This document outlines Cypress College’s Strategic Plan to be used to guide decision-making and resource allocation for the years 2000 through 2004. The Strategic Plan begins with the Cypress College Vision Statement: building a college-wide learning community for student success. The Mission Statement states that Cypress College is committed to promoting student success and contributing to intercultural understanding and the economic development of the surrounding community. The College offers certificate, degree, vocational, and transfer education, as well as developmental and student services programs, in a student-centered learning environment. The Strategic Plan then describes the 6 directions the college plans to take over the next 4 years: (1) designing and enhancing classroom instruction to promote student success and certificate, degree, vocational, and transfer education; (2) fostering excellence in a positive learning environment for student/staff success; (3) meeting the challenges of new technology and supporting its implementation, use, and staffing; (4) empowering College students and staff to cultivate a campus that understands and embraces diversity; (5) developing and coordinating new and existing physical, financial, and human resources for greater efficiency and effectiveness; and (6) forming and maintaining collaborative relationships with the College and with other educational institutions and the community.
President’s Message

To Colleagues and Friends of Cypress College:

It is with great pride that I present to you the Cypress College Strategic Plan 2000-2004. Based on our experience with the 1996-2000 Strategic Plan, I know that this plan will be used to guide decision-making and resource allocation for the next four years.

The plan was developed with extensive involvement of all parts of the campus community: faculty, staff, students, administrators, and a community advisory group. The plan was reviewed and changes were suggested at the following activities held during the 1999-2000 academic year: The Fall 1999 Colloquium, the Fall 1999 meeting of the Leadership Team (including administrators, faculty coordinators, classified staff “leads,” and student and constituent leaders), the Fall 1999 Community Advisory Group meeting, the Spring 2000 Opening Day all-college meeting, the May 2000 Planning Assembly, the August 2000 Management Team retreat, and the Fall 2000 Community Advisory Group meeting.

In addition, the Planning and Budget Committee and the President’s Advisory Cabinet (PAC) discussed the process of planning and the plan itself at numerous meetings throughout 1999-2000 and early 2000-2001. On October 5, 2000, PAC approved the final version of the plan.
In comparing the 2000-2004 plan to the 1996-2000 plan, there are numerous changes, but three are of particular note:

- The college Vision Statement was revised to include “student success”
- A sixth direction was added to emphasize the college commitment to embracing diversity
- Evaluation of goals and action plans was made an integral part of the plan through the addition of “key performance indicators”

Also, we anticipate that some action plans will be completed before 2004 and that others will be added so that the Strategic Plan remains dynamic and responsive to changing needs.

A plan such as this is the result of the hard work of many people. Special thanks go to Dr. Nancy Byrnes, Vice President of Educational Support and Planning, for her leadership throughout the process. Sue Parmenter, former Staff Development Coordinator, was also a key contributor to the development of the plan. Barbara Hunt, Administrative Secretary in the Vice President’s Office, provided exceptional secretarial support to the project. Marc Posner, Public Information Officer, was extremely helpful in working with Vinh Dang and Dan Salisbury at District Production Services to put the plan in its final form. Members of the Planning and Budget Committee also deserve thanks for all that they did to develop a plan that is comprehensive, clear, and focused, yet broad enough to guide the college through the next four years. Committee members include Dick Bettendorf, Jerry Burchfield, Nancy Byrnes, Karen Cant, Mike Kasler, Susan Meyer, Albert Miranda, Christy Montenegro, Bob Nadell, Jann Nelson, Alan Ransom, Jesse Saldana, Keirsten Shourds, Vicki Sykes, and Margaux Totusek.

My thanks to everyone who contributed to the development of this plan. It was an example of shared governance at its finest, with the ultimate goal always being to help students achieve success.

College President

| 1. Encourage and assist faculty in developing and implementing varied instructional methods and student intervention strategies
   a. Create a more flexible schedule for curriculum delivery, including modular and short-term classes
   b. Encourage the use of active learning strategies, i.e., learning communities, collaborative learning, service learning, internships, and job shadowing
   c. Develop and maintain student intervention strategies such as the Student Success Program | 1-4. Improved student outcomes
   a. Number of transfers and transfer prepared
   b. Number of degrees and certificates awarded
   c. Percentage of students successfully completing courses 1.a. Number of instructional methods and interventions
   b. Knowledge and use of varied instructional methods and interventions by faculty |
| 2. Promote innovation and expansion of the curriculum and course offerings, including a specific focus on encouraging the development of communication and problem-solving skills, and an enthusiasm for life-long learning
   a. Provide classes for specific groups of students, i.e., high school, senior citizens, working adults, re-entry
   b. Expand instruction at off-campus sites
   c. Encourage the Curriculum Committee to be proactive in promoting the use of alternatives in curriculum design, i.e., curriculum integration of academic and vocational courses and multi-disciplinary approaches
   d. Continuously evaluate the general education requirements for the AA/AS Degree
   e. Develop a plan for a weekend college | 2.a. Type and time of course offerings
   b. Number of offerings integrating communications skills and problem-solving | | 3. Ensure that courses and programs are up-to-date, responsive to the requirements of employers and/or four-year institutions, and meet student needs
   a. Use advisory committee input and labor market data to ensure that vocational course offerings are timely and relevant
   b. Encourage vocational faculty to incorporate workplace skills (SCANS) in their classes
   c. Track students after program completion to evaluate effectiveness of instruction
   d. Promote the completion of degrees and certificates through such activities as “Degree and Certificate Days” on campus
   e. Establish a “Fast Track” curriculum process to respond to the changing needs of industry
   f. Establish a teacher preparation/training internship program for future K-12 and community college teachers | 3.a. Program ratings and satisfaction of leavers and completers
   b. Time it takes a course to move through the curriculum approval process |
| 4. Maintain and enhance basic skills programs
   a. Encourage student enrollment in study skills classes
   b. Provide more tutoring and individualized instruction
   c. Provide increased opportunities for at-risk students to participate in groups, e.g., study groups and learning communities, to help them be successful
   d. Expand Supplemental Instruction | 4.a. Number of students improving in Basic Skills area
   b. Number of students repeating a class two or more times |
