1997 State Legislative Summary

National Conference of State Legislatures
The National Conference of State Legislatures serves the legislators and staffs of the nation's 50 states, its commonwealths, and territories. NCSL is a bipartisan organization with three objectives:

- To improve the quality and effectiveness of state legislatures,
- To foster interstate communication and cooperation,
- To ensure states a strong cohesive voice in the federal system.

The Conference operates from offices in Denver, Colorado, and Washington, D.C.

FOREWORD

The Children and Families Program within the National Conference of State Legislatures is dedicated to providing policymakers with information that is critical to bettering the lives of America's families. The 1997 State Legislative Summary: Children, Youth and Family Issues is one of the many products and services the program offers.

Published annually since 1983, this book is a compilation of summaries of newly enacted state legislation affecting children and families. It documents legislative activity, emerging trends and innovative policies in the states, information essential to effective policymaking.

As public concern heightens regarding the nation's primary domestic problems—child abuse, juvenile delinquency, health and poverty—lawmakers are recognizing that families play a key role in ameliorating and preventing some of these societal ills. They are examining ways to craft public policy to strengthen and support families and protect all children, particularly our most vulnerable. Welfare reform and child support are drawing increased attention as states respond to federal reforms.

The summaries profile state innovations. Citations necessary for further, more in-depth research also are provided to assist legislators and legislative staff who are working in these policy areas.

In addition to the annual legislative summary, the Children and Families Program offers a variety of other publications, research and technical assistance to state legislators and their staff. We encourage constituents to contact the Denver office staff at (303) 830-2200 for a publications list or additional information.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The 1997 Legislative Summary is a cooperative effort of the states and the Children and Families Program at the National Conference of State Legislatures. The program staff gratefully acknowledge and appreciate the assistance of all legislative staff contacts, for without their efforts and thoroughness, this compilation of enacted legislation would not be possible.

The publication of this book is supported by the Annie E. Casey Foundation, the Welfare Information Network, the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation, the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, The Pew Charitable Trusts, and NCSL.

The following Children and Families Program staff worked on the publication: Steve Christian, Mary Fairchild, Scott Groginsky, Barbara Houlik, Laurie McConnell, Dana Reichert, Addie Romero, Jack Tweedie, Nina Williams-Mbengue and Adelia Yee. Addie Romero served as project coordinator.

The cover was designed by Todd Romero. The publication was edited by Leann Stelzer.

Jay Kroshus, Julie Poppe, Susan Robison and Kathy Rollins served as a consultants.
The NCSL Children and Families Program

NCSL's Children and Families program provides services to legislators and staff who are working to improve state policies that affect children and their families. The program tracks legislation, provides research and offers policy analysis, consultation and technical assistance specifically geared to the legislative audience. The following services are available at no cost to legislators and staff:

- Research assistance
- Information
- On-Line information
- Technical assistance
- Publications
- Human Services Discussion Group

An e-mail discussion list—currently focusing on welfare issues—is available to help communicate with NCSL staff and colleagues in other states. After signing up, you can ask questions or provide information from your state to NCSL staff and other legislators and staff who have also subscribed to the list—HumanServices-L. Messages are sent and delivered to you via your Internet e-mail address. Remember that all messages are available to all other subscribers and participation is limited to legislators, legislative staff and NCSL staff. To subscribe, send an e-mail to dana.reichert@ncsl.org. Give your name, position, voice phone number and e-mail address. The service will normally be available to you within two working days of your request.

Web pages provide a convenient and powerful means for circulating reports and analyses as well as announcing meetings and other developments. The Children and Families Program maintains a home page dedicated to providing information about the topics related to children and families. The Children and Families Home Page is located at http://www.ncsl.org/public/cfh.htm. In addition, NCSL has set up a separate welfare area as part of its Web site. The welfare page contains information about federal and state actions, summaries of innovative state legislation, evaluations of welfare-to-work programs, analyses of other welfare reform issues and links to other Web sites on welfare. The welfare area can be accessed at http://www.ncsl.org/statefed/welfare/welfare.htm.

Technical assistance includes testimony at committee hearings, briefing sessions for state legislators and their staffs, and bill drafting and analysis. Resources and expertise are provided by program staff, national experts and legislators through the following projects.

Project Areas

Child Care—Funded through grants from The Pew Charitable Trusts, the A.L. Mailman Family Foundation and The Carnegie Corporation of New York, this project assists state legislators to expand and improve good early childhood care and education services with particular emphasis on developing options for low-income populations. As states implement new welfare reform systems, including new child care services, staff can assist policymakers with information and consultation for services. Other issue areas include licensing and regulations, training and support for child care providers, and building the supply of affordable, good child care for all families.

Child Welfare—Funded by the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation, this project assists state legislators to improve state child protective service systems. Nationwide, reports of abused children have increased by 50 percent during the past decade, overwhelming state child protective and child welfare systems. In the wake of the crisis in child protective services (CPS), states are beginning to realize the limitations of making a single state agency solely responsible for protecting children and of using a uniform investigative response to all reports of child maltreatment. NCSL is providing technical assistance to state legislatures that are interested in facilitating active partnerships between CPS agencies and neighborhood-based family support networks and in authorizing flexible responses to abuse reports.

Child Support—With nearly one-fourth of America's children living in single-parent families, child support is more relevant than ever. Funded by a contract with the U.S. Office of Child Support Enforcement, NCSL staff are on hand to provide technical assistance and the most current research information as states struggle to adequately serve this population and meet federal program requirements.
Human Service Reorganization—With funding from the Annie E. Casey Foundation, staff are helping legislators examine and implement effective human service delivery systems. Over the past decade, state legislators have become increasingly concerned about the failure of children and family service systems and their complex and uncoordinated array of services. Contact NCSL to find out how states are implementing reforms of their children and family service systems.

Juvenile Justice—Funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, this project helps state legislators explore the causes of juvenile crime and delinquency, craft comprehensive responses to youth crime and examine model prevention approaches. Special emphasis is placed on cross jurisdictional approaches involving human services, children, criminal justice and judiciary committees to develop comprehensive juvenile justice policy. The project is jointly administered through NCSL's Children and Families and Criminal Justice programs.

Welfare Reform—Through grants from the Welfare Information Network (WIN), the U.S. departments of Health and Human Services and Transportation and the Stewart S. Mott Foundation, project staff assist states in implementing welfare reform. State policymakers are transforming welfare from cash assistance to work-based programs, and will be implementing these reforms under the newly established federal Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) program. Information is available on implementing TANF and key questions such as expanding the supply of jobs, child care, transportation assistance, job training and safety net programs.

INTRODUCTION

In an ongoing effort to document and track legislative activity on issues critical to children and families, the Children and Families Program of the National Conference of State Legislatures has published an annual state legislative summary for the past 15 years.

This publication is a joint effort between the program and the states. Every year, key legislative staff contacts provide NCSL with the latest enactments affecting children and families. After the bills are summarized, the state contacts review the work for accuracy.

In December the book is distributed to legislative libraries and the chairs of committees that deal with children and family issues. The publication is available for legislative constituents on NCSLnet and to others, in hard copy, through NCSL's marketing department.

For the majority of states the publication includes all current year enactments. However, 10 legislatures—California, the District of Columbia, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin—hold year-long sessions. Enactments for these states included those signed into law between July 1, 1996, and June 30, 1997.

Kentucky did not hold a regular session in 1997. North Carolina’s and Wisconsin’s sessions extended beyond our enactments deadline.

NCSL appreciates any suggestions regarding this effort to provide a complete and comprehensive legislative summary. To comment, please call or write to NCSL’s Children and Families Program in the NCSL Denver office.
ABUSE AND NEGLECT

Background Checks/Screening

Requires criminal background checks for applicants and employees of state agencies in positions involving contact with children. Lists offenses requiring discharge or disqualification from employment.

Requires that employees, volunteers, foster parents, adoptive parents and others in a child welfare agency be checked for child maltreatment through the central abuse registry and be subjected to a criminal history check.

Sec. 1 Requires only a state criminal background check if a prospective adoptive parent has lived in the state at least six years prior to the adoption.

Sec. 1 Allows the state board of education to revoke or suspend a license on the grounds of nonfelony negligent homicide or a misdemeanor involving physical mistreatment or abuse of a child, or having an expunged conviction for any sexual offense committed against a child.

Sec. 3 Requires that certain applicants for local school district employment undergo a criminal records check.

Requires a criminal background check of applicants for licensure as counselor, social worker, psychologist or psychological examiner. Prohibits licensure of any applicant found guilty of specified crimes, including child abuse.

CT 1997 Conn. Acts, P. A. 259
Sec. 33, 36 and 38 Require a criminal records check and a child abuse registry check of prospective child care employees and for nonrelative care providers who receive a state subsidy. Prohibits state funding to providers who have been convicted of specified crimes against children. Establishes fees for checks.

CT 1997 Conn. Acts, Act 319
Sec. 8 Requires disclosure of child protection records pertaining to a subject of an investigation to any state agency that licenses such person to care for children, and to the governor when requested in the course of his official functions.

Sec. 15 Prohibits operators of health care facilities and child care facilities from hiring anyone without first requesting a child abuse registry check. Specifies a penalty for failure to comply.

Sec. 7 Changes the requirements for a show cause hearing. Sets time limits for the order of temporary investigative authority and protective services.

Sec. 8 Makes "a preponderance of the evidence" the standard for the court determining if a youth is in need of care.

Sec. 9 Specifies the conditions required for the court to grant temporary legal custody.

NM 1997 N. M. Laws, Chap. 34
Sec. 1 Changes abuse and neglect adjudicatory hearings from within 90 days to within 60 days. Requires a mandatory meeting to settle issues prior to the adjudicatory meeting.

Sec. 2 Specifies a timeframe of 30 days in which a court may continue the hearing in order to receive reports and other evidence.

Sec. 3 Requires abuse and neglect dispositional hearings commence within 30 days after conclusion of adjudicatory hearing.

Sec. 4 Changes the time frame for dispositional reviews of adjudicated abuse and neglect cases from within 6 months to within 60 days. Specifies procedures. Requires copies of the adjudicated and dispositional orders and the initial judicial review be submitted to the local substitute care review board.

NY 1996 N. Y. Laws, Chap. 359
Extends the expiration date for certain provisions relating to use of closed-circuit television for certain child witnesses.

ND 1997 N. D. Sess. Laws, Chap. 139
Sec. 1 Requires the prosecuting attorney, the court and appropriate law enforcement to protect a child victim or witness from repeated or lengthy interviews, testimony or discovery proceedings.
ABUSE AND NEGLECT

OH 1996 Ohio Laws, HB 274
Allows a court to order the removal of the alleged abuser from the child's home and to restrain any person from having contact with the child or the child's sibling. Establishes new provisions governing the duration of protective supervision orders and the duration of the court's jurisdiction if the court awards legal custody in certain situations.

Permits the court, on its own motion, to issue temporary orders to protect the best interest of a child. Permits a court to hold a dispositional hearing immediately after the adjudicatory hearing in child protective proceedings. Makes other changes concerning the setting of an adjudicatory hearing; motions to release a child from shelter care; UCCJA filing requirements; and pre- and post-disposition support orders.

OR 1997 Or. Laws, Chap. 873
Sec. 10 Requires submission to the court of a sworn affidavit setting forth the factual basis for a request for protective custody of a child alleged to have been abused or neglected.

Sec. 18 Requires the court to hold a hearing on a petition alleging that a child is within the jurisdiction of the court within 90 days of filing. Mandates that such cases have priority over other cases, whether civil or criminal. Each person about whom allegations have been made shall admit or deny the allegations.

Sec. 2 Establishes as a condition of parole or mandatory supervision, for certain offenses, that the defendant have no contact with the victim.

Sec. 3, 5 Authorizes victim-offender mediation services for victims of those released on parole or mandatory supervision. Establishes requirements for the victim impact statement of a child.

TX 1997 Tex. Gen. Laws, Chap. 1022
Sec. 79 Authorizes an accelerated trial in certain child protective proceedings.

UT 1997 Utah Laws, HB 170
Prohibits discrimination by life and disability insurers based on domestic violence or child abuse.

UT 1997 Utah Laws, HB 307
Sec. 23 Allows courts to issue a warrant authorizing a peace officer to search for a child believed to be ill treated.

Sec. 33 Specifies procedures in child protection proceedings for resolving constitutional and statutory claims underlying a minor's failure to attend school.

WA 1997 Wash. Laws, Chap. 344
Sec. 1 Allows a parent who has been ordered by a dependency court to complete treatment and education for abusive behavior not to have to admit committing abusive acts in order to begin treatment and education.

WA 1997 Wash. Laws, Chap. 386
Sec. 8 Makes "clear and convincing evidence" the standard that the court must use to determine if manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious neglect or abuse if not removed from the home, with conditions. Requires petitions for relief from final orders or judgments to be filed within two years after entry.

Requires the court to provide court proceeding transcripts of juvenile delinquency and child abuse and neglect cases upon a written request by an indigent respondent or her or his counsel.
ABUSE AND NEGLECT

WY 1997 Wyo. Sess. Laws, HB 137a
Sec. 1 Gives the juvenile court jurisdiction over all matters and proceedings concerning certain minors and parents of minors who are delinquent, neglected or in need of supervision.

Definitions/Offenses/Penalties

AZ 1997 Ariz. Sess. Laws, Chap. 10
Defines "protective services" and "protective services worker."

Sec. 2, 46 Specifies that the definition of "dependent" child does not include a child receiving Christian Science treatment for an illness. Defines "neglect" and "serious physical or emotional injury."

Sec. 1 Adds definitions of "near fatality" and "serious bodily injury" to the law pertaining to child abuse reporting.

CA 1997 Cal. Stats., Chap. 406
Allows a parent to request reconsideration of an existing child custody order if the other parent has been convicted of falsely accusing the first parent of child abuse.

CA 1997 Cal. Stats., Chap. 1090
Outlines probation terms for certain convicted child abusers. Includes completion of a counseling program, abstinence from drugs and alcohol, victim protective orders and a mandatory minimum probation period of 36 months.

CA 1996 Cal. Stats., Chap. 1139
Makes it a misdemeanor to violate a restraining or protective order of children under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

CO 1997 Colo. Sess. Laws, SB 218
Sec. 6, 8 Defines "emotional abuse." Defines neglected or dependent child to include a child whose parent or guardian habitually abused another child and such pattern of habitual abuse poses a threat to the child.

ABUSE AND NEGLECT

1997 N. H. Laws, Chap. 292
Clarifies that legal representation of abused or neglected children may include investigative, expert and other services.

1996 Ohio Laws, HB 274
Permits a guardian ad litem to bring a civil action against any mandatory reporter of child abuse who fails to report an incident of abuse when the child suffers any injury or harm as a result of the abuse or neglect. Eliminates the $400 compensation limit for guardians ad litem.

1997 Tex. Gen. Laws, Chap. 61
Requires the state to issue specially designed volunteer advocate program license plates.

1997 Tex. Gen. Laws, Chap. 650
Requires an attorney ad litem for a child to conduct appropriate investigations, obtain certain records and interview all parties in the suit. Permits the attorney to call, examine or cross-examine witnesses.

1997 Tex. Gen. Laws, Chap. 1022
Sec. 91 Clarifies who is to provide legal representation for the state child welfare agency in child protective proceedings.

Requires the appointment of a guardian ad litem to represent a child in a suit by a governmental entity requesting termination of parental rights or appointment of the state as conservator of the child. Specifies powers and duties of a guardian ad litem and requires the attorney general to adopt standards for a local volunteer advocate program.

1997 Utah Laws, HB 94
Creates special accounts to fund recruiting and training of CASA volunteers and to fund the Office of the Guardian Ad Litem Director. Authorizes the use of paralegals by the Office of the Guardian Ad Litem Director. Allows imposition of guardian ad litem expenses against the minor's parents.

Allows directors of local court-appointed special advocate programs, with court approval, to directly access the state police and central child abuse registry to perform criminal background checks on advocates.

Organization/Oversight

1997 Ariz. Sess. Laws, Chap. 10
Sec. 55 Establishes a protective services caseload standards advisory committee.

Sec. 2 Directs the state to implement a family builders pilot program involving partnerships between child protective services and community-based programs, to allow for a triage system to screen abuse reports, provide a variety of community-linked family support services and assess families for service needs. Requires an evaluation. Appropriates $800,000 for FY 1997-1998 and $2.27 million for FY 1998-1999 for implementation of the act.

Creates a family protection unit within the state police to conduct investigations of severe child abuse and to administer the child abuse hotline. Requires transfer of the investigation function from the Department of Human Services to the state police.
ABUSE AND NEGLECT

CA  1997 Cal. Stats., Chap. 405
Encourages expansion of the pilot program for juvenile dependency mediation services to all counties. Allows counties to increase fees for copies of birth records to fund these services.

Sec. 9, 10  Creates a conflict resolution process for grievances concerning the conduct of county child protection personnel. Establishes a citizen review panel in each county to hear grievances. Requires that the notice of rights given to families include a reference to the conflict resolution process.

DE  Vol. 71 Del. Laws, SB 170
Sec. 1-5  Establishes a multiple response approach to reports of child abuse and neglect. Allows the child welfare agency to respond with either an assessment and services approach or an investigation. Requires an investigation in certain cases. Allows cases assigned to one approach to be transferred to the other approach. Calls for the child protection system to coordinate community resources to prevent and remedy child abuse.

Sec. 6  Creates the Child Protection Accountability Commission to monitor the state’s child protection system, examine policies and procedures, make recommendations and prepare written reports.

HI  1997 Hawaii Sess. Act 259
Makes the Hawaii State Clearinghouse for Missing Children a program within the Department of the Attorney General.

IA  1997 Iowa Acts, Chap. 35
Requires the state child welfare agency to incrementally expand the assessment-based approach to child abuse reports so that the approach is used throughout the state by July 1, 1998. Clarifies purpose of assessments. Requires parental notification of an assessment. Requires the child welfare agency to work jointly with law enforcement agencies in performing assessments. Specifies elements of an assessment.

MN  1997 Minn. Laws, Chap. 239
Sec. 34  Requires the revisor of statutes to reorganize the juvenile code—in the form of a bill for introduction in 1998—to create separate areas of law dealing with child protection and delinquency.

MO  1997 Mo. Laws, SB 348
Extends to eight areas of the state the multiple response system under which reports of child abuse and neglect receive investigations or assessments.

NV  1997 Nev. Stats., Chap. 517
Sec. 1, 2  Authorizes a multiple response approach to reports of child abuse and neglect. Requires the state to immediately investigate certain reports and to evaluate families reported for other, less serious types of abuse and neglect and determine whether an investigation is warranted. Sets forth criteria for cases in which an investigation is not warranted. Authorizes the state in such cases to conduct an assessment of the family’s need for services and to provide counseling or other services to the family. Allows for the reversal of a decision that an investigation is not warranted.

OH  1996 Ohio Laws, HB 274
Limits the provision of services by public children’s service agencies to children who are adjudicated abused, neglected or dependent. Requires public children’s service agencies to implement a system of risk assessment in determining the risk of abuse or neglect in connection with an investigation of a report of child abuse or neglect. Requires counties to create a mandatory dispute resolution process to resolve disputes among the agencies represented on local family and children’s services councils. Permits a board of county commissioners to approve or disapprove of an agreement, plans or decisions proposed by a local children and family services council that requires expenditures for two or more families. Allows the state child welfare agency to enter into a plan of cooperation with other governmental entities to protect children from abuse and neglect.
SC 1997 S. C. Acts, Act 577
Authorizes the state child welfare agency to establish a pilot program under which less serious cases of child maltreatment would be assessed for service needs rather than investigated. Directs the state to collaborate with the community to identify formal and informal services for children and families reported for abuse. Directs the state to gather information concerning reports of excessive corporal punishment and to report to the legislature and governor.

TX 1997 Tex. Gen. Laws, Chap. 1022
Sec. 56, 71 Authorizes the state child welfare agency to prioritize reports of child abuse according to the degree of severity of the alleged harm. Requires the state to establish a flexible response system under which families reported for less serious abuse would be provided assessment and family preservation services. Authorizes a pilot program to test the flexible response system.

Sec. 64 Requires the state child welfare agency to prepare and disseminate statistics regarding child abuse and neglect.

Sec. 116 Requires the state child welfare agency to establish a working group to coordinate the processing of child protection cases and to report to the state supreme court.

UT 1997 Utah Laws, HB 227
Designates the National McGruff House Network Program as the official statewide safe house program for children. Requires the program administrator to screen, train and support volunteers who offer to make their homes safe houses.

UT 1997 Utah Laws, HB 307
Sec. 6, 13 Provides that in cases of obvious sexual abuse or abandonment, or serious physical abuse or neglect, the state has no duty to maintain a child in his home, provide reunification services or attempt to rehabilitate the offending parent. Clarifies the duties of the Child Welfare Legislative Oversight Panel.

WA 1997 Wash. Laws, Chap. 386
Sec. 9-12 Authorizes the creation of models for alternative responses to reports of abuse and neglect. Defines “alternative response systems” as voluntary, family-centered services aimed at strengthening families at low risk for child abuse. Specifies that services are to be delivered by public or private providers through contracts with the state.

Sec. 42-44 Requires the Personnel Appeals Board to expedite employee appeals where the employee is alleged to have committed misconduct that may have placed a child at serious risk of harm. Sets conditions.

Prevention/Treatment/Training

Authorizes the expenditure of money from the child abuse prevention fund for financial assistance to family resource programs offering community-based support services.

CA 1997 Cal. Stats., Chap. 758

Requires the agency to implement a statewide outreach program regarding the availability of federal funds in the area of child protection.

WA 1997 Wash. Laws, Chap. 344
Sec. 1 Allows a parent who has been ordered by a dependency court to complete treatment and education for abusive behavior to not have to admit committing abusive acts in order to begin treatment and education.

Adds to the goals of the state's child welfare system to include family-focused, community-based services that include the prevention of abuse and neglect.

Registries and Records

Revises the type of child abuse report information required to be compiled on a quarterly basis.

Requires the state to purge records from the central registry when the family has been referred to the Family Builders Pilot Program and five years have passed since the family was reported for abuse.

Requires that an alleged perpetrator of child abuse be given notice of the state's intent to substantiate the allegation on the central registry and the alleged perpetrator's right to a hearing. Specifies the content of the required notice and certain pre-hearing procedures.

Requires that employees, volunteers, foster parents, adoptive parents and others in a child welfare agency be checked for child maltreatment through the central abuse registry and be subjected to a criminal history check.

Allows release of adoption records to multidisciplinary child abuse teams.
ABUSE AND NEGLECT

Sec. 2 Requires that records of unsubstantiated allegations of abuse be expunged from the central registry. Allows retention of such records in departmental case files for purposes of future risk assessment, but limits disclosure of such records.

Sec. 3 Allows disclosure of true allegations of child abuse to federal and state child protection agencies, child abuse citizen panels, child fatality review teams, to the general public in cases of a child fatality or near fatality, and a grand jury or court. Allows the identity of the reporter of abuse to be disclosed only after a court has found that the reporter knowingly made a false report. Allows disclosure of an investigative determination to the employer of any offender engaged in child-related activities.

CO 1997 Colo. Sess. Laws, HB 97-1109
Directs the state to phase out use of the central abuse registry and related employment screening. Requires an implementation plan to address alternative methods of tracking child abuse and neglect.

the identity or location of a parent is unknown.

GA  1997 Ga. Laws, SB 28
Sec. 2, 3  Requires a termination of parental rights petition to include a certificate from the putative father registry when seeking to terminate rights of a biological father who is not the legal father but has acknowledged paternity of the child. Clarifies circumstances in notifying these fathers of proceedings.

IL  1997 Ill. Laws, P. A. 27
Sec. 30  Expedites termination of parental rights of unfit parents in cases of abandonment, torture, chronic abuse, criminal conviction of murder, involuntary termination of parental rights of a child's sibling or extreme incapacity to care for a child. Allows the court to terminate parental rights and appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption before or at the first permanency hearing.

Sec. 45  Broadens the grounds for parental unfitness to include a finding of not guilty by reason of insanity in cases of physical abuse that results in death. Adds criminal conviction of solicitation, attempt to commit, conspiracy to commit or accountability for a first- or second-degree murder of a child to the grounds for unfitness.

IL  1997 Ill. Laws, P. A. 90-443
Sec. 10  Facilitates termination of parental rights of parents who fail to correct the conditions that led to placement of their children in state care. Allows a court to declare parents unfit who do not meet their parental obligations.

IL  1997 Ill. Laws, P. A. 90-28
Sec. 10-20  Expands conditions under which parental rights can be terminated to include abandonment, torture, chronic abuse or murder of any child or sibling of the child, and parental unfitness, established by clear and convincing evidence. Adds termination of parental rights to the types of petitions sought regarding the best interests of a minor.

Requires counsel appointed for a minor to appear at all stages of termination of parental rights court proceedings.

Requires the court to admonish parents to cooperate with the department, comply with service plans and correct conditions that required their child to be put in state care or risk termination of their parental rights.

IA  1997 Iowa Acts, Chap. 161
Redefines “to abandon a minor child” for purposes of termination of parental rights proceedings. Establishes criteria for determining that a putative father has abandoned a child.

IA  1997 Iowa Acts, Chap. 173
