The handbook is a compilation of current instructional and legal materials for teachers and planners to use in developing citizenship programs. Sections address these topics: the citizenship/naturalization process (English waivers and exemptions, potential problems, and advantages and disadvantages of obtaining citizenship); applying for naturalization (obtaining forms, medical waivers, educational requirements, the resident alien card, color photograph specifications); citizenship program management (program planning checklist, volunteers, surveys, learner intake form, citizenship achievement form, lesson summaries, sample volunteer recruitment and student recruitment flyers); application, testing, and legal resources (Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) offices, immigrant legal resource center, organizations promoting citizenship); teaching resources (instructional materials and activities, organizational resources, 100 typical citizenship questions, 25 naturalization questions, interview questions, relevant vocabulary, dictation sentences, sample INS written test); audiovisual and multimedia (computer-based) instructional aids; and teaching activities (puzzles, games, multiple choice practice tests on the Internet). Handbook for Citizenship Programs

Note To Readers

As the number of legal immigrants eligible to apply for U.S. citizenship increases, new adult education programs are being planned to meet the demand for citizenship and related ESL instruction.

This Handbook for Citizenship Programs is an effort to compile current instructional and legal materials related to citizenship programming for teachers and planners involved in developing these initiatives. There are sections in the book on program management, testing procedures, preparing applications and teaching resources.

It is important here to acknowledge the efforts of the contributors to this publication. Lee Ann Wolf, Citizenship Coordinator of the Minnesota Literacy Council (MLC) compiled a vast amount of the information presented in the handbook and created many of the materials. Her position was made possible through funding from the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation, the St. Paul Foundation, the Katherine B. Anderson Fund and the F.R. Bigelow Foundation. Glenda Potter, Supervising Attorney at the Southern Minnesota Regional Legal Services, Cambodian Legal Services Project and Matt Gerdin, VISTA Volunteer at MLC provided valuable assistance in the creation of this handbook. Diane Pecoraro, Administrator of the Citizenship Promotion Program (CPP) at the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning served as coordinator and editor. Printing funds were made available through the CPP Project.

We hope that staff in citizenship programs will find this handbook a useful and time-saving document as they work toward helping their students become naturalized.

"Red Flags"
Advantages and Disadvantages of Obtaining Citizenship

The information in this section is for coordinators, teachers, volunteers, or any other interested party, to understand the process of obtaining citizenship. It can be used to train teachers or volunteers, in student recruitment campaigns and to inform students of the process.

One piece of information that all coordinators, teachers or volunteers need to be aware of if they choose to help individuals apply for naturalization, are the "red flags" that may appear on the application form. These are conditions that may exclude an applicant from being granted citizenship. If any of these "red flags" appear, the program coordinator should make inquiries to an attorney on behalf of the applicant or refer the applicant to a lawyer (see Section III. Program Management for application and legal resources). Failure to do so could result in the applicant being denied citizenship, the loss of permanent resident status or deportation.

If you choose not to help students fill out the form, there are processing centers in the metro area where they can go and get assistance. There are also agencies willing to go to your site (metro and greater Minnesota) and provide an application workshop (see Section III. Program Management for application and legal resources).

Citizenship Process

1. Determine eligibility
   - Be at least 18 years old
   - Have been a lawful permanent resident of the United States for 5 years, or 3 years if married to a person who has been a U.S. citizen for at least 3 years.
   - For refugees, the date of adjustment to permanent residency is rolled back to the date of arrival in the United States, not the date permanent residency was granted (use the date on the green card).
   - People who enlisted in the U.S. Armed Forces during certain periods of military hostilities may be eligible for naturalization, even though they are not permanent residents.
   - Have been physically present in the US for at least half of required residency period (2 1/2 years for most applicants; 1 1/2 years for applicants married to US citizens).
   - Not have abandoned residency.
   - Plan to reside permanently in the United States.
   - Willing to swear loyalty to the U.S.
   - Have good moral character.
   - Read, write and speak basic English (unless exempt).
   - Have a knowledge of U.S. history and government (unless exempt).

2. Submit an application for Naturalization (Form N-400, G-325 and Personal Description Form) to INS with a $95.00 application fee, two photos and, as of February 1, 1998, a $25.00 fingerprint fee.

3. Get fingerprints taken when notified. INS will notify applicants of where and when to go to get fingerprints taken. As of February 1, 1998, applicants will be charged a $25.00 fingerprint fee along with the $95.00 application fee. Applicants should bring along their scheduling notification, their green card and another photo identification.

4. Study English and US History and Government.

5. Decide whether to take the written or oral test of US History and Government.

The oral test will be given during an interview with an INS officer.

The written test is currently given at 4 locations in MN. The applicant needs to register prior to testing to guarantee a space and pay a fee. If the applicant does not pass the written test s/he may take it one more time at no additional cost. Only passing test results are sent to INS. The test results are sent to the applicant and if a passing score is obtained, this letter should be brought to the interview.
The written test consists of 20 multiple choice questions which are answered within 30 minutes and 2 dictated sentences spoken 3 times. Twelve correct multiple choice questions and one correct sentence are needed to pass. At the time of the interview, an INS officer will determine if each applicant meets all requirements for naturalization, including demonstrating the ability to speak basic English. Although rare, if an INS officer suspects fraud or improper testing of the applicant, s/he will have the authority to retest the applicant. If not, no further History and Government questions are asked.

Be interviewed by an INS officer when scheduled for an appointment. Currently it is taking 9-10 months from the time the application is submitted to the time of the interview. The fingerprint check alone can take 6 months. The oral test of US History and Government is given if the written test was not taken.

The oral test consists of approximately 8-12 questions, of which 70% need to be correct, and 1 dictated sentence. If the dictated sentence is not correct but is close another sentence will be given. If the applicant not pass the test or interview s/he will be scheduled for another interview within 6 months. If s/he does not pass the second time, the application is denied and the applicant needs to start the process all over again.

NOTE: If an applicant is instructed to go to the International Institute to be interviewed, s/he will probable be given a written test consisting of 12 multiple choice questions and 3 dictation sentences, of which 7 and 1 need to be correct. (see sample test format of INS' test and the written test under Teachers Resources)

If the applicant passes the test and the interview s/he will receive a letter with the date and time of the swearing-in ceremony. This should be within 60 days of passing the interview. At the ceremony, s/he will take the oath of allegiance and exchange his/her permanent residency card for a US citizenship certificate.

English Language Waiver and Exemptions

To take the test in your native language you must be:
- 55 years of age with at least 15 years as a lawful permanent resident
- 50 years of age with at least 20 years as a lawful permanent resident

To take a simplified version of the exam you must:
- Be 65 years of age with at least 20 years as a lawful permanent resident.

To be exempt from both the English and the American Government components of the interview you must:
- Be unable to pass the English and/or the American Government component of the interview as a result of a physical, mental or developmental disability (see Section II N-400 for more information).
"RED FLAGS"

CONSULT AN ATTORNEY IF YOU:

- Were granted lawful permanent resident status even though you were not eligible.
- Are a lawful permanent resident who left the country and was excludable at time of re-entry (Typical grounds of exclusion are conviction of a crime, likely to become a public charge, or committing visa fraud).
- Have been arrested, cited, charged, indicted, convicted or fined for breaking any law, including domestic violence, child abuse, or child neglect.
- Have made trips out of the U.S. which lasted more than six months.
- Have moved to another country since obtaining permanent resident status.
- Ever claimed to be a US citizen.
- Voted in the U.S.
- Willfully refused or failed to support dependents.
- Helped someone to enter the U.S. illegally.
- Provided contradictory information on your application.
- Are male and did not register for the Selective Service when you were between 18 and 26 years old.
- Are on probation or parole for a criminal conviction.
- Committed fraud to receive or continue to receive public benefits.
- Committed marriage fraud.
- Have an order of deportation against you.
- Entered the United States as an immigrant (excluding refugees and asylees) and have received or are receiving public assistance.
- Are practicing polygamy.
- Voluntarily joined or became affiliated with the Communist Party, the Nazi Party or other totalitarian or racist organizations.
- Have tried to avoid US military service or deserted the US military.
- Been a habitual drunkard.
- Have engaged in prostitution or profited from the business of prostitution.
- Lived off of or had two or more convictions for illegal gambling.

THESE SITUATIONS COULD CAUSE THE INS TO DENY YOUR APPLICATION OR WORSE, TO START DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS WHICH COULD RESULT IN LOSS OF STATUS AS A PERMANENT RESIDENT.
Advantages and Disadvantages in Obtaining Citizenship

Advantages of becoming a U.S. citizen:

- You have the right to vote in elections
- You can run for public office
- Federal jobs and some state jobs require you to be a U.S. citizen
- If you are a U.S. citizen, you can file to legally bring immediate family members to live in the U.S.
- A U.S. citizen can apply for more family members to immigrate than a lawful permanent resident can, and often those family members can immigrate much more quickly.
- Becoming a U.S. citizen can help your children (unmarried permanent resident children under the age of 18 automatically become citizens when both parents or a single parent with child custody becomes a citizen).
- You may receive full Social Security benefits while living in most foreign countries.
- You can live outside of the U.S. without losing your citizenship.
- Traveling in some foreign countries may be easier for you when you are a U.S. citizen.
- It is easier to re-enter the U.S. as a citizen.
- You do not have to renew your lawful status. Lawful permanent residents have to renew their green cards every 10 years, but U.S. citizens never have to renew their certificates of naturalization.
- A U.S. citizen cannot be excluded or deported as lawful residents can. As of September 1996, non-citizens face the risk of deportation if they plead guilty to or are found guilty of certain criminal charges. These include convictions for domestic abuse and violations of Orders for Protection. Notices of deportation have been sent to teenagers as well as to adults who have already completed their prison terms.
- Qualify for some state and federal benefits that non-citizens do not qualify for.
- Greater sense of security against anti-immigrant legislation.

Disadvantages of becoming a U.S. citizen:

- To become a U.S. citizen, you must take an oath of allegiance and renounce loyalty to your native country if you cannot maintain dual citizenship with your country of origin.
- You may lose your citizenship in your native country.
- Property ownership in your native country may be a problem (if you cannot retain dual citizenship).
- You may lose the right to vote in your native country.
- You must pass a basic English and U.S. government/history test.
- You could be deported or denied citizenship if you lied on the application, or committed fraud in obtaining your permanent residency.

The forms and information in this section are included for your background knowledge and to assist students through the naturalization process. These are actual forms, but the size has been reduced and these copies should not be submitted to INS.

You may choose to help students apply for citizenship. If so, pay special attention to any “Red Flags” that may appear (see Section I. Citizenship Process). The forms can also be used to teach how to fill out forms and also to identify vocabulary that will be used at the interview. The INS officer will ask questions from the N-400 and may ask for a definition of a term to check that the applicant does indeed understand the question.
To Obtain Forms

1. Call 1-800-870-3676, leave your name, address and the name or number of the form you are requesting.

2. INS office, 2901 Metro Drive, Suite 100, Bloomington, MN (see map in Section III. Program Management)

3. Minnesota Literacy Council, 645-2277, 756 Transfer Road, St. Paul, MN 55114 (for pick-up only).

When you request a N-400 form, you will receive: the N-400 and accompanying forms (G-325/Biographic information), Information on the Educational Requirements for Naturalized Citizenship, 100 Typical Questions and Answers, INS offices and map.

Medical Waiver (Form N-648)

Partial and total waivers of the English and civics requirements may be granted based on a physical or developmental disability or a mental impairment. The N-648 needs to be filled out by a licensed medical doctor or licensed psychologist. A complete diagnosis and explanation of why this individual can not fully or partially comply with the taking of the test of U.S. History and Government must be given.

Example: A person was granted a partial waiver based on a vision problem. She was waived from taking the written portion, but took the oral test of U.S. History and Government.

Example: Another individual who had a stroke and could not verbalize answers was allowed to nod yes or no to questions.

The N-648 form should be submitted with the N-400. It can be sent in at a later time or brought to the interview. It is recommended, however, to send in the form prior to the interview so the interviewers have an opportunity to review it. It needs to be submitted to INS within 6 months of being completed. It will be evaluated at the interview and approved or denied at that time.
INSTRUCTIONS

Purpose of This Form.
This form is for use to apply to become a naturalized citizen of the United States.

Who May File.
You may apply for naturalization if:
- you have been a lawful permanent resident for five years;
- you have been a lawful permanent resident for three years, have been married to a United States citizen for those three years, and continue to be married to that U.S. citizen;
- you are the lawful permanent resident child of United States citizen parents; or
- you have qualifying military service.

Children under 18 may automatically become citizens when their parents naturalize. You may inquire at your local Service office for further information. If you do not meet the qualifications listed above but believe that you are eligible for naturalization, you may inquire at your local Service office for additional information.

General Instructions.
Please answer all questions by typing or clearly printing in black ink. Indicate that an item is not applicable with "N/A". If an answer is "none," write "none". If you need extra space to answer any item, attach a sheet of paper with your name and your alien registration number (A#), if any, and indicate the number of the item.

Every application must be properly signed and filed with the correct fee. If you are under 18 years of age, your parent or guardian must sign the application.

If you wish to be called for your examination at the same time as another person who is also applying for naturalization, make your request on a separate cover sheet. Be sure to give the name and alien registration number of that person.

Initial Evidence Requirements.
You must file your application with the following evidence:

A copy of your alien registration card.

Photographs. You must submit two color photographs of yourself taken within 30 days of this application. These photos must be glossy, unretouched and unmounted, and have a white background. Dimension of the face should be about 1 inch from chin to top of hair. Face should be 3/4 frontal view of right side with right ear visible. Using pencil or felt pen, lightly print name and A#, if any, on the back of each photo. This requirement may be waived by the Service if you can establish that you are confined because of age or physical infirmity.

Fingerprints. If you are between the ages of 14 and 75, you must submit your fingerprints on Form FD-258. Fill out the form and write your Alien Registration Number in the space marked "Your No. OCA" or "Miscellaneous No. MNU". Take the chart and these instructions to a police station, sheriff's office or an office of this Service, or other reputable person or organization for fingerprinting. (You should contact the police or sheriff's office before going there since some of these offices do not take fingerprints for other government agencies.) You must sign the chart in the presence of the person taking your fingerprints and have that person sign his/her name, title, and the date in the space provided. Do not bend, fold, or crease the fingerprint chart.

U.S. Military Service. If you have ever served in the Armed Forces of the United States at any time, you must submit a completed Form G-325B. If your application is based on your military service you must also submit Form N-426, "Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service."

Application for Child. If this application is for a permanent resident child of U.S. citizen parents, you must also submit copies of the child's birth certificate, the parents' marriage certificate, and evidence of the parents' U.S. citizenship. If the parents are divorced, you must also submit the divorce decree and evidence that the citizen parent has legal custody of the child.

Where to File.
File this application at the local Service office having jurisdiction over your place of residence.

Fee.
The fee for this application is $95.00. The fee must be submitted in the exact amount. It cannot be refunded. DO NOT MAIL CASH.

All checks and money orders must be drawn on a bank or other institution located in the United States and must be payable in United States currency. The check or money order should be made payable to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, except that:
- If you live in Guam, and are filing this application in Guam, make your check or money order payable to the "Treasurer, Guam."
- If you live in the Virgin Islands, and are filing this application in the Virgin Islands, make your check or money order payable to the "Commissioner of Finance of the Virgin Islands."

Checks are accepted subject to collection. An uncollected check will render the application and any document issued invalid. A charge of $5.00 will be imposed if a check in payment of a fee is not honored by the bank on which it is drawn.
Processing Information.

Rejection. Any application that is not signed or is not accompanied by the proper fee will be rejected with a notice that the application is deficient. You may correct the deficiency and resubmit the application. However, an application is not considered properly filed until it is accepted by the Service.

Requests for more information. We may request more information or evidence. We may also request that you submit the originals of any copy. We will return these originals when they are no longer required.

Interview. After you file your application, you will be notified to appear at a Service office to be examined under oath or affirmation. This interview may not be waived. If you are an adult, you must show that you have a knowledge and understanding of the history, principles, and form of government of the United States. There is no exemption from this requirement.

You will also be examined on your ability to read, write, and speak English. If on the date of your examination you are more than 50 years of age and have been a lawful permanent resident for 20 years or more, or you are 55 years of age and have been a lawful permanent resident for at least 15 years, you will be exempt from the English language requirements of the law. If you are exempt, you may take the examination in any language you wish.

Oath of Allegiance. If your application is approved, you will be required to take the following oath of allegiance to the United States in order to become a citizen:

"I hereby declare, on oath, that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, of whom or of which I have heretofore been a subject or citizen; that I will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States of America against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I will bear arms on behalf of the United States when required by the law; that I will perform noncombatant service in the armed forces of the United States when required by the law; that I will perform work of national importance under civilian direction when required by the law; and that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; so help me God."

If you cannot promise to bear arms or perform noncombattant service because of religious training and belief, you may omit those statements when taking the oath. "Religious training and belief" means a person's belief in relation to a Supreme Being involving duties superior to those arising from any human relation, but does not include essentially political, sociological, or philosophical views or merely a personal moral code.

Oath ceremony. You may choose to have the oath of allegiance administered in a ceremony conducted by the Service or request to be scheduled for an oath ceremony in a court that has jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence. At the time of your examination you will be asked to elect either form of ceremony. You will become a citizen on the date of the oath ceremony and the Attorney General will issue a Certificate of Naturalization as evidence of United States citizenship.

If you wish to change your name as part of the naturalization process, you will have to take the oath in court.

Penalties.

If you knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal a material fact or submit a false document with this request, we will deny the benefit you are filing for, and may deny any other immigration benefit. In addition, you will face severe penalties provided by law, and may be subject to criminal prosecution.

Privacy Act Notice.

We ask for the information on this form, and associated evidence, to determine if you have established eligibility for the immigration benefit you are filing for. Our legal right to ask for this information is in 8 USC 1439, 1440, 1443, 1445, 1446, and 1452. We may provide this information to other government agencies. Failure to provide this information, and any requested evidence, may delay a final decision or result in denial of your request.

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice.

We try to create forms and instructions that are accurate, can be easily understood, and which impose the least possible burden on you to provide us with information. Often this is difficult because some immigration laws are very complex. Accordingly, the reporting burden for this collection of information is computed as follows: (1) learning about the law and form, 20 minutes; (2) completing the form, 25 minutes; and (3) assembling and filing the application (includes statutory required interview and travel time, after filing of application), 3 hours and 35 minutes, for an estimated average of 4 hours and 20 minutes per response. If you have comments regarding the accuracy of this estimate, or suggestions for making this form simpler, you can write to both the Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 I Street, N.W., Room 5304, Washington, D.C. 20536; and the Office of Management and Budget, Paperwork Reduction Project, OMB No. 1115-0008; Washington, D.C. 20503.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM N-648 MEDICAL CERTIFICATION FOR DISABILITY EXCEPTIONS

Purpose of This Form.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service’s (INS) regulations require that applicants seeking an exception from the English and U.S. history and government (civics) requirements for naturalization based on physical or developmental disability or mental impairment submit this certification form, completed by a licensed medical doctor or a licensed clinical psychologist, along with a completed application for naturalization (Form N-400). This certification form will be used by the INS to determine whether applicants for naturalization are entitled to an exception to the requirements.

In accordance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, INS makes reasonable modifications and/or accommodations to allow individuals with disabilities to participate in testing required for naturalization. Reasonable modifications and/or accommodations may include but are not limited to: Braille test forms, sign language interpreters, or off-site testing. Applicants should be advised that if reasonable modifications and/or accommodations will allow them to demonstrate knowledge of basic English and U.S. history and civics, this medical certification form is not required.

Part I of the form must be completed and signed by the applicant. The form also contains an acknowledged release by the applicant of his or her medical records to include both physical and mental health. Part II of the form must be completed and signed by the licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist performing the assessment of the applicant. The licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist is required to attest to the truthfulness of his or her certification under penalty of perjury and agree to release his or her medical records relating to the applicant upon request by the INS.

General Instructions.

Please answer all questions by typing or printing clearly in black ink. Indicate that an item is not applicable with "N/A". If an answer is "none," write "none". If you need extra space to answer any item, attach a sheet of paper with the name of the applicant, and the alien registration number (A #), and your complete name including first name, middle name and last name, with appropriate title. Also, indicate the number of the item to which the answer refers.

Additional medical reports may be submitted but they must be limited to not more than two pages, and have the name of the applicant, alien registration number (A #), and your signature on each page of the attachments. Additional medical records may be submitted but will not be accepted as a substitute for complete responses to questions asked on the certification form.

1. You are requested to provide an accurate assessment of the applicant’s disability or impairment so the INS can determine whether to grant an exception to the English language and history and civics requirements for naturalization.

2. The INS requires that the licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist completing the form for the applicant be experienced in the area of the applicant’s disability, and able to diagnose the applicant’s disability and/or impairments. A certification must be made as to whether the applicant has the ability to learn English and civics sufficient to pass the INS’ citizenship test. The tests require an ability to speak and write basic English and the ability to answer basic questions about the history and civics of the United States.
INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM N-648 MEDICAL CERTIFICATION FOR DISABILITY EXCEPTIONS

3. All licensed medical doctors or licensed clinical psychologists completing this form must be licensed practitioners in the State where they practice. Medical attestations will be accepted only from the following: licensed medical doctors (MDs) and licensed clinical psychologists.

4. All forms must be signed, certified, and dated by the licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist. The certification must be filed within 6 months of its completion and signature.

Penalties.

Both the applicant and the licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist are required to complete and sign the form under penalty of perjury. All statements contained in response to questions in this certification are declared to be true and correct under penalty of perjury.

Title 18, United States Code, Section 1546, provides in part:

Whoever knowingly makes under oath, or as permitted under penalty of perjury under Section 1746 of Title 28, United States Code, knowingly subscribes as true, any false statement with respect to a material fact in any application, affidavit, or other document required by the immigration laws or regulations prescribed thereunder, or knowingly presents any such application, affidavit, or other document containing any such false statement - shall be fined in accordance with this title or imprisoned not more than ten years or both.

If either the applicant or the licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist includes in this certification form any material information that the party knows to be false, the applican and/or licensed medical doctor or licensed clinical psychologist may be liable for criminal prosecution under the laws of the United States.

The knowing placement of false information on the application may subject the applicant and the licensed medical doctor or psychologist to criminal penalties under Title 18 of the United States Code and to civil penalties under Section 274C of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C.
1324c.

Privacy Act Notice: Authority for the collection of the information requested on this form is contained in 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(15), 1183A, 1184(a), and 1258. The information will be used principally by the Service to whom it may be furnished to support an individual’s application for naturalization under the Immigration and Nationality Act. Submission of the information is voluntary. It may also, as a matter of routine use, be disclosed to other federal, state, local and foreign law enforcement and regulatory agencies. Failure to provide the necessary information may result in the denial of the applicant’s request for an exception to the English language and U.S. history and civics requirement in the applicant’s naturalization application.

Reporting Burden: A person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. We try to create forms and instructions that are accurate, can be easily understood, and which impose the least possible burden on you to provide us with information. Often this is difficult because some immigration laws are very complex.
Accordingly, the reporting burden for this collection of information is computed as follows: 1) learning about the form, 30 minutes; 2) completing the form, 60 minutes; and 3) assembling and filing the application, 30 minutes, for an estimated average of 120 minutes per response. If you have comments regarding the accuracy of this estimate, or suggestions for making this form simpler, you can write to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 I Street, N.W., Room 5307, Washington, D.C. 20536. Do not mail your completed application to this address.

The materials in this section will aid you in starting up and managing a new program. It includes a check-off list for planning your program, suggestions in how to use volunteers in your program, a few record keeping tools, student and volunteer recruitment materials and resources that provide citizenship services throughout Minnesota.
Citizenship Program Planning

In addition to the Principles of Basic Literacy/English as a Second Language Project Management check-off list which is located in the Minnesota Literacy Council’s Project Management Handbook, the following is a list of considerations concerning the development of a citizenship program.

Process: This component includes determining eligibility, applying for naturalization and consulting a lawyer when needed.

- Decide who determines student’s eligibility for citizenship and for your program.
- Determine who will assist students in filling out the N-400: paid teachers, volunteers, volunteer attorneys? Will you refer your students to processing centers? Will you ask an organization that provides this service to come to your site? (See Application, Testing and Legal Resources in this section)
- Know where to get legal questions answered.

Legal: Immigration lawyers can determine if an individual is eligible to apply and if there are any “red flags” which could lead to a denial of citizenship or deportation.

- Does the staff know what the “red flags” on the N-400 are in order to make referrals to an attorney?
- Does the program know who to call for advice on some of the simpler issues and which lawyers to refer to?

- Decide on program structure.
  - One-on-one? Small group?
  - Number of days and hours per week, which days and times.

- Decide on type of class.
  - Is teaching citizenship part of an ESL class (e.g.: taught during the last half-hour of ESL class), or is it a separate class?
  - Which English levels is the class open to?
  - Is a class offered in the student's native language for those who are eligible for an English Language Waiver (see Section 1. Citizenship Process)?
  - Is a bilingual instructor or interpreter needed?
  - Do you prepare students to take the written, or oral test or both?

Other Considerations

- Is a citizenship campaign needed to inform about the benefits, requirements and process of obtaining citizenship, including how minor children can become citizens when they do?
- Purchase books.
- Set up a record-keeping system.
- Recruit students, volunteers.

Minnesota Literacy Council/Community Literacy Collaborative, August, 1997
Minnesota Literacy Council’s Addendum to the Statement of Cooperation for Citizenship Programs

MLC offers the following services to local literacy projects in the development of a citizenship program:

1. Provide consultation in the areas of local project development, volunteer training, support and recognition and student recruitment.
2. Refer potential students and tutors.
3. Train volunteers through an ESL workshop and a citizenship in-service.
4. Provide access to a free lending library.
5. Provide curriculum recommendations for ESL and citizenship.
6. Keep programs updated about changes in the citizenship process and new teaching and training resources.

The local project agrees to the following responsibilities

1. Determine which citizenship services they will provide (English and citizenship instruction, eligibility and application assistance, legal counsel) and know who in the community can provide the other services.
2. Designate a local project coordinator who is knowledgeable of the citizenship process and resources and makes appropriate referrals or seeks the services of others.
3. Recruit local volunteers and learners, and provide leadership in order to maintain an active volunteer tutoring program.
4. Register volunteers prior to tutoring. Provide support and in-service training during the tutoring process. Show appreciation to the volunteers through awards, certificates and recognition events.
5. Maintain records on the tutors and learners who participate in the program. Complete and submit the MLC annual report form at the end of the program year.
How to volunteer in an ESL/Citizenship Program

As ESL/Citizenship Instructors:
- One-to-one tutoring.
- Small group.
- In class as a teacher aide.

As a Teacher Aide:
- Provide special help to an individual or small group. Possible areas are: writing, dictation, vocabulary building, review activities.
- Do the same activities as the teacher with half of the class or less.
- Participate in a mock interview.
  - This can be in front of the class, possibly with someone who has obtained their citizenship, or in a private area to better replicate the real experience with the examiner coming to get one student at a time and bringing him/her to another room.
- Prepare classroom exercises.

Special Projects:
- Video tape mock interviews and testimonies from students who have obtained their citizenship to show future students
- Create audio tapes for students to practice the 100 questions and the interview questions (be sure to vary the order of the questions and get different voices on the tape; some students become too accustomed to one voice and can memorize the order of the questions and answers).
- Create software to practice the citizenship information.
- Create teaching activities/materials.

Citizenship Review
Because of the length of time it takes to get an interview, it is possible that students will have a lag time from when they finish a class and when they get an interview. They may need to review material before their interview. A tutor may meet a few times with one or several students, or a review class may be set up for these students.

Extended Class Time
If classes are taught by paid teachers, consider offering another day of classes using volunteers.

Non-Teaching Volunteer Opportunities:
- Provide transportation to photo or fingerprint sites, or to the INS interview.
- Accompany student to the INS interview to provide moral support.
- Assist students in filling out the N-400 during processing workshops.
- If you are a lawyer, you can accompany a student to the actual interview.

Volunteers needed in Citizenship Programs

Interested in helping a refugee or immigrant become a citizen of the United States?

Volunteer with the Minnesota Literacy Council (MLC).

MLC works with 120 community based programs in Minnesota. There is a program near you that needs your help.

We can train you to teach English as a Second Language and give you the training you need to help an individual become a citizen.

Call MLC at 645-2277 and ask for LeeAnn or Matt.
Interested in becoming a U.S. Citizen?

Advantages of becoming a U.S. citizen:

- The right to vote.
- The right to run for public office.
- The right to apply for federal, and many state and public jobs that require citizenship.
- To opportunity to file to legally bring immediate family members to live in the U.S.
- A U.S citizen can apply for more family members to live in the U.S. than a lawful permanent resident can, and often those family members can immigrate much more quickly.
- Help your children (unmarried permanent resident children under the age of 18 automatically become citizens when both parents or a single parent with child custody becomes a citizen).
- You can live outside of the U.S. without losing your citizenship.
- Traveling in some foreign countries may be easier for you when you are a U.S. citizen.
- It is easier to re-enter the U.S. as a U.S. citizen.
- You do not have to renew your lawful status (lawful permanent residents have to renew their green cards every 10 years).
- A U.S. citizen cannot be excluded or deported as lawful residents can. As of September 1996 non-citizens face the risk of deportation if they plead guilty to, or are found guilty of certain criminal charges. These include convictions for domestic abuse and violations of Orders for Protection.
- Citizens have the right to receive full U.S. Social Security benefits.

To qualify, you must:

- Be at least 18 years old.
- Generally have been a lawful permanent resident of the United States for 5 years, or 3 years if married to a person who has been a U.S. citizen for at least 3 years.
- For refugees, the date of adjustment to permanent residency is rolled back to the date of arrival in the United States, not the date permanent residency was granted (use the date on the green card).
- People who enlisted in the U.S. Armed Forces during certain periods of military hostilities may be eligible for naturalization even though they are not permanent residents.
- Have been physically present in the U.S. for at least half of required residency period (2 ½ years for most applicants; 1 ½ years for applicants married to U.S. citizens).
- Not have abandoned residency.
- Plan to reside permanently in the United States.
- Willing to swear loyalty to the U.S.
- Have good moral character.
- Read, write and speak basic English (unless exempt).
- Have a knowledge of U.S. history and government (unless exempt).

Why become a U.S. citizen

Eligibility

How to become a citizen

Where to go for help

January 1998
Why become a U.S. citizen

- To be able to vote and participate fully in an American democracy. Politicians listen to people who can vote.
- To prevent the risk of deportation. If you are or have been convicted of a crime and you are not a citizen, you can be deported. U.S. citizens can not be deported.
- To protect your children. If you become a citizen before your children turn 18, they are also citizens. They can not be deported as citizens.

Most crimes are now grounds for deportation. Abuse of a spouse, child or partner, violation of an Order for Protection or No Contact Order, any drug crime, any firearm violation, welfare fraud, murder, rape, crimes involving moral turpitude, and most other crimes are causes for deportation if the conviction results in a sentence of one year or more (even if you get only a suspended sentence of 1 year or more).

- To help your family members come to the U.S. As a legal permanent resident, you can only petition for unmarried children and spouses. Citizens may also petition for parents, married children, siblings, and fiancés. Unmarried children and spouses of citizens wait much less time than permanent residents to receive visas.
- To be eligible for state and federal jobs.
- In order to continue to receive money from AFDC/MFIP food supplement or General Assistance (GA) you need to apply for citizenship, or be in an English or citizenship class. These actions satisfy the requirements for obtaining these public benefits.

Non-citizens have extra residency requirements imposed on them in the GA and AFDC/MFIP food supplement programs. If you moved to Minnesota after March 1, 1997, you may not qualify for GA if you are not a citizen. If you moved to Minnesota after July 1, 1997, you may not qualify for the AFDC/MFIP food supplement if you are not a citizen.

Refugees, asylees, and people whose deportation has been withheld can get food stamps only for their first 5 years in the United States. You may not be able to get food stamps when you need them unless you become a citizen.

- U.S. Veterans — and their spouses and children — can get food stamps. However, non-citizen veterans who fought as Southeast Asian allies of the U.S. in Laos and Vietnam have no special eligibility for food stamps.

To be able to travel outside the United States and re-enter more easily.

- ONLY non-citizens who were receiving SSI on 8/22/96 and non-citizens who were in the U.S. on 8/22/96 that have become blind or disabled can receive SSI indefinitely.

Qualified non-citizens who are elderly (65 or older), but not disabled, and who were living in the U.S. on 8/22/96 and were not receiving SSI may receive SSI based on advanced age only for their first seven years in the U.S., and only if they are refugees or asylees, or have been granted withholding of deportation. SSI may not be there when you need it. Become a citizen.

If you are not a refugee, asylee, or have been granted withholding of deportation and you came to the U.S. after 8/22/96, you will not be able to get SSI until you become a citizen or have been in the U.S. for 7 years.

To be able to live outside of the U.S. and not lose your citizenship.

To be able to run for public office.

To avoid fees and paperwork with the INS. U.S. citizens never have to renew their certificates of naturalization.

To protect yourself from changes that target non-citizens. Government policy is based on whether individuals are citizens or non-citizens.

Eligibility

- Be at least 18 years old.
- Have been a lawful permanent resident of the United States for 5 years, or 3 years if married to a person who has been a U.S. citizen for at least 3 years.
- Have been physically present in the U.S. for at least half of required residency period (2 1/2 years for most applicants; 1 1/2 years for applicants married to U.S. citizens).
- Not have abandoned residency in the U.S.
- Be willing to swear loyalty to the U.S.
- Have good moral character.
- Read, write, and speak basic English (unless exempt).
- Have a knowledge of U.S. history and government (unless exempt).
All applications or petitions should be mailed or taken to the above address. If you are filing in person and you wish to be scheduled for an interview at a later date, you must appear at the office no later than 2 p.m. (no later than 5 p.m. on Mondays).

If an interview is required, you will be scheduled for a personal interview at the Bloomington office approximately 90 days after receipt of the completed application. Appointments will NOT be scheduled until you have submitted a properly completed application, accompanied by all required supporting documents with signatures and proper fee, where applicable. Fingerprint charts may be completed by your local police department or at our office. Photographs may also be taken at our office. There is a fee of $9.00 for two photographs, and $9.00 for one set of fingerprints.

age of 18.

4. Have good moral character.  NOTE: 1.) If you have been ordered by a court to pay child support, you must be paying to be eligible for citizenship.  2.) If you are on probation for the conviction of an offense which doesn't disqualify you from getting citizenship, you must wait until the probation has been successfully completed before you can apply for citizenship.

5. Swear loyalty to the United States.

6. Be able to pass a test of U.S. history and government through an interview in English or a multiple-choice written test. You must also write a short sentence in English. The language, history and civics requirements may not apply if you are able to qualify for a WAIVER based on:

* your age and the length of time you have lived in the U.S.; or

* a physical, mental or developmental disability that prevents you from being able to learn English and civics sufficiently to pass the citizenship test.

a. People over 50 who have resided in the U.S. at least 20 years after lawful admission as a permanent resident or who are over 55 and have lived in the U.S. at least 15 years after lawful admission may take the citizenship test through an interpreter.

b. Special consideration is given to applicants over 65 who have been lawful permanent residents for more than 20 years. They may take a less demanding civics test through an interpreter. They will be asked 10 questions and must answer only 6 correctly.

c. People unable to take and pass the English and civics parts of the citizenship test due to a physical or developmental disability or mental impairment may not have to take the test at all (See paragraph II (6) below, under "How to Become a Citizen").

II. How to Become a Citizen

1. Fill out an APPLICATION for Naturalization, Form N-400. (Call the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) form line at 1-800-870-3676 to get the form). Answer all questions truthfully. A section of the form lists additional eligibility questions. If you have concerns or questions, SEEK THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY BEFORE FILING YOUR APPLICATION TO AVOID DEPORTATION.

2. Have 2 or 3* color PHOTOS of yourself taken within 30 days. Photos must meet INS rules and can be taken at the INS office. (*Form N-400 requires 2 photos, the amended federal regulations require 3; the INS accepts 2).

3. Have your FINGERPRINTS taken (after you file your application), if you are between the ages of 14 and 75. Read section III (6) below to find out about the new regulations. You cannot have your fingerprints taken until you receive your fingerprint appointment card from the INS.

4. Fill out Form G-325B if you ever served in the armed forces of the United States. If your application is based on military service, submit Form N-426.

5. If your application is for a permanent resident child of a U.S. citizen, you will also need copies of the child's birth certificate and parents' marriage certificate, and evidence of the parents' U.S. citizenship. If the parents are divorced, you will need to submit a copy of the divorce decree and evidence that the citizen parent has legal custody of the child.

6. If you can't take and pass the citizenship test due to a developmental, physical, or mental disability, you will need to seek a WAIVER. A licensed medical doctor or licensed
III. Other Reasons Why You May Want to Become a Citizen

VOTING: U. S. citizens have the right to vote in elections. By voting, you can have more control over the things that affect you and your communities, including immigration and the rights of minority groups. Immigrants contribute to the United States in many ways, and they should be able to make their voices heard.

HELPS RELATIVES IMMIGRATE: U. S. citizens can apply for more family members than lawful permanent residents can, and often those family members can immigrate much more quickly.

TRAVELING: U. S. citizens can travel abroad for as long as they like without losing their legal status. It is generally easier to re-enter the U. S. as a citizen. Also, it is easier for U. S. citizens with a U. S. passport to travel in some foreign countries.

GETTING CITIZENSHIP FOR CHILDREN: When parents become citizens, they may apply for citizenship for their minor children who are permanent residents. The children do not need to take the citizenship test. (See below, section B(I)(3)).

HOLDING SOME JOBS: Only U. S. citizens can work for the Federal government and at certain State government jobs.

NOT NEEDING TO RENEW LAWFUL STATUS: U. S. citizens never have to renew their certificates of naturalization. They also don't have to pay the expense of renewing green cards.

CITIZENSHIP GIVES YOU MORE LEGAL RIGHTS.

B. HELP WITH CITIZENSHIP

I. You Can Become a Citizen!

Do not be discouraged. According to INS statistics, most of the people taking the citizenship exam are able to pass the test on the first attempt. It has been the experience of the Elders Citizenship Program at the United Cambodian Association of Minnesota that more than 90% of permanent residents the Association works with who have limited English skills are able to become citizens after participating in classes.

TO BECOME A CITIZEN YOU MUST:

1. Usually be a lawful permanent resident (LPR) for at least 5 years. Some exceptions apply (an applicant who is married to a U. S. citizen only has to be an LPR for 3 years).

2. Have been physically present in the U.S. for at least half of that period (2½ years for most applicants; 1½ years for applicants married to U. S. citizens), and not have left your home in the U. S. for long during that time.

3. Be at least 18 years old to apply for citizenship on your own. Children under the age of 18 automatically become citizens if, in single-parent families, the one parent naturalizes or, in two-parent families, both parents naturalize. In two-parent families, if only one parent naturalizes, the parent who becomes a naturalized citizen may apply for citizenship for any unmarried child under the NON-CITIZENS LAWFULLY RESIDING IN THE U.S. ON A PERMANENT BASIS WHO DON'T FIT WITHIN AN MA CATEGORY OF ELIGIBILITY SHOULD QUALIFY FOR GENERAL ASSISTANCE MEDICAL CARE (GAMC). If you are ineligible for MA because you are not elderly or disabled by SSI standards, or because you are not a member of an AFDC or MFIP-S household, you may be able to get medical coverage through GAMC. GAMC is a state-funded program similar to MA. You can't get GAMC for your first 30 days in Minnesota, but the 30-day bar can be waived in the case of medical hardship. As with MA, sponsor-deeming may affect your eligibility for GAMC.

NON-IMMIGRANTS AND NON-CITIZENS WHO ARE ILLEGALLY IN THE U.S. CAN GET GAMC IF THEY ARE UNDER THE AGE OF 18 OR ELDERLY OR DISABLED BY SSI STANDARDS. You must agree to cooperate with the INS to try to change your immigration status.

NON-IMMIGRANTS AND PEOPLE ILLEGALLY IN THE U.S. CAN GET EMERGENCY GAMC.

CITIZENSHIP PROTECTS YOUR RIGHTS TO GOVERNMENT BENEFITS WHEN NEEDED.

II. Protection from Removal Proceedings
(Formerly Deportation or Exclusion Proceedings)

On September 30, 1996, President Clinton signed a new immigration reform law that changes the way that immigration cases are processed. If you are a non-citizen, you now face the risk of removal (deportation) if you plead guilty to or are found guilty of certain criminal charges.

If you are a non-citizen with a criminal conviction or violation of a protection order, you may get or have gotten a notice that you are being put in removal (deportation) proceedings. These notices are going out to adults and teenagers who have been convicted of certain crimes, whether they are on probation, are serving a prison sentence, or have completed a prison sentence (even if it has been many, many years since the crime was committed). Many types of offenses may make you removable (deportable), even some misdemeanor crimes. Congress recently eliminated most defenses for these cases. Keep in mind:

- Even fairly minor convictions for domestic abuse or violations of protection orders, including No Contact orders and Orders for Protection (OFPs), are grounds for removal (deportation).
- Certain juvenile court adjudications, called “Extended Juvenile Jurisdiction” or EJJ adjudications, may be grounds for removal (deportation).
- If you are currently involved in a criminal case, make sure you consult with your defense attorney about the immigration consequences of a guilty plea or conviction.

In general:
× DON'T COMMIT CRIMES.
× AVOID PROBLEMS WITH THE POLICE.
× IF YOU HAVE EVER BEEN CONVICTED OF ANY CRIMINAL VIOLATION OR VIOLATION OF A PROTECTION ORDER IN THE PAST, TALK TO AN IMMIGRATION ATTORNEY BEFORE YOU FILE AN APPLICATION FOR NATURALIZATION!!!

CITIZENSHIP PROTECTS YOU FROM THE THREAT OF REMOVAL (DEPORTATION)
(lower benefits to new residents for 12 months) was enjoined (stopped) by a state court judge on December 5, 1997 pending further legal proceedings. A 30-day residency requirement for family Emergency Assistance, however, went into effect on January 1, 1998 and may affect your ability to get emergency shelter if you are new in the state.

HUD HOUSING SUBSIDIES WILL COUNT AS INCOME TO REDUCE MFIP-S GRANTS for all MFIP-S recipients, regardless of citizenship status. Beginning July 1, 1999, $100 of the value of your HUD housing subsidy will count as unearned income to reduce your MFIP-S cash grant.

b. General Assistance (GA)

- LEGAL IMMIGRANTS, WHETHER “QUALIFIED” OR “UNQUALIFIED,” MAY GET GA. If you are a legal immigrant who is not eligible for SSI because you are not “qualified” under PRWORA, you can still get GA ($203 per month for a single adult). To qualify, you must fit into a GA category or group. If under age 70, you must take steps toward becoming a citizen, by enrolling in an ESL or citizenship class, or by filing an application for citizenship. Sponsor-deeming may affect eligibility.

- ONLY MINNESOTA “RESIDENTS” CAN GET GA. A law limiting new residents arriving after July 1, 1997 to the amount of GA they would have received in their former state for their first 12 months here (and to no benefits for your first 12 months if your former state didn’t have a GA program) was enjoined (stopped) by a state court judge on December 5, 1997. A 30-day residency requirement is still in effect. A requirement affecting non-citizen applicants was eliminated by the legislature this year. (Under the old law, if you were a non-citizen GA applicant, you had to have been living in Minnesota on March 1, 1997 or have become elderly or disabled after March 1, 1997 to qualify).

- A NEW FOOD SUPPLEMENT EXISTS FOR NON-MFIP-S RECIPIENTS WHO HAVE LOST FOOD STAMPS BECAUSE OF IMMIGRATION STATUS. If you are a legal non-citizen not receiving MFIP-S, you should qualify for a new food supplement for non-citizens. The new “Minnesota Food Assistance Program” will be run like the Food Stamp program. From July 1 until September 30, 1998, the amount of benefits you can get is the average per-person Food Stamp issuance, paid for with state funds. The benefits will be provided in cash until October 1, 1998, when you will be able to get benefits using your Electronic Benefit card. Also beginning October 1, the amount of food benefits you will get is the level you would have gotten in Food Stamps if you were a U.S. citizen. The program runs from July 1, 1998 through June 30, 1999.

c. Medical Benefits

- MEDICAL ASSISTANCE (MA) COVERAGE IS AVAILABLE TO ALL NON-CITIZENS PERMANENTLY RESIDING HERE LEGALLY WHO FALL WITHIN AN MA CATEGORY OF ELIGIBILITY. Depending on the date you arrived in the U.S., MA will be paid either with federal or with state funds. If you are an “unqualified” non-citizen permanently in the U.S. with the knowledge and acquiescence of the INS, you must agree to try to change your immigration status. MA categories include living in an AFDC or MFIP-S household, or being elderly or disabled by SSI standards. Sponsor-deeming may affect your eligibility.

- EMERGENCY MA IS AVAILABLE EVEN TO UNDOCUMENTED NON-CITIZENS AND TO NON-IMMIGRANTS (NON-CITIZENS RESIDING HERE ON A TEMPORARY BASIS). While non-citizens who are not legally in the U.S. cannot get regular MA coverage, you can get MA for the treatment of an “emergency medical condition” if you fall within an MA category of eligibility. An emergency condition can’t involve an organ transplant. “Emergency medical conditions” include pregnancy, childbirth, and care for 60 days after your child is born.
2. CHANGES IN STATE LAW

In 1997, the Minnesota legislature created its new family cash assistance program, deciding who is eligible for family cash assistance benefits, medical coverage, and some state-funded public assistance programs. In 1998, the legislature made a few more changes. Below are some of the most important changes affecting low-income non-citizens in Minnesota:

a. Family Cash Assistance (AFDC & MFIP-S)

THE AFDC PROGRAM IS OVER. By now, the AFDC program is over, for almost everyone. AFDC has been replaced with a cash assistance program for families called the Minnesota Family Investment Plan-Statewide, or "MFIP-S." You can get MFIP-S if you are otherwise eligible and living here legally on a permanent basis. If you are a non-citizen who is not here legally or who is here on a temporary basis, you are not eligible.

MFIP-S recipients get cash benefits, along with a food portion (rather than Food Stamps), to meet food needs. If you are a non-citizen who is no longer eligible for Food Stamps because of immigration status, you cannot get the regular (federal) food portion of the grant.

MFIP-S offers you fewer opportunities to go to school, and most recipients will have to work to get their grants. You should get Medical Assistance (MA), child care, and supportive services to help you go to work. Sponsor-deeming may affect your eligibility.

A FOOD SUPPLEMENT PROGRAM TEMPORARILY REPLACING LOST FOOD STAMPS FOR NON-CITIZEN FAMILIES WAS EXTENDED. Most AFDC and MFIP-S recipients should qualify for a state-funded food supplement if they have lost their Food Stamps because of immigration status. The benefit amount is the amount that you would have received in MFIP-S food benefits.* You must take steps toward becoming a citizen, such as taking citizenship or ESL classes or filing an application for citizenship. The food supplement program will end on June 30, 1999.

* Note: Because the food supplement is given in cash (rather than in coupons), it is being counted as income for some government programs, affecting rents and eligibility for subsidized and public housing, and eligibility for fuel assistance. By October 1, 1998, the supplement should be available through the electronic benefit system.

MOST PEOPLE WON'T BE ABLE TO GET MFIP-S FOR MORE THAN FIVE YEARS IN THEIR LIFETIME. PRWORA has dictated that states set lifetime limits for recipients of family cash assistance, with five years as the lifetime maximum. Minnesota has chosen a five-year limit, which applies regardless of citizenship status. The five years began on July 1, 1997 with AFDC.

MFIP-S RECIPIENTS MAY HAVE TO WORK EVEN IF THEY CAN'T SPEAK ENGLISH WELL. Difficulty understanding or speaking English is not seen as an automatic barrier to your getting a suitable job under the new MFIP-S work requirements. You will have to prove that your trouble with English is a barrier to your ability to work. If you can prove it, your county employment plan must include intensive ESL.

ONLY MINNESOTA "RESIDENTS" CAN GET AFDC, MFIP-S, AND EMERGENCY FAMILY ASSISTANCE. Minnesota initially established two residency requirements for all AFDC and MFIP-S applicants, regardless of citizenship: a 30-day requirement and a "durational" requirement. Under the first requirement, you can't get benefits for your first 30 days in Minnesota. That requirement is still in effect. The second requirement would have left new residents with the level of benefits they would have received in their former state for their first 12 months in Minnesota. This requirement...
FEDERAL LAW CHANGES HAVE MADE IT HARDER FOR CHILDREN, REGARDLESS OF IMMIGRATION STATUS, TO GET SSI. The 1996 law has changed the way Social Security decides if children are disabled. Fewer children will qualify for SSI under the new method.

b. Food Stamps

MOST NON-CITIZENS CANNOT GET FOOD STAMPS, EVEN IF THEY ARE "QUALIFIED." The bar on Food Stamps applies to non-citizens who were in the U.S. on August 22, 1996, as well as to those who have arrived since August 22, 1996.* There are exceptions:

(1) — If you are a refugee or asylee or have had your deportation withheld, you can get Food Stamp benefits, but only for your first five years in the U.S. ☒

(2) — If you are a U.S. veteran, an active-duty member of the U.S. armed forces, or the spouse or unmarried dependent child of a veteran or active-duty member, you can get Food Stamps without time limits. The surviving spouse of a deceased U.S. veteran can also get benefits, so long as you have not remarried.

Note: Hmong and Laotian war veteran are not considered U.S. veterans, even though the Act says it is the "sense of Congress" that you should be treated as veterans.

(3) — If you have worked for 10 years (40 "work quarters") in the U.S., at Social-Security-covered work, you can get Food Stamp benefits without time limits. Quarters worked by your spouse or your parent when you were a minor can be credited.

Note: Since December 1, 1996, work quarters won't count toward the 10 years if the worker received Food Stamps, AFDC, MFIP-S, SSI, or Medical Assistance during the quarter.

(II) LEGAL NON-CITIZENS WHO WERE GETTING FOOD STAMPS WERE CUT OFF SEPTEMBER 1, 1997 unless they could meet exception (1), (2) or (3), above.

* Note: A bill that just passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives would restore Food Stamps to some non-citizen immigrants, including Hmong and Laotian war veterans and their families; disabled non-citizens in the U.S. on 8/22/96; and elderly non-citizens who were 65 or older and living in the U.S. on 8/22/96. The bill would also extend Food Stamp benefits from 5 to 7 years after arrival for refugees and asylees.

c. Other Federal Benefits for Non-Citizen Immigrants

Regardless of your immigration status, you should be able to receive: *emergency medical coverage (see below); *non-cash emergency disaster relief; *school lunch and school breakfast benefits; *public health immunizations, and testing for and treatment of communicable diseases; *benefits through Head Start or the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA); and *some school assistance and benefits.

d. A Word of Caution About Reporting Requirements

Under PRWORA, all welfare agencies are required to furnish the INS (the Immigration and Naturalization Service) with the names and addresses of, and other "identifying information" on, anyone they know is "unlawfully" in the U.S. Public housing agencies (PHAs) contracting with the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) must also report to the INS. These reporting requirements could deter non-citizens who are not legally here from applying for benefits for which they, or their minor children, might be eligible.
a. SSI Benefits

(Benefits for Disabled or Elderly [Age 65 or Older] Low-Income People)

(I) MOST LEGAL NON-CITIZENS WHO WERE RECEIVING SSI BENEFITS ON AUGUST 22, 1996 CAN KEEP THEIR SSI BENEFITS.

If you are a "qualified" non-citizen recipient who is elderly, blind, or disabled, you can continue receiving SSI indefinitely.

If you are "unqualified" but legally here on a permanent basis, you can keep receiving SSI until OCTOBER 1, 1998. You may be able to keep getting SSI even after the October 1, 1998 cut-off if your receipt of SSI is based on a "very old" SSI application, filed before January 1, 1979. Benefits will end only if Social Security shows "clear and convincing evidence" of your ineligibility.

(ii) "QUALIFIED" NON-CITIZENS NOT RECEIVING SSI MAY QUALIFY FOR SSI NOW IF THEY WERE IN THE U.S. ON AUGUST 22, 1996.

If you are a "qualified" legal non-citizen who was here in the U.S. on August 22, 1996 but who wasn't on SSI at that time, you are SSI-eligible without time limitations when you are found to be BLIND or DISABLED.

You can only get SSI based on ADVANCED AGE if you are a refugee, asylee, or immigrant for whom deportation has been withheld. Eligibility lasts only for your first seven years in the U.S., or for seven years after you receive asylum or your deportation is withheld. Benefits will end after seven years unless you meet the SSI disability standards.

(iii) "UNQUALIFIED" NON-CITIZENS (WHETHER LONG-TIME RESIDENTS OR NEWLY-ARRIVED) WHO ARE NOT ON SSI ARE NOT ELIGIBLE FOR SSI.

(iv) MOST NEW LEGAL IMMIGRANTS (ARRIVING AFTER AUGUST 22, 1996) ARE NOT ELIGIBLE FOR SSI FOR THEIR FIRST SEVEN YEARS IN THE U.S.* However, you can get SSI without time limits if you are a U.S. veteran, active-duty member of the armed forces, or the spouse or minor child of a veteran or active-duty member. If you are a refugee or asylee or have had your deportation withheld, you can get SSI for your first seven years in the U.S.

*Note: If you are a new immigrant, you may not be eligible for any “need based” benefits, because your sponsor’s income may count as if it were your own income. This “sponsor-deeming” was authorized in the 1996 PRWORA law and applies to you ONLY if you are a “family-based” or an employment-based immigrant. It does not apply to you if you are a refugee or asylee. Sponsor-deeming began on December 19, 1997 with the use of new PRWORA-authorized “Affidavits of Support” for newly arrived immigrants. These affidavits, unlike earlier affidavits, are legally-enforceable contracts. There are two exceptions to sponsor-deeming for people who are otherwise subject to it:

- Indigence Exception: Sponsor-deeming will not apply if it is determined that if sponsor-deeming is applied you would go hungry or become homeless. During 12 months, only the actual amount of support provided by your sponsor will be counted as income to you. Your sponsor is not relieved of support obligations. Affidavits of Support will be enforceable by you and by the government against your sponsor for the cost of benefits provided to you.

- Battered Spouse and Child Exception: Sponsor-deeming will not apply for 12 months in cases in which you or your child have been battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by your sponsor. To qualify, you cannot have participated in the abuse of your child. The batterer's income and resources will not be credited to you, even after 12 months, if the battery is recognized in a court order or in a prior INS determination.
A. THE BENEFITS OF CITIZENSHIP

I. Government Benefits for Non-Citizens

A lot of welfare reform law changes have happened in the past two years. Both federal and state laws have changed. The changes listed below affect low-income residents who are not U.S. citizens.

1. CHANGES IN FEDERAL LAW

On August 22, 1996, the President signed the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA) into law. The effects of the 1996 law on low-income people nation-wide are immense. The law:

- Eliminated the 60-year federal guarantee of assistance to low-income children;
- Replaced the federal/state AFDC structure with "TANF" block grants to states;
- Included strict work requirements for recipients of family cash assistance;
- Imposed lifetime limits on the receipt of family cash assistance; and
- Eliminated SSI and Food Stamp eligibility for many non-citizens.

On August 5, 1997, Congress passed the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (the Act), reversing some and keeping others of the more harsh provisions of PRWORA. In general, many non-citizens can now get SSI based on disability, but most still can't get Food Stamps or SSI based on advanced age. Here are some specifics of the law changes. Please note that the following definitions are used in these laws:

* Note: You are a battered non-citizen if you have an approved or pending petition showing that you are protected under the Violence Against Women Act. The person responsible for the battery or cruelty must no longer live in your household. There must be a substantial connection between the abuse and the need for the benefits at issue.
The purpose for this booklet is twofold: to encourage non-citizens to consider the benefits of United States citizenship; and to make the process of becoming a citizen easier, with lists of local resources that are available for help along the way.

6. FINGERPRINT SITES

NOTE: The fingerprint process for citizenship has changed. At this time, places formerly authorized to take fingerprints (private agencies, known as “Designated Fingerprinting Services,” as well as law-enforcement agencies) are no longer permitted to do fingerprinting for naturalization purposes. The INS will soon be establishing a number of satellite INS offices, called “Application Support Centers” (ASCs), where you will have to go to have your fingerprints taken. These fixed offices will be supplemented with mobile units, which will travel to areas far from the fixed sites.

For now, file your application for citizenship without submitting a fingerprint card. After you send in your application, you will be notified of a time to have your prints taken at a Support Center (ASC) or at a mobile unit. Fingerprinting costs $25.
NOTE: This booklet does not provide legal advice on any individual case. If you have a legal problem, please call an attorney. Laws change, and agencies change in their missions. At some point, this booklet will become outdated. It is intended to provide general information only, and not legal advice.

Audio:
- The Star-Spangled Banner.
- Make a tape of 100 Typical Questions (in an unfamiliar order and using many different voices).
- A home-made tape of the Pledge of Allegiance or the Preamble to the Constitution.

Activities
- Flash cards - Have learners make a set of flash cards with the 100 typical questions and put the answers on the back. Although this is time consuming, students can spend this time becoming familiar with the questions and it allows them to study outside of class.

- Dictation - Both the written and oral test require learners to listen to and write down one or two sentences. Possible dictation practice includes: 1) Dictate vocabulary words; 2) Dictate questions; 3) Dictate answers; 4) Dictate questions and have the learners write down the answers; 5) Dictate the answer and have the student write down the question; 6) Dictate from the list of INS dictation sentences; 7) Dictate a sentence and have students count the number of words you said.

- Grids - Grids are a useful tool for organizing information in a simplistic form which aids comprehension and is helpful to those with a good visual memory. They can: organize information such as personal information (name, age, number of children, date of birth, etc.), the branches of government, the wars from the Revolutionary to WWII; foster discussion on the immigrant groups, when and why they came, the difference between the government of the U.S. and the governments of the students native countries; and foster interaction and communication between students such as, students quiz each other using a grid, students interview each other to obtain information to complete a grid (name, yes/no, question: Have you ever _______?).
Mock Interviews - Create an environment similar to the interviewing site. Have a waiting area where learners wait to be called (the class) and a separate area for the interview with a flag and pictures of the president on the wall. If possible have the interview be a person unknown to the students, formally dressed.

Drills - Instead of the standard, ask a question and the learner produces the answer, give the learner the answer and have the learner produce the question(s).

Multiple Choice - A variation to the paper and pencil multiple choice is to show the class 3 pictures and say a sentence that applies to only one of them. The learner chooses the appropriate picture. A variation is to show one picture and give three statements.

Information Gap Activities - These activities take a variety of forms. They provide speaking and listening practice by requiring the learners to interact and to receive and produce needed information.

Activity 1: Give pairs different articles or paragraphs to read with 5-10 questions about their partner's reading. After reading the article, the learners should ask each other questions, thus requiring each learner to internalize and verbalize what they have read. Activity 2: Divide learners into pairs and give them a list of ten questions and ten answers. Have the questions numbered and the answers lettered. Using only English, have the learners match the numbers with the letters. Activity 3: Give pairs of students interview questions. Each person in the pair has a different set of questions. Actually they could be nearly the same questions asked in a different way (Where do you live? What is your address).

Games: Jeopardy Vocabulary Bingo Trivial Pursuit Other board games

Tic-tac-toe - assign each space on a tic-tac-toe board a number that corresponds to a U.S. History and Government question. In pairs, players take turns playing a winning a square by answering the question correctly.

Memory - A set of 12 pairs of cards is needed. Pairs could include a word, phrase or concept written on 1 card with the definition, the native language equivalent or a picture on the second card. Each pair of learners take turns trying to find the pairs of cards that match. The cards are turned down in rows of six. A player turns over any 2 cards. If the cards do not match, they are returned face down to their original position. If the player picks a match s/he keeps them in a pile and takes another turn. The player who picks up the most pairs of cards wins the game.

Student-centered instruction - Remember to relate citizenship instruction to the students. Facilitate discussion, for example, on the reasons why they or our forefathers came to the United States. The examples are endless.

Citizenship Preparation for Adult ESL Learners, ERIC Digest, June 1997

Minnesota Literacy Council/Community Literacy Collaborative, 8/97
Learning to become good citizens has been part of immigrant education throughout US history. Early in this century, for example, settlement houses established programs to help newcomers assimilate. Classes to assist immigrants through a naturalization process that includes passing the U.S. Immigrant and Naturalization Service (INS) exam are a newer phenomenon. Such classes have seen dramatic enrollment gains as record numbers of people—five million in the last five years—have become citizens (Constable, 1997). This trend is due to recent high levels of immigration, new federal laws regarding immigrants and public benefits, and immigrants’ fears about anti-immigrant sentiment and where it might lead.

This digest will describe the educational requirements of the naturalization process and give English as a second language (ESL) teachers a variety of activities to use when preparing learners for the citizenship exam.

The INS Exam

Speaking English has been a requirement for citizenship since the turn of the last century, however, it was not until 1950 that strict mandates about reading and writing English became part of the naturalization requirements (Becker, 1993). Today, most applicants must meet English literacy and civics requirements, although there are some exemptions for elderly or disabled applicants.

An INS examiner evaluates the applicants’ knowledge of US history and government by asking selected questions from the N-400 application and from a list of 100 questions. A short written dictation is also given. Each INS district has individual discretion over assessment of the history and civics information and some districts accept standardized test results. However, the ability to speak and understand English must still be demonstrated in an oral interview.

Citizenship Classes

Citizenship classes are usually offered within publicly funded education programs or at community or social service organizations. These classes can be distinct courses or a series of lessons within a general ESL class. They vary in duration and emphasis and are sometimes taught bilingually. They do not always include ESL instruction.

Service providers indicate that the number of low-literate learners—some of whom have been in the United States for many years without taking language classes—is rising in citizenship classes (Becker, 1997). Many of these low-literate learners became residents in the early 1990s as part of the 1986 Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA) which allowed undocumented immigrants to gain residency. (See Terdy & Spener, 1990.) Older and disabled immigrants, who face a possible cutoff of social services, are also attending classes in greater numbers (Rimer, 1996).

The Teacher’s Role

Aliza Becker, a citizenship education consultant, stresses that teachers must distinguish between the educational and the legal aspects of citizenship preparation. It may be detrimental, for example, to encourage learners to seek citizenship before their papers are in order. Becker and Lindt (1996), describe the following elements of the citizenship teacher’s role: teaching the benefits of citizenship; education about the naturalization process; preparation for the oral and written exams including teaching language skills, culture, content, test-taking strategies, and instilling confidence; empowerment; and referrals for legal advice. It is important that the teacher not assume the role of legal advisor, especially for applicants who have had legal problems or a lengthy absence from the United States. The teacher should be familiar with local organizations that offer free or low-cost legal assistance.

Approaches to Teaching Citizenship

Teachers use two basic approaches in teaching citizenship. The first is to teach the course as a social science or civic education course in which learners are taught historical and cultural information that may or may not be on the citizenship test. (See Pereira, 1993). General ESL instruction can be part of this approach. The other approach is to teach only those items that will be on the test. Sometimes this is done bilingually. Although learners receive a solid introduction to U.S. history and government in the first approach, it may not prepare them for the INS interview. As one teacher says, "...I agree with the notion of teaching civic participation and not the test, but...[learners are] telling me, 'Look, we have the rest of our lives to learn about the system. I really need to pass this test.' " (Fredella, 1997, pp. 4-5). In contrast, the other approach may prepare learners for the test, it does not necessarily prepare them to be good citizens. Therefore, instructors need to take from both approaches to teach learners both what they need to know to pass the test and what they need to know to be active citizens.

Learners often enroll in classes shortly before their INS interviews, not allowing sufficient time to prepare. This is problematic, especially if the applicant has low English literacy skills. To increase mastery of the language and literacy needed to pass the exam, teachers can encourage the formation of study teams for practice outside of class.

Activities for Teaching Citizenship

Using a variety of materials in the citizenship class provides context for learners, especially those with minimal English literacy skills (Holt, 1995). Materials should be as authentic as possible. An American flag, patriotic posters, and images of the White House, Abraham Lincoln, and Martin Luther King are examples of visual aids that can help low-literate learners better understand the content.

Regardless of the learner’s English proficiency and literacy level, classroom instruction must be limited to textbook work. Following are some activities, most of which are based on the INS list of 100 questions, from which the majority of INS interview questions are drawn. (Example: What do we call a change to the Constitution?)

Question Division - Arrange the 100 INS questions according to theme. Most of the questions fit neatly into such themes as the presidency, the Congress, or the Constitution. There will be overlap because questions will fit into more than one theme. By breaking up the questions in this manner, the teacher will be able to present neat, concise thematic units.

Contents - Many learners enjoy competition. This is particularly true for those whose home country’s educational systems emphasize memorization, speed, and individual achievement. To run a contest, divide the class into teams and have the teacher ask the questions, have a learner ask the questions, or have the teams choose and ask the questions. Start with one individual and ask questions until a mistake is made, then go on to the next individual. The winner is the one who answers the most questions before making a mistake.

Information Gap Activities - Information gap activities provide learners with the opportunity to think critically. An example of an activity is to divide learners into pairs with a list of ten questions and ten answers. Have the questions numbered and the answers lettered. Using only English, have the learners match the numbers with the letters.

Tape-recording - Since it is unlikely that the INS interviewer will sound exactly the same as the teacher, learners must have opportunities to hear the questions from other native speakers of English, for example, the teacher’s friends or family members. Try for a variety of accents and intonations. Alternatively, have the learners collect their own samples. This will give them the opportunity to speak to a native speaker of English. A third option is to let the learners themselves record and record the questions. Although this will take a great deal of time, it will foster test familiarity.

Flash Cards - Have the learners make themselves a set of 100 question flashcards and write the answers on the back. Although this will take a lot of class time, it will allow learners to study the questions outside of class.

Dictation - Since the test requires that listeners listen to and write down one or two sentences, practicing dictation is vital. Many learners are more afraid of this particular part of the test than of any other part of the interview. Possible practice formats are: Dictate questions to the learners. Dictate answers. Dictate the questions, and then have the learners write down the answer to the question. Dictate the answers and then have the learners write down the corresponding question.

Role-play - Pretend that the teacher is the INS examiner. Create an environment in the classroom that is similar to the testing situation. Include such props as the American flag and photographs of the president.

Drill Patterns - Drill and practice can be a valuable technique for memorizing answers for the exam. Some possible drills are: a) The teacher recites a question and learners repeat the question. b) The teacher recites a question and the learners give the answer. c) The teacher recites the answer and the learners recite the question. If necessary, the teacher can break down the sentences into meaningful chunks that can be used for further practice. Pronunciation drills can be added as well. A drill that provides practice with rephrasing the question is also useful as the INS examiner may do so during the interview.

Close Exercises - Hand out worksheets with some text deleted. Possible high-level texts are the Star-Spangled Banner, the Pledge of Allegiance, or the Preamble to the Constitution. The teacher can also have learners read aloud a passage from a history book or recite one from memory. Write it on the chalkboard. Erase every fifth word. Have the class read it filling in the missing words.

Test Practice - Teach learners how to sign up for and take the written test. (This could include a field trip to the local INS office.) Make sure that learners know how to take multiple choice tests and provide opportunities for practice (Silliman 1997). Practice versions of the standardized tests are available from several publishers.

Resources

Most citizenship texts on the market are not of a level that will be accessible to low-level learners (Silliman, 1997). In fact, according to Aliza Becker (personal communication, June, 1997), available texts often “require a much higher level of literacy than is needed for the test and totally leave out the English language skills needed for the interview.” Teachers will need to adapt materials for these learners. The following are some general resources:

- Teachers can visit the INS World Wide Web site at http://www.ins.usdoj.gov to download order forms, receive updates about the citizenship tests, and read the answers to frequently asked questions (FAQ’s).
- The 100 test questions on US history and government are included in many textbooks and are available through many INS district offices.
- The Immigrant Legal Resource Center (1663 Mission St., Suite 602, San Francisco, CA 94103) publishes citizenship materials focused on the legal process.
- A video resource for teachers and learners, “The INS Interview: Will They Pass?” (Available from Miller Educational Materials, 1-800-636-4375), shows dramatized citizenship interviews and asks viewers to discuss and decide whether selected people will pass.

Conclusion

It is becoming increasingly evident that, to succeed in the United States and to have access to the full range of government sponsored services, immigrants need to become citizens. The ESL/citizenship teacher can play an important role by helping learners achieve the English language skills and content knowledge they need to take and pass the citizenship exam.

Citizenship Education Resources for Adult ESL Instructors

Because of the recent welfare reform and immigration reform legislation, adult education programs have seen a surge of interest among immigrants in acquiring citizenship. Some elderly immigrants, especially, are concerned about losing benefits such as Social Security and housing assistance. Enrollment in specialized citizenship preparation classes has risen, and "citizenship" has been voiced frequently by learners as their goal in studying English as a second language (ESL).

In the wake of this demand, adult ESL teachers are eager for resources to help them prepare their students for the citizenship process, from submitting application forms to practicing for the written and oral Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) exams. Even after applicants pass the standardized government and history test, they must still demonstrate basic English listening and speaking ability at their citizenship interview. ESL classrooms can offer many opportunities; however teachers must also be cautious. They should leave the legal advice to those who are trained to navigate naturalization's tricky course.

National Resources

The World Wide Web can be a good information source about many groups concerned with immigration and immigrants, including those which provide legal assistance. Be sure to look at the public information and frequently asked questions (FAQs) section of the INS website at http://www.ins.usdoj.gov/index.html. Call the INS at 1-800-870-3676 to get copies of the application for naturalization forms.

In January 1997, the Emma Lazarus Fund, part of the Open Society Institute, gave $11.8 million to 22 groups "assist legal immigrants, both by helping them become citizens and by advocating for their rights." Visit the Emma Lazarus webpage at http://soros.org/emma_lazarus.html or call the Open Society Institute at (212) 887-0167 to learn more about this initiative.

One of the funded projects is at the Immigrant Legal Resource Center (ILRC) in San Francisco. Call them for free legal consultations to groups (not individuals) assisting low-income applicants for naturalization at (415) 255-9499, ext. 400 (10 am-3 pm PST).

The National Association of Latino Elected and Appointed Officials (NALEO), also a recent recipient of Emma Lazarus funding, operates toll-free bilingual hotlines for people seeking naturalization information. English and Spanish-speakers can both call 1-800-34-NALEO or 1-800-44-NALEO.

To keep up with the latest information on federal and local policies affecting immigrants, see Immigrant Policy News from the Immigrant Policy Project of the State and Local Coalition on Immigration, 444 North Capitol St., NW, Suite 515, Washington, DC 20001. Selected Student Texts
A variety of commercial and noncommercial texts for teaching citizenship content are available. Below is a list of some titles to get you started. Many other adult education publishers have citizenship materials. This is not a comprehensive list.

Although naturalization requirements have changed somewhat since these books were prepared, most of the other material in these books is still very timely. Contact local or national INS offices for up-to-date forms and information.

US citizenship and ESL
Curricular strategies in citizenship preparation

by Aliza Becker and Marketa Lindh

Part I of this article appeared in the February/March 1996 issue of TESOL Matters. Part II appeared in the April/May 1996 issue.

Millions of immigrants in the US are applying for citizenship, and there is an urgency to their cause. Welfare and immigration reform proposals threaten to cut public benefits to legal immigrants until citizenship is achieved. Traditional notions of citizenship preparation classes were basic civics survey taught in English. Students needed to have mastered a minimum intermediate level of English to understand the class. Some programs stressed out many students whose English was insufficient (referring them to ESL classes) while others relied on self-selection.

Unfortunately, it is precisely for those vulnerable immigrants that attaining citizenship is most difficult. To become a US citizen, applicants need to pass the Immigration and Naturalization Service's (INS) citizenship examination, which tests for basic oral, spoken, and written English, and basic cultural and substantive civics knowledge needed for the exam. The essential curricular components are civics and history, reading, dictation, listening, and the INS interview. Additionally, instructors of soon-to-be citizens have a unique opportunity and responsibility to incorporate empowerment themes into the citizenship preparation classes.

There's more to becoming a citizen than just knowing U.S. history and civics. Print and audio combine in this new program to review the basics of U.S. history and civics, tackle the dictated sentence and INS interview, and provide a part-by-part look at the N-400 application form.

The students who are now urgently pursuing citizenship cannot afford the time or money to overcome this insurmountable hurdle. Traditional models of citizenship preparation classes were a basic civics survey taught in English. Students needed to have mastered a minimum intermediate level of English to understand the class. Some programs stressed out many students whose English was insufficient (referring them to ESL classes) while others relied on self-selection.

Many of the students who are now requesting citizenship classes acquired dual citizenship or permanent residence through refugee resettlement and the asylum legalization program of the late 1980s. The ESL classes previously offered to these applicants had limited goals: to prepare refugees for basic survival and entry-level employment and to provide amnesty applicants with the legislatively mandated 60-hour English/civics class.

Testing strategies. Strategies for multiple choice tests include eliminating obviously wrong answers, guessing, and finding the correct on the scrambled sheets. Oral interview strategies include asking for clarification and repetition, allowing the examinee to speak more slowly.

INS interview. The examiner customarily begins the INS interview by telling the applicant, "Remain standing. Raise your right hand. Do you swear to tell the truth and nothing but the truth so help you? God? You may sit down.

The applicant must respond appropriately to the examiner's command to take the oath. The examiner then proceeds to the interview, primarily yes/no and wh questions about the contents of the N-400 citizenship application. Typical questions include: "Do you wish to change your name?" "How long were you outside of the country?" This portion of the interview is both an oral English test and a legal review of the contents of the application. Educators should practice with their students responses to questions based on the N-400 application.

How do you practice to teach?

Each INS district differs when it comes to testing procedures, examinations, and interview procedures. Some districts use pretest procedures and may abruptly alter procedures in response to a policy change. For example, in the midst of the enormous backlog of applications, the INS districts have recently shifted from a long-established tradition of one-on-one oral interviews to group multiple-choice written tests. At first, the pass rate—typically around 90% at the Chicago office—plummeted as applicants who had anticipated and prepared for an oral interview floundered under the unfamiliar testing format.

The N-400 exam is a standardized test based on the content of the N-400 application. Educators should pursue opportunities to work with the INS and develop strategies that further mutual goals. In Chicago, ESL and citizenship educators are cooperating with the local immigration advocacy coalition and INS to develop tests that satisfy legal requirements without raising unnecessary barriers for low-literacy applicants.

Citizenship and student empowerment

New citizens can and should have an important voice in shaping our democracy. Ironically, while anti-immigrant forces have provided a stimulus for immigrants to pursue citizenship, the new citizens are in a stronger position to advocate for their interests. Educators have the opportunity to serve as the focal points of social change in the classroom process and the course content to give it more personal meaning. Teachers should also stress the importance of educating effective citizenship, and involve students in the decision-making process of shaping their education even after they succeed in becoming new citizens.

Information About Citizenship Education For Naturalization Requirements

A person who is applying for naturalization as a citizen of the United States is required to present an application to INS for review, and a petition to the court. Only the court has authority to grant naturalization. The INS, acting for the Attorney General of the United States is required to make a recommendation to the court as to the applicants' eligibility.

The general application procedures for naturalization are stated below:

1. The Application (Form N-400 or N-402) is in most cases filed with the INS office having jurisdiction over the applicant's residence.

2. The INS will notify the applicant when to appear for an interview (several offices have a walk in interview procedure, which provides for interview at the time of application).

3. At the interview the application will be reviewed and eligibility determined. Unless exempt because of age or other circumstances, an examination will be given by INS to determine whether the applicant has the required knowledge of English, history and form of government of the United States. The test is given orally. All history and government questions are taken from the INS current edition of the Federal Textbook Series.

4. If INS finds the applicant eligible for naturalization a favorable recommendation is made on the petition filed with the court. A final hearing before the court will be scheduled at a later date. The time between the INS interview and the final hearing depends on the processing time of the court.

5. At the final hearing the judge will administer the oath of allegiance and the petitioner at that time becomes a citizen of the United States.

6. If the INS recommendation to the court is unfavorable the applicant may elect to withdraw the application and refile at a later date for reexamination. If the applicant disagrees with the INS decision, the applicant may pursue the petition before the court. However, INS will recommend that the court deny the petition.

Citizenship classes are available for applicants who are interested in receiving instruction to prepare for the INS examination.

Generally, citizenship classes are conducted by public schools or organizations under the supervision of the public schools, usually free of charge. Interested persons may obtain information regarding these classes from the local INS office, clerk of a naturalization court, or the local Department of Public Education.

Persons who cannot attend citizenship classes may find it possible to prepare for naturalization through correspondence courses in citizenship education conducted by educational institutions. The names and addresses of some of the institutions are listed on the last page. Information concerning these courses may be obtained by writing directly to the listed institution. Those who cannot arrange to attend classes or participate in a correspondence course through an educational institution may purchase the INS produced citizenship textbooks from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Orders for purchase of the books should be sent to that office and not INS. The orders should clearly state the specific book desired by form number and stock number and should be accompanied by a check or money order made out to Superintendent of Documents. The quoted price list is subject to change by the Government Printing Office.

Form M-132 (12/20/89) N

DOCUMENTS

In the first section of this handbook, the authors outline content and class management issues, such as ESL, civics, documentation of student progress, and keeping accurate attendance records. In addition to sections on the legalization process and Immigration and Naturalization (INS) requirements, information is provided on teaching strategies, assessment procedures, thematic units, and two sample teaching units. The 100 questions usually asked during INS interviews are provided in Spanish.

This eight-unit curriculum is designed to teach immigrant students their rights and responsibilities under the U.S. legal system. The lessons include interactive activities such as dialogues, assigned tasks, small group review and reporting, and soliciting opinions—all designed to develop higher order thinking skills along with English language learning.

Three sets of competency-based curriculum materials are compiled in a handbook intended to help programs assist legalized aliens eligible for amnesty meet the education requirements for permanent residency. They are (1) an intensive ESL civics curriculum with competencies arranged for two literacy levels; (2) a non-intensive ESL/civics curriculum intended for use with low intermediate-level students; and (3) an intensive 60-hour course of U.S. history and government. A fourth section includes resources.

This unit provides a variety of learning activities designed to help students understand the naturalization examination process through role-play and simulated situations examinees may encounter.

This manual consists of six articles which provide an overview of the naturalization process as it applies primarily to Hispanic immigrants. The authors provide information and guidance on how to integrate language and content and how to deal with multilevel classes. The appended materials, to be used for literacy practice, are practical forms and samples, including authentic statements taken from INS interviews.

This handbook consists of brief lessons in Spanish and English on U.S. history and government.

Immigrants preparing to take the history portion of the citizenship test will find this study guide helpful. It is in large type and covers five topics: the new world, becoming a nation, new government, the first 100 years, and the 20th century. Sample tests are appended. (Available from Pennsylvania Department of Education, Division of Adult Basic & Literacy Education, 333 Market Street, 12th Floor, Harrisburg, PA 17126.)

Citizenship Education for Immigrants

DOCUMENTS

This guide is intended to help citizenship training providers develop an efficient and effective programming process for immigrants planning to become naturalized. It highlights important naturalization issues, e.g., immigration trends, the purpose of naturalization education, and program design. Substantial appendices include INS forms, references for citizenship education, tests, and demographic data on foreign born individuals in the United States. Some materials are in Spanish.

The author summarizes the U.S. government's efforts during World War I and beyond to create good citizens. The activities of three agencies in developing slogans, such as "Make English the Language of the Nation," and textbooks (including one on penmanship) are described. Public schools were enlisted to undertake the training of immigrants. The lack of adequate literacy skills in those enlisting in the armed forces was noted even then.

This report argues that community colleges are necessary in the process of educating immigrants. Furthermore, effective programs in implementing the Immigration Reform Control Act (IRCA) are should cooperate with one another in areas such as identifying students, developing a curriculum that articulates to other programs, and producing appropriate skill level instructional materials. Of programmatic interest is Part III, which describes operational issues such as the training of ESL teachers, developing a database of amnesty students, and integrating the database into a good management information system.

This report studies the effect of the State Legalization Impact Assistance Grant (SLIAG) program in Illinois. Data were collected via telephone surveys, open-ended interviews, and a computerized survey of providers. Students in the program had never before participated in any ESL and/or citizenship program, and, in general, found the program a positive influence in their lives.

This report describes a program designed to respond to the Immigration & Reform Act (IRCA) of 1986. Program components included ESL and citizenship instruction, basic literacy, and GED classes. The curriculum, various activities beyond the classroom, evaluation procedures, and demographic data on the enrollees are discussed.
This monograph looks at the development of citizenship education in Canadian adult education, its history, theoretical underpinnings, professional organizations, migrants and ethnic groups, programs, the movements of social change, as well as current trends. Unlike U.S. identity which is grounded in the development of individualism, Canadian identity is grounded in the development of community. Hence imaginative training programs, created to meet the regional, ethnic, gender/age needs, have been developed in Canada. (Available from Publications, Centre for Continuing Education, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, BC V6T 2A4, Canada.)

This report provides information on the amnesty student population in California based on the IRCA Appraisal over a three-year period. Included in the report are a demographic and educational profile of the student population, amnesty program characteristics including an overview of the delivery system, and information on student progress.

In this document, the INS Office of Outreach provides information on the basic skills requirements for the legalization process. It covers guidelines for the courses of study, Student Performance Levels 1-10, a revised list of the 100 standardized U.S. history and government questions and answers, 20 sample sentences used in the English literacy test, and a list of alternatives for the satisfactory meeting of requirements for English and civics study.
Star-Spangled Banner Vocabulary

dawn - early morning

hail - expression of praise

twilight - when you can see light from the sun, but not the sun before sunrise or after sunset.

broad - wide

perilous - risky, not safe

gallantly - proudly

glare - a strong light burst - to break into pieces

proof - evidence

Interpretation

Hey! Can you see, with the early morning light, what (the flag) we so proudly honored last night when the sun was setting? Whose wide stripes and bright stars, during the dangerous fight, were proudly flying over the walls of the fort? And the rockets’ red light, the bombs exploding in air, proved during the night that our flag was still there. Hey! Does that star-spangled flag still wave over the land of the free and the brave?
Information Gap Activity

Goals: Practice forming questions and answering questions that are asked at the interview. Oral, aural, reading and writing practice.

Instructions: Model the activity using one student, then have the class fill out the chart by asking each other questions. Prior knowledge/instruction on forming questions, and the use of questions words (who, what, where, why, how, when) is needed prior to this activity. After the grid is completed, it can be used to further practice listening and speaking by asking questions from the grid or by giving the answer and having a student provide the question. E.g. “When did Juan come to the United States?” “Five foot two”

| Make the laws. | Enforce the laws. | Interpret the laws. |

1. Ask questions relation to the branches of government and place pieces on the board, explaining where they go and why as you proceed.

2. Divide the pieces among a group of 2-3 students and ask them to put them in the correct place. When finished, ask true or false questions based on the information on the board. “Are there 435 senators?”, etc.

3. Repeat.

4. Ask one person at a time to complete the board.

When reviewing the information, it works well to connect the words to images. With a picture of the capitol in Washington, D.C., explain that the Senate works on one side and the House of Representatives on the other. Explain that the President works, as well as lives, in the White House and that you can distinguish the Capitol from the White House by the dome. A picture of the president is also helpful. There is an extra board piece (Congress) to use with an image of the capitol.
The Capitol, Washington, D.C.

Materials: 13 different BINGO boards markers
citizenship questions and vocabulary list for the facilitator

Instructions:

1. Choose a facilitator who will call out questions.

2. Pass out the BINGO boards and markers.

3. The facilitator calls out questions from the 100 typical Citizenship Questions list, or definitions from the list of vocabulary. The players call out the correct answer and try to find the term or answer on his/her card, and places a marker on it. The player who completes a row (horizontal, vertical or diagonal) wins.

Note to facilitator: please note that many questions have the same answer. Do not call out questions in any specific order. Ask vocabulary questions to solicit the vocabulary word.

Jeopardy

Directions:

Divide the students into two teams. Only one person on the team responds for the team. Points are accrued as a team. The first person on Team A chooses a category and a point level (History, for 10 points). Read the question. If he or she answers correctly, award 10 points to Team A and remove that question from the board. Then the first person on Team B chooses any category and point level, including any that previous students missed. Continue back and forth until all the questions have been answered.

Other Options

Variation 1: If student #1 on Team A gets the right answer, continue to student #2 on the same team and so on until somebody misses. Then go to Student #1 on Team B.

Variation 2: Set a time limit for responses. Fifteen seconds is generally a reasonable time.

Variation 3: Include Daily Double questions somewhere in your questions where double points are awarded.

Variation 4: At the end, have one big Final Jeopardy question. Make it worth a lot of points, especially if one team is way behind the other. This gives one last chance for anyone to win the game. (This is also good if you run out of class time but need to close out the game.)

Variation 5: Instead of calling out questions, call out the answer and the player is required to state a question. (Good practice with the question words and forming questions.)

N-400 Vocabulary Match Up

Materials: a set of cards that have N-400 vocabulary and their definitions

Procedure: In pairs or in a small group, students match up the vocabulary and their definitions; each will be on different colored paper. Encourage the students to say the words and definitions as they match up the cards.

If working in a small group, give half of the participants cards of one color and the other half cards of the second color. Each participant should review their cards and then take turns reading one of their cards and the participant with the matching card reads it and the other participants either agree or disagree. This encourages the use of reading, speaking and listening skills.

Note: There are two vocabulary words that could have one of two definitions (Claimed to be a U.S. citizen = lied, False testimony = tell a lie)

Variation: Use these cards as a way to pair up your students for a different activity. Give each student a card. They need to find a match to their card and in doing so they have found a partner for your next exercise.

Use these cards to play concentration. You will want to limit the number of cards you use.

Citizenship Board Game

Materials:
1. Game Board
2. Game Cards
3. Die
4. Game Pieces

Directions: Depending on the size of the class, individuals or teams may be used.
1. Each player/team needs a game piece, i.e. coin, paper clip.
2. Play can begin at either end of the board.
3. The first player/team rolls the die and moves.
4. The opposing player/team picks up a card that matches the space where the first player/team landed and asks them the question (the answers are with the questions).
5. If the first team answers correctly they roll again.
6. The first player/team to reach the end is the winner.

To Note: If play is proceeding too quickly, you may want to have the players/teams go around the board two or three times.

Variation: Instead of asking a question from a card that corresponds to the space on the board, only use the cards that deal with the information that has been covered in class. This makes the game more simple for pre-literate students and allows you to use the game sooner.
