The workbook is designed for teaching Melanesian Pidgin English (Tokpisin) sentence structure to Peace Corps volunteers. It addresses sentence structures that are common to most languages, and uses listening, speaking, translation, and other grammar drills and exercises to reinforce learning. The approach used assumes that a native speaker is available to assist the learner. Each lesson includes a pre-test, a new text, notes on sentence patterns and grammatical features, reading comprehension exercises, vocabulary exercises using a variety of techniques (direct translation, synonyms and antonyms, pointing, gestures, pictures, dictionary), listening comprehension practice, questions-and-answer exercises, summary recall, and a post-test. Lesson topics include: descriptive sentences; information questions; pronouns; commands/requests; use of intransitive verbs; use of transitive verbs; reflexive sentence structures; equative or classification sentences; possessive; locatives; negation; linking simple sentences; forming more complex sentences; combining sentences by embedding; and including quotations. A vocabulary list and answer key are appended. (MSE)

INTRODUCTION

Operating Principles of this workbook:

1. There are sentence structures that are common in most languages; the control of these structures could help the language learner progress quickly in his/her effort to learn the language.

   This book attempts to help the learner gain control of these structures through listening, speaking, translation and other structure or grammar drills and exercises.

   This book has used the classification of sentence structures from the book "Language Acquisition Made Practical" by Brewster & Brewster.

2. Tokpisin is a Melanesian Pidgin English. Many of the words are borrowed from English, but the manner of combining them into expressions—phrases, clauses, sentences, paragraphs—is uniquely melanesian or Papua New Guinean.

   The Grammar Notes and Observe the Patterns sections are provided to give the learner assistance in recognizing the basic sentence patterns and the significant grammatical features. They are not intended to give complete explanations or provide an intensive list of sentence patterns. They are placed only to help the learner develop the skill or ability to recognize new patterns on his/her own.

3. Language is learned, not taught. This book attempts to put into practice the principle that the language learner should direct and be responsible for his/her own language learning activity.

   All the exercises are designed for the learner to ask, tell, instruct, or remind his/her instructor or language helper to:

   a) keep track of errors made (PRE-TEST);
   b) check or correct his/her reading (NEW TEXT);
   c) correct his/her pronunciation and signal correct understanding or comprehension (READING COMPREHENSION), and (VOCABULARY LEARNING);
   d) describe something or produce sentences and paragraphs (LISTENING COMPREHENSION);
   e) engage in question and answer practice (QUESTION AND ANSWER PRACTICE);
   f) correct mistakes and check pronunciation (SPEAKING PRACTICE);
   g) check his/her answer (POST TEST).

4. The sentence structures presented were spoken or provided by native speakers—other native speakers might or could express the same meanings in different sentence structures. They should be respected. This book does not attempt to prescribe a "correct" way of expressing ideas or forming sentences. It only tries to present some sentence patterns—probably limited, but hopefully representative of the more common ones.
Important: The native speaker/language helper speaks or should be speaking a natural language. The learner's aim is to learn to express ideas or messages the way the native speaker expresses them.

Observe the Patterns

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK:

(Assumption: The learner has a language helper/instructor who is a native Tokpisin speaker and who can understand or speak English.)

PRE-TEST

The learner should start with this section. Do not translate the English sentences into Tokpisin sentences, but rather give the Tokpisin equivalent of the following English expressions. That means, understand the meaning or the message of the sentences and express them in Tokpisin. Check for the following:

- vocabulary - do you know all the words?
- sentence structure - can you express the sentences into Tokpisin fluently with very little hesitation and correctly?

You might then want to skip this lesson and do the next one if you get a perfect score on this test.

THE NEW TEXT

The heart or the meat of the lesson. The sentences presented or in the list share a similar pattern. They provide examples of the sentence structures or patterns to be learned in this chapter or lesson. Suggested steps for this section are the following:

1. Reading for Pronunciation. You read the sentence twice each time. Ask your instructor or language helper to check or correct your production or reading of the sentences.
   - Mimic or repeat after your instructor.

2. Check your vocabulary. Only you are aware of your understanding or knowledge of the words, but if you are in doubt, check with your instructor by giving the English meaning/equivalent or by giving other words that are synonyms or antonyms or related in some way.

3. Read and translate or transliterate.

4. Read the English translations and express these sentences back into Tokpisin (without looking at the Tokpisin sentences above, of course!).

OBSERVE THESE PATTERNS

The basic patterns shared by most of the sentences in this lesson are presented. Suggested steps are:
1. Read each sentence twice aloud. Always practice your pronunciation; also to develop fluency in reading and speaking these sentences.

2. Produce or form sentences containing the same pattern. Use both old and new vocabulary. This is to check your mastery or control of the sentence pattern.

3. Do some pattern drilling.
   Substitution drill-
   Start with a sentence, ask your instructor to give you a word, use that word to replace another word in the proper slot, then say the sentence again.

   Forming sentences with given words-
   Ask your instructor/helper to give you two or more words--you use them to form sentences.

GRAMMAR NOTES

Just read them for understanding. Check your understanding by forming sentences containing or trying the grammatical features presented or described.

READING COMPREHENSION

This section contains more examples--sentences and paragraphs that contain or use the sentence patterns presented by the lesson or chapter.
Suggested steps are similar to those in THE NEW TEXT.
Important: Look for new words or vocabulary. Check your understanding and use them in sentences--always!

VOCABULARY LEARNING

This section will try to give you new words/vocabulary or will present new skills or exercises to learn new words. Some ways to get new vocabulary:

a) Direct translation word for word - you give the English word, your instructor gives the Tokpisin equivalent.
   sentence for sentence - you give the English sentence, your instructor gives the Tokpisin equivalent.

b) By synonyms and antonyms - all in Tokpisin, ask or get synonyms or antonyms of given words.

c) By appropriate questions - Use your Tokpisin questions to ask for new words or descriptions of objects, places, people, events, etc.

d) By pointing to ... - to ask for names of objects or things, etc.

e) By gestures or motions or movements - ask your instructor to describe what you are doing.
f) By using pictures...ask your instructor to describe the picture or any part of the picture.

g) Using dictionary (of course!) - but this should be the last. It's more fun and more effective to get your new words and vocabulary from live sources.

AND IMPORTANT, MOST OF ALL, USE THESE NEW WORDS IN SENTENCES, OR ASK YOUR INSTRUCTOR TO ALWAYS USE THEM IN PROPER SENTENCES (NATURAL AND REAL).

LISTENING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE

In this exercise, you will ask your instructor or language helper to use vocabulary and sentence patterns in this lesson in sentences, paragraphs or stories. And for you to listen and indicate your understanding, by:

a) repeating after the instructor, or
b) nodding your head, or smiling, or
c) responding appropriately, or asking questions timely.

Or, ask you instructor or language helper to engage another speaker in a conversation--but as much as possible to use the sentence patterns that you have already learned or want to practice.

QUESTION AND ANSWER PRACTICE

This is of course one of the reasons you are learning the language. To be able to ask questions and/or answer them. Engage your instructor in a question and answer practice--using all your vocabulary words and sentence patterns learned.

SPEAKING PRACTICE (Summary Recall)

If you are a serious language learner and are not yet tired of all the talking, you should prove to yourself that you really have learned after all the preceding activities--by reciting everything that you can remember: words, phrases, sentences, paragraphs--just keep on talking.

Or, you might want to ask your instructor to test you by asking all sorts of questions--in Tokpisin of course!

POST TEST

Have you really learned anything? Go back to the sentences in the PRE-TEST section--see if you can express those sentences in their equivalent Tokpisin. The equivalent Tokpisin to these English sentences are given at the end of this book, on the Answer Key Section.
Basic Tokpisin

1. Descriptive Sentences

Objective: To be able to use the different types of sentences that relate to the description of objects, places, people or events.

PRE-TEST

Say out loud the Tokpisin equivalent of the following English expressions. Ask your Tokpisin instructor to keep track of errors you made.

1. What can you say about the church?
2. The coconut (tree) is tall.
3. Peter is tall.
4. Mary is short.
5. Americans are taller than Papua New Guineans.
6. Is the banana tall?
7. Is Tai short?
8. No. She is not short.
9. No. The banana is not tall.
10. Is Tai taller than Tamati.

You might want to skip to the next lesson if you get a perfect score in the above pre-test.

THE NEW TEXT

Read and try to understand the expressions in the text below. Ask your Tokpisin instructor to check or correct your reading.

Vocabulary Learning. Make sure you get word for word equivalent of the Tokpisin sentences. (Transliteration).

1. Baiyu tok wanem long Sios?
   Yu bai tok wanem long Sios?
2. Sios i bikpela.
4. Pita i longpela.
5. Meri i sotpela
6. Ol Amerika i longpela long ol pipel long PNG.
7. Banana i longpela?
8. Meri i longpela?
11. Pita i longpela long Meri?
12. Pita i no longpela long Meri.
13. Bai yu tok wanem long Sios?
14. Sios i bikpela mo long haus.
15. Pita i longpela mo long Meri.

The following are the English translations of the sentences above:

1. What can you say about the Church?
2. The church is big.
3. The coconut (tree) is tall.
4. Peter is fall.
5. Mary is short.
6. Americans are taller than the PNG people.
7. The banana is tall.

9. No. She is not tall.
10. No. The banana is not tall.
11. Peter is taller than Mary.
12. Peter is not taller than Mary.
13. What can you say about the Church?
14. The church is bigger than the house.
15. Peter is taller than Mary.

OBSERVE THESE PATTERNS

1. Subject + i + Descriptive word

   Pita
   Meri
   Meri
   Sios

2. Subject + i + Descriptive word ? (yes/no question)

   Pita
   Meri
   Meri
   Sios

3. Subject + i + no + Description.

   Tamati

2
Noel i no bikpela.
Tai i no sotpela.
Haus i no bikpela.

4. Subject + i + Description + long + noun.
   Ol Amerika i longpela long Ol Pilipin.
Pita i longpela long Meri.
Sios i bikpela long haus.
Meri i sot long Pita.

5. Subject + i + Description + mo + long + noun.
   Ol Amerika i longpela mo long Ol Pilipin.

6. Subject + i + no + Description + long + noun.
   Haus i no bikpela long Sios.
Noel i no longpela long Phillip.
Ore i no sotpela long Susan.
Pilipin i no bikpela long Papua Niu Gini.

GRAMMAR NOTES

1. The i is a predicate marker. It separates the subject from the predicate. It performs the same function as the is, was, are, were, am, or a verb—which makes up or starts the predicate in the sentence.

   Pita i sotpela. Peter is short.
   Ol Amerika i longpela. Americans are tall.

2. Yes/No questions (or questions answerable by yes/no) in Tokpisin are produced or formed in the same way as English—a rising tone or intonation at the end of the sentence.

   Pita i longpela.
   Pita i longpela?
   Sios i bikpela.
   Sios i bikpela?
3. Negation or no/not is done by the use of no before the word or idea negated.

Tamati i longpela?
Tamati i no longpela.

Haus i bikpela?
Haus i no bikpela.

4. Comparison (more, better, or lesser) is made by the use of long or mo long.

Pita i longpela long Meri.
Pita i longpela mo long Meri.
Sios i bikpela long haus.
Sios i bikpela mo long haus.

READING COMPREHENSION

1. Bai yu tok wanem long Sios?
Sios i bikpela.
Sios i bikpela long haus.

2. Bai yu tok wanem long Papua Niu Gini.
Papua Niu Gini i raipela.
Papua Niu Gini i bikpela long Pilipin.

3. Alwin i longpela.
Alwin i longpela mo long Kletus.

4. Tamati i longpela?
Nogat. Em i no longpela.
Em i sotpela mo long Tai.

5. Ananas i bikpela long popo?
Nogat. Ananas i no bikpela long popo.
Nogat. Em i no bikpela long popo.
Em i liklikpela long popo.

6. Diks i longpela long Kletus?
Yesa. Diks i longpela long Kletus.
Yesa. Em i longpela long Kletus.
Yesa. Em i longpela mo long Kletus.

7. Kletus i bikpela long Alwin?
Nogat. Kletus i no bikpela long Alwin.
Nogat. Em i no bikpela long Alwin.
Nogat. Em i no bikpela mo long Alwin.
Em i liklikpela long Alwin.
Em i liklikpela mo long Alwin.
VOCABULARY LEARNING BY SYNONYMS AND ANTONYMS

Get the Tokpisin equivalent of the adjectives or descriptive words that you want to use in sentences. Get the synonyms and antonyms.
Ask your Tokpisin instructor to correct your pronunciation, the sentence structure and the appropriate context.

Examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>tokpisin</th>
<th>Tokpisin</th>
<th>English</th>
<th>English</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>longpela</td>
<td>sotpela</td>
<td>tail</td>
<td>short</td>

<td>wide</td>
<td>narrow</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>naispela</td>
<td>i no naispela</td>
<td>beautiful</td>
<td>ugly</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Write new words, phrases, or sentences below:

LISTENING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE

Point to an object and ask your Tokpisin Instructor to describe it using the different patterns above.
Listen and indicate your understanding by repeating after your instructor.
Example:

You Point to a mango tree.
Instructor describes the mango tree in these sentences.

Mango i longpela. Em i no sotpela. Bokis bilong mango i bikpela.
Tasol ol han diwai bilong mango i no bikpela. Em lilikpela tasol.
Bokis i bikpela mo long han diwai.

Note that your objective at this point is control and use of the structures or patterns of descriptive sentences. Don't worry if you keep forgetting the vocabulary.

QUESTION AND ANSWER PRACTICE.

Engage your Tokpisin instructor in a question and answer practice. You can take turns making the question and giving the answer.

Example:

Bai yu tok wanem long mango?
   Mango i longpela.
Mango i sotpela?
   Nogat. Mango i no sotpela. Em i longpela.
Bai yu tok wanem long Lis?
   Lis i longpela. Em i longpela mo long Tai.
Bai yu tok wanem long pipel long PNG?
   Pipel long PNG i naispela. Ol i sotpela mo long pipel long Amerika.

SPEAKING PRACTICE (Summary Recall)

As a summary, recite the Tokpisin expressions and sentences that you have learned. Describe objects, places, people and events or engage your instructor in a conversation. Remember your Tokpisin instructor to correct your mistakes and check your pronunciation.

POST TEST (Do the PRE-TEST again)

Ask your instructor to check your answers, or check your answers with the ones provided on the Answer Key Section.
Basic Tokpisin

GRAMMAR NOTES

1. The term Question Word refer to the words that are used to ask for information. They are:

wanem what husat who (who is that) wanem taim what time, when olsem wanem how (in what manner)
bilong wanem why hamas how much, how many bilong husat whose (belong whom) we where stap we where from, where..live/reside wits wan which, which (new...)

2. The i is used after question words, wanem, husat, wits wan as a predicate marker to separate the predicate from the subject. The i may also be omitted.

Example:

Wanem i gutpela? What is good?
Husat i sik? Who is sick?
Wits wan i gutpela? Which one is good?
Wanem hia? What is this?
Wanem nem bilong yu? What is your name?

3. See the patterns (Observe the Patterns) above for more examples of the uses of the question words.
VOCABULARY LEARNING

One good way of learning vocabulary is to ask questions that will elicit the words or vocabulary from a native speaker or from your language helper.

Use the following questions to get new vocabulary:

Wanem hia?
What is this?

Wanem long hap?
What is that? (What is over there?)

Husat?
Who is that?

......i wanem samting long tokpisin?
What is ...... in tokpisin?

Em wokim wanem?
What is he/she doing?

Yu wokim wanem?
What are you doing?

Yu tok wanem long tokpisin ......?
Yu tok olsem wanem long tokpisin.....?
How do you say in Tokpisin..............?

   ............ em. ............ his/hers/it.
   ............ yumi. ............ ours.
   ............ mipela. ............ ours.
   ............ yupela. ............ yours.
   ............ ol. ............ theirs.

2. Tokpisin uses dispela to refer to 'this' and 'that'. The expression long hap is used to emphasize 'over there'.
Examples:

Mi laikim dispela.  I like this.
Mi laikim dispela.  I like that.  (pointing)
Mi laikim dispela long hap.  I like that, over there.

GRAMMAR NOTES

1. The intransitive verbs in Tokpisin, as in English, refer to those verbs that do not require an object or recipient of the action to complete a sentence. Tokpisin shows a distinction between intransitive and transitive verbs. Intransitive verbs do not end with the suffix -im.
(Note: See Lesson 6 for Transitive Verbs.)

2. The verbs in Tokpisin do not change in form to reflect the changes in tense. Tokpisin uses tense markers. The tense markers are:

bin (English = been) = past tense marker or for completed action.

wok long or stap = progressive action marker.

save = habitual action marker.

bai = future tense marker.

(verb alone) = to indicate present tense.

(Note: There may of course be exceptions to the above. Find out the patterns. Look for similar examples.)

Mi bai go spak long kiab bilong ol Kavieng.
Mi bai go sing long haus bilong tisa.

STRUCTURE DRILLS/PRACTICE

1. From Present Tense to Past Tense. Ask your language instructor to give you sentences using intransitive verbs in the present tense. You change the verb to past tense.

Example:

Instructor: Mi go long maket.
You: Mi bin go long maket.

2. From Present Tense to Progressive tense.

Example:

Instructor: Em i sindaun long ploa.
You: Em i wok long sindaun long ploa. or Em i stap sindaun long ploa.

3. From Past Tense to Future Tense.

Example:

Instructor: Mi bin go long maket asde.
You: Mi bai go long maket tumora.
4. Combining Verb and Time indicator into a sentence. Ask your language helper or instructor to give you a verb and a word or phrase indicating time. Then you use these phrases into sentences making sure you get the right tense markers of the verbs.

Example:

Instructor: go.....asde.
   You: Mi bin go long maket asde.
Instructor: go......olgeta de
   You: Mi save go long opis olgeta de.
Instructor: wok.....tumora
   You: Bai mi wok long opis tumora.

5. Questions and Answer Drill. Engage your Tokpisin helper in a question and answer drill. You can take turns making the question and giving the answer. Remember to use the appropriate tense markers.

Example:

Instructor: Yu bin wokim wanem asde?
   You: Mi bin go long maket asde.
Instructor: Bebi i wokim wanemn nau?
   You: Em i wok long krai.

You: Yu save wokim wanem olgeta de?
   Instructor: Mi save go long opis olgeta de.
You: Bai yu wokim wanem tumora?
   Instructor: Bai mi wokabaut i go long maket.

VOCABULARY LEARNING

Think of sentences in English where the verb or the action word describes someone doing an activity and the verb does not require an object (intransitive verb). Ask for the Tokpisin word of that verb, then use that verb in a Tokpisin sentence. Remind your Tokpisin instructor to correct your sentence structure.

Example:

You: lie down.
Instructor: ________________
You: He is lying down on the floor.
Instructor: ________________

GRAMMAR NOTES

General Rules for Transitive Verbs:
(Taken from F. Mihalic's The Jacaranda Dictionary and Grammar of Melanesian Pidgin.)

1. Any verb ending in the suffix -im is transitive and has a direct object.

   bihainim mi  to follow me
   kukim kaikai to cook food

2. Any transitive verb not ending in the suffix -im requires long before its object. e.g.

   liuklu (long) to look at driman (long) to dream about

3. Compounding: Some transitive verbs when compounded with the adverbial suffixes, ap, aut, ewe make use of the objective suffix -im (or its equivalent -am) twice. Once it is infixed between the stem and the adverbial suffix; then it appears again at the end of the resultant compound, e.g.,

   bringimapim to bring up pulimapim to pour eramautim to divulge tekimautilm to harvest
   karamapim to cover up

4. The majority of transitive verbs, however, when compounded with adverbial suffixes do not add -im twice. Examples are:

   bagarapim to ruin  lokapim to lock up goapim to climb pairapim to explode halsapim to raise pulapim to fill hariapim to hurry sanapim to stand up hivapim to lift sarapim to silence

5. Many transitive verbs always have the objective suffix -im. Check with your language instructor. Some examples are:
abusim to mix      adresim to address apim to raise up    askim to ask autim to divulge    baim to buy banisim to fence in baptasim to baptise baritim to furrow   bekim to return bihaisim to follow  boinim to burn bosim to supervise  bringim to bring brosim to brush     daunim to defeat dilim to distribute  givim to give

6. Some transitive verbs never have the objective suffix -im. They are, however, transitive only in the meanings given; almost all of them may also be intransitive when used without reference to any object.

gat lukluk (long) to have luksave (long) to gave at, to look at marimari (long) to recognize pilai to pity
preseyn (long) to play something smelsave (long) to give a free gift to renkyu (long) to recognize by smell tenkyu (long) to thank someone trabel (long) to cause trouble to

7. Some transitive verbs occur in both forms, and usually require the preposition long when the suffix -im is left off. Some examples are:

abrus(im) to avoid bikmaus(im) to shout at daikai(im) to eat
dalap(im) to jump over dain(im) to learn duakaut(im) to search for poto(im) to take a photo of dela(im) to catch dingaut(im) to call tekewa(im) to remove tok(im) to tell tromoi(im) to throw
was(im) to watch
wat(im) to await
tok long em tell him
tokim em tell him

STRUCTURE DRILLS/PRACTICE

1. From Present Tense to Past Tense. Ask your language instructor to give you sentences using transitive verbs in the present tense. You change the verb to past tense.
Example:

Instructor: Boi kaikai bisket.
        You: Boi bin kaikai bisket.

2. From Present Tense to Progressive tense.

Example:

Instructor: Em i kukim kaukau.
        You: Em i wok long kukim kaukau. or Em i stap kukim kaukau.

3. From Past Tense to Future Tense.

Example:

Instructor: Barry bin givim wasman wanpela hanwas.
        You: Barry bai givim wasman wanpela hanwas.

4. Combining Verb and Time indicator into a sentence. Ask your language helper or instructor to give you a verb and a word or phrase indicating time. Then you use these phrases into sentences making sure you get the right tense markers of the verbs.

Example:

Instructor: iukim.....asde
        You: Mi bin iukim Meri long maket asde.

Instructor: ridim.....tumora
        You: Bai mi ridim wanpela bok tumora.

5. Question and Answer Drill. Engage your Tokpisin helper in a question and answer drill. You can take turns making the question and giving the answer. Remember to use the appropriate tense markers.

Example:

Instructor: Yu bin wokim wanem asde?
        You: Mi bin baim wanpela popo long maket asde.

Instructor: Bebi i wokim wanemn nau?
        You: Em i wok long drinkim susu bilong en.
