This booklet provides a selection of the publications on the "European Dimension in Education" included in the documentary archives of the Eurydice European Unit. "European dimension" addresses those documents dealing with educational initiatives whose aim is to promote the European dimension in schools in the context of compulsory education. Only documents published since 1990 are included and generally are published by a European body, an Education Ministry, or a quasi-governmental organization. The two initiatives addressed in this issue include: (1) the network of training institutions (RIF) supported by the European Commission and under which were developed a series of teaching aids, studies, and reports in the 16 sub-networks involving teacher training institutions, universities, and other higher education establishments; and (2) the pilot action in Multi-lateral School Partnerships (MSP) developed jointly between the European Commission and the Member States with the aim to support the establishment of 40 multilateral school partnerships involving some 100 schools working together as projects devoted to multidisciplinary European education. The documents are classified as: (1) official documents; (2) teacher training and trainers; (3) training of school heads; (4) cooperation, mobility and exchanges; (5) teaching material; (6) reference books and other resources; and (7) official education documents published by national authorities. THEMATIC BIBLIOGRAPHY

THE EUROPEAN DIMENSION

IN EDUCATION
INTRODUCTION

Over a number of years, the Eurydice European Unit has built up a considerable collection of documentation on the various issues arising in education. The value and the originality of this documentation derive from its essentially international dimension. These documents and articles also constitute the basic source of information for the comparative documents published by the Eurydice network.

Such is the variety of educational topics covered by this documentation that the European Unit of Eurydice has taken the initiative in drawing up a series of documents in the form of THEMATIC BIBLIOGRAPHIES. Each volume in this new series will be devoted to a topic of Community interest and will deal mainly with the most relevant European and international literature available at the European Unit. They will list the international publications and reports which have appeared in the course of the previous five years. This series will appear twice a year in two language versions, in French and in English.

Each of the THEMATIC BIBLIOGRAPHIES is organised as follows:

Once they have been selected, the archive documents dealing with the individual subjects are divided into several categories. These vary according to the subject in question and are chosen so as to cover all aspects of the specific issues.

This second publication in the Thematic Bibliography series does not claim to be exhaustive but provides a selection of the publications on the EUROPEAN DIMENSION IN EDUCATION included in the documentary archives of the Eurydice European Unit.

"European dimension" is taken to mean the documents dealing with educational initiatives whose aim is to promote the European dimension in schools in the context of compulsory education. These have been classified in accordance with a precise typology. Consequently, only documents published since 1990 are included. Generally speaking, these texts are published by a European body, an Education Ministry or a quasi-governmental organisation.

Also taken into account is a series of documents following the many initiatives that resulted from the adoption on 24 May 1988 of the Resolution of the Council and the Ministers for Education meeting within the Council on the European dimension in education (88/C/177/02). The aim of this resolution was to strengthen the European dimension in education with the support of the Member States and the European Commission in relation to initiatives in the following fields: education policy, curricula, preparation of teaching material, teacher training and the promotion of contacts between pupils and teachers in the various Member States.

The results of two initiatives in particular which were devised under the 1988 Resolution are included among the documents in this bibliography.

— The network of training institutions (RIF) supported by the European Commission and under which were developed a series of teaching aids, studies and reports in the 16 sub-networks involving teacher training institutions, universities and other higher education establishments.
The pilot action in Multi-lateral School Partnerships (MSP) was an initiative developed jointly between the European Commission and the Member States, the aim of which was to support the establishment of 40 multilateral school partnerships which involved some 160 schools working together as projects devoted to multidisciplinary European education.

This bibliography should both be of interest to those groups in education involved in the introduction of the European dimension in teaching and provide a practical tool for present and future participants in the SOCRATES programme, and more particularly for those involved in European educational projects and in cooperation between teacher training institutions.

The documents are classified by categories as follows:

A. OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS
   This category covers the official resolutions and reports of international organisations.

B. TEACHER TRAINING AND TRAINERS

C. TRAINING OF SCHOOL HEADS

D. COOPERATION, MOBILITY AND EXCHANGES

E. TEACHING MATERIAL

F. REFERENCE BOOKS AND OTHER RESOURCES

G. OFFICIAL EDUCATION DOCUMENTS PUBLISHED BY NATIONAL AUTHORITIES

Within each category, the documents are presented chronologically, by year of publication.

All items in the documentation centre of the Eurydice European Unit are indexed using the European Education Thesaurus and the descriptors employed are mentioned under each publication selected, so as to give users a clearer idea of its content. In addition, the references are accompanied by an abstract.

Titles of publications not available in the language of the list have been translated so as to help to give readers a clear understanding of the subject matter.

This document has been prepared by the staff of the Eurydice European Unit’s documentary resources centre.

OBJECTIVES

The role of the EURYDICE network, the information network on education in Europe, is to promote the exchange of information on education systems and on national policies in the field of education. It contributes to increasing mutual understanding and cooperation between the 15 Member States of the European Union.

ORIGIN AND HISTORY

In 1976, when the Council and the Education Ministers adopted the Resolution on a first programme for cooperation in the field of education, they gave recognition to the importance, in this context, of exchanges of information and experience. It was on this basis that the EURYDICE network was set up and became operational in 1980. Ten years later, in 1990, the Council and the Ministers adopted a Resolution dealing specifically with EURYDICE and calling for a reinforcement of its services. The Treaty of Maastricht (Treaty on European Union) marked an important step forward, providing in the new Chapter 3, Article 126, for developing exchanges of information and experience on issues common to the education systems of the Member States. It has thus opened up for EURYDICE new prospects of which the Community education programme, SOCRATES, adopted on 14 March 1995, takes full account (Annex, Chapter III, Action 3, point 2). It is under this Programme that the development of EURYDICE will be assured from now on.

ORGANISATION AND ACTIVITIES

The network comprises 22 National Units, most of which are located in the Ministries of Education. The European Unit, established by the European Commission, coordinates the network's activities, publications and services. It also promotes exchanges between the National Units to meet the information needs of national and Community policymakers. On the basis of contributions from the network, it produces basic documents and comparative analyses on topics of interest to cooperation at Community level. EURYDICE is also increasingly called upon to fulfill the role of an "Observatory", in relation to the development of the education systems and policies in the European Union. Through the dissemination of its publications, the EURYDICE network also reaches a wide public in the education world. These publications are also accessible on Internet through the European Commission's Europa server (access code: http://europa.eu.int).
