CHAPTER I
THE ACCOUNTING SYSTEM

Each Iowa Community College is the recipient of monies from numerous sources. These monies will be expended for general community college operations, appropriated and expended for capital community college facilities, used to establish and maintain endowments, and for various other purposes, as approved by the local administration and Board of Trustees.

In view of the objectives of the accounting system, it is necessary to segregate the assets of the community college according to its source and intended use. For this reason, the accounting system is divided into separate entities called funds. These funds are the primary recording and reporting categories; therefore, every financial transaction of the community college pertains to one of the funds and should be classified accordingly.

In addition to accounting by fund, the accounting system should provide for accounting by organizational units and the organizational structure of each community college based on the activities performed.

The account classifications and definitions described in this manual have been closely correlated with the recommendations of the American Council on Education (College and University Business Administration). To ensure that financial reports prepared by the community colleges and the Iowa Department of Education will be comparable with reports of other community colleges of higher learning throughout the United States.

This accounting system utilizes a “functional” chart of accounts and a “general ledger” chart of accounts. The functional chart reflects the organizational units, or cost centers of the Iowa Community College. The general ledger chart sets out the individual asset, liability, fund balance (equity), revenue, and expenditure accounts. Revenue accounts are identified by source and expenditure accounts are identified by type and object.

In addition, the procedural philosophy of this accounting system is based on the following precepts:

A. Definition of Accounting

The purpose of accounting is to record and classify, summarize, and report the financial transactions of an organization.

B. Source Documents

Transactions originate from a variety of sources. Documents that provide evidence of transaction are called source documents. These may be a purchase order, a receiving report, an invoice, a personnel appointment form or letter, a payroll register, a cash receipt form, a check stub, a voucher form, or any other document that gives evidence of a financial transaction.
C. Classify

Transactions are classified by type and by the organizational unit of the community college benefiting from them. This is achieved by utilizing charts of accounts.

There are two different charts of accounts, as follows:

1. A functional chart of accounts lists the various organizational units of a community college with a numeric code to identify each unit.
2. A general ledger chart of accounts lists the various assets, liability, equity, revenue, and expenditure accounts with a numeric code to identify each account.

To classify a transaction, it should be assigned a code from the functional chart and a code from the general ledger chart.

D. Record

After being classified, each transaction is recorded in an orderly manner in a journal. The journal provides a historical record of all the transactions separated by their classification.

Community colleges utilizing electronic data processing equipment would record each transaction on magnetic tape, or magnetic disc. Periodically, reports would list transactions in chronological and/or classification order. These listings would become pages in a journal.

E. Summarize

The masses of data, classified and recorded as mentioned above, become more useful when summarized. It is not a single transaction, but the sum of all the transactions of a day, a week, a month, or a year that has the greatest significance. Therefore, totals are obtained periodically for each classification of transactions recorded in the journal. These totals, or summaries, are posted to ledgers. Some summaries should be made frequently; others only occasionally. For example, it may be desirable to know daily the summary of transactions affecting cash, while it may be useful to know only monthly the summary of transactions affecting salaries.

There are two basic kinds of ledgers—general and subsidiary. The general ledger reflects the periodic summaries and the balance for each asset, liability, equity, revenue, and expenditure control account. Some general ledger control accounts contain information on related, but different transactions that need to be maintained separately, as well as combined. Therefore, subsidiary ledger accounts are maintained for the summary of these different, but related, transactions. An example is subsidiary ledger which accounts for notes receivable from individual students, the total of which should equal the general ledger account, Notes Receivable Student Loans.
F. Report

The accounting process serves little useful purpose unless timely and meaningful reports are submitted to individuals needing to know the financial position of a community college, the income it has received during the accounting period, and the obligations and expenditures it has incurred during that same time period. Reports, then, should be designed to provide useful information to those persons and organizations, which are to receive them.

Account titles and descriptions may be added to this manual in order to meet a local community college's needs by using the unassigned account numbers in the appropriate object account code group classification. However, all account numbers should be combined into assigned numbers for state reporting purposes.
CHAPTER II
BASIC ENCODING PLAN

The account codes have been designed to enable each community college to accumulate financial data according to several different classifications, i.e., by funds, function, organizational units, program, section, source of income, or type of expenditure. In addition, the logic of the coding system makes it compatible with accounting systems.

A. The basic plan for encoding consists of 18 digits. The 18 digits are divided into five groups.

* Optional use by the community college.
 To be assigned by the Iowa Department of Education as needed.

The above encoding system, if used in its entirety, should provide for all needed detail. The community college should use digits 1 and 2, 5-8, 9-10 (if applicable), and 16 through 18, for classifying and recording all transactions. The use of digits 3 and 4, and 9-15, will depend on the degree of detail each community college's need for site codes (digits 9 and 10), the discretionary policies, needs of the Iowa Department of Education (digits 11 and 12), and the internal reporting needs of each community college (digits 13 through 15).

It is the intent that this accounting system may be used manually, by individual college data processing equipment, or by a terminal relying on a regional data processing consortium for necessary hardware to operate the system.

Community colleges utilizing data processing equipment can, however, readily provide for "variable" or "sub-account" codes and should do so. This will provide the flexibility to accumulate additional financial data on any segment of the community college whenever it is deemed desirable.
Two examples given below illustrate the maximum detail that could be used for encoding procedures:

A. Encoding of salary expenditures for an Arts and Sciences education course — "Zoology General" — at a different site than the main campus.

It should be pointed out there are no immediate plans by the Iowa Department of Education to request information down to the discipline and course level. Specific units for Arts and Sciences programs required by the Department of Education would be coded to discipline level (0100, 0200, 0300, etc.). The community college has the option to go into more detail.

A community college wanting more detailed information would utilize the optional digits, more specifically encoding digits 13, 14, and 15.

Final Encoding 17 3034 01 13 000 0 11

The preceding illustration demonstrates the maximum detail for encoding tuition. At this time, tuition would be identified to the function level. The present accounting manual includes 18 digits and that the mandatory usage of the 18 would be the following 11:

Fund 1 Digit
Function 1 Digit
Specific Unit 4 Digits
Site 2 Digits
Object Code 3 Digits

The mandatory 11 would not have to appear in any specific sequence at the community college level. A community college would also have the option of expanding beyond the 18 digits for local use.

Next to fund, the most important heading is a classification by organizational unit or activity. It is by organizational unit or activity that appropriations are usually made. The accounting system should reveal accurately the expenditures for each organizational unit or activity. If expenditures for a given unit or activity are made from one fund, the coding provides a means of assembling these figures.

To effectively accomplish its goal, a community college should be organized in such a manner that each area of responsibility is clearly identified—with managerial responsibility—and are sometimes referred to as divisions, departments, sections, or offices.

In addition to these organizational units, there are other activities of a community college that should be accounted for as separate units, such as individual loan funds, individual student organizations, and individual construction projects. In this manual, these activities will be referred to as organizational units.

The term “Fund” is defined as follows:

“A sum of money or other resources segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations, and constituting an independent fiscal and accounting entity.”

For the purpose of the “Iowa Uniform Accounting System for Community Colleges,” a one-digit code will be used to identify a “Fund” or “Fund Group”. The fund identification digit will always be the first digit of the transaction code. In addition, the fund identifier code will also represent the first digit of each organization code. Organizational units have been grouped by the activities they are to perform or objectives they are to obtain. The segregation of resources by funds further identifies the source of support for the specific organizational units.

B. Fund Groups and Codes

The following funds will be used:

1. Unrestricted General Fund
2. Restricted General Fund
3. Auxiliary Fund
4. Agency Fund
5. Scholarship Fund
6. Loan Fund
7. Plant Fund
8. Endowment Fund

C. Fund Definitions

1. Unrestricted General Fund

This fund is available for legally authorized purposes and is, therefore, used to account for all revenue and expenditures for activities not provided for in other funds. Organizational units to be financed through this fund are those which are generally directly related with the operation and support of the educational program of the college the only restrictions being those imposed by the budget. Procedures for handling cash reserve is shown in Appendix A. (If provisions are made for restricted general funds, then resources which are earmarked, or restricted for certain purposes, would not be included in this fund.)
Restricted General Fund

This fund is used to account for resources that are available for the operation and support of the educational program, but which are restricted as to their use. Some examples are: Tort Liability, Unemployment Compensation, direct Federal grants, and Chapter 260E Industrial New Jobs Training activities.

Auxiliary Fund

This fund is to record resources received, held, and disbursed by a community college over which the community college has determination as to the nature and degree of receipts and expenditures.

Agency Fund

This fund is used to record resources received, held, and disbursed by a community college as fiscal agent for others. Normally, revenue and expenditure of agency funds are not community college revenue and expenditures and should be reported separately. Chapter 260F Jobs Training activities will be included in this fund.

Scholarship Fund

This fund is used to account for resources available for awards to students who are not in payment of services rendered to the community college and will not require repayment to the community college.

On-campus Workstudy payments to students should not be included here since these payments are for services rendered to the community college and should be charged to the organizational units benefiting from the services. The federal share of on-campus expenditures shall be transferred to the benefited fund.

Off-campus Workstudy payments for students shall be included here since the college is not the one benefiting from the services of the student. Off-campus reimbursement will be receipted to this fund. (The preceding sentence applies only if the college reimburses the students. The college will then bill the employer for their share. If the employer pays the student, they will bill the college for the federal portion and it will be charged to this fund.)

Loan Fund

Loan funds are those funds whose principal is available for loans. These funds are established for the purpose of aiding students. Frequently, gifts to the community college furnish the basis for the establishment of a loan fund. Where both principal and interest are loanable, these should be placed in this fund. If the principal is not loanable, it should be placed in the Endowment Fund and only the loanable portion of the gift should be classified to this fund. The equity in this fund is increased by gifts and interest on loans and investments and is decreased only by the write-off of uncollectible loans and legally permitted administrative and collection costs.
Plant Fund

This fund is used to account for the following type of resources:

a. Unexpended Plant Sub-Fund

This sub-fund is used to account for resources which will be expended for the acquisition or construction of physical property to be used for community college purposes and resources designated for the major repair and/or replacement of community college property. Acquisition or construction of physical property, as used here, will be all-inclusive of the capital outlay expenditures previously charged to the Plant Fund. Assets consist of cash, investments, accounts receivable and amounts due from other funds and construction in progress. Liabilities may consist of accounts payable, bonds payable, notes payable, leaseholds payable, and amounts due to other funds.

As funds are expended for construction, an asset control account for construction in progress should be maintained. At the completion of project, construction in progress, together with related liabilities and fund balances should be transferred to the investment in plant sub-fund.

b. Debt Service Sub-Fund

This sub-fund is used to account for the accumulation of resources, which will be used for interest and principal payments and other debt service charges relating to long-term plant fund indebtedness. The transactions recorded in this fund are those previously associated with the debt service section of the Plant Fund. The assets of this sub-fund normally consist of cash and investments to be used for the retirement of indebtedness.

c. Investment in Plant Sub-Fund

The investment in plant sub-fund is used to account for the cumulative cost of plant assets, net of cumulative deletions. The assets consist of land, buildings, other structures and improvements, furniture, machinery and equipment, and library materials. Liabilities may consist of accounts payable, notes payable, bonds payable, and leaseholds payable which are associated with the acquisition, renewal or replacement of plant assets, recorded in this fund. The net investment in the plant is the fund balance representing the excess of the carrying value of assets over liabilities.

d. Voted Tax Sub-Fund (.2025 Levy) (Optional)

The proceeds of the additional tax approved at an annual school election may only be used for: the purchase of ground, construction of buildings, payment of debt contracted for constructions of buildings, purchase of buildings, equipment for buildings, the acquisition of libraries, paying cost of utilities and for the purpose of maintaining, remodeling, improving, or expanding the community college which approved the additional tax.
This is a restricted transfer sub-fund. The amount of annual principal and interest payment should by paid to the sinking fund (bonds) asset object code 114, or sinking fund (notes payable), asset object code 115, depending upon the type of financing used before any of the tax proceeds can be used for any other school purpose. Any unused balance (after the obligation for any one year has been met), may be transferred to the unexpended plant sub-fund.

Endowment Fund

Endowment funds, which can be defined as those resources, the principal of which shall be maintained inviolate to conform to restrictions placed thereon by the donor or other outside agency. Generally, only the income from these funds may be used and the net income from endowment fund investments should not be reported as transactions of the endowment fund group; but should be credited directly to the fund group from which such income will be expended, that is general fund, loan fund or plant fund.

The Iowa system of Community Colleges has two major community college functions. These two major functions are normally classified as the Education Function and Support Function. Within the two major functional classifications, higher educational community colleges have identified and established by community college decision, statutory requirement, administrative regulations, or inter-community college agreement, some comparatively well defined sub-functions. These are usually referred to as organizational units or activity centers in which closely related, well-defined tasks or services are performed within a major function. They are often shown on organizational charts, as an organizational unit, an activity, a section, a department, or other unit within a major community college function.

In the “Iowa Uniform Accounting System for Community Colleges,” the organizational units of each fund are grouped together according to the function they perform to aid in the classification and analysis of financial information.

B. Functional Codes and Groups

1. Arts and Sciences Education
2. Vocational-Technical Education
3. General Adult Education (Continuing Education)
4. Cooperative Programs or Services
5. General Administration
6. Student Services
7. Learning Resources (Library)
8. Physical Plant
9. General Institution

The above functions comprise the Education and Support Functions. These organizational units are financed through the General Fund Group (Unrestricted and Restricted).

Each of the other funds perform only one function, i.e., the Loan Fund's function is to account for loan funds, therefore, the functional codes for these funds can be used to further classify activities into logical groupings.

C. Function Descriptions

The Educational and General Support functions are those performed by organizational units concerned with the operation and support of the educational program. They are financed only through the General Fund Group. The exception to this rule would be as it pertains to related instructional activities in the Auxiliary Fund.
1. Arts and Sciences Education

All administrative and instructional organizational units of the community college which provide instruction in the area of college parallel and college parallel/career option, should be grouped within this function.

2. Vocational-Technical Education

All organizational units designed to provide vocational, technical, and semi-professional training should be grouped within this function.

3. General Adult Education (Continuing Education)

All organizational units designed to provide services, courses, and programs intended mainly for part-time students who are not a part of one of the instructional divisions of Arts and Sciences or vocational-technical functions. Some examples include: adult basic education, high school completion, supplemental vocational-technical, and short-term preparatory. The community college has the option to offer in this function other such things as: vocational-technical part-time, short-term preparatory and adult Arts and Sciences.

4. Cooperative Programs or Services

All organizational units designed to provide instruction for Secondary Joint Effort activities and all activities concerning Chapter 260E Industrial New Jobs Training and Chapter 260F Jobs Training should be grouped in this function.

5. General Administration

All expenditures of the Community College Board of Trustees, the CEO, and business office which serves the entire community college should be included in this function. Administrative expenditures, chargeable directly (prorated) to auxiliary enterprises, or to organized activities related to vocational departments should be excluded or deducted from the total included under this function.

6. Student Services

All organizational units, which are primarily concerned with providing services for students, should be grouped under this function.

7. Learning Resources (Library)

All organizational units, which provide for storage, distribution, and use of educational materials throughout the entire community college, should be grouped under this function.
8. Physical Plant

All organizational units, which are responsible for the operation and maintenance of the community college's physical facilities, should be grouped under this function.

9. General Institution

This function includes all other expenditures except those included in functions 1-8 above. Types of expenditures would be found in Chapter VII.

Each organizational unit or activity of any community college for which financial information is to be accumulated should be assigned a specific unit code. When the fund number, function number, and unique identifier is added to the specific unit number, a code number is established which identifies each organizational unit of the community college. By including the two-digit site numbers, specific location is identified. There are provisions for a range of 99 to 3999 specific units within each function. Some community colleges may not have need for each of these specific units. This is permissible, but for uniformity in state reporting, the same fund and function number, as presented here should be used. Specific units for vocational-technical education should be used as illustrated. Additional numbers will be assigned by the state agency based on need and requests.

A. Explanation—The General Ledger classification code is used to indicate the type of transaction or account. The General Ledger classes are:

- Assets
- Liabilities
- Appropriations, Resources, and Fund Balance
- Revenue
- Expenditures for Salary, Related Payroll Costs, and Fringe Benefits
- Expenditures for Current Expenses
- Expenditures for Capital Outlay

B. The General Ledger classification code is designed as a separate code to describe transactions and accounts regardless of the fund in which they are used. For example, material and supplies, expenditure account 632, may be used in the:

- Unrestricted General Fund
  - Explanation: (1) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (6 3 2)
- Restricted General Fund
  - Explanation: (2) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (6 3 2), and
- Auxiliary Fund
  - Explanation: (3) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (_,_) (6 3 2)

Codes which are not listed in this manual may be used by colleges for internal management purposes during the year. However, those accounts should be closed out into approved account codes at the end of the fiscal year.

B. Account Descriptions

The following brief account descriptions are provided as a guide. They are not intended to provide description for all the asset accounts, which may be used by an individual community college. Account titles and descriptions may be added to meet the community college's individual needs by using the unassigned account numbers in the appropriate object account code group classification. However, for state reporting purposes, all local object codes should be closed to those identified in this accounting manual at the end of the fiscal year.
Cash — 100-129

101 — Cash in Bank(s)

This account is used for the balance of money on deposit with a bank, subject to withdrawal, after deducting outstanding checks and adjusting for bank charges and credits. Each separate bank account will be assigned a general ledger number, using numbers 101 through 113. Special bank accounts, such as a revenue clearing account, would be assigned a number in this group of accounts and used by all funds jointly.

114 — Cash Sinking Fund - Bonds Repayment

This account is used for cash or other assets, and the interest or other income earned thereon. It is set apart for the retirement of bonds where the indenture requires the issuer to set aside periodically a sum which, with interest, will be sufficient to meet the redemption price of the bonds or to equal a specified fraction of the total, the balance unprovided for or left for refunding.

115 — Cash Sinking Fund - Notes Payable

This account is used for cash or other assets, and the interest or other income earned thereon. It is set apart for the retirement of notes payable where the indenture requires the issuer to set aside periodically a sum which, with interest, will be sufficient to meet the redemption price of the notes payable or to equal a specified fraction of the total, the balance unprovided for or left for refunding.

119 — Cash in Bank (Payroll)

This account is used to record the net amount of the payroll. A check is drawn on a general account equal to the net payroll and deposited to this account. A minimum fixed amount could be maintained in this account for an emergency payroll disbursement. In the event of such disbursement, the next deposit should total the net amount of emergency checks drawn, plus the net amount of the regular payroll.

120 — Returned Checks

This account is used to record checks returned by banks because of insufficient funds or other valid reasons. The checks are to be redeposited or converted into depositable assets by the drawer and redeposited. This account would normally be used only by the general current fund, auxiliary fund, and agency fund. (The funds receiving checks from individuals).
121 — Cash on-Hand

This account can be used by all funds to record collection of money. It would be debited for the amount of money collected. When the money is deposited in the bank, this account will be credited and the particular bank account would be debited.

122 — Petty Cash

This account is for a fixed amount of money set aside in the cashier’s office to make immediate cash disbursements for small purchases or services. The total of the fund should always be accounted for by cash on-hand, plus receipts for amounts expended. The fund is replenished periodically by an amount equal to the total of the petty cash slips or invoices. Each time the fund is replenished, charges are made to the appropriate organizational unit expenditure accounts.

129 — Cash in Bank - Property Tax Cash Reserve

This account is used to record the receipt of funds from property tax levy for the purpose of maintaining a cash balance.

Investments — 130-139

130 — Investments in C.D.’s or U.S. Government Securities

This account is used to record all investments of the college other than passbook savings. (Note: The Iowa State Treasurer should be consulted as to legality of certain investments.)

131 — Investments in Savings

This account is used to record all savings account investments of the college.

132 — Other Investments

This account is used to record all other investments.

Accounts Receivable — 140-149

This account group is used to record accounts receivable from all sources. These accounts should be debited and revenue accounts should be credited at the time it is determined that an amount of money is due the college regardless of when the money will actually be received.
Notes Receivable — 150-154

150 — Student Notes

This account is used only in the loan fund and is used to account for loans receivable from students. This account is debited when a loan is made and credited when a repayment is made.

Other Assets — 155-159

155 — Prepaid Expenses

This account is used to record all prepayments for services which extend beyond the accounting period. Periodic adjustments should be made so that the balance of these accounts reflects the prepaid amount for subsequent periods.

158 — Deposits

This account is used to record the amount of money deposited with an outside agency as a means of guaranteeing some performances. This account is debited for the amount of the deposit when made and credited when the deposit is returned.

Inventories — 160-169

This account group is used to reflect the value of the materials and supplies on-hand. When physical inventories are taken (at least annually) the inventory account should be adjusted with the offsetting entry to the expenditure accounts in the 600 series. Account 169 will reflect materials and supplies, and related costs included in a partially completed structure, such as a student-constructed house or building under construction.

Due From Other Funds — 170-179

This account group is used to reflect amounts due from one fund to another fund. They may arise from actual transfer of money from one fund or rendering a service to another fund. For example, if the General Fund paid the entire telephone bill of the community college and the Auxiliary Fund was supposed to pay some of it, then the amount due from the Auxiliary Fund should be debited to the account “Due from Auxiliary Fund”.

Transfer of funds, not intended to be repaid, would be debited to Expenditure Account 680, “Transfers.”
Loans Outstanding — 180-189

Plant Assets — 190-199

191 — Land

This account is used to maintain the acquisition cost of land. Costs of clearing the land and other site development costs should be considered improvements and thus recorded in Asset Account 193, “Other Structures and Improvements.”

The actual purchase of land will be charged to the expenditure account number 770, “Land”. At the end of the fiscal year, all the purchases of land will be transferred to asset account 191 “Land”.

192 — Buildings and Fixed Equipment

This account is used to maintain the accumulated value of buildings and equipment. The actual purchase will be charged to expenditure account 760 “Buildings and Fixed Equipment”, and will be transferred at the end of the fiscal year to asset account 192, “Buildings and Fixed Equipment”.

Deductions should be made periodically (at least annually) for items lost or destroyed because of obsolescence or physical condition. Care should be exercised in deducting items traded to make sure that the net value of items is deducted and not the gross value.

193 — Other Structures and Improvements

This account is used to record the accumulative value of fixed assets other than land, buildings, books, furniture, and equipment. Items included will be sidewalks, parking lots, site development, fences, flag poles, lighting systems, etc.

The actual purchase of these assets will be charged to expenditure account 780 “Other Structures and Improvements,” and will be transferred at the end of each fiscal year to asset account 193 “Other Structures and Improvements”.

Deductions should be made periodically (at least annually) for items lost, traded or destroyed because of obsolescence or physical condition. Care should be exercised in deducting items traded to make sure that the net value of items is deducted and not the gross value.

194 — Furniture, Machinery and Equipment

This account is used to record the accumulative value of furniture, machinery, and equipment for which line item inventory control is maintained. It is the control account for equipment that will be tagged or identified and accounted for in some other manner.

The actual purchase of these items is charged to the appropriate expenditure account --
The actual purchase of these items is charged to the appropriate expenditure account -- 710, 711, 730, 740, or 790 and is transferred at the end of the fiscal year to asset account 194 “Furniture, Machinery and Equipment”.

Deductions should be made periodically (at least annually) for items lost, traded or destroyed because of the obsolescence or physical condition. Care should be exercised in deducting items traded to make sure that the net value of items is deducted and not the gross value.

196 — Library Books, Films and Videos

This account is used to record the accumulated value of library books, films and videos.

The actual purchase of these will be charged to the expenditure account 750 and then transferred at the end of the fiscal year to asset account 196 “Library Books, Films and Videos”.

Deductions should be made periodically (at least annually) for lost items, traded, or destroyed because of the obsolescence or physical condition. Care should be exercised in deducting items traded to make sure that the net value of items is deducted and not the gross value.

197 — Construction in Progress

This account is used to record cumulative expenditures for construction in progress related to long-lived plant assets. At completion of the project, construction in progress should be transferred to appropriate asset account numbers 192, 193 or 194.

198 — Leased Property under Capital Leases

This account is used by the lessee to record the carrying value of lease property under capital leases in the Investment in Plant Sub-Fund. At the inception of the lease, this account is debited and liability account 264 “Leaseholds Payable” is credited in an amount representing the lesser of:

1. The present value beginning of the lease term of minimum lease payments during the lease term, excluding that portion of payments representing executory costs such as insurance, maintenance and taxes to be paid by the lessor, together with any profit thereon, or

2. The fair value of the leased property at the inception of the lease.

Liabilities — 201-299

215 — Employees' Compensation for Future Absences

This account is used to record liabilities for employees' rights to receive compensation for future absences when certain conditions are met. For example, this liability account should be credited and appropriate salary expense accounts debited for the value of vacation benefits which employees have earned but have not yet taken. The change in the carrying value of this account from one fiscal year to the next should be debited or credited to the appropriate salary expense accounts.

220 — State Income Tax Payable

This account is used for the amount of income taxes withheld from employees' salaries until the withholdings are remitted to the Iowa Department of Revenue.

221 — Federal Income Tax Payable

This account is used for the amount of income taxes withheld from employees' salaries until the withholdings are remitted to the federal Internal Revenue Service.

222 — FICA Tax Payable

This account is used for the FICA taxes withheld from employees' salaries and employers share if not immediately paid. The Community Colleges share expenditure account 592 “FICA (Employer’s Share)” in the Salaries, Related Payroll and Fringe Benefits group of accounts, should be debited. When the payment of the tax is made, cash will be credited and this payable account debited.

223 — Retirement Plan Payable

This account is used for all retirement contributions except TSA withheld from employees' salaries and for the community college's matching portion only if, for some reason, liability is not paid when the salary checks are prepared or at the end of the accounting period. This group of accounts is used to reflect amounts due to one fund from another fund. They may arise from actual transfer of money from one fund or rendering a service to another fund. For example: if the General Fund paid the entire telephone bill of the community college and the Auxiliary Fund was supposed to pay some of it, then the amount due to the Auxiliary Fund should be debited to the account “Due to Auxiliary Fund”.

Transfers of funds which are not intended to be repaid would be debited to Expenditure Account 680, “Transfers”.

261 — Bonds Payable

This account will be used in the “Restricted General Fund” and in the “Unexpended and Investment in Plant Sub-Funds.” In the “Unexpended Plant Sub-Fund,” this account is credited for the face value of bonds issued and cash account 101 “Cash in Bank” is debited.

1. In the “Restricted General Fund,” this account is credited for the face value of the certificates issued and the cash account 101 “Cash in Bank” is debited. In the event the actual amount received is less than the face value of the certificates, account number 266 “Unamortized Discounts on Certificates Issued” will be debited for the difference. In the event the actual amount received is greater than the face value of the certificates issued, account number 265 “Unamortized Premium on Certificates Issued” will be credited for the difference.

2. As bond proceeds are expended and capitalized for plant facilities, an amount equal to the capitalized asset is transferred from the Unexpended Plant Sub-Fund to the Investment in Plant Sub-Fund.

3. As bonds are retired, this account is debited and fund balance account 312 “Net Investment in Plant” is credited. As certificates are redeemed and certificates proceeds are expended, this account is debited and “Cash in Bank” is credited.

- The fair value of the leased property at the inception of the lease.

265 — Unamortized Premium on Certificates

B. Account Descriptions

The following account descriptions are provided as a guide. They are not intended to provide descriptions for all the fund balance accounts, which may be used by an individual community college. Account titles and descriptions may be added to meet the community college's individual needs by using the unassigned account numbers in the appropriate object account code group classification. 311 — Fund Balance Unrestricted

This account represents the portion the assets of each fund which are available for use by the community college. It may represent the principal of a fund, such as endowments or loans, or it may represent an excess of revenue over expenditures. If desired, sub-accounts may be set up to identify specific types of balances. At the end of the fiscal year all revenue and expenditure accounts are closed into this account unless other accounts are specifically designated.

312 — Fund Balance - Net Investment in Plant

The net investment in plant is the fund balance representing the excess of the carrying value of fixed assets over liabilities. Net investment in plant is increased through the acquisition of plant assets less associated liabilities, as well as through liquidation of indebtedness incurred for plant purposes.
Net investment in plant is decreased through disposal of assets. When plant assets are sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of, the carrying value is removed from the asset accounts and the net investment is reduced accordingly.

313 — Fund Balance - Restricted for Specific Purposes

This account represents the portion of the assets of each fund which are available, but restricted for a specifically designated purpose. At the end of the fiscal year, all of the fiscal year revenue and expenditure accounts for specific purpose are closed into this account.
