History of HCC

The Houston Community College District was created under the governance of the Houston Independent School District (HISD) as the result of a public referendum on May 18, 1971. In August of that year, more than 5,700 students enrolled in workforce education courses held at the Houston Technical Institute (housed in HISD's San Jacinto High School). In the following semester, academic transfer classes were added and taught at six HISD locations.

By 1977, HCC had an enrollment of more than 28,000 students and was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS). In 1989, HCC separated from HISD, establishing its own Board of Trustees and taxing authority. HCC restructured in 1991, creating five regional colleges, as well as the College Without Walls, and selected presidents for each. The president of HCC then became the HCC System Chancellor. The Coleman College for Health Sciences replaced the College Without Walls in 2004. Dr. Mary S. Spangler became the seventh Houston Community College Chancellor in March of 2007. By Fall 2010, HCC had over 74,000 students enrolled, and consisted of 66 separate physical facilities with a service area of 623 square miles.

Since its opening in 1971, more than 1.8 million students have improved their lives through education and training obtained from Houston Community College. An open-admission public institution, HCC awards associate degrees and certificates in academic studies and career and technology programs. HCC is committed to meeting the needs of its diverse communities, providing academic courses for transfer to four-year institutions, terminal degrees and certificates in more than 70 fields of work; as well as, continuing education and corporate training, lifelong learning and enrichment programs, and the largest adult education program in Texas.

HCC wins top award for community colleges across the country

February 7, 2011 by HCC Media Room

The Institute of Higher Education at the University of Florida awarded Houston Community College the prestigious Bellwether Award at the 2011 Community College Futures Assembly in Orlando, Florida. HCC won in the highly competitive category of Workforce Development for its presentation “Exporting Houston Community College.”

The Bellwether Award focuses on cutting-edge, trendsetting programs that can be adopted as a best practice by other institutes of higher education. HCC’s “Exporting Houston Community College” demonstrated how HCC is in the forefront of preparing students for the demands of globalization, where adaptability and resilience reign supreme. From its fully American-accredited associate degrees offered in Vietnam to its partnerships in Brazil and the Middle East, HCC has reassessed and expanded its service community.

The Bellwether Award confirms that Houston Community College is not only a local leader in higher education but its expertise has a global demand. With the strategic intent of finding a right fit, HCC adapts to its partners’ needs rather than standardizes or replicates its existing community college model.

Process involves electronic matching of social security numbers of students with Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Unemployment Insurance (UI) wage records, DOD records, federal databases of civil employees, and the public higher education enrollment database maintained by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB). Incarcerated students enrolled in academic programs as well as students with invalid SSNs are excluded from the cohort.

ADDITIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION AND NOT EMPLOYED - Students found to be enrolled in a Texas public higher education institution in the Fall following a given academic year, and not found in employment records.

ADDITIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION AND EMPLOYED - Students found to be both enrolled in a Texas public higher education institution in the Fall following a given academic year and employed via employment records.

THECB began receiving independent college and university enrollments and degrees in FY 2003, which is having an impact on graduation and transfer rates. Includes transfers to Texas public institutions only.
