This document consists of a final report, informational packet, and training manual. These materials are from a 1997-98 extension of a project during which several educational agencies used the Cumberland Valley (Pennsylvania) diploma model to develop their own high school diploma program for implementation. The report itself describes the diploma programs as modified by the educational agencies to meet local needs and discusses the value of a high school diploma as an alternative to the General Educational Development diploma. An informational packet contains the following: an open letter to educational agencies from the superintendent of Cumberland Valley School District; the school district's rationale for a diploma program; financial strategies for supporting a high school diploma program; letters from partnerships; AchievE brochure with information about all facets of the diploma program; and an AchievE workbook that lists the life skills divided into these areas--consumer economics, community resources, government and law, health, occupational knowledge, global studies, and writing seminars. The training manual contains the following: program goals; the target population; discussion of the diagnostic and final assessments; responsibilities of the adult education committee, director, administrative assistant, staff, and counselor; student recruitment; and calendar. Appendixes include the competencies as they appear in the AchievE workbook, application, and sample letters. (YLB)

Title: Earning a Regular High School Diploma With or Without a GED

Project No.: 98-0007
Funding: $15,009
PROJECT PERIOD: 7/1/96 - 6/30/97

Project Director: Samuel C. Gruber
Phone: 766-0217 (ext. 507)

Contact Person: Samuel C. Gruber
Phone: 766-0217 (ext. 507)

Agency Address: Cumberland Valley School District, 6746 Carlisle Pike,
Mechanicsburg, PA 17055

Purpose: This project is an extension of a similar “353 grant” awarded in 1995-96. During that time frame several educational agencies were recruited and agreed to utilize the Cumberland Valley diploma model for future use. In 1996-97 these agencies developed their own High School Diploma Program for Adults. The programs will be implemented during the 1997-98 school year. The life skill or learner outcomes of the Cumberland Valley School District’s program were updated to reflect Phase III of the Strategic Planning Process.

Project Outcomes: Several educational agencies modeled their diploma program after the Cumberland Valley School District program. In each case the diploma program of these agencies was modified to meet local needs.

1. Nazareth School District (Northampton County) Sherwood Frederick developed a high school diploma program similar to the Cumberland Valley School District model. Nazareth graduated their first class in 1998.

2. Schuylkill IU 29 initiated a program that closely mirrors the Cumberland Valley model. Through a series of meetings between school administrators and Cumberland Valley staff, a majority of Schuylkill County School Districts decided to participate in this endeavor. Lyn Leto initiated the program at the Lifelong Learning Center, Schuylkill Mall (Frackville, PA). Their first class graduated this year.

3. Metropolitan Career Center developed a model program for the Philadelphia School District. The learner outcomes are closely aligned to Cumberland Valley. A emphasis on computer education was added by Rhonda McClintock. their program is currently on hold due to personnel changes.

4. The Cory School District is planning to initiate a model similar to Cumberland Valley’s program. Bob Pienne is currently working with the board of education in order to implement their diploma program.

5. The Lancaster - Lebanon IU#13 and Lower Dauphin School District (Dauphin County) are investigating possible involvement in a diploma program.
Impact: Several educational agencies successfully developed a high school diploma program for adults and modified the structure to meet local needs. Several other agencies, not involved in the grant program, have initiated inquires concerning the feasibility of initiating a high school diploma program. They include: Freemont Public Schools (Nebraska), Thornhill Learning Center (Kentucky), Allen Community College (Kansas), Dauphin County Prison, Lancaster Mennonite High School, Titusville School District, Hiram Andrews Center (Johnstown), Delaware Community College and Community Action SW (Waynesburg).

The learner outcomes kept pace with the Pennsylvania Department of Education's goals for public education. The new learner outcomes are a result of Phase III of the school district's Strategic Planning Process. They are also being modified to comply with the new state regulations, currently be implemented by Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Product Developed: An informational packet has been incorporated into this year's product containing the life skill booklet, an open letter to educational agencies from the superintendent of school (Dr. Anthony Colistra), rational for school districts to start a high school diploma program for adults, the school district's rational for a diploma program, letters from partnerships, financial strategies for supporting a high school diploma program and a AchievE brochure (information about all facets of the diploma program). A power point presentation outlining the high school diploma program on computer disc, is attached to this packet.

Project Continuation and / or Future Implementation: A greater number of educational providers have expressed an interest to initiate a high school diploma program for adults. The Cumberland Valley School District will work with the Professional Development Centers and individual providers to show how this program can be adapted to meet student and institutional needs.

Conclusions / Recommendations: Several educational providers initiated their programs during the 1997-1998 school year. The diploma programs will be modified to meet the educational needs of the individual providers. In all cases the GED programs will remain an integral part of educational programming for the adults where high school diploma programs are being implemented. The life skill facet of the program was updated to meet the final phase of the Strategic Planning process of the Cumberland Valley School District. This special demonstration project shows how adult graduates warrant the earning of the same diploma as the graduating seniors of the school district. The diploma will also allow the flexibility to meet the goals and objectives of the new state regulations. One of the interesting aspects of the high school diploma program is the correlation between the life skills facet of the program and the concept of "ONE STOP" and the initiation of the Career Development Marketplace. Completion of life skills relate directly to the need of employers.

Additional Comments: The Cumberland Valley School District's "High School Diploma Program for Adults" was involved in several state and national initiatives.

1. Pennsylvania Blue Shield (Highmark) and the CVSD made a presentation on collaboration at the AAACE Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio in November, 1997.

2. Material on the diploma program was presented at the Marketplace during the Midwinter Conference at Hershey in February, 1998. This resulted in a workshop at Cumberland Valley High School, attended by seven providers in May, 1998.

3. A joint presentation was made by Susquehanna Employment and Training Corporation (SETCO) and Cumberland Valley at the Pennsylvania Partners Convention held at Hershey in May. SETCO holds classes every day in Harrisburg and averages twenty two graduates per year. The participants are either on welfare or are economically disadvantaged. The graduation rate is an amazing ninety percent. Eighty three percent of the graduates are employed or in a training program.

4. The Cumberland Valley School District visited NAACP headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland in 1997. Another visit is planned for the fall of 1998. We are looking to compliment the national "Back to School - Stay in School" educational program aimed at high school students, by implementing an adult facet of this program.
INTRODUCTION TO MAIN BODY OF FINAL REPORT

The Cumberland Valley School District, in cooperation with the Division of Adult Basic and Literacy Education developed an external high school diploma program in 1976. This endeavor was encouraged by Clair Troy and was modeled after a program developed at the University of Texas. The high school diploma program for adults combined academic achievement and life skill competencies developed by the Cumberland Valley School District. Participants were awarded the same diploma that was awarded to graduating seniors.

The first adult graduating class was in 1978. Twenty four adults earned their Cumberland Valley High School Diploma in 1978. Since the first year of the program the number of adults receiving their high school diploma has increased each year. In 1996 and 1997, one hundred seventy adults earned a Cumberland Valley School District diploma. Over one thousand adults have graduated with a local high school diploma since the inception of this program.

The strength of the "Cumberland Valley High School Diploma Program for Adults" lies with the staff and their dedication to the program. During the development of the program, Clair Troy and Ethel Matthews (Division of Adult Basic and Literacy Education) provided much motivation to the Cumberland Valley School district. The entire staff of the High School Diploma Program were active during the past year and attended workshops where presentations were made. The staff and years of experience are as follows:

- Samuel C. Gruber (Director) - 21 years
- Wendy Latham (Counselor and Instructor - Occupational Knowledge) - 21 years
- Phil Matthews (Instructor - English and Community Resources) - 21 years
- Ken Hair (Instructor - mathematics and Consumer Economics) - 12 years
- Wayne Martens (Instructor - Law and Government) - 21 years
- Joe Correal (Instructor - Health) - 21 years
- Bonnie Kiess (Secretary) - 5 years
The six staff members are all certified teachers and are employed by the Cumberland Valley School District.

- Samuel C. Gruber - retired Assistant High School Principal and current Coordinator of Continuing Education.
- Wendy Latham - current High School Guidance Counselor
- Phil Matthews - current Humanities Department Chairperson
- Ken Hair - current high school mathematics instructor
- Joe Correal - current Physical Education and Aquatics Department Chairperson
- Wayne Martens - retired social studies teacher

This project should be of interest to any educational organization interested in providing adult students the opportunity to earn a regular high school diploma. A local school district must be involved in this endeavor. The provider can be a local school district or consortium of school districts. The provider could also be any agency, currently offering GED programs or interested in providing a high school diploma program and willing to develop a partnership with a local school district or districts.

The Cumberland Valley School District, since the inception of the "High School Diploma Program for Adults", has personally witnessed the desire adult learners have expressed and experienced, in having the opportunity to earn their local high school diploma. It provides the opportunity to have a SECOND CHANCE to return to school and earn a high school diploma.

The program also exposes the participants to fifty two life skill components that are as valuable as a diploma itself. These life skill components are the same as those developed by the five hundred one school districts in Pennsylvania.

Is a local high school diploma more valuable than a GED? A regular high school diploma opens doors not always available through the GED. The U.S. Military (developers of the GED during World War II), registered nursing, Pennsylvania State Police, and direct admission into four year colleges are only several of organizations demanding a regular high school diploma.

The high school diploma program has encouraged a number of partnerships with businesses and industry that allow sources of funding to compliment the "322 grants" issued through the Bureau of Adult Basic and Literacy Education. Although the Cumberland Valley School District receives a limited amount of funding through ABLE, partnerships with Hershey Corporation, IBM, Pennsylvania Blue Shield, Walmart, and the Susquehanna Employment and Training Corporation allowed the district to serve a large number of participants.
The graduation percentage for the high school diploma program is over eighty percent. Three factors are responsible for this ratio:

1. The program is portfolio oriented and individualized for each participant. Success is predicated upon portfolio completion. It may take more than one school year to earn a diploma but every time a student completes an assignment, he/she moves closer to a diploma. Students have less of a tendency to be discouraged when they continue to see more light at the end of the tunnel.

2. Mentors are assigned to students and partnerships offer on site instruction. This compliments the instruction offered at Cumberland Valley High School. Cooperation with other providers also increases the opportunity for success by the adult students. Jeff Woodyard, Harrisburg OIC, helps provide additional instruction for the participants employed by Hershey Foods Corporation.

3. The standards and demands of a high school diploma program are more structured than those allowed in GED preparation programs. School districts require attendance guidelines for regular high school students. The same standards are applied to adult students. If a student misses a required meeting they are dropped from the program for the current school year. They are allowed to re-enter the program at the same stopping point during the next school year. Work must also be complete by May 15. If one assignment is not completed properly by this date, the student must finish the program during the next school year. These demands and standards produce a greater degree of student responsibility. This is one of the reasons the high school diploma program is respected by perspective employers.

To further validate the value of a high school diploma, Karen Bowser (Pennsylvania Blue Shield) has developed a doctoral thesis for the Pennsylvania
State University, providing data and research to validate the value of earning a high school diploma.

It should be noted that the GED is a valuable diploma. The Cumberland Valley School District also operates a GED Preparation Program. The purpose of this "353 Project" is to show that there is an alternative to compliment the GED diploma.

The appendices contain materials that demonstrate the value of offering a "High School Diploma Program for Adults".
BODY OF REPORT

The Cumberland Valley School district was asked to meet three objectives. These objectives were as follows:

1. To aid designated providers in developing a similar high school diploma program for adults during 1997-1998.
2. To update life skill competencies and correlate to the strategic Planning Process (Phase III) of the Cumberland Valley School District.
3. To work with the three recipients of last years grant and to help implemention of their programs.

The first objective was met as described in the abstract of this report. Representatives of Northwest IU, Schuylkill IU, and the Nazareth School District participated in workshops with the Cumberland Valley High School in 1997-98. As these providers developed learner outcomes, they were sent to Cumberland Valley for review. Several suggestions for revision were made and all three agencies had their learner outcomes completed in August, 1997. The program at Northwest IU has shifted gears. North Coast High School has placed its program on hold, but the Cory School District is currently involved with program implementation and is waiting for school board approval. The Nazareth School District held its first graduation this year. They are looking forward to increased participation next year.

Members of the Cumberland Valley School District's Strategic Planning committee worked with adult diploma program staff members to update the life skills (learner outcomes) with Phase III. This work was completed and the life skill competencies for adults are the same as those for students graduating from Cumberland Valley High School. We have also are in the process of adapting changes in the new state regulations when they are implemented by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

All objectives were met during the prescribed time frame.

In addition to working with the three designated providers, other initiatives were undertaken by the Cumberland Valley School District. These agencies were listed under Impact on the abstract page.

As a continuing effort to help formulate partnerships in this endeavor, the Cumberland Valley School District and Pennsylvania Blue Shield will be making a presentation to the members of the Greater West Shore Chamber of Commerce on September 25, 1997. Although this paragraph operates outside the parameters of the 353 grant, the implications may affect the way educational providers can help supplement program funding in the future. The chamber is committed to having members sponsor adult students participating in the "High School Diploma Program for Adults". The members will also encourage participating businesses to participate in the diploma program.

The evaluation of the project is reflected by the completion of the agreed objectives. The three educational agencies implemented high school diploma programs for this year. Five counties will be affected by this endeavor. A consortium of school districts will make this program a reality through the efforts of Northwest IU and Schuylkill IU.

The second objective of updating the life skill competencies to correlate to the Cumberland Valley School District's Strategic Planning Process (Phase III) was completed. The life skill workbook is contained in the appendix of this project.
Dissemination of the project report and product will be completed by the following fashion.

1. Project materials will be on file and available at the Cumberland Valley School District, Bureau of Adult Basic and Literacy Education, AdvancE, and Western Pennsylvania Adult Literacy Resource Center.

2. Presentations of the Project will occur at the PACCE and other educational conferences.

3. Mailings about the project will be sent to Pennsylvania school districts.

4. The staff of the “Cumberland Valley High School Diploma Program for Adults” will be available to work with agencies desiring to start similar programs in the future.

5. Seminars will be presented to businesses and industries interested in forming partnerships with school districts. (The Cumberland Valley School District has partnerships with Susquehanna Employment and Training Corporation, Pennsylvania Blue Shield, Hershey Foods, and Walmart)

Dear Mr. Mfume:

First, I want to say what a pleasure it was to meet you. Our conversation was a welcome part of my vacation in Jamaica.

Here, as promised, are the materials we discussed. Please note the materials that deal with the Susquehanna Employment and Training Corporation (SETCO) program in Harrisburg. These participants are primarily African-American and Hispanic. Our success in large measure is a result of a dedicated staff working with a course of study that is effective because it recognizes and meets students' current learning levels. This combination promotes genuine self-esteem because all people in the program achieve real success. Students earn the same diploma as the graduating seniors of our school district. Not only do our participants earn a high school diploma, but the completion of the life skills prepares them for job training, makes them better consumers, and promotes community involvement.

I believe that our program has the ability to change the lives of students. I feel that we can help provide an effective program to capture the educational process while the student is still within the current system. In addition, we produce these quality results at a reasonable cost ($200 per student).

The program can be adapted to meet the needs of individual communities and school districts. For example, this program will be initiated in Germantown, Pennsylvania (Philadelphia School District).

I would be excited to discuss this program further with any member of your staff.

Sincerely,

Samuel C. Gruber

Dear School Administrator:

Each year, we as administrators, watch the outgoing senior class graduate. We are filled with pride, but mindful of the fact that some of our students did not achieve this goal of graduation.

As administrators, we have hoped for a program which would give these students who do not graduate a "second chance." Such a program exists. The High School Diploma Program developed by Cumberland Valley High School offers that "chance" to students who at the time lacked the interest, the maturity, or the energy to finish their high school education.

Enclosed find a packet describing our program - its effectiveness; its relevance; its cost effectiveness and its benefits to the student, the family and the community. The Program is portable. We have initiated several programs using the Cumberland Valley model. Three of these models are in:
- Schuylkill County School District
- North West Intermediate Unit - Erie, Warren and Crawford Counties
- Nazareth School District - Lehigh County

If you are concerned about your non-graduates; if you are interested in implementing a cost effective program; if you want an opportunity to offer a "second chance" to former students, please contact me, at 717.766.0217, Extension 507. I look forward to receiving your call.

Sincerely yours,

Samuel C. Gruber
Director
High School Diploma Program
Cumberland Valley School District's
Perspective on the
High School Diploma Program

- HSDP for adults must be a quality program in order to maintain the educational integrity of a school district.

- CV-HSDP for adults was developed from a school district perspective - not from external sources (GED).

- HSDP adapted to Strategic Planning Process of CVSD. The program is based on the new state regulations, performance based objectives or learner outcomes and are the same as those developed by CVSD for students.

- HSDP was developed in 1977. It has been refined and updated during the eighteen years of existence.
  - much more community involvement
  - checks and balances
  - increased emphasis on writing skills
  - additional classes
  - individual learning differences

- Retention rate is extremely high
  - 1996-1997  118 participants
  - 80 graduates
  - 22 students continue 1997-'98

- The CVSD has become an educational partner with many community agencies.
  - referrals to and from Literacy Council
  - libraries
  - community agencies (e.g., American Red Cross)
  - municipalities
  - county and state government
  - businesses and industries
  - employment and training councils

- The program is demanding. Standards and expectations are high. High School dropouts take a tremendous pride in earning their high school diploma through a second chance.
WHY EXTEND EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES TO OUT OF SCHOOL ADULTS?

- Second chance for students who lacked the interest, maturity, etc. to finish their high school education.

- Females, prior to 1978, who dropped out of school because of pregnancy.

- Older adults who quit school for economic reasons
  - a. Seventy percent of constituents don't have children in school.
  - b. Taxpayer groups
  - c. Promotes community involvement

- Excellent means of promoting a continuation of the learning cycle (parents take interest in students at risk). CVSD encourages seniors and parents to graduation together.

- A local high school diploma opens opportunities to graduates not afforded to GED graduates (ex., registered nursing, PA state police, U.S. military colleges.)

The primary mission of a school district is to provide a quality education for the students it serves.

What obligations do school districts have to students who have not completed their education in a traditional educational program?

Reasons students drop out of school:

1. Older adults have left school for economic reasons.

2. Women who became pregnant prior to 1978 were forced to leave school until the child was born. For various reasons a percentage never returned after the birth of their child.

3. For young adults the loss of interest in education, immaturity, attitude, expulsions, learning difficulties and disabilities are major reasons for leaving school prior to graduation.

The favorite song of a large percentage of these students is "I wish I would have."

The usual method for these individuals to earn their diploma is by obtaining a GED diploma. The GED diploma opens many doors, but has numerous drawbacks. Merely trading the GED diploma for a school district diploma does not rectify these drawbacks.

1. The U.S. military accepts only high school graduates, unless it is necessary to fill quotas (The U.S. military developed this test during World War II).

2. Registered nursing, the PA State Police are examples of other occupations requiring a regular high school diploma.

3. The GED does not prepare graduates with the skills needed in today's society.
The Cumberland Valley School District offers dropouts, nineteen years of age or older, a "second chance" to earn the same diploma awarded to graduating seniors. This program has been in existence for nineteen years. Several other programs also exist in Pennsylvania. These programs directly relate to the primary mission of school districts.

1. This philosophy is an excellent means of promoting a continuation of the learning cycle (parents returning to school take an interest in students at risk). Elementary teachers are in an excellent position to promote this posture.

2. The Cumberland Valley School District encourages seniors and parents to graduate together.

3. Offering this program is a means of affecting the seventy percent of constituents who do not have children in school. It promotes a positive influence with tax payer groups.

4. The diploma program promotes community involvement. Linkages and partnerships encourage better school-community relations.
December 10, 1996

Mr. Gruber has asked me to describe the benefits of the Cumberland Valley High School diploma program to our school district.

Every school district faces the same problems as we do in educating and retaining young people who do not feel education is relevant in their lives. Often these students drop out of the traditional educational program and realize that they face problems of finding employment, enlisting in the service, or going onto higher education without being properly prepared.

Our adult diploma program offers an alternative and enables people to earn a high school diploma which allows them to be enrolled in an institution of higher education, joining the armed services, or qualify for advancements on the job. I estimate that almost 50% of our young people who drop out of school eventually return to our adult diploma program and graduate.

The program is also a benefit to our region in that adults outside our district are allowed to enroll and earn a high school diploma. Many of these non-traditional students return to school for self-satisfaction, but many do so to get better employment or qualify for job training.

Another important benefit we derive from this program is the support it receives from the community. Approximately 70% of our citizens do not have children enrolled in the public schools, but still pay taxes to the system. These citizens are getting back something for their tax dollars.

Each year at adult graduation, we receive many kind comments from our taxpayers about the worth and importance of this program to them. In my estimation, this is one of the most cost efficient program we offer and does more to involve community members without children in the public schools than any other venture in which we are involved.

Sincerely,

Anthony J. Colistra, Ed.D.
Assistant Superintendent
Secondary Education

Dear Mr. Gruber:

Three years ago, SETCO and the Cumberland Valley Adult Diploma Program entered into a unique and most successful partnership between a job training agency and a public school system. Clients in the Learning Center at SETCO's Harrisburg office are given the opportunity to earn a Cumberland Valley High School diploma in a structural daytime program. The diploma's life skills based competencies are completed by clients using the resources in their own communities and are later shared with instructors in the regular evening programming at Cumberland Valley High School. They become enthusiastic as they learn about the community around them, how to use its resources, and how to become successful advocates for themselves and their families. The presence of this program within our Learning Center gives our clients another option in addition to the GED to receive a high school diploma: it is a competency based program of this type that can bring success for those clients who might have different learning styles. Participation in the regular Cumberland Valley based evening program would be difficult for many of our clients because of transportation issues; however, they do participate in some activities at the high school and do attend graduation ceremonies. We are pleased to report that since this partnership began, sixty SETCO students have successfully completed the program and received their diplomas.

We have developed a very comfortable, open working relationship with you and the Cumberland Valley diploma staff and we look, with enthusiasm, to the continued growth and strengthening of this most unique partnership.

Sincerely,

James L. MacDonald
Executive Director

Cheryl Keenan, Director
Adult Basic and Literacy Education
Pennsylvania Department of Education
333 Market Street
Harrisburg, PA 17102-3333

Dear Ms. Keenan,

Pennsylvania Blue Shield embarked on a partnership with the Cumberland Valley High School in September 1992. This partnership has enabled us to support our employees as they endeavor to move forward with their lifelong learning pursuits. Specifically, we are supporting both employees and their family and friends in obtaining their high school diplomas. To this end, we work closely with Mr. Sam Gruber and his staff of educators to ensure the successful completion of the program and attainment of a high school diploma by all participants.

Since 1992, we have helped 35 people complete diploma requirements—20 employees and 15 family members and friends. Currently, we are supporting 15 people in the 1996-97 academic year and have two ready to start in the 1997-98 academic year. We consider this a most essential program in that we are empowering employees and their families to strengthen skills and continue academic achievement.

Since the onset of this relationship, we have employees who have opted to pursue a college career, some have been promoted and others have been able to encourage other family members to pursue their high school diploma.

Students have expressed great surprise at their ability to complete the program and many have indicated that this little success has shown them that they are capable of going forward in their career and actually attaining higher goals. For many, they have done the impossible and are now pursuing that which was once unthinkable!

People are realizing these successes and being encouraged to forge ahead because of the administrator and faculty who run and support the Achieve program at Cumberland Valley High School. The program is challenging and academically stimulating. There is a strong network of support between the faculty, students and our staff to ensure that the students are encouraged and given a "swift kick" when necessary. One of the more encouraging aspects of the program is the knowledge that many students have attempted to obtain their GED three, four and five times, without success. Through Achieve, they have attained a lifetime goal!
Since this is a one-of-a-kind program in our state, the funding of such a program is essential and the sharing of this process with other school districts in the Commonwealth is imperative.

We trust that you will view favorably any request from Cumberland Valley School District to continue said program and provide the financial support deemed necessary to support its continued success.

Sincerely,

Donna M. Cheatham

School Board and state approve the new Strategic Plan

The Cumberland Valley School Board and, more recently, the Pennsylvania Department of Education have given their approvals to the newly formulated Strategic Plan for the Cumberland Valley School District.

In the fall of 1994, the Cumberland Valley School Board created a committee of citizens, parents, teachers, and students to oversee and coordinate the creation of the Strategic Plan for the Cumberland Valley School District.

The Steering Committee was charged with creating a Mission Statement, identifying goals, conducting a needs assessment, determining the priority areas for action planning, acting as a clearinghouse for all materials that were to be sent to our School Board for consideration, and making a final recommendation on the plan's approval.

Cumberland Valley's Strategic Plan represents a starting point for planning the future of the Cumberland Valley School District. Our hope is that this plan will serve as a focal point for discussion and action for many future decisions in our district.

Special thanks are given to all the Steering Committee members and action team participants who gave selflessly of their time throughout the planning process.

Several highlights of the plan are being included for your consideration. The entire text of the Strategic Plan is available for inspection at each of our schools and at our district office.

The mission of the Cumberland Valley School District, through a partnership of students, educators, parents, and community, is to help students develop skills, knowledge and talents to achieve their fullest potential and to become lifelong learners and productive, responsible citizens.

The Cumberland Valley School District accepts the 6 Core Goals and the 9 Academic Goals as outlined by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. In addition, the district has also adopted a set of local goals to help shape the future direction of our district.

The Goals
Prepared by the Strategic Planning Committee of the District

The Cumberland Valley School District will:

(1) Maintain an educational environment that meets the diverse academic, social, emotional, and physical needs of our students.

(2) Tailor teaching strategies and scheduling to meet the needs of the students.

(3) Provide a safe educational setting that facilitates respect for persons, property, and individual beliefs.

(4) Provide appropriate evaluation and reporting of student achievement.

(5) Provide accessible pupil services that respond to the needs of a changing student population.

(6) Recognize and support the family's role as a partner in their child's education.

(7) Provide equipment and training so students and staff will be technologically competent.

(8) Help students develop a spirit of volunteerism.

(9) Provide and maintain a qualified, well-trained, professional and support staff.

(10) Provide an effective communication system that serves the entire Cumberland Valley community.

(11) Revise and update curriculum systematically to provide students with the most current academic opportunities.

(12) Generate a cooperative effort by the community and school district to assure maximum use of school facilities.

In order to facilitate future planning of programs for Cumberland Valley students and its community, "ACTION PLANS" were created in the following areas:

Action Team Topics
- High School Graduation Requirements
- Graduation Projects
- Curriculum Revision as it relates to Chapter V
- Student Assessment Plan
- Portfolio Development
- Remediation Plans
- Special Education Planning
- Notifying the Public of Test Results
- Introduction of Foreign Language
- Equity issues (how will all courses be available to "all" students?) as well as Gender Equity
- Career awareness, job preparation, and counseling services
- Length of School Year (use of time)
- Staff Training
- Glass Size Study
- Communication System
- High School Scheduling
- Citizenship Education
- Technology

Our Strategic Plan also contains highlights of curriculum work that was completed by our professional staff as they examined our curriculum in light of the state's 53 learner outcomes.

Should you have any questions about our Strategic Plan, please call Mr. Robert J. Crook, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, at 697-8261.
1. Application
A short application form will be made available to you by calling the Adult Education Department of the Cumberland Valley School District. Just fill it out and return it.

2. Placement
Unless you have obtained a GED, a test is given to assess your basic math and English skills. You must pass these tests to enter the life skills competency portion of the Adult Diploma Program. If you do not pass these tests, you will be placed in the appropriate class so that you may learn the skills you need to go on and enter the competency portion of the program. From there on, you will work at your own pace to earn your diploma.

3. Review
As you move through the program, your achievements will be reviewed by your teachers and the school's superintendent.

4. Completion
On completion of the life skills competency portion of the program, you will receive a Cumberland Valley High School Diploma, the same diploma as graduating seniors.

For a videotape explaining the Cumberland Valley High School Adult Diploma Program, contact any Cumberland County Library.

This program is provided free of charge thanks to funding by the Bureau of Adult Basic Education and Literacy Education (Pennsylvania Department of Education) and the Cumberland Valley School District.

For information or an application call the Cumberland Valley High School's Department of Adult Education.

About the program

The Cumberland Valley High School Adult Diploma Program is based on life skills competencies. To complete the program each participant must learn certain skills including the identification of facts, reading and speaking skills, computation, problem solving and creative thought, interpersonal and social skills and physical coordination. These life skills competencies are derived from 52 subject areas established by the Cumberland Valley School District for graduating seniors. The Cumberland Valley High School Adult Diploma Program has divided these competencies into the following six categories:

- Government and Law
- Occupational Knowledge
- Health
- Consumer Economics
- Community Resources
- Global Studies

Who may apply

Any Pennsylvania resident who is 20 years of age by the first of June in the year they would graduate may apply. Because participants work at their own pace, it is possible to graduate within one year’s time.

Cost

The Cumberland Valley High School Adult Diploma Program is a federally funded program. There is no tuition, enrollment, or other educational cost. The participant is, however, responsible for some nominal fees to cover the cost of a diploma, a diploma cover, and record keeping. Graduates may keep their caps and gowns. Optional announcements and invitations are also available at a minimal charge.

How to apply

Those wishing to receive an application for the Cumberland Valley High School Adult Diploma Program should send a stamped self-addressed envelope to:

Mr Samuel Gruber
Cumberland Valley High School
6746 Carlisle Pike
Mechanicsburg, PA 17055

Return the completed application to the above address. For more information, call the Cumberland Valley Adult Education Office at 766-0217, extension 507. Deadline for application is July 31st.

Calendar

First Meeting
It is mandatory for anyone enrolled in the program to attend the first meeting for orientation.

First Semester (September - December)
Participants who have earned a GED will not need to attend the first semester. These participants will begin the program in January at the start of the second semester. A copy of the GED must be presented in order to exempt the first semester.

Participants who do not have a GED will be given competency tests in both math and English. A participant who scores 70% or higher on these tests will begin in January at the start of the second semester.

Participants who score lower than 70% on these tests will be enrolled in remedial classes so that they may improve their scores. Participants will then have an opportunity to be retested.

Second Meeting
Second Semester (January - May)
This is the time when participants begin the life skills competency portion of the program, which covers the areas of consumer economics, community resources, government/law, health, global studies, and occupational knowledge.

During the second semester, participants will meet once every third week with their instructors. Work is based on life achievements and is done on the participants’ own time, at their own pace, in their own home communities.
Cumberland Valley School District’s
High School Diploma Program for Adults
One achievement among many

Pennsylvania’s First Lady, Michelle M. Ridge, commended Antonia Pennington as she placed the high school diploma in her hands. The glow of Ms. Pennington’s proud moment was apparent. In spite of transportation problems, a child custody battle, temporary homelessness, and what would appear to be overwhelming obstacles, this 24-year-old single mother found the strength to turn her life around. First she stabilized her situation with help from area parenting programs. Then she set her sights on attaining one of her most important goals...a high school diploma. That’s when Antonia Pennington entered the Cumberland Valley High School Diploma Program for Adults -- a program unlike any other in Pennsylvania. Working at her own pace, Ms. Pennington earned her regular high school diploma in a year and a half.

The governor’s wife was guest commencement speaker at the ceremony where Antonia Pennington and 110 other adults received their diplomas. Mrs. Ridge looked out upon the graduation and called it a “fine example of personal motivation and community spirit and serves as a valuable role model for many others who have not yet completed high school.” For Antonia Pennington, receiving her diploma was the first step towards a life of greater achievement.

A day to remember

Joyce Davis had some trepidation as she stepped from the car. She had waited 40 years for this night. After her husband rounded the car and presented her with a corsage, a few girls from her graduating class ran up to her, hugged her, and told her how pretty she looked. This was the night 57-year-old Joyce Davis attended her Senior Prom.

Joyce Davis received her high school diploma through Cumberland Valley School District’s High School Diploma Program for Adults. With encouragement and support from her husband, Carl, Joyce took just one year to complete the program. Carl Davis was so proud of his wife’s accomplishment that he ordered a special class ring for her, which is marked 1955 on one side and 1995 on the other, to signify her two classes.

Joyce Davis admitted that pursuing her high school diploma hadn’t always been easy. But, judging by the smile on her face as she began to dance her first dance, the effort was worthwhile.

Introduction

The Cumberland Valley Diploma Program has been acclaimed as one of the most cost effective ways to enhance the life-skill levels and overall education of under serviced community residents.

In 1976, the Cumberland Valley School District, encouraged by the Pennsylvania Department of Education, started an external two-phased degree program. In phase one, the diagnostic phase, the students are expected to achieve the same English and mathematical skills mastered by the school district's graduating seniors. (A GED is accepted as satisfactory completion of this phase.) In phase two, the assessment phase, the participants must complete 52 major life-skills, or performance-based competency statements. These life-skills were developed through the Strategic Planning Process of the Cumberland Valley School District and are of the same level as graduating seniors.

The Cumberland Valley Diploma Program is an applied performance high school program that gives credit to adults, 20 years and older, who have acquired high school level skills through their life experiences. This program expects adults to demonstrate their ability in a series of exercises that parallel job and life situations. Participants are evaluated on their acquired knowledge, and how well they take responsibility for gaining subsequent skills through existing community resources. Participants must achieve mastery of all the competencies required to attain their diploma. This program is unique in that graduates receive the same diploma that is awarded to the high school graduating seniors.

This training manual marks the beginning of an extended initiative designed to help adult educators who are interested in establishing a similar diploma program. As a guideline, we have included our written curriculum for the 1995-96 school year. To best serve community residents, however, the high school diploma program should be established in conjunction with the local school district or consortium of school districts. The school district(s) should award the same diploma that is awarded to their graduating seniors. Instructors and administrators should adapt this program to the Strategic Planning Guidelines of their own school districts and communities. Even with regional adaptation this manual remains a viable outline to help interested school districts develop similar initiatives. By making available its 18 years of applied knowledge, the Cumberland Valley School District can help implement this or similar programs with shorter "ramp-up" time and less wasted effort.
Program Goals

Through this program, adults gain competence in the following areas:

- oral and written expression
- listening and reading
- following instructions
- computation and problem solving
- goal setting
- time management
- career development and entry level job skills
- using community and educational resources effectively

The students demonstrate and increase their awareness of their community and government. By following the program, students learn by doing. Through this learning they set their own pace and learn to set goals. They feel the accomplishment of attaining those goals. The program allows a great deal of flexibility for the participants.

Target Population

While the minimum age is 20, the adult students average 34 years of age. Many mature adults are at a point in their lives where they acknowledge the value of a high school diploma. Motivated by employment constraints, economic constraints, or pursuit of a personal goal, these students want their high school diploma. There is no age cut off. For many adults who have had difficulty in high school, this non-traditional approach to learning is less threatening. Since the program is self directed, with few time constraints, many adults find that the program is easier to fit into their present life styles. These students are anxious to attain goals, are mature in their approach to learning, and are self-motivated.
An Overview

The AchievE Program has two phases: the diagnostic and the final assessment.

Diagnostic Phase

In this first phase, an adult student completes six diagnostic instruments (tests) that identify individual learning deficiencies. These deficiencies have potential to prevent an adult from successfully completing the skills competencies required for the diploma assessment. The diagnostic phase also helps the adult to understand the program requirements. If the adult student is deficient in reading, writing and/or math, the program advisor prescribes remedial procedures to help the adult overcome his/her deficiencies and master the necessary skills to advance in the program. The advisors assist the adult identify educational resources in the community (ABE centers, tutors, libraries, friends) where s/he might go to get help. The responsibility for contacting those resources, however, falls upon the adult student. When learning has been accomplished, the adult student schedules a re-test. When re-testing is not satisfactory, more remedial procedures are prescribed and the process is repeated.

Final Assessment

In the second phase, the adult student demonstrates the ability to complete the life skill competencies in his/her home school district and community. These life skill competencies simulate real life tasks.

For example, an adult might demonstrate reading, writing, and critical thinking by searching for a new apartment, reading the lease, writing a letter of complaint to his or her landlord, and budgeting the rent from a simulated monthly salary. The adult's answers are measured according to standardized criteria. The competencies demand a mastery of all skills, but allows for the adult to self-pace the learning. Each participant maintains a portfolio of completed work.

Once the life skill competencies are completed (with a 100 percent proficiency) and reviewed by the director, the high school diploma is awarded by the local school district.

The high school diploma program takes an average of one year to complete.
Procedure

Adult Education Committee

In order to implement an Adult Diploma Program, school boards must agree to grant a traditional diploma to adults who successfully demonstrate the approved competencies. Once this is established a committee should be formed. This committee should include the following:

- a chairperson
- local community members
- educational staff
- school board members

This committee will be responsible for the following:

1. creating a mission statement
2. creating a belief statement
3. establishing graduation outcomes based upon these criteria:
   - life skill competencies
   - strategic planning outcomes
4. establishing staff needs:
   - director
   - administrative Assistant
   - 5 teachers (recommended)
   - a counselor
5. establishing location/class sites

Director Responsibilities

- Oversee program
- Insure that school district requirements are being met
- Coordinate efforts with outside agencies
- Fulfill state and federal program requirements
- Others (as needed)

Administrative Assistant Responsibilities

- Coordinate scheduling of program
- Coordinate communications and mailings
- Act as liaison between director and teaching staff

Staff responsibilities:

- Review state wide initiatives
- Expand the competencies to meet these initiatives based on local community and school board parameters. Design a workbook for students to follow.
- Meet on a regular basis
- Review the progress of the program
- Develop and implement the program calendar
- Participate in a yearly review to benchmark progress
Counselor:
- Oversee all student testing
- Assist in grading and record keeping
- Provide ancillary support for participants
- Provide career and college counseling

Recruitment of Students

Methods of recruitment

1) Newspaper
2) School publications
3) Radio
4) Business partnerships
5) Public relations i.e. newspaper and radio coverage
6) Word of mouth
7) Human service organizations.

History has shown that “word of mouth” has been the most successful form of recruitment. Students that have been successful in obtaining their diploma will encourage friends and relatives to apply the following year.

Business partnerships have also proven to be successful. Employees gain their high school diploma and other intangibles. Employers gain employees that can now make contributions to their businesses with a greater sense of connection to their community.

See attachments: Newspaper articles

In the Cumberland Valley School District program, a maximum of 150 students is accepted. Students are accepted into the program as follows in priority order:
1) School District residents
2) Former Cumberland Valley School District students
3) Students referred by community partnerships
4) Applications ranked in order received

Applications must be completed in full. Spelling must be correct. Punctuation, sentence structure and grammar must show potential to meet high school graduation requirements.
Calendar

mid-August
The Achieve program begins in mid-August with staff meetings held by the director.
- The schedule for the year is established.
- The entire program outline and expected outcomes are finalized.
- The students' applications are reviewed in order to familiarize the staff with the students' backgrounds and expectations.
- The Administrative Assistant develops portfolios for each student. Their portfolios will be used throughout the year to hold the student's papers.
- The Administrative Assistant creates a data base for the staff. This data base helps the staff reach the students on an as-need basis.

September
- The first meeting with the students.
- Students are given a yearly calendar of class times, a test schedule, and are introduced to the staff.
- Expectations and goals are reviewed.

October/November
- The "Diagnostic Phase" - the tests of basic English and Math, are given.
- Test results are reviewed by the counselor and staff. Students receive their results within a week's time. A 70% is passing. (See Insert #1)

November/December
- Students achieving less than a 70% receive remedial class instruction.
- Remedial students must pass post test (scoring 70% or better) to continue onto assessment phase of the program.
- Students needing additional time for skill building are referred to community agencies such as the Literacy Council, the Vietnamese Center, and Catholic Charities. Tutorial assistance can also be arranged. These students are encouraged to return once they feel confident to to be tested.

January/May
- Students are expected to meet with all five teachers once every three weeks.
- Work is reviewed and possible suggestions of corrections are made.
- Completed competencies are placed in the student's portfolio.
- Students will continue to meet with teachers until all 52 competencies are completed to the satisfaction of the staff.

May
- Students who have completed all their work have their portfolios reviewed by the director.
- Students unable to finish during this semester are given the opportunity to Budget

continue with this portion of the program the following year.

June
- Graduation

The AchievE program is partially funded by a "322 Grant" through the Bureau of Adult Basic and Literacy Education (Pennsylvania Department of Education). The Cumberland Valley School District provides the rental of office and classroom space, and office expenses. GED monies can be transferred to fund a high school diploma program. Additional Funds are provided through partnership with Susquehanna Employment and Training Corporation, Pennsylvania Blue Shield, and IBM. Additional partnerships are currently being formed. Students pay only a small fee for their diploma and record keeping.

Dear

The requirements of the Cumberland Valley Adult Diploma Program clearly state that to continue in the program you must come in and meet with the instructors at least once during each monthly cycle. Because you have not attended during the cycle in MONTH, you are no longer eligible to graduate from this year’s program. If you wish to reapply for next year’s class, or if you have any questions, contact Mr. Samuel Gruber or myself at 766-0217, ext.507 or 464.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is to certify that NAME graduated in YEAR from Cumberland Valley School District's High School Diploma Program for Adults. This program is approved and funded by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Because this is a competency based educational program, we do not have an official transcript of grades. Under the program, students must meet minimum standards in English and mathematics. Also, they must complete established competencies in the following areas: Government and Law, Community Resources, Consumer Economics, Health, and Occupational Knowledge. In completion of the program, the adult graduate receives the exact same diploma as the graduating senior.

If you should need any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

RE: Student's responsibility for Diploma Program

All students will be required to meet with all five teachers at least once during each of the scheduled meeting periods. It is mandatory that each student attend these meetings and present material to each teacher.

If the student cannot attend during these meeting periods, it is his/her responsibility to contact Ms. Latham prior to the last day of the scheduled meetings, and make arrangements to submit their completed materials to her for distribution to the five teachers.

(766-0217, ext. 464 - Monday through Friday - 8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.)

If the student fails to meet these obligations, he or she, will be dropped from the diploma program.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

* There are now computers available that show all government jobs available, as well as openings with the Department of Labor. These are set up at the Giant Food Store in Colonial Commons and in the Camp Hill Shopping Center. Using this computer program (and bringing in a print out) can be substituted for your occupational knowledge assignment #1.

* CPR classes at HACC: 2/13, 3/14, 4/12, 5/18. Call 780-2510 for more information on registration.
For other CPR classes check local hospitals, fire companies, Red Cross, and YMCA.

* HELPLINE - Stay-at-home women trying to plunge back into the job market can get a packet of information on local job-readiness and training programs, support groups, financial-aid options, health-insurance rights and child-support agencies by calling 800-235-2732, the helpline number of Women Work! The National Network for Women's Employment.
