This workbook for a library and information skills course at the University of South Florida (USF), Tampa campus, contains the following sections: (1) syllabus; (2) tentative course outline; (3) statement of the course goal, general objectives, and objectives related to LC (Library of Congress) classification and the online catalog, dictionaries and encyclopedias, indexes and abstracts, bibliographies and other reference books, U.S. government publications, evaluation of sources, and search strategy; (4) library directory and map; (5) final project guidelines; (6) a self-guided tour of the library; (7) Dewey Decimal and LC classification systems comparison; (8) outline of the LC classification system; (9) sample LC subject headings; (10) handouts on using LUIS (Library User Information System) and WebLUIS, the USF online catalog; (11) a list of subject specialized encyclopedias; (12) a list of World Wide Web sites; (13) an outline of Superintendent of Documents classification; (14) a selected list of other reference sources; (15) Tampa campus library circulation services and policies; (16) a database search worksheet; (17) glossary of terms; and (18) a list of virtual library databases. Related assignments are included throughout. (MES)
Required Workbook: is available at Pro-copy, near Publix at 56th and Fowler.

Recommended Reading: Books available at the Reserve Desk. Request by Title.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Grades will be given according to the following scale:
A Superior performance  90-100%
B Excellent performance  80-89%
C Average performance  70-79%
D Below average performance  60-69%
F Failing performance  Below 60%

ASSIGNMENTS: 45% of course average
Assignments have been designed to provide students with practice using the sources available for research. All assignments must be completed and submitted for grading in accordance with due dates given on the course outline. Grades will be reduced 10% each week on assignments turned in after the due date. Assignments turned in more than 2 weeks past due may not be graded. Some class time has been scheduled to provide a "LAB" environment for work on assignments. Assignments are considered to be learning tools, therefore students are encouraged to redo parts of assignments done incorrectly the first time. Assignments can be turned in a second time for regrading and adjustment of grade. If difficulties or problems arise, please schedule an appointment with the instructor.

QUIZ: 10% of course average
A Quiz will cover materials from the lectures, assignments, and class handouts. If, for unusual circumstances, you know that you will be unable to be present for the quiz, please make arrangements with your instructor IN ADVANCE of the date. See Syllabus for date.
FINAL PROJECT: 30% of course average
The final project is a literature review/bibliography that provides practical experience for completion of academic research. A separate sheet describes the requirements for this project and discusses the due date for topic approval and the due date for submission of the completed project.

FINAL EXAMINATION: 10% of course average
The cumulative final will cover material from the handouts, lectures, and assignments.

ATTENDANCE: 5% of course average
If absent 0-3 = 5%, 4 = 4%, 5 = 3%, 6 = 2%, 7 = 1%, 8+ = 0%

OTHER: S/U option grading contracts must be submitted prior to March 10. An incomplete grade (I grade) will be assigned only for emergencies when a small amount of work is not completed, and only if the student is otherwise earning a passing grade.

Academic Dishonesty: Any form of cheating or plagiarism on assigned papers or examinations constitutes unacceptable deceit and dishonesty. This cannot be tolerated in the University community and will be punishable, according to the seriousness of the offense, in conformity with University rules. See pages 43-44 in the 1999/2000 Undergraduate Catalog or on the USF web page at http://www.ugs.usf.edu/catalogs/9900/ADADAP.HTM. The following is an excerpt:

Plagiarism is defined as "literary theft" and consists of the unattributed quotation of the exact words of a published text, or the unattributed borrowing of original ideas by paraphrase from a published text. On written papers for which the student employs information gathered from books, articles, or oral sources, each direct quotation, as well as ideas and facts that are not generally known to the public at large, or the form, structure, or style of a secondary source must be attributed to its author by means of the appropriate citation procedure. Only widely known facts and first-hand thoughts and observations original to the student do not require citations. Citations may be made in footnotes or within the body of the text. Plagiarism, also, consists of passing off as one's own segments or the total of another person's work.

Cheating is defined as follows: (a) the unauthorized granting or receiving of aid during the prescribed period of a course-graded exercise: students may not consult written materials such as notes or books, may not look at the paper of another student, nor consult orally with any other student taking the same test; (b) asking another person to take an examination in his/her place; (c) taking an examination for or in place of another student; (d) stealing visual concepts, such as drawings, sketches, diagrams, musical programs and scores, graphs, maps, etc., and presenting them as one's own; (e) stealing, borrowing, buying, or disseminating tests, answer keys or other examination material except as officially authorized, research papers, creative papers, speeches, etc. (f) Stealing or copying of computer programs and presenting them as one's own.

OVERALL GOAL

A STUDENT, BY THE TIME HE/SHE COMPLETES LIS 2001, WILL BE ABLE TO COMPLETE AN EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE SEARCH STRATEGY USING STANDARD REFERENCE SOURCES AND LIBRARY PERSONNEL TO IDENTIFY AND FIND APPROPRIATE MATERIALS TO MEET AN INFORMATIONAL NEED.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES

The LIS 2001 student will be able to:

1. Locate appropriate departments and service desks in the Tampa Campus Library as needed.

2. Recognize the library staff, particularly the reference staff, as a source of information and be comfortable seeking assistance from them as needed.

3. Recall library resources available; to include:
   a. Collections within the library, such as Reference, U.S. Documents, Library Media Center (LMC), Special Collections, microforms, etc.
   b. Existence of the USF Regional Campus Libraries and the use of the Regional Exchange Center (REC) to obtain materials from the regional campus libraries; Other State University System (SUS) libraries; other academic and public libraries in the Tampa Bay area.

4. Make effective use of the library resources available; to include:
   a. Holdings records, such as the online catalog
   b. Types of reference sources basic to all subject fields, such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, periodical indexes and abstracts in print and in electronic format, bibliographies, U. S. Government documents, and biographical sources.

5. Identify and evaluate materials in a given subject field, and select the most appropriate sources to include in a term paper and/or bibliography on a topic.

6. Select and use an appropriate style manual to compile a bibliography

INTRODUCTION TO THE LIBRARY

1. The student will be able to correctly identify, by floor, the location of all library departments (such as reference), all service desks (such as the circulation desk), and books and periodicals according to Library of Congress Classification system, and other systems as used in the LMC and U.S. Government Documents.

2. The student will identify one or more librarians by sight and locate their office(s).

3. Given an assignment to tour the Tampa Campus Library, the student will write answers to questions about resources and services located within the library.
At the completion of this unit, the LIS 2001 student will have a basic understanding of the Library of Congress Classification system and be familiar with the use of LUIS/WebLUIS, the online catalog.

1. The student will be able to define the term "call number" and identify and use them to locate materials in the Tampa Campus Library.

2. Given a series of call numbers, the student will be able to arrange them in order as they would be found on the shelf.

3. Using LUIS/WebLUIS, the online catalog, the student will be able to supply commands to move forward and backwards within guide and index screens, and move back and forth between guide, index and bibliographic records screens.

4. Given authors, titles, subjects, and/or keywords of books, and/or titles of periodicals, the student will be able to enter the proper commands into LUIS/WebLUIS to identify books and titles of periodicals.

5. Given a topic, the student will be able to use multiple keywords and boolean operators ("or", "and", "but not") to identify books on the topic.

6. The student will be able to determine the location of a given book or periodical title at any USF or State University System (SUS) library, and determine if the book is checked out, and if so, when it is due to be returned.

7. Given a bibliographic record for a book from LUIS/WebLUIS, the student will be able to correctly identify and explain the various elements of a citation (author(s), title, place of publication, publisher, date of publication).

8. The student will be able to use the LC publication Subject Headings to determine correct subject headings with "used for" (UF) terms, narrow a topic with "narrower term" (NT), and expand a topic with "broader term" (BT) and/or "related terms" (RT).

9. Using the online catalog, the student will be able to use subject subdivisions to identify books on a subject...
   a. ...covering a given time period, such as the 19th century
   b. ...covering a given geographic region, such as Florida
   c. ...in a particular form of publications, such as dictionaries or bibliographies.

10. Given a periodical title, the student will be able to determine if a particular volume is available in the Tampa Campus Library, and determine if it is a current issue, bound backfile, or in microform format.

11. Given a call number for a book, the student will be able to find that book on the shelf of the Tampa Campus Library.
DICTIONARIES AND ENCYCLOPEDIAS

At the completion of this unit, the student will be able to identify, locate, and use general and specialized dictionaries and encyclopedias in print or electronic format.

1. Given a topic, the student will be able to identify, locate and use general and specialized encyclopedias, in print and/or electronic format and CQ Researcher in order to obtain background information on that topic.

2. The student will be able to locate an encyclopedia article bibliography on a specific topic, write one citation from the bibliography, and correctly identify if that cited item is available at the Tampa Campus Library.

3. Given a subject, the student will be able to identify one dictionary on that subject using the online catalog, locate the dictionary, and write one word and definition from it.

INDEXES AND ABSTRACTS

At the completion of this unit, the LIS 2001 student will be able to select, find, and use indexes and abstracts in print and in electronic format.

1. Using Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory, the student will be able to identify periodical titles in a given subject discipline (such as Psychology), and list where those periodical titles are indexed.

2. Based on readings, class discussions, introductory explanations, and individual use, the student will be able to describe, in detail, the format, arrangement and use of specific indexes and/or abstracts, in print and in electronic format, to identify periodical articles for a specific topic.

3. Given a specific topic, the student will be able to select an appropriate index or abstract, in print and/or in electronic format, and use the index to identify and locate one or more articles in periodicals and/or newspapers, and compile a bibliography of those articles.

4. Given a specific topic, the student will describe, in detail and in sequence, the steps involved in finding periodical articles (all steps from entering the library to reading the article will be described).

5. Given a specific periodical citation, and using an appropriate "citation index" the student will be able to identify and list other articles citing the given article.

6. The student will be able to identify appropriate indexes to anthologies, then locate and use them to identify a source of poems, speeches, or essays.
BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND OTHER REFERENCE BOOKS

At the completion of this unit, the student will be able to select, find, and use bibliographies and other reference sources, such as

   - almanacs and yearbooks
   - handbooks and manuals
   - atlases, gazetteers and guidebooks
   - directories
   - quotations

1. Using Guide to Reference Books, the student will be able to list titles and call numbers for various types of reference sources available in a given subject discipline (such as education).

2. Using Bibliographic Index, the student will be able to identify and list one or more bibliographies on a given subject published in books and/or periodicals.

3. The student will be able to select and locate an appropriate "explicator" to identify sources of literary criticism on a given novel, short story, poem, or play.

4. Given a topic, the student will be able to identify and use one or more almanacs, yearbooks, handbooks, manuals, atlases, gazetteers, guidebooks, directories, or quotation books to find information appropriate to that topic.

If you want to feel secure, do what you already know how to do.

If you want to be a true professional and continue to grow...
Go to the cutting edge of your competence, which means a temporary loss of security.

So whenever you don’t quite know what you are doing, you are growing".

-Madeline Hunter
U. S. GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS

At the completion of this unit, the LIS 2001 student will be able to identify U. S. Government publications using the online catalog and/or the Monthly Catalog of U. S. Government Publications in print and/or in electronic format, to find specific information using a variety of government publications shelved by Superintendent of Documents Classification system (SUDOCs) in the Government Documents Department, or electronically in databases.

1. The student will be able to recognize "Superintendent of Documents Classification call numbers (SUDOCs) and use them to find publications on the shelves of the Documents Department in the Tampa Campus Library.

2. Given a specific topic, the student will be able to use the Monthly Catalog of U. S. Government Publications, in print and/or in electronic format, or use the USF database in WebLUS limiting by location, to identify government publications and write the title, issuing agency, and SUDOCs number for each.

3. Given a question asking for statistical information, the student will be able to select and use the Statistical Abstract of the United States and/or other statistical sources in print and/or electronic format to find information.

4. Using Statistical Universe, or other government source, the student will be able to identify a government publication containing statistics on a given topic, write the title and SUDOCs number for that publication, and then locate the publication electronically, in print, or on microfiche.

5. Using Congressional Universe the student will be able to identify a congressional hearing on a given subject, write the title and SUDOCs number for that hearing, and then locate the hearing electronically, on the shelf, or on microfiche.

EVALUATION OF SOURCES

At the completion of this unit, the LIS 2001 student will be able to locate biographical information and book reviews to evaluate information found in books and periodicals.

1. Given a personal name, and using Biography and Genealogy Master Index as a selection guide, the student will be able to identify and find information on that person in biographical dictionaries.

2. Given a name, the student will be able to select and use Biography Index to identify dates, profession, nationality, and sources of biographical information on that person.

3. Given an author and/or title of a book, and using Book Review Digest, Book Review Index and/or other book review sources, the student will be able to identify one review of that book in a periodical or newspaper.

4. Using indexes to periodical articles, selective bibliographies, citation indexes or Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory the student will be able to evaluate information.
SEARCH STRATEGY

At the completion of this unit, the LIS 2001 student will be able to describe, plan, and complete an efficient and effective search strategy culminating in a bibliography prepared according to the format used in an approved style manual.

1. After choosing a suitable topic, the student will be able to select and use reference and information sources to identify
   * background information in an appropriate encyclopedia
   * books, using bibliographies and/or the online catalog
   * periodical articles, using bibliographies, indexes, and/or abstracts in print and/or electronic format
   * newspaper articles, if appropriate, using print and/or electronic newspaper indexes
   * information from specialized reference sources, such as yearbooks, or handbooks
   * U.S. Government publications, if appropriate
   * statistical information, if appropriate

2. Using book review sources, selective bibliographies, biographical sources and/or other methods, the student will be able to evaluate the content of books and periodical articles.

3. Using bibliographic citations found in reference sources, the student will be able to compile a bibliography arranged according to the format of an approved style manual.

LEARNING IS NOT A SPECTATOR SPORT

Students must talk about what they are learning, write about it, relate it to past experiences, apply it to their daily lives. They must make what they learn part of themselves.

--Chickering and Gamson, 1987
TOPIC APPROVAL
for Final Project

DUE: Wednesday, January 26, 2000

You may select any topic of an academic nature that interests you. It is recommended that you choose a topic in your major, or for a class you are taking. Your topic selection, however, is subject to approval by the instructor. This is NOT for censorship purposes, but rather to ensure success on the final project. Topics that are too broad, too narrow, too esoteric, or those that lack a focus will require adjustment to ensure a successful completion of the project. The instructor will work with you if adjustment is suggested. The instructor will also assist you in selecting a topic if you need help. Use topic selection criteria (workbook, page 93) to ensure topic has a focus.

Sources of ideas for topics include:

The CQ Researcher. Reference H 1.E3
The Reference Shelf. Reference AC 1.R4
10,000 Ideas for Term Papers, Projects, Reports, and Speeches.
Reference LB 1047.3.i35 1995

State your topic below. The topic should reflect a specific aspect of the topic chosen, for example: "Violent Youths Should get Tougher Punishment" or "Home Schooling is a Viable Alternative to Public Education". You may take a "for" or "against" approach to controversial topics.

____________________________________________________________________________________

Briefly explain what you intend to discover by researching this topic.

FINAL PROJECT GUIDELINES

The FINAL PROJECT, due Wednesday, April 26, 2000 or earlier, is designed to be a "capstone" for the class and an opportunity to combine what was learned in the various parts of the course into a "search strategy".

Using information gathered on worksheet assignments and knowledge gained during the semester, you will identify appropriate sources of information for a topic suitable for a 10-15 page research paper. You will physically look at and evaluate each source, construct a bibliography of those sources, and describe how those sources were identified and located, but you will NOT actually write the paper.

This is an individual project--all work must be your own. If you need assistance, please contact the instructor. Because worksheet responses will eventually become the final project, it is important to note that while group work is allowed, and sometimes encouraged, on individual worksheets, it is expected that there will be no copying of worksheet responses from any other student.

The FINAL PROJECT will be typed on a typewriter or with a computer word processing program. Open use computer labs are available in several academic buildings, and Student Government has an Apple Computer lab in the Marshall Center. Typewriters can be used on the 2nd floor of the library. Ask at the Periodicals Information Desk.

The FINAL PROJECT will consist of two parts:

(1) a diary, or log, of the processes used to identify and find the information for all items listed in the bibliography, and

(2) a bibliography of a minimum of 20 information sources written according to the MLA style (or other standard style if you prefer another). Specify which one you use.

Most of the worksheets that will be required each week will provide the basis for the final project. Attention to detail on the worksheets will affect the quality of work and/or quantity of time needed to complete the final project.

Part I Diary or log (describing all 20 or more items listed in the bibliography)

1. State the topic, and then define it in a concise statement. It will need to be in the form of a statement of purpose or in the form of a question--e.g."Should tobacco be regulated as a drug?", or "Yes, (or no) airbags save lives". The descriptive statement will define the purpose of the paper and explain what you will try to prove.

2. Describe in narrative form the steps followed to identify and find information for ALL items listed in the bibliography. For example, "I identified books by using the USF Database in LUIS. "I searched the database using the subject term______ (or keyword terms______) etc. Be sure to include statements of problems or things that did not work, as this will reflect the thought processes used. --Continued
When you identify and locate a particular book, periodical article, etc, be sure to state why it was selected. Each source that is included in your bibliography MUST be located and examined. Include a statement for each source that gives specific information and/or comments on why that source would be used as documentation for the project. The "Final Project Notes" section of worksheets will provide a mechanism for you to record this information.

All items must include informal evaluation on the basis of relevancy, timeliness, authority and objectivity. Additionally, include a formal evaluation, using techniques learned during the unit on "evaluation of sources", for at least one book and one periodical article, and describe the process and results in the diary or log.

Part II Bibliography

The bibliography MUST consist of 20 or more items, and must include AT LEAST ONE each of the following types of resources:

a. general or specialized encyclopedia article, or CQ Researcher article
b. circulating book located in the Tampa Campus Library
c. periodical article (emphasis on journals over magazines)
d. newspaper article (if appropriate to topic - if not, explain in diary or log)
e. government document (if appropriate to topic - if not, explain in diary or log)
f. specialized reference source, such as:
   an almanac, an atlas, a bibliography in book form,
   a subject specialized dictionary, a directory, a handbook or manual, or an audio/visual resource.
g. world wide web site with information on final project topic.

The bibliography will be arranged in accordance with MLA or other standard style, (specify clearly which one you use) and will be in alphabetical order. A brief guide to the MLA style, suitable for use on LIS 2001 worksheets, will be provided.

Final Project counts as 30% of course average
This tour is intended to familiarize you with the various resources available in the Tampa Campus Library. You are encouraged to take your time during your tour. The items you are asked to identify in the following questions do not include everything available to you, but only serve to get you to the areas of the library that you will be visiting as you complete worksheets for this course.

1. Visit the Library Media Center (LMC). List three DIFFERENT audio/visual FORMAT items by title and format. (example: The Brain - Kit, Back to the Future - video, etc)

2. Visit the 5th floor. Find the "Curriculum Collection" and select one book. Write the title of the book and the Dewey Decimal Classification "call number".

3. The Library of Congress (LC) Classification letters for circulating books on the 5th floor range from what letter to what letter?

4. Visit the 4th floor. What are the range of LC letters for circulating books on this floor?

5. Find and give the title of any book with the LC classification number NC 1429.

6. What other library department is located on the 4th floor?

7. Visit the 3rd floor. What are the range of LC letters for circulating books on this floor?

8. Find and give the title of any book with the LC classification letter beginning GV 885.

9. Visit the 2nd floor. Newsweek has the call number AP 2. N55 but is found as bound volumes, current issues, and in microfiche format. Locate Newsweek by call number in each format, then indicate on the sketch below by writing B for "bound", C for "Current" and M for "microfiche" for Newsweek's location in each format.
10. What is the charge to make copies from paper issues, AND the charge to make copies from microfiche. (Hint: look at the sign on the copy machines and the reader-printers—some take only ID or copy cards and some take cash or ID or copy cards)

   ID or Copy Card: Paper: Microfiche: Cash: Paper Microfiche

11. Visit the 1st floor. Enter the Reference Room. Notice two of the clusters of workstations for LUIS/WebLUIS. Write the LOGIN and PASSWORD for any one workstation. (Hint: they are posted on the CPU)

12. Look at the CD-ROM/WebLUIS workstations along the back wall. Use any workstation, click on "Start", highlight a subject category, the write the title of one database available.

13. CD ROM/WebLUIS/WWW workstations print to network printers across from the reference desk. Locate, then write the directions for making prints from PCs.

14. Locate room 112F in the Northwest corner of the Reference Room. What is this room?

15. Return to the Reference Desk area, then locate the Reserve Desk. A sign on the computer monitors tell what is needed to check out reserve materials. What does the sign say?

16. Locate the "Reference Annex". Write the title of books with the call number beginning AY 67.

17. Locate the Circulation Desk in the 1st floor lobby. This is where you take books you want to check out. While in the lobby, locate the Leisure Reading books near the entrance door. Write one title available in this collection.

18. Visit the Lower Level (also known as the Basement). Enter the Government Documents Department. Locate the Florida Documents Section, then write the title and call number for one publication in this section.

19. Write the name and call number of any U.S. Government Document with the classification beginning I 29.6

20. Locate the Documents Dept. map area. Select any map and write the title and give a short description of the map.

The call numbers below represent books. Arrange them in order as they would be found on the shelves. Write the correct sequence (1, 2, 3, etc) on the line below each call number:

TR 145 145 740 1126 145 145 145
E2 E3 E7 E11 E23 E29 E282

Use the Library of Congress book, Subject Headings, and look up the subject heading assigned to you. Write the subject heading on the line below:

Is there an LC Classification number following the subject heading? If yes, write it:

List one "used for" term (UF):

List one "narrower" term (NT):

List one "broader" term (BT):

List one "related" term (RT):

List one subdivision:

Subject headings can be subdivided in several ways.

A TOPICAL subdivision limits a subject heading to a subtopic, such as ACCIDENTS--PREVENTION.

A PERIOD subdivision is used to limit a subject heading to a specific time period, such as UNITED STATES--HISTORY--1945-1970.

A GEOGRAPHICAL subdivision limits subject to a particular geographic area, such as BIRDS--FLORIDA.

A FORM subdivision identifies a particular type of publication about a subject, such as SPORTS--PERIODICALS.

For each subject heading given below, write the type of subdivision used:

a. SPORTS--ACCIDENTS AND INJURIES

b. SPORTS--BIBLIOGRAPHY

c. SPORTS--DICTIONARIES

d. SPORTS--ECONOMIC ASPECTS

e. SPORTS--FLORIDA

f. SPORTS--HISTORY--20TH CENTURY

g. SPORTS--PERIODICALS--INDEXES

h. SPORTS SPECTATORS--NEW YORK

i. SPORTS--YEARBOOKS

LUIS, the Library User Information System, provides access to the USF online catalog as well as the catalogs of the other State University System libraries, and periodical indexes. Type MENU to see a list of the catalogs and indexes available on LUIS. To search for books, journal titles, U.S. and Florida documents, videos, and other items available at any USF campus library, select "University of South Florida" from the list of library catalogs.

REMOTE ACCESS: LUIS can be accessed via home computer. Ask at the information desk for details.

TO SEARCH BY AUTHOR'S NAME
Type a= followed by the author's last name, then first name/initial if known.

Type: A=HEMINGWAY [Enter]  To search for: Works by authors whose last name is "Hemingway"
A=HEMINGWAY E [Enter]  Works by authors whose last name is "Hemingway" and whose first name begins with "E"
A=HEMINGWAY ERNEST [Enter]  Works by authors whose last name is "Hemingway" and whose first name is "Ernest"

For more information on author searching, type EXP A [Enter].

TO SEARCH FOR BOOKS BY TITLE
Type t= followed by the title.
Omit initial articles ("A, AN, or THE"). If you are unsure of the full title, type only the initial portion of the title of which you are certain.

Type: T=COLOR PURPLE [Enter]  To search for: The title "The Color Purple"
T=BARBARIANS [Enter]  Works with titles beginning with "Barbarians"

For more information on title searching, type EXP T [Enter].

TO SEARCH FOR JOURNALS BY TITLE
Type tj= to limit title searching to titles of journals, magazines, newspapers, and other serial publications.

Type: TJ=ETHICS QUARTERLY [Enter]  To search for: Journals and other serial titles beginning with "Ethics Quarterly"
TJ=WALL STREET JOURNAL [Enter]  Newspapers and other serials beginning with "Wall Street Journal"

NOTE: The USF catalog on LUIS does not include journal, magazine, or newspaper articles. To locate specific articles in journals, magazines, or newspapers, use an index to periodical or newspaper articles. For help in selecting an index, ask at the Information Desk.
TO SEARCH BY SUBJECT
Type s= to search for items on a specific subject.
LUIS uses Library of Congress subject headings.
Subjects are often further divided into more specific groups, called subdivisions. When searching these subdivisions, type your main subject term followed by two hyphens (--), then the subdivision.

Type: s=FRANCE
To search for:
Books about France
S=FRANCE-HISTORY [Enter] Books about the history of France

When searching by subject, you will often find *Search Under... and *Search Also Under... cross references. *Search Under refers you to subject heading(s) to use instead of your search request. *Search Also Under refers you to subject heading(s) to use in addition to your search request. For more information type EXP S.

TO SEARCH BY KEYWORD
Type k= followed by one or more search terms.
Keyword searches allow you to link terms from different parts of a record, such as an author's name with a word from a title.

Type:
k=Music
k=Censorship or banning
k=Music and censorship
To search for:
Any record with the word music
Any record with either censorship OR banning
Any record with both music AND censorship

For more information see the Keyword Techniques for LUIS handout or type EXP K[enter].

VIEWING SEARCH RESULTS
LUIS will create a guide or index of all records that match your search request. The two letters in parentheses at the end of each title on the LUIS screen indicate the library where the item is located.

CODE: LIBRARY LOCATION:
(SF) Tampa, St. Petersburg, Lakeland, FMHI
(SD) Government Documents (Tampa)
(SM) Health Sciences Center Library
(SA) Sarasota
(EC) Ft. Myers
(GU) Gulf Coast University

1. To display a specific item from your search results, type the line number of the entry and press [Enter].
2. LUIS has two display formats for viewing your search results. (BR)EF VIEW provides title, author, and publisher information, along with the item's location, call number, and status. (LO)NG VIEW provides more detailed information, including subject headings, editors, and physical description. Switch between these two views by typing LO [Enter] or BR [Enter].
3. While displaying an individual record, note the item's location, call number and status. This information identifies where the item is in the building (location), where you will find it at that location (call number) and if it is on the shelf (status). For journals, magazines, newspapers, and other serial publications, type HO [Enter] to see a list of all issues or volumes owned for a particular title.
4. To return to your index of titles, type I [Enter].

TROUBLESHOOTING
PROBLEM:
Mistyped word(s) in your search
LUIS doesn't respond (nothing happens)
Search results are from another university

SOLUTION:
Backspace to mistyped word/letter and type over the error.
Press [RESET]. Make sure that the cursor is at the bottom of the screen, at least one space to the right of the word "ENTER". If cursor isn't there, use arrow keys to move it.
Type MENU [Enter]. Select "University of South Florida."

DATE

To qualify your search by the date of the work use the qualifier dt= followed by the date range. Date ranges may be defined in the following formats.

- a single year
- a single year date can be truncated after three digits
- a range of years
- a range of years with an open end date
- a range of years with an open begin date

- dt=1993
- dt=1997
- dt=1990-1995
- dt=1990-
- dt=-1990
To qualify your search by the language of the work use the qualifier \textit{lang} = followed by the three character code for language.

KEYWORD TECHNIQUES FOR LUIS

Keyword searching allows you to link terms from different parts of a record, such as author's name, with a word from a book title. Keyword searching is particularly useful when:

- you are unsure about the order or spelling of all words in the title
- you do not have the author's name
- you do not know the precise subject heading used in the database

KEYWORD SEARCH COMMANDS

BASIC KEYWORD SEARCHING

- Type `k=` followed by one or more search terms

KEYWORD INPUT SCREEN

- Type `k` and press `<ENTER>`
  - Retrieves keyword input screen

EXPERT SEARCHING

- Type `EXS` and press `<ENTER>`
  - Used to perform a complicated search. This screen allows for a 223 character search string.

LOGICAL OPERATORS

- AND both terms must be in record
  - `hamlet AND shakespeare`

- OR either term may appear in record
  - `hamlet OR shakespeare`

- NOT records with term will NOT be retrieved
  - `hamlet NOT shakespeare`

Use caution with the NOT operator; it is easy to throw away records you really want to include.

PROXIMITY OPERATORS

NEAR terms within 1 word (either direction)

- `tom near jones`
  - Retrieves `tom jones` or `jones tom`

WITHIN n term within n words (either direction)

- `tom within 2 jones`
  - Retrieves `tom jones` or `jones tom` or `tom g jones` or `jones tom g`

ADJ term within 1 word (to the right)

- `tom adj jones`
  - Retrieves `tom jones`

SAME term in same field

- `tom SAME jones`
  - Retrieves `tom` and `jones` from same field, not necessarily next to each other

TRUNCATION

The truncation symbol (?) can be used at the end of a search term to shorten the term allowing one search to retrieve singular or plural forms of a word or different spellings of a word.

- `k=nation?` retrieves `nation`
  - `nations`

- `k=jorgen?` retrieves `jorgen`
  - `jorgensen`

- `k=national` retrieves `national`
  - `nationality`

- `k=jorgenson` retrieves `jorgenson`
FIELD

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ka= retrieves terms found in author field only</th>
<th>ks= retrieves terms found in subject fields</th>

LANGUAGE

This field must be searched using specific abbreviations. A complete listing of language abbreviations is available by typing exp limit.

lang=spa retrieves items in Spanish.

FORMAT

Limits to a particular physical format.

This field must be searched using specific codes. A complete listing of format codes is available by typing exp limit.

fmt=fic retrieves fiction

Multiple codes may apply to a single item:

fmt=cas retrieves cassette tape

fmt=rec retrieves sound recordings (cassette tapes, compact discs, records)

LOCATION

Limits a search to items in a particular library branch, collection, or shelving location.

This field must be searched using specific location codes. A complete listing of location codes is available by typing exp loc.

ks=world adj war and loc=fdoc retrieves Federal documents with World War in the subject field
EMAIL allows you to send LUIS records to your INTERNET electronic mail address. To EMAIL records, you must first select them by using the MARK command.

The MARK command is used to flag records to be sent by INTERNET electronic mail. An individual record may be marked from the bibliographic display screen. Groups of records may be marked from an index screen or an individual record display by indicating the range of index numbers to mark.

To flag a single record that is displayed, type MARK and press <ENTER>. To flag 20 records beginning with record 1, type MARK 1-20 and press <ENTER>. To flag scattered records: e.g., MARK 1-10,13,19,20-25 and so forth.

As you mark records, they are assigned a sequential number that does NOT correspond to the index numbers. You may MARK 99 records before EMAILing.

To EMAIL marked records type EMAIL followed by your complete INTERNET address and <ENTER>. Example: email jdoe@univvm.usa.edu

A message will appear on the screen telling you the number of records sent and the email address. (Ex.: "13 records sent to jdoe@univvm.usa.edu") There will be no error message if the wrong address is typed. Check your address carefully.

The EMAILed listing of records should arrive very rapidly. If it does not, the cause is most likely to be an incorrect address or a problem on the INTERNET.

The maximum number of citations that may be emailed at one time is 99. You may receive several files for each EMAIL command. These may not be received in the order that they were marked. The sequential record numbers are included so they may be returned to the original order if desired. Records from more than one database may be marked before emailing, but there is no indication in the emailed file of the database of origin.

For now, holdings information (copies, locations, call numbers, volume holdings, etc.) is not included with the records.
WEBLUIS ONLINE CATALOG HELP SHEET

WebLUIIS is a Web-based system that provides access to Catalogs, Databases and Gateway services of the libraries of the State University System of Florida. It uses a "point-and-click" method of searching via an attached mouse rather than typed commands. It offers enhancements to LUIS, such as links to databases with full-text material. Due to licensing agreements, remote access to some of these electronic resources is only available to currently-enrolled USF students, faculty, and staff.

Accessing WebLUIIS | Accessing USF's Library Catalog | Basic Search
Advanced Search | Advanced Search by Language, Location, & Format | Printing

STEP ONE

WebLUIIS can be accessed through the following address:

http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/

STEP TWO

To access USF's Library Catalog through the Virtual Library, place the mouse arrow on WebLUIIS/USF and click. If accessing USF's Library catalog from WebLUIIS (http://www.fcla.edu), be sure to then click the USF link.
A basic search screen will appear:

Click once in the search box to get a cursor. Be sure to click on Submit Search after you have typed in your query. A list of titles, authors or subject headings matching your search query will appear. The two letters in parentheses at the end of each title indicate where the item is located.

If you wish to narrow your search to a particular language, USF library location, or format, go to the bottom of the screen to the Limit by: section, and click on the down arrow in the appropriate box. Highlight the language, library location, or format you wish to search and click once.

PRINTING

To print records from WebLUIS be sure to mark the records you want to print by clicking the mark box. When done marking records, click the Print/Save Marked command.

BEST COPY AVAILABLE
If you wish to print the abstract or other extended information from a record, you will need to click the Long option. Next, choose the Prepare records for printing option and then click the submit button.

Click on File in the upper left corner of the screen. Click on Print. When the print window appears, click on OK. The print command will send to the printer only what is on the page you are currently viewing.

Note: You will need a USF ID card or copy card to print within the library. Copies are $0.04 per page.
1. Select the USF database in WebLUIS. Using the "Basic" search screen, construct a search, searching by subject, to identify circulating books in the Tampa Campus Library on your final project topic.

   A. Write the search command you used.

   B. Write the citation and Tampa Campus Library call number for three (3) books. Use the back of this sheet to record this. (Citation includes Author(s), Title, Place of Publication: Publisher, Date of Publication)

2. Titles of magazines and journals owned by the Tampa Campus Library can be identified by selecting “journal or magazine title” on the basic search screen in the USF database on WebLUIS. Construct a search to locate the record for the magazine Newsweek, then answer the following questions about the “detailed holdings” for this magazine:

   A. What is the OLDEST current issue?

   B. What is the last issue that has been bound?

   C. What is the range of years on microfiche?

3. In the USF database in WebLUIS, construct a search using the “advanced screen”. Include at least two keywords to identify a circulating book in the Tampa Campus Library on your final project topic.

   A. Write the search command you used.

   B. Write the citation and Tampa Campus call number for one book identified. (Author(s), Title, Place of Publication: Publisher, Date)

4. In the USF database in WebLUIS, construct a search using at least one keyword, and further limiting the search by either date, language, format, or location to find an item in the Tampa Campus Library on your final project topic.

   A. Write the search command you used.

   B. Write the citation and Tampa Campus Library call number for one item identified.

5. Locate at least one of the books identified above on the shelves in the library. Specify the book found by call number and write the topic of the first chapter or section as given in the table of contents. If there is no table of contents, write the first sentence of the book. YOU MUST LOCATE AT LEAST ONE BOOK.

   a. Call number:

   b. Topic of first section, or first sentence:

6. Evaluate the book in terms of the following criteria:

   Relevancy to your topic

   Timeliness or currency

   Authority in terms of author, publisher, etc

   Objectivity or Freedom from bias

It is strongly recommended that you examine and evaluate additional books for possible inclusion on your final project. Use the back of this sheet to record information.

Write your final project topic here ________________________________

1. Select a general, multivolume encyclopedia, such as Encyclopaedia Britannica, Encyclopedia Americana, World Book, or other similar ones, in print or Encyclopaedia Britannica Online in electronic format. Write the title on the line below:

2. a. Select an appropriate subject specialized encyclopedia suitable for your final project topic. Use EITHER the Subject Encyclopedias list in your packet, OR the reference book, First Stop: The Master Index to Subject Encyclopedias (Ref AE1.F57 1989), OR use the form subdivision "dictionaries" or "encyclopedias" after a subject in the USF database. Write the title of the encyclopedia chosen:

3. Locate both the general encyclopedia and the subject specialized encyclopedia. Using the index volume to the encyclopedias, find an article on your final project topic in each encyclopedia.

Select the encyclopedia article that you think is best for your topic, then give:

a. Encyclopedia article citation (includes author and title of article, encyclopedia name, date of edition).

b. Write one citation from the bibliography of the encyclopedia article, if given.

e. Which encyclopedia provided the best coverage of the topic. Why? Please be specific and give some examples. Continue on back of page if necessary.

   Find an article on your final project topic, or select another similar or related topic of interest if that topic is not found. (Such as if nothing on "Acid Rain" try "Water Pollution") Give:

   a. Title and date of the article:

   b. One aspect of the article:

   c. Write one citation from the bibliography:

5. Find a subject specialized dictionary, located in the reference room, covering your final project topic. If none, find one on a similar or related topic.

   a. WebLUIS search used (keyword or subject and search term):

   b. Title of Dictionary

   c. Call number of Dictionary:

   d. Use the dictionary and write one word and definition:

6. Browse through the English language dictionaries in the reference room (call numbers beginning with PE). Note the variety available. Select one that interests you the most and write a brief statement about it.

Finding Periodical Articles Using WebLUIS Databases

WebLUIS is a Web-based system that provides access to Catalogs, Databases and Gateway services of the libraries of the State University System of Florida. It uses a "point-and-click" method of searching via an attached mouse rather than typed commands. It offers enhancements to LUIS, such as links to databases with full-text material. Contents
Accessing WebLUIS | Accessing WebLUIS Databases | Basic Search
Advanced Search | Retrieving Full-Text Articles
At Your Library? (Finding Articles Within the Library) | Printing

STEP ONE
WebLUIS databases can be accessed through the following address:

http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/

STEP TWO
To access WebLUIS databases from the Virtual Library, place the mouse arrow on Databases and click.

STEP THREE
Note: This helpsheet is designed only for those databases on the list that note "Webluis" as the vendor.

This alphabetical list of databases gives the database name, coverage years, vendor name, full-text availability, and access restrictions. To get more information about a particular database, click on the blue "i" button. These databases can be grouped by general subject by clicking on the "by Subject Area" link. Some Webluis databases, such as General Academic Index and Business Index, have full-text availability. To select a particular database move the mouse arrow over a particular database name and click.
A basic search screen will appear:

Click once in the search box to get a cursor. Type in your query. To narrow a search to only full-text articles, click on the down arrow in the box labeled Format. Highlight Full Text and click once. Be sure to click on Submit Search after you have typed in your query.

ADVANCED SEARCH

If you wish to narrow your search within other fields or to add additional search terms, click on Advanced Search under Search Modes. Click on the down arrow in the box labeled Keywords. Highlight a selection and click once.

NOTE: There may be different limit options depending upon the database you are searching.
A list of article titles or subject headings matching your search query will appear. Click on the article title or subject heading you wish to view.

RETRIEVING FULL-TEXT ARTICLES

After you bring up an article record, click on Electronic Copy under Links to get the full-text of the article. If the record does not have an Electronic Copy link, see next step.

Or, if you'd like to return to your list of article titles, click on "Results List" in the "Command Options" column.

AT YOUR LIBRARY? (FINDING ARTICLES WITHIN THE LIBRARY)

If the article is not available in full-text, you need to see if the USF Libraries own the journal. To do so, click on "At Your Library?" in the "Command Options" column.

Next, click on Detailed Holdings to make sure the library has the issue you need. Note that the article citation with issue number is located at the top of the screen.

PRINTING

To print records from WebLUS be sure to mark the records you want to print by clicking the mark box. When done marking records, click the "Print/Save Marked" command.

If you wish to print the abstract or other extended information from a record, you will need to click the "Long" option. Next, choose the Prepare records for printing option and then click the submit button.

To print or download the records you have marked, please select a record format. You can then use your browser's "Print" or "Save as" functions to send the formatted records to a connected printer or to a floppy disk.

The print command will send to the printer only what is on the page you are currently viewing. You will need a USF ID card or copy card to print within the library. Copies are $0.04 per page.
Select the "WebLUIS Indexes". Select one or more appropriate indexes and search the database(s) in WebLUIS to identify at least 2 periodical articles, NOT NEWSPAPER articles, on your final project topic. Give the following information for each in the space provided below:

a. Write the WebLUIS article database and search command used to identify the article.
b. Give the full bibliographic citation for the article (i.e. author and title of the article, title of the periodical, volume & issue number, date of publication, and inclusive page numbers).
c. Write one Library of Congress subject heading used to describe the article (use long view).
d. Use the appropriate command to determine if USF owns the journal and issue. If owned, write the Tampa Campus Library call number for the periodical and specify format for the issue in which the article appears (e.g. bound volume, current issue, microfiche).

If the periodical or the issue is not available in the Tampa Campus Library, select another one that is available. If the article is available online, evaluate the article in terms of relevancy, timeliness, authority, and or objectivity. Record evaluation information on the final project notes page where specified.

1. a. Database/Search command (Subject or Keyword) circle one:

b. Citation: (Author(s). "Title of Article". Title of Periodical. Volume, date, pages)

c. Subject Heading given in the record:

d. Call Number (or online):

d. Call Number (or online):

6. Go to the appropriate floor of the library and find the periodical articles, if not available in electronic full text.

Write the first sentence of each, then evaluate both articles in terms of relevancy, timeliness, authority, and/or objectivity. Record this information in the "final project notes" section on the next page of this worksheet. You must look at each article in order to evaluate it.

If you cannot locate an article, choose another. It is strongly recommended that you find and evaluate more than two articles, but only two has to be recorded on this assignment.

FINAL PROJECT NOTES

PERIODICAL ARTICLES

What WebLUIS Article Databases were used to identify periodical articles on your final project topic? List all databases used:

Why did you decide to use these databases? (There should be a connection between database subject coverage and your final project topic).
List the search commands involved in using these WebLUIS Article Databases. Include search terms and whether keyword or subject searching was done.

Locate the periodical. Write the first sentence of each article, then evaluate each article in terms of relevance, timeliness, authority, and objectivity to your final project topic. Continue onto the back of this sheet. You MUST actually read the article BEFORE evaluating it. Do NOT rely on the database abstract for evaluative information or words. Look for some biographical information about the author(s) as a help in determining authority. What you write here will be used on your final project, so invest some time with it.

- Email the Tampa Campus Library systems staff: help@lib.usf.edu
- USF Academic Computing (includes Dialup help): http://www.acomp.usf.edu

Basic Dialup Information for Currently-Enrolled Students, Faculty, and Staff
See USF Academic Computing's web site for complete information and complete dialup access instructions. (Click "Dial-up Resources" and then look for the section "General Information" or for your operating system "Windows 98," "Windows 95," "Windows 3.1," "MS-DOS," or "Macintosh")
http://www.acomp.usf.edu

These instructions and modem pool numbers require that you have a valid USF host computer account in order to use them (i.e. a USF email account.) Faculty can register to use a special modem pool. Registration information is available under "General Information" on the "Dial-up Resources" page.

The Library also provides some Dial-up Access information: http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/help/dialup.html

What is the USF Virtual Library
http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual
The University of South Florida Virtual Library provides access to electronic resources which include indexing/abstracting services, electronic journals, online reference materials, government documents, and digital collections unique to the University. Additional print and media resources are available onsite at each USF library. Print and media resources held by the USF Libraries can be identified by searching WebLUIS.

Who Can Use the USF Virtual Library?
The USF Virtual Library is available to all currently-enrolled USF students, faculty, and staff. Some of the resources, including WebLUIS (the State University System of Florida's online public access catalog), can be accessed by anyone regardless of affiliation. Almost all of the resources can be used onsite at any of the USF libraries by members of the general public — the exception: Electronic Reserve system.

Do I need a USF ID card to access the Virtual Library?
You will need your USF ID to access many of the commercial resources that are restricted to currently-enrolled USF students, faculty, and staff. Your USF ID card has a 14 digit number starting with "205" or "221." This is your "library patron barcode" number. You will need your USF ID card to borrow books and media and reserve material. You will also need your USF ID card in order to access EReserves (Electronic Reserves) both on and off campus. Read more about Electronic Reserves at http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/help/ereserves.html

If you are taking Distance Learning courses, you can read about obtaining a library ID card and other special services at http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/services/usfdistance.html

What will I need to access all the Virtual Library resources from my home?

You will need a computer account with either the University or a non-USF Internet Service Provider such as AOL, Prodigy, Mindspring, etc. You will need a USF ID card in order to access all available databases.

Using a USF Computer Account

You can use a USF computer account and USF's dialup access: Accounts and use of the modem is free. USF maintains modems at each campus. USF is unable to provide access to non-USF students for contractual reasons.

Using a non-USF Internet Service Provider such as AOL or Prodigy

(Be sure to read the information below about Proxy)

Some students and faculty choose to use a non-USF Internet Service Provider such as AOL, Mindspring, etc. These users may find themselves living outside the USF local dialing areas or may find that dial-up access at USF is a very limited resource and at times all USF modems are on a modem pool may be in use. Those using non-USF Internet service providers should read the section on Proxy below in order to access all available databases.

I'm using AOL as my Internet Service Provider. Do you have any tips for me?

The Library has help information for AOL users http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/help/aol.html

What's Proxy? When do I need Proxy

http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/help/proxy.html

If you are using a non-USF Internet Service Provider such as AOL or Prodigy, you will need to change some settings in your web browser in order to access all databases. Read the Proxy Configuration Notes for instructions on changing these settings. The Libraries' proxy server authenticates you as a valid USF user and assigns you a temporary University of South Florida IP address.

Your USF Patron ID Barcode must be active in two places: the Circulation Department's database of Patron Barcodes AND the proxy database. Having problems with your Barcode?

• If you get a "proxy authorization failed" message email help@lib.usf.edu with your name and your 14-digit barcode number.
• Other problems? email refmail@lib.usf.edu or call the Reference desk at 813-974-2729 for assistance.

Some of the databases needing proxy configuration settings with non-USF accounts: Electronic Reserves; Britannica Online; Academic Index; Lexis-Nexis' Academic Universe

Access to "Classic" LUIS

(Many search features are only available via WebL UIS)

TN3270: nemvs.nerdc.ufl.edu (recommended)
TELNET: luis.nerdc.ufl.edu, log in as luis.

There is a separate modem pool for Tampa Campus access to LUIS: 615-4300
Settings are: 8 Data Bits, No Parity, and 1 Stop Bit
1. Visit the USF Virtual Library homepage (http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/). Select "databases", then click on "by subject area". Choose one or more of the online services, other than WebLUIS, then write the name(s) of those databases most appropriate for finding periodical articles, not newspaper articles, on your final project topic. Use the "I" ball to get information about each of the databases. Note that this list of databases includes all databases that in some way or another will provide information on that subject area, and that some databases are more subject specific than others. Select the most appropriate database(s) for your final project topic.

2. Write the name(s) of the database(s) you selected to use. If you use more than one, indicate the database used next to the citation for the periodical article.

3. Why did you select this (these) database(s)?

   a. Write the full citation for 3 or more periodical articles, NOT newspaper articles, that seem to be most relevant to your final project topic, and that are available either as electronic full-text or owned by the Tampa Campus Library in print format. Use the USF database in WebLUIS to determine availability if not available electronically.

      After you have determined availability of the articles, write the citations in the final project notes section on the next page of this worksheet. Citations to periodical articles include author and title of the article, title of the periodical, volume, issue, (day), month, year, and inclusive pages.

   b. Read each article in electronic full-text, or in print format. After you have read the article, write the first sentence then evaluate the article in terms of relevancy, timeliness, authority, and/or objectivity (RTAO). Record this information in the "final project notes" section of this worksheet.

 SERIAL - A publication that comes out at intervals
PERIODICAL - A publication that comes out more frequently than once a year. Includes magazines and journals.
MAGAZINE - A periodical designed to appeal to popular reading tastes.
JOURNAL - A periodical with a subject specialty. Often scholarly in nature.

PERIODICAL INDEXES - identifies articles published in specific periodicals.
Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature indexes the contents of popular magazines, such as National Geographic, Newsweek, Sports Illustrated.

This is an example from Reader's Guide...

The following example of a citation to a periodical article from Readers' Guide illustrates the various parts of a citation.

SUBJECT SPECIALIZED INDEXES, function like Readers' Guide, but index the contents of subject oriented periodicals, such as Psychological Reports, Communication Quarterly, etc.

To be able to identify and select specialized indexes, it is necessary to be able to categorize information wanted into subject areas. For example:

"Teaching techniques" applies to EDUCATION use Education Index
"Marketing" applies to BUSINESS use Business Periodicals Index.

Indexes can be identified in 3 ways:

1. COMMON SENSE METHOD
   Use the List of Indexes and scan titles for subject area needed.

2. ONLINE CATALOG METHOD
   Use "Form Subdivision" after subject needed: (subject)--periodicals--indexes

3. ULRICH'S METHOD
   Periodical titles are listed within subject areas. Information about them includes where the periodical is indexed.
1. Use the "printed indexes list" on the Reference Room wall near room 118 to identify subject specialized INDEXES and ABSTRACTS that will identify periodical articles on your final project topic. List all that you think are applicable:
Give Titles and call numbers for each:

2. Locate one or more of the indexes or abstracts listed above in the reference room. If more than one index is used, specify name of index next to citation below.

3. Use a printed Index or abstract to identify periodical articles, NOT newspaper articles, on your final project topic. Write citations below to three (3) or more articles that seem most relevant to your final project, not just any three articles.

Using the USF database on WebLUIIS, write the call number and format of the volume (current, bound, microfiche, or microfilm) for all 3 article citations, if owned by the Tampa Campus Library. If available and used as electronic full text, please note that in place of a call number. At least one MUST be available in the Tampa Campus Library.

Terminology

HTML - HyperText Markup Language
The standard markup language for documents made available to the World Wide Web (WWW). When accessed by a www browser, such as Netscape, the html document will display formatting, graphics, and links to other documents.

HTTP - The HyperText Transfer Protocol, as well as the server software that implements it, for hypertext browsing on the World Wide Web.

URL - Universal Resource Locator. A standard for expressing jumps to remote resources, as well as the method by which the web server retrieves information. It specifies the type of server to contact (such as an HTTP server on the world wide web, as well as the exact location of the file at the host named:

http://www.library.ucsb.edu/untangle/eagan.html
\ / host \ / file
http server on the world wide web

World Wide Web Browser - a software program such as Netscape, Internet Explorer, etc
   Here you will find descriptions of various internet search engines. After learning about several available search engines, select one that you feel will best assist you in locating information on your final project topic.

   a. Write the name of the search engine selected and explain why you chose it.

   b. Find information on your final project topic. Describe how you used the search engine to identify the information.

   c. Describe what you found about your final project, and how it is useful for your final project. Give the name of the web site and the URL. Please write this neatly, clearly and accurately, noting that use of uppercase/lowercase letters are important. If I cannot enter the URL and get to the web site, I cannot grade this section of the assignment, and it will have to be redone.

   d. Evaluate the information found in terms of relevancy, timeliness, authority, and objectivity.

2. Compile a list of 5 OTHER web sites that would also be useful in getting information on your final project topic. Include name and URL for each. Remember that URLs are upper/lower case sensitive. Please write neatly.

CONGRESSIONAL PUBLICATIONS
Search for government publications on your final project topic. If you cannot find anything, pick another topic of interest to you and write it here: ____________________________

1. Use WebLUIs to identify government publications on your final project topic. Write the citations and SUDOCS number for 3 publications appropriate to your topic:

   3.

2. Find any one of the publications identified in print on the documents shelves, or on microfiche. At least one publication must be found.

   a. Write the SUDOCS number for the document you found and then write a description of the document.

   b. Write a short statement as to how this publication would be useful for your final project topic. Record this information in the "final project notes" section of this worksheet.

3. While in the documents stacks, find one publication for each of the beginning SUDOCS numbers below, and give the title and publishing DEPARTMENT for each.

   a:  C 51.9

Statistical data is useful, and often necessary, to include in research reports. The U. S. Government is a major source of statistical data.

4. Use a recent volume of Statistical Abstract of the United States in print or in electronic format, or any other statistical source listed on the government documents page of the USF Library home page (http://www.lib.usf.edu/virtual/govdocs/statistics.html)

   Give:
   a. A statistic useful for your final project topic:

   b. Edition of Statistical Abstracts used and page number where information was found, or name of source if other than Statistical Abstracts:

   c. Original source of information (cited at bottom of table in Statistical Abstracts):

5. Use a recent year of Congressional Universe, through the Virtual Library, to identify a congressional hearing on your final project topic, or other topic of interest.

   a. How you found the information in that source (in detail that I can replicate the search)

   b. Full title of the hearing:

GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS

How did you search WebLUIS to identify the government publication found in question 1? (subject, keyword, author, etc.)? What were the limits and search terms used? And, if you want to use information found in questions 4 or 5, explain how that information was found.

Write a short statement about the usefulness of this (these) government publication(s) to your final project topic.

Evaluation of Sources

Book review sources include:

- Z1219.B6 Book Review Digest - in print format and electronically through the Virtual Library
- Z1035.A1B6 Book Review Index - in print format
- General Academic Index (as a LUIS/WebLUIS Database - search as title of book)
- Printed Indexes by H.W. Wilson Co. (on the last few pages of each issue)
- Newspaper Indexes in print or electronic format

Biographical Information on authors can be found by using

- Z5305.U5B57 Biography and Genealogy Master Index (Located in ready reference) also available electronically from Galenet or through the Virtual Library.
- Z5301.B5 Biography Index - in print form and electronically through the Virtual Library
- Periodical Indexes in print or electronic format
- Newspaper indexes in print or electronic format

Biographical information of authors is often included in the book or in the periodical article

Other Sources useful for evaluative information

- Books listed in a selective bibliography (such as found with an encyclopedia article)
- Use citation indexes (Web of Science Database) to see if an author is being cited frequently by peers Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory provides a list of referred journals. Z6941.U4 in print form and electronically through the Virtual Library
Using past assignment sheets, select one or more books and one or more periodical articles on your final project topic. Formally evaluate one book and one periodical article. If you cannot find evaluative information on any of them, list all of the sources you used in searching for information. Use one or more of the following to locate evaluative information:

Book review sources include:
- Book Review Digest - in print form and electronically through the Virtual Library
- Book Review Index
- General Academic Index (as a LUIS/WebLUIS Database - search as t=title of book)
- Printed Indexes by H.W. Wilson Co. (on the last few pages of each issue)
- Newspaper Indexes in print or electronic format

Biographical Information on authors can be found by using
- Biography and Genealogy Master Index in print and through the Virtual Library
- Biography Index - in print form and electronically through the Virtual Library

Other Sources useful for evaluative information
- Books listed in a selective bibliography (such as found at with an encyclopedia article)
- Use citation indexes to see if an author is being cited frequently by peers
- Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory provides a list of refereed journals

1. Write the citation for one book. Give as many reasons as you can find from the sources above, and from the sources referred to by those sources, why this book is or is not considered authoritative. Be specific and list all the sources used to evaluate the book. (For example, if you use Book Review Index to identify a book review in a periodical, it will be necessary to find the periodical and read the review, then list both the index and the periodical citation for the review, and summarize what you read in the review). If no information is found using all appropriate sources listed above, list each one and tell how you searched each one.

2. Write the citation for one periodical article. Give as many reasons as you can find from the sources above, and from the sources referred to by those sources, why the author is or is not considered authoritative, and/or whether or not the periodical itself is considered authoritative. Be specific and list sources used to find information on the author or the periodical. (For example, if you use Biography and Genealogy Master Index to identify a biographical sketch in Who's Who in America, list both sources and summarize information found in the biographical sketch). If no information is found using all appropriate sources above, list each one, and tell how you searched each one.
1. Use the USF database in LUIS/WebLUIS to get the call number for Essay and General Literature Index (EGLI) and locate it in the reference stacks, OR electronically through the Virtual Library. Select a subject on your final project topic or other topic of interest to you.

   a. Topic selected:

   b. Printed EGLI volume, date, page of index used, or how found in electronic database.

   c. Author and title of essay:

   d. Editor, Title of book containing the essay:

   e. Pages of book where essay will be found:

   f. Turn to "List of Books Indexed" in the back of printed EGLI, or from electronic version, write the publisher and year of publication for the book listed in 1d above:

   g. Place of Publication, call number and location for the book if owned by the Tampa Campus Library:

2. Use the USF database in LUIS/WebLUIS to get the call number of either Columbia Granger's Index to Poetry, or Speech Index, and locate it in the reference stacks. Identify a poem or speech on a SUBJECT of your choice.

   a. Subject selected:

   b. Call number of index used:

   c. Edition, and page where poem or speech was found in either

3. Use the USF database in LUIS/WebLUIS to identify a book-length bibliography on your final project topic, or other topic of interest to you if there are none for your topic.

   a. LUIS search term used (keywords, subject heading, etc)

   b. Citation for the book-length bibliography

   c. Call number and location:

4. Identify and locate Bibliographic Index (BI) in the Reference Room. Identify a bibliography in either a book or a periodical on your final project topic or another topic of interest to you. Write:

   a. Subject heading used in BI:

   b. Volume, page and year of BI used:

   c. Complete citation to book or periodical article cited:

   d. Call number and location if owned by any USF library:

Please Note: Recall Due Dates Supercede All Other Loan Periods/Due Dates

Renewals

Tampa Campus Library
Renewals are processed in person, via Email at renewal@lib.usf.edu, or via the Web at http://www.lib.usf.edu/accsvc/renform.html. The TCL permits unlimited renewals.
Materials held or recalled for another patron may not be renewed. With the exception of current BIS students, telephone renewals are not permitted.

Library Media Center
Videos and audio books may not be renewed. All other items may be renewed either in person or via the Web at http://www.lib.usf.edu/lmc/renuform.html.

Fines

Tampa Campus Library
The TCL charges 25 cents per book per day for overdue books. Fines may payed by cash or check at the Circulation Desk during operating hours, with the exception of one hour before Materials borrowed via Interlibrary Loan incur an immediate $10.00 per item fine and temporary suspension of library privileges. Fines in excess of $20.00 results in temporary suspension of library privileges. Recall due dates supercede the original due date -- FINES ARE BASED ON THE RECALL DUE DATE.

Library Media Center
Videos incur fines at a rate of $2.00 per video per day. All remaining LMC materials incur fines at a rate of 25 cents per item per day.

Lost Materials
You are responsible for lost material replacement costs. To avoid additional fine accrual, immediately report lost materials to the Circulation Desk. Failure to return or renew overdue materials results in their being deemed “lost” and billed to you. Delinquent charges are sent to Accounts Receivable and must be paid in the Cashier’s Office.

Obtaining Materials Not Owned By the Tampa Campus Library
You may request materials not held by the Tampa Campus Library using the services of the Regional Exchange Center (REC) or Interlibrary Loan (ILL). Online request forms are available at http://www.lib.usf.edu/services.html.

Regional Exchange Center (REC)
REC borrows materials from our regional campuses (i.e. St. Petersburg, Sarasota, Health Sciences, Lakeland, and FMHI). Books must be requested from your home campus REC office. With few exceptions, the materials are available within 3-5 days. Books may be checked out (in person) using your USF ID card. You may return or renew books at any regional USF campus. Articles are mailed directly to you.

Interlibrary Loan (ILL)
ILL borrows materials NOT owned by the USF Library system. You must be currently enrolled/employed to use this service. Materials must be requested from your home campus ILL office. With few exceptions, the materials are available within 2-4 weeks. Books may be checked out (in person) using your USF ID card. You MUST return books to your home campus ILL office. Articles are mailed directly to you.

Holds and Recalls
Materials identified by LUIS as being on loan may be held or recalled for you after the patron in possession has had the item for two weeks. Web-based hold and recall forms are available at http://www.lib.usf.edu/accsvc/recall.html.

Please Note: Recall due dates supercede the original due date. Please return recalled items immediately to avoid incurring fines.

Proxy and Family Cards
Patrons may extend their privileges to a student assistant, secretary, or family member by requesting a proxy/family card. To accomplish this, send the individual to your home campus Circulation Desk with the following information: your name; your Social Security number OR USF ID card number (begins with the numbers “205”); the individual’s name, and the date you wish the proxy/family card to expire. Please note: the patron requesting the proxy/family card is fully responsible for materials charged to his/her account by the designated individual.

DATABASE SEARCH WORKSHEET

Before searching in an electronic database it helps to outline your search topic in order to benefit from Boolean logic and other advantages of automated searching.

STEP ONE
State your topic in one or two sentences:

Example: The effects of tobacco advertising on young people's initiation of tobacco usage.

STEP TWO
Analyze your topic into key concepts (ideas):
(Terms such as "effect", "attitude", "relationship between" do not usually work as search concepts.)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concept 1</th>
<th>Concept 2</th>
<th>Concept 3</th>
<th>Concept 4</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>tobacco</td>
<td>children</td>
<td>advertising</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STEP THREE
Consider possible synonyms for the concepts, using the database's thesaurus if available:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concept 1</th>
<th>Concept 2</th>
<th>Concept 3</th>
<th>Concept 4</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>tobacco</td>
<td>children</td>
<td>advertising</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cigarette? (*)</td>
<td>youth</td>
<td>marketing</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>smoking</td>
<td>teen? adolescent?</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STEP FOUR
Combine terms:
(See back of this sheet for additional help)

Example: (smoking or tobacco or cigarette?) and (youth or adolescent? or children or teen?) and (advertising or marketing)

STEP FIVE
Modify your search steps, incorporating new terminology, eliminating irrelevant concepts, etc. based on your initial search results.

* "" denotes truncation (e.g. cigarette or cigarettes), although a different character may be used in different search systems, such as "" or "+".
Combining Terms:

smoking or tobacco or cigarette?
and
youth or adolescent? or children or teen?
and
advertising or marketing

Broaden Concepts

1 or 2 or 3
Items retrieved can be from concept 1 or 2 or 3.

Example:

smoking or tobacco or cigarette?

Retrieves materials with the words smoking or tobacco or cigarette(s).

Combine Concepts

4 and 5 and 6
Items retrieved must contain EACH concept, 4 and 5 and 6.

Example:

cigarette?
children
and advertising

Articles retrieved must include all three concepts: cigarette(s), children, and advertising.
SELECTING A TOPIC

1. Pick a topic of interest to YOU
2. Topic should match time and word limits
3. Base topics on available resources

Topic must have a focus

- Main Topic
  - Time period
  - Geographical Aspects
  - Interest Groups
  - Subheadings
  - Related Topics

Citation to a periodical article - includes the author(s) of the article, the article title, the periodical title, volume number (if given), the date (in month, year or month, day, year), and inclusive pages.

Classification system - a scheme for the arrangement of library materials according to subject. The Tampa Campus Library uses three—Library of Congress, Dewey Decimal, and Superintendent of Documents.

Controlled Vocabulary - a list of terminology used for subject headings (q.v.) to describe a book, periodical article, etc. and compiled to ensure consistency in use of terminology.

Corporate author - a group that originates a publication, such as a governmental bureau, a charitable organization, an occupational association, etc.

Cross reference - directions to look for information under a different subject heading (q.v.)

Depository library - a library, such as the Tampa Campus Library, designated by a congressman to receive and make available publications of the various U.S. Government agencies.

Directory - Lists names and addresses of persons, organizations, or institutions.

Electronic Database - Information stored in computers or on CD-ROM discs.

Form subdivision - a division of a subject heading according to a particular form of publication, such as a bibliographies, dictionaries, periodicals, yearbooks, manuals, etc.

Gazetteer - gives geographical information and data about places.

Government document - a publication issued by an agency of the Federal government, or a state government.

Guidebook - is similar to a gazetteer but includes local information not usually found in...
guidebooks.

Handbook - gives a mass of facts built around a single subject.

Indexes to periodical articles - identifies and gives a citation to articles published in magazines and journals. May be in the form of printed indexes or in electronic format as an online or CD-ROM database.

Interlibrary Loan (ILL) - a process used by libraries to obtain books or periodical articles from other libraries when those items are not part of the collection. The process is initiated by a library user.

Journal - a periodical with a subject specialty and scholarly in nature. Usually published by a society or institution.

Keywords - significant words in a topic that are used to search electronic databases.

LMC - short title for Library Media Center, the library department with audio-visual materials.

Literary criticism - a study concerned with defining, analyzing, interpreting or evaluating a work of fiction.

Magazine - a periodical designed to appeal to popular reading tastes. They are characterized by relatively short articles written in non-technical language.

Manual - a publication that tells you how to do something.

Microcard - a type of microform on opaque cards.

Microfiche - a type of microform on 4 by 6 inch film.

Microfilm - a type of microform on reels of 35mm film.

Microform - a photographic reproduction in a reduced size. May be in the form of microfilm, microfiche or microcard.

Monograph - a separate publication on a single subject. A book, not a serial publication.

Online Catalog - an automated system that has replaced card catalogs and used to determine what books, periodicals, and other materials are owned by a library. The online catalog for the Tampa Campus Library is called LUIS, and the world wide web version is called WebLUIS.

Periodical - a publication that comes out more frequently than once a year. (Includes magazines and journals)

Plagiarism - is defined as literary theft. Also to copy the work of another person and pass the work off as one’s own. Is considered to be academic dishonesty at USF. See the Undergraduate catalog for more details.

Quotation books - provide the correct wording, author, and source of quotation.

Remote Access - access to an online catalog or other computer database through a microcomputer, modem, and telephone lines at an offsite location.

Serial - A publication that comes out at intervals, such as weekly, monthly, yearly, etc.

Stacks - book shelves in a library. Usually refers to the circulating collection of books.

Subject Heading - The word or group of words under which books and other material on a subject are entered in a catalog. Subject headings are used to achieve uniformity.

Yearbook - presents the events of the past year in concise form.
VIRTUAL LIBRARY DATABASES

Selecting a database through the Virtual Library

There is a subject breakdown of databases by subject. Think of your final project topic as part of an academic discipline. For example, HIV/AIDS information can be found in medicine, in psychology, and/or in sociology, depending on the focus of the topic. Theories of personality can be found in Psychology, etc.

Once you have selected an academic discipline by subject in the Virtual Library, there will be several to many different databases listed. Please be aware that even though they all will supply citations to information in that academic discipline, they are not all equal in value. It is important to choose carefully the one or two that will be most helpful to you.

Not all databases are created equal
Databases, such as Academic Index, ArticleFirst, ContentsFirst, will include some citations, they are not necessarily the best choice. Select databases by clicking on the blue "I" ball. This is a symbol for where to get information about the database. The database descriptions will help you select the most relevant ones. Once you have selected a database to use, the Virtual Library provides a hot link that will take you to that database with just a mouse click on the title of the database.

Look before you leap; learn before you search
Before searching in a database, it is important to learn about the search techniques for THAT database. You need to know whether and which boolean operators are used, what are the proximity searching operators, how to truncate, etc. Florida International University has a handy page of truncation and operators for some of the databases available through WebLUIFS. The Instruction and Online Tutorials page of the Virtual Library provides hot links to help pages for most of the databases available.

Some examples of really good databases (not a complete list)

Reproduction Release
(Specific Document)

I. DOCUMENT IDENTIFICATION:

Title: Library and Information Skills Workbook
Author(s): Vastine, James P.
Corporate Source: University of South Florida, Tampa Campus
Publication Date: 2000

II. REPRODUCTION RELEASE:

In order to disseminate as widely as possible timely and significant materials of interest to the educational community, documents announced in the monthly abstract journal of the ERIC system, Resources in Education (RIE), are usually made available to users in microfiche, reproduced paper copy, and electronic media, and sold through the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). Credit is given to the source of each document, and, if reproduction release is granted, one of the following notices is affixed to the document.

If permission is granted to reproduce and disseminate the identified document, please CHECK ONE of the following three options and sign in the indicated space following.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Level 1</th>
<th>Level 2A</th>
<th>Level 2B</th>

The sample sticker shown below will be affixed to all Level 1 documents.

PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE AND DISSEminate THIS MATERIAL IN MICROFICHE, AND IN ELECTRONIC MEDIA FOR ERIC COLLECTION SUBSCRIBERS ONLY, HAS BEEN GRANTED BY
TO THE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTER (ERIC)

Check here for Level 1 release, permitting reproduction and dissemination in microfiche or other ERIC archival media (e.g. electronic) and paper copy.

Documents will be processed as indicated provided reproduction quality permits.

If permission to reproduce is granted, but no box is checked, documents will be processed at Level 1.
III. DOCUMENT AVAILABILITY INFORMATION (FROM NON-ERIC SOURCE):

If permission to reproduce is not granted to ERIC, or, if you wish ERIC to cite the availability of the document from another source, please provide the following information regarding the availability of the document. (ERIC will not announce a document unless it is publicly available, and a dependable source can be specified. Contributors should also be aware that ERIC selection criteria are significantly more stringent for documents that cannot be made available through EDRS.)
