be able to do the following:

- correct sentence problems, e.g. dangling and misplaced modifiers, subject and verb agreement and parallel construction
- use proofreading techniques to edit a first draft

TOPICS:

- sentence problems: modifiers, subject & verb agreement, parallel construction
- proofreading

METHODS:

- guided discussion of principles
- worksheets of examples
- application of the above to own first drafts

EVALUATION:

- comparison of first to second drafts
- successful completion of worksheets

MATERIALS:

- Students' first drafts for revision
- Subject-Verb Agreement
- Modifiers
- Parallel Construction
When looking for examples of writing problems, if possible use examples from existing company letters or reports. If these are not available, write your own examples using company specific settings.

The purpose of this last session is for students to edit and rewrite their letter that they have been working on throughout the course. These will be submitted for final assessment.
SUBJECT – VERB AGREEMENT

Subject – verb agreement problems stem from having one of them plural and the other singular, so they don’t match.

SUBJECT – VERB AGREEMENT

With either...or, and neither...nor, when both elements are singular, the verb is singular. When one subject is singular and the other plural, the verb agrees with the nearer subject.

INCORRECT Neither the early nor the late appointment are good for me.
CORRECT Neither the early nor the late appointment is good for me.

INCORRECT Neither the ideas nor the style are satisfactory.
CORRECT Neither the ideas nor the style is satisfactory.

INCORRECT Neither the style nor the ideas is satisfactory.
CORRECT Neither the style nor the ideas are satisfactory.

The verb must agree with the subject in number, even when there are modifiers of a different number.
(Modifiers are words or groups of words that describe, limit or make more exact the meaning of other words)

INCORRECT The final report, including the graphs and reference sections are being published this week.
CORRECT The final report, including the graphs and reference sections, is being published this week.
