ABSTRACT

This final performance report provides project outcome information and data to the U.S. Department of Education for the federally-funded Library Literacy Program. The Pottsville Free Public Library conducted a project that involved recruitment, retention, public awareness, training, basic literacy, collection development, tutoring, other technology, and English as a Second Language (ESL) programs. The project served a community of 100,000-200,000 people. Tutoring was done one-on-one, using the Laubach and Literacy Volunteers of America (LVA) methods. The project served 156 adult learners, and provided 3,050 hours of direct tutoring service. This report describes activities from October 1992-September 1993 and provides: a comparison of actual accomplishments to goals and objectives set forth in the grant application; a comparison between proposed and actual expenditures; specific details of activities undertaken; the role the library played in the accomplishment of the goals and objectives; agencies and organizations that assisted in the project; and the impact of the federal project on the ongoing program of the library. Includes the contract between the Literacy Council for Schuylkill County, Inc. and Pottsville Free Public Library; the Literacy Council's bibliography of Public Library new reader titles; alphabet coloring book; and animal counting and coloring book. ### Part III: Narrative Report

1. A comparison of actual accomplishments to the goals and objectives set forth in the approved application. Describe any major changes or revisions in the program with respect to approved activities, staffing, and budgeting; including unspent funds. Explain why established goals and objectives were not met, if applicable.

Objective 1

Increase student participation by 30% through the development of additional promotional materials.

Accomplishment:

At the beginning of the project on October 1, 1992, the total student enrollment was 105. At the end of the project on September 30, 1993, the total student enrollment was 156. 51 adult learners entered the program during the course of the grant. A 48% increase in enrollment was experienced; the project proposal targeted a 30% increase for this objective to be successfully achieved.

Objective 2

Recruit and train 30 volunteer tutors.

Accomplishment:

An organized advertising campaign, consisting of newspaper ads, radio spots, public speaking engagements and printed brochures, was carried out to recruit tutors. Two tutor training workshops were conducted during the grant period. The Literacy Council mailed out 84 packets of material to people who had requested information on literacy and tutoring. 23 completed the tutor training and became certified tutors. The Literacy Council now feels that recruiting 30 new tutors during the course of the grant may have been unrealistic. The Director has discussed this situation with other colleagues across the state and has discovered that enrollment for the new volunteers decreases in well established program. It also became difficult to gain new volunteers in an area such as Schuylkill County that does not have a constant infusion of new residents. The Director interviewed all potential volunteers before the workshop to screen only those people who were sincerely interested in making the commitment.

Objective 3

Retain 70% of existing tutors and students.

Accomplishment:

A telephone survey was conducted with all program participants at the start of the grant period. The survey questioned tutors and students about what the Council could do to improve services. The survey determined a need for: (1) more in-service training for tutors; (2) more high-interest, low-level readers for adult learners/ Two tutor conferences were conducted during the grant period. 75 new titles were purchased for adult learners and stocked in all fourteen libraries plus the county jail.

At the beginning of the grant on October 1, 1992 the total student enrollment was 105. At the close of the grant on September 30, 1993, 75 of the original adult learners were still enrolled for literacy services. The Literacy Council met this objective by retaining 71% of those students enrolled at the beginning of the program.

Revisions

During the interim of when the application had been submitted and the grant had been approved, the Library received a monitor and videocassette player from another source; thereby no longer requiring that they be purchased through the grant. As a result, a budget revision was prepared and approved to purchase closed captioned decoders for use by students and their tutors when using videos as part of the instructional process.

Objective 4

Update collections of literacy materials in area public libraries for the newly literate readers.

Accomplishment:

75 titles were purchased for high interest, low-level readers and were stocked in all 14 local libraries and the county jail. A bibliography was designed listing each title, reading level and a brief narrative about the publication. All program participants were surveyed at the end of the grant to see if they had used the new materials. Of the 156 adult learners in the program, 80 had checked out at least one title.

Unexpended Funds:

Initial delay of 2 months in the receipt of funds eventually resulted in $1,053 of the grant not being spent. Advertising, interviewing and hiring a field coordinator could not take place until final approval, establishment of an account and receipt of funds occurred. Problems in reaching the appropriate person and receiving the necessary information created problems and required several telephone calls before it was resolved. A few weeks after receiving a congratulatory telephone call from my Senator, I called the program officer to inquire about the non-receipt of an official notification. After this call, the official notification of the award was received. At the end of August 1992 when no additional information had been received I placed another call. At this time I learned the grant was recommended for funding pending further explanation of project implementation and that the contact person assigned to this project was no longer available. After several more phone calls, correspondence and faxes, the funding was released. As a result of this delay, however, the field coordinator was not able to begin working until January 4, 1993 and 3 months time and salary costs were lost. A budget revision for this unspent salary money was not requested in August because of the extremely long time it had taken to have my first budget revision request approved. After talking with the program coordinator at the end of March 1993 regarding the proposed revision and following the instructions I had been given, a letter dated 3/26/93 was sent to the grants specialist. Only after several more telephone calls did I receive approval on 8/12/93 for my budget revision request. The experience of waiting almost 5 month for approval for a budget revision deterred me from submitting another budget revision request for the unexpended salary money. Since the grant terminated 9/30/93, I felt there was insufficient time available to receive approval for another revision request.

2. Provide a comparison between proposed and actual expenditures by budget category, ie. personnel, travel, materials, etc..

BUDGET BY CATEGORY EXPENDITURES

	Proposed	Actual
A. Salary and Wages	$12,480	$11,816
B. Fringe Benefits	$ 1,176	$ 778
C. Travel	$ -0-	$ -0-
D. Equipment	$ 1,000	$ 1,000
E. Supplies	$ 600	$ 600
F. Contractual Services	$ 3,500	$ 3,500
G. Library Materials	$ 6,243	$ 6,243
H. Other	$ 200	200
I. Total Direct Charges (add lines A-H)	$25,199	$24,146
J. Unexpended		$ 1,053

3. Provide, as appropriate, specific details as to the activities undertaken - eg., if library materials were acquired, describe the kind of materials purchased; if a needs assessment was conducted, describe the results of the assessment; if training was provided, describe the training and include the dates and topics; if services were contracted out, describe the contractor's activities.

Objective 1

Increase student participation by 30% through the development of additional promotional materials.

Means of Achieving Objective

1. The Pottsville Library contracted with the Literacy Council for Schuylkill County, Inc. to carry out the activities outlined under each of the four objectives. A copy of the contract is enclosed. (See attachment 1)

2. A part-time field coordinator was employed from January 4, 1993 to September 30, 1993, to carry out the objectives of the grant.

3. An advertising schedule of bi-monthly radio ads was developed to encourage adult learners to enroll in the program. The ads ran March, May, and July.

4. A "Counting Bear" book of basic counting numbers and an "Animal Alphabet" book of letters were designed. These books were distributed to area pediatrician's offices, hospital emergency waiting rooms, daycare's, headstart and children's libraries.

5. Thirteen programs were presented to area social service providers and clubs about the Council's literacy services.

6. A luncheon meeting was hosted for thirty members of the Association of Schuylkill County Services on how to refer clients for literacy services.

7. A television commercial was designed by the field coordinator and aired free of charge from March through September.

8. Two billboards were rented utilizing design that low level readers could understand.

9. Files were kept on all adult learners. Documentation included personal goal sheets, writing samples, check ups, calendars and monthly logs listing all phone calls and visits with each adult learner. The following breakdown lists how all students were referred to the program: 30 percent came from social services agencies; 25 percent were referred from billboards; 8 percent from radio ads; 5 percent from brochures; and 12 percent from contact with other adult learners.

Objective 2

Recruit and train 30 volunteer tutors.

Means of Achieving Objective.

1. Press release and paid ads were created to run in the local newspaper. These ran on the alternate months that radio ads were not scheduled.

2. Two new brochures were designed based on ideas submitted by area children who participated in a design an ad contest sponsored by a local newspaper. These brochures were distributed at area businesses, schools, meetings, libraries and public events.

3. A tutor directory was established at the start of the grant and periodically updated. People on this list were sent information on tutor training.

4. All potential tutors received an information packet one month prior to the workshop. Each individual was interviewed by the Executive Director before being registered for the workshop.

5. Tutor training workshops were held in June and September. 23 individuals became certified volunteer tutors.

Objective 3

Retain 70% of existing tutors and students.

Means of Achieving Objective.

1. The results of a telephone survey conducted by the field coordinator indicated that tutors preferred Saturday mornings for in-service training and would like to select sessions from a carousel format. The following conferences were held at the Schuylkill County Council for the Arts.

a) The first tutor conference was held on March 6, 1993. Tutors selected two of the following four presentations: (1) "A Guide For Teaching Life Skills;" (2) "How to Increase the Self Esteem of Female Adult Learners;" (3) "The GED: What Is It and How to Prepare for It;" (4) "How to Help Your Student Use the Public Library". The library presentation was a field trip to the Pottsville Free Public Library. Eighteen tutors attended.

b) The second conference was held on June 12, 1993. Tutors selected two from the following four presentations: (1) "How to Use the Challenger Series;" (2) Creative Writing: After a Fashion;" (3) "Tutoring - The Ultimate Volunteer Experience;" (4) "The Computer As A Teaching Tool." The computer session was conducted at the Pottsville Free Public Library. Twenty tutors attended.

2. Four closed captioned decoders were purchased for tutors and their students to use at the Library as a means of reinforcing the spoken and printed word and provided an additional tool for the tutors to use with their students.

3. All student and tutor matches were contacted by telephone on a monthly basis to check progress. The Executive Director visited all tutors and students at least once during the grant period. Files were maintained on all program participants.

Objective 4

Update collections of literacy materials in area public libraries for the newly literate readers.

Means of Achieving Objective.

1. 75 high interest low level readers were ordered for all fourteen local libraries plus the county jail.

2. The field coordinator personally delivered all titles to each location and reviewed all titles with the library staff. This process involved driving over sixty miles to cover each library.

3. A bibliography was prepared listing all titles, the reading level and a short description. Over 500 copies of the bibliography were distributed at tutor conferences, public libraries and are available at the office.

4. All students were surveyed at the end of the grant to see if they had utilized the new materials. Of the 156 students, 80 had obtained library cards and had checked out at least one title.

4. Describe the role the library has played in the accomplishment of the goals and objectives set forth in the approved grant, including whether the library was involved in the project's implementation or as a resource and site only.

While the library contracted out to the Literacy Council for Schuylkill County, Inc. to carry out the objectives and activities proposed in the grant, the contract was very detailed and specific (See Attachment 1) and was closely monitored by the library. Monthly written progress reports were submitted to and reviewed by the library; meetings and telephone conversations between the library and contractor also occurred through the grant year. In addition, the library took part in the interviewing for the field coordinator position, reviewed and approved for purchase all library materials added through the project and approved and paid all expenditures for the project.

The library was included as a component of the tutor training programs offered, and library personnel provided the library orientation for tutors at these training sessions.

5. Provide names of agencies and organizations recruited to volunteer their services for the literacy program or that were involved in the coordination and planning of the literacy program. Describe the nature of their role.

The Literacy Council presented programs to the following groups during the project period to explain the purpose and operation of the Council and to promote volunteering to become a tutor.

7. Describe the impact of the Federal project on the ongoing program of the grantee.

The Federal project helped strengthen and expand the services provided by the Literacy Council and area public libraries by increasing student-tutor enrollments and library usage by new readers. The advertising components developed through the grant gave the Literacy council the opportunity to market the program on a larger, more professional scale. The collection of books for new readers placed in each of the local libraries encouraged adult learners to use the library and become familiar with the services available and expanded knowledge about the library to tutors as well.
