This workplace skills course on interpreting company materials is designed to help students interpret and make better use of the signs, notices, forms, memos, and instructions that they come across at work. Introductory material includes a course description, objectives, topical outline, evaluation, evaluation applicable in the workplace, and teacher tips. The course consists of 24 sessions, each of which has these components: objectives, topics, methods, evaluation, materials list, and information sheets and handouts. Topics covered in the sessions include the following: job terms; abbreviations, acronyms, and pictorial symbols; working with codes and numbers; subjects and verbs; singulars and plurals; sentence structure; paragraphs; interpreting forms; filling out forms; schedules; reading and interpreting instructions; writing instructions; strategies for dealing with unfamiliar vocabulary; spelling and pronunciation; reading for information; reading and interpreting maps and diagrams; and using maps and diagrams to instruct others. ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Mercer County Community College thanks Lorna Burt, Senior Education Specialist/Curriculum Developer for creating this manual. Through her valuable contributions employees in manufacturing and service industries learned concepts relevant to their existing jobs and strategies for learning other tasks if that opportunity should arise.
WORKPLACE SKILLS TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

A factory or service center creates a classroom that is very different from the one we are used to seeing in colleges and adult schools, so it only follows that our approach to teaching in the factory should also differ.

Our goal is to teach employees skills that they need in order to be functional and successful in their work environment, and encourage them to apply those skills on the job and at home. For example, we motivate students to do the following:

- work more efficiently and more safely
- make fewer mistakes
- solve problems working interactively
- take greater responsibility for their jobs
- recognize the interconnectedness of the various jobs in their workplace
- be better communicators in the workplace

Company needs are revealed through a needs assessment. At that time, we also determine the basic skills needs of the employees. We are learner centered, as the individual employee’s needs are considered alongside those of the company.

Once we have determined those needs, we develop curricula that incorporate basic skills, using the workplace literature (e.g. forms, applications, codes, abbreviations, charts and tables, handbooks, regulations, procedures, policies, memos, letters) of the company. Because each company is different, the needs and literature are also different; hence, we develop new materials for every company in which we teach. By utilizing these workplace items, we help students transfer and apply their skills directly to their jobs.

We rely on the classroom techniques of problem solving, cooperative learning, and group discussion. Our overall approach is concept based, with the emphasis on application, such as in role plays, dialogues, and group work. Despite the specific course titles, we incorporate the elements of math, English, and communication skills into all of our sessions.

In terms of students evaluation, after initial testing we give a pre-test and post-test in order to determine comprehension. Students receive feedback throughout the course from the instructor, as well as from fellow students as we sincerely believe in the powerful positive reinforcement of peer critiques and cooperative exchanges.

In essence, we believe that although we make the materials for the students with which to work, it is the students who truly make the class.
Words are all around us. We need to be able to understand the messages they give us and to use these words to communicate with others to perform our jobs efficiently. This course will help students interpret and make better use of the signs, notices, forms, memos and instructions that they come across at work.

OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to do the following:

- recognize and use job terms
- interpret symbols, abbreviations, and acronyms
- discriminate between and use different numbers and codes
- read and use company literature
  e.g. labels, signs and company forms
- follow and give instructions
- write summaries, paragraphs, and instructions
- use information to take appropriate action
- use improved language skills to problem solve

TOPICAL OUTLINE:

- job terms
- abbreviations, acronyms, and pictorial symbols
- working with codes and numbers
- subjects and verbs
- singulars and plurals
- sentence structure
- paragraphs
- interpreting forms
- filling out forms
- schedules
- reading and interpreting instructions
- writing instructions
INTERPRETING COMPANY MATERIALS (con’t)

TOPICAL OUTLINE:
(Cont.)

- strategies for dealing with unfamiliar vocabulary
- spelling and pronunciation
- reading for information
- reading and interpreting maps and diagrams
- using maps and diagrams to instruct others

EVALUATION:

- students will be evaluated at the start and finish of every course with pre and post-tests
- improvement in learning techniques will be evaluated based on performance in class and on worksheets
- students will perform self-evaluations based on correct completion of worksheets

EVALUATION APPLICABLE IN THE WORKPLACE:

At the end of this course, students will perform more effectively in the workplace:

- Students will be more competent at number use and discrimination. This competency will reduce the number of job errors that revolve around the use of forms, material code numbers, labels, and directions.

- Students will be better able to respond to the forms, maps and diagrams they see around them. They will be able to record their own schedules, report errors and record other information, making them less reliant on their supervisors.

- Students will be more adept at giving and receiving instructions, both written and oral. This will enhance their ability to perform jobs on the line and make fewer errors in completion of those tasks.
Although there are many similar strategies for teaching reading in an educational establishment and teaching in the workplace, there are differences in purpose, subject matter, methodology, and evaluation.

PURPOSE:

Workplace skills teachers:

- empower employees
- give employees strategies so that they can problem solve and make decisions for themselves and things that affect them
- make employees more flexible and therefore more useful to their employers
- enable employees to function better at their jobs and within their lives

SUBJECT MATTER:

The development of the curriculum and the choice of materials:

- identifies how and what training will improve job performance
- considers the students' needs and interests
- relates directly to their jobs (e.g. work orders), or to company policies, procedures, and benefits, or material with human interest (e.g. The New Jersey Guide to Consumer Law)
- requires students to ask themselves questions like

  "Why am I reading this?"
  "What does this mean for me?"
  "What do I need to do?"
  "How do I need to change what I am doing now?"
METHODOLOGY:

Many of our students have had unhappy experiences at school. The reading class concentrates on the following:

- develops a nurturing environment where students are comfortable working together
- presents challenges for the students
- imitates the real world, by delegating different people to do different tasks and then pooling resources and sharing that information
- encourages students to teach and learn from each other
- enables students to discuss problems with interpretation of material and its relevance to individuals
- sees the teacher a facilitator rather than lecturer

EVALUATION:

Assessment within a college setting is much more cut and dried. It is more difficult to quantify what we do. However, we do:

- assess reading and math levels at the start and end of the program
- give pre and post class exercises to see personal gains (which are usually significant)
- track anecdotal evidence of improvement on the job

NOTE:

The core content of this course can be used in a variety of workplace settings. The instructor must collect material from the specific industry. In this manual where sample worksheets appear to be almost duplicated, the first sheet is for a service company, and the second, for an engineering company.
TOPICS:

- matching different types of work with job descriptions
- identifying what people do
- using action words to describe an assembler's job
- subjects and verbs

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading and writing

EVALUATION:

- self evaluation of whether they have completed the worksheets correctly
- ongoing evaluation by teacher

MATERIALS:

- pre-class exercises
- worksheets: job terms; subjects and verbs
Match the set of terms with the workplace that you think would use those terms.

1. Social welfare agency
   - blood pressure, medicine, thermometer

2. Flower shop
   - beneficiary, premium, policy

3. Medical clinic
   - wreath, flower arrangement, delivery

4. Bank
   - stock, invoice, inventory

5. Insurance Company
   - discount, receipt, credit card

6. Warehouse
   - caseload, evaluation, document

7. Restaurant
   - change, deposit, withdrawal

8. Department Store
   - menu, order, entree

JOB TERMS

Read the descriptions for the jobs below. Then write the name of the job that fits that description (from list) under it.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>mail clerk</th>
<th>delivery person</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>stock locator</td>
<td>stock receiver</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>quality controller</td>
<td>packer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>picker</td>
<td>inventory controller</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1. checks stock as it arrives in the warehouse

2. takes items from inventory as noted on an order sheet

3. weighs, labels, and organizes outgoing packages

4. brings packages and envelopes to the company
JOB TERMS (con't)

5. finds suitable places in warehouse for incoming inventory

6. organizes and places order material in suitable box

7. checks order and materials for tidiness, organization, and correctness

8. keeps track the amount of stock that is used or that is required for future jobs
Read the descriptions for these jobs; write the name of the job that fits that description (from list) under it.

- assembler
- tester
- painter
- nurse
- welder
- supervisor
- receiving clerk
- inspector

1. uses a spray gun to finish the product

2. combines parts to produce units

3. organizes the assemblers and their work

4. takes responsibility for incoming goods
5. checks parts and finished units for quality and damage

6. administers first aid if there are injuries

7. checks units to see if they work

8. solders parts together
SUBJECTS AND VERBS

Verbs are action words. In a complete sentence, you need a subject who DOES the action. Look at these examples and consider a) what is the action and b) WHO (or what) is doing the action.

- The assembler works on the line.
- Some people have a lot of money.
- Our teacher drives a red car.
- The supervisor was pleased with production this week.
- The plant will be closed on the 5th of July.
- The machine has broken down three times this week.

Subjects can be singular or plural: For example, "the assembler" in the first sentence is a singular subject; "people" in the second sentence is a plural subject.

Notice the difference between the verbs (present tense):

- The assembler comes to work on time.
- The assemblers come to work on time.

The first subject is singular, yet its verb ends with an "s" – that means that the verb is singular. This is the opposite for making nouns plural. The singular HE/SHE/IT is the only form that takes the "S" in the present tense.

The second subject is plural, and the verb does not take an "S".

Make sure that singular nouns have singular verbs, and plural nouns have plural verbs.
WHAT DOES AN ASSEMBLER DO?

These sentences describe the tasks of an assembler. Use ACTION words to complete them.

1. ______________________ the pick list.

2. ______________________ materials from the shelves.

3. ______________________ the time needed to do the job.

4. ______________________ a clean work station.

5. ______________________ the necessary paperwork when the job is done.

6. ______________________ the time card.
WHAT DOES AN ASSEMBLER DO?

These sentences describe the tasks of an assembler. Use ACTION words to complete them.

1. ______________________ the work order.

2. ______________________ wires in the sub-assembly.

3. ______________________ screws into units.

4. ______________________ units for defects.

5. ______________________ machines necessary to assemble unit.

6. ______________________ material requisition order to maintain a steady supply of parts.
Very often, people's jobs end in ER or OR. Look at these examples.

- I teach. I am a teacher.
- You work. You are a worker.
- ABC Company employs you. ABC Company is your employer.
- He instructs the class. He is an instructor.
- She has studied medicine for 10 years, so she is a good doctor.

Make jobs for these verbs by adding either ER or OR:

1. drive
2. speak
3. learn
4. profess
5. preach
6. clean
7. buy
8. sell
9. manufacture
10. rent
PEOPLE AND JOBS (con't)

11. navigate

12. explore

13. distribute

14. manage

15. supervise

16. murder

17. view

18. collect

19. divide

20. adjust
Sometimes we add EE to show the difference between someone who is receiving the action or someone who does the action.

What is the difference between these two words?

employee

employer

Consider these examples:

1. I train you every week, so I am the trainer. What are you?

2. My supervisor evaluates my job, so she is my evaluator. What am I?

When you add ER or OR, sometimes the spelling has to change.

Someone who studies law is a ________________.
OBJECTIVES:

In order to write clear correct messages in the workplace, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- write sentences correctly
- use regular and irregular plural forms
- give a clear description of their jobs

TOPICS:

- subjects and verbs
- regular and irregular plural forms
- complete sentences
- writing about their jobs

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading and writing

EVALUATION:

- self evaluation of the completed worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher

MATERIALS:

- worksheets: More Work with Subjects
  Plural Forms of Nouns
  Complete Sentences
  Job Terms
MORE WORK WITH SUBJECTS

Subjects can be compound: you can have two singular subjects added together to make a plural. Remember, 1 + 1 = 2.

Lorna and Carol come to the company every day.
The copier and the printer were broken yesterday.
The supervisor and the assembler did not have the key to the supply room.

However:

Lorna or Carol comes to the company every day.
Either the copier or the printer was broken.
Neither the supervisor nor the assembler has the key to the supply room.

Subjects that are collective nouns take singular verbs: collective nouns may seem plural since they include a group, but they act as singular nouns and take a singular verb.

The team is making a decision about the production changes.
The safety committee meets twice a month.

Singular nouns that end in "s": sometimes we use nouns that have an "S" at the end but they are really singular in concept and take a singular verb.

Mathematics is offered through the MCCC program.
The United States is committed to training its workforce.

My pair of scissors is in my pocket.
My scissors are in my pocket.
MORE WORK WITH SUBJECTS (con’t)

Be careful of the word "of": attached to nouns, it does not change the original subject.

The book is on the desk.
The book of matches is on the desk.
But – the matches are on the desk.

The board of directors controls the company.
But – the directors control the company

Some nouns are always plural: even though they relate to only one item: if you can use "pair of _____" with something, then it is singular; however, if you use the item by itself, it is plural and fits into this category.
PLURAL FORMS OF NOUNS

To make most nouns plural, add s.
⇒ chairs, tables, dogs, cats

Add es to nouns ending in sh, ch ss and x.
⇒ dishes, matches, dresses, boxes

If a noun ends in a consonant and y, change the y to i and add es.
⇒ ladies, babies, secretaries

If a noun ends in fe or f, change the ending to ves. (Exceptions: beliefs, chiefs, roofs, cuffs)
⇒ knives, shelves, wives, halves

Some nouns that end in o just take s in the plural.
⇒ zoos, radios, photos, studios, pianos, autos, solos

Some nouns that end in o take es in the plural.
⇒ potatoes, tomatoes, heroes, echoes, mosquitoes

Some nouns have irregular plural forms.
⇒ children, men, women, people, feet, teeth, mice, geese

Some plurals are the same as the singular.
⇒ deer, fish, sheep, species, offspring

Singular nouns that end in s
⇒ athletics
⇒ economics, mathematics, physics
⇒ news
⇒ politics
⇒ the United States

Nouns that are always plural:
⇒ clothes, jeans, pants, shorts, slacks, trousers
⇒ glasses
⇒ scissors
⇒ police
PLURAL FORMS OF NOUNS

The sentences below are written in the singular. Make the necessary corrections to make them plural.

1. The woman has a new-born baby.

2. Pass me the knife that is on the shelf.

3. The child showed her teacher her vacation photo.

4. Last summer I was bitten by a mosquito.

5. The box must be sent to the man by UPS.

6. The secretary typed up the list to show the student who was in the class.
COMPLETE SENTENCES

A complete sentence must have the following:

1. subject
2. verb
3. complete thought

Also, the sentence must start with a CAPITAL letter and end with a period.
Look at the sentences below and say whether they are complete sentences. If they are not, make them complete.

1. The company is closed for the holiday.

2. Hoping to return.

3. the machine, a large and noisy collator.

4. In the cafeteria, there are new tables

5. Have to be cleaned everyday.

6. When I returned to work after my operation.

7. Even though he forgot to keep track of his hours.

8. Before I came to work here, I worked in many different jobs.

9. For example, machine operator, fast-food worker, and checkout clerk.

10. However, like this job best.
1. What job terms do you hear everyday?

2. What job titles do you hear everyday?
3. What are some tools and equipment that you work with?

4. What are some job tasks that you perform everyday? (use ACTION words)
OBJECTIVES:

In order to interpret symbols at work and in their daily lives, at the end of this session students will be able to:

- recognize and use pictorial symbols
- recognize and use abbreviations
- recognize and use acronyms

TOPICS:

- pictorial symbols
- abbreviations
- acronyms

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading and writing

EVALUATION:

- self-evaluation based on correct completion of worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher

MATERIALS:

- worksheets: abbreviations, acronyms, symbols
SYMBOLS

Symbols are like abbreviations – they are a shortened form of a piece of information. Usually a symbol is a picture or an image that relates to the idea.

Look at these symbols on the right and match them with the meanings on the left.

1. Do not park here

2. Gasoline is available ahead

3. A hospital is nearby

4. Do not make a left turn

5. Do not smoke here

6. Poisonous substance

7. Flammable

8. Safety Glasses Required

9. First Aid Station
SYMBOLS ON MACHINES

PART I

To help you operate machines, the buttons or keys often have symbols.

For example, a calculator has keys with symbols on them. Write the symbol next to the operation:

1. addition

2. subtraction

3. division

4. multiplication

5. equals

6. percentage
PART II

A copying machine also has keys with symbols. Here are the symbols below. What do you think the symbols stand for?

---

The workplace is full of universally used health and safety symbols. Knowing exactly what these mean can help keep you safe. How many of these do you recognize? Are there any others that ABC Company uses?

HEALTH AND SAFETY SYMBOLS

- NO SMOKING
- FIRST AID
- FLAMMABLE
- DO NOT ENTER
- WET PAINT
- DANGER
HEALTH AND SAFETY SYMBOLS (con’t)

For fun, look at these pictures. If each of these was on a container, what would it tell you about the substance inside?

2.

3.

5.
If you work with any hazardous materials you need to know how your health might be affected and what precautions you should take. When you read the container labels you must understand what the colors, numbers and abbreviations stand for.

Letters
are keyed to specific protective gear.
The letter that appears in the white bar is keyed to specific personal protective gear.

- A =
- B =
- C =
- D =

Colors
represent the kind of hazard,

- Blue – Health hazards
- Yellow – Reactivity
- Red – Flammability

Numbers
show the degree of hazard,

- 0 = Minimal Hazard
- 1 = Slight Hazard
- 2 = Moderate Hazard
- 3 = Serious Hazard
- 4 = Severe Hazard

Always read the label before you start a job, and use the information to work with chemicals safely. If the container labels are missing, damaged, or illegible, notify your supervisor immediately.

Target Organ Effects are keyed to specific hazards on the white part of the label:

- OX = Oxidizer
- ACID = Acid
- ALK = Alkali
- COR = Corrosive
- W = Use no water
- R = Radioactive

Hazard warning information such as organs of the body that may be affected by the chemical will usually be shown.
ABBREVIATIONS

An abbreviation is a shortcut or an easy way to write a long word or frequently used words.

Look at this list of commonly used abbreviations. Write out the full words (what they mean) next to the abbreviation.

1. lb.
2. tsp.
3. IRS
4. pg.
5. pres.

Write a note to a co-worker using some abbreviations. Then exchange notes with the person sitting next to you. Can you understand each other's messages?
Another very important use of abbreviations is for identifying client names and orders. We use company recognized abbreviations rather than writing out the three full names of the companies on most of the paperwork. Recognizing and using these abbreviations becomes a part of doing the job efficiently.

Look at the list of clients on the Requisition Control Report. What are their full names?
Look at the map below. All the states are identified by their abbreviations. How many of them can you name in full? (Use map of your city/state to illustrate this concept.)
ACRONYMS

We use some abbreviations as words – these are acronyms. To make an acronym, pull the first letter from each word (or sometimes the first two letters).

1. National Aeronautic and Space Administration

2. Radio Detecting And Ranging

3. Wide-Area Telecommunications Service Line

4. Federal Insurance Contributions Act

5. International House Of Pancakes

6. Occupational Safety and Health Administration

OBJECTIVES:

In order to improve their accuracy working with numbers and codes, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- read and discriminate between similar numbers
- recognize and use company codes
- identify the purpose of codes and the best way to list them alphabetically or numerically

TOPICS:

- number discrimination
- codes – listing them alphabetically and numerically
- Using company abbreviations and codes

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading and writing

Having good number discrimination skills means that you can read numbers correctly and tell them apart. Sometimes when we are reading quickly we change the numbers in our heads, or we flip them around. This mistake in reading a number can lead to a big mistake in your work! So, we have to read numbers carefully and slowly.

Look at these groups of numbers. Each group has one identical pair. Find that identical pair and circle it.

Example:

224 - 242
442 - 424

1. What is the title of this list of codes?

2. What do you think this list of codes is used for?

3. Are the codes arranged in any way? Alphabetical? Numerical?

4. Think about the different ways you could rearrange these codes. How would you do it and why?
Read the list of code options for these colors. Pick the correct code. Write the letter for the correct code in the space to the right.

Group Discussion:

Look at the list of Clients and their codes. What can you say about the way the list is arranged? Is there any way that this could be rearranged and why might you want to rearrange it? What happens when new clients are added to the list? (Use the client list of your company for reference)
ACTIVITY CODES

Group Discussion:

Look at the Activity Codes on the back of your Job Labor Card. Why do you use these codes? When do you use them? How important is it to be accurate with these? ABC Company has recently revised these? Why do you think they did this? Do you think that the new codes are an improvement? Why?
ABC CODES

ABC Company uses number and letter codes. Letters are used for the product code, and a combination of letters and numbers tell you which part to use. Pick out the 2 products or parts that are identical in the examples below.

WORKING WITH PARTS CODES

Look at the Structured Bill of Materials.

If my component part is H21320AB what do all the letters mean?

Look at the Nut Part No. Summary.

H2  tells me that I need a nut
13  tells me the size  1/4
20  tells me how many threads per inch  20
A   tells me the description  a nut with captive washer
B   tells me the material  steel (zinc plate)

Once I have found the nut, I then evaluate what I have done by comparing what I have with the diagram.

I can also read the description. Does "1/4-20 self locking nut" describe what I have found?
WORKING WITH PARTS CODES (con’t)

Using the material provided, work in groups to match the correct component parts to their descriptions. Try to work out what the abbreviations stand for.

Schedules are all around us in the workplace. We need to know at what time we are doing what, and on what day we are going where. Sometimes we make schedules to organize an activity.

What is this a schedule for?

Jim Lewis (empl. # 45582) works in the warehouse. On a typical day, he comes to work at 8:00, leaves for lunch at 11:45, returns from lunch at 12:30, then works until 4:45. He is expected to work an 8 hour day – any time he puts in over this is considered overtime. Today, 3/7/95, he worked an extra hour and left at 5:45, so he had 8 hours regular work time and 1 hour of overtime. He keeps track of his time like this:

This is what Jim did this week. Help him to complete his schedule.

- On Monday (3/7/95), he started work at 8:30, stopped for lunch at 12, returned to work at 12:45, and he left work at 6:00.

- On Tuesday, he came in at 8:00. He took lunch from 12:30 to 1:15. He left work at 5:30.

- On Wednesday, he came to work at 8:00, but it started to snow and the company decided to close early (12:00).

- On Thursday, he was late to work because of the snow, so he didn't get in until 9:00. However, he was asked to stay until 7:00. As usual, he took his 45-minute lunch break.

- On Friday, he made it in at 8:00, he took lunch at 12:30, and he returned to work at 1:15. As it was the weekend, he left work at 4:45.

- On Saturday, he stayed home!!

- On Sunday, he came to the factory for four hours, from 12 to 4.

Jim has a busy day and he needs help filling out his Job Labor Card. As you can see, not only does he need to keep track of his hours, but he also needs to itemize what he does during the day.

Using the list of Job Codes, fill out Jim's Job Labor Card.

Today (3/8/95), he goes to get his work order first thing in the morning. He takes 15 minutes to read his work order and sees that he will be packaging and shipping materials for a large customer.

After taking 15 minutes to set up his work area, he spends an hour assembling 60 boxes. While the picker is filling the boxes, Jim takes half an hour to assemble the envelope inserts. He then has a ten minute coffee break.

When he returns from his break, he spends the next 20 minutes shrink-wrapping the envelope inserts. It takes him another 20 minutes to put the envelopes onto the boxes.

Jim is now ready to run off his labels, which takes him only 10 minutes. Because he has so many boxes to address and seal, he spends the rest of his morning doing these activities before going to lunch.

Once he returns from lunch, Jim has to calculate the weight of the shipment. After 10 minutes weighing, he decides that the shipment is too large and too heavy to send via the post office. So, he has to complete the paperwork to send the boxes via UPS. This takes him 20 minutes. He tags the shipment with box numbers and destination codes, and 20 minutes later he does a 10 minute clean-up and is ready to do his next job.

JOB CODES AND TIME CARDS (con’t)

Jim has a busy day and he needs help filling out his Job Labor Card. As you can see, not only does he need to keep track of his hours, but he also needs to itemize what he does during the day.

Using the list of Job Codes, fill out Jim's Job Labor Card.

Today (3/8/95), he goes to get his work order first thing in the morning. He takes 15 minutes to read his work order and sees that he will be doing 2 main jobs. The first is packaging and shipping materials for a large customer. The second is receiving a consignment of parts which should arrive mid morning.

After taking 15 minutes to set up his work area, he spends an hour assembling 60 boxes. While the packer is putting completed units into the boxes, Jim takes half an hour to print the labels. He then has a ten minute coffee break.

When he returns from his break, he spends the next 20 minutes sealing the boxes. Then the shipment of parts arrives. It takes him 20 minutes to unload the parts and another 20 minutes to check the shipment. The paperwork takes another 10 minutes. Because he has to reorganize shelf space, he spends the rest of the morning making space for the new parts before going to lunch.

Once he returns from lunch, it takes Jim 1 more hour to shelve the order. He then goes back to his first job.

He has to calculate the weight of the shipment. After 10 minutes weighing, he has to complete the paperwork for the carrier. This takes him 20 minutes. Unfortunately the carrier arrives an hour later than expected. So while he waits he tidies up his station. Once the truck is there it takes 45 minutes to load it.

For the rest of the day he helps the Material Handler move supplies for the next day.
OBJECTIVES:

In order to give information clearly in writing, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- identify the parts of a paragraph
- write a clear, well constructed paragraph

TOPICS:

- parts of a paragraph
- writing a paragraph

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- writing

EVALUATION:

- self-evaluation based on correct completion of worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher

MATERIALS:

A paragraph has several parts:

INTRODUCTION:

This is the first sentence of the paragraph. It tells you what the paragraph will be about (subject) and the author's point (main idea).

BODY:

This is made up of the middle sentences of the paragraph. It is the support that the author gives for his main idea. The support can take many forms: examples, a process, a story, or a definition.

CONCLUSION:

This is the last sentence of the paragraph. It can be a restatement of the introduction, or it can be a comment on the main idea.
EXAMPLE:

In the past there was no guarantee that workers would be told about the chemical hazards they might face on the job. Container labels and warning sheets, even when they were provided, didn't always give enough information on potential hazards, what to do in an emergency, or where to turn for help. That's why the federal government decided to set a uniform hazard communication standard. Now everyone knows what information has to be provided to keep you safe.
Now write a paragraph of your own. Think of an occasion when you discovered mistakes in something that you were working on.

Be sure to include an introduction, good support and a conclusion.
OBJECTIVES:

In order to write and give clear instructions in the workplace, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- identify who will be receiving the instructions
- use commands
- write clear correct instructions
- use correctly ordered steps

TOPICS:

- Audience and purpose
- commands
- importance of correct order of steps
- writing sets of instructions

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice writing skills

EVALUATION:

- self-evaluation of correctly completed worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher
- evaluation of each other's instructions

MATERIALS:

- worksheets
Commands are brief and to the point! We use them to give instructions or to tell someone to do something.

When you use a command, don't use a subject. Look at the differences between these sentences and commands:

Sentence: You put the pencil on the table and you take your notebook with you.

Command: PUT the pencil on the table and TAKE your notebooks with you.

Sentence: You don't talk Hungarian in class and you don't ignore the teacher.

Command: DON'T TALK Hungarian in class and DON'T IGNORE the teacher.

Sentence: It would be really nice if you stopped talking while I'm working.

Command: STOP TALKING!
COMMANDES (con’t)

Give commands for the following sentences.

1. I think you should close the door and then you should erase the board.

2. It would be nice if you didn't throw the eraser at the teacher.

3. What a wonderful idea to put the units on the line.

4. You really shouldn't talk back to your boss, you know.

5. If I were you, I would plug in the light before you turn it on.

6. I don't like it when you are rude to me, so I'm asking you to stop.
TIPS FOR WRITING INSTRUCTIONS

Instructions tell people how to do things. We use instructions on the job, especially when we are trying to do something new, or have been moved to a different area for work.

Instructions are good when they are simple and easy to follow.

Keep these instructions in mind when you are writing good instructions:

- use clear and strong verbs
- use simple sentences – one verb
- use commands
- describe anything that you think the reader might not know or understand – what something looks like, how it works, what it is used for
- keep a clear order to the steps
- use numbered steps if you can – instructions are hard to follow if they are bunched together in a paragraph
- add any pictures that might help the reader understand
- make sure that you haven’t left out any important warnings
WRITING GOOD INSTRUCTIONS

When we give instructions, we use strong and clear verbs. Also, we keep the steps in order so that the reader doesn’t get confused.

Look at these instructions for cashing a check. What steps are missing? Which ones are out of order? Which steps have unclear verbs? Rewrite these instructions so that they are very clear and easy to use.

Cashing a check

1. get paycheck
2. go to bank
3. cash check
4. make sure you have your MAC card or other ID
5. take money
6. be sure to ask for small bills
7. if bank is closed, then go to food store
8. keep check stub
INSTRUCTIONS – CORRECT ORDER

When you try to follow instructions, it is important that they are in the correct order.

1. Unscramble these steps.
   Notice that they all start with an action word.

   • steep for a few minutes
   • place teabag in cup
   • take teabag out of wrapper
   • boil water
   • add milk and sugar if desired
   • pour boiling water into cup

2. You have been relieved by a new person so that you can come to class. Write instructions in order for the job you have been working on.
WRITING CLEAR INSTRUCTIONS

Write the steps in order for filling out your Job Labor Card.
OBJECTIVES:

In order to read, and follow instructions in the workplace, at the end of this session students will be able to:

- define goals
- identify steps
- name the items needed
- clear up unclear details
- evaluate performance

TOPICS:

- strategy for following instructions
- importance of correct order of steps

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading skills

EVALUATION:

- self-evaluation of correctly completed worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher
- evaluation of each other's instructions

MATERIALS:

103
STRATEGY FOR FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS

STEP 1: Define your goal
Ask yourself, "What is it that I want to get done?"

STEP 2: Identify the steps you need to follow

STEP 3: Name the items you need to finish the task

STEP 4: Clear up any details that you don't understand

STEP 5: Evaluate the way you did the task.
Ask yourself, "Did I achieve my goal?"
To: All warehouse employees
From: Human Resources
Subject: Warehouse Safety

When you enter the restricted area, you must be sure that you are protected from any potential hazards. You must not only wear safety glasses, but you must walk between the yellow lines to avoid getting injured by a forklift. Also, you are required to wear safety shoes at all times, and safety gloves when you are working with dangerous chemicals. After you leave the restricted area, you may remove your glasses, but you must keep your boots on throughout the warehouse.

1. What is the employee's goal?

2. How many steps are there?

3. What items do you need to complete the task?

4. What steps must you always follow?

5. What steps are conditional on the type of work you are doing or on the place you are working in?
Look at the Pick List Audit Checklist. What is it used for? Is the order that you would have to fill it out important? (✓ Use your company’s Audit Checklist for reference)
OBJECTIVES:

In order to deal with unfamiliar vocabulary, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following:

- use a dictionary
- list words in alphabetical order
- identify parts of speech
- identify different meanings from different pronunciations

TOPICS:

- dictionary work
- alphabetizing
- parts of speech
- how to pronounce words
- homonyms

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets

EVALUATION:

- self evaluation based on correct use of the dictionary
- correct completion of crossword

MATERIALS:

- dictionaries
- assorted handouts and exercises

Sometimes the dictionary can cause more confusion than clarity! Use this list of terms to help you figure out what a dictionary listing means.

<table>

</tbody>
</table>
Figuring out how a word should be pronounced can be a problem too! Use this list of pronunciation symbols and explanations to help you figure out how to pronounce a new word in the dictionary.

SYLLABLES = \textbf{the word is broken down into syllables, or parts, so that you know where to stop and start}

\textit{Example:} volcano \quad = \quad \textit{vol} * \textit{ca} * \textit{no}
this word has three syllables

\textit{Example:} coordinate \quad = \quad \textit{co} * \textit{or} * \textit{din} * \textit{ate} this word has four syllables

In the dictionary, the word is broken down twice:

\textit{Once} with syllables broken down using \textbf{dots or *}

\textit{Next} between reversed backslashes \quad \backslash \quad \backslash
This breakdown gives pronunciation pointers and accent mark.
ACCENT MARK = '

This mark shows where the stress falls in a word, on which syllable. It always appears in front of the syllable to be stressed.

EXAMPLES: volcano = \val - 'ka - no\ create = \kre - 'at\
Sometimes the accent mark changes on words.

1. Look up the word CONTENT and write out the dictionary breakdowns. What is the difference between the accent marks? What is the difference in meaning between content and content?

2. Look up the word DESERT. What are the two accents possible? What is the difference between the two words?
Some words are spelled exactly the same, but they have different meanings and pronunciation.

bow
After she tied the bow, she took a bow.

content

lead
Exposure to lead might lead to poisoning.

minute
It will take only a minute to correct the minute error.

row
They had a row about who would row the boat.

polish
The Polish man tried to polish up his English.

project
We project that the project will be completed in six months.

read
If you haven't read that chapter for homework, then you'll have to read it in class.

tear
She bursts into tears every time he tears up her work.

use
The manual is for your use at home; meanwhile, please use the worksheets.

wind
The wind is so strong that we will wind up closing the windows.

wound

BUILDING VOCABULARY

If you know one word, you can think of others that relate to it in some way.

Think of the word clean – then think of words that have these relationships to that word.

OPPOSITE: The opposite of a word is the antonym. If something is NOT clean, then it is

__________________________

SIMILAR WORD: A word with a similar meaning is a synonym. If something is clean, then we also say it is

__________________________

EXAMPLE: An example of a clean something is

   example

5. to complete opposite same meaning
   example

Think of three words on your own: come up with the opposite, a synonym, and example for each.
MEANING FROM EXAMPLES

Find the examples that help define the underlined word. Then circle the letter that gives the meaning of the word.

1. The adverse effects of sitting at a P.C. all day, including backache, headaches, and dizziness, have made me stop enjoying my job.

   Adverse means
   a) deadly   b) harmful   c) strange

3. There have been some bizarre occurrences at work recently. For instance, lights have turned themselves back on and machines have stopped functioning for no apparent reason.

   Bizarre means
   a) very strange   b) creative   c) realistic

4. The supervisor tried to ascertain why the mistakes were made. She established who was there and verified what the schedule was for that day.

   Ascertain means
   a) create   b) avoid   c) find out
SYNONYMS

Find the word that means the same as (the synonym) for the underlined word.

1. Joe is a great procrastinator. He is a person who always postpones doing things, from getting his work orders out on time to filling out his paperwork.

2. Please scrutinize the document and carefully examine the fine print.

3. The C.E.O. encouraged people to give pragmatic solutions to the company's problems. He wanted practical answers from those who dealt with the problems firsthand.

4. When the supervisor berated the new employee for making mistakes, she replied that it was unfair of him to criticize her, when she hadn't been given proper training.
Find the word that means the opposite of (the antonym) of the underlined word.

1. The profit margins of our company are not static, but change with the ups and downs of the U.S. Economy.

   Static means
   a) unchanging           b) unknown           c) shifting

If you come across a word that you don't know, don't panic! Look around the word and look at the setting in which it is used. That is the context of the word.

1. underline the new word
2. read the sentence
3. get the main idea of the sentence
4. ask how the new word relates to that idea
   (same meaning? example? opposite?)
5. guess at the meaning of the new word
EXAMPLE:

Don't let dust accumulate on your tables; clean the dust off your tables everyday.

What does "accumulate" mean? If you read the sentence, you see instructions for cleaning your work tables. So the main idea of the sentence is ____________________________________________

• Next, you are told NOT TO DO something (DON'T let dust "accumulate"); then you are told TO DO something (clean dust off tables). The two ideas are ____________________________________________

• Now that you know how the new word is related to the sentence, can you guess at the meaning of the new word?

"Accumulate" means ____________________________________________
Read these sentences and using the context techniques guess the meaning of the word.

1. Joe is a gregarious person; he loves to talk to people and is very popular with his co-workers.

   a. noisy
   b. friendly
   c. hard working

2. With the new training, our supervisor hopes to eradicate all mistakes.

   a. improve
   b. find
   c. get rid of

3. The idea of employee empowerment emancipates the employees and hopes to involve them more in solving problems.

   a. frees
   b. overworks
   c. annoys

4. Rewiring the entire factory was not a plausible solution to the electrical problem for it would require too much time and money.

   a. smart
   b. possible
   c. cheap

5. The workers don't like their supervisor because he manipulates them by not giving them all the information he is supposed to and then he doesn't support them when they make errors.

   a. threatens
   b. protects
   c. unfairly controls
Read the following text. Then use the context clues to figure out what the words in bold mean.

NON-SMOKING POLICY

Background and Purpose

- The U.S. Surgeon General has named smoking "Public Health Enemy #1" in light of its role as the leading cause of premature death and disability in our country. Research has shown that there is overwhelming scientific evidence that secondhand tobacco smoke is detrimental to the health, welfare, and comfort of non-smokers, especially those who have allergies or cardiovascular or respiratory diseases. Many allergic individuals, end even the majority of healthy non-smokers, report discomfort when exposed to secondhand smoke on the job. Recent medical studies indicate that long term involuntary exposure to smoking may increase non-smokers' risks of developing severe lung disease.

- Currently, about 36% of the workforce in the U.S. smokes.

- It is our policy to provide a healthy, comfortable, and productive work environment for employees. In an effort to protect the rights of non-smokers as well as to consider the needs of smokers, this policy will take effect on May 5, 1993. All employees and visitors to the site are expected to comply with the regulations detailed in this policy. Those who do not adhere to this policy will face disciplinary action.
CONTEXT OF WORDS

For each of these words, write a synonym and antonym. Then, give an example using the word in a sentence of your own.

- premature
  - synonym: ____________________________
  - antonym: ____________________________
  - example: ____________________________

- detrimental

PRONUNCIATION & SPELLING KEY

We have two types of vowels: long and short. The long sound is the vowel saying its name; the short sound is the sound it makes.

LONG VOWELS:

A = day, say, hate
E = need, recede
I = I, wine, grind, sign
O = go, show, rode, stole
U = huge, usually, use, accuse

SHORT VOWELS:

A = hat, matter, addition
E = every, end, pocket
I = in, idiot, it, illness
O = hot, spot, cod, on U = gun, under, until
Vowel sounds change depending on what surrounds them in the word. For example, a vowel followed by a consonant is usually a short vowel sound; a vowel followed by a consonant and another vowel is usually a long vowel sound.

SHORT VOWEL

<td>Pete</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sit</td>
<td>site</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>not</td>
<td>note</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>us</td>
<td>use</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

When we add parts to words, sometimes we have to double the consonant so the sound of the vowel remains the same.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>pat</th>
<th>patting</th>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>sum</td>
<td>summary</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Remember: If the original word ends in "E" the vowel sound is long and you want to keep it long when you add a suffix that starts with a vowel. So drop the "E" and do not double the consonant.

SPELLING RULES – VOWELS (con’t)

Keep the final silent "E" when adding a suffix that begins with a consonant.

hope  hopeless late  lateness

EXCEPTIONS: judgment, courageous, dyeing, argument, truly

Usually, in words of more than one syllable, when the accent is on the first syllable, do not double the consonant:

layering  offered canceled  traveled

If the accent is on the second syllable, double the consonant:

occurring  remitted referred  omitted preferred  deferred
Fill in the missing word, making sure you spell it correctly.

1. The dog I had when I was a child always ____________ his tail when I came back from school.

2. Stop ____________ at me whenever I pronounce your name incorrectly.

3. Our softball team was the ____________ team in this season's summer league.

4. She ____________ forty cigarettes a day before she gave up last March.

5. I am ____________ you will be able to come to my party on Saturday night.

6. He ____________ the parcel in brown paper.

7. I like receiving letters, but I don't like ____________ them.

8. My mother ____________ for me when I was a child, and now I care for my children in the same way.
9. She was __________ the box, when the supervisor saw she had left out two sheets of paper.

10. She was __________ her lunch break when the fire alarm sounded.
Vowel Combinations

EA

- usually sounds like EE
- heat, meat, seat, neat, feat, read

EE vs. EA

- meet / meat
- feet / feat
- beet / beat
- week / weak
- reed / read
- need / knead

EA exceptions: dead, read

OU

- usually sounds like OW
- house, mouse, grouse, out, bout, clout, sound

NOTE: Even OW can change sounds:
- How now brown cow?
- I don't know if it will snow after the show.

OA

- long O sound
- boat, moat, float, goat, coat, oats

EI

- usually sounds like EE
- receive, deceive
VOWEL COMBINATIONS (con’t)

IE = usually sounds like EE
(remember I before E except after C) relieve, believe

REMEMBER: The rule is "I before E, except after C" — when the sound is "EE":
relieve, believe deceive, receive Exceptions: foreign, neighbor, either, neither, seize, leisure, weird, sheik

OO = a long U sound sometimes food, mood, cool, school sometimes an EU combination book, look, took, crook, wood

EE = always long E sound need, seed, indeed

NOTE: Words that sound alike but are spelled differently also have different meanings. You must know which one to use by looking at the context and figuring out the meaning.

I will meet you in the meat department.
He was feeling weak all of last week.
They left their coats over there and now they're walking to get them.
We need two pieces of wood to complete the desk, and some glue too.
SPELLING RULES – WHEN WORDS END IN "Y"

When a word ends in "y" and the "y" comes after a consonant, you have to change the "y" to "i" when you add more to the word.

◊ when you make a singular word plural enemy          enemies grocery        groceries library        libraries

◊ when you add "s" or "ed" to a verb try            tries         tried carry          carries       carried marry          marries       married study          studies       studied

◊ when you add other parts to the ends of words lonely         loneliness marry          marriage beauty         beautiful

However when you add "ing" you keep the "y" try            trying study          studying dry            drying
SPELLING RULES – WHEN WORDS END IN "Y" (con’t)

Remember if the "y" comes after a vowel you keep the "y" when you add anything to the word.

◊ when making nouns plural monkey       monkeys holiday      holidays display      displays

◊ when adding "s" or "ed" to verbs employ       employs       employed enjoy        enjoys        enjoyed stay         stays         stayed

◊ when you add other parts to the ends of words play          playful employ       employment pay           payment

Exceptions:

day           daily
pay           paid lay           laid
Complete these sentences using the words in parentheses. Make sure you spell them correctly!

THE BASIC READING FORMULA STUDY SHEET

SUBJECT

Question: What is the article mostly about?
Explanation: The subject is what the article is mainly about. The author wrote the article to talk about the subject. It's the topic the author wants to make a point about.

MAIN IDEA

Question: What point does the author make about the subject?
Explanation: The main idea is the main point the author is trying to make about the subject. It's the thing he wants you to remember. The main idea is a statement made by the author that he goes on to prove.

SUPPORTING DETAILS

Question: What examples does the author give to prove the main idea?
Explanation: The supporting details are the examples and details the author uses to prove his main idea. They tell us why the author makes the main idea statement.

ACTION

Question: What action does the author want taken?
Explanation: This is the thing the author feels the reader or someone should do. It's the action he is trying to persuade people to take.

Each of the following paragraphs is followed by four general statements. For each paragraph determine the statement that best expresses the main idea.

1. A computer may do many different kinds of work. An individual may use a computer to write letters on, store recipes or play computer games. An insurance salesman may use it to develop plans for his clients. A plant manager may use it to keep stock of all inventory in the plant.

a) Computers are important to Insurance Companies.
b) Computers have many uses.
c) People who have computers at home use them for all different things.
d) Life has changed for people with computers.

2. The company has a right and obligation to maintain a safe and productive working environment for all employees, while still respecting the rights of individuals. In order to achieve the goals of protecting employees and promoting productivity, we have developed a policy to keep drugs and alcohol out of the workplace, and to assist individuals with a dependency problem through our Employee Assistance Program.

a) The company will not allow any employee to drink or use drugs on the job.
b) The company must provide a safe working environment, as well as protecting the rights of individuals.
c) The company has developed a Substance Abuse policy.
d) Anyone can get help from the Employee Assistance Program.
3. In the past there was no guarantee that workers would be told about the chemical hazards they might face on the job. Container labels and warning sheets, even when they were provided, didn't always give enough information on potential hazards, what to do in an emergency, or where to turn for help. That's why the federal government decided to set a uniform hazard communication standard. Now everyone knows what information has to be provided to keep you safe.

a) Working in a factory is always potentially dangerous.
b) In the past there wasn't enough information about chemical safety.
c) In order to keep people safe at work, the government has legislated that all information on chemicals used is written in a standardized way.
d) Containers of chemicals must have labels on them.
MAIN IDEAS (con’t)

In the space provided, write a sentence that expresses the main idea of each of the following paragraphs.

1. On the whole, I don't like the new manager. I find his attitude condescending and rude. He has made very little attempt to learn our names. He arrived for work very late yesterday and then got angry with us when we didn't know what we had to do and he was not very complimentary of his predecessor, who had been here for 10 years before him.

2. Since World War II the workplace has changed significantly both in job requirements and the labor force needed to perform this work. As the workforce becomes older and more diverse in national origins and in gender, many employees lack the basic educational skills needed to succeed in jobs that are constantly upgrading. Employers are beginning to realize that the strength of their organizations depends on investing now in training not only for middle management and above, but also for their hourly paid workers.
PARAGRAPHS

Now look at the following short report. Note that, as with the paragraph, there is a subject, a main idea and a purpose. Identify what these are for the separate paragraphs and the whole report.

Responsibility for Safety

By law, your employer is responsible for providing you with a safe place to work. Your company does this in many ways - by selecting safe equipment, by designing facilities in a safe manner, and by identifying and controlling hazards. Company management establishes rules and procedures according to regulations that the government has set forth for you industry. Every employee must understand these rules and procedures and the importance of following them. Company rules and procedures are established with good solid reasoning behind them.

Your company management puts part of the responsibility for safety in the hands of people like you - its employees. In other words, safety is a shared responsibility. Your employer provides a safe environment. You are expected to arrive at work in the proper physical condition to perform your job. You must perform your job as you were trained to do it. Working safely is a condition of employment. Failure to work safely, like any other major violation of company rules, can be reason for discipline or termination of employment.

Not only must you learn the rules and job procedures, you must follow them every time. The one time you do not follow the rules, you might cause an accident. An accident is an unexpected event that results in injury to an employee, illness, or damage to property. In addition to learning and obeying the rules, it is also your responsibility to report any dangerous behavior or conditions that might have been overlooked during an inspection. In short, the elimination of unsafe conditions and unsafe behavior should be daily concerns for every person at your facility.

DEVELOPING A READING STRATEGY

1: Define your purpose for reading.
   (This is often stated in the title)

2: Skim the text quickly for general information and the main ideas.
   (Look for clues – look at headings, anything underlined, anything in italics.)

3: Read carefully the parts that relate to your purpose.

4: Summarize the information.

5: Evaluate your interpretation.
   Have you understood what you read?
   Can you achieve your purpose?
   If not, have you misinterpreted the information?

3. What kind of chemical is it? A solid? A liquid? A powder?

4. What color is the chemical?

5. Will this chemical mix with water? Will it dissolve?

6. If there is a fire with this chemical, what is the best way to put it out?

7. Will this chemical cause cancer?

8. What kind of ventilation should a company have if this chemical is used?
SITUATIONS

Using the MSDS sheet, write a paragraph of instructions for each of the following situations. Be sure to have an introduction, clear steps, and a conclusion. Also, make sure that you let the reader know about any special materials or equipment that are necessary to complete the instructions.

▲ SITUATION 1:

A fire has started due to an addition RC7135 spill and a spark. Bob was in the warehouse at the time, and he has to put the fire out. What kind of fire extinguisher should he use? What should he wear while putting out the fire?

▲ SITUATION 2:

The Decker Chemical Corporation is planning to start using Addition in their chemical procedures for glue. What should they do in terms of providing good ventilation, emergency stations, and equipment for workers?

▲ SITUATION 3:

While mixing a chemical batch with Addition, Lou splashed some of the chemical in his eyes and on his arms. How could this affect him? What should he do?

Below are situations that any of us might be faced with. Using the Reading Strategy and the ABC Company Employee Handbook, find out the necessary information for one of them and then be prepared to share that information with the rest of the class.

1. I am going to adopt a baby and would like to spend some time with her. What must I do? How does this affect my job? How much time can I have?

2. I need to have a major operation and will be away for at least 6 weeks. What must I do? How does this affect my job? What happens to my insurance? Do I get any money?

3. I want to join the 401K Plan, but don’t understand how it works. What do I need to do and what does ABC Company do for me?

4. I am a new employee and wish to know about holidays and vacation time. Are there any other days I am entitled to if I need to see to personal business?

5. As a new employee, I am concerned about the health and dental coverage for my family. Can you give me information about my cover, what I will be expected to lose from my paycheck each week and what I will be expected to pay for?
OBJECTIVES:
In order to read and respond to company material, at the end of this session students will be able to do the following

MATERIALS:
- Consumer’s Guide to New Jersey Law
For more practice with the Reading Strategy, look at these situations from the Consumer's Guide to New Jersey Law. Find out the necessary information for one of them and then be prepared to share that information with the rest of the class.

1. I bought a new car from a dealer, and it has been in and out of the shop four times within the first month of owning it. Even though they tell me that it is now okay, I'm not sure I want it any more.

2. I want to make a will. Do I need a lawyer to do this?

3. My ex-boyfriend has been threatening my children and me.

4. I have been called to do be a witness. I have never done this before, and need some information about what I should do?

5. Who pays for my loss of income if I am injured in an automobile accident?
OBJECTIVES:

In order to follow and give instructions using diagrams and maps, at the end of this session students will be able to

- read and interpret diagrams
- read and interpret maps
- generate diagrams to instruct others

TOPICS:

- diagrams in workplace
- reading maps
- instructions

METHODS:

- guided discussion
- group work
- worksheets to practice reading and writing skills

EVALUATION:

- self-evaluation of correctly completed worksheets
- ongoing evaluation by teacher
- evaluating each other's diagrams and instructions

MATERIALS:

- worksheets
- company map
When you read diagrams in the workplace, they come with written direction. Study a diagram carefully and read everything that is on it: titles, captions, and labels. To understand a diagram, be sure you know its subject. Be sure you know its main point. Remember: find the chief idea that the details of the diagram describe. (Use your company’s specific diagram)

Answer the following questions.

1. What is the subject of the diagram?

2. What is the main point of the diagram?

3. What part shows how much substance is inside a fire extinguisher?

4. What part would you aim at a fire?

5. What three things should you do when you use a fire extinguisher? Check each one.
   ___a. Check pressure gauge.
   ___b. Remove pull pin.
   ___c. Take hose off the hose clip.
   ___d. Clean off nozzle.
   ___e. Press down on lever.

In groups, make a diagram of a tool or piece of machinery that you use everyday. With this diagram, you should be able to instruct someone who has never used this. Be sure to consider the parts and their functions.
MAPS

Look at the map. Answer the following questions. (Use your company’s map for reference)

1. What is the subject of the map?

2. This map could be used for several other purposes. List as many as you can think of.

3. If you are in the lunch room and there is an emergency evacuation, how would you get out? Carefully describe the route you would take.

4. Describe how to get to your work area to a new person who comes into ABC Company at the Reception Area.
Draw and give directions from ABC Company to your house.

READING MORE DIFFICULT FORMS.

When we fill out forms it is very important to spend time applying the reading strategy to the material before we put pen to paper. We must actively understand the subject and purpose of the form and what is required of us.

What is the subject of this form?

What is its purpose?

When would you fill out this form?

What should you do before you fill it out?

Is there any part that you must not fill in?

How often can you make changes?

In your own words, summarize where you can make changes in your investment choices.
If you don’t choose to spread your pension into the different funds, where does the money go?

Where would you go to get information on the performance of the different funds?

You can spread your investment between all or any of the different funds in any way you want. What is the only thing you have to make sure of?

If you hand in your completed form on November 25, 1995, when will the changes you have made become operational?

What must you do with the completed form?
All application forms serve the same purpose; they provide a way for employers to get information about applicants' backgrounds and qualifications. Remember that they are often used to make hiring decisions, so they need to be filled out neatly, correctly and completely.

Before you start, preview the form. You don't want to make mistakes.

Answer all the questions, unless told otherwise. Use N/A if a question is not applicable.

Answer all questions truthfully. Don't say you are more qualified than you actually are. Read the "Applicant's Statement" carefully before you sign it.

Where you are asked to give a more detailed description, write this out on a piece of scrap paper first. Think carefully about what you want to say. Think about your most important qualifications and special skills. Why do you want this job?

Now fill out the form.
