These Illinois skill standards for the banking cluster are intended to serve as a guide to workforce preparation program providers as they define content for their programs and to employers as they establish the skills and standards necessary for job acquisition. They could also serve as a mechanism for communication among education, business, industry, and labor.

An introduction provides a sample format, occupational earnings and employment information, and performance skill levels, a table that cross references performance skills to these occupations: (1) proof operator; (2) teller; (3) customer service representative; (4) personal banker; and (5) loan officer. Each skill standard contains these components: performance area; coding that identifies the state, fiscal year in which the standard was endorsed, subcouncil abbreviation, cluster abbreviation, and standard number; conditions of performance; work to be performed; performance criteria; performance elements; and performance assessment criteria, including product and process. The 56 skill standards are categorized into 8 areas: paying and receiving functions (20 standards); balancing functions (3); proof operations (5); customer service (9); advanced customer service (7); lending (3); consumer lending (5); and mortgage lending (4). ILLINOIS OCCUPATIONAL SKILL STANDARDS

BANKING CLUSTER

Endorsed for Illinois by the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council
Preparing youth and adults to enter the workforce and to be able to contribute to society throughout their lives is critical to the economy of Illinois. Public and private interest in establishing national and state systems of industry-driven skill standards and credentials is growing in the United States, especially for occupations that require less than a four-year college degree. This interest stems from the understanding that the United States will increasingly compete internationally and the need to increase the skills and productivity of the front-line workforce. The major purpose of skill standards is to promote education and training investment and ensure that this education and training enables students and workers to meet industry standards that are benchmarked to our major international competitors.

The Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC) has been working with industry subcouncils, the Illinois State Board of Education and other partnering agencies to adopt, adapt and/or develop skill standards for high-demand occupations. Skill standards products are being developed for a myriad of industries, occupational clusters and occupations. This document represents the collaborative effort of the Financial Subcouncil, and the Banking Cluster Standards Development Committee.

These skill standards will serve as a guide to workforce preparation program providers in defining content for their programs and to employers to establish the skills and standards necessary for job acquisition. These standards will also serve as a mechanism for communication among education, business, industry and labor.

We encourage you to review these standards and share your comments. This effort has involved a great many people from business, industry and labor. Comments regarding their usefulness in curriculum and assessment design, as well as your needs for in-service and technical assistance in their implementation are critical to our efforts to move forward and improve the documents.

The Occupational Skill Standards Act (PA 87-1210) established the nine-member Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC). Members of the IOSSCC represent business, industry and labor and are appointed by the Governor or State Superintendent of Education. The IOSSCC, working with the Illinois State Board of Education, Illinois Community College Board, Illinois Board of Higher Education, Illinois Department of Employment Security and Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, has created a common vision for workforce development in Illinois.

VISION

It is the vision of the IOSSCC to add value to Illinois' education and workforce development system by developing and supporting the implementation of a statewide system of industry defined and recognized skill standards and credentials for all major skilled occupations that provide strong employment and earnings opportunities.

The IOSSCC endorses occupational skill standards and credentialing systems for occupations that

- require basic workplace skills and technical training,
- provide a large number of jobs with either moderate or high earnings, and
- provide career advancement opportunities to related occupations with moderate or high earnings.

Subcouncils and Standards Development Committees

Under the direction of the IOSSCC, and in cooperation with industry organizations and associations, industry subcouncils have been formed to review, approve and promote occupational skill standards and credentialing systems. The industry subcouncils are: Agriculture and Natural Resources; Applied Science and Engineering;* Business and Administrative Information Services; Communications; Construction;* Education and Training Services;* Energy and Utilities;* Financial Services; Health and Social Services; Hospitality; Legal and Protective Services;* Manufacturing; Marketing and Retail Trade; and Transportation, Distribution and Logistics. (*Indicates subcouncils identified for future development.)

Standards development committees are composed of business, labor and education representatives who are experts in the related occupational cluster. They work with the product developer to

- develop or validate occupational skill standards,
- identify related academic skills,
- develop or review assessment or credentialing approaches, and
- recommend endorsement of the standards and credentialing system to the industry subcouncil.

Expected Benefits

The intent of skill standards and credentialing systems is to promote investment in education and training and ensure that students and workers are trained to meet industry standards that are benchmarked to the state's major international competitors. Skill standards and credentialing systems have major benefits that impact students and workers, employers and educators in Illinois.
Student and Worker Benefits

- Help workers make better decisions about the training they need to advance their careers
- Allow workers to communicate more effectively to employers what they know and can do
- Improve long-term employability by helping workers move more easily among work roles
- Enable workers to help their children make effective academic and career and technical decisions

Employer Benefits

- Focus the investment in training and reduce training costs
- Boost quality and productivity and create a more flexible workforce
- Improve employee retention
- Improve supplier performance
- Enlarge the pool of skilled workers

Educator Benefits

- Keep abreast of a rapidly changing workplace
- Contribute to curriculum and program development
- Provide students with better career advice
- Strengthen the relationship between schools and local businesses
- Communicate with parents because educators have up-to-date information about industry needs

The IOSSCC is currently working with the Illinois State Board of Education and other state agencies to integrate the occupational standards with the Illinois Learning Standards which describe what students should know and be able to do as a result of their education. The IOSSCC is also working to integrate workplace skills—problem solving, critical thinking, teamwork, etc.—with both the Illinois Learning Standards and the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards.
IOSSCC Requirements for Occupational Skill Standards

Illinois Occupational Skill Standards define what an individual should know and the expected level of performance required in an occupational setting. The standards focus on the most critical work performances for an occupation or occupational area.

Endorsed Occupations

Any occupational skill standards and credentialing system seeking IOSSCC endorsement must

- represent an occupation or occupational cluster that meets the criteria for IOSSCC endorsement, including economic development, earnings potential and job outlook;
- address both content and performance standards for critical work functions and activities for an occupation or occupational area;
- ensure formal validation and endorsement by a representative group of employers and workers within an industry;
- provide for review, modification and revalidation by an industry group a minimum of once every five years;
- award credentials based on assessment approaches that are supported and endorsed by the industry and consistent with nationally recognized guidelines for validity and reliability;
- provide widespread access and information to the general public in Illinois; and
- include marketing and promotion by the industry in cooperation with the partner state agencies.

Recognized Occupations

Occupations that do not meet the earnings criteria for IOSSCC endorsement but are part of an occupational cluster that is being developed may be presented for recognition by the IOSSCC. IOSSCC members encourage individuals to pursue occupational opportunities identified as endorsed occupations. Examples of occupations that do not meet the endorsement criteria, but have been recognized by the IOSSCC are Certified Nurse Assistant and Physical Therapy Aide.

Skill Standards Components

Illinois Occupational Skill Standards must contain the following components:

- Performance Area
- Performance Skill
- Skill Standard
- Performance Elements
- Performance Assessment Criteria

The IOSSCC further identified three components (Conditions of Performance, Work to be Performed and Performance Criteria) of the Skill Standard component as critical work functions for an occupation or industry/occupational area. The sample format for Illinois Occupational Skill Standards on the following page provides a description of each component of an occupational skill standard.

The sample format also illustrates the coding at the top of each page identifying the state, fiscal year in which standards were endorsed, Subcouncil abbreviation, cluster abbreviation and standard number. For example, the twenty-fifth skill standard in the Banking Cluster, which has been developed by the Financial Subcouncil, would carry the following coding: IL.02.FIN.BANK.25.

I. Developmental Process and Occupational Definitions

A. Developmental Process

After reviewing the current labor market information, the Financial Services Subcouncil recommended a banking cluster be an occupational area for which performance skill standards would be developed. This cluster meets the criteria established by the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC) for performance skill standard development, education and training requirements, employment opportunities, earnings potential and career opportunities. The careers identified in the banking cluster include proof operators, tellers, customer service representatives, personal bankers and loan officers. A product developer knowledgeable about banking began the process of performance skill identification. The product developer prepared an outline and framework designed to address the major skills expected in the workplace. The framework addresses skill requirements common to companies in the banking industry.

The subcouncil recommended the final skill standards product be presented to the IOSSCC. The IOSSCC reviewed the skill standards and met with the product developer, state liaison and chair of the subcouncil. Based on the review, the IOSSCC voted to endorse the banking cluster skill standards recognizing the occupation of Proof Operator.

1. Resources

Common and accepted references provided reinforcement for the direction given in the occupational framework. Those references included current texts used by educational institutions, curriculum guides from Illinois and other states and job descriptions from banking companies. Various people employed by banking companies were contacted. Those companies included Midwest Bank, Union Savings Bank, State Bank of Davis, Kent Bank and Fifth Third Bank.

2. Standards Development Committee

A standards development committee (SDC) composed of individuals who work in the banking industry was convened. The framework, initial outline, matrix and draft skill standards were presented to the SDC for review, revision, adjustment and validation. At a fourth and final meeting educators joined the SDC to review the skill standards for consistency in terminology and the assessment criteria for content.

B. Occupational Definitions

1. Proof Operators encode items using a proof machine. They must be able to locate and correct mistakes quickly. Proof operators bundle encoded items, prepare cash letters and send items to clearing agents. They must have good use of their hands.

2. Tellers are the primary initial contact at a bank. They conduct most of a bank's routine transactions. Their responsibilities generally include cashing checks, accepting deposits and loan payments and processing withdrawals. They may also sell savings bonds, accept payment for customers' utility bills and charge cards, process necessary paperwork and sell traveler's checks. Technology continues to play a large role in the job duties of all tellers. Computers often give tellers quick access to detailed information on customer accounts. Tellers can use this information to tailor services to fit customer needs or to recommend an appropriate bank product or service. Because banks offer more and increasingly complex financial services, tellers in many banks are being trained to perform some functions of customer service representatives. They must have excellent communication skills, enjoy working with the public and possess a strong math aptitude. Tellers must be accurate and pay close attention to detail. They should be courteous, attentive and patient in dealing with the public. Customers often judge a bank by how they are treated at the teller window.

3. Customer Service Representatives (CSRs) provide service and support to the bank and customer. Their principal tasks are to handle customer service inquiries, explain the institution’s products and services to customers and refer customers to appropriate sales personnel. Depending on the organizational structure of the bank, some CSRs will open and close accounts. Although the majority of customer service representatives work in branch offices and deal directly with customers, a growing number are being hired by banks to work in central call centers, take questions from customers 24 hours a day, update customer records and, if necessary, refer customers to other specialists in the financial institution. They must communicate with the customer to ensure that all questions have been answered appropriately for the customer.

4. Personal Bankers obtain information from individuals and business representatives who are opening bank accounts. They make the decision as to whether or not an application is rejected or accepted. They will also assist people in applying for other services such as ATM cards, direct deposit, and certificates of deposit. Personal bankers close existing accounts and place stop payments on checks. Personal bankers also have limited underwriting authority on consumer loans.

5. Loan Officers facilitate lending by seeking potential clients and assisting them in applying for loans. They also gather information about clients and businesses to ensure that an informed decision is made regarding the quality of the loan and the probability of repayment. Loan officers usually specialize in commercial, consumer or mortgage loans. They must keep abreast of new types of loans and other financial products and services so they can meet customer needs. Loan officers act as sales people. They guide clients through the process of applying for a loan which begins with a formal meeting or telephone call with a prospective client. They then begin the process of analyzing and verifying the application to determine the client’s creditworthiness. Loan officers make the decision as to whether or not the loan will be granted. Loan officers should be capable of developing effective working relationships with others, be confident in their abilities and be highly motivated. For public relations purposes, loan officers must be willing to attend community events as a representative of their employer.

II. Employment and Earnings Opportunities

A. Education and Training Requirements

Banking cluster occupations require basic workplace skills and training according to industry/organization standards. A high school diploma or GED is generally required for employment. Technology continues to play a large role in banking. Employment and educational/training requirements will also vary depending on the employer and position. An increasing number of employers prefer graduates of approved training programs offered by various banking associations. Loan officer positions generally require a bachelor’s degree in finance, economics or a related field.
B. Employment Opportunities

Both in the nation and in the state of Illinois, the demand for proof operators is expected to decline through 2008 because of technology. Banks that are online are impacting proof operator employment.

In Illinois, employment for tellers is expected to decline through 2008 because of technology (e.g., ATMs, electronic banking, etc.), bank mergers and changing employment needs. Teller employment is also being impacted by the increasing use of 24-hour phone centers by many large banks which are staffed by CSRs who can handle a wide variety of banking needs. However, about 1,160 openings will occur each year to replace workers who leave because turnover is high. Tellers who are trained to provide a variety of services will be in greater demand in the future.

Faster than average employment growth is expected for CSRs through 2008. CSRs have much interpersonal contact with customers which cannot be automated. About 790 job openings are expected each year for CSRs across many industries of which banking is one segment.

Demand for personal bankers is expected to grow about as fast as average through 2008. An increasing population and expanding economy will drive job growth.

Employment of loan officers is expected to increase about as fast as average through 2008, and about 480 job openings are expected each year. This is partially due to the fact that banks generate most of their income from loans. An increasing population, expanding economy and low interest rates will drive job growth. Many job openings will occur as workers transfer to other occupations or leave the workforce. Individuals who hold a bachelor's degree and have experience as a credit analyst or in sales will have the best opportunities.

III. Assessment and Credentialing Systems

The IOSSCC recognizes that industry commitment for third-party assessment is beneficial and requests that each SDC and/or subcouncil identifies the most beneficial method for assessing the standards.

Various banking associations provide certificates of completion for continuing education in specific banking courses.
IV. Industry Support and Commitment

The primary areas currently identified for industry support and commitment of occupational skill standards are development, updating and marketing. Business and industry partners may identify future uses of occupational skill standards such as credentialing/certification, career development of employees and specifications for out-source training programs.

A. Industry Commitment for Development and Updating

1. The development of skill standards for the banking cluster is the direct result of efforts by the Financial Services Subcouncil and the SDC. Names of persons serving on the subcouncil and SDC are located in the appendices.

2. In developing the products, the following steps were completed.
   a. Identification and prioritization of a career ladder, identifying jobs by name
   b. Review of resources
   c. Development of a draft matrix of performance standards
   d. Development of a performance standard that was identified on the matrix
   e. Convening of the SDC
   f. Review, validation and approval of the skill standards by the SDC
   g. Review and approval of the standards by the subcouncil
   h. Endorsement of the skill standards by the IOSSCC

B. Industry Commitment for Marketing

The Financial Services Subcouncil is committed to marketing and obtaining support and endorsement from the leading industry associations impacted by the skill standards. Upon recognition/endorsement of the standards by the IOSSCC, the subcouncil strongly recommends that professional trade groups, academic groups, etc. develop and provide an in-service/seminar package to promote skill standard awareness and to obtain full industry support and commitment for the development of a full industry marketing plan.

The Financial Services Subcouncil encourages the availability of skill standards to the public including learners, parents, workers, educators at all levels, employers and industry personnel.
ASSUMPTIONS FOR BANKING CLUSTER
SKILL STANDARDS

Skill standards assume that individuals have received education and/or training in a setting such as a secondary, postsecondary and/or apprenticeship/on-the-job training program and have the background knowledge necessary for performing the skill standards contained in this publication. The education and/or training includes instruction for the proper handling and operation of materials, tools and equipment required for performing the skills including the purpose of use, when to use, how to use and any related safety issues.

The instructional/training program must adhere to all local, state and federal licensing and/or certification requirements as set by law, if applicable.

The standards development committee developed these skill standards based on the following assumptions:

1. Workplace skills (employability skills) are expected of the individual. Socialization skills needed for work are related to lifelong career experience and are not solely a part of the initial schooling process. These are not included with this set of statements.

2. Specific policies and procedures of the work site will be made known to the individual and will be followed.

3. Time elements outlined for the skill standards result from the experience and consideration of the panel of experts who made up the standards development committee.

4. Skills will progress from simple to complex. Once a skill has been successfully completed, it will be incorporated into more complex skills.

5. Skill standards describe the skill only and do not detail the background knowledge or theory related to the particular skill base. Although the skill standard enumerates steps to successful demonstration, rote approaches to the outcomes are not prescribed.

6. Skills will be completed in an expedient and safe manner.

7. Skill standards are selected because they meet workplace needs and are designed to meet professional standards of practice.

8. Skill standards do not replace, supersede or substitute for procedure manuals.

9. Skill standards do not supersede or take the place of industry certification or graduation from an accredited program of study.

10. Basic accounting, clerical, computer and secretarial skills are covered elsewhere in other skills standards.

11. There is an increasing overlap between some jobs in the banking, insurance and securities industries. The skills covered here are related specifically to the banking industry.

12. The time requirements for skills are approximate and do not account for complex situations or special needs of customers.

13. Individuals employing banking skills must be in compliance with the Right to Financial Privacy Act.

14. Different banking occupations may have expanded duties based on the size of the bank and its organizational structure.

15. Skills are performed in a respectful and courteous manner.

<td>A process of measuring performance against a set of standards through examinations, practical tests, performance observations and/or the completion of work portfolios.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Content Standard</td>
<td>A specification of what someone should know or be able to do to successfully perform a work activity or demonstrate a skill.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Critical Work Functions</td>
<td>Distinct and economically meaningful sets of work activities critical to a work process or business unit which are performed to achieve a given work objective with work outputs that have definable performance criteria. A critical work function has three major components:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Conditions of Performance: The information, tools, equipment and other resources provided to a person for a work performance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Work to Be Performed: A description of the work to be performed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Performance Criteria: The criteria used to determine the required level of performance. These criteria could include product characteristics (e.g., accuracy levels, appearance, etc.), process or procedure requirements (e.g., safety, standard professional procedures, etc.) and time and resource requirements. The IOSSCC requires that these performance criteria be further specified by more detailed individual performance elements and assessment criteria.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Credentia ling</td>
<td>The provision of a certificate or award to an individual indicating the attainment of a designated set of knowledge and skills and/or the demonstration of a set of critical work functions for an industry/occupational area.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentia ling Council (IOSSCC)</td>
<td>Legislated body representing business and industry which establishes skill standards criteria, endorses final products approved by the industry subcouncil and standards development committee and assists in marketing and dissemination of occupational skill standards.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Industry</td>
<td>Type of economic activity, or product or service produced or provided in a physical location (employer establishment). They are usually defined in terms of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system.</td>
</tr>
