This second edition of the Louisiana Cultural Resources Directory provides an expansion of the scope of information to include artists and organizations engaged in arts activities targeted to adult and general audiences as well as those whose efforts are aimed primarily at school children. The overall intent is to facilitate connections between Louisiana artists and audiences. The two sections focus on individual artists and organizations, arranged alphabetically. The individual artists section provides the name, address, telephone number, and area of artistic endeavor of the artist. Many include a photograph, a description of types of services offered, costs and availability information. The organizations section provides the name, address, telephone number, and speciality of the organization, with many providing additional information on services, costs, and other information. (EH)

A PUBLICATION OF
THE LOUISIANA STATE ARTS COUNCIL
AND
THE LOUISIANA DIVISION OF THE ARTS

Cover Design by Charlie Th'ng
Graphic Production by Cheryl Griffin
In 1995 the Division of the Arts published a Louisiana Cultural Resources Directory for Arts in Education. The directory proved to be an extremely useful reference tool not only for organizations conducting arts education programming, but also for those undertaking general arts programming.

For this second edition of the Louisiana Cultural Resources Directory, we have expanded the scope of information to include artists and organizations engaged in arts activities targeted to adult and general audiences as well as those whose efforts are aimed primarily at school children.

The overall intent, however, remains the same—to facilitate connections between Louisiana artists and audiences. When those connections occur, the Division's investments in the state's people, cultures and communities yield the kinds of dividends from which we all profit—an enriched Louisiana.

James Borders
Executive Director
Louisiana Division of the Arts
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Division of the Arts would like to acknowledge all artists and arts administrators who requested this second edition of the Cultural Resources Directory and have provided the critical content for the directory. We would also like to thank the Louisiana State Arts Council, chaired by Penne Mobley, for its support of this project. The LSAC funded this project through a special initiative grant. We are indebted to the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra, Cornelia B. Mason, Executive Director, for administering this special initiative. We would like to recognize Michelle Montgomery for coordinating data collection for this project.

We would like to thank Maida Owens, Folklife Program Director, for her help in editing this document. Particular thanks are due to Greg Wirth, Office of Management, Information Services Section, for his technical assistance. To Ann Russo, Visual Arts, Media, and Design Arts Program Director, for her editing, coordination of graphic design and printing, and encouragement, we are particularly indebted.
Believing that public support for the arts is in the public interest, the Louisiana State Legislature created the Louisiana State Arts Council and the Louisiana Division of the Arts to administer state arts programs. The Louisiana State Arts Council, composed of twenty-two members appointed by the Governor, is an advisory body to the Division regarding matters relating to support of the arts in Louisiana.

Sheila Hebert Collins is the author of the Cajun Fairy tales, Jolie Blonde, Petite Rouge, and Les Trois Petite Cochons, the first three of a continuing series. An Acadiana Artist Roster storyteller and author, Sheila has been making school presentations since her first book was released in November of 1993. By the end of the 1994-95 school term, she had visited over 30 schools, most of these twice. Her excellent rapport with the children is due to her 20 years experience teaching lower grades, her love for the children, and her dedication to spreading the Acadian heritage.

Now a retired Louisiana teacher, she concentrates on teaching children about Acadian heritage, introduces Cajun French words and expressions while telling familiar, humorous stories (her very own Cajun Fairy Tales), encourages creative writing skills, emphasizing adaptations of known fairy tales to a Cajun format. Also included in her presentation is Cajun music and a demonstration of the Cajun Two-step!

Services: Personally, autographed copies of the books written by Sheila Hebert Collins at $14.95 and audio tapes available for each book at $5. Presentation: $150 for two 45 minutes sessions-90 students per session (other options negotiable). Travel costs are added outside of 100 mile radius of Lafayette, not to exceed $100. With an order of 20 books, the school will receive a 20 percent discount that can be credited toward presentation fee. Sheila has made presentations for public libraries, church, community and senior citizen organizations.

Available throughout the year.

COUNCIL, JULIE
327 Country Club Blvd.
Slidell, LA 70458
(504)641-0031
Music

Julie Council created her international music program, “The World According to the Accordion,” to show how music promotes understanding between people of different cultures. The program involves the students while she teaches them about her instrument, music terminology, and the countries she represents musically. The involvement includes wearing foreign hats, playing rhythm instruments and small accordions, singing, clapping and moving to the music and learning the German Chicken Dance. In St. Tammany Parish, Julie is a part of the Artist in Education Program sponsored by the Commission on the Arts, Department of Cultural Affairs/City of Slidell. Outside of the school room, Julie is an individual performer or she combines with vocalists, dancers and instrumentalists for Italian, German, French and Irish shows. The accordion blends with one or more of these instruments: violin, mandolin, guitar, banjo, flute, clarinet, trumpet, tuba, alp horn, and drum. Besides other Ethnic and Christmas programs, music from turn of the century to Broadway shows can be arranged. Julie has a smaller accordion for strolling and an electric accordion, which sounds identical to a church organ. It also has string bass, drum, and other instrument sounds.

Services: School programs within 50 miles of Slidell, $100. Reasonable individual and group rates will vary with time, distance and size of group.

Available all year subject to prior bookings.

Background: Accordion lessons at age 9, studied Classical Accordion 7 years at University of Houston, playing in Palmer-Hughes Accordion Orchestra, giving recital for B.A. in Music.

(318)424-2049
Visual Arts

Ms. Drew's educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts, Masters in Secondary Education and some completed course work toward a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction majoring in Art Education from LSU, Baton Rouge. She does painting, sculpting, pottery, keyboard playing and poetry writing. Frances does performance art that incorporates all the previous arts into one performance. If time allows, some type of art activity with audience participation is involved. She is involved with Neon Saturday Nights, where the object is to make it possible for the general public to become art owners as well as art viewers. In collaboration with artist Barbara Abbott, Frances designed two kiosks that are on permanent display in downtown Shreveport. She and Ms. Abbott are about to release a book, called The Sculpture Island Treatise: The Art of Collaboration, documenting the experience of the production of art going into the Sculpture Island Project, that is dedicated to Northwest Louisiana sculptors. She also designed the sculpture "Akasha," that is named for Dr. Akasha Hull, an internationally known writer who was raised in the Martin Luther King area of Shreveport. Dr. Hull is an important role model of hers, and it was exciting for Frances to design this tribute to her.

Services: Multidisciplinary involved performances (fees vary); paintings (prices range from $35 - $3,500); some of Ms. Drew's works are displayed in a gallery, which she received as a result of a juried competition, located in the 500 block of Texas St., downtown Shreveport (this is located one block east of the courthouse); note cards, postcards, jewelry, T-Shirts and other affordable items are also displayed in her gallery. There's something affordable for everyone!

Ms. Drew is available all year. Please call for availability dates.

Ms. Drew is currently developing a video that contains one of her presentations. The second part of the video will be a teaching session where she instructs the viewers how the products were constructed. Her goal for this project is to provide this educational tool to areas that lack arts education for their youth.

Mrs. Ellard is a talented actress and storyteller "Miss La" as she is affectionately called by the school children, portrays warmth and enthusiasm as she shares with them her love of poetry, theatre, and her community. She has become a role model for those who have a special interest in speech and drama.

Services: Mrs. Ellard works with K-4 telling stories about subjects such as drug abuse, the protection of our environment and building self-esteem. For 5-6 grades, she will present a historical character in costume in connection with whatever subject is being studied. Mrs. Ellard also entertains Senior Adult groups.

Available anytime subject to prior bookings.

Storytelling is art in its purest form, and the magic within the story is more certain to be present when told by an imaginative adult. The students have enriched their educational experiences because of her presentation and work. Mrs. Ellard prefers classroom settings as opposed to auditorium presentations. Prices vary depending on number of presentations and costs.

Carl LeBlanc is a creative artist who has performed full-time for 28 years. LeBlanc also holds a B.A. in Music Education. Performances in concert halls and theaters have brought him and his group to four continents. Information (information-performance) has been the vehicle used by this guitarist/vocalist/actor to present entertaining and instructional shows for schools, hospitals, community organizations, etc. His goal is the elimination of boundaries between music styles and the use of music in schools and social settings to promote conscious thought.

Services: Solo to septet music performances available for festivals, concerts, and schools (grades K-12). Workshops: “The Fun - The Mentals of Music” (science, history, math and language through music), and “Songs of My People” (Black music from ancient Africa to the present), “Tales & Tunes” (stories from different cultures) grades 3-12. “Revelation,” a one-act musical testimonial. Readings of “It Ain’t My Fault” (a story based on the political history surrounding hurricane Betsy) or original poems followed by groups discussion and/or story circles. Music instructional residency. Prices vary from $200-$6,000 depending on programming and travel costs.

Availability: May vary depending on type of programming and scheduling dates.

Alternate phone number is (504)945-7159. Classroom workshops are most effective with groups no larger than 100. “Back-to-back” connotes two or more 45-60 minute presentations at the same location. Lower elementary programs tend to be more performance oriented than instructional. Work for senior citizens and correctional institutions is welcomed.

Poet, actor, singer, director, educator Ray McNiece offers a variety of performances and workshops for children of all ages. Ray's shows combine original poetry and monologues with classics, multicultural works, comedy and audience participation for a lively mix that makes writing come alive from the page to the stage. Ray believes strongly in "edutainment," theatre that enlightens as it entertains. Performance workshops utilize kinesthetic and whole language learning to take the students' writing from the page to the stage. Through that process, they will develop a deeper appreciation of poetry, better language skills, and the self-esteem that comes from self-expression. For elementary, secondary schools and colleges, Ray offers both a daily program of performance and workshops and one and two week residencies. At the end of the residencies, students will present a performance of their own writings derived from workshop exercises. A poem is not finished until it is shared aloud.

Services: K-4 Performance: Poetry Train, all-aboard, an imaginative vehicle to travel to the land of Poetry, a land full of all kind of strange creatures: Nursery Rhymes, Riddles, and Animal Poems. Also included are call and response poems, audience participation, and sing-alongs. 30-45 minutes.

K-4 Workshops: Students will learn the Stand-up Straight Song, a ditty to the tune of "This Old Man" that will reinforce basic presentation and speech skills. They will perform in their very own Nursery Rhyme and participate in a choral poem they will perform for their teacher. 30-45 minutes.

5-8 Performance: "We Ain't Afraid of No Poems!" A lively show that emphasizes audience participation, adolescent issues and multicultural themes. Students and teachers will interact in a performance of the "Jabberwocky." 40-50 minutes.

5-8 Workshop: Through kinesthetic exercises, students will learn basic performance skills that will aid them in the presentation of self in everyday life. They will learn how to script and score a poem to make it come alive from the page to the stage. In performance teams they will present a short poem by a published writer. 45 minutes.

9-12 Performance: Akin the Middle School show, but with more mature themes. This show also features more original works by Ray about Love and Friendship. Audience participation pieces include Shakespeare's "Seven Ages of Man," and "Casey at the Bat." 45-50 minutes.

9-12 Workshop: Similar to the Middle School workshop, but with more details. Students will take the scripting and scoring exercise to another level, making the poem into a major motion picture! 45-50 minutes.

Performance poet, actor and singer, Ray McNiece is the author two solo theatre pieces, Dis-Voices from a Shelter, that was produced by WGBH-Boston and aired on PBS, and Us-Talking Across America, a satire told through monologues, poems and songs. He collaborated with Shawn D. Jackson to create HomeGirl and WhiteBoy, a play addressing race and relationships which premiered at the Cleveland Performance Art Festival in 1995. He recently directed Lucy Wang’s Junk Bonds at the Cleveland Public Theatre’s New Play Festival where it won the Best New Play Award. He has been captain of two National Poetry Slam! Championship teams in its five-year history: Boston in 1992 and Cleveland in 1994. His video poem “Boston Driving” was an award winner in San Francisco’s 19th Annual Poetry Film and Video Awards and is touring in a National Exhibit. In a review from the Orlando Fringe Festival, the Sentinel called McNiece, “a modern-day descendant of Woody Guthrie. He has a way with words and a wry sense of humor.” Ray McNiece has been a featured poet at the Asheville Poetry Festival, The Florida Shakespeare Festival, The Massachusetts Festival of High School Literary Magazines, and Alabama Young Authors Conference. He has been a featured speaker at Appalachian State’s Reading and Language Arts Symposium and at the Alabama Reading Association’s “Write Connection.” He has read with Nikki Giovanni, X.J. Kennedy, Carolyn Forche, and founder of Slam!, Marc Smith. He has led workshops in writing and performing for children and adults with Poetry Alive!, and with his educational theatre company, Page to Stage Productions. He is the author of three books of adult poetry, DIS, The Bone-Orchard Conga, and The Road that Carried Me Here. In 1984 he cofounded the Writers League of Boston, a nonprofit that promotes spoken word arts. He received an Honors Degree from the Tutorial College at Ohio University and did his master's work at the University of Houston. He is a member of Alternate Roots.

Mr. Mire is an independent filmmaker focusing on presenting traditional Cajun culture through cultural documentaries and feature films. Anything I Catch: The Hand-fishing Story—This highly visual program examines the thrilling regional phenomenon of Cajuns who wade into murky bayou waters to catch huge catfish and turtles while friends and family accompany them for festive cooking, storytelling, and Cajun music. Length of story: 30 minutes.

Services: Dance for a Chicken: The Cajun Mardi Gras—An entertaining, inside look at the colorful and exotic rural Cajun Mardi Gras. Every year before the Lenten season begins, processions of masked and costumed revelers, often on horseback, go from house to house gathering ingredients from communal gumbos in communities across rural southwest Louisiana. The unruly participants in this ancient tradition play as beggars, fools, and thieves as they raid farmsteads and perform in exchange for charity, or Dance for a Chicken. Length of story: 60 minutes. Kathy Randels is a performance artist, theatre educator living in New Orleans. She has a Bachelor of Science in Performing Studies from Northwestern University. Her work incorporates theatre, dance, music, cultural studies and personal narratives. She also leads workshops on developing solo material, adapting personal narratives and interactive theatre for social change. Rage Within/Without, Randels one-woman show explores anger, aggression and violence in women. Dreams, interviews with women incarcerated for murder, interviews with gang members, and a historical look at female murderers in America are woven together to form this compelling performance of an overlooked side of the American woman's psyche.

Services: Randels offers single performances, performances with a discussion, performances with workshops, theatre workshops and theatre workshops for women only. The performance is one hour and fifteen minutes. Prices range from $300-$1,500, depending on programming, travel costs, number and length of workshops.

One month advance booking is required.

Audiences and workshop participants must be 16 years old and up due to violent subject matter and the use of profanity. Rage Within/Without can be performed in large auditoriums, but is most effective in smaller spaces (seating 50-100 people). Workshops are limited to 16 individuals.

Mona Lisa Saloy is the kind of poet, once you have heard her read, you will never forget. The reasons are: her voice that has been featured on award-winning National Public Radio broadcasts of the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival; a collection of fine poems in the African-American tradition that possesses vivid, picturesque details, strength, a wide range, inspired rhythm, and great affection. Joyce Jenkins, editor of Poetry Flash wrote that “Mona Lisa, named after that Nat King Cole song, has got heart, a voice, and some fine, jazzy poems.” Mona Lisa’s work gives voice to the warm culture and mystery behind the good food and music of New Orleans.

Services: In-school visits of one hour or more to classrooms and assemblies; in-service training for teachers on their writing and teaching of writing with kids; development of mini-residencies—where the writer visits a school once or twice a week for a number of weeks, culminating in a poetry booklet; storytelling sessions; school proposal development for artists service and programs. Prices range from $100 for a one-time classroom session, depending on travel costs, to $400 or more for assemblies and on-going programming. All prices are negotiable.

Availability varies depending on location and length of stay; possible dates are early morning weekdays or evening programs by arrangement.

Mona Lisa also performs storytelling to small youth, workshops on creative writing and proposal writing for teachers, introductions to folklore and collecting, oral performances of African-American Literature. Her poetry has appeared in The Southern Review, The Black Scholar, The Haight-Ashberry Literary Journal, Louisiana Laurels, Word Up: Black Poetry of the 80’s from the Deep South and others. Mona Lisa Saloy is currently an Assistant Professor of English at Dillard University, New Orleans.

Mr. Scarritt has developed a method of working that values the unique voice of the artist and integrity of the human spirit. As a playwright, Hunt’s plays have been fostered by Stageworks and American Stage in Florida and the National Playwright’s Conference in Connecticut. He has received awards from the LA. Arts Council, Florida Arts Council and Tampa Arts Council. He is a proud cofounder and member of Playwright’s Process in Tampa and West Florida Playwright’s Project in Pensacola, Florida. Mr. Scarritt has worked as an Artist in the Schools for 5th-12th grades, in poetry and creative writing.

Services: He is particularly interested in working with individual sponsoring organizations that would be interested in presenting his existing plays or in commissioning original works. Mr. Scarritt’s works concern the deep human need for family and community, as well as the many forms which love can take. Hunt finds the greatest joy in sharing the process of creation with others, through the written word as well as communal experience. Price is negotiable. Although Mr. Scarritt is involved with work at the University of New Orleans and in acting roles in various film and television projects, he is available for both workshops and long-term projects.

Mr. Scarritt prefers to work with students or actors at the minimum age of 15. Hunt has been involved in projects with professional as well as those with little formal training.

Dance
Roster Artist

Teresa has enjoyed a long and productive career as an acclaimed dancer, choreographer, and highly sought-after instructor. She has toured extensively with her own company throughout Spain and the rest of Europe, South, Central and North America. Theresa taught master classes at several universities and was the Director of the Dance Department at the University of Maine for 15 years. The New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Foundation has granted financial support for the study of Spanish dance at the University of New Orleans, of which Teresa will be the Artistic Director/Instructor.

Services: “Spanish Dance Workshop; Tracing the dance origin, roots, culture and heritage of the Latin American community in New Orleans,” a 20-week workshop (two semesters), will be held at the dance studio of the University of New Orleans Lakefront Campus in the Performing Arts Building, 1st Floor, Room 114B. The intent of this dance workshop is to trace and reaffirm the source of the Latin American dance culture and heritage rooted in Spain, the mother country, and to instill a great sense of pride, inspiring its people to preserve, and keep their culture alive. This workshop is free of charge to students. A minimum registration fee per semester will be charged to cover the Flamenco guitarist's participation in these dance classes.

Teresa is concentrating on reaching out and contacting students of Latin American origin, since the concept of this program has been tailored to address the cultural gap involving their heritage. Enrollment is limited! Advance reservations and interviews are required. For further information, call Teresa Romero Torkanowsky at (504) 865-1834.

Linda Ward

Acrylic painting and drawing (black, white and color) are Mrs. Ward’s mediums of expression. The content of Linda’s work, formed within the last 10 years, is derivative of memory spaces within her life that directly affect her adulthood. These memory spaces are expended upon to address issues which concern all women. Many of her images are self-portraits, not likenesses, but “facade-reversals,” entwined with universal symbols of peace and hope. Linda’s art is very personal, an aspect that is important to her in the process of art making—to express, to expose, to invite viewers to explore their own world.

Services: Acrylic on canvas; acrylic on paper; drawings (varied sizes). Prices range from $300 to $3,000.

Eye Twenty Group, 1995/96 traveling dates to be announced; “Coming Up Again (Three Women Artists),” 1995/96 traveling dates to be announced.

Mr. Ward's most recent studio works employ strongly contrasting and chromatic hues, blended and interacting in an expressive manner in a series of North Louisiana landscapes. Some resultant images are highly abstracted and some are relatively reminiscent of their genre settings. The series employs out-of-context imagery additions, grids, shifting focus, subjective color, diptych formats, "refigured," "new image" and totally invented areas within these compositions.

Services: Acrylic on canvas; mixed media on paper; color photograph of varied sizes. Prices range from $150 - $1,000.

Mr. Ward participates in Eye Twenty Group Exhibitions, Louisiana Roster Artists Exhibitions and Northeast Louisiana University Faculty Exhibitions. Please call for further specifics.

Mr. Ward is the Associate Professor in Fine Arts, NLU; Gallery Director, NLU Bry Gallery and Wesley Gallery; and serves on exhibition committees at Masur Museum of Art (Monroe) and Monroe Civic Center Theatre Gallery.

Visual Arts

AMoA’s revised mission statement of 1989 charges the institution with “preserving, exhibiting and promoting visual art throughout Central Louisiana in a way that contributes to the quality of life;” promoting understanding and appreciation of the visual arts through exhibitions, educational programs and publications and the development of a permanent collection of work by leading 20th century artists of Louisiana and the South; establishing AMoA as a visible symbol of community ambition through aggressive outreach services to rural and minority neighborhoods, leadership in creating a community-wide program of art in public spaces and expanding AMoA’s physical plant to offer more diverse services on the river front park built behind AMoA (opened Fall 1992); providing opportunities for individual growth and family interaction centered around art through the development of individual learning programs (videotape, audiovisual, brochures, etc.) and the creation of a Children’s Educational Gallery, a participatory art activity gallery which opened February 1991 in an expanded space.

Services: AMoA sponsors six major exhibitions and 4-6 smaller exhibitions annually. An annual exhibition schedule generally conforms to the following pattern: an exhibition of work by one or more important contemporary Louisiana artists; an exhibition on a significant historical style or period; and an exhibition of art traditions from outside the U.S. or outside the mainstream of art history; an annual national competition open to all artists working in any medium; a thematic exhibition of selected works from AMoA’s collection; unique artistic expressions identified by AMoA’s curatorial staff or opportunities to participate in important touring exhibitions.

AMoA’s education department also produces a museum on wheels program titled ARTEXPRESS which serves urban and rural schools in an eight parish area, a summer art camp, senior citizen art classes, a satellite children’s gallery in the Alexandria Mall and a regular series of lectures, films, symposiums, and publications based on the exhibitions program.

The museum is open all year.

The Alexandria Museum of Art is accredited by the American Association of Museums.

Theatre

ACT I's mission is to engage in the promotion, production and performance development of African-American theater and associated arts programs. ACT I functions provide administrative and technical assistance to artists and companies in the New Orleans region. ACT I conducts ongoing planning that researches the art needs and helps to develop an awareness to the business community and to the general public of the value of the arts. ACT I has devoted itself to exposing the public to contemporary African-American theater as an art form which educates and entertains. The most notable projects include: The Annual New Orleans Black Theater Festival, Arts in Education performances, publication of a semiannual newsletter, (Marquee), arts workshops, and a variety of fund raising activities. Sponsorship of the Festival is the major function of ACT I because of its ability to showcase theater companies and artists. ACT I's entire calendar year is augmented with activities such as production support, personnel referrals, script guidance, promotion for productions, statewide auditions, and referrals for actors, technicians, scripts, and technical assistance.

Membered companies and individuals tour all year.

ACT I serves as the umbrella organization for such companies as: Adella Adella the Storyteller, & Legacy, Art for Life, The Chakula Cha Jua Theater Co., Creative Artists Striving Together, Curtain Call Theater, Ethiopian Theater, Junebug Productions, Kita Productions, Kuji Kids, Souls on Stage, Somewhere off Broadway, Winfield Productions, Westbank Center Stage Theater Company and Graffiti Magazine, a Cox Cable TV talk show.

With over 10 million primary resource documents and substantial library and museum holdings, the Amistad Research Center is arguably the nation's largest independent African-American archival facility. The Center which originated at Fisk University in 1966, is primarily dedicated to the collection and preservation of African-American history and culture. Its most prominent archival holdings include, the American Missionary Associations's institutional records which document the founding of historically black colleges and universities—Fisk, Dillard, Talledega and others, the Countee Cullen papers, the DuBois and Charles S. Johnson microfilm collections, and the American Committee on Africa's institutional records.

Services: The Amistad Research Center's museum operates as a discrete unit within the archival facility. The value of its holdings are undisputed. The Amistad's Museum boasts the Deep South’s finest collection of 19th and 20th works by internationally renowned African-American masters including, Edward Mitchell Bannister, Henry Ossawa Tanner, Elizabeth Catlett, Romare Bearden, Jacob Lawrence, Lois Mailou Jones, John Biggers and John T. Scott. The Amistad also has substantial museum quality African Art collections. The William E. Betrand, Victor DuBois, Jessie Dent and John Bayers collections contain an assortment of objects, staffs, drums, masks, and statues, many of which are rare examples of their kind. The Amistad offers liberal access to its collections. Regular in-house exhibitions of its collections, traveling exhibitions, and tours of its facilities are offered by the Center.

The Center operates all year.

Art House is a nonprofit organization developed to bring arts resources back to the neighborhoods of New Orleans and to establish community based art centers. Programs which create new arts resources and innovative educational opportunities for children who are under served by existing traditional arts institutions are the focus of our efforts. Working with other private, public and nonprofit organizations, Art House links diverse community segments to conduct workshops, develop and install exhibits and performances, enhance the marketability of disadvantaged artists, and address social issues through arts programs.

Services: Each program is custom created to respond to differing resources and needs. Currently available is a workshop series in the Mardi Gras Indian traditions (ages 6-10), an exhibit of the Mardi Gras Indian culture, a theater production workshop, “My View: A Photographic Tour” (program with professional photographer) and “Art Works”, a seminar exploring career opportunities from arts experiences. Prices for programs are dependent upon time of year, size of audience and travel requirements. Inquiries welcomed at anytime.

Mardi Gras Indian workshop is not available from November through Mardi Gras and during Jazz Festival. All other programs available all year.

You can bring badly needed art resources to the children of New Orleans by supporting Art House. Tax deductible donations may be sent to Art House, 4930 Camp Street, New Orleans, LA 70115. To volunteer for present new opportunities, please call Cynthia deVillemarette at (504) 897-6670.

ART JOURNEYS
Cathy Johnson, Owner

Music

Our Articles of Incorporation dated January 3, 1977 states that our primary purposes are: To enter into any social, cultural, educational, economic, and moral endeavor for the improvement of the citizens of the State of Louisiana; and to engage in any other activity that any nonprofit corporation can perform under the laws of the State of Louisiana.

Services: Concerts featuring the music of Dr. Valerian Smith, founder, and other Black composers, along with spirituals and religious songs, jazz, Broadway and other musicals. A children's performance is included in each program presented. The upcoming production is titled "Center Stage with Black Music-From B. B. King to Leontyne Price." Other concerts will feature seasonal music in concert, vocal and instrumental solo and ensemble forms concomitant with multimedia and dance. Productions expenses are all that are required.

Because this is a local voluntary organization consisting mostly of working members, it is readily available to the local community and to others outside the community on weekends and during holiday periods.

The usual cast of performers including singers, supporting musicians, and dancers numbers around 60. Audience size is dependent on the facility, however size adjustment may be made.

Baton Rouge Community Playhouse - Drama Division
Chauncey Slack, Director
1742 Curtis Street
Baton Rouge, LA 70807
(504)775-1354

Theatre

The Baton Rouge Community Playhouse (and chorus) is an expansion of the Baton Rouge Community Chorus, a 42-year old nonprofit organization for the cultural, educational, economic and moral development of the citizens of Louisiana through theatrical outreach programs.

Services: The Baton Rouge Community Playhouse provides multidisciplinary theatrical presentations reflecting informed casts and crews of traditional and contemporary works by Black Artists performed for the general public. Prices vary depending on production and travel costs. All performance associated costs will be underwritten by the hosting agency (community, school, group, organization etc.) via income generated through advance ticket sales, donations, and in-kind services. Fifty percent of all costs are due upon signing of contract with the remaining fifty percent payable upon arrival.

Availability varies depending upon type of production. Please provide 60 day prior notice.

Production material will be chosen with the idea of whetting the interest of all. Young people especially have been deprived of the aesthetic, cultural and ethnic experiences these types of performances are capable of providing. This is vital to the social, moral and educational resources of all American communities.

Music

The Baton Rouge Concert Band (BRCB) is a nonprofit community organization composed of approximately 60 local musicians who volunteer their time and talents for the cultural enrichment and entertainment of the Greater Baton Rouge area. Under the direction of its founder/conductor, Vernon A. Taranto, Sr., and its assistant conductor, Shely Bell, the BRCB performs several public concerts each year, including our annual Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and Christmas concerts, and provides entertainment for various community organizations and functions.

Services: The BRCB is available to perform for various community organizations, educational functions and other organizations upon approval of the Band Council. Programs may include anything from patriotic numbers and marches to popular, big band, classical, and symphonic music. Prices range from $500 to $3,000, depending on programming, size of ensemble, and travel cost.

The BRCB or a smaller ensemble thereof is generally available for performances on weekends and evenings, depending on other commitments and availability of members.

Request for performances should be submitted in writing several months in advance of the functions.

BATON ROUGE GILBERT & SULLIVAN SOCIETY
Clifton Coles, President
P.O. Box 80099
Baton Rouge, LA 70898
(504)343-0067

Musical Theatre
The Society's mission is to encourage interest in and present the works of Gilbert and Sullivan in particular, musical theater in general. This mission is accomplished primarily by at least one annual performance. The Society provides a showcase for local talent, both amateur and professional, on-stage as well as backstage, and provides a training ground for vocal music and musical theater students in a form of theater not otherwise offered in the Baton Rouge area.

Services: The Society presents at least one major Gilbert and Sullivan production annually during the last week of August. In the past, the Society has presented such popular shows as The Mikado, The Pirates of Penzance, and H.M.S. Pinafore, all fully costumed and staged with a full orchestra. Tickets run $15 - $20. In addition, the Society functions as a Christmas caroling ensemble during the holiday season. Please call for rates. Smaller performances are given throughout the year, including non-Gilbert & Sullivan works.

Please call for a schedule of events.

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society is a nonprofit organization and is always looking for volunteers to serve on the Board, to perform, or to do behind-the-scenes work.

Theatre

Baton Rouge Little Theatre is one of the top community theatres in the nation both because of the consistent high quality of productions and facilities, as well as financial stability. The 1995/96 season marks the 50th anniversary of quality productions in Baton Rouge. Management and production functions of the theatre are carried out by a full-time professional staff and Board of Directors. However, productions wouldn't be possible without the volunteers it takes for each show.

Services: Each season, the theatre brings a well-balanced selection of musicals, comedies, and dramas, including original plays and musicals by local playwrights. The summer musical routinely plays to sold-out houses. Educational development also is an important part of the theatre’s mission through the Actor’s Workshop featuring a variety of classes for all ages and an extensive summer program for youths.

While the Baton Rouge Little Theatre does not conduct any formal tours, group discounts and special shows can be arranged.

Baton Rouge Little Theatre is located in Bon Marché Mall at 7155 Florida Boulevard. For more information on tickets or group discounts, call 924-6496. For class information, call 925-5253.

Folklife

The Center for Traditional Louisiana Boat Building was founded in 1979. The Center is located on the campus of Nicholls State University in Thibodaux. We conduct research on wooden boat building throughout South Louisiana. At the present time, all material, such as photographs, slides, oral history tapes, and artifacts are housed in the Ellender Memorial Library on the University Campus. We also have, housed in the library, about five nice small wooden boats on exhibit, as well as several display cases, that are changed out periodically, containing boat building exhibits.

Services: The Center offers tours, boat building videos, and lectures which are all scheduled by appointment. One of our most enjoyed services are our classes. These classes, mainly centered on Pirogues, Bateaus, and Lake Skiffs are offered through the Continuing Education Program at Nicholls State University. The tuition is $130 per class, which runs for ten class periods of four hours each. Students are required to purchase their supplies at their own cost, and when finished, have a unique project to take with them. This class is totally hands on, and everyone is required to build his/her own boat.

Tours, films and lectures are available by calling two days in advance. Please call for class availability dates.

The Center is interested in any information on wood boat building in South Louisiana. We have a research collection of black and white photographs, slides, oral history tapes and blueprints on the small water craft of South Louisiana. We welcome visitors!

CHOCTAW-APACHE COMMUNITY OF EBARB
Tommy W. Bolton, Tribal Chairman
15260 Hwy 171
Zwolle, LA 71486
(318)645-2588
(318)645-2588

Folk life

The Choctaw-Apache are descendants of Choctaw and Apache who migrated to the Neutral Strip region during the nineteenth century, tribes indigenous to the region, and the Spanish citizens and soldiers of the military outposts in East Texas and West Louisiana. Throughout the 1700s and early 1800s, these diverse cultures gradually melded together in the region around Ebarb, Louisiana, and the people have remained together since before the acquisition of Louisiana by the United States. The Choctaw-Apache Community of Ebarb was recognized as an Indian Tribe by the State of Louisiana on May 2, 1978, and the Tribe is currently working to gain federal recognition.

Services: Some contemporary arts and crafts are available through the office, and include items such as dream catchers, jewelry, woodcrafts, and paintings. Some items are on display, but most crafters work on commission. Traditional crafts, which include basketry and hunting and fishing crafts are also practiced but are not available for sale or display through the office at this time. The Tribe also has a strong foodways tradition. Many members practice traditional methods of preparing sausages and tamales, to name just a few offerings. The Tribe also hosts an annual Traditional Powwow, usually on the third weekend of May, which features traditional and intertribal dances, and also includes both food vendors and crafters/artists. Many Tribes from Louisiana as well as other states participate. It is open to the public and admission is free.

The Tribal Office is open all year. Cultural and/or historical information on the Choctaw-Apache Tribe can be obtained through the Tribal Office in Zwolle.

Historical information on the Tribe is available through the Choctaw-Apache Tribal Office. The Tribe also publishes a monthly newsletter which is available either by subscription or through the Tribal Office. Anyone wishing to learn more about the Tribe and their activities is welcome to call or drop by the office.

(318)688-6531
(318)687-3360
Theatre

The Company is a full-time professional repertory theatre that presents three major productions each year. Under the artistic leadership of four professional directors (Pamela Captain, Richard Folmer, Richard King and Mary Joris), The Company presents a variety of productions, from Neil Simon to Shakespeare. The Company frequently appears at local festivals and performs collaboratively with other arts organizations, including the Shreveport Symphony. The Company is the first theatre of its kind operating in North Louisiana.

Services: The Company presents Arts in Education programs to students of all ages. These include: in-school seminars and programs, holiday productions of festive and religious content, matinee productions geared to a family audience, featuring local talent and special guest artists. Seminar prices begin at $1,500, dependent on programming and travel costs. Short-term seminars and programs can be scheduled throughout the school year.

Classroom programs or seminars are limited to 40 students, but the performances in school auditoriums can accommodate more. Seminars dealing with film and stage acting, business and technical aspects of the theatre, as well as the audition process are offered. These seminars have proven valuable to those in other professions—law, medicine and education. Ms. Joris is listed on the Louisiana Artist Roster.

CONCERT CHOIR OF NEW ORLEANS

3900 St. Charles Ave.
New Orleans, LA 70115-4641
(504)899-3431

Music

The Concert Choir of New Orleans (CCNO) was founded in 1959 to bring choral music to singers and audiences alike. The purpose of the choir is to study, rehearse and sing music of merit not readily heard in the metropolitan area. To that end, the choir has sung works by Bach, Brahms, Raminsh, Schickele, Vierne and many other composers which have been premiers in south Louisiana, and in many instances, in the southeastern part of the U.S. It is a group of approximately 40 singers which present three or four programs per year, and attempts to sing not only in New Orleans, but also in nearby communities.

Services: The Concert Choir of New Orleans presents programs of choral music, both secular and sacred, both profound and light, to the metropolitan area as well as to communities a bit further afield: i.e., Covington, Slidell, Thibodaux, etc. It strives to keep the price of concert tickets at a level where they are affordable to almost anyone. Normal ticket prices at $8 for regular admission, $5 for students, senior citizens and disabled persons. A chamber choir, made up of members of the larger organization, is usually available, for a fee, to sing at parties, religious services, etc.
The Concert Choir does not tour, as such. It at times presents a program at some distance from New Orleans, but this is only at the time of the original programming in New Orleans. Since most of the singers work in the New Orleans area, it is difficult to travel too far from the city.

It is supposed that programming is aimed at adults; however, it is felt there is little, if any, cultural or ethnic bias in the programming. Settings of religious texts, madrigals, composers who lived 400 years ago as well as composers who are living today, accompanied music (piano and orchestral) as well as a capella - all are part of the programming of the CCNO, and this variety is expressly designed by the artistic staff.

CONTEMPORARY ARTS CENTER (CAC)

Multidiscipline

The CAC is a multidisciplinary, nonprofit arts organization that presents alternative works by music, performance, theater, and visual artists. The Center educates both children and adults in the community about the contemporary arts and the issues they address. Focusing on New Orleans' vast multicultural resources, the CAC draws both presenters and audiences from a broad spectrum of the population which encompasses many age groups, races, nationalities and genders.

Services: The CAC offers a wide range of programming, from Artists' Studio Days (workshops for school children) to Big Band, classical and jazz concerts. The Center's visual arts exhibitions change every six weeks, and in the 1994-1995 season, Edward Albee directed his most recent work in the Center's first National Theater Residency.

The CAC is open seven days a week. The Center is closed for the month of July.

Audience size and acceptable ages vary greatly with each program.

The Creole State: An Exhibition of Louisiana Folklife features traditional crafts from cultural groups throughout the state. Folklife refers to the living traditions of ethnic, regional, occupational, and family groups currently practiced within a community that have been passed down informally over time and not learned through workshops, classes, or magazines. The exhibit features the work of Cajuns, Creoles, Anglo-Americans, African-Americans, Native Americans, Islenos, Italians, Hungarians, Croations, and others. Curated by the Louisiana Folklife Program and located in the State Capitol Building in Baton Rouge, the exhibit is divided into seven sections. “Folk Toys" features both simple handcrafted toys for children. "Crescent City Symphony" features music by various composers and performers. The Crescent City Symphony is a community orchestra made up of musicians from all walks of life. The orchestra combines the talents of amateur, professional and student musicians, giving admission-free concerts for the enjoyment of people throughout the New Orleans and the River Region. The Orchestra's primary focus is providing young musicians the opportunity to develop their talents through association with experienced musicians and performing for audiences as soloists, conductors and regular members of the orchestra sections. The orchestra was founded in July, 1993 and has given 12 concerts to date.
Services: We offer Full Symphony Concerts, Baroque Concerts and various Ensemble Concerts. Our main concerts are performed at UNO; however, we perform at various other locations throughout the city. Our concerts are free to the public.

The orchestra will open its third season with a performance in August. Please call for specific date information.

Dance
Delta Festival Ballet (DFB) fosters the growth and appreciation of the art of dance throughout the state with its professional theatrical productions and its collaboration with local cultural institutions and businesses. Delta is strongly committed to the Arts-in-Education programs and devotes a large portion of its programs and services to young people. The immensely successful Children’s Concert Series, inaugurated in 1981, not only tours the state, but auditions and uses the local children in their annual production of “The Nutcracker.”

Services: The company presents in school productions throughout the entire school year. This is under the auspices of Young Audiences, Inc. The dancers travel to the outlying areas not only performing in the schools, but instructing the students in the classroom on the various techniques and movements of dance. DFB provides study guides to all participating educators. This tool reinforces the children’s own creative reactions to the dances they will see. Children’s Concert Series tickets are $3.50 for students, and for every 10 students paying, one adult chaperone ticket is given free. Young Audience programs work through DFB.

Delta performs for all ages, from preschool to senior citizens. The stage can be anywhere from a cafeteria or school auditorium, a hotel banquet facility to the large civic and city auditoriums and theatres.

Multidiscipline

The Dominican Arts Project provides arts residencies to schools who have no fine arts teachers. Arts Project teachers spend five weeks in a school visiting each classroom twice weekly. A culminating presentation highlights the arts studied during the residency. Music tapes and art handouts encourage classroom teachers to continue the experience after the arts teachers have gone. Workshops for classroom teachers who wish to better utilize the arts in their everyday curriculum are also part of the residency.

Each residency costs $4,000. We ask the school for $2,000 and generate matching funds from foundations and corporations. If a school has limited funds available, we work with the school to help obtain the seed money as well as the matching grant.

We are beginning to research schools for the 1996-97 school year.

We are looking particularly for schools with no other access to arts education.

The Franklin Parish Youth Theatre was organized in 1987 by Liz Rigdon, Linda Herlevic, and Mary Crowley. These Franklin Parish teachers saw a need for the arts in this rural community. Franklin Parish Youth Theatre began with a holiday production for young children to participate in and a Spring production for older children. Children from all over Franklin Parish and surrounding parishes attend daytime performances paying a $1 admission charge. The response has been overwhelming and encouraging. The original goal of bringing the arts to rural children and communities is strictly adhered to through workshops and stage productions.

Services: Holiday presentation for grades PK-8; Spring presentation for grades 6-12; Jr. Miss Scholarship Program (showcases dramatic and performing arts and scholastic achievement), Spring, 1996; Admission for plays is $1.

Availability varies depending on the time of year. Possible dates in 1996 include: “The Diary of Anne Frank” in October, 1996; Holiday production in November or December, 1996; Spring production in March, 1996.

Franklin Parish Youth Theatre is located in Baskin, LA near Winnsboro. The auditorium at Baskin High School has been donated to the Franklin Parish Youth Theatre for use during productions and also for rental to other organizations. This building is listed on the National Historical Society Register. The contact person at the school is Linda Herlevic, (318) 248-2381.

Friends of NOCCA is a nonprofit support group for the acclaimed arts high school, New Orleans Center for Creative Arts (NOCCA). Friends of NOCCA provides advocacy and the “Margin of Excellence” - the equipment, supplies, instructional advantages and financial aid to students - beyond the regular public school budget that transforms promising students into accomplished artists. Friends of NOCCA is also spearheading state and private efforts to construct a new facility for the school.

Services: The Friends of NOCCA host the annual “NOCCA Gala,” a dinner and concert event that features performances by alumni of New Orleans Center for Creative Arts. Past galas have starred jazz artists such as Wynton Marsalis, Branford Marsalis and Terrence Blanchard, classical vocalist Jeanne-Michelle Charbonnet, and pianists Moses Hogan and Lelia Moltrop. The 1994 Gala “Sneaker Preview” was held in the historical Levee Steam Cotton Press Buildings, now being renovated to house the new facility for the school. Tickets for the Gala typically start at $100 per person. Memberships in Friends of NOCCA start at $25. Benefits include the newsletter Speaking of NOCCA and admission to the annual members’ cocktail party “The Twilighter.” Past Twilighters were held in private mansions and featured performances by current NOCCA students. Members also regularly receive information about events at the school as well as student recitals and performances.

Friends of NOCCA operates all year. Please call for further information.

Folklife

Once opened, the Welsh Museum will specialize in agricultural, historical artifacts and folklore of the local region. Friends of the Welsh Museum, Inc. has already purchased the building for the site, and is in process of restoring the Welsh High Gym, that in the future will be used for some exhibits. They are working on a temporary location downtown for small exhibits. The address of this location is 101 South Elm Street. A membership drive is held each year, getting donations to help with restoration projects. This October marks the two year anniversary of being incorporated.

Services: The museum will feature exhibits in folklore, crafts and art education for children and adults of all ages. Among these exhibits will be an African-American exhibit which will deal with the history of the only Black school that was once in operation in Welsh. Also featured will be many agricultural exhibits including an extensive exhibit on agricultural aviation. This has been one of the leading industries in this area, and the Welsh Museum looks forward to paying tribute to it. Elton Louviere painted an original rice harvest scene of the Welsh area, which was sold to Calcasieu Bank. A limited edition of prints have been reproduced, and are available for sale through the Friends of the Welsh Museum, Inc. at $50 each. Please add $7 shipping and handling to all mail orders.

Friends of the Welsh Museum, Inc. sponsors the 4th of July Celebration at Sportsman Park in Welsh. In the past, they have sponsored a folklore festival, and hope to continue this new tradition.

The first festival was held in 1985 at The Catfish Town in Baton Rouge. It started with approximately 10 choirs and has since grown to 22 choirs participating in 1994. Proceeds generated by this festival are donated to Baton Rouge area charities. Attendance is steadily growing by the hundreds each new year. The audience includes all races and all denominations.

Services: The festival kicks off with a moment of praise and worship service conducted by different participating praise teams. Throughout the day, a host of food, give aways and different vocal performances are held to entertain one and all. Vocal performances include quartet singers, soloists, instrumentalists, rap groups, a cappella groups, 100 voices mass choirs and a host of other entertainment.

Please call for specific availability information.

Please call 504-358-0928 after 5:00 p.m. Alternate contact is the association's vice-president, Daryl Johnson, who can be reached at (504) 355-2728.

GREATER NEW ORLEANS SUZUKI FORUM
Kathleen Tyree, Director
P.O. Box 73876
Metairie, LA 70003
(504) 733-3159

Music

It is the purpose of the Greater New Orleans Suzuki Forum to encourage in children and their parents an appreciative aesthetic sense, especially through music. High standards of personal performance which assist each child in realizing his own abilities is also a basic commitment of the Suzuki Forum teachers. The Forum attempts to stimulate the awareness of family responsibility for maturing character in thought and actions. To achieve these purposes, the children must share their music with others.

Services: Workshops, Chamber Music master classes, Summer Music Camp (week-long in August), GNO Youth Orchestra, Performances for the public and at many community functions, including regular appearances at rest homes for the elderly. The Forum families offer hospitality to many touring groups: The Japanese Tour Group, The Buffalo Strings, thus encouraging motivation at a very high level. These highly polished children from other countries and states live with our families during their tour in New Orleans, promoting great cultural exchange.

The Forum tours by request to various parts of the greater New Orleans area. They have made bus trips to Baton Rouge and Lafayette to perform with their Suzuki children. This takes place during our calendar year, September through June.

All people enjoy watching the Suzuki children perform. Adults who learn along with their children also play at the workshops with them.

New Orleans, LA 70119
(504)486-5861

Folklife

This historic Louisiana band has been in continuous existence since 1933, and still features the two original founding members. The band has brought numerous important innovations to the Louisiana music scene over the years, and today has a two-fold mission: cultural preservation of its Cajun/Country Music style, and getting people to dance and enjoy themselves. Touring Artist: Adjudicated Southern Arts Exchange

Services: The band has six members and offers concerts, workshops, classroom or library appearances, or combinations of all of the above. Cost depends on the situation, and such variables as distance, advance booking, multiple bookings, equipment provided, etc. Please call for details.

Generally available, barring other commitments.

This is a truly unique group, in terms of its cultural heritage and the youthful enthusiasm of its elderly members. The musicians are all very friendly and approachable, and love to meet the public and answer questions as well as perform.

(504)542-7113

Arts Council

The Hammond Cultural Foundation (HCF) is the official Arts Agency for Tangipahoa Parish. The mission of the Foundation is to support, promote and coordinate cultural activities in the city of Hammond and in Tangipahoa Parish. It encourages membership from all individuals or organizations interested in or associated with the arts in Louisiana, or others who support the objectives of the Foundation. We promote performing arts in conjunction with Southeastern Louisiana University's celebration of the Arts and Humanities each October, currently celebrating its tenth year, visual arts, with exhibits at the HCF Gallery and Arts in Education throughout the parish. The Summer Creative Arts Camp is an ongoing summer program for children in the parish which gives them the opportunity to experience theatre, drawing, paper creations, creative writing, illustration and mask making workshops. Many of the parish schools do not offer art in the classroom, therefore, HCF promotes this as a community service to children ages six to sixteen.

Services: Parish-wide creative Summer Arts Camp ($35 per session); Various workshops for children after school during the school year offering activities such as jewelry making, drawing, and chorus ($35 per child); A gallery with exhibits nine months out of the year; Arts in Education in conjunction with Southern Louisiana University's Fanfare during the month of October.

The Foundation is open all year. Please call for specific dates.

All activities during the school year are held at the Hammond Cultural Foundation, located at 217 East Thomas St., in Hammond. The building is also available for rent to organizations as well as individuals.

Lafayette Community Theatre (LCT) is a volunteer organization committed to producing professional quality live theatre, comparable to that seen in the Off-Broadway theatre houses of New York and Los Angeles; and presenting these works at a reasonable cost to the people of Lafayette, Acadiana, and all the surrounding area. Our regular season consists of five shows with 18 performances each for a total of 90 performances. In addition, when possible, we also host children's workshops and children's shows and other performing arts groups.

Services: Ticket prices are $40 for five shows bought in advance as season tickets. Season tickets are good for either regular performances or Opening Night performances. At the door ticket prices are $15 for Opening Night. For regular performances tickets at the door are $10 for adults and $5 for students.

All regular shows perform only on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. On show nights, doors open at 7:00 p.m. and shows start at 8:00 p.m. The first performance of each show is accompanied by the Opening Night Party.

LCT has been in operation since 1982, and our first show of the 1995-96 season, “I Hate Hamlet,” was our 75th regular season show. Everyone is encouraged to call ahead for reservations because of limited seating. No regular fax number available, but please call to make arrangements.

LAKE CHARLES BALLET SOCIETY
Debra L. Speer, Vice President
P.O. Box 1941
Lake Charles, LA 70602

Dance

The mission of the Lake Charles Ballet Society is to encourage a love and appreciation of classical ballet and other dance forms through education and exposure to quality dance programs featuring the finest professional companies, guest artists, teachers and choreographers and to present an annual concert season featuring our local company, Ballet Joyeux, in a professional atmosphere. The Lake Charles Ballet Society, established in 1963 by Artistic Director, Ida W. Clarke, is one of the oldest cultural and educational organizations in Southwest Louisiana and is known for its professionalism and ability to present dance programs of the finest quality.

Services: Lake Charles Ballet Society (LCBS) offers an annual concert season which includes one Gala performance and two to four youth performances in the Fall and one Gala performance and one youth performance in the Spring. In addition, the LCBS also offers two Summer dance workshops. One is held in mid-June for two weeks at the resident company studio. In mid-July, the LCBS co-sponsors the Louisiana Dance Festival Workshop held at the U.S.L. campus in Lafayette, Louisiana. Dancers from all over the state participate in these intensive training clinics. Lake Charles Ballet Society tours a five parish area with a pre-performance touring vehicle known as “Wheels for Schools,” visiting as many as 20 schools each Fall. Over 6,000 children are educated about Ballet, Classical Music, Dance History and other elements of our Fall youth performances.

The Lake Charles Ballet Society dedicates a considerable amount of its resources to enhancing the cultural education of children in a five parish area. Most of its concerts are a delight to audiences of all ages, especially children. In an effort to present quality programs, which entertain as well as educate, the Lake Charles Ballet Society has developed a large and varied repertoire which includes such favorites as The Nutcracker, Peter and the Wolf, Coppélia, La Fille Mal Gardée, Swan Lake, La Bayadere and Juke Box just to name a few. Entrance into LCBS's performing company, Ballet Joyeux, is by open audition. Auditions, which are held in September of every year, are open to any dancer age 13 to adult. Interested dancers may call (318)436-5217.

The mission of the Lake Charles Little Theatre (LCLT) is: to produce and present to the public theatrical offerings including drama, comedies, music theatre and dramatic readings; to teach acting and technical theatre; to entertain and to enlighten this region, which includes SW Louisiana and SE Texas; to promote and premiere new works. To accomplish this, LCLT provides a season of plays and other offerings in its 140 seat intimate theatre (barrier free for the mobility challenged) and in its 50 seat cabaret-theatre using community/regional resources for acting, and tech positions and professional p/t directors.

Services: The Theatre's 69th Season offerings will be available to the general public with special rates for students, senior citizens and groups. There are nine performances of each offering. Season shows include A Streetcar Named Desire, The Foreigner, the premiere of a holiday readers theatre called Season's Greetings, the premiere of a 40's style radio readers theatre called The Golden Radio Hour, Picnic by Inge, and You Can't Take It with You. Season subscriptions from $35 to $1,000, single shows $3-6. In addition, the theatre is premiering two one-woman shows: Gumbo Yaya, based on multicultural storytelling, and Beyond the Steel Magnolia, based on the diaries of Louisiana women in history.

Individual shows can tour by arrangement with the manager of bookings and tours. Lake Charles Little Theatre can also act as agents for the one-woman shows (these are by professional storytellers and Equity performers).

The theatre draws from a wide range of the community with representation from all socioeconomic groups. It also participates in many joint projects with other groups.

Theatre

Le Theatre Cadien, originally known as Nous Autres, is a nonprofit organization now in its 17th year performing plays by, for, and about French-speaking Louisianians. Its actors and technicians are strictly amateur (in the French sense of the work, meaning one who participates out of love) and its Board of Directors is composed of volunteers. Le Theatre Cadien is best known for portraying the wisdom, humor, and pathos of its Louisiana French characters. At home and abroad, Le Theatre seeks to endear audiences to Louisiana French Culture and to encourage the continued use of the French language in Louisiana. Plays are presented entirely in Cajun, Creole, or standard French.

Services: Most Theatre Cadien performances serve as fund-raisers for cultural or service organizations, with whom the Theatre shares in the proceeds after receiving a minimum payment. The following are prices for a two-hour fund-raising performance:

Literature

The mission of Legacy International is to inspire, educate and promote interethnic harmony through cultural awareness. Legacy International provides tutorial services to youth in New Orleans and contiguous communities. Legacy International also participates in the World of Work Academic Program, sponsored by the Orleans Parish School Board. Legacy International invites student interns to come in, train and learn to use prose, write poems, do editing of prose and other literary works of art and learn the use of computer programs for artistic design. Legacy International also trains students to conduct resume preparations. This effort is meant to make these youngsters economically independent, as they join the cultural world of work.

Legacy International receives student interns from high schools and local colleges. Legacy International also provides tutorial services to people who are working on Master’s and Ph.D. degrees. Legacy trains students of all ethnic groups to appreciate the cultural programs of several nations. They learn the use of computers to develop poetry, resume preparation, essays, storytelling and graphic art design.

Legacy International Foundation has been recognized as a training center for World of Work Academy. Audience sizes can range from 5 to 10.

Music

LogJam is a musical group that specializes in multicultural, intergenerational performances, that center around audience participation. A typical performance includes a variety of songs from the 1920s to the 1990s. Although a number of the songs will be familiar, they will become new to the listeners when LogJam updates them with creative movement, comic lyrics, or a variation in tune. The group, consisting of Debra Adcock, Kathy Brandon, and Carlos Colon, has performed in Shreveport at the Red River Revel, the Red River (Hot-Air Balloon) Rally, and at Neon Saturday Night. LogJam also represents the musical portion of The Yellow Bus Tour, which is presently traveling in Caddo Parish bringing "A Day of the Arts" (music, poetry, dance, and visual art) to four rural communities and the main library.

Services: LogJam’s intergenerational approach to music appeals to children and adults. Through humorous interaction, LogJam will prompt the audience into participating in various song-related activities, such as playing instruments, following silly directions, dancing, responding individually and as a group to questions in song or spoken form, and of course, by singing along. LogJam is available to perform at conventions, festivals, reunions, dinner parties, and children’s parties. The fee is $150 per hour, or $75 per half hour.

LogJam at the present time has an open calendar for 1996.

LogJam prefers to work within a 100-mile radius of Shreveport, although longer trips may be negotiable. There is no limit on audience size; however, 35-50 people would be the best size.

The Louisiana Art & Folk Festival enjoys the reputation of being the oldest and largest festival of its kind in Louisiana. The festival is the outgrowth of Mrs. O. N. Reynolds' lifelong interest in the arts. Under the sponsorship of the Caldwell Parish Library, the first festival was staged in October, 1956 and has been an annual fall event attracting hundreds of exhibitors and thousands of visitors each year. The festival is a blending of the hill, delta and river cultures creating a dramatic show of arts in every media - crafts, needlework, performing arts, regional foods and Louisiana History. In the Folkways area there will be sausage and biscuits, turnip greens and cornbread cooked on the wood stove, quilting, basket making, live animals, lye soap making and many other demonstrations teaching survival crafts. There is a broad array of art exhibits, including hands-on experiences for children and continuous entertainment.

Admission at the gate is $2 for adults, children $1.
Services: Ethnic foods, traditional dishes and other concessions courtesy of local churches, schools and civic groups, continuous entertainment on the showboat stage and the backporch stage, a flower show sponsored by the Caldwell Parish Garden Club, ample parking near festival grounds and free shuttle bus services for several downtown parking areas, RV facilities for exhibitors, four tree-shaded areas of juried and un-juried craft booths. The festival is always the 2nd weekend of October.

The festival annually draws a crowd in excess of 25,000. Close to the banks of the beautiful Ouachita River, it has attracted the imagination and skill of most of the Caldwell Parish citizens as well as surrounding parishes and states. Mailing address is P.O. Box 196, Columbia, LA 71418. Alternate contact is Virginia Roberts, Chairman.

Folklife

The Louisiana Czech Heritage Association presents an annual festival every third weekend in March dedicated to the preservation of the music, dance, food, and cultural traditions of the Czech communities of Kolin and Libuse. It was founded in 1914 as an effort to form a Czech community for recent immigrants where they would be able to support each other and preserve their rich culture. The Louisiana Czech Heritage Association publishes a quarterly newsletter with local events, cultural and historic information pertaining to Czech communities as well as some genealogy information. The organization offers an annual scholarship and participates in historic preservation.

Services: During the festival there is a Polka Dance with admission on Saturday night. The daytime events offer folk dance presentations, folk music, food demonstrations, bakery, an ethnic meal, humanities program, and a children's theater. There is a pictorial display and a gift shop where ethnic items may be purchased. The program varies from year to year following different cultural themes. The daytime events are open to the public with no admission charge.

The festival is held the third weekend of every March.

Founded in 1971 to foster a deeper understanding and fuller appreciation of the humanities throughout Louisiana, the LEH has provided over $8 million in grants for more than 1,450 humanities projects, reaching cities and towns in every parish in the state. At the heart of all LEH programs is the belief in the power of the humanities— as a catalyst for understanding human culture and society and preparing for change. Our mission is to provide and broaden access to and appreciation for history, literature, philosophy, language, and culture to all the people of Louisiana.

Services: Guided by its' citizen board, the LEH supports programming in two areas: LEH-initiated projects and grants to other not-for profit community organizations.

The LEH seeks grant applications within clearly defined areas of concentration which address the varied concerns of our constituency. These areas include: general humanities, education and summer teacher institutes, Louisiana history and culture, literacy and other specific topics identified throughout the course of the grant cycle. Complete details about all the types of grants available throughout the LEH can be obtained free of charge by contacting the LEH office directly. The LEH also publishes a quarterly magazine of Louisiana culture, Louisiana Cultural Vistas.

DEADLINES: Mini-grants: January 15th, March 15th, May 15th, July 15th, September 15th, November 15th; Research and Publication-February 15th; Media Grants-May 25th and October 25th; General Grants-June 1st and November 1st.

A statewide not-for-profit corporation, the LEH receives crucial support from the Federal government through the National Endowment for the Humanities as well as state support from the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education and from the Board of Regents. In addition to federal and state grants, the LEH relies on corporate, foundation, and private contributions.

Literature

Louisiana Literature was founded in 1984, defining its primary mission as showcasing new fiction, poetry, and drama by Louisiana writers, as well as featuring nonfiction on Louisiana topics. The journal serves the state's readers with the highest quality literary expression of our traditions and cultures; educates readers about Louisiana writing and culture through interviews with, and essays and reviews about, regional writers; promotes Louisiana writing nationally; and engages our regional readers and writers with national-level work (for we also publish work from outside the state). Each year the journal sponsors the Louisiana Literature Prize for Poetry.

Services: Two issues per year (Fall and Spring), published by the Department of English, Southeastern Louisiana University. Subscriptions $10 for individuals and $12.50 for institutions, and single copies $5 and $6.25 respectively. Limited back issues are available. The journal also occasionally sponsors authors' readings at our home university. Authors receive complementary copies containing their work. We both solicit writing, especially for special topics issues, and invite non-solicited work. All manuscripts must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope, with postage covering at least our reply. We require approximately one to two months to reply. Please write to request rules and guidelines for the annual poetry contest, enclosing SASE.

We consider submissions throughout the year, although our turnaround time may slow during the summer.

We seek professional-level writing aimed at a diverse, adult, academic and nonacademic general audience that is invested the state's culture.

Media

LPB is Louisiana’s public broadcasting network mandated by the legislature to broadcast programs that “instruct, inform, and entertain,” including programs for use by teachers in Louisiana’s K-12 schools. It provides programs through satellite delivery (“narrowcast”) as well as open broadcast. LPB airs telecourses that carry college credit, and instructional series for special groups, such as child care providers, parents or teachers. Programs include but are not limited to the impressive slate from the Public Broadcasting System (PBS). Viewers with cable should check with their cable company to learn the channel number for LPB.

Services: LPB’s “product” is “TV programming,” often pertaining to culture and the arts. Some highlights: LPB airs musical “specials” including entire operas directly from the Met, programs featuring Pavarotti alone or with “The Three Tenors,” extravaganzas featuring operatic stars, symphonies, conductors, musicians known worldwide, taped in world class symphony halls in New York; Vienna; Russia; Tokyo; Sydney, Australia. In 1994, LPB aired a four-part series titled “AMERICA DANCING,” as well as documentaries on Martha Graham and other major dancers or companies. (LPB provided special notification to colleges and high schools that have dance programs when these were scheduled). Specials on artists such as da Vinci, Rodin, Giacometti, O’Keefe, the impressionists, the “New York School” - all have aired during the past few years (and “art lessons” air every Saturday!). With such shows and more, LPB serves the cultural needs of Louisianians. They’re free for the tapping!

LPB broadcasts from 6:00 a.m. to midnight most days, with programs offered from midnight to 2:05 a.m. some days. Program information and schedules are available in most large newspapers; through LPB’s monthly program guide, Visions; and through LPB’s ITV Guide.

LPB airs programs for various sectors of the general public, including college credit courses and teleconferences. LPB is now offering a broad-scale slate of children’s programming from 7:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each weekday.

The annual festival held at the University of New Orleans in August of each year attracts thousands of visitors over a three day period. An auction of donated arts and artifacts raise funds for the Guild to continue it's mission. The Guild is well structured as a tax deductible organization. The bylaws and a trust agreement protect the irrevocable trust fund, assuring the perpetuity of their efforts.

The Guild holds meetings the last Wednesday of each month at De LaSalle High School in New Orleans from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. The Annual Wildfowl Carvers Festival will be held in 1995 at the University of New Orleans Health and Physical Education Building on Leon C. Simon and Robert E. Lee Boulevard. August 11-13, 1995.

Monthly meetings are open to the public. The Louisiana Wildfowl Carvers and Collectors Guild is a culturally and racially diverse group who have taught both young and old to appreciate the beauty of the outdoor art that has been a lasting tribute to the early duck decoy carvers who were the precursors of our art form.

Multidiscipline

Officially listed on the National Register of Historic Places and presently the LA Art and Folk Center and Museum in Caldwell Parish, the Martin Homeplace was once the home of a prominent and prosperous southern planter and his family. Through the years, the Martin family had been known for the “southern hospitality” experienced by the many families who traveled to Columbia to trade and stopped to spend the night before ferrying across the Ouachita River. The Museum is carrying on this tradition while offering its visitors a preserved and authentic look at the customs and life-style of a once gracious way of life in North Louisiana.

Services: Guided tours through the house with refreshments are $3.50 each, browsers, $1.50. Classes in needlework (quilting, tatting, chicken scratch, etc.) drawing, painting, gardening, are offered in the summer months. There is a gift shop featuring crafts made by local craftsmen. The staff prepares a country lunch for the public each Thursday for $4.95, on other days for groups by reservation.

The House is available for tours on a daily basis, Tuesday through Saturday 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Sunday and Monday by reservation.

Alternate contact is Virginia Roberts, Chairman. The Martin Homeplace is located on Martin Lane, approximately one mile north of Columbia off of U.S. Highway 165. We accept all ages for tours and can successfully handle 50 people at one time.

Visual Arts

Owned and maintained by the City of Monroe, the Masur Museum of Art presents six to eight quality fine art exhibitions per year. The Twin City Art Foundation, a membership based nonprofit organization, funds and administers all exhibitions, activities and programs at the Masur Museum of Art. The Museum is housed in a two-story modified English-Tudor style building, built of limestone with a slate roof. Originally a private residence, it was donated to the City of Monroe in 1963 by the Masur family to be used as a fine art museum, with the stipulation that general admission not be charged.

Services: Admission to the Masur Museum of Art is free. Exhibitions feature traditional fine art media such as paintings, prints, sculpture and photography, and also include such nontraditional media as computer art, fabric art and blown and cast glass. An active volunteer docent organization offers tours to school or adult groups through Museum exhibitions. Lectures and other activities are scheduled in conjunction with particular exhibitions. Studio art classes are offered all year for adults and children by qualified local art instructors. The Twin City Art Foundation hosts preview opening receptions for exhibitions, and holds an annual fund-raiser.

Exhibitions last one to two months each; the Museum is closed to the public between exhibitions. For an exhibition calendar, or for information on exhibition activities, please contact the Museum.

Tours must be scheduled ahead of time through the Museum's Education Curator. Groups are limited in size to 50 or less.

New Orleans Children’s Advocacy Programs (NOCAP) create a nurturing environment for children on the economic margins of our community by providing them with on-site, after-school guidance in healthful life-styling and in diverse artistic expression (visual and performing arts along with creative writing). NOCAP will be staffed by college honors and graduate students (eventually, honors senior high) working for credit, thesis projects, “required” community volunteer hours, and cash. They will offer inner-city elementary school children continued access to their imaginations, the very source of self-nurturing, direct their creative energies toward rewarding, community-oriented activities and assist them in expressing their own culture from within. Participating colleges: SUNO, UNO and Tulane Medical Center School of Public Health.

Services: Not an art history/appreciation program or “a special talent filter,” NOCAP is built on the cornerstone belief that all children are special, and that given a constructive outlet for those energies which make each of us unique, they will find reward, discovering their inner-resources and learning to live by them. NOCAP’s proposed “extended day” activities offer young, often impoverished children a sense of themselves, a way to nurture their inner spirits as well as their physical health, and through performances, benefits and exhibits, an opportunity to be on the “giving” rather than the “taking” side of an otherwise uncompromising socioeconomic fence. Products will include tapes, VCR’s by the children and paraphernalia decorated with the children’s art. NOCAP will be awarding these products to members/sponsors who support our programs.

Long-term funding will come from weekend/holiday performances, projects, sales of art/tapes in the CBD and area shopping and business centers, fairs, corporate sponsorships and individual memberships (all to be handled in a dedicated system). Five percent of revenues, self-generated or donated (except if otherwise stipulated) will be transferred to a New Orleans Children's Foundation, eventually to become a parent of NOCAP, and more. NOCAP will also lobby for video rental taxation which will be dedicated to such endowments.

Music
The New Orleans Children's Chorus (NOCC) is a performance-based music education program which is dedicated to the development of artistry in all children. Under the leadership of Artistic Director, Cheryl Dupont, four choirs rehearse and perform throughout the community and the southern region of the U.S. The first international tour is planned to Europe in the summer of 1996. The NOCC is culturally diverse and performs composed music spanning five centuries and folk music of many countries in the original languages.

Services: The NOCC presents a Spring & Winter Concert each year, featuring all of the performing ensembles. In addition, individual choirs perform often for community activities, with the Louisiana Philharmonic Orchestra, at weddings and at conventions for professional music organizations. Some performances are free to the public. Prices for hire range from $350 upward, depending on the size of the ensemble, duration of the program and travel costs, if any.

Availability varies, depending on size of the ensemble and other commitments. Amount of advance notice is an important factor.

Membership in the NOCC is open to all children ages 8-18. Placement is made in an ensemble according to individual talent, age and experience. Children are able to proceed into the more advanced choirs as they become older and more capable. Dreux Montegut and Joni Boulet are Assistant Directors with the NOCC.

Stuart D. Farber, President
940 Turquoise St.
New Orleans, LA 70124
(504)887-1133
(504)282-4008

Music

The New Orleans Friends of Music will begin its 41st consecutive and successful season this Fall of 1995. It features internationally renowned classical chamber music ensembles playing the standard classical repertoire plus music from the romantic, impressionist and contemporary periods. The groups consist of string quartets, trios, piano and wind instruments. Stellar artists have included the three time Grammy Award winning Emerson String Quartet, the Beaux Arts Trio, Yo-Yo Ma and many more.

Services: The New Orleans Friends of Music present six concerts per season. However, last year was such a successful season they offered an extra concert, free of charge to all season subscribers. Pre-concert lectures are held before each concert given by local musicologists. Two years ago the group inaugurated a student concert project with master classes, for which they bus in, at their expense, 1,000 Orleans Parish school children. This has been a huge success.

Please call for dates.

All concerts are held at Dixon Hall on the Tulane/Newcomb campus which holds 1,000 people. Occupancy is 85-100 percent at all concerts. School age children are admitted free with an adult ticket holder. Single ticket sales have increased dramatically and the average age of audience members is now much younger.

The New Orleans Museum of Art, founded in 1910, is the city’s oldest fine arts organization. One of the finest art museums in the Southeast, NOMA boasts an extraordinary collection of over 35,000 pieces of art valued at over $200 million. The collection is noted for its strengths in French and American art, photography, glass and decorative arts, and African and Japanese works. A recent $23 million expansion added 55,000 square feet of space including enlarged education facilities, administrative space, and new restaurant and gift shop. The Museum now totals some 130,000 square feet and is one of the city’s main attractions.

Services: Admission fees are $6 for adults, $5 for Senior Citizens (65+), and $3 for children 3-17. Children under 3 are admitted free of charge. The Museum is fully accessible to the handicapped. Fees are sometimes increased for major international exhibitions. Family art workshops, art classes for adult and children, films, and lectures are offered throughout the year. Some of these programs are included in the price of admission while others are provided for a nominal fee.

Music

The New Orleans Musica da Camera is a professional ensemble dedicated to researching and performing Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque music on reproductions of period instruments, with emphasis on the Medieval period. Although the core ensemble consists of one singer and four instrumentalists, the organization also has female vocal ensemble, Vox Feminae. Founded in 1966 by Milton Scheuermann, the organization presents 25-30 concerts annually, as well as lectures, inforances and workshops for schools, colleges and the general public. Co-directors Milton Scheuermann and Thais St. Julien also produce a weekly program on early music for public radio stations WWNO-New Orleans, and KTLN-Thibodaux. The ensemble records for Centaur Records.

Services: A season of three major productions, each performed four times, in Orleans, St. Tammany parishes, and additional formal concerts, inforances, lecture-demonstrations, master classes and workshops (all adaptable to grades 1 through adult). Special productions involving theatre or dance can be arranged, as well as collaboration with artists or scholars in other fields (languages, art, history, etc.). Prices range from $400-$5,000 depending on travel, number of performers, and type of production.

Dates available depend on type of program. December 1995 and May-June, 1996 are not available.

Performances are not suitable for very large halls, or very dead acoustics. Ideal audience size is under 700.

Located in the Arts District, the New Orleans School of GlassWorks & Gallery is housed in an 1800s restored brick building on Magazine Street between Girod and Julia. It is the South’s largest contemporary glassworking facility, with 20,000 square feet of working space, complemented by three story high ceilings lit by eight room size skylights. The spacious front room gallery allows the audience the opportunity to watch master glass artists demonstrating glassblowing and casting in front of a 550 lb. furnace filled with hot molten glass. A verbal narration accompanies the glass demonstration along with a brief history of glass and audience participation. GlassWorks’ facility and distinguished international artists collaborate on their designs before your eyes. Often you will be watching three benches of glassblowing teams on the hot shop floor, creating Venetian style studio blown glass or sculpting solid forms from hot globular gathers out of the furnace. On sight, a pre-Civil War press located in the printmaking, papermaking, and bookbinding studio that offers daily demonstrations and workshops scheduled throughout the year. Nestled beside the printmaking studio are kiln fired glass and lampworking where visitors are welcome to watch the glass artists at work. Frequently, the audience is invited to try jewelry making and beadmaking. No previous experience is needed, just the wonderment of adventure. Exciting for all age groups.

Services: Day classes for children during holiday and summer, ages 9-15. Adult classes, 9am to 12pm and 6pm to 9pm in glassblowing, glass sculpture, glass casting, lamp working, beadmaking, sand blasting and etching, printmaking, and papermaking. Hand & face castings by appointment. Scheduled tours for groups of four or more in glassblowing and printmaking. Receptions. Weekend samplers in glassblowing and glass casting. Commission & repairs. Group demonstrations and classes in glassblowing September-June 1 only. Kiln fired glass, beadmaking, and printmaking class and departments open all year.

Arts Council

The Northeast Louisiana Arts Council was founded in 1980 to serve as the umbrella organization for 40+ arts organizations in the 11 parishes of our region. Through funding, advocacy, technical assistance, and Arts in Education, the NLAC strives to improve the quality of life in our parishes.

Services: The NLAC presents an Arts in Education (AIE) series every year, touring four to six performers or acts throughout the 11 parishes. We work to bring high caliber performances to schools that would not be able to afford them on their own. Each AIE season is multidisciplinary— theatre, music, puppets, mime, dance, and other forms of art are made available to schools. Since our AIE program began in 1987, over 120,000 school children have benefited from these performances.

NLAC’s Arts in Education program runs from September to May each year.

This program is designed to be accessible to public, private, and home-schooled children, as well as our local university.

Visual Arts

Positive Creations Fine Art Studio is the New Orleans based studio of internationally known artist, Marcus Akinlana. Akinlana seeks in his work to create dynamic images that reflect the cultural heritage of New Orleans as well as different global cultures.

Walls of Nyabinghi (W.O.N.) Mural Society seeks to create lasting and beautiful murals that will make a decisive impact on the future. It invites challenging commissions to paint, sculpt and assemble superior public art projects which will stand as historical landmarks encouraging commerce and tourism to any institution or city.

Services: Positive Creations Fine Art Studio sells the prints, cards and original artwork of Marcus Akinlana. Furthermore, Akinlana offers a series of dynamic slide lecture/performances on African-American art, culture and history at colleges and universities and also offers slide lecture/performances at schools for students from 3rd to 12th grades. He has six years experience of doing art residencies in public schools in New Orleans and Chicago. W.O.N. Mural Society invites institutions looking for an artistic overhaul of their space to commission us to create long-lasting monumental public art.

Contact Ms. Nicol at the hours stated above to set project or lecture schedules.

Marcus Akinlana was commissioned by the Contemporary Arts Center to create a one-man exhibit in October 1993 titled the “Orisa Suite.” Additionally he created the official 1994 Congo Square Jazz Heritage Poster. In late 1993 he completed a bas relief sculpture for the Orleans Levee Board that runs along the London Avenue Canal Floodwall in conjunction with his many other national public art projects. Marcus has also been featured in national publications such as Ebony, Essence, Black Enterprise, Upscale and Ebony Man.

RED RIVER SCULPTURE SOCIETY
Michael Don Fess, Chairman
10 Springlake Way
Shreveport, LA 71106
(318)868-9422

Visual Arts

Organized in 1994 by seven sculptors, the Red River Sculpture Society plans several shows and sales each year in as many communities as possible. In 1995, the group published a show catalog of their spring show (over seventy pieces). Membership is by invitation, and recent work is juried to qualify applicants. Dedication to serious fine-art is the only criteria for membership. Present membership exceeds 20 area artists from central Arkansas to south Louisiana and east to Alabama.

Services: The goals are to encourage public sculpture, sponsor sculpture workshops, have more and better art shows, encourage artists to live in this area, make the area more “art friendly,” to open and improve markets for sculpture, and to meet monthly and share knowledge and techniques. Membership is $60 for the first year and $30 annually thereafter. Art Lovers - if you would like to explore having a sculpture piece for your home or business, the group can pair you up with one or several of its artists who work in the medium best suited for your needs.

Dates will vary each year, but generally we have a major show in the spring and in the fall. Smaller shows and sale dates are available by inquiry.

The group publishes a free monthly newsletter which art lovers find very informative...you can be added to its mailing list upon request. Free 1995 show catalogs featuring our premier sculptor, CLYDE CONNELL, are available from any member. Alternate contacts are Marshall Cunningham, Vice Chairman (318) 687-4000; Marie Butler, Treasurer (318) 868-2371; and Board members Jerry Wray (318) 861-1252 and Tony Diamond (318) 424-4222.

A Historic District was established for downtown Ruston in 1989. We have 18 blocks set apart that have the majority of their buildings being 50 years or older. The Main Street Program has renovated over half of the buildings to accommodate retail businesses, quaint little restaurants, antique shops and professional business space.

Services: The Piney Hills Art Gallery is located in this Historic Downtown area. Many local hand made craft items are on display and on sale for a variety of prices. We also have a park in the center of our district, called Railroad Park. Many events, concerts, etc., take place in this park in the center of town along the railroad tracks—we still have trains coming through our town on these tracks!

Our downtown area is open six days a week with most retail establishments open from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Restaurant hours vary; however, most are open until 10:00 p.m.

The mission of The Schepis Museum is to bring about an appreciation of the arts and an awareness of local heritage, as well as educating the citizenry toward preservation of the arts and our heritage. Its vision is to maintain and further expand the tenets of our mission statement, with an eye toward expanding the exhibits and programs.

Services: The Schepis offers alternating exhibits that define different historic aspects of this community. It has hosted two dinner theatre productions, and through Northeast Louisiana Decentralized Arts Funding, it is doing a series of productions called "Showtime at the Schepis"; the first production of this series was "I Do, I Do," which premiered in February, the second was "The Belle of Amherst," performed at the Caldwell Parish High School, and the third was "Adventures With Mark Twain." In the fall, Schepis is planning "Murder on the Campaign Trail, a murder/mystery dinner theatre. The museum just started a recital series this spring, which featured The Northeast Louisiana University Brass Quintet, and is hoping to continue this programming.

Open all year.

This is a museum showcasing history at its finest!

Shadows-on-the-Teche is a National Historic Landmark site owned and operated by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The Shadows' mission is to preserve the buildings, landscape, collections, and historical integrity of the site; to research and interpret a 19th century southern Louisiana plantation economy and community and their evolution; and to encourage an appreciation of and interest in historic preservation.

Services: Shadows-on-the-Teche offers a guided tour of the historic house, which has eight period rooms that are furnished and interpreted according to documentary evidence in the Weeks Family Papers - a collection of more than 17,000 letters, receipts, invoices, and photographs that relate to the four generations of the Weeks Family who resided at The Shadows. Two and one-half acres of gardens, restored to the celebrated landscape of Weeks Hall (the Shadows' last private owner) complement the authentically restored house and interiors. Shadows programs include the educational programs for students, lectures, a variety of special events, teacher workshops, thematic tours and exhibits, and living history programs. Collections include historic clothing, furnishings, paintings, decorative arts, and historic photographs.

The museum/historic site is open daily for guided tours. Special programs are offered throughout the year. Shadows opens at 9:00 a.m., with the last tour beginning at 4:30 p.m. Group tours require advance reservations and receive discounts on admission fees.

Shadows-on-the-Teche is the only historic site of the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Louisiana. It is considered to be among the most extensively documented historic sites in the United States. A variety of programs offered throughout the year appeal to people of all ages, from lower elementary to adults. Program topics range from horticulture/historic landscapes, to historic costumes and textiles, to art and architecture, to sugar-cane plantation economy and history, and many more.

Theater

Shreveport Little Theater is the oldest continuously producing community theater in the United States. Founded in 1921, the nonprofit corporation presents a theater season of five regular productions each year, with several “Lagniappe” or supplemental productions throughout the year. Residing at the historic facility located at 812 Margaret Place, Shreveport, Louisiana, 71101, the theater is experiencing a renaissance with the assistance of local business and industry, the Shreveport Regional Arts Council and the Louisiana Division of the Arts. The organization has substantially restored the English Tudor architectural style building originally constructed in 1925.

Services: Ticket prices for “straight plays” are $12 for adults and $10 for students and senior citizens; ticket prices for musicals are $15 for adults and $12 for students and senior citizens. Season ticket prices for all five regular productions are $55 for adults and $45 for students and senior citizens. Lagniappe productions are generally priced lower, usually $8 to $10 for adults and $5 to $7 for students and senior citizens. Performance dates are Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays for three consecutive weeks for each production; curtain times are 8:00 p.m. for regular performances, with a Sunday matinee the second weekend of each run at 2:00 p.m. SLT also participates in area arts festivals and other community activities. Acting classes are also offered at five week intervals throughout the year, with an actor’s workshop performance at the conclusion of each set of classes. The theater is also available for use by other arts organizations, as well as other service organizations, both public and private.

The 1995-96 season schedule is “A, My Name is Still Alice” (musical) September 14-30; “That Championship Season” (drama) November 2-18; “The Odd Couple (Female Version)” (comedy) January 25-February 10; “The Gin Game” (tragicomedy) March 14-30 “Rumors” (Neil Simon farce) May 9-25; matinees second Sunday of each run at 2:00 p.m.

Playbill advertising available; production underwriters receive incentive package.

Music

SOUNDWAVES, a mixed choral group organized by its Founder/Musical Director Kenny Bowen, in May of 1986, was originated to provide a medium for popular choral music to represent and serve the Acadiana area as a performing ensemble. SW performs a repertoire of Broadway, pop, religious, patriotic and classic-memorable music of yester-years-to conventions, hospitals, nursing homes, tour groups and civic clubs. Auditions are not required, however, a knowledge of music, either by ear or through school/church experience goes a long way as ALL performances music is MEMORIZED (from memory).

Services: Soundwaves-Lafayette’s Community Chorus-Concert Commissioned Performances are encouraged—either by fee of $200 or by scheduled in-kind services (free) to hospitals, etc. Size of Convention has priority in price, ie. the LMA Convention in the Cajun Dome was $500. Other than coverage of basic services...SW can perform any LENGTH concert at negotiable prices. Contact (318) 984-6687, SW Administrator, for price listing and scheduling. SW offers a first class, quality production with the finest Choral Director and Accompanying Pianist (Joe Ganbanino) in the South. Membership consists of a cross-section of mid-age (some retirees) men and women who come together because “they love to sing.” Let SW entertain you!!!

Touring dates are negotiable. Soundwaves gives an annual concert show in April each year at the Heymann Performing Arts Center. It breaks for six to eight weeks in summer; however, depending upon holiday dates etc., the group is available if notified in advance.

Since the music is essentially classic-contemporary...this appeals to lovers of 40s, 50s, 60s, and 70s music. Since the music is both “toe-tapping” as well as religious and patriotic,SW appeals to all age categories. The group prefers a grand piano; however, it has its own piano-keyboard (will travel if practical). SW is limited in sound system equipment, but most performance facilities have their own. Let Soundwaves entertain you!!!

Arts Council

The St. Mary Arts and Humanities Council (SMAHC) was established in 1973 to serve the urban/rural population of St. Mary Parish. Its primary purpose is to present to St. Mary's children and adults alike, cultural events and activities that would otherwise be unavailable due to the geographic distance from cultural centers. SMAHC reaches all children, in both public and private schools, with its Arts in Education (AIE) programs. The Council expanded presentations to include elementary and middle schools in Assumption and St. Martin Parishes. The Council also works closely with the Council for Literacy, the St. Mary Chapter of the American Association for Retired People, public libraries, The Franklin Little Theater, The Morgan City Children's Theater, and The Tuneweavers, a vocal group. By serving as a collection and distribution center for its identification and display of works, it further develops local artists recognition.

Services: The Council provides funding and/or assistance for cultural presentations in local “state of the art” facilities, such as the Morgan City Municipal Auditorium and Franklin High School Auditorium. It offers the Tour de St. Marie, a cycling festival to benefit the arts, primarily sponsored by the SMAHC. The “Day In The Park” is funded by SMAHC with assistance from the cities of Morgan City and Franklin.

SMAHC operates all year.

Theatre

Founded in 1992, SPP is a nonprofit professional theatre company formed with the support of LSU. Its core of actors rank as some of the best new talent in the nation. Yet the ensemble can boast a distinctively homegrown twist, with members either having been born or educated in Louisiana. Though based in Baton Rouge, Swine Palace considers itself a theatre for the entire state. The company is committed to touring the state, bringing innovating and top quality theatrical performances to as many locales as possible.

Services: Since its inception, Swine Palace Productions has toured Louisiana. Due to the expense involved in touring a large company of artists, we plan tours based on our current season and usually schedule many venues over one time period during the season. Prices range from $3,000 to $7,000 depending on the cost of production and travel.

Touring dates vary. Please call the administrative office for specific information.

Literature

THEMA Literary Society publishes Theme, a literary journal that promotes creative thinking by challenging writers to compose stories and poems based on unusual themes. The goals of the organization are threefold. One is to provide a stimulating forum for established and emerging literary artists. The second is to serve as source material and inspiration for teachers of creative writing. The third is to provide readers with a unique collection of well-plotted, non-scatalogic stories and carefully constructed poetry.

Services: Theme literary journal, which is published thrice yearly, is available by mail-order subscription ($16/year; $20/foreign) worldwide. Individual copies and back issues may also be purchased at $8/issue, by mail and locally at all Maple Street Bookstores in the New Orleans area and at the Tulane Bookstore. Copies of the journal are also available in the New Orleans area at the New Orleans Public Library and Xavier University Library. To date, 25 issues of Theme, ranging form “Fortune Cookies (vol.1:1) to “Is It a Fossil, Higgins” (vol. 7:2, Spring 1995) have been published.

New issues of Theme are available three times a year, in March (Spring issue, July (Summer issue), and October (Autumn issue). The Summer 1995 issue is “Three by a Tremor Tossed,” followed by “Laughter on the Steps,” in October, 1995.

Upcoming themes for publication in 1996-1997 include: “A Solitary Clue” (Spring, 1996); “Jogging on Ice” (Summer 1996); “A Visit from the Imp” (Autumn, 1996); “I Know Who You Are!” (Spring 1997); and “Too Proud to Ask” (Summer, 1997). More to be announced.

Theatre

Trumpet Sounds Productions will produce movies, theatrical productions and musical dramas. This is a Los Angeles based company founded in 1987 by the co-founder of Ethiopian Theatre (New Orleans), Anthony Bean. Mr. Bean has teamed up with record producer/composer/performer Allen Toussaint to revamp the musical drama “We Love You William,” that will be available in the Fall.

Services: “When the Trumpet Sounds,” a one-man drama starring Anthony Bean. Bean drives home his message of responsibility and family strength of tracing the life of his only character, Dr. Richard Filmore, from age nine to adulthood. Bouts with stealing and drug addiction characterize Filmore's teenage days, but his course is altered by the death of his mother. Bean's tale is meant to entertain, but its moral isn't masked. It's entertaining and educational. "A Powerful Play," says Los Angeles Times Theater Critic, Robert Koehler. Prices range from $400 to $1,200 depending of programming and travel costs. A limited number of demonstration cassette tapes and brochures are available upon request. To obtain a cassette, please write to us at the above address (an $8 refundable deposit is required with requests for cassettes). Please call for information regarding our workshops and classes as well.

Mr. Bean prefers a small audience, no more than 350 at a time. Audience age ranges from 12 years and up.

Dance

Founded in 1970, TCBallet is charted by the State of Louisiana as a nonprofit organization to enrich the cultural environment of the Northeast Louisiana area. Since 1979, under the artistic direction of Linda Lavender Ford, the dual aims of the company are to create an exciting dance experience in the community and offer an opportunity for training and stage experience to talented young dancers. These aims are being accomplished through high quality productions and community presentations designed to please all audiences.

Services: As a nonprofit organization, it depends solely on the support of friends who are patrons and benefactors for the financial operation of the company. Financial support also comes from gifts, grants, and fund raising projects undertaken by the Board and Guild. Three performances are held each year for the TC Ballet Company membership - a Fall, Christmas and Spring performance. School children, grades kindergarten through sixth, are invited to attend its annual Christmas performances in early December. Approximately 22,000 students, teachers and chaperons attend the ten performances held in the Monroe Civic Center Theatre. TCBallet is an honor member of the Southwestern Regional Ballet Association, an organization of dance companies from five states which is also part of Regional Dance America. It cosponsors a 10-day dance technique workshop with the Northeast Louisiana University Health & Physical Education Department. The comprehensive course of study (held on the NLU campus) is for intermediate and advanced students ages 10 years to adult. It includes daily technique classes plus special classes in Ballet, Pointe, Character, Modern, Jazz, Tap, Choreography, and Technical Theatre.

A Visual Sound & Movement Co. is a team of dancers, artists, poets and musicians founded by Kristi Hanna in Shreveport in 1984. Although the members have changed over the years, the company has always been committed to the exploration of live performance and to the creation of challenging visual, textual and aural images in all media. A Visual Sound & Movement Co. promotes the alliance of artists from all disciplines. Its mission is to initiate and develop a safe place for individual artistic and spiritual growth within our artists' community and to communicate its vision on nontraditional stages.

Services: “Drowning,” a multimedia dance production including poetry, music and video projection. The video narrates the story of a woman contemplating drowning as poetry reveals the woman’s willful release from the physical plane of existence while improvisational music and dance dive deep into the woman’s psyche to reveal her innermost emotions and feelings. The piece was developed from a series of performances presented at All Souls Unitarian Church as a tribute to victims of the AIDS virus. This performance is dedicated to artist David Cooper, who died of AIDS this year. “Dorothy's 4th Neon Dream” is the mystical journey of the heroine, Dorothy, as she follows her dream of the half-man, half-machine, Quasi-man. The story is told through improvisational dance, music, poetry, and visual effects woven together in a state of the art video format.

Available all year. Please call to order tapes.

Tapes are available at $19.95 for single tapes (plus $5 shipping and handling), and $9.95 each for five or more tapes (plus $1 shipping and handling).

Media

WWNO and its repeater station, KTLN, serve the Greater New Orleans area and Lafourche and Terrebonne Parishes by providing high quality public radio programing with emphasis on classical music, opera, jazz, and National Public Radio news. WWNO and KTLN also broadcast daily “Inside the Arts” reports that consist of interviews with artists and representatives of arts organizations, reviews and promotions of local and regional arts activity and film reviews. Virtually all artistic media are covered. Coverage of national and international arts activity is often included on NPR news programming.

Services: Classical music and opera programming represents two-thirds of WWNO/KTLN’s schedule. News and information, including National Public Radio’s “Morning Edition,” “Weekend Edition” and “All things Considered,” represent 23 percent of the schedule. Nightly jazz represents 10 percent of the schedule. WWNO/KTLN also airs a program on French cultural affairs and language; a program of New Age music called “Music from the Hearts of Space,” and daily “Inside the Arts” features. WWNO records classical concerts of the Louisiana Philharmonic Orchestra and other musical ensembles for broadcast on WWNO and KTLN. When funding is available, WWNO/KTLN produces live music programming featuring classical or jazz ensembles.

Broadcast daily, 24 hours.

WWNO is located at 89.9 on the FM dial and reaches listeners in the Greater New Orleans area. KTLN is located at 90.5 FM and reaches listeners in Thibodaux, Houma, and surrounding communities. The two stations’ weekly cumulative audience is estimated at approximately 60,000. Funding for the two radio stations comes primarily from listeners who are members, corporate and organizational underwriters, the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, and the University of New Orleans.

Literature

The Xavier Writing and Thinking Institute offers students intensive practice in creative and critical writing, reading, and collaborative learning. It seeks intellectually adventurous high-school students from varied backgrounds to explore through writing the bond between culture and identity. Its goal is not only to help students develop their creative and critical language skills, but also to foster in them the joy of writing and exploring and to express.

A two-week summer residency program in which students gain access to university resources, including the library and sports facilities. Moving beyond classroom walls and campus grounds, they use the city of New Orleans, as well as its surrounding bayous and fabled Cajun country, as a resource in the quest to see more clearly how culture shapes identity. Cost is $1,000. Limited financial aid may be available.

Available last week of June - first week of July, or first two weeks of July. Check in given year.

The Xavier Writing and Thinking Institute is a member of the National Writing and Thinking Network, established, with generous support from the Bingham Trust, by the Institute for Writing and Thinking at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, New York.
The Yellow Bus Tour Company is comprised of a group of artists from the disciplines of dance, visual art, music, and poetry. This group visits rural parish sites and delivers “A Day of the Arts,” which consists of arts and crafts projects, music, dance, and performance poetry. Its aim is to take art to the people, to reach those who may not have access to larger arts festivals and programs.

Services: For $1,800 plus travel expenses, the six artists in this group will come to an available site (a school gym, church recreation room, town hall, library, etc.) and provide a day of art. The group usually starts at 10:00 a.m. and finishes up at about 4:00 p.m.

The group is available on weekends, usually Saturdays.

Phone number after 5:00 p.m. is (318)861-0258.

The group encourages participation from all ages, from preschoolers to great-grandparents. They do ask, however, that children under the age of 11 be accompanied by an older sibling (at least 16 years of age), a parent, or other responsible adult. Participants are asked to bring their lunches.

Guest artists are featured monthly. The Festival of Christmas is held annually, featuring the museum’s collection of fine art and a wide array of trees and Christmas decorations throughout the Museum. The Zigler Museum is housed in turn of the century home of the late Fred B. & Ruth B. Zigler. The Fine Art Gallery and Wildlife Gallery were added to the original home.

Services: Tours are available to groups, Tuesday through Saturday 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., adults $2, children $1.

The Museum is open all year.

To insure quality arts experiences and to assist artists, schools, and school systems, the Division has compiled the Louisiana Artist Roster, a list of professional artists in all disciplines approved for residencies in the schools (K-12). To serve as a resident artist (for eleven or more days at one school) on an Arts in Education Residency grant, the artist must be on the Louisiana Artist Roster.

Roster artists are available throughout the state in dance, design arts, folklife, literature, media, music, theatre, and visual arts.

Applicants to the Roster are reviewed by professional advisory panels in each arts discipline. Artists must submit samples of work, three letters of recommendation, and a current roster application. Roster appointments are for a four-year period after which the artists may reapply.

Artists approved for the Roster have been evaluated on the following criteria:

1-10 points  Artist's previous training/education in his/her discipline
1-10 points  Artist's previous experience in his/her discipline
1-10 points  Artist's proven expertise and professionalism in his/her discipline, as evidenced by samples of work
1-10 points  Artist's proven ability or apparent potential to function successfully in a residency setting (an evaluation of the artist's experience sharing skills and motivating learning at any level)

Scoring Range

1-40 points  Maximum score of 20 required for Roster appointment.

For the sole purpose of promoting Louisiana performing artists, the Division, beginning in 1995-96, agreed to sponsor a Louisiana exhibit booth representing professional Louisiana touring artists and performing groups, both contemporary and traditional, at the Southern Arts Exchange (SAE). The SAE is the annual showcase and booking conference produced by the Southern Arts Federation each Fall. The Division is an affiliate member of the Southern Arts Federation, the regional arts organization serving nine southeastern member states.

Eligible artists are invited to apply after a call for nominations from various state, regional, and local arts organizations and the Division staff. A panel composed of members of the Louisiana Presenters Network reviews applicants and selects the finalists. Approximately ten artists are selected each year.

A panel composed of members of the Louisiana Presenters Network review applicants for representation at the Southern Arts Exchange based on the following criteria:

1. Artistic merit ................................................................. 25 Points
2. Touring readiness / quality of the artists’ press materials. ............................................. 15 Points
