Measures for the Final Common Core of Constructs. The Project on State-Level Child Outcomes.

The Project on State-Level Child Outcomes, a federal project designed to improve the measurement of child outcomes in state welfare evaluations and in other state data systems. This document provides measures for the common core of constructs that state representatives developed at the second national-level meeting of the Project's planning phase. A table delineates measures for the core constructs in the areas of: (1) target of welfare policies, income, employment, and family formation; (2) other variables likely to be affected by state policies, including psychological well-being, stability and turbulence, absent parent involvement, use of health and human services, and consumption; (3) aspects of the child's environment likely to be affected by previous variables, such as child care and home environment and parenting practices; and (4) child outcomes related to education, health and safety, and social and emotional adjustment. The remainder of the document consists of proposed survey questionnaires and other measures for each core construct. (KB)
THE PROJECT ON STATE-LEVEL CHILD OUTCOMES

Measures for the Final Common Core of Constructs

Prepared for the Second National Level Meeting of the Planning Phase

May 9, 1997

Prepared by Child Trends, Inc.
Project Overview: The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Office of Planning, Research, and Evaluation at the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), and Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE) are working together with states and other groups to improve the measurement of child outcomes in state welfare evaluations and in other state data systems. ACF is providing grants to states instituting welfare reform demonstrations to augment their demonstration evaluations with measures of child outcomes and also to expand their data capability to track state-level indicators of child well-being on an ongoing basis. Under funding from ASPE and the other federal contributors and private foundations, the states are receiving technical support on these activities from leading researchers who are members of the NICHD Family and Child Well-Being Research Network. The Network's technical support effort is led by Child Trends, Inc.

The project has two phases. The first phase is a one-year planning and design phase which began October 1, 1996. The second phase will be an implementation phase for data collection, analysis, and reporting activities that will begin in the fall of 1997. Twelve states participated in the first phase: California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Oregon, Vermont, and Virginia.

This document provides measures for the common core of constructs that the state representatives developed at the second national-level meeting of the planning phase of the Project on State-Level Child Outcomes.

The project is sponsored by ACF and ASPE. Additional federal funding to support this project has been provided by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), and the Centers for Disease Control. Several private foundations have contributed funding to support the organization of national level meetings, the provision of technical assistance to the states, and the preparation and dissemination of written products. These include: the Annie E. Casey Foundation, the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation, the George Gund Foundation, and the Smith Richardson Foundation.

Additional Quality of Care Questions

This question should not be asked of centers but should be asked of in-home child care situations.

1. As far as you know, is your child care provider licensed or regulated by the state?
   Yes  No  Don't Know

(Note: The wording of the question (licensed or regulated) may need to be adapted to your particular state policies with regard to family day care homes.

2. Now I am going to ask you about CHILD's and your experience in child care. Please let me know which answer best describes CHILD's and your child care experience.

   a. CHILD feels safe and secure in child care.
      Never  Sometimes  Often  Always  DK

   b. CHILD gets lots of individual attention.
      Never  Sometimes  Often  Always  DK

   c. CHILD's teacher is open to new information and learning.
      Never  Sometimes  Often  Always  DK

Child Care Calendar In-Home Option

We suggest that you use the child care calendar for the youngest children in your sample. These children will most likely be 5, 6 or 7 years of age. For these children it would be reasonable to get information dating back to random assignment. The current set of questions gets information about the child since birth. You will need to alter these questions to address the child's child care history since random assignment. Please note that this section asks the respondent for many different pieces of information. We used this strategy in the JOBS Study in order to have a full picture of the child's life, you could opt to only get some of this information in your child calendar.

Caution: The calendar we are providing has one flaw. Although you get a sense of the total time the child has spent in child care over the last couple years you cannot not determine how many different providers the child has had. This information is crucial especially with regard to stability for the child. In order to capture this information, you will need to make sure that the interviewer puts a mark every time the mother indicates the start of a new child care arrangement. In order to capture this information reliably, you should probably incorporate an additional question asking whether the arrangement the child is in during a particular month is the same or different from the last month.
