The Mississippi Library Commission conducted a project that involved raising public awareness, collection development, and English as a Second Language (ESL) services. The project served a community of over 200,000 people, with ESL learners as the specific target group. The goal of the project was to aid public library and other literacy efforts in selecting and providing ESL materials for students and teachers. A core collection of ESL materials for use by ESL instructors, trainers, and program directors was purchased. The collection, housed at the Mississippi Library Commission, allows ready access through an established library resource sharing network throughout all areas of the state. The bibliography of ESL materials produced through the project was distributed to all public libraries, literacy providers, school districts, colleges, and junior colleges. A survey accompanied the bibliography, and was intended to obtain feedback from service providers who have the most direct contact with the target population. Information from the survey was also used in planning for future literacy programs. Literacy students will benefit from both the literacy providers' use of the collection and from personal access to the collection. Attachments include newspaper articles, the survey, and a 46-page annotated bibliography with three indexes (author, subject, and series) of ESL literacy materials. (SWC)

Part III: Narrative Report

Provide a narrative report that includes the following information:

1. A comparison of actual accomplishments to the goals and objectives set forth in the approved application. Describe any major changes or revisions in the program with respect to approved activities, staffing, and budgeting, including unspent funds. Explain why established goals and objectives were not met, if applicable.

2. Provide a comparison between proposed and actual expenditures by budget category, i.e., personnel, travel, materials, etc.

3. Provide, as appropriate, specific details as to the activities undertaken -- e.g., if library materials were acquired, describe the kinds of materials purchased; if a needs assessment was conducted, describe the results of the assessment; if training was provided, describe the training and include the dates and topics; if services were contracted out, describe the contractor's activities.

4. Describe the role the library has played in the accomplishment of the goals and objectives set forth in the approved grant, including whether the library was involved in the project's implementation or as a resource and site only.

5. Provide names of agencies and organizations recruited to volunteer their services for the literacy program or that were involved in the coordination and planning of the literacy program. Describe the nature of their role.
6. Provide the names and locations of libraries and other sites whose facilities were used for this project.

7. Describe the impact of the Federal project on the ongoing program of the grantee.

Note: Narrative reports are not expected to exceed 20 double-spaced typewritten pages.

[Further monies or other benefits may, but not necessarily, be withheld under these programs unless these reports are completed and filed as required by existing law and regulations (20 U.S.C. 351 et seq.; 34 CFR Parts 75 and 77).]
Part III: Narrative Report

The Title VI Literacy Grant for the Mississippi Library Commission had two goals:

1. To aid public library and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in selecting ESL materials for students and teachers; and

2. To assist public library and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in providing ESL materials for students and teachers.

The goals listed above were to be accomplished by these two objectives:

1. Purchase a core collection of materials for use by ESL instructors, trainers, program directors, etc., in planning for and/or evaluating materials for ESL literacy programs; and

2. Provide for ESL students, through public libraries, ESL reading materials to supplement ESL literacy course materials.

The first goal, to aid public library and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in selecting ESL materials for students and teachers, was accomplished by the purchasing of a core collection of materials for use by ESL instructors, trainers, program directors, etc., in planning for and/or evaluating materials for ESL literacy programs. The second goal, to assist public library and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in providing ESL materials for students and teachers, was accomplished by providing for ESL students and teachers, through public libraries, ESL reading materials to supplement ESL literacy courses. The objectives were achieved by the purchase of a wide range of English as a second language materials for use by both teachers and students. Materials purchased included items in various formats and on various skill levels.

Revisions in the program included a change in the staff administering the grant. Sharman Smith, Library Services Director, was the original project director. After her resignation from the Library Commission to become State Librarian of Iowa, Patricia Beard, formerly Outreach Services Manager and assistant project director, was promoted to Library Services Director and named as project director. Jean Hudspeth, coordinator of Talking Book and Braille Services, was promoted to Outreach Services Manager and named as assistant project director. Due to the changes in those administering the grant and other staff shortages throughout the agency as a whole, it was realized that the Library Commission would not be able to complete the project by the grant deadline. An extension of the grant period was requested and a ten month extension was granted with project completion date extended to July 31, 1994.

There were some changes in budget amounts -- both direct and in-kind. The library materials budget went over the proposed amount by $43.04. The amount proposed for printing was under by almost the same amount. The number of bibliographies produced was 1100 less than the number proposed due to it being almost twice as long as originally estimated. There were still a sufficient number of bibliographies for mailing to all proposed recipients with an adequate number for distribution upon request.
The amount of paper needed for press releases was over estimated. Postage costs were the most out of line of the direct charges. The cost of mailing the bibliographies was less than anticipated. One news release concerning the awarding of the grant was done before the funds became available.

In-kind contributions, also reflect some major differences. The projected time for the assistant project director was underestimated. The reviewing of selection tools and preparation of selection lists was more involved than anticipated due to the many parts contained in many of the sets. The development of the annotations for materials purchased was also very time consuming. In addition the assistant project director was more involved in the preparation of the bibliography because an update to the database that would have allowed for desktop publishing formatting of the bibliography did not arrive before project completion.

The time proposed for the two public relations staff members fell far below the proposal due to the bibliography not being done on a desktop publisher. In addition one of the news releases concerning the grant was done at the time the grant award was announced and before the funds were awarded. The time required for printing jobs also fell below the time projected.

This was quite a complex project for the Technical Services Department of the Library Commission. What the Library Commission regarded as a "set" was not always found cataloged that way on OCLC. Every OCLC record required extensive editing; however, no more than 10 original cataloging records had to be created. There were 370 monographs and sets assigned call numbers. Most of the items were sets consisting of two or more parts (some as many as 17). Although we know that there are 370 cataloging records, there is not a count of the total number of parts in the entire collection. 370 times $6.50 (estimated cost of processing one piece) gives a very low cost attributed to cataloging and processing procedures - $2,405.00.

The magnitude of the project was so great that projected project staff was not sufficient to accomplish project goals in the time allotted; therefore additional professional staff added with some aspects of the project, i.e. input of order information, accessioning of the materials, preparation of annotations of materials, and preparation of the bibliography. This information is listed in the comparative budget.

Some staff contributions are not included at all. The time by the Fiscal Management Division is not being reported; they were involved in record keeping and in the ordering and receipt of materials. The Computer Services Department was called upon to train for data input for materials ordered and also aided with the processes necessary to produce the bibliography in its final form. The staff in the mailing area were responsible for the mailing of the news releases and the bibliography.

The original and actual budgets for the project were as follows:

PROJECT IMPACT

The Mississippi Library Commission has had three LSCA Title VI, Literacy Grants funded in the past. The first two focused on the acquisitions of literacy materials for placement in public libraries and correctional facilities. The third grant, funded in 1991, provided for direct contact between the Library Commission and literacy project coordinators allowing for an exchange of ideas and concerns about the state's literacy problem. This grant provides access to a core collection of English as a second materials to a diverse and scattered non-English population of the state. The collection, housed at the Mississippi Library Commission, allows ready access through an established library resource sharing network throughout all areas of the state. The project had a direct impact on all literacy programs throughout the state in that the bibliography produced in conjunction with the project and sent to all public libraries, literacy providers, schools districts, colleges and universities, community and junior colleges and others interested in literacy provided a means of accessing the collection on the local level. The impact will be both direct and indirect on literacy students in that they will benefit both from the literacy providers use of the collection and from personal access to the collection. Use of the collection both in-house and through interlibrary loan began immediately upon release of the bibliography and a press release announcing the project. Representatives from literacy programs and the Department of Education, Office of Community and Outreach Services viewed the collection in-house and were impressed and excited with what they found.
ACTIVITIES

Acquisition of Materials:

The materials were chosen by the Assistant Project Coordinator. In selecting items for the project a wide range of literacy materials producers were used: Audio-Forum, The Language Source; Laubach/New Readers Press, Literacy Volunteers of America, Inc.; Contemporary Books, Inc.; Glencoe, Barron's Educational Series, Inc.; Regents/Prentice Hall, Longman ESL, and Educational Activities, Inc. In selecting the materials that would meet the needs of literacy providers and students a variety of formats was considered and purchased. For example, Expressways, a multilevel program, has student books and workbooks, teacher guides, audio tapes, picture cards, achievement tests, and a placement test kit. CORE Reading and Vocabulary Development Program, an interactive and versatile tutorial program, consists of 18 computer diskettes and 5 manuals in binders. You Can Read! uses video cassettes and masters for activity sheets to teach word attack and word analysis skills. Strategies in Listening tasks, for beginning and intermediate students, primarily uses audio tapes to reach its audience but also uses a workbook, tape scripts, and answer key as supplements.

Some materials introduce students to American culture. All About the USA, an American Cultural Reader and American Customs and Traditions are two such examples on the high-beginning to low-intermediate level. American Picture Show is an advanced level, content based, cultural reader designed for students preparing to attend American colleges and universities. The U.S.A. Customs and Institutions and Faces of the USA are two that represent resources for the intermediate to advanced student. One of the hardest concepts for English as a second language students to master is the many American idioms used in everyday speech (i.e. "bed of roses", "piece of cake", "pin down", "pick the brains of", "shake a leg", "head over heels", to name a few). The meaning of the phrase cannot be understood by knowing the meaning of the individual parts. Titles that meet this need include: Idioms in American Life, Take It Easy: American Idioms, and Handbook of Commonly Used American Idioms.

Several examples of sample courses were also purchased to be a part of the collection for the project. For example: Coast to Coast, intended for international students and college intensive programs and on three levels for beginning and intermediate students, has components in print and audio formats. AKA (American Kernel Lessons) is on 3 levels (beginning, intermediate, and advanced) and is also multi-format (student books, teacher's manuals, workbooks, student tests, audio cassettes - episodes, audio cassettes - situations/dialogs, audio cassettes - lab drills, and lab drill tapescripts. The Lado English Series with its multi-format approach takes the student from a zero level knowledge of English to basic aptitude in the four language skills (understand, speak, read, and write).

opportunities for literacy providers to increase their knowledge concerning and to improve their classroom skills. Some of these titles include: The Multicultural Classroom: Readings for Content-area Teachers, Top 20 ESL Word Games: Beginning vocabulary Development (This title uses games, puzzles, and activities to increase basic vocabulary.), Techniques for Classroom Interaction, Teaching English to Children, and Teacher Training Through Video - ESL Techniques.

Supplemental and recreational reading materials were also a part of the projects; titles in this area included simplified versions of the classics and popular fiction (The Bridge Series that includes titles like Best Detective Stories of Agatha Christie and Flowers for Mrs. Harris, New Method Supplementary Readers that include titles like Canterbury Tales and Call of the Wild, and Longman's Simplified English Series that includes such classics as The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and Jane Eyre. Other materials of this nature include the Everything's Different program that consists of 18 original novels written specifically for young adult/adult ESL students; these novels written on high-beginner/intermediate reading level examine immigrants' experiences At School, On the Job, and In the Community. Individual titles include: The Chicken Smells Good, Stories from Latin America, Unusual Stories from Many Lands, and many other such titles.

Other titles include writing skills in English from the beginner to those needed by college students and professionals.

Development and Production of the Bibliography

Cataloging data of the materials purchased for the English as a Second Language Project was downloaded into Procite for manipulation of data to form an annotated title bibliography with three indexes (author, subject, and series). The annotated subject listing has 310 entries with many of them consisting of multi-levels and/or parts. At least one entry has as many as 50 separate items making up its various levels and formats. Once the data was arranged into the bibliography and its three indexes the data was downloaded into OFIS One Word Processing for final editing and formatting. A print ready copy was given to Library Commission staff in public relations and printing for mass production of the bibliography. The final bibliography, English as a Second Language Literacy Materials: A Bibliography, consisted of 90 pages, 40 pages longer than estimated in the proposal. This resulted in a reduction in the number of bibliographies produced to approximately 1400. Seven hundred ninety-one bibliographies were mailed to public libraries, literacy programs or providers, colleges and universities, junior or community colleges, school districts, and other organizations interested in literacy services. Mailing of the bibliography was done the last week of June 1994. Thirty copies were given to the government documents librarian as part of the state document depository program. The remaining 600 copies are for distribution upon request. A copy of the bibliography is included with this report.

Survey and Survey Results

A survey (copy included with this report) was developed and mailed with the bibliography. Everyone receiving a copy of English as a Second Language: A Bibliography received a copy of the survey. The survey had two purposes: (1) Provide feedback from service providers who most directly come in contact with the target population since the population itself cannot be surveyed directly; and (2) To use the information garnered from the survey in planning for future literacy programs of the Library Commission. Although response to the survey did not meet with our expectations we did obtain some valuable information as to the types of aid the Library Commission could provide literacy providers in the future.

2. What is the English as a second language (ESL) population of your target group or area?

The replies to this question varied greatly. Some responses concerned the national origin of the target population - Latin American, Native American (Choctaw), Vietnamese, Danish, Korean, Chinese, Laotian, and Indian. Other responses were more generic, i.e. foreign exchange students, many countries, or South East Asia. Some responses were a percentage of the population served, others a figure (ten, fifty, 200, etc.), and one said 4 out of 1000. Fifteen respondents said there where none in their target area (the majority of these were school districts). The largest concentration of the English as a second language population is located on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

3. Estimate the percentage of this population that would benefit from an English as a second language literacy program.

Many of the respondents misunderstood this question in that they gave the percentage of the total population that would benefit from an ESL program. Several reported 100%; one of which was a program for refugees. Responses that appeared to be valid range from 50% to 100%.

4. Total number of ESL students served over:

(a) Five years - Twenty-seven respondents reported that they had not served any ESL students during the last five years. Many reported serving less than 10. There were seven "no responses" to this question. The largest number (1200) was reported by a school district on the Gulf Coast. One church sponsored program served 200; and a university reported serving 451. A junior college served 350. The remaining literacy services served between 11 and 126 ESL students.

(b) Currently - Twenty-nine respondents reported no current service to ESL students. The majority of the respondents are serving less than ten ESL students. The school district on the Gulf Coast that served 1200 over the past 5 years is currently serving 684 ESL students. Eight respondents left this question blank. The remaining respondents that reported serving ESL students served between 11 and 99 students.

5. Does your library's current collection include ESL materials?

   25 - yes  53 - no  5 - not known

6. Are these materials being used by or for your target population?

   16 - yes  14 - no  44 - not applicable
   5 - not sure  5 - no response

7. How have you selected ESL materials in the past?

   Only 24 said they had purchased ESL materials in the past. Thirteen responded not applicable. Eleven of the respondents reported not selecting ESL materials and 35 did not respond to the question. Of the ones selecting materials, some of selection aids and methods were:

   Recommendations from users
   Teacher requests, recommendations, and reviews
   Laubach Literacy System - 7
   Obtain materials on loan from the Department of Education - 5 (School districts)
   Selection by a professional in ESL methods
   New Readers Press, Steck-Vaughn Companies, ABE catalogs, school materials, and other literacy catalogs
   Real Life English I & II
   Buy only dictionaries

8. Do you feel that the material represented in English as a Second Language Literacy Materials: A Bibliography will be useful in your programs?

   61 - yes  12 - no  2 - Don't know
   1 - possibly  1 - not applicable  6 - no response

   Selected Comments:

   1. Definitely, if we had any in the students that we serve. (University)
There are no programs currently on campus -- We welcome the addition of your bibliography to our collection for further use. (University)

This is an excellent bibliography. (Literacy program)

It will be another resource to reach our students. (Literacy program)

Since it [ESL materials] is not a part of our collection, it is great to know these materials are available. (Junior college) who works with ESL, was very much in need of this bibliography! Thinks it will be very useful. It will also be useful to the LRC [Literacy Resource Center]. (Junior college)

[Yes] if we can get the teacher to use it. (Junior college)

[No] Would be extremely useful if there was a need. (Literacy program)

[Yes] Simplify the process of locating the materials we need. (School district)

[Yes] Since these materials are available via our local public library, the students and their parents will have additional resources that are accessible outside of school. (School district)

You have collected some good resource materials, but the key to their effectiveness is in use by trained knowledgeable teachers. (School district)

[Yes] Supplementary materials are needed for the English as a second language student to broaden his/her English reading, writing, and speaking skills. (Library with a literacy program)

[Yes] If readily available as advertised, if there is a delay or waiting period to receive the materials the usefulness will be diminished. Viewing the collection in Jackson would have little value for us, since we live 5 hours away. (Library with a literacy program)

[Yes] The bibliography will be available, do not know if it will be used.

[No] This does not seem to be a need in our community at the present time. We have had not request for such materials nor have we had any persons who did not speak English in our libraries. (Library without a literacy program)

Bibliographies are always a good source of finding materials and information. (Library without a literacy program)

[Yes] If the need for this material should arise it [the bibliography] would be the first source. (Library without a literacy program)

9. What are some ways the Mississippi Library Commission can provide assistance to your literacy program(s) in the future?

[Note] Total responses are greater than the number of surveys returned because some respondents marked more than one response.

25 Workshop on grant writing and fund raising.
18 Workshop on literacy volunteer management.
24 Purchase of additional materials for literacy collections. What kind?
   Videos, audio tapes, etc.
   Maintain literacy collection, keep it up to date
   Supplementary materials
   Instructional materials
   Materials for the deaf culture
   Tutorial materials
   Short fiction in foreign languages for international students
   Short fiction in English by international authors
   Low level high interest readers for adults these should include fiction, nonfiction, career books, and should be minority centered for blacks, Latin Americans, and other nationalities
   Workbooks for students - not ESL
   Job materials for low readers
9 Workshop on collection development for literacy programs.
19 Workshop on the development of a library literacy program.

6 Other.
   List of model literacy programs and their areas of emphasis, contact people, summary of activities, etc.
   Help with getting the word out to those who need help that help is available
   Workshop to train ESL volunteers
   Provide basic education materials and programs (other than JTPR or JOBS funded programs) for those who do not qualify for these programs
   Perhaps a workshop or seminar where the materials in the bibliography are available and participants are allowed to review the various items.

3 Not applicable.
18 No response.
3 Don't know.

News Releases

The public was notified of the grant award through local and state newspapers. A sample of one such announcement is included with this report. At the completion of the grant period and with the production of the bibliography, the staff of public affairs prepared and mailed another news release to be sent to state newspapers (weekly and daily), radio and television stations, state agencies having literacy programs that have newsletters, volunteer groups and Mississippi Libraries. (Samples from various newspapers and other publications are included with this report.) Copies of the news release were also mailed to public libraries (included with the bibliography), public library trustees (who would have normally received the information through The Packet, but this publication was not being published at the time the project was completed), and delegates to the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services. A copy of the news release was to have gone to delegates of the Mississippi Conference on Libraries and information services, but this information was no longer in the data base. A total of 2147 of the second news releases were mailed, 1356 in first class mail and 791 were mailed with the bibliographies.

State Library Projects

The Library commission has a staff member, Manager of Outreach Services, who is designated to work with library literacy programs. This person is responsible for preparing agency grant applications for literacy grants, as well as serving as a liaison between the Library Commission and other state agencies interested in combating adult illiteracy. Other agencies include the Department of Education, Governor's Office of Literacy, Department of Economic and Community Development, etc. At the present time she is serving on a work team for a grant that is being administered by the Governor's Office of Literacy. The purpose of this grant, "The State Capacity Building Staff Development Grant", is threefold: (1) "Help state leaders create and institutionalize staff development systems for staff of all local programs providing literacy and basic skills service to adults...." (2) "Strengthen the State Literacy Resource Center. and (3) Contribute to the creation and maintenance of a national system for literacy."

This English as a Second Language Project will continue to provide materials to a small but under served group of Mississippians. The local public libraries do not have the resources to provide second language literacy materials on the local level but through interlibrary loan such materials will be available to serve the needs of literacy providers and students.

There were no training programs on literacy conducted by the agency.
Library commission targets grant funds

JACKSON (AP) - The Mississippi Library Commission will use a $25,000 federal grant to buy literacy materials and circulate them across the state.

The grant will allow the commission to establish a collection of materials for teaching English as a second language, commission spokeswoman Charmain Thompson said.

"There are very few literacy programs that are geared toward non-English-speaking people," Thompson said. "This program is geared toward those people throughout the state."
Library collects literacy materials for non-English speaking readers

The Mississippi Library Commission has received a $25,000 grant from the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) Title VI to establish a core collection of literacy materials for the non-English speaking population of Mississippi.

The collection is housed at the Mississippi Library Commission at 1221 Ellis Ave. in Jackson. Materials may be borrowed through the local library.

“English as a Second Language, Literacy Materials: A Bibliography” provides references to materials that enable teachers to assist students to acquire English speaking skills, and to become literate in English.

In addition, the collection includes supplementary materials that will provide practice for the English as a second language student and a means of broadening his/her English reading, writing and speaking skills.

Any individual, on the referral of their local librarian, may view the collection at the Mississippi Library Commission.

This publication was partially funded under the Library Services and Construction Act administered by the Mississippi Library Commission
INTRODUCTION

The non-English speaking population of Mississippi is scattered in the state. There is no single area where large numbers of this target population are concentrated. (The single exception is the area of the state on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The three coastal counties have an ever-growing number of Asian immigrants.) This dispersion makes it difficult for any one library or library system to justify more than a minimal number of titles for English as a second language materials without putting a strain on already overburdened budgets. To meet the needs of the small but little served population, the Mississippi Library Commission made application for a Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) Title VI Library Literacy Program grant of $25,000 to establish a core collection of English as a second language (ESL) materials and the grant was funded. The goal of the project was two-fold: (1) To aid public library and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in selecting ESL materials for students and teachers and (2) To assist public libraries and other literacy efforts in Mississippi in providing ESL materials for students and teachers.

The collection developed through this grant consists of a wide range of English as a second language materials at various skill levels in multiple formats. Materials include computer software, student workbooks and texts, teachers' guides, video and audio tapes, activities sets with transparencies, flashcards, games, etc. In addition the collection includes supplementary materials that will provide the ESL student practice and a means of broadening his/her English reading, writing, and speaking skills. Materials for ESL literacy providers, program developers, instructors, teachers, etc., include monographs, texts, videos, etc., on the subject of ESL literacy.

The core collection is housed at the Mississippi Library Commission and is available through an automated interlibrary loan system. Mississippi public libraries will be the main local distribution points for the materials. State employees of Mississippi may borrow directly from the Mississippi Library Commission. Any individual, upon referral from their local public library, may visit the Library Commission and use the collection in-house.

SUMMARY: Provides insight into American language, customs, and idioms, American English colloquialisms are humorously illustrated.
ESL 0350.

SUMMARY: "The Ability to Risk" is designed to teach reading skills to beginning students of ESL. The skill of risking, daring to continue reading without a thorough understanding of every word, is essential for students to master if they are to become efficient readers.
ESL 0001.

SUMMARY: Through readings and exercises, this text provides high-beginning-level ESL students with experience in extensive, specific-purpose reading in five key areas: math, science, business, social science, and charts and graphs.
ESL 0002.

SUMMARY: Teaches reading skills as they relate to study skills. Emphasizes using the dictionary and using the library as well as learning reading and vocabulary skills.
ESL 0003.

SUMMARY: "Access" is an innovative pre-beginning-level text from the authors of the "Side by Side" and "Express Ways" series. It is especially appropriate for students who cannot read or write in their native language or in English.
ESL 0134.

SUMMARY: The main purpose of "Action English Pictures" is to offer students opportunities to engage in language acquisition activities. The pictures provide the stimuli for listening and speaking, while texts created by either the teacher or students provide material for reading and writing.
ESL 0004.

SUMMARY: "The Active Reader" is an introductory reading/communication text for young adult and adult ESL students who plan to use English as a medium for study and work. The text is designed to be used by students as a first textbook in the American classroom. The communication activities help students get to know each other, in addition to serving as a foundation for reading by activating background knowledge and providing vocabulary on each topic.

SUMMARY: Based on the notion that there is no one best type of exercise or style of teaching that works best for all students, this innovative conversation/vocabulary text for intermediate college-level or adult learners of ESL provides a kaleidoscope of conversation activities of all types.

ESL 0006.

SUMMARY: "Airspeak" is an innovative and efficient training manual designed to help pilots and air traffic controllers throughout the world to communicate effectively by radio in English.

ESL 0270.

SUMMARY: An intensive three-part series for young adult and adult students--students progress gradually from performing basic communicative tasks to more sophisticated language use while learning the major points of English grammar, which is contextualized through pictures, dialogs, and texts.

ESL 0200, ESL 0201, ESL 0202.

All about the USA: a cultural reader, Milada Broukal and Peter Murphy, White Plains, NY: Longman, 1991. 92 p.

SUMMARY: This engaging text features thirty units focusing on a uniquely American cultural phenomenon or personality. Enhanced with amusing illustrations, each reading is followed by comprehension, vocabulary, grammar and discussion activities.

ESL 0235.

SUMMARY: 60 different ways to make language learning more motivating and more enjoyable. Games, exercises, and conversations.

ESL 0298.

American accent training [sound recording] Ann Cook. N.Y.: Barron’s, 1991. 3 sound cassettes + 1 mirror + 1 manual (162 p.)

SUMMARY: Pays special attention to American-style English and American pronunciation. It emphasizes rhythms and sounds of English-language speech, features exercises that prompt students to listen and imitate, and stresses practice over abstract theory.

ESL 0337.
SUMMARY: This series of 5 carefully graded readers--5 typical American classics, sensitively abridged--is designed to make the life and color of American literature available to students with a limited command of English. ESL 0325.

SUMMARY: This series of 5 carefully graded readers--5 typical American classics sensitively abridged--is designed to make the life and color of American literature available to students with a limited command of English. ESL 0324.

SUMMARY: Brings colorful festivals and special celebrations alive, and also introduces some of the more everyday American customs. ESL 0226.

SUMMARY: Looks at the development of housing styles in the U.S. from the tepees and pueblos of native Americans to European-styles brought by immigrants to the "New" world to contemporary ideas. ESL 0295.

SUMMARY: This is an advanced-level, content-based, cultural reader designed for use with classes of ESL students who are preparing to enter American colleges and universities. It is based on the premise that such students must learn in English as well as about English. ESL 0007.

SUMMARY: This text is intended for students of English as a second language at or above the intermediate level. Each of the fifteen chapters centers on some aspect of American life. Some present opinion; some provide factual perspective. All have been planned around contemporary issues of concern to older adolescents and adult students, and all have been especially written or adapted for this volume. ESL 0008.

SUMMARY: Two books that students can study either in the classroom or at home to help them expand their vocabulary. Aimed at students approaching the intermediate level. ESL 0223.

SUMMARY: Aimed at advanced-level ESL readers, this volume demystifies the values, attitudes, and cultural patterns of American life while offering students ample practice in improving their reading, writing and study skills.

ESL 0009.

SUMMARY: Gives you the answers as it finds out what life is really like for students in elementary school, high school and college in the U.S.A.

ESL 0297.

SUMMARY: Takes a lively look at travel and transportation in the U.S. The author traces the history of travel from wagon trains and railroads to cars and airplanes.

ESL 0296.

SUMMARY: This fine anthology of selected literature opens the door to greater English fluency and reading comprehension. Selection-ending activities require students to explore various aspects of literature, practice reading/vocabulary strategies, and compose their own passages.

ESL 0010.

SUMMARY: "Back & Forth" contains 32 reproducible exercises designed to help intermediate ESL students improve their listening and speaking skills. The exercises are short, interactive, and highly focused, requiring students to communicate with one another to complete a specific task.

ESL 0011.

SUMMARY: This book has been designed to give both native-born and foreign students a solid sense of security in mastery of English. 123 irregular verbs are fully conjugated, pitfalls in sentence structure are analyzed, and rules for such trouble areas as spelling and punctuation are outlined.

ESL 0344.

SUMMARY: A concise TOEFL review guide for students who do not require extensive practice in English. This book contains one full-length model TOEFL exam, study hints, and 101 tips on the fine points of English.

ESL 0342.
SUMMARY: More than 120 of the most commonly used irregular English verbs are conjugated in all tenses.
ESL 0336.

SUMMARY: A complete guide to one of the most widely-used tests of English for speakers of other languages--required for admission and placement by hundreds of U.S. colleges and universities.
ESL 0343.

SUMMARY: Seven complete practice exams are closely modeled after the actual Test of English as a Foreign Language, and are presented with answers and explanations.
ESL 0341.

SUMMARY: Seven complete practice exams are closely modeled after the actual "Test of English as a Foreign Language," and are presented with answers and explanations. Also includes two listening cassettes of spoken English - one test for each of the manual's seven model test.
ESL 0339.

SUMMARY: More than 1000 practice questions are designed to improve skills in language structure, written expression and reading comprehension, while also increasing the student's English vocabulary. You get the TOEFL practice test manual, plus two practice exercise cassettes of spoken English.
ESL 0340.

SUMMARY: This program offers refugees and other newcomers to America the competency-based language instruction and cultural orientation they need to get along in everyday life situations. Book 1 focuses on personal information, food and shopping, housing, directions and transportation, and health care. Topics in Book 2 deal with telephones and emergencies, money and banking, work, driving, and community services.
ESL 0012.

SUMMARY: "Basic English Grammar" is a developmental skills text for students of English as a second language. It presents fundamental structures and vocabulary and provides ample opportunities for practice through extensive and varied exercises. While focusing on grammar, the text actively promotes the development of speaking, listening, and writing skills as well as situationally appropriate language use in everyday life in the United States and Canada.

ESL 0013.

SUMMARY: "Basic Skills for Academic Reading" is intended for adult learners of English as a second language who are preparing to attend universities or training programs in which they will need to read English for academic purposes. The text may be used to introduce the basic skills of reading in English, or it may be used as a review of those skills. It is assumed that students who use this text will be high school graduates who have previously studied some English.

ESL 0014.

SUMMARY: This book is designed for students whose English language proficiency is limited. Sample paragraphs about common experiences were written by students studying English as a second language.

ESL 0359.

SUMMARY: Designed to help beginning students practice various skills required for effective listening. The tasks in the book provide students practice with: following instructions, taking messages, understanding descriptions, solving problems, making sound discriminations, hearing specific grammatical forms, making inferences, taking notes, and listening for main ideas.

ESL 0211.

SUMMARY: Designed for high-beginners, uses popular American magazines to introduce and reinforce basic reading strategies.

ESL 0319.

SUMMARY: This very low-level aural comprehension program is appropriate as a first text for students from any first language background who enter an ESL/EFL class without prior study or exposure to English. It provides a method for reaching the "quiet students," the nonliterate, or those who are just afraid or shy.

ESL 0015.

SUMMARY: Now the bestselling "Day by day" has been adapted for beginning levels. This beginning level text/workbook uses the same practical competency-based approach to teaching as its earlier counterpart. In addition to teaching adult skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing of English, critical thinking skills are also introduced.

ESL 0351.

SUMMARY: This text emphasizes the spoken language and focuses attention on pronunciation and conversation.
ESL 0184.

SUMMARY: Two sections: (1) readings and exercises about cross-cultural communication and selected areas of American culture; and (2) intercultural communication activities designed to promote discussion of the subtleties of cross-cultural communication.
ESL 0360.

SUMMARY: "Beyond the Beginning: A Reader in English" is a comprehensive reading book for secondary and adult students of English as a second language at the intermediate level. The text focuses on reading as a process, with comprehension enhanced by exercises in all skill areas.
ESL 0016.

SUMMARY: "Beyond Words" is primarily designed for advanced students of ESL (TOEFL score of 525 +), though remedial students and those who speak English as a second dialect will also benefit from the use of this text. The readings cover broad-based topics which are mainly intended for students preparing for undergraduate university course work.
ESL 0017.

SUMMARY: Provides language teachers with a multidimensional tool to explore what they and their students do in the classroom and to generate new alternative.
ESL 0245.

SUMMARY: "Breaking the Ice" is an interactive communication strategies book for low-intermediate and intermediate students. Each of the 14 units in the book begins and ends with tasks designed to integrate listening and speaking skills.
ESL 0209.
SUMMARY: Designed to prepare students to score high on TOEFL, this is the first text to cover all aspects of TOEFL and to include both English-language skills and test-taking strategies based on the analysis of thousands of actual TOEFL items.
ESL 0018.

SUMMARY: Each title has been moderately simplified in vocabulary and often slightly reduced in length, but with little change in syntax. The purpose of the texts is to help students reach the objective of reading original works of literature in English with full understanding and appreciation.
ESL 0304.

SUMMARY: The purpose of "Business Interactions" is to develop the oral communication skills of EFL/ESL students of business. The text focuses on teaching students the skills they need in order to interact effectively in small group discussions.
ESL 0019.

SUMMARY: Designed with the special needs of ESL students in mind, this new source provides a thorough treatment of American government using proven ESL techniques.
ESL 0101.

SUMMARY: "Can We Talk?" is for students of English who have some knowledge of the basic structures, functions, and vocabulary. The text provides students with a number of situations to express their ideas, opinions, and emotions on a variety of topics. The emphasis is on the expression of one's own thoughts in English rather than on isolated points of grammar or vocabulary.
ESL 0020.

SUMMARY: Intended for use with students at all levels, this innovative volume consists of 243 reproducible cards—27 cards in each of nine categories (food, clothing, tools, road signs, faces, furniture, animals, daily activities, and leisure activities)—with each card set accompanied by six activities. The variety of language development activities provides vocabulary practice, conversational and written language practice, and cultural information.
ESL 0021.

SUMMARY: Targeted for intermediate to advanced level students of English, this new text uses actual case studies along with language-focused exercises to present "Business English" and to bring international business world realities to the classroom.

ESL 0356.

SUMMARY: "Challenges" may be described as a content-centered approach to English language mastery. Students get caught up in real challenges that they are facing in their own lives and, in many instances, in their own academic fields of interest. This book encourages a learner-centered or cooperative approach in which students are encouraged to be creative in their ideas and outlook.

ESL 0022.

SUMMARY: "Changing Times" is a reading text designed to help students acquire the reading, study, and critical thinking skills necessary for success in college-level work. Each chapter builds on and reinforces skills, concepts, and vocabulary presented in preceding chapters.

ESL 0023.

SUMMARY: "The Chicken Smells Good" is a beginning reader for students of ESL. It is a book written for and about adults. It is intended for advanced beginners or low-intermediate students in college, community college, and adult-education classes, as well as for older high school students and those who are studying on their own.

ESL 0024.

SUMMARY: This dynamic competency-based series (for the intermediate ESL student) develops the critical knowledge base, language skills, and problem-solving abilities ESL students need to actively participate in U.S. society.

ESL 0330.

SUMMARY: "Coast to Coast" provides a balanced program of activities and gives students practice in listening, speaking, reading and writing. Ideal for the international student, and college intensive programs. Program uses materials in the following formats: student books, workbooks, teacher's manuals, cassettes, and drill cassettes.

ESL 0273, ESL 0274, ESL 0275.

SUMMARY: A unique, activity-oriented opportunity to improve vocabulary in English, "Common Threads" can be used with various levels of students and serves as a generic, generative workbook that becomes a text for an intermediate of advanced ESL class.

ESL 0025.

SUMMARY: A video-based course that helps secondary and adult students understand and use contemporary American English.

ESL 0246.

SUMMARY: Highly practical, this text combines work on teaching, language, and cross-cultural communication skills that are related to teaching regardless of the ITA's field. All three types of skills are presented separately in each unit.

ESL 0026.

SUMMARY: This text provides intensive study of those troublesome points of grammar and structure that cause advanced students to have difficulty expressing themselves clearly and logically in both speaking and writing.

ESL 0027.

SUMMARY: A valuable bridge between the theory of grammar and the "real" world of employment. Designed as a simple cultural and linguistic guide.

ESL 0361.

SUMMARY: Presents strategies that enable students to communicate more effectively in their daily lives and at work. Book one covers basic speaking and listening skills and simple writing tasks such as making lists and filling out forms. Book two encompasses more advanced communication skills and more complex writing activities such as writing memos and letters.

ESL 0332.

SUMMARY: "Communication Through Writing" is a writing text for high-intermediate or low-advanced English language learners. The text reviews the paragraph and then introduces the short essay and its basic writing patterns. Emphasis is placed on the process approach to writing.

ESL 0029.

SUMMARY: This excellent collection of language acquisition activities is designed expressly for ESL teachers.
ESL 0028.

SUMMARY: A grammar text designed to give maximum help to advanced students of English.
ESL 0309.

SUMMARY: "Comp One!" is a complete semester-long composition course for low level students of English as a second language. It gives students step-by-step instruction in sentence mechanics, spelling, punctuation, and rhetoric. While the book is not a grammar book, it does have presentations and practice of basic grammatical structures.
ESL 0030.

SUMMARY: An ambitious compilation of the most thorough and definitive grammar of modern English.
ESL 0303.

SUMMARY: This text is about building trust between students and teachers so that language learning is fun and productive.
ESL 0299.

SUMMARY: Exciting approach to listening comprehension and discussion for high-intermediate/advanced students of English as a Second Language. Exercises develop essential listening strategies such as predicting, looking at language, understanding main ideas and points of view, and focusing on details.
ESL 0210.

SUMMARY: Highly effective with learning disabled students and beginning literacy students, this multisensory video program develops understanding and retention of sound-letter associations.
ESL 0345.

SUMMARY: Useful for in-service training, this video will assist ESL instructors in improving their students' pronunciation and help basic literacy tutors learn more about how sounds are produced.
ESL 0282.

SUMMARY: The authors have integrated research on effective reading and vocabulary development in writing the second edition of CONTACT USA. The topics, presented with an intriguing view of contemporary U.S. culture, are intended to generate lively discussions in which students can apply their knowledge and express their opinions about both American culture and their own. The book addresses students at the high-beginner and low-intermediate level of English proficiency.

ESL 0031.

SUMMARY: Uses listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills to help students expand their knowledge of the basics of U.S. government and history. Targets three different levels of English proficiency: literacy, beginning, and intermediate.

ESL 0333.

SUMMARY: Presents strategies that enable adult learners to read a variety of materials related to daily life and work. Book one covers basic strategies for interpreting material. Book two takes students to higher levels of thinking and problem solving using written and graphic materials.

ESL 0331.

SUMMARY: Teaches ESL students to communicate and function effectively on the job.

ESL 0329.

SUMMARY: Raises important issues in the areas of teaching and supervision. In his unique style, John Fanselow challenges assumptions, questions universal teaching truths, and entertains us at the same time.

ESL 0244.

SUMMARY: These best-selling conversation books for beginning/intermediate-level students are especially designed to draw out the most reticent speakers, prompting them to engage in meaningful two-way conversation and stimulating group discussion.

ESL 0032.

SUMMARY: Equips new and experienced tutors with sure methods for effective learning, using discussion, practice, and video demonstrations.

ESL 0353.

SUMMARY: This flexible, multi-purpose text provides a rich source of material for vocabulary development, grammar review, listening, discussion, and writing skills improvement.

ESL 0033.

SUMMARY: Designed for the older or ESL student who is reading at beginning levels. This program emphasizes the processes embedded in the total reading act. It is an interactive and versatile tutorial program that supplements classroom teaching and provides extensively guided drill and practice in the core vocabularies used by so many major reading textbooks.

ESL 0269.

SUMMARY: "Critical Reading and Writing for Advanced ESL Students" instructs students in rhetoric, prewriting, writing, revision, library research, grammar, and style. Learning strategies are discussed directly with the students as they are introduced to the critical and communication skills required for college or employment.

ESL 0034.

SUMMARY: Pre-literacy level: tailor instruction to meet the needs of your adult learners with these 181 reproducible reading and writing activities. Practical, consistent lessons help students master the basics of the Roman alphabet, the numbers 1-100, and the completion of simple forms.

ESL 0262.

SUMMARY: Literacy level: This friendly workbook builds vocabulary and teaches vocabulary skills through picture-word association.

ESL 0263.

SUMMARY: This innovative text, designed for the intermediate-level student, integrates the teaching of English as a second language and cross-cultural communication. It examines key cultural differences and, building on these, provides related activities and language exercises that help students develop confidence in their ability to communicate in English.

ESL 0035.

SUMMARY: Advanced ESL students will find this book to be a bridge between studying English as a language and using English to study academic subjects such as computer science, environmental science, social science and business. ESL 0036.

SUMMARY: More than 5,000 American idiomatic words and expressions are defined in this updated guide to slang, regional, and informal American-English. ESL 0338.

SUMMARY: This innovative volume presents a collection of acquisition activities which focus on student-created images as a means to becoming more communicative in the second-language. Throughout, the object of each drawing activity is the oral interaction that follows the drawing, not the drawing itself. ESL 0338.

SUMMARY: High-interest activities before and after reading passages develop essential vocabulary and basic academic concepts in physical science while systematically building critical thinking skills. ESL 0277.

SUMMARY: Provides a collection of classic short stories adapted and simplified for high-intermediate to advanced ESL students. ESL 0334.

SUMMARY: This three-level reading course offers students an exciting range of subjects and activities that will expand their vocabulary, improve their grammar, sharpen their powers of critical thinking, and develop their overall reading efficiency. Book One addresses the younger adolescent reader; Book Two the adult reader; and Book Three the adult from high school to maturity. ESL 0130.

SUMMARY: Designed for students who need to acquire a knowledge of basic business English. Each unit focuses on a specific business situation likely to be encountered.
ESL 0225.

SUMMARY: Used in schools throughout the world, this three-volume grammar series is appropriate for beginning, intermediate, and advanced-level ESL students.
ESL 0131.

SUMMARY: This text approaches writing as a cultural and social activity—as well as a cognitive and linguistic one—addressing writing for second-language students of all ages and in many learning situations. It concentrates on three goals: writing development; second language development; and empowerment of language minority students through nondeficit models of schooling.
ESL 0256.

SUMMARY: This text focuses on conversation and pronunciation, and it provides numerous practical exercises to help the student with newly introduced grammar points. Sequel to Beginning lessons in English.
ESL 0132.

SUMMARY: A highly flexible and engaging introduction to writing, this text transforms the writing class into a lively laboratory—providing a setting in which the students’ own writing is the central focus.
ESL 0133.

Side by side, Steven J. Molinsky and Bill Bliss, 2nd ed. Englewood Cliffs, NJ: Prentice Hall Regents, 1990. 4 levels + 2 levels (core conversation courses), each level with multiple parts in various formats.
SUMMARY: Through the methodology of guided conversations, "Side by Side" engages students in meaningful conversational exchanges within carefully structured grammatical frameworks, and then encourages students to break away from the textbook and use these frameworks to create conversations on their own. Program uses materials in the following formats: student texts, activity books, student text tapes, activity book tapes, teacher’s guides, picture cards, and tests packages.
ESL 0135, ESL 0136, ESL 0137, ESL 0138, ESL 0139, ESL 0140, ESL 0141, ESL 0142.

SUMMARY: "Skillful Reading" introduces ESL students to the skills they need to work successfully with the organization, language, and content of textbooks.
ESL 0143.
 SUMMARY: Lively in approach, this volume offers students an opportunity to practice speaking English by participating in short skits and associated roleplaying activities which elicit free use of English.
 ESL 0144.

 SUMMARY: "Small Talk" is Carolyn Graham's hot new collection of jazz chants. Jazz chanting, a unique teaching technique, uses the rhythms of jazz to teach conversational American English.
 ESL 0193.

 SUMMARY: "Sound Advantage" teaches pronunciation and includes those elements essential to production. Companion text to "Sound-Advice."
 ESL 0145.

 SUMMARY: Using listening material that is not available in any other ESL text, this skills approach to discrete point listening prepares intermediate and advanced ESL students to understand rapid, relaxed English.
 ESL 0146.

 SUMMARY: A comprehensive English pronunciation course for students at all levels, Sounds and rhythm, Second edition, provides practice in the sounds, the rhythm, and the intonation of American English.
 ESL 0283.

Speaking American English at work. Guilford, CT: Video-Forum, 1988. 2 videocassettes (VHS) (30 min. each) + 1 teacher's manual (120 p.)
 SUMMARY: Designed to improve the communication skills, verbal and non-verbal, most needed to get a job and be promoted to a better one. Provides a checklist of competencies needed for each unit, pre- and post-tests, and complete transcripts of the video cassettes.
 ESL 0357.

 SUMMARY: This text focuses on English as a tool for social interaction, and provides a framework for conversational analysis and practice.
 ESL 0147.

SUMMARY: Teach your adult learners the vocabulary they need to cope in today's complex world. Covering 14 topics, including transportation, banking, shopping, housing, medical care, and emergencies, "Speaking of Survival" focuses on improving listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills. ESL 0195.

SUMMARY: "Speaking Up at Work" can be used by non-native speakers with an intermediate level of proficiency in English, and also by native speakers, to acquire competencies needed to get jobs, to keep jobs, and to advance. ESL 0194.

SUMMARY: This text will guide students and teachers through the practical principles of speech communication while providing them with ideas for communication experiences which will enhance students' vocabularies and knowledge of English form, structure, and use. ESL 0148.

SUMMARY: Designed for beginning to high-beginning students of ESL/EFL, this integrative text combines reading with listening and speaking skills. ESL 0149.

SUMMARY: A unique basic text for nonliterate adults "Start Right!" incorporates learning, language experience, direct instruction, and the use of a master picture for every word taught. ESL 0327.

SUMMARY: Aimed at the initial development of academic writing skills, "Start writing" introduces beginning ESL/EFL students to the composition of simple paragraphs, as well as punctuation, capitalization, and sentence structure. ESL 0150.

SUMMARY: "Starting English for Business" offers that much-needed bridge between general English and business English at the early stages of learning. ESL 0151.

SUMMARY: Especially designed for beginning/intermediate-level Latin American ESL students, this text focuses on developing reading fluency. ESL 0152.
SUMMARY: This beginning-level ESL reader offers 21 intriguing international folk tales from a variety of cultures, each written on two levels of difficulty.
ESL 0153.

SUMMARY: This integrated two-volume reading/communication series requires students to read, think, compare, solve problems, and communicate their own ideas.
ESL 0154.

SUMMARY: Designed to help beginning and intermediate students acquire skills and strategies needed for effective listening. The tasks in the book provide students practice with selecting the important parts of what they hear, helping to increase their confidence in dealing with naturally spoken English.
ESL 0221.

SUMMARY: Expands the exercises based on the same magazines and articles from "Basics in Reading".
ESL 0323.

SUMMARY: A grammar workbook series that presents grammar in natural contexts--ads, letters, games, and dialogs--that students recognize. The books are designed to complement any course--beginning through high-intermediate that uses either a grammar-based syllabus or a notional-functional curriculum.
ESL 0249.

SUMMARY: One of the first books to present idioms related to a specific topic in a meaningful context, this text helps students gain mastery of 164 verb idioms and brings them closer to native-like command of the English language.
ESL 0155.

SUMMARY: Workbook for beginning students who have had some exposure to basic English. "Taking Off" is unique in that new language is presented in natural, realistic situations and represented by a series of photographs in the workbook.
ESL 0218.
SUMMARY: Is a supplementary text based on Trivial Pursuit. Played as a game or as a springboard for conversations, vocabulary, grammar or general knowledge classes. An answer key is provided.
ESL 0314.

SUMMARY: Presents values-oriented topics — honesty, money concerns, gift-giving, and what to look for in a husband or wife — of particular interest to older teenagers and adults. Also suggestions for writing activities.
ESL 0316.

SUMMARY: Designed as a workbook to accompany "A Communicative Grammar of English," will increase students' knowledge and understanding of the forms and functions of English.
ESL 0312.

SUMMARY: The Teacher to teacher video training program offers comprehensive approaches to teaching adults in basic education or English as a Second Language classes.
ESL 0186.

SUMMARY: "Teacher Training Through Video" shows teachers, trainers, and trainees how to design effective ESL lessons and use specific techniques in the classroom.
ESL 0240.

SUMMARY: Offers practical help to teachers who wish to improve the pronunciation and speech quality of their students in a communicative context.
ESL 0258.

SUMMARY: A valuable resource book for anyone teaching English to young learners. It is full of ideas and activities which can be adapted for use with children of any age and it gives much practical advice on the planning of lessons and the organization of the classroom.
ESL 0252.

SUMMARY: This guide presents theories and outlines some practical teaching applications for the volunteer tutor or for the teacher unfamiliar with teaching ESL.

ESL 0266.

SUMMARY: Shows you how to introduce and organize interaction activities in your classroom.

ESL 0313.

SUMMARY: These two volumes teach all the basic structures of English. Book 1 is designed for beginning and low-intermediate-level ESL students; Book 2 is appropriate for high-intermediate and advanced-level students.

ESL 0348.

SUMMARY: Aimed at the low-intermediate level, this text is for students who have had little or no experience in formal writing.

ESL 0156.

This is a recording: listening with a purpose [sound recording] Barbara Fowler Swartz. [Englewood Cliffs, N.J.]: Prentice Hall Regents, 1986. 1 sound cassette + 1 book (132 p.).
SUMMARY: This engaging, task-listening program for intermediate-level students builds listening skills through exposure to recorded messages and the conversations of native speakers.

ESL 0157.

SUMMARY: Here is a lively collection of readings that offers non-native speakers of English an easy-to-use approach to fluency in reading.

ESL 0158.

SUMMARY: Unique blackline masters designed to teach basic vocabulary using motivating games, puzzles, and activities. Reinforcement of other skills is also provided.

ESL 0238.

SUMMARY: Captures the imagination of low-intermediate level students as it develops cultural awareness through a dramatic radio play.

ESL 0322.

SUMMARY: Centers on a human interest story adapted from newspapers and magazines. Exercises in vocabulary, comprehension, discussion, and writing follow each selection.
ESL 0315.

SUMMARY: Brings "real," unedited language into the classroom, with radio broadcasts, commercials, loudspeaker announcements, and phone messages.
ESL 0215.

SUMMARY: Grammar charts from the second edition of "Understanding and using English grammar"; easy-to-understand explanations with clear examples; an essential survey of ESL/EFL grammar.
ESL 0286.

SUMMARY: Features an improved organization, expanded and clarified grammar points, new exercises and charts, a more thorough appendix containing grammar review units and exercises, and more illustrations. Volume A focuses on verb forms. Volume B focuses on complex structures.
ESL 0284, ESL 0285.

SUMMARY: "Unusual Stories from Many Lands" contains twenty stories, all unusual, all interesting, all short, and all designed to help the student learn to converse more effectively in the English language.
ESL 0159.

SUMMARY: This text introduces students to the lifestyles, attitudes, customs, and traditions which are characteristic of Americans--and develops reading comprehension skills, vocabulary, and idiom comprehension skills at the same time.
ESL 0160.

Contents: [V.1.] The land and the people / Robert J. Dixson -- [V.2.] People and history / Robert J. Dixson and Herbert Fox.
SUMMARY: These readers are especially designed for those students who need to improve their reading comprehension and who enjoy reading factual material.
ESL 0161.

SUMMARY: This text provides students with the opportunity to see and practice the grammatical features of spoken and written English in realistic communicative exercises.

ESL 0162.

SUMMARY: Brief, entertaining reading passages that promote class discussion and interaction. These readings have a structural focus, followed by exercises in reading skills, contextualized grammar, close dictation, physical response, and group activities.

ESL 0367.

SUMMARY: Unique in both perspective and approach, "Visions" is intended for the low-intermediate-level student who already has a knowledge of elementary English forms.

ESL 0164.

SUMMARY: This volume prepares pre-university, intermediate-level ESL students in academic and technical fields for academic writing.

ESL 0163.

SUMMARY: Summary: Using all four language skills, students learn the functions and vocabulary necessary to get along successfully in an English-speaking environment.

ESL 0165, ESL 0167, ESL 0168, ESL 0166.

SUMMARY: "Visual Impact" provides a wide range of activities based on the idea of pictures to stimulate language learning.

ESL 0300.

SUMMARY: Practical advice on the way visuals can bring color, animation, and excitement to the classroom.

ESL 0253.

SUMMARY: This text helps advanced students of ESL build a strong passive vocabulary for increased reading comprehension.

ESL 0171.

SUMMARY: Written with the needs of college-bound students in mind, this word-building guide teaches the meanings of common prefixes, roots, and suffixes.

ESL 0172.

SUMMARY: This series is designed for learners of English who are applying for legalization or naturalization, and whose limited language skills prevent them from using standard citizenship texts.

ESL 0173.

SUMMARY: In this text, students learn the difference between clearly articulated classroom English and the informal "relaxed" English of everyday speech.

ESL 0174.

SUMMARY: "What'll We Talk About?" covers listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills, and uses topics pertinent to everyday living to help develop vocabulary.

ESL 0175.

SUMMARY: Appropriate for special classes in idioms, vocabulary, or listening comprehension, or as an ancillary text for grammar, conversation, listening, reading, or writing courses.

ESL 0176.

SUMMARY: A collection of modern short stories with related language activities designed to increase students' appreciation of literature by giving them the opportunity to explore and enjoy complete texts.

ESL 0321.

SUMMARY: This two-volume, intermediate-level set teaches cross-cultural communication skills in a nontrivial way, and helps students develop a deeper understanding of U.S. culture, especially as it relates to working.
ESL 0177.

SUMMARY: "The Working Experience" is an exciting new set of reading texts for ESL students, written at the low-beginning, high-beginning, and low-intermediate levels. Central to each lesson is a short selection on the theme of work.
ESL 0192.

SUMMARY: This beginning-level writing text is especially designed for academically oriented ESL students who may be literate in their own language, but who have little or no familiarity with English or the Roman alphabet.
ESL 0178.

Write on cue: beginning ESL writing exercises, Cheryl Kirchner, Glenview, Ill.: Scott, Foresman and Company, 1990. 1 v. (unpaged) + 1 instructor's guide.
SUMMARY: Literacy level: Promote writing confidence--and success--with this writing book for beginners.
ESL 0261.

SUMMARY: This writing workbook for advanced ESL/EFL students in freshman English writing classes offers a guided process approach for the three stages of writing -- pre-writing, writing, revision.
ESL 0179.

SUMMARY: This text provides students with the skills they need to perform necessary writing tasks long before they achieve a high level of proficiency in spoken English.
ESL 0180.

SUMMARY: This process-oriented text provides advanced-beginning and intermediate-level ESL students with both the step-by-step strategies and the structures for communicating to readers in written English.
ESL 0181.

SUMMARY: Designed for high-intermediate and advanced ESL students preparing to engage in scientific research, this volume is geared primarily to the writing of experimental research reports, theses, and dissertations in the natural and physical sciences, engineering, and the social sciences, including education.

ESL 0366.

SUMMARY: This unique workbook gives beginning-level ESL students intensive practice with the mechanics of written English—spelling and punctuation (in the initial stage) and sentence-combining and clause-making (in the latter stages).

ESL 0182.

SUMMARY: Dramatizes the American cultural experience and issues of human interest in American history while exposing students to the vocabulary, grammatical patterns, and idioms of the English language.

ESL 0232.

SUMMARY: "You Can Read!" uses video’s unique qualities to teach word attack and word analysis skills, so learners can put sounds together to form words, and ultimately divide longer words into syllables.
