The Voice Within

Angela Brown
E-mail: akhristin.brown@centurylink.net

Doi:10.7575/aiac.all.v.6n.2p.21
URL: http://dx.doi.org/10.7575/aiac.all.v.6n.2p.21

Received: 05/11/2014
Accepted: 13/01/2015

Abstract

Love and loss is facing the truth behind the facts that bears deep in our hearts. A child is not born a racist. Racism is something taught through words and actions. The fight against hate begins by demonstrating love and acts of kindness. The difference between love and hate is within the context of the idea of inherent expression conducted through actions.

Keywords: Relationships, love, loss, pain, regret

I have faced conflict, sorrow and defeat and some people have analyzed my life; but I always felt happy with who I am and good about my life. Look beyond your image and you will find the purpose in your life. If you have a God given talent use it by sharing it with others inspiring others to have an appreciation for what you do. Never forget where you came from. It is from those who touched your life that helped make you into the person you are today. If you have a talent, use it by sharing your gift with others giving back to the community from the person you have become. The relationship between men is based upon valuing his self-worth. There are a few diversity conflict when confronting your level of success. There are the people who support you. There are the people who think you are the right person for the job. There are those who will try to prove you are not as good as them. There are those who will try to take success away from you. There are those who will try to prove there is something mentally wrong with you because most people don't do things like that or never made it that far. You always treat everyone with respect because you do not what personality of influence they have. Not everyone can be an idealist. Don’t let anyone define who you are. Anything is possible that underlines truth. Expression has developed the course of history. Expression is a voice in defining cultural identity. Expression is the passion for respecting others.

I am a middle aged female who has a need to having her voice heard. I want to touch other’s lives with the words I speak. I ask to close your eyes and open up to what is being said. You may not understand, but you will relate to what is said in my lines of poetry. I feel pain, love and loss. These are the words I write in my lines of poetry. Memories sustain holding you near my heart will always remain.

I have frequently explored the principals of theoretical criticism. The study is aimed at exploring the structured of the mind and deviation of cultural expression through personal experience. Cultural expression is defined through the social convictions of society. Expression exhibits the scheme of elements of ideas.

Word Power
there is something I wanted to say, if only you listen to my thoughts, words are confusing me, can't rest my mind on what I feel, my emotions twist my words around,
I can't think back, it is not what it was supposed to be, why did you not respond to my actions, actions speak in gestures, words speak in symbols, the matter of truth is misspelled, let us speak in honesty, you cannot begin to understand, what I am trying to say is...

I can benefit from the exposure.
I write poetry as a form of expression and I feel I have a need to have my voice heard. I use personal experience to communicate with the audience through the images of expressing metaphors, analogies and emotions I reflect on cultural experience to explicate meaning to passionate words that describe a state of being found poems using words taken from text alogies, poetic themes used poems words based on personal experiences translate words from other languages compared from Shakespeare analytical antidotes.
my voice to tell a story to create images to create emotions that give life knowledge in relating a message about personal conviction about how I relate to life to my struggle.
I use talent to address problems of the people behind it that make others understand me I am poet
I make a difference in my voice
Poetry is the mirror image of perfection:
Its meaningful text, burns words for eternity.

Our Grandmothers

She lay, skin down in the moist dirt, the canebrake rustling with the whispers of leaves, and loud longing of hounds and the ransack of hunters crackling the near branches.

She muttered, lifting her head a nod toward freedom,
I shall not, I shall not be moved.

She gathered her babies, their tears slick as oil on black faces, their young eyes canvassing mornings of madness.
Momma, is Master going to sell you from us tomorrow?

Yes.
Unless you keep walking more and talking less.
Yes.
Unless the keeper of our lives releases me from all commandments.
Yes.
And your lives,
ever mine to live, will be executed upon the killing floor of innocents.
Unless you match my heart and words, saying with me,

I shall not be moved.

In Virginia tobacco fields, leaning into the curve of Steinway pianos, along Arkansas roads, in the red hills of Georgia, into the palms of her chained hands, she cried against calamity, You have tried to destroy me and though I perish daily,

I shall not be moved.

Her universe, often summarized into one black body falling finally from the tree to her feet, made her cry each time into a new voice.
All my past hastens to defeat, and strangers claim the glory of my love, Iniquity has bound me to his bed.

Yet, I must not be moved.

She heard the names, swirling ribbons in the wind of history:
  nigger, nigger bitch, heifer, mammy, property, creature, ape, baboon, whore, hot tail, thing, it.
She said, but my description cannot fit your tongue, for I have a certain way of being in this world,

And I shall not, I shall not be moved.

No angel stretched protecting wings above the heads of her children, fluttering and urging the winds of reason into the confusions of their lives.
The sprouted like young weeds, but she could not shield their growth from the grinding blades of ignorance, nor shape them into symbolic topiaries.
She sent them away, underground, overland, in coaches and shoeless.

When you learn, teach.
When you get, give.
As for me,

I shall not be moved.

She stood in midocean, seeking dry land.
She searched God's face.
Assured,
she placed her fire of service on the altar, and though clothed in the finery of faith, when she appeared at the temple door, no sign welcomed Black Grandmother, Enter here.

Into the crashing sound, into wickedness, she cried, No one, no, nor no one million ones dare deny me God, I go forth along, and stand as ten thousand.

    The Divine upon my right impels me to pull forever at the latch on Freedom's gate.

    The Holy Spirit upon my left leads my feet without ceasing into the camp of the righteous and into the tents of the free.

These momma faces, lemon-yellow, plum-purple, honey-brown, have grimaced and twisted down a pyramid for years.
She is Sheba the Sojourner, Harriet and Zora,
Mary Bethune and Angela,
Annie to Zenobia.

    She stands before the abortion clinic, confounded by the lack of choices.
In the Welfare line, reduced to the pity of handouts.
Ordained in the pulpit, shielded by the mysteries.
In the operating room,
husbanding life.
In the choir loft,
holding God in her throat.
On lonely street corners, hawking her body.
In the classroom, loving the children to understanding.

Centered on the world's stage, she sings to her loves and beloveds, to her foes and detractors:
However I am perceived and deceived, however my ignorance and conceits, lay aside your fears that I will be undone,

For I shall not be moved.

Dance of Death

    Mourning is hell
A rusted hand reaching out Into discovery.
Dead upon arrival
Heavy breath whispering
    Into dawn.
The winter cold
Presses its roots
Into the surface of my heart.
Blood drips from a palate
Of forgotten silence
The dark bitter past.
Part of being removed Part of being replaced Part of being used,
Of imaging your presence
Negating my life
Emerging from death
Engaging death's strength
Into a cavity of fire.
Death has pierced my soul
Had death danced its last word Smiling, fading, smiling Gasping for life within The arms of serenity Quietly purging hope
Of no return.
The hole in my heart bleeds
Not knowing your presence
Not knowing your return.

What a Wonderful World

What a Wonderful World

The spacious sky is clear,
Like heaven above is pure Hugs and kisses from Mom,
Is worth all her love
What a glorious feeling
God has made for me

What a wonderful world this must be

Raindrops shelter tears,
From white angelic wings of praise Rainbows the color of unity, Become learned lessons of the day
What a glorious feeling
God has made for me

What a wonderful world this must be

Images of good health, Become imprints in my mind
People, places and things Are worth all my time
What a glorious feeling
God has made for me

What a wonderful world this must be

As the imprint of their smiles, Bring prayer to my days,
Love has touched a special part of me
In so many ways
It's the air I breathe
It's the food I eat
It's the clothes I wear
It's the people I meet Thank God for many things Here is the human nature
Ere to healthy living
I am blessed God watches over me

What a wonderful world indeed Love from the Heart

Believe in your heart when I told you I love you, baby
Believe in your heart when I say it is true
I love you, I really do

I've grown fond of you lying here beside me Love kindly creeps upon me when you're around All my life I sacrificed ecstasy Your lips, your hands, your gentle touch
Has brought tears to my heart Forever yours

Believe in your heart when I told you I love you, baby
Believe in your heart when I say it is true
Oh baby, baby, baby ah baby I love you Yes, I really do

You are a vision come true
Your fingers strum my soul
Each touch a melody Wantonly tingling against my skin Chanting sounds of harmony

Don't you believe in your heart when I told you I love you, baby Don't you believe in your heart when I say is true Don't you know deep in my heart baby
I only feel this way for you Oh baby, baby, baby ah baby
I love you
I really do

I lie down smiling
With my face on your chest you should know my entire life is determined With your words that you express when you

Believe in your heart when I told you I loved you, baby Believe in your heart when I tell you this time it is true Believe in your heart there is no other like you Who has come close to my soul as you

I love you

Song of Solomon

The Song of Solomon echoes passes of faith A mother’s fate has grown fond of.
Her son’s voice, soft spoken, remembered, sorrowfully.
The winter chills purge throughout her body, timidly in regret.
With the wretched pain, unwinding anger to let go
The burden of self-doubt, questioning the death of her son.

Grace of God

I felt love for God in my heart only because God showed he cared My heart was broken many times by the ones I trusted most God talked me through the hurt and pain and showed me what I am worth Through all my frustrations hatred of being deceived I learned to shut out the world God taught me how to set aside my anger by expressing my true love
I had learned to open up and trust through what was once was broken
I was able to speak openly for the first time by sharing my emotions
I learned I am best being who I am and not no imitation
I have learned to speak my mind and not from altercations
I feel better with who I am and not from others expectations
If only I had spoken what I feel now it would be a start to a new beginning Why do I feel so guilty to trust, acting out of curiosity?
While I have so much to be thankful for God Has brought me many blessings God gave me the gift to love

The Blues

My heart is all mucky Down, trodden-blue.
My mind is filled in Harlem Dreary days are doomed.
Day after day I’m trapped inside this maze.
I’m dying, dying trying to escape
My soul trapped in phases.
Longing to come out I’m crying, crying trying to escape.
The discord of my future Won’t go away.
Locked inside my mind
All passion held inside.
Many tears have shed
Have long wasted aside.
Misery gone, gone blown away.
I’m fighting, fighting riding out the pain.
The color of my heart is blue.
Mucky, down-trodden blue.

The Seed that Bloomed

(my biography)

A voice silenced in fear
Of being questioned.
Conflicting words, misguided speech -
The wrong words
The wrong attitude
A disposition Mistaken for impartiality of the Emotionally disturbed.
A romantic altercation Developed this personality into a rose,
That bloomed into a Beautiful image of expression.
An articulate voice
Once silence, was heard.
Opulent

Nubian sky
Black as night
Black misty dawn
Black blue black dawn
Black radiant dawn
As radiant as black space
Empty of presence
The sun changes into day
The moon settles into dawn
Blue black sky
A radiant reflection of flowing light
Through the eyes of God
Watching over me

World Terrorism

Terror standing idol Clear eyed Touching watching staring
In the eyes of fate
Its escape
Its flow
Its fire
Waiting
The memory of waking stones Recognizes promise
Death does not say Speechless stones
Cover ashes scattering
In the air
Weeping tears
Counting ghosts
The dark whispers for Instructions
Lessons learned have gone gone goodbye Without notice without consent Weeping eyes
Have wept meaning Speechless for words
Cold unspoken words

For the Life I Love

I cry I morn for the life I had let go many tears held suicidal thoughts not wanting to let go There is not a time that goes by in thought in memory in prayer that I kept you on my mind Memories sustain holding you near my heart will wrongfully remain Can't let go of letting go knowing that you exist the need the want of having you shall persist
When you came into my life
I opened up
To release eternal hope
I travel many miles
To come to this
With a promise
To give love
One more try
To embrace my love
With sanctity
Stay with me Without you
I walk low head bowed down hurt in an epitome of shame I live in the poverty of resentment for the life I loosed I am the blame I confess I lived in sin the host of sin
I lived a white lie tales of darkness infidelity and lust must soul lead to die
It was for this secret God had changed my life in Chasity a decision an idea a legacy to strive
When you came into my life
I opened up
To release eternal hope
I travel many miles
To come to this
With a promise
To give love
One more try
To embrace my love
With sanctity
I wish you were here with me now